Fife Brothers Open Two Weeks Revival Here Next Sunday

—Clay County Leader

The Fife Brothers, nationally known evangelists and radio log cabin boys, in person, will open a great community-wide evangelistic campaign in Henrietta, Texas on Sunday, May 28th and closing the night of June 16th. The Fife Bros. come directly here from St. Louis, Missouri.

Since the death of Billy Sunday, famed co-temporary of Dr. C. Lee Fife the evangelist, Dr. Fife, considered one of the most dynamic and effective preachers of the country today. Fifteen of the Fife Bros. Campaigns have netted a total of over 15,000 additions to the churches, 84% of whom have been and faithful to the churches after 10 years.

In addition to preaching and directing the campaign, the evangelist is a singer, a violinist, a guitarist, as well as a radio artist. His hobbies are big game hunting, fly fishing, bird hunting, farming and gardening.

With him here will be his brother Bob Fife, who is a singer, choir leader, a top notch trombonist and has given in N. Y. City the title of "World's Premier Hand-Saw Soloist." Mr. Bob is also a reader, impersonator; plays the ukulele, harmonica and sings with his brother in their radio singing team in which they use guitar and ukelele for accompaniment.

The Fife Bros. pack the largest buildings opened to them and often loud speakers have to be set to reach those who can not get into the building.

The Fife Bros. were born in Kentucky but early removed to Texas where their younger brother was part. So naturally, Texas is their favorite of all states.

Four times a year they go from coast to coast and have held meetings in every state in the union. Their style of work is such that they become a city, and never forget a friend.

In Bowling Green, Ky., the meetings were held in a Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse where they drew nine thousand people each night for three weeks to hear them in sermon and song. When they entertain schools, clubs and lodges, their autographs are in demand. Their first broadcast was on KDKA in Pittsburgh, Penna., from a store window while hundreds of people stood out on the street in the snow to marvel at the new thing called "radio."

An effort is being made to get them to come from Texas to the world's fairs in New York City and in San Francisco, and preach there through the rest of the summer.

So far, Dr. has given no serious attention to either place.

Making of his meetings here Dr. said: "How refreshing it would be back in Texas, the one state we feel most at home. We are coming to Henrietta to fight church doctrines. Far from here to preach Christ and Him crucified and try to raise the spir-

Saturday Designated As Poppy Day

Poppy Day will be observed throughout the United States on Saturday, May 27th, with the wearing of Memorial Poppies in honor of the World War dead. The observance here will be led by the members of the Orrin S. Carlin Auxilliary, who will distribute poppies on the street during the day.

More than eleven million of the little red memorial flowers have been made by disabled World War Veterans working in the government hospitals and in poppy workrooms maintained by the Auxilliary. These flowers are crepe paper replica of the poppies which grew on the World War battlefields, and among which the dead and wounded fell. They are recognized throughout the English-speaking world as the Memorial Flower for those who fell in defense of democracy.

Orrin S. Carlin Auxilliary has completed plans for the local observance of Poppy Day. Volunteer workers from the unit will be assisted by members of the Campfire Girls. They will be on the streets all day to receive your contributions which will be used for the welfare and relief work among the disabled veterans and dependant families in Clay county.

Poppies for distribution here were ordered from Legion, where disabled veterans were employed through the winter making flowers. They are expected to be worn more generally this year than ever before on Poppy Day.

Judge Jno. V. Lyles Writes About Taxes

Every person is a little deluded now and then. Of course there are delusions that sap the nervous system of rational control, but I am thinking of the "Tax Deluding Ideas Men and Women Get Which Rob Them" not only of their sanity, but their common sense.

There appears to be at this time, a delusion of Special County Tax Laws for individual Counties. It is a well known fact that Representatives have and are railroading thru the House of Representatives special laws which benefit some special County Official back home, feeling secure that by so doing, the tax increase will be so small,—"Too small to be Noticed." When this is done, the Senator from that district will place the bill in the hoper, "Too Small to be Noticed," and lo, it becomes a law.

Today, there are forty counties in Texas which retain all or a part of their advalorem taxes; there are more than one-hundred and sixty counties in Texas, for which special laws have been passed whereby certain County Officials Salaries have been raised, and each of these increases are taken from the State General Fund.

Our State General Fund is now just 17,000,000.00 in the RED, and in addition, every county in Texas except one, "Washington County," are in debt; in other words, 253 counties in this grand State of ours are heavily burdened with an increasing indebtedness; in fact almost every incorporated town in Texas have their General Fund in the red.

