

THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD.

VOL. 3.

BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1908.

No. 52.

Town Blocks for Sale.

I have for sale 160 acres of land adjoining the Brownfield town section on the northwest, to be divided into ten acre blocks. These blocks will be sold for $35 per acre on the following terms: Cash payment $10 per acre, balance five equal annual payments with 8 per cent interest, seven equal annual payments with 9 per cent interest, or ten equal annual payments with 10 per cent interest.

These blocks are situated a nice distance from the school house, but at the same time not too near to be the least annoying. This offers a splendid opportunity for farmers and others desiring to build in town, for the benefit of the school, to get a nice little tract of land, where they can build a residence, have gardens, truck patches and cow and horse pastures. The terms are so arranged that the payments can be easily met by any one wanting a home in Brownfield. Call on me at the office of the TERRY COUNTY HERALD.

More Ranch Deals:

Word was received in Fort Worth Thursday that J. D. Earnest of Big Springs has sold his 40,000 acre ranch in Borden county to a company composed of southwest Texas people, who will cut up the land and sell it to settlers. The ranch is said to be unusually well adapted to agricultural purposes.

It also reported that 80,000 acres of the Capital Syndicate Ranch has been sold to an agent named Wright, who has just concluded the sale of the W. E. Halsell Sprigg Lake ranch of 102,000 acres in Lynn and Garza counties. The tract will be put on the market this spring.—Stockman Journal.

Trees and Fools.

Any fool can destroy trees. They cannot run away, and if they could they would still be destroyed—chased and hunted down as long as fun or a dollar could be got of their bark hides, branching horns or magnificent boleback bones. Few that fell trees plant them. Nor would planting avail much toward getting back anything like the noble primeval forests. During a man's life only sapplings can be grown in the place of old trees, ten of centuries old, that have been destroyed. It took more than 3,000 years to make some of the trees in these western woods—trees that are still standing in perfect strength and beauty, waving and singing in the mighty forests of Sierra. God has cared for these trees, saved them from drought, disease, avalanches and a thousand straining, leveling tempests and floods, but He cannot save them from fools. Only Uncle Sam can do that.—John Muir of California.

The land that will be planted to cotton in Terry county this year will, perhaps, be ten times as much as was ever planted any previous year. It will be sufficient to justify the erection of a good gin at Brownfield, which would add to its business interests.

Big Land Deal.

One of the biggest land deals of this section of the state was consummated this week, by which Mr. Carter of the Carter Bazar Land Co., of Midland, sold to the South and West Texas Land Co., of Chicago, 61,000 acres of land lying near Lubbock.

This land was acquired for colonization purposes, and colonists from the northern states will settle it up. The South and West Texas Land Co. have thirty-seven automobiles and a complete equipment of immigration cars for transporting home-seekers to the land, and there is no doubt but that this tract will soon be settled up.

Mr. Carter engineered this deal, and Messrs. Joel and Connell, of Midland, were associated with him. The price paid was $10 per acre, or $610,000 for the tract.—Big Springs Herald.

There is no other part of the country attracting such general attention as the Texas Plains, and in no other part of the country has lands advanced so rapidly within the last three or four years. Farming on the Texas Plains is no longer an uncertain proposition. Experience has proved it an excellent agricultural country and will produce anything the farmer wants to raise.

This 61,000 acres recently sold near Lubbock for $10 per acre is the largest sale that has been made of Plains lands for some time. It means the settlement of several hundred farmers on those lands, and a rapid development of that part of the country. This large body of land bought for $10 per acre, will be sold in small tracts to home seekers for at least $20 per acre—possibly $25 per acre. This land is located from 50 to 75 miles north of us, where the climate is colder and the soil no better than ours where patented lands can be bought from $5 to $10 per acre in any sized tracts the home seek may desire; and school lands in Terry and Yoakum counties from $2 to $5 bonus. The lands lying from 50 to 100 miles north us are not as good agricultural lands as ours—experience will prove this assertion true. Just as soon as railroads penetrate this immediate section of country, the lands in Terry and Yoakum counties will sell for more than those in the counties north of us where they are now selling from $20 to $35 per acre.

Perhaps there is no other portion of Texas that has such an inexhaustible supply of fine water as the Plains country. With few exceptions the water throughout the Plains is free from salt, gyp or other adulterations found in the water under the cap rock. It is found in this locality at depth, ranging from 50 to 125 feet, which makes the water question one of easy solution.

One Of Booth's Captors Dies.

