JUST A LITTLE ADVICE TO OUR LAND OWNERS.

A Baloon Assention of Prices are Detrimental to Our Development Let's be Reasonable.

Some may think it impertinent on the part of an ordinary country editor, whose real estate holdings are shy, to advise how land owners should do, how to act and actually advise on land values, and indeed, we feel that we are assuming a role as a lay meddler with other people's affairs. In handing out our opinion concerning these things further along in article, we do not try to figure that we would be proof against a shallow and shabby boom, if we were a land holder of any consequence. We all live to learn and learn to live and every once in a while, a baby or a fool are capable of throwing some intelligence into a complicated matter that has puzzled the brains of the wise.

A great question is before us today, neighbors; one of burning moment and one we all are desirous of solving. Every adult man or woman in Terry county, are studying the solution of this great question, and the question is just this: "How are we going to settle Terry county?"

The merchant wants it settled to expand and densify his trade territory. The banker for larger deposits. The carpenters and blacksmiths for the additional building and repair work, and right here the lumberman takes the grins that wont come off. The farmer wants more neighbors, not only because he is very neighborly, but also for the reason that any addition to the rural population, advances materially the condition of his schools and churches. The newspaper man because his subscription books get fat, which means better advertising rates and they, in turn, mean a better clothed family. Yes, we are all very much interested in this question.

None of us have many boquets for the mere prospector, because he buys; takes it off the market and depresses immigration. We work and toil for the upbuilding of our frontier country, and the prospector gets the benefit of the rise, and puts forth no effort himself, and is out no money. There are very few of the a who are willing to contribute one cent to a bonus for the construction of any enterprise, but are overjoyed to share the profits with the real heroes. It is the real and actual settler that the frontier folks are willing to go out of the way to meet and shake hands. We feel that he is a volunteer in the good cause and wishes initiation into the work of building up this vast domain.

Let us look behind us at past history and scan the faces of the heroes who have been most instrumental in opening up new countries for the easy tread of civilization, and see what kind of people they really are. It takes but a bare instance of delving into the past to establish the fact that the frontiersman were men of steel nerves but true noble men though often covered with home-spun, copperas breathes and round a-bouts, and shod with home-knit yarn sox (not hose) and brogan shoes. The frontier lady was the bravest, truest and sweetest and worth their weight in pearls, because she was willing to brave any danger with her husband, father or brothers. History making people have always been admired for their pluck and determination, and in the no distant future the very people who are sacrificing the conveniences of the older settled portions of our country for the inconveniences of the new, will be admired and cherished by a posterity, not only because of courage and fortitude, but for the lasting monument in the way of a growing legacy of this rich loamy soil left by their parents.

Some time ago, the Dallas News said that "West Texas has been settled by poor but courageous people," which is very true, but those who stick will lay by a fortune in days to come, of which no one need to be ashamed.

There are many things that go to keep our county from rapidly tectling, and a big one is transportation facilities. That one, however, will soon be wholly eliminated by railroads, if not, then partially so by good dirt roads to a connection with railroads. Some people are afraid of dry weather. Then Texas should have been moved 2,000 miles east and a 1,000 miles south this year. But the main thing that stays the coming of settlers is the tendency of our land holder to ADVANCE THE PRICE OF THEIR LAND every time a section changes hands. Just let a few prospectors come and buy and everybody who owns anything from a 50x140 lot to a league of land gets hooked up that a boom is about to explode, and up goes land sky high. As a consequence, a few more come in but find land to high, and return to East Texas, satisfied that their land isn't so high after all. Then the botton drop out of prices and land resumes normal.

Yes you have noticed that just as soon as people learn that a few tracts have sold that in they rush and either put their land up a few dollars per acre or entirely take it off the market, and as for town lots; well you couldn't head them with an air ship. That is the reason real estate men have quit telling people when they make a sale.

Neighbors, do quit that kind of doings if you want to sell some of your land to other settlers. They are willing to give you a good profit on your investment, but wont make a Vanderbilt out of you. Let us be reasonable folks and put our property down somewhere in the bounds of reason and quit thinking about booms. It will be better for us if we never have one. Let us have a good steady growth and let the other town and counties take the booms. We will be better off in the end. Let us go to work for 15000 population by 1920, and at least three fourth of them farmers. Let's act sensible and settle the blue ribbon county.