We who have lived the past thirty years have seen so many astonishing devices, that life has become eager, standing on tip-toe, wondering what new marvel would arrive tomorrow; we have felt we were successfully headed toward a great end. Now however we have found ourselves plunged headlong against a stubborn FACT. "All branches of Government with Emergencies", which we must meet. State, County and City Governments face a permanent problem of revenue. This problem will never be cured by Legislative PATCH WORK and EXPEDIENCIES. This requires Economic Ingenuity and an Incentive to want to do. It behooves each of us citizens to take careful inventory of needs which exist, and strive to educate ourselves to become self-RELIANT, Co-Operative and Economically Minded. Your County Judge, JOHN V. LYLES.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

"Carrying coals to Newcastle" has been a saying, that for generations, has meant doing something foolish and unnecessary—because Newcastle is the coal-mining center of England.

Yet that is exactly what the people of Texas are permitting to happen. Texas is the greatest oil-producing state in the Union; its wells if turned loose, could supply all the petroleum needs of the world. But because the world has too much oil, Texas has its wells shut down six days a month and, even when the gushers are opened, it is only for a few minutes each day. Yet oil is being brought to Texas—as silly a thing as carrying coals to Newcastle.

Companies that have clamored for proration in Texas are bringing oil into this state from Louisiana, Illinois and elsewhere. If oil is needed in Texas, why not produce it in Texas and give employment to Texas workers, business to Texas merchants and more revenues for our schools and other government needs?

Texas has prorated more heavily than other states have. If proration is a good thing, the others ought to prorate on the same basis that we do. Texas has been 'holding the sack' for some of the other states.

There is one way to get justice in Texas—and that is to turn loose every well in the State; let them flow wide open. Then those states and those companies that haven't been toting square with Texas will be glad to yell "Calf rope." And that, in a nutshell, is the way we size up the proposal of Jerry Sadler, State Railroad Commissioner and possessor of plenty of intestinal fortitude. It's time that Texas, the biggest oil-producing state, should receive fair treatment. The tail has got to quit wagging the dog.

Do you remember glamorous Fay Cotton of Borger, who was Texas Sweetheart No. 1 at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, and who wore a gown of gold valued at $5,000 and was serenaded nightly at Casa Manana by Everett Marshall with "The Night Is So Young and You Are So Beautiful"? And no doubt you recall vivacious and charming Grey Downs, who was Texas Sweetheart No. 1 the next year. Well, there is to be a new Texas Sweetheart No. 1. National fame will be given to some beautiful and gifted girl and she will be featured in the 1939 Casa Manana in Fort Worth with a chance at stardom on the stage and screen.

Lou Woltson, executive director of Casa Manana, and Miss Laurretta Jefferson, dancing and costuming director, will hold tests in many cities and towns over the state. Only one girl can be Texas Sweetheart but the other local contest winners will be offered places in the cast of magnificent Casa Manana, which may be the start of successful careers.

Stocky, brushy-headed, spectacled Maury Maverick spoke in Austin the other night—the first speech the fiery young ex-Congressman had made since his come-back thru election as San Antonio's mayor. His address bristled with such epigrams as:

"There are two kinds of Democrats—standstill Democrats and go-ahead Democrats."

"Constitutional government is the inalienable right to pray, talk and think as you please—and eat regular;

"There is a young man in Ft. Worth who maybe ought to change his name to Elliott Garner."

On the subject of John Garner for the Democratic presidential nomination, Maverick said Garner would be 73 years old in 1941; Garner has not said he wanted to run and also it would be desirable first to hear Garner give his views on important questions—all of which added up that Texas should send a powerful, uninstructed delegation to the national convention, in Maverick's opinion.

This-and-that:

The Supreme Court of the United States has reversed the decision of a Texas federal judge and has ruled that the brother of a former governor and an ex-assistant attorney general must face trial on a hot oil charge. Orchids to the Supreme Court for strengthening the confidence of the people in the law and the courts.

Foes of the so-called fair trades act, who have contended it would place the power of fixing Texas prices in the hands of out-of-state manufacturers, have brought out that the cost of the lobby for the bill is being paid by 15 such manufacturers and it also has been charged on the floor of the Senate that these so-called fair trades acts over the country were the brain children of Coster-Musica.