A special from Chicago to the Dallas News of this 13th says:

Col. Andrew Wendall, a member of the squad of soldiers that captured J. Wilkes Booth, slayer of Abraham Lincoln, died at his home to-day.

Col. Wendall was present when Booth was shot. For years he was a character on the North Side in the ranks of veterans and his experiences were heard at at many gatherings of Grand Army Posts. He was among the soldiers who received prize money from the United States Government for the capture of Booth and with it he purchased the home in which he lived and in which to-day he breathed his last. He was a member of Hancock Post, Grand Army Republic and of several fraternal orders. He suffered from a complication of diseases. He was 70 years old. A widow and seven children survive him.

At the Wendall home the family has a collection of pictures and newspaper clippings showing the capture and shooting of Booth, which collection they prize as priceless.

If those who have been lead to believe the Texas Plains is a country where too little rain falls to insure crops with as much certainty as any other portion of the west will post themselves on that question their doubts will be dispelled. Beginning with the year 1895 and ending with the year 1907, the average rainfall on the Plains was 24.08 inches as reported by the weather bureau, and the average annual rainfall in the state of Illinois during the same period of time was 29 inches. The rainfall on the Plains during 1907 was 24.41 inches. The average rainfall for the twelve years reported is sufficient to insure good crops so far moisture is concerned. With proper cultivation and the rain we get, no other country can excel the Plains for raising grain, cotton and vegetables.

A Home Paper.
 Several home readers of the HERALD have paid handsome compliments on the last two or three issues of the paper, for which the editor feels grateful. He will state that in the conduct of the paper it will be his sole aim to make it strictly a home paper—one that will advocate and vindicate home interests under all circumstances. He does not believe in exaggeration or in the least way of over-drawing statements about his home town, community, county or the surrounding country, but in publishing a newspaper in Brownfield, Terry county, Texas, he is conscious of the fact that he can at all times have subjects and themes that need no exaggeration to make them attractive, because they are already full of importance and general interest. A great and undeveloped country like ours furnishes subjects for a thousand articles which people everywhere are anxious to read.

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene
 The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
 Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
 And waste its sweetness on the desert air."
 These lines, when applied to our Plains country, have had a striking signification. But the time has come when it will no longer remain as the isolated "American Desert," but will become a land full of thrifty husbandmen. To bring about these desired conditions, there is a great mission for the press, and this editor has volunteered his humble services to that work. He hopes to make his paper of material benefit to every laudable enterprise, to every public cause and to every individual in Brownfield, in Terry county and in the surrounding country, and asks the co-operation and support of every business man and farmer in his work.

An "Irrepressible Conflict."
 Geo. W. Riddle, Chairman of Democratic Club of Texas, has called a convention to meet in the city of Waco on the 7th day of March for the purpose of taking such action as may tend to defeat and destroy machine rule in Texas, denominated Baileyism. The call reads as follows:
 "As chairman of the Democratic Club of Texas, I have been solicited by Democrats of different sections to call a State conference for the purpose of adopting a general plan of action for the pending campaign.

It is well known that this club was organized as a State movement against the evils in political and official life which have come to be generally grouped under the name of Baileyism. Believing it to be essential to the maintenance of good government that the forces which stand for fidelity and purity in official life should be brought together in a vigorous and united movement, I hereby call a state conference to meet in Waco, Tex., at 10 o'clock a. m., Saturday March 7, to take such action as may be deemed advisable in this behalf.

The avowed candidacy of Bailey for delegate at large for the Democratic National convention and his attempt to dictate the nomination of candidates for States offices pledged to his interests rather than the public welfare creates a political emergency such as never before confronted a Southern State.

Under the primary election law the people have full power when organized to defeat all the schemes which the cunning of the ring politicians can devise. The hope of the tricksters is to accomplish their ends through the inattention of the people.

In order to defeat this purpose it is necessary to organize the masses of Democratic voters in every district, county and precinct.
 All Democrats, who sympathize with the effort to dethrone machine rule in Texas and to purify the politics of the State, to put an end to double dealing in office, and to send to the Democratic National convention only such delegates as no Texan need be ashamed are invited to come to the Waco conference as representatives of mass meetings or otherwise."

If there ever was a time in Texas when politics needed purifying it is now. To submit to the dictation and leadership of Bailey would be an acknowledgment that he has been guilty of no wrong doing and that Texas Democracy stands for nothing higher than he represents. Let Terry county Democrats note this call, and those who believe it is timely take such action as will aid in the movement set forth.