H. C. Byrd came in last week and renewed his subscription to the Herald. It's just as easy to keep in advance as to be a year behind. Try it.

WILL SHIP A CAR OF CORN AND MAIZE

To McLennan County. A Good Boost for Terry.

Dr. T. F. Miles, of Lorena, McLennan county, a few miles south of Waco, came in some three weeks ago to look after his farm and ranch properties in Terry county, and is now making preparations to ship a car of corn and maize from his ranch to his big farm in McLennan county. We have not learned whether he will load at Lubbock or Tahoka, but one thing is sure, he will have to ship feed from the Arid (?) West this year to the never failing (?) farms of Central Texas, so that his big mules and renters will be able to make another cotton crop. Yes the West is coming to the front and at such a rapid pace it almost makes the prejudiced East Texan's head swim. But Dr. Miles hasn't got it in for the South Plains country; on the other hand he has had great confidence in the country for a number of years, as he came here a long time ago and bought a splendid little ranch and is still swinging onto it with a terrapin's grip. He is just the kind of man that is going to make money here overhanded in the near future. It was the man who come here when the country was young and wild and hard to get at, and who has swung on through thick and thin that is going to make money in the future.

While the shipping out of a car of corn and maize, from one farm in Terry county to supply several farmers in Central Texas is a boost for Terry, it is no less so for Mr. Beard and his one hired hand who has worked the Miles place this year. They will have plenty of feed left to feed the big herds of cattle and horses on the ranch after shipping this car, so you East Texans need not fret about starvation up here.

Yes East Texas used to laugh about having to feed the West of hard years, but as the wind has changed and the lane has at last turned, we will not laugh at their plight, but are rather moved to tears through pitty.

A good crowd greeted the motion picture man, Mr. Halburton, at the school house last Saturday night. He had a high class of pictures an all that marred the pleasure of the occasion was trouble with the lights.

procession of agricultural progress. The thirty-second legislature passed a bill that permits the commissioner's court of each county to appropriate as much as one Thousand Dollars for demonstration farm work. In a number of counties in Texas Appropriations have been made and a like sum in each case has been denoted by the department of agriculture of the national government. The Department not only furnishes half the money of conducting demonstrations but supplies one of its experts to take charge of the work. This expert is a practical farmer who knows how to grow crops in a scientific manner and who, when harvest times comes round, has proof to show that the departmental methods of cultivation are the most productive of results. Results are what the farmer wants and demonstration farm work is producing the kind that convinces.

Terry County Fair.

Everybody in Terry County that is interested in the progress of the fair as a means for advertising Terry county and encouraging special efforts in farm, garden and orchard, are especially urged to be present at a meeting to be held at the Court House in Brownfield on Saturday, Dec. 16th, at 2 o'clock p. m. This is not a directors meeting but a peoples' meeting and we especially want the farmers present who will take a little special work of preparation and intensified farming for exhibits at the next fair.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 54.—Galveston has broken the record for the world's exports of cotton for a single day. The computation of exports through the port of Galveston shows that on Saturday, November 20th, the cotton exports were the greatest on record for one day for any in the world at any time, the total exports were 108, 284 bales, with approximate value of $5, 523, 034. All of this cotton was loaded on thirteen vessels bound for foreign ports.

Kaffir vs. Corn.

Occasionally We hear a fellow say there is not as good prices paid for kaffir corn on the northern markets as for Indian corn. This idea has been exploded at various times, and the most recent is in an issue of the Hartford (Kan.) Times, where it quotes corn at 62 cents per bushel, and kaffir at 65 cents per bushel. This shows that the kaffir corn has the right of way over the Indian corn by three cents per bushel. The kaffir corn crop in this country will always be recognized as a money crop, and there need be no fear to plant too much of it from now on as there will always be a market for it.—Big Springs Herald.

