

TERRY COUNTY HERALD

VOL. 2.

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1906.

No. 29.

Terry & Surrounding Counties are Coming to the Front with a Big Bump.

A Question of Happiness.
"The old, old story," exclaimed the husband with a long-drawn sigh, as he laid down his paper. "Another man committed suicide because his home was unhappy." "And did that make his home any happier?" asked his wife. "Or doesn't the paper say?"
—Manchester Journal.

All Liars Don't Live in America.

We always have admired a cold-blooded deceitful liar, and when a little pup comes out and barks at us savagely we feel like patting him on the head, and when we know that a candidate for governor knows that he has no earthly chance of election, and yet keeps up a stiff upper lip to the last minute we can't help but respect him, and we will go further and acknowledge that when a woman has become fat and has passed the 40th milestone, we can forgive and even believe in her, if she passes herself off for 24 and ropes in the matrimonial harness, some zay and rich old codger and leads him a merry dance until they split in a divorce court or carries his woes to heaven by the Suicide Route; but we draw the line on the public liar, and the French telegraph operator who made up that story about Dreyfus being slapped in the face and telegraphs this lie all over the earth; should have his picture printed on a 3-cornered card and distributed. We are glad he is not an American.

COCO

Wealthiest Royal Family.
The Russian imperial family enjoys the distinction of being the wealthiest family in Europe. The civil list of the Czar amounts to $12,500,000 a year. In addition to this enormous revenue, he draws an income of an additional $5,000,000 a year from his exclusive estates and mines.

Consumption of Whisky.
In sixty years the annual per capita consumption of whisky has gradually decreased from two and a half to two and a quarter gallons. In forty years the consumption of beer has increased from less than two to more than seventeen gallons per capita.

NOTHING LIKE A SCORNED THEATRICAL GIRL.

The daily papers are full of pictures of pretty New York City Floradora and theatrical girls, who announce that they are going to testify against Harry K. Thaw in his murder trial of Architect White. It must be gall, wormwood, vinegar and sour grapes for Thaw to set in his cell, in the Tombs, and to hear that all the pretty girls that he has jilted in the past, have thrown themselves in the arms of Prosecuting Attorney Jerome and told him of all his deceitfulness. It should be remembered that Thaw cantered after every theatrical girl that loved flowers, jewels and finery before his marriage, that could twist her face into a smile toward him. Golly, we feel sorry for Thaw! His wife still sticks to and pins her faith to him.

COCO

Crater Preserves Body.
It is stated in La Nature that the body of a Tyrolean guide who fell into a crevasse on the glacier of Grossvenediger, in the Austrian Alps, thirty years ago, has been found in a remarkable state of preservation at the foot of the glacier.

LIMITATION TO GIVING AWAY YOUR DOUGH.

Bryan recently wrote to those who have charge of his reception not to accept of any contribution of over $50. It is becoming a difficult task for people to give their wealth away at present.

Our subscription book, like a saloon, is always wide open.

The World's Doings And Misdoings As It Goes Spinning Around.

TRYING TO TURN THE WORLD INTO A PLAY GROUND FOR METHUSELA SINNERS.

William Jennings Bryan made a speech before the Inter-parliamentary Union of the World, now in session in London. He made a hit of course, by his advocacy of peace. In his speech he said he thought it was about as "honorable to live to a good old age as to die upon the field of battle." We think as Bryan does about that, and we believe that it would be a proper idea to get up the "Order of Methusela," right here in Terry County. Suicide of any kind, race, national or political is something that should not even be contemplated in the inmost recesses of a person's thoughts, much less self destruction by an individual.

Mare Lot of Moorish Women.
Femaline Moorp are generally absolutely ignorant of their age. Among Moorish women this is a point of honor, but it is really no affection, for as their birthdays are never celebrated in any manner the passage of the years is far less noticed than it is with us.

Big Money in Hens.
Last year hens produced $144,000,000 worth of eggs; fowls of all kinds in this country are worth $36,000,000. Besides the egg production there were chickens for eating to the value of $126,000,000. To sum up, the hen is a 400 per cent investment.

Prevents Blow Holes.
For producing steel castings free from blow holes, M. Meslan advises adding an alloy of aluminum and calcium to the molten metal. He has found that the combination of these two metals absorbs all gases present.

Its All the Same to an Auto.

One of the Murats, a prince of the Bonaparte family, was recently killed in an automobile accident in Europe. Prince or pleb is just the same with an auto.

Painter for Housewives.
When ironing use a clean firebrick instead of the ordinary iron stand, and you will retain the heat of the iron much longer. The usual iron stand not only admits the air to the bottom of the iron, but it conducts the heat from it. The brick, being a non-conductor of heat, retains the heat in the smoothing iron much longer.

What Some People Believe.
There are probably more people in the world to-day who believe with Prof. Lowell that Mars is inhabited, and also that it will be reached some day by some kind of wireless telegraphy than there were a hundred years ago who believed that men would ever travel at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

Texas Has Her Jug Full this Year.

From every part of Texas the reports of the crops are excellent, and also from every state and territory about it the same can be said. Texas is in the swim this season, and will push right ahead to the forefront.

NO FRILLS OR CEREMONIES IN SUBSCRIBING FOR THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD.

