NUMBER 41

Absentee Voting Is In Progress

Absentee votes in the general election, November 3rd, now may be cast in the office of County Clerk Lawrence Nuckolls.

Absentee voting officially began day before yesterday, (Wednesday).

We have not set all for the voting, but if he is not ready, it is too wet to plow, because absentee voting is going on throughout the nation.

The ballot includes five columns—The first presents a full Democratic ticket.

On the second column you will find Republican candidates for 12 state offices.

The People's Party offers seven candidates including Charles Lawrence Somerville for U. S. Senator.

The fourth column is for independent candidates, and the fifth for write-in votes.

At the bottom of the almost full-page ballot appear five proposed amendments to be voted upon. They are as follows:

1. "Pay-as-you-go" amendment. It would make for a more systematic and businesslike administration of the state's finances and would provide for wiping out by a bond issue, of the present general fund deficit of about $30,000,000.
2. Authorizing the state to pay for a building which already has been constructed at John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Texas.
3. Permit the Legislature to create Special County Courts in the more populous counties.
4. Permit the State to pay the salaries of army or navy officers on duty in Texas schools.
5. Authorize the construction of a state office building at Austin, to allow State Board of Education to invest an amount not to exceed $2,000,000 of the State Permanent School Fund in the building.

Carl Slagle Is Home On A Short Furlough

Carl Slagle, who has been in California during the past several months in an officers training camp, is at home on a short furlough. It is interesting to hear him relate some of the various techniques being taught in a modern army.

J. C. Kellum Urges More Womanpower

The WAVES and the WAACS are not the only places in which women may help to win the War.—An Army of them is needed in war industries.

To raise such an army of women workers to help make planes, ships and tanks and guns for fighting men at the front, J. C. Kellum, regional director of the National Youth Administration, this week will launch a civilian Woman-Power drive.

Where 25 per cent of its trainees in war work shops previously have been women, soon 80 per cent of those trained by NYA for war industry jobs will be women, Kellum said.

"If we are to meet the serious manpower shortage in our war production industries," he declared, "we must have a great increase in the number of women workers in our war factories, for all are agreed that production is one of the essential jobs in the war effort."

He pointed out that all over the country women workers in plane factories, shipyards, and other war plants have made outstanding records in announcing an intensified program to fit more thousands of them to take over war industry jobs.

The NYA program not only provides work-training for unemployed women between the ages of 17 and 24, inclusive, to fit them to step into well-paying war jobs, but it also pays them while they are in this program. Women between the ages of 17 and 24 are wanted. Pay is: Room and board is furnished, the women in resident centers receive $10.80 per month where they do not live in a resident center, pay is $24.60 per month. The NYA War Production Training Program has sent many young women into jobs, and Kellum said, many thousands more must be placed to keep up the nation's war production program, and to relieve the acute manpower shortage.

Ray Slagle Left Today For R. I. For the Navy

Ray Slagle left today for Rhode Island where he has been called to take up his voluntary enlistment into the Navy and will begin his training for naval duty.

The new cafe plans to open tomorrow, (Saturday). Dago Harris is helping them install the new cafe.

Legislative Group To Meet Oct. 27th To Study Economy

A group of Texas legislators convened in Ft. Worth Monday, and discussed ways and means of cutting down on expenditures in the various state departments at Austin.

Plans were laid for a gathering of all state legislators at Austin on October 27th, to further attempt to reduce the expenditures in the various departments of our state government.

The Fort Worth Representative will preside at the Austin meeting.

It is said that the plan has the approval of Governor Coke Stevenson, who is also anxious that all the departments of state government at Austin save in every way possible while the war is on.

Clay County Representative Hon. Houston McMurry will probably attend the meeting, joining the Wichita Falls and Tarrant County groups who have signified their wishes to attend, and see what can be done in saving in the various departments of our government during the duration.

Sheriff Ray Phagan Attends Two-Day Enforcement School

Sheriff Ray Phagan left yesterday for Austin, where he goes in response to a call from the State Liquor Control Board for Sheriffs of Texas to spend two days in a Prohibition Enforcement School.