Judge Sam H. Cowan, general attorney for the cattle raisers association of Texas and the American National Live stock association, appeared last week before the interstate commerce commission and formally filed a protest against the advance in live stock rates proposed by the Rock Island and Santa Fe lines from the Texas panhandle and New Mexico to Kansas City. After hearing Judge Cowan's argument, Special examiner Brown took the matter under advisement, but it is expected that an order of suspension will be issued within a few days and that the matter will come up for final hearing and argument at the time the Oklahoma City live stock and packing house rate cases are argued on November 8th. The roads in question have announced an advance of 1-2 per 100 pounds from Texas and New Mexico points which would mean an additional cost of $3.50 per car to Panhandle shippers and $5 per car to New Mexico cattlemen. Judge Cowan believes this advance will not be permitted by the commission.—Stockman & Farmer.

FOOT OF THE HORSE.

Proper Treatment of the Hoof to Avoid Injuring It.

When the feet are gone there is no horse left is an old adage the truth of which is incontrovertible. Yet no part of the horse's anatomy is worse used than the feet, and there are no more frequent diseases to which the notice of the veterinary surgeon is brought than those of the feet. This comes of the unwise yet obstinately maintained fashion of rasping, cutting, burning, tarring and greasing the hoofs.

When tar is applied to the hoof the acid acts chemically upon the horn and hardens or disintegrates it, and the oil, evaporating, leaves a space between the fibers filled with the hardened residue. As with tar, so with grease. Both these substances drive out the water from the horn and occupy its place, in time hardening and acidifying the substance of the hoof crust, rendering it brittle and contracting it.

The substance of the frog is horn, but it is of a softer and more open texture than the sole and crust of the hoof. It is therefore more easily affected by injurious conditions, and when it becomes deprived of its water it shrinks more than the more solid horn. When a shoe is to be fitted the edge should be prepared by cutting or rasping and not by burning. Indeed, the shoe should be fitted to the feet and not the feet to the shoe.

When from bad management the sole and frog become dry and contracted no grease or tar should be used, but water should be used freely, and then the hoof should be dressed with glycerin, which will mix with water and does not displace it. Glycerin contains no acid or acrid properties, but is soft, bland, emollient and does not evaporate. It therefore softens the horn and allows the fibers to expand. Contraction is thus prevented or overcome when it has actually occurred.

Bacteria in Milk.

The milk that loppers without souring and seemingly without cause soon after leaving the cow is doubtless infested with some form of bacteria. Let the milk pail and all utensils that come in contact with the milk be scalded with additional care and set in the sun each day where they will be well heated; also for a week or two let the milk be heated to 145 degrees at once after leaving the cow and chilled as soon thereafter as possible.

Feed Sheep From Racks.

The day of feeding stock of any kind, and especially sheep, on the ground has gone by. It is a most wasteful way. Sheep will drag more lay out on the ground and spoil it for their own eating or that of any other animal than any other farm animal. Racks are cheaper than hay.

Corn Fodder For Dairy Cows.

The feeding of late corn fodder to dairy cows should be continued just as long as the corn is at all green. It is a splendid supplementary feed with the short autumn pasture grass.

Kids that are allowed the run of all outdoors will get their hands and faces dirty, but for their own sakes and the reputation of the place they call home they ought to be cleaned up at least once a day and be given an all over warm water bath once or twice a week—twice won't hurt 'em any. We saw some forlorn little heathen the other day that but for the fact that they stood on their hind legs might have been little pigs right out of the pen or kittens from an ashbarrel. When the good Lord ordained lye and grease he made soap possible and probably intended when six or eight bars can be had for a quarter that parents should use enough of it to keep their kiddies clean.

A Letter.

Lubbock, Texas, 11 28 11.
To every citizen of Terry county:

In about ten days I will have for distribution 200 catalogs full of good values in my line and I would be pleased to have one in every home in the county. If you have or have not a mail order catalog drop me a postal, phone or call in person for one of these. They will cost you nothing and their frequent use will save you dollars. Make a comparison with other catalogs and note the saving. Give me your order. Save the trouble and expense of money orders or drafts and look to me for the prompt and proper handling of your order as well as the safe arrival of the goods; you will find this arrangement more satisfactory than dealing with strangers at a distance as well as less expensive. Every article shown in my catalog will be shipped from one point, hence it will not be necessary that you buy more than you want to make a shipment as is the case with regular mail order houses that ship from a dozen or more factories. Every article shown will be sold under an absolute guarantee of satisfaction.