Newest rumor around Austin is that James V. Allred may run next year for the United States Senate seat now held by Tom Connally. Allred attended the recent North and East Texas Press convention in Greenville, judged an old fiddler's contest in Athens and joined a whittler's club in Houston, according to the papers.

Summertime

BRINGS UP THE QUESTION OF

Kitchen Comfort

Modern Gas Range is Cooler

Cooler because the oven of modern gas range is heavily insulated, keeping heat in the oven, out of your kitchen. Accurate oven heat control, too, eliminates the need for opening oven door to watch progress of cooking, thus eliminating uncomfortable blasts of heat.

Cooler because you need no longer use the oven for broiling. Separate, smokeless broilers are available on many of the new models. Especially designed for easy operation, they use less heat to contribute to a more comfortable kitchen.

Cooler because most of top burner cooking can now be done with low-heat on the new simmer burners. They keep food gently boiling with minimum heat to prevent excess steam and vapors.

Why go through another summer in a hot, uncomfortable kitchen when a modern gas range offers so much in easier, better cooked meals in a cooler kitchen? See these new ranges at your favorite store.

Chicks Roost Early

This may sound like Ripley, but only three out of 100 chicks have been lost from the flock of Ruth Ann Carmichael, Cooperator of the Rock Springs 4-H Club.

How early can these chicks be taught to roost? Teach them to roost as soon as they find it comfortable to remain away from the hover over night. They usually begin roosting about the third week depending upon the breed of chickens and weather conditions.

When chicks are three weeks old several rows of perches may be placed a few inches above the floor across the back of the hover. Chicks can easily be forced on these perches and taught to roost. It may be necessary to visit the brooder house several nights and place chicks on roosts before they will take to them voluntarily.

Nobody's Business

By Julian Capers

Optimistic reports of a prospective early settlement of the controversy over confiscation of American and British oil properties in Mexico, as a result of negotiations between Mexican President Cardenas and Donald Richberg, were discounted here this week by Texas oil men who have been watching the situation carefully, because if its effect upon the Texas oil market.

Private information which Texas oil interests have received from Washington indicate that the foreign oil companies, whose properties involved in the Cardenas-Richberg settlement formula, which involves restoring the properties to the companies which own them for a period of years and permitting them to operate for a period of years, and permitting them to operate their own properties and share the income with the Mexican government, eventually giving the properties over entirely to Mexico. The American companies, it is understood here are not enthusiastic about the Richberg proposal, but have not yet definitely rejected it.

Mexico Is Broke

Meanwhile, there is increasing evidence that the trend of events in Mexico may force a return of the oil properties to their American,

Sund. morn. white as

British and Dutch owners, after the forthcoming presidential elections in Mexico. The economic plight of the government is described by fiscal experts as little short of "desperate", with a huge external debt that is many years in default, an unbalanced budget, and financial collapse facing many costly governmental "new deal" enterprises, involving communal farms and similar projects.

MEMORY OF HENRIETTA MAN IS HONORED

The memory of Lee D. Ikard was among those honored at Marietta, Ohio, last Friday when a bronze plaque, gift of the French government to Marietta College, was unveiled. The plaque commemorates the services of the ambulance unit which was organized at the college in 1917 and which was among the first units to reach France.

Ikard was a member of the unit and served with it for some time. Later he joined the flying corps, in which he was commissioned. When the armistice was signed he was enroute back to this country on a special mission. Ikard was killed in a train wreck not long after being discharged in December, 1918. The French Ambassador, Rene de Saint-Quentin was among those taking part in the unveiling ceremony last Friday.

The pretty Queen of England is very democratic, in that she went out on the field and shook hands with solidiers. There is nothing so winning as the common touch of one commoner with another. She was a commoner, and quite a bit of objection arose when the young king married her, coming principally from the Mother Queen.

Don't let that "death bell" at Austin toll and announce that you have been killed in a car accident. Drive carefully. The Bell tolled six different times one day last week. Some way must be devised to stop the highway traffic accidents. Double roads are provided in most places. If folks would drive slow, look and listen, and not be in such a hurry to get places, the death toll would be less.

JUST CRUISING

(By the Captain)

It is still a great age in which to be living. Monday evening between 8 and 8:30 o'clock we sat in our easy chair and heard a world-wide program over radio which presented special numbers from Ireland, Australia, India, and Canada, in turn, and each number came through as clearly as if we had been sitting in the same room with each performer. Radio has brought about many changes in the old world's relationship among its peoples by making it possible for every nation of the earth to know within the space of a few moments just what is going on in any other part of the world. What the automobile and good roads have done towards bringing the people of cities, counties and even states into closer relationships with each other, the radio has done in the realm of world-wide affairs insofar as communication is concerned.