We presume Bert Ford of McGregor, will be the Teacher to instruct the Sheriffs just how to go about the job of enforcing prohibition.

Sheriff Phagan, it seems, has been doing a perfect job of it in Clay County, or maybe the Liquor Board want to get some pointers on how to better enforce it, and thus called for the School of Instruction.

Sheriff Phagan will tell us about that when he returns from the Austin meeting.

Bearcats Tie Newcastle Play At Bowie Tonite

Our Henrietta Bearcats really held that line Friday afternoon, and it managed to unset the propensities of a "wet-line," doing most of the playing in a downpour of rain, but in a Wichita paper that "Newcastle would beat Henrietta 20 to 0," and tied Newcastle in a 6 to 6 score.

Our Henrietta boys scored early in the first period to take a 6 to 0 lead over the Bobcats.

The touchdown was made by Station, who is one of our most valuable Bearcats.

The Bearcats held that lead until the third quarter, when Newcastle chartered a boat and made a run for six points, tying the score. Our boys managed to swim back to center.

Chevrolet Victory Service League

One of the most practical guides for the motorist operating his car under wartime driving conditions is the Member Handbook provided every car and truck owner who joins the Victory Service League, "a new alliance of motorists pledged to conserve their vehicles for victory, according to W. E. Holler, Chevrolet general sales manager and national director of the League. The handbook offers latest authentic information on car conservation in wartime.

Sponsored by Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealers in their own communities, the Victory Service League is dedicated to "saving the wheels that serve America" through service for victory. Members of the new organization pledge not only to exercise care in the use and protection of their vehicles, but also pledge to support patriotic moves designed to further the nation's war effort.

The motorist who joins the VSL is given a free car conservation inspection when he signs the Victory Service League pledge.

"What make of car or truck the motorist owns or operates makes no difference in this program," said Mr. Holler. Chevrolet dealers have recognized the necessity for the preservation of America's private transportation system, and are pledged to that end.

"However they cannot effectively bring about car conservation without the cooperation of the motorist himself, and that is the fundamental reason for the establishment of the Victory Service League. If Chevrolet dealers can succeed in getting car owners to think and drive 'conservatively,' then they will have made a signal contribution to the war effort.

Byers Lad Describes The Quincy Fight

Roger Tucker, chief ship fitter, who has been visiting in Byers, was a member of the ill-fated cruiser U. S. Quincy, which was lost in the Solomon Islands, August 9th.

Since the department has released the information of the sinking of the Quincy, Tucker has related a part of his experience in this tragedy:

"The big ship was hit several times by shells from the heavy guns of the Jap fleet and was in a sinking condition about 2:30 a. m. when Tucker was forced to abandon the ship and jump overboard.

Without a life-save belt he swam for an hour or more and finally succeeded in reaching a floating raft. The raft was loaded with wounded men, and Tucker held on to that until about 7 a. m.

He and others were picked up by a vessel of the U. S. fleet and landed on a nearby island. He assisted a sea captain who was severely wounded in reaching the raft. In the apartment occupied by Tucker on the vessel were seven other men, and it is believed that he was the only one to escape death or serious injury. He lost all his belongings including all his clothes, but was fortunate in escaping with only a leg wound.

Roger Tucker is a native of Byers, is the son of Mrs. J. K. Keese, a grandson of W. H. Wright, a pioneer of Clay county. His father, R. V. Tucker who died several years ago, was a veteran of the Spanish American War.

Roger Tucker joined the navy in 1936, promoted to position of petty officer on the Quincy, a vessel he served on for over five years.

Many of the applications are now in the mail.

"Certificates of War Necessity" must be carried on all operating commercial vehicles including farm trucks after November 15th. No gasoline, tires, or repair parts can be obtained without the certificate.

This is a part of the Office of Defense Transportation's nation-wide program to enforce conservation of rubber and automobile equipment.

Senator Geo. Moffett Supports The School Office Bldg. Amnd't.