Can you conceive of any reason why I should not sell you as cheaply as any catalog house? Have you any reason for not giving me your order? You take no chances and need pay only a part of the purchase price before goods are received and if not in good order and entirely satisfactory your partial payment will be refunded on the spot. No monkey business, delay or trouble in returning goods. Write, phone or call for a catalog in about ten days. They are free.

You Can Be a Better Cook

It isn't all in the "knack." The utensils you use go a long way toward making your food fine and appetizing or ill-cooked and indigestible.

It's impossible to make the best cookery in utensils that quickly scorch or crack and scale off, rust and corrode. And such utensils are dangerous. Authorities say that cancer comes of eating particles of glass chipped off from ordinary enamel ware when hot.

The heat expands the iron frame but the coating of glass—which is all enamel ware is—does not expand so fast, consequently it breaks and gets mixed with the food.

There is no such danger from food cooked in up-to-date

BREEDING UP A HERD OF DAIRY CATTLE

The milk yield of a cow depends chiefly on her inherent capacity. The milk yielding capacity of a herd can be largely increased by careful selection and breeding, writes W. H. Underwood in the Country Gentleman. In herds where a large milk yield is desired special attention must be paid to breeding only heifers that come from the best cows. The heifers from poor milkers and badly formed cows should on no account be retained, as they inherit the qualities of their dams.

Breeding from good milkers whose parentage is known will invariably produce calves that later on will give a large milk yield. Breeding from animals whose parentage is unknown and which are crossbred must, at the best, be only guesswork—uncertain and unsatisfactory in its results. We may possess cows that are heavy milkers, yet their calves may not possess the same desirable qualities. As a rule, however, good milking cows produce equally good milking heifers, provided they have been bred from a suitable bull. This is due to the fact that deep milkers generally come from good milking families, and their milk yielding is an inherited quality and not accidental.

Earnest attention should be paid to the class of sire used in the dairy herd. If possible he should be pure bred and a descendant from a deep milking strain. This point is of great importance, but is often entirely neglected. Many pay little attention to this matter and use any kind of animal. It is a mistake, however, to suppose that every pure bred bull is a good dairy animal. Every bull that heads the herd should be there because he is known to be from the best strains available. The sire influences the milking qualities of all the heifers in the herd. Unless, therefore, the breeding of the bull is attended to little and uncertain progress can be made in the improvement of the milking capacities of the heifers. Only if both parents are descended from great milking strains can it be expected that the progeny will be good dairy cattle.

Cause of Streaky Butter.

Several causes may produce streaky butter, and one of the main ones is the uneven distribution of salt; second, the failure to remove the buttermilk. The method of overcoming or getting rid of the streaks in butter is to thoroughly remove the buttermilk and to have the salt thoroughly dissolved and properly distributed. It has been demonstrated by Drs. Van Slyke and Hart that if the protoid—that is, the buttermilk—is removed from the butter it is impossible to produce mottles, no matter how unevenly the salt is distributed. But if care is taken to thoroughly distribute the salt and buttermilk the mottles will disappear. We may mention, however, that sometimes small particles of curd get mixed with the butter and do not take up the butter color and so give it quite a mottled appearance. Straining the cream through a reasonably fine strainer will overcome this difficulty.

Take Pride in Your Stock.

The proportion of live stock really well grown is not large. This is not so much because of the lack of food as of the lack of those nice little attentions so necessary to the proper utilization of food, such as feeding it in a palatable condition and at regular times. The average owner does not take the interest that he ought to. When he takes a pride in his stock he is sure to give it close attention, and with close attention comes success. Such a taste can be cultivated in the same way as any other taste or liking.

SHEEP SHEARINGS.

