VOL. 3.

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1907.

No. 35

Prof. David Todd of Chicago, has just returned from Chile, where he has been making observations of Mars. He says without a doubt the planet is inhabited.

Senator Culberson will be in Dallas all during the Fair.

J. Frank Norris writing in the Baptist Standard, claims that the Thirtieth Legislature passed in the anti pass law, a gross discrimination of one class against another, in this that it exempts from the law all Sisters of Charity, thus granting to the Catholics a free ride while Protestants must pay or go to the Pen. The Attorney General has so ruled, and a prominent attorney in Dallas concurred: it no doubt was unintentional on the part of said Thirtieth, as was possibly the most of its other doings.

Lubbock ginned her first bale last week, and gave its owner nearly $40.00.

Mrs. Sid Beall of near Bronco N. Mex. lassoed a wild bear near her home last week.

Gov. Campbell spoke at the Bosque County fair last week.

Cassie Chadwick the famous female swindler, is dead in prison at Columbus Ohio.

The President is hunting bear in Louisiana, but so far is having about the same success he does with Wall Street bears.

Accidentally Kills Baby

The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hope while standing on the doorsteps at their home at Sweetwater Saturday morning with their guns ready to start on a hunt, the mother of the boys called them and in turning around to re-enter the house, the gun was accidentally discharged, the contents striking a child which was lying on the bed, blowing the top of its head off. The mother is prostrated with grief over the sad affair and the entire community mourns with them in their sorrow.—Merkle Telegram,

The Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is very ill and not expected to live.

There has just been completed a census in Dallas county touching on the question of marriage and divorces, and it is reported that in the last 20 years there were 20,000 marriages and 48,000 divorces.

Three negroes were lynched last week at Tunica, Miss, for a series of burglaries committed ten years.

Mrs. Cassie Chadwick's remains were taken to Woodstock Ont. for burial.

Tom Jenkins a young man of Merkel came in home one night last week, very badly bruised up, and before he could give an account of the accident, he became unconscious, and it is not known how it happened, but it is supposed his horse fell on him.

The Lubbock jail now has two occupants one of them belongs to Lynn county and is awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of forgery, while the other was lassoed by a Hereford officer under advices sent by Lubbock's chief of Police, on a charge of swindling. It seems that the "guy" had been working for Judge P. F. Bacon on his stock farm and when Mr. Brown got through with him gave him his pay, and the youngster came to town, but not being satisfied with his earnings decided he'd double up his wages by having Mrs. Brown who was in town that day issue him a check for the amount claiming he had not received his pay from Judge Brown. He left town, but was brought back and is now keeping the Lynn county man company.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Saloon Men's Trick

We print this week the form of an offer being sent to Plainview and other local option towns all over Texas as an inducement to men and boys to buy liquor. "We will pay you liberally for names and addresses of men whom you know to be users of whiskey.

Fill out the blank below with the names and correct postoffice addresses of twenty-five men who use liquor and send it to us and we will send you free, express prepaid one full quart of Robinson County, Tenn, whiskey.

The above was sent to a minor in Plainview. What trick will the whiskey selling devils resort to next. Accompanying this was an offer of whiskey by the gallon $1.50 cheaper than the regular $4 ate. Heretofore we have been willing to try to handle the liquor business by local option, but we are now ready to say: "Cut the head entirely off the monster." They seek every possible means of violating the law and of imposing on people who want local option. So let them be outlawed. No such thing should be allowed to exist.—Plainview News.

The State Board of Oklahoma have called for the complete returns of the recent election, and will make a close canvass of same

Where the Money Goes.

An exchange asks: What becomes of the vast amount of money paid out by the fraternal—more than $50,000,000 each year? Does it go into the hands of those who are already rich? Does it go to form great combinations of capital which conduct business on such a stupendous scale? Does it go to the millionaire—the banker, the broker? To this the Washington Odd Fellow replies: "No it goes to buy meat and bread. It goes to pay house rent or lift the mortgage from happy but humble homes. It goes to purchase bright smiles, happy faces and light hearts. It goes to lighten the burden of the worn and weary. It goes to make better men and women. Every dollar so paid in is a religious dollar and it goes to help christianize the land, to smooth the rough place, to dry the tear of sorrow, and to eradicate the furrows of care."

Hell in Texas
By the Author of "Texas a Paradise"
The Devil in hell we're told was chained, And a thousand years he there remained, He neither complained nor did he groan, But determined to start a hell of his own.
Where he could torment the souls of men Without being chained in a prison pen So he asked the Lord if he had on hand Anything left when he made this land.
The Lord said "Yes, I had plenty on hand, But I left it down on the Rio Grande; The fact is 'old boy' the stuff is so poor. I don't think you could use it in hell any more."
But the Devil went down to look at the truck, And said if he took it as a gift he was stuck, For after examining it carefully and well He concluded the place was too dry for a hell.
So in order to get it off of His hand The Lord promised the Devil to water the land, For He had some water or rather some dregs, A regular cathartic and smelled like bad eggs.
Hence the trade was closed, the deed was given And the Lord went back to His home in Heaven; The Devil said to himself, "I have all that is needed To make a good hell," and hence he succeeded.
He began by putting thorns all over the tree. And mixed up the sand with millions of fleas; He scattered tarantulas along the roads, Put thorns on cactus, and horns on the toads, He lengthened the horns on the Texas steers, And put an addition to the rabbits' ears; He put a little devil in the broncho steed, And poisoned the feet of the centipede.
The rattlesnake bites you, the scorpion stings, The mosquito delights you with his buzzing wings The sand-burrs prevail and so do the ants, And those who sit down need halfsoles on their pants
The Devil then said that throughout the land He'd arrange to keep up the Devil's own brand And all should be Mavericks unless they bore Marks or scratches of bites or thorns by the score.
The heat in the summer is one hundred and ten, Too hot for the Devil and too hot for men; The wild boar roams through the black chaparral; 'Tis a hell of a place that he has for a hell.

