Dallas Man Says There Will Be Plenty of Money in The State.

Joseph Massey, who has just returned from a trip over the State, says:

"There is going to be more money in Texas this year than the natives have seen in many, many years. I have been all over Texas and looked an inch long for a decent place to feed, and the farmers have good reason to think they will get a good return.

I'm forty now, a little more—"

The Happiest Woman
Kansas City World.

Love, you should remember, is the greatest thing in the world and contentment is next to the greatest thing.

Here's your law of compensa tion again—the joy of service. If one must witness one's brow sometimes over household problems, thinking how one may "cut the corners" for the sake of himself and the other three, measure the results as the law of gravity, certain as the law of chemical affinity—one shall be the happiest woman.

Ah, little woman, (and that's the path of it) you don't know how rich you are.

Happy, dear children while you may. Who knows? They may grow up and honor your gray hairs. Or they may grow up and break your heart. Some day you may live in a big house in a city where things are guilded and life is hollow. The time may come when there's no longer need for loving calculation or willing self-sacrifice—more's the pity.

If that time shall come to you, little woman, how will you pass for the days when you were "so happy and so poor".

Gentlemen and fellow citizens:

I am a citizen of your county, interested in civilization, in building up for the good of the community, and in the welfare of the community of which I am a part.

The present place is in the extreme western part of the county, and is inconvenient to a large portion of the citizens. The new place, if established, will be located not far from the old place, and will do as much of it as we have to do now.