Everybody who is not a subscriber to THE HERALD, is given an earnest invitation to become one. There isn't any ceremony necessary, no frills or "running of the gauntlet," or being initiated in the Terry County Hobgoblins. All you have to do is to walk into THE HERALD office, and if you want to, you can wipe your feet and blow your nose on the office towel, which ceremony you can omit on close inspection of the towel, and all that is absolutely necessary to do, is to give the name you sail under in society, and your post-office address, and then don't forget to clinch the contract by handing the editor some change. If the editor is out insist upon the printer or devil giving you a receipt, not so much to secure honesty on their part, but you might be dealing with an angel in disguise, and want to be prepared for a chance to slip in above and show the committee that investigates you on the final wind-up that you took reasonable care of your dough. We never ask where a man gets his money, and wouldn't if John D. Rockefeller and Carnegie would pluff us with their applications. Money may become tainted, but we can't detect the taint.

Why Hickie Failed the Price.
The late Mr. Hickie was a noted second-hand bookseller of Dublin. His bookshop was the favorite haunt of bishops, clergymen of all creeds, professors and scholars generally in search of rare volumes. A story is told of an encounter Mr. Hickie had with a Catholic priest only a few days before he retired from his beloved bookshop to die. A young priest called on him, and taking up a book, inquired the price. "Half a crown, father," said Hickie. "But," said the priest, "I can get it for a shilling and 6 pence from Mr. Blank." "Of course," said Hickie, "but, you see, 'tis a Protestant book, and I think you shouldn't buy a Protestant book, so I put half a crown on it that you might leave it behind."

IT TOOK CORPORATION COMBINATIONS TO SPIN BRYAN AROUND THE WORLD.

THE HERALD will welcome William Jennings Bryan back to America the same as any other man, but don't you think William that you draw the lines a little too tight when you sawed off on all trust and corporation magnates taking part in your welcome home, considering that you circumnavigated the globe on conveyances owned by these artificial combinations? Old Magellan, the first circumnavigator, never went as far as you have, and it took him three times as long and then got only half way when killed in the Philippines.

The primary is over, but the election is to come.

Proposed Amendment

To the State Constitution Fixing Salaries and Per Diem of State Legislators.

House Joint Resolution authorizing the submission to a vote of the people of the State of Texas of a proposed amendment of Section 2, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, fixing the salaries and mileage of members of the Legislature, and preventing the acceptance, for themselves, or for others, by members of the Legislature, of free passes, franks, rebates, privileges or advantages from certain persons and corporations.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas; That at the next general election of the State of Texas, or at any previous election, in case an election for the State shall be had or ordered by the governor for other purposes, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Texas, for their approval or disapproval, the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, as provided for in Section 1, Article 17 of said Constitution, relating to proposed amendments thereto, it being intended to Amend Section 24, Article 3, of said Constitution, relating to the pay of members of the Legislature, so that the said Section shall read as follows:

Section 24. The members of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury such compensation for their services as may from time to time be provided by law, not exceeding one thousand dollars for the year succeeding any persons, firm or corporation acting as a common carrier in this State. Any member of the Legislature violating this provision shall forfeit his office. And the necessary laws shall be enacted to carry out the provisions of this Article.

Proposed Amendment

TO THE

State Constitution Relating to Certain Exemptions from Taxation.

Joint Resolution to amend Section 2 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to certain exemptions from taxation.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas.

Section 1. That Section 2, of Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same shall read as follows, to-wit:

"All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the Legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship; places for burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools, also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or penses of such publication, proclamation, and election.

TEXAS.

The Homeseekers Paradise

TEXAS, that mighty empire whose area consists of more than 170,000,000 acres, is larger than France combined with Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Belgium and Wales.

The possibilities of the production of the Lone Star State stagger the mind.

The annual production of grain is about 200,000,000 bushels. The value of the agricultural products alone is close to $300,000,000, and yet not one-fourteenth of the acreage is under the plow.

Texas could well be called the leading cattle state of the Union. But in addition to those industries coming under the head of agriculture, Texas has shown a magnitude of granite deposits out-ranking any other of the commonwealths.

Judging by the developments already made and constantly increasing in extent, it is not unlikely that Texas may take the lead in the production of iron ore.

The variety of soil and climate is simply wonderful, crops being grown suitable both to the tropics and the higher altitudes of the temperate zone.

In sections snowstorms are encountered, in others it is perpetual summer, where roses bloom throughout the year.

With now 3,000,000 inhabitants and ample room for 50,000,000 the possibilities of the future seem unlimited. What the future has in store only the future can tell, but when developed properly Texas will be the wonder of the world, as she indeed is now—X

HOW BRET HARTE LOOKED.

Winning Personality of the Great California Author.

Mr. Howells gives us some charming reminiscences of Bret Harte in the Easy Chair of Harper's, relating to a week's visit Harte paid him when the latter came East from California. Mr. Howells thus describes the author of "The Luck of Roaring Camp": "He was then, as always, a child of extreme fashion as to his clothes and the cut of his beard, which he wore in a mustache and the drooping side whiskers of the day, and his jovial physiognomy was as winning as his voice, with its straight nose and fascinating forward thrust of the under lip, its fine eyes, and good forehead, then thickly crowned with black hair which grew early white, while his mustache remained dark. . . . He was, as one could not help seeing, thickly pitted, but after the first glance one forgot this."—Pittsburg Press.

Proposed Amendment

TO THE

State Constitution Authorizing the Levy of a Tax to Pay Jurors.

Joint Resolution amending Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the levying of a tax of not exceeding fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, to pay jurors.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows.

Section 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen cents for road and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen cents to pay jurors, on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment September 25th, 1888, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads, provided that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws.

Section 2. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to the Constitution to the qualified voters of the State of Texas, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1906, at which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots:

"For the amendment to authorize the levy of a tax to pay jurors."

The voters opposed to this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots:

"Against the amendment to authorize the levy of a tax to pay jurors."