The Democratic club, organized at Gomez sometime ago, held a meeting in the Odd Fellows Hall in Brownfield Monday night R. M. Kendrick, President of the club, presided and in the absence of regular secretary, N. H. Bigger acted as temporary. The session was a very interesting one, speeches being made by Judge Spencer, Dr. Ellis, Judge Copeland, Judge Neill, R. M. Kendrick and Jno. W. Cone. The next meeting of the club will be at Gomez, on Monday night, March 9th. Dr. Ellis, M. C. Adams and Geo. McPherson were appointed as committee to arrange a programme for discussion.

Among other things the Commissioners' Court did last week was the selection of the Brownfield State Bank as a depository for the county's funds for the present year. Out of debt and its funds in the Brownfield State Bank, drawing 6 per cent interest, Terry county's financial condition is something to be proud of.

The commissioners' court of Yoakum county took no action in the matter of building a court house at its late session, but made a contract for the use of the building now occupied by the county officers for the next two years. There is talk among the people of the county of petitioning the court to order an election to vote on the question of issuing bonds to build a court house this spring.

The Lubbock Avalanche is agitating the construction of a new school house for that town.

Howard county is to have a new court at a cost of $34,000. It is to be constructed of stone.

At the instalation of the Grove, Woodmen Circle, Wednesday night, February 11th, following officers were elected:

Word comes from Sligo that F. N. Anderson of that place will be a candidate for county Judge of Yoakum county. Mr. Anderson came from Tennessee last year and bought two sections of land at Sligo, including the store building there, and is one of the prominent citizens of Yoakum, and if he should be elected to the office of County Judge, he will no doubt fill the office to the satisfaction of the people.

Mrs. J. M. Currier, of Gomez, will leave Monday for Kansas City to purchase a full line of the swell Regina hats and Millinery goods.

In several letters the editor of this paper has recently received from home-seekers, inquiry was made if this is a good fruit country and if we have large orchards here. This particular portion of the Plains is a very fine fruit country. While all the orchards in Terry county are less than four years old, very fine apples, peaches, pears, and berries of different varieties have been grown here. Portions of the soil is specially adapted to grape culture, as it has produced some very fine specimens.

Brownfield has one of the best court houses, one of the best school houses, and one of the most (if not the most) substantial banks on the Plains. These things speak a great deal in favor of the town and for the enterprise of the people. Terry county has only been organized four years, yet she is already leading several other plains counties organized a long time before she was.

Valentine Party.

Mrs. John Currier's daughters entertained a crowd of Gomez society young people on February 14th, valentine night. Cupid was there, arrayed in clothes of gold, covered with innocence, bearing wreaths of orange blossoms, ready to drop on some uncrowned head. But few girls proposed, though it is Leap year, several tried—got so far as to say—"would you have—would go no farther, and modestly dropped her veil over rose bud lips, and girls still think boys should be given a chance, regardless of bold Miss Leap Year. Many new games were played, and all enjoyed the unique game of hearts (paper hearts) with original verse. Boys held hearts, with half a verse to match with the girls holding the other part of the verse, their partner for the evening, and at 11 o'clock they floated away on fruit punch and Angel food cake. All had a most enjoyable time and reluctantly bid good night to their estimable hostess, Mrs. Currier.

The invited guests present were: Misses Peachy Stanford, Hattie Knox, Iona Johnson, Martha Worther, Ollie Currier, Gerie and Rena Lewis, Lucile McClafferty, Ella Garrison, May Belle VanLeer, Vesta McCamey, Eric Allen, Lora Stapp, Zilpha Morris, Blanch Hunter, Cora Gainer, Cora and Nora Allen.

Judge W. R. Spencer was notified last Monday by Mr. A. D. Goodenough, general manager of the Panhandle Short Line railroad, to hold himself in readiness to meet him on the north line of Terry county and pilot him and his associates through the county. The notification stated that Mr. Goodenough's object is to select the most practical route through the counties the road is to cross regardless of other considerations.

Judge Tucker has visited different parts of the county the past week. His first trip was a visit among the voters living in the southwestern part of the county; then he made a tour of the eastern portion of the county, and his last spin through the county was among the farmers and ranchmen in the west end of the county. The Judge says he does not believe that he is more susceptible to flattery than the ordinary individual, but he confesses being a little flattered at the receptions shown him among those he has visited, as well as gratified at their assurances of support. He proposes to give his campaign as much attention as possible from this time until the election.