Texas a Paradise
By the Author of "Hell in Texas" two years later after he had moved to Terry county.
The Lord said He wished to show To His erring children here below That He had plenty in His store Far those who knocked at Heaven's door.
And hence would give to some bright land Samples of blessings from His right hand: And if you think there's cause to doubt it Just listen to how God reasoned about it.
These gifts I can't give to the states in the East. The weather's too damp for both man and beast; And the Northern states I consider together, I made a mistake when I put up their weather
For in blizzards and cyclones, tornadoes and cold. No one can enjoy good gifts, I am told 'Tis too cold, hence westward I shall go, To the land where the fig and the orange trees grow
For here it true is a beautiful land But then there's the fogs, the dust and the sand, And those who enjoy these gifts as they must Can't do it in the sand and the fogs and the dust.
At last reaching Texas, a state of some size, He decided to give her His capital prize, And opening wide His bountiful hand He dispersed His blessings all over the land
And hence we enjoy as these blessings of ours Ten months in the year the most beautiful flowers. And nights most delightful fanned by the breeze That come sweeping across her from over the seas
And Italy's skies with our own wont compare, Nor is her land more fertile nor ladies more fair: And the grasses that grow on these ranges of ours Are kept beautifully green by fresh summer showers
And, as we know, to enjoy our wealth, We first must secure the blessings of health, Thence we declare to the sick in each clime That health you can have if you come here in time
And now to our friends in the East, North and West We want you to come here and with us be blest, For God never intended that we all alone Should enjoy these blessings that he has bestowed.

The Ft. Worth Record has a nice way of clipping from all Western Papers, and in her editorial page is always something from some of our Western Papers. This goes to prove that the Record has her eye open on West Texas, and is watching its development very closely.

If our Railroad commissioners could handle the railroad problem like they do newspaper publicity they might accomplish more.

The Stanton Reporter and the Hereford Brand seems to have given each other the wink on the railroad question. One week the Brand tells a long, "scary" railroad yarn, and the Reporter copies it and adds more to it, which in turn is copied by the Brand. They know how to talk to each other alright.

An auto load of drummers struck Brownfield last Wednesday about 1 P. M., and when they alighted from the car they spread out over town, it seemed to us that an excursion train had come in. They left for Gomez about 3 p. m.

R. H. Hurst Dead.

R. H. Hurst a prominent citizen of Yoakum county died last Sunday of slow fever and was buried at Plains.

Mr. Hurst has been in Yoakum county for several years, and in the recent county election tied with E. W. Whinery for Treasurer. Mr. Hurst is well and favorably known in both Yoakum and Terry counties.

A man to be a prominent citizen must get a letter published from the F. W. DeVoe Paint Co.

Yoakum Hit Hard

The new county of Yoakum is having hard luck. It did not get any county school land, as usual and will get only $2694.00 from the state, the usual amount for new counties is $5000.00. They possibly have to issue bonds to build the court house, as the amount procured from State will but little more than pay for stationery, furniture and getting down to business. A hard beginning may be good ending.

Yoakum has some fine resources, and gritty officers, and no fear to be had but that she will come out alright.

Every night at about 9 o'clock the Dogville choir of Midland gives the inhabitants thereof a grand concert of a decidedly woe-inspiring effect. This "music" consists chiefly of solos, obligatos howlegattose, jimmie-jammie-ot-toes, duets, twoettes, fleattes, mangle-ets, without one single awkward pause between acts. The deep spasmodic bass of the bulldog, together with the sweet sympathetic, well pointed alto of the staghound and the lyric soprano of the water spaniel and the soulful foghornlike baritone of the shepherd and the harmonious obligato of the benchlegged cur shrilly singing the snyphocated aftertime, soft and snappy, keeps the ever gentle nervous system of our people in a high state of entertainment until the wee small hours. Something should be done about this: Midland is full of some of the measliest, no account canines that it has ever been our misfortune to see. Do away with 'em.

No Operation

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes: "I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse. Doctors said an operation was needed, but I couldn't bear the thought of the knife. After taking three bottles of Wine of Cardui, I could walk around. Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."

Cardui is a pure, vegetable, medicinal essence, especially adapted to cure women's diseases. It relieves excessive periodical pains, regulates irregularities, and is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy for all sick women. In successful use for over 70 years. Try it.

Engines Collide

One of the most interesting things at the Ft. Worth fair last week was the collision of two large engines. They were stationed at end of a half mile track in the fair grounds, turned on with full steam, whistles tied down, Bells ringing. Engineers jumped off. The engines plunged against each other before the Grand Stand of 25,000 people. Pieces of flew in the air and smoke and steam then obscured the wreck. The cowcatchers were both torn off. Front ends of engines badly battered. Tis said to be a great success. No one was hurt.