In support of the Constitutional Amendment giving authority for the construction of an office building in Austin to give offices to state officials and also empowering some future session of the legislature to issue bond not to exceed $2,000,000 out of the State Permanent School Fund, which has an uninvested surplus on hand, to purchase the bonds, Senator Geo. "Cotton" Moffett, Chillicothe, and Herbert T. Browner, of Joshua, member of the House, have written The Leader: "We believe, if the people of Texas understand all the facts in connection with this matter, will give it an overwhelming vote, and we hope that you will extend your cooperation in securing the adoption of this worthy Constitutional Amendment. Furthermore there would be increased efficiency in the concentration of State Departments, and a new building would be more fireproof than most of the space now used. Please give publicity to this with summary of its benefits."

Jno. Morris Gilbert Writes The Voters

To The Voters of Clay County: On November 3rd, 1942, the voters of Texas will have an opportunity to vote on a Constitutional Amendment, which will allow the State Board of Education to invest an amount, not to exceed $2,000,000.00 of the State Permanent School Fund in a State office building to be erected in Austin.

The State Permanent School Fund will be fully protected, and this fine investment will insure a good interest return for a number of years. The State office building will not cost the taxpayers one dime, as the bonds will be liquidated from money which the State is now appropriating to pay rent.

The State Comptroller of Public Accounts has informed us that we are paying $141,640.92 per year for rent on offices to house the various State Departments located in Austin. This expense will be eliminated when these offices are housed in a State-owned office building.

To pay the interest and principal on $2,000,000 worth of bonds over a period of 25 years will cost $140,000 for the first year, which will be the largest payment. After the first year the payments will be $2,400 a year less, until the 25th year when a final payment of $82,400.00 will be made.

You can readily see that after the first year the State Government will not only pay for the office building out of money which they saved on rents, but will actually make money, as the payments on the building will be less than the expenditures for rent are at the present time. I feel that this amendment is worthy of your consideration.

Yours sincerely,
Jno. Morris Gilbert.

In a last minute rush Texans are applying for drivers' licenses, State Police Director Homer Garrison said today. No old style licenses—the ones with two detachable segments will be good after Nov. 1. The law provides that, unless the holders of these old licenses get their applications for renewal into the mail before midnight of Nov. 1, they will have to take an examination that "we are just about snowed under," Drivers' License Chief J. B. Draper said.

Anyone operating an automobile after his license has expired will be subject to a fine and will have to take a stiff examination before he can obtain a new license.

Sermon—8:00 P. M.

The First Christian Church has started a revival that is different from the usual type. It is to last for four consecutive weeks and services are to be held by home forces on Sunday mornings and Sunday and Wednesday nights. There will be 13 services in all. The first one was last Wednesday night, and an audience about double in size of the regular prayer meeting attendance was present. The pastor preached on the subject, "No vision, No Progress."

There are two objectives in this revival, one is to enliven the interest of the members in the entire program of the church, and the other is to lead others to Christ and into the fellowship of the church. Much visitation is already being done and splendid results are expected. Next Sunday the subjects will be, morning Faith Is The Victory; and evening, A Business Man And The Kingdom of God. For next Wednesday night the subject will be, Who Is Doing The Meddling? A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Newport, Sunday afternoon. A more detailed account of the passing of Judge Welch is found elsewhere in this paper.

Texas lost two able lawmakers last weekend in the passing of Senator Archie Parr, of Duvall county, and former State Senator E. G. Senter of Dallas. Archie Parr was well known throughout South Texas and had vast real estate holding in south Texas counties. Senator Senter was a newspaperman, having been connected with newspapers at Waxahachie, Ennis and Dallas. At the time of his death he was Contributing Editor of the Ft. Worth Citizen.

Senator Josh Lee, of Oklahoma, introduced a bill in the Senate to take liquor away from all communities in the nation where an army camp is located; as did Woodrow Wilson who dried up the nation for the duration. DON'T ever argue with Grandma Hoskins about American history unless you know what you're talking about. Because when Grandma states a fact, it really is a fact.