A flock of sheep fed on roots shows a development that other methods of feeding lack. Ensilage may be fed to sheep, but roots are better and safer. For winter feeding clover and alfalfa hay, oats, wheat bran, linseed meal and roots should insure success. With this feeding material an ample supply of milk at lambing time is insured. Good clean straw makes the best bedding for sheep. Steer clear of anything that fills the wool full of seeds, bits of sticks or any such thing. The best way to be sure of healthy sheep is to give them good feed and the best care you can.

In the purchase of cows for the dairy herd the cow is of vastly more importance than the price paid for her. To many men a cow is a cow and one worth no more than another. Yet when you get down to hardpan one cow for dairy purposes may be worth four or five times as much on a cash-revenue basis as another that outwardly seems to be as good looking and be cheap at $20 or even $100, where the other wouldn't be worth a cent more than she would fetch as butcher's stock.

Winter is Coming! Be Warm! Be Comfortable! Be Well!

Windsor Stoves and Ranges

FROM THE OWNERS TO THE FAMILY—AT ONE SWAIN PROFIT!

Windsor Stoves and Ranges are Sold Over Our Satisfaction-or-Money-Back Guarantee

"Blizzard Coming! Heavy snow accompanied by zero temperature is expected before morning!" This is the sort of a weather report we can look for before many more days have rolled around. Makes a fellow feel sort of "chilly" even to read it, doesn't it?

How about that old stove that gave you so much bother last winter? Remember, it will be worse than ever this year. Or that range that never has baked well and will not draw properly—that old "bunch of junk" that is making your wife almost hate to go into the kitchen? Be prepared! Be comfortable!

What's the use of shivering through another winter when a few dollars will put the finest stove that ever left a foundry right on the very spot where that poor, inefficient "coal man's friend" now stands? Replace your old, worn out range that will not bake your wife's delicious bread and cakes or draw properly the way it should. Replace it with a Windsor range.

Never before was a range built so well fitted to cook "a mouthful of food to the queen's taste" as a Windsor.

Experts make the stoves we sell. They are men who have devoted their lives to manufacturing stoves.

So you see that Windsor stoves and ranges must be as nearly perfect as science can make them.

HELP YOURSELF!
YOU CAN HAVE ANY MONEY SAVER YOU WANT

We have been in business for forty years. We have a reputation to maintain. We guarantee our stoves to give perfect satisfaction and which is more, you know what our guarantee stands for and you know we will protect you.

Some manufacturers build stoves to make a "price". Windsor stoves are built to meet "perfection" and the price is fixed afterwards. Even so, our prices are no higher, and in many cases lower, than the prices many stove concerns ask for a cheaply made, indifferent product.

We know from years of experience just what it costs to manufacture good stoves. Our prices are as low as it is possible to make them without sacrificing quality. This we will prove. We have been in business for forty years.

Here is as useful a thing as you ever saw. It burns either hard or soft coal or wood. You can have a hot, glowing fire in the stove in half an hour. It takes less fuel than any other stove. You will better read about this stove in our price book. This stove is a good seller and customers are delighted with it. Write for a price book to the nearest check, telephone.

We Can Save You Just as Much Money on Everything Else You Ever Buy as We Can on Stoves and Ranges

Over 2,000,000 satisfied customers fill every need from our big store. Why? Because they are getting the best and most satisfactory merchandise. From the leading merchants of the world we buy our goods. Therefore, it is the best that the markets of the world afford that our customers get, and, besides, they save from 20 cents to 50 cents on every dollar's worth of goods they purchase. "How can you give such splendid values for so little money?" is the question we are asked every day.

Here is how we do it. We buy everything directly from the sources of supply. We buy amounts so great that the figures would astound you. For instance, we buy and sell in one year 6 miles of baby carriages, 30 miles of bicycle tires and enough "crabs" to span this continent several times. This, of course, means low prices—"rock bottom" prices to us. Then we sell direct to you with only one small, legitimate profit added. We guarantee a broad, liberal guarantee that takes away the element of risk—your safeguard. Here is how we eliminate the element of risk—we guarantee every purchase will meet your every requirement. If for any reason it does not, we will make any exchange or refund you wish or your money. Furthermore, we will repay you any transportation charges you have had to pay. Fair, square dealing and satisfaction guaranteed is and always has been our policy. Below is a list of the books we issue. They are your "messengers of economy". You are unquestionably interested in one or more of them. Pick down now, check the books you want, mail the coupon below. The day the coupon reaches us, the books will be mailed to your home.