President Roosevelt spoke plainly to the Retail Merchants gathered in convention in Washington Monday night. Anyone who couldn't understand, and, judging from the applause he received from his hearers they, too, understood him when he stated that what he is trying to do for the American people is to increase the consumer buying power, and this is something quite adverse to what had been going on prior to 1933 at the time he took the oath of president of the United States. The president made it plain that United States Chamber of Commerce continues to cry out that he is bankrupting the government while at the same time members who constitute this organization do not want him to begin his economic program by cutting out or down the grants for public works in their individual homes or counties. Trouble with the present situation today is that it is or rather it has been brought about by special groups being able in the past (and, to a still too great a degree, today) to control legislation and legislators to the point that they have special privileges and have enjoyed such special privileges so long that the economic situation in the whole country is all out of balance and the president is seeking to bring it nearer to the equal point by aiding those of our people who need aid most in order to increase the consumer buying power of the patrons of the 175,000 smaller concerns of the nation who are earning less than $25,000 net incomes as well as the general run of retailers in the smaller centers of the nation. President Roosevelt made it plain when he stated that ANY KIND OF A SALES TAX cuts DOWN the consumer buying power of the small retail merchants. He is against any kind of a sales tax, the present Texas senate notwithstanding.

Congressman Ed Gossett and Miss Mary Helen Moseley of Quanah were quietly married in Larchmont, N. Y., in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Firman E. Bear, Rev. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Larchmont Presbyterian church reading the simple ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Moseley of Quanah, and has taught home economics in the Vernon city schools for the past seven years. This romance began while the congressman was district attorney of Wilbarger, Hardeman and Foard counties. They will be at home to their friends in Wichita Falls following adjournment of congress.

Sunday morning while listening to

Boots For The Prince and Princess of Norway

In the above picture Mr. Carl Olsen is holding two pairs of boots, one pair to be worn by the Prince of Norway, and the other pair to be worn by the Princess. Last Saturday Mr. Olsen, of the Olsen-Stelzer Boot & Saddlery Co. received a wire from Miles City, Montana, wanting to know if he had in stock two certain sizes of boots. As the Company carries a large stock of boots in all sizes they had exactly what was ordered, and sent them immediately to Miles City, Montana, where they will be presented to Crown Prince Olaf, and Princess Martha, of Norway, who were the Royal guests of that city.

Henrietta now has the distinctive honor of making boots for the Prince and Princess of Norway and the citizens of this little city should feel proud to have such a factory here.

the regular broadcast of the Sunday school class exercises of Rev. J. B. Cranfill coming from the First Baptist church in Dallas, just about the time Dr. Cranfill got into the real discussion of the lesson subject, the radio over which the broadcast was coming cut in and turned on a "canned" or transcribed program recorded by the Rainbow Trio. It surely makes such radio stations more popular to run those transcribed programs in preference to such interesting discussions as those given each Sunday morning by Dr. Cranfill.

Tomorrow, Saturday, May 27th, the examination for postmaster to determine who will be declared eligible for such appointment will be held at the high school building. Some nineteen have been notified to be present at 8:30 o'clock for this examination, but one or more of those who have received notice of the examination may not continue in the contest for the appointment. Following the examination, a list of those taking it will be given in this column along with a short statement concerning each applicant. It will be of interest to everyone.

The Texas senate by a majority vote has resolved that it is for a constitutional sales tax amendment to be submitted to a vote of the people, while the House stands pat on its own omnibus tax bill and the two branches seem to be at a standstill. But as President Roosevelt told the retailers Monday evening in his address, the small merchants should not have to be told that any kind of a sales tax means less money for them to restock their shelves and just that much less money for their patrons to spend with them for their wares. A sales tax means that every one who makes a purchase, whether it be an old age pensioner or the wealthiest citizen of the community making the purchase will pay the tax, thus those whom the government are seeking to aid will be forced to aid themselves to that extent.

Did you hear Governor O'Daniel's broadcast last Sunday morning? We wonder if any of our state senators or representatives could find objection to what he had to say on that occasion? The governor stated at one time during his broadcast that what Texas really needs most at this time is more religion of the old-time variety and less politics. And the governor is most assuredly right.