The other day we got to talking about George Washington—who besides being a great general, was a public surveyor, a successful farmer, and a wise statesman. "And he made mighty good beer, too," says Grandma.

That was news to most of us. "You can see his private recipe for beer right in the New York Public Library," Grandma Hoskins tells us. "In his own handwriting, at that."

And then she opened up on how Washington and those others who founded America believed in beer and moderation. Told us about William Penn who had his own brewery down in Pennsylvania, and Israel Putnam... Samuel Adams of Massachusetts and James Oglethorpe of Georgia.

"Beer," Grandma goes on, "has grown up with the country because it's a symbol of good fellowship and moderation."

Way back in 1789, she told us, James Madison stood up in the House of Representatives and made the motion urging "the manufacture of beer in every State of the Union." And that same year Massachusetts passed an act stating that "the wholesome qualities of malt liquors greatly recommend them to general use."

From there on—until early in 1918, the brewing industry kept growing and beer and ale kept getting better and better.

Then came prohibition... thirteen dark years that bred vice and crime. Grandma says it taught us something though—something that George Washington and all those other early American statesmen knew all along... that no law ever takes the place of self-restraint and moderation.

That's why they were friends of beer and made moderation a cornerstone of American freedom. They were right about a lot of things—Washington and Adams and Penn. And from where I sit, they certainly were right about moderation, too.

Renfrow Brown Nuptials Solemnized Saturday Night By County Judge

A wedding of much interest to their many friends was solemnized Saturday night in the home of Miss Minnie Brown, by County Judge John V. Lyles, when Miss Minnie Brown became the bride of Mr. Herbert B. Renfrow.

The wedding ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Martha Dickey, sister of the bride, and Mrs. James Mayo and was read by Judge Lyles, following which the happy group returned to their home where a bounteous wedding supper was enjoyed.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Renfrow returned to Camp Walters, Mineral Wells, where the groom has been stationed since his entrance into the service of his country, and word has been received from them that Mr. Renfrow has been sent to Camp Bowie, Brownwood, where special maneuvers will be observed for a few days prior to his return to Camp Walters, or possibly to other points for further duties, as he is in the Signal Corps, which is one of the most important divisions of the service in this modern-day war.

Mrs. Renfrow will most likely return to Henrietta to await further outcome of the present world conflict.

The bride needs no introduction at our hands; she is one of our best known citizens and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. She is a product of our section, having been reared to womanhood here, and we congratulate the groom on his excellent choice of a helpmate.

Mr. Renfrow was local manager for the A. & P. Store for a number of years, and was recognized as one of their best men in this responsible position, as often he was called to other points to open new stores or to assist in rearranging older ones in modern-day merchandising. He is an experienced business man and also has an innumerable host of friends. The leader joins their host of friends in extending congratulations to them and wishes for them a long life of happiness and contentment.

Printed Bulletins Now Available

Grocers and all merchants handling food at retail may now obtain a printed bulletin explaining how to apply the new Office of Price Administration formula for determining the new legal ceiling prices, the Clay County War Price and Rationing Board reported today. Beginning Oct. 15, all food retailers were allowed to apply formula in pricing eleven groups of foods where present markups may be abnormally low. The period for making adjustments under this new formula expires at midnight, Dec. 31, 1942, so it is important that all food merchants obtain copies of this Food Retailers' Bulletin No. 2 as quickly as possible and familiarize themselves with its provisions. It is optional to apply the new formula to—breakfast cereals, rice, coffee, sugar, canned vegetables, canned fish, cooking and salad oils, and shortenings. It is mandatory to figure the new ceilings on lard, and dried fruits. Retail food merchants may obtain copies of this Food Retailers' Bulletin No. 2 by calling or writing the County War Price and Rationing Board, Henrietta, Texas. Other Price Regulations may be found in the book, or had by consulting local Rationing Board or recent communications received by them. Products listed in the Regulation also are included in this pamphlet, which was designed as a quick guide for the merchant's convenience.