Here is a Splendid Range

This is the Select "Windsor" Polished-Steel Range. It has double walls, lined with thick asbestos mill-board, is closely riveted together and will not warp or buckle. The fire-box has one piece fire-back and fire-front and the Duplex grate can be used with either hard or soft coal or with wood.

The oven is broad, deep, high, square in form and is thoroughly ventilated. The plated ornamentations are of pure nickel, durable and attractive.

In buying this range, you save first, by one-third the cost of the stove alone; second, by saving the cost of the money saved in using a range which gets a greater amount of heat from the fuel used.

Price, complete with reservoir and high closet, $18.70.

Check No. 22 will give you more information about the Select Windsor.

Young Man From Dallas County Makes Purchase. To Locate

Rev. M. D. Williams started to Dublin last week on a visit to his parents, and got as far as Lubbock, where he met Mr. John E. Gracy, who lives six miles from Dallas city, and who saw our agricultural display at the Dallas Fair. Mr. Williams induced him very easily to come out with him to look at a splendid half section of dirt belonging to the former, the equal of which cannot be found among the chocolate bottoms of the Trinity for general productiveness. It did not take Mr. Gracy long to decide the question of purchase for himself. He had only to see the land and what had grown on it and adjoining ground in the year 1911. After seeing the crops that grew on the land this year, he was taken over to Uncle Billie Howard's farm, where he again met the man who had charge of our exhibits and was shown over his farm. Upon seeing the corn that was produced on his place this year and was told that it was comparatively low yield, Mr. Gracy exclaimed: "Why this is good corn; we never do make any better corn in Dallas county and this year, we won't even drive into the fields." He was very much pleased with cotton, maize, kaffir and in fact every thing he saw.

The best thing about this deal is, we are going to locate this gentleman in the immediate future. He is no prospector, but was looking for a home and has found one to suit his taste. We understand that his father has sold in Dallas county for a good price and will likely come out in the near future to see the home of the "Blue Ribbon Elberta peaches, and will likely locate himself.

Mr. Gracy left early Monday morning for Dallas county, where he will make preparations to move up here in a few months and build a nice home and get down to genuine farming.

FATTENING HORSES.

All Corn Ration Not So Efficacious as Diet of Mixed Grains.

An experiment in fattening horses carried on by the Illinois experiment station disproved popular ideas in this matter. Twenty-four head of horses, varying from four to eight years of age, were used. These were divided into lots of six horses each and similarly fed. The feeding period extended over 112 days, the object being to secure evidence upon the result of mixing oats and bran with corn as compared with an all corn ration. Clover hay was the roughage given to all in this experiment.

The general results of these experiments show that a mixed grain ration of corn and oats fed with clover hay produces better gains than a single corn ration. The increased gains with such feeding are more than enough to offset the increased price of this ration over corn alone. Many feeders have always insisted upon using timothy hay when fleshing their horses. Contrary to this accepted idea, the best results by 58 per cent were obtained from clover hay fed with corn and oats. If, however, it is desired to feed timothy its efficiency may be materially increased by adding a small amount of oilmeal to the corn and oats ration. The ration of one-fourth oats or of one-fifth bran mixed with the corn proved more economical than an all corn ration. It was found easily possible to feed too much bran in connection with clover hay.

The largest gains were made by the lot receiving the largest amount of digestible protein, while the next to the smallest gains were made by the lot which received the largest amount of digestible carbohydrates. This result is also considerably at variance with popular ideas of feeding. The result of exercising the animal was also somewhat surprising. Those which were given a daily walk of 2.8 miles per day made 24 per cent less gain than those which were given no exercise.

Aside from the greater safety of box stalls, there was no appreciable advantage over the ordinary single stall. On the contrary, the horses fed in box stalls gained 8 per cent less than those in single stalls. The kind of horses it will pay to feed depends upon the season of the year when they are to be marketed. In general heavy horses pay better than light ones and good, sound animals of the approved type better than those of lower grade.

DAIRY WISDOM.

Get the best cows; they are none too good.

A separator in the dairy business is almost equal to the thrasher in wheat growing.

Separator milk contains less cream than milk skimmed by hand; hence there is less fat in it for the calves.

The cleaner the milking and the sooner the milk is strained and cooled the longer it will keep sweet.

The man who expects to make dairying pay cannot afford to use scrubs or the so called milking strains of beef cattle.

Cows giving milk are voracious eaters. It is from their food and drink that their milk is made.

GOMEZ DOTS

Mr. Brown Allen, of Gustine, Texas, came in Monday night. He owns a wellimproved section of land in East Yoakum at Glen Park; and has come to look after it.

Dr. Hall, the dentist, spent three days here last week and left Monday for his home at Plainview. While here he had a constant rush of work and some failed to get their work done.

The young folks had a 42 party at Jim Key's on last Saturday night. Delicious refreshments were served consisting of fruit, cake and confectionaries formed a pleasant feature on the occasion. All present reported a very pleasant evening.

Say Mr. Herald; we went to the city of Plains early last week and left reporting the Gomez locals to another person here, but we didn't see the "rep." Well apologies will fill space but not pockets, so we wont make any. Plains is certainly a nice place and her citizens are second to none in hospitality—but we were gone from our job of sand-chewing for 6 days and "you know" we were glad to get back to Gomez the quietest and most all around pleasant village on the cap rock; at least so thinks her citizens.

Messrs. Booth Hays and S. W. Jenkins, were in last week, also Mr. and Mrs. Woodard, and little daughter, Ida. Mrs. Woodard had some dental work done.

W. C. Matthews made a trip to Cochran county last week.

Geo. McPherson has moved to his father's residence since our last report.

Mr. Pruett and family, left Wednesday for Lubbock. Mrs. Pruett and daughter are going to East Texas to visit Mrs. Pruett's mother.

Mr. Winn left Tuesday for Lubbock to bring back freight.

Mr. Myers of Tahoka, who made a crop on Mrs. Lockhart's place, one mile South of Gomez, is here this week disposing of his crop of cotton and sweet potatoes.

Dr. Ellis and Percy Spencer were here last week.

Bob Carter, a former Terryite who has recently been living on the North Plains, has moved back to his fathers place near Gomez. Bob say's Terry is the best place yet and he will be content to stay in the future.

Bro. Jamerson will hold Thanksgiving service at the Baptist church tomorrow (Thursday)

Dee Hunter moved down to the Hunter ranch, six miles South of town last week.

The past two days norther has been the coldest we have ever experienced here; when it was clear dry weather.

Originally the Duroc-Jersey was a large, coarse animal, but of recent years the object has been to breed out the coarseness of bone, head and ears. While much of the roughness has been eliminated, still the Duroc-Jerseys are not as refined and compact as the Poland-Chinas.

eible the large run of 175 and 200 pound hogs that were so much in demand during the present year.

Though of the fine boned, meat built, chunky type of hog, the Duroc-Jersey is not so extreme as the Poland-China, being somewhat larger and possessing more scale. Its color is a rich red or mahogany and is very pleasing. The faults of the breed are a tendency toward too large litters of undersized pigs, faulty backs and a tendency to sandy colors. The writer does not have much faith in the oft repeated statement that sows of chunky conformation are less prolific and poorer mothers than sows of lankier type, for it would seem that it is a question of being too fat. Instead of a question of conformation, it is one of getting too much fattening food and not enough nitrogen and calcium phosphate and other needed calcium salts in the rations.

Corn the Best Silage.

Silage has been produced in this country for a comparatively short time, but its place is firmly established as an adjunct to the dairy. It provides a cheap, succulent food of uniform quality and is easily handled and fed. There has been a great deal of experimental work with silage, several crops having been used, such as clover, alfalfa, soy beans, sorghum and corn. Crops that may be easily preserved, such as hay and clover, are better cured, all things considered, than silage. Corn is easily the first as a plant for the silo. Large quantities may be grown on a small area of land, and it makes a silage possessing a delightful aroma.
