Jack and His Lizzard and Cezar

By J. W. Lively

One hundred and eleven years ago Terry county wasn't here, but the country was. It must have been quite a far away and lonesome region then, so far away from the white man's base and the limits of civilization.

But there was one white lad of a man that got all out here and rambled all over these lonesome parts. This was Jack Bean. Jack was only about 18 then, but he was much of a hero and a born navigator of the wild, woolly west. In 1816 Jack wrote the story of his hairbreadth escapes out here.

In 1801 Jack left Natches, Miss., with Capt. Nolan's little party and came west just to see what was going on and doing out here among the Commanche Indians and the Tankawas and Apaches. But the Indians got the most of the Nolan party and thinned them down very much.

Jack had a free negro left with him named Cezar, and Jack and Cezar were a match for a hundred red skins. Cezar fought like a mad tiger and stood by Jack like a white man. Out near the cap rock the Indians stole eleven of their horses one night and away up on the plains, perhaps about Terry, Jack and Cezar captured Indians and horses.

All went well with Cezar and Jack until a roving band of Mex-cans came on them and made them prisoners. Somehow Cezar was lost out but they held on to Jack and took him to Old Mexico. It took them a long time to get there and on the way Jack had many romantic events. For the Mexicans were very fond of him.

Jack Bean seemed to be quite a ladies man and every town they stopped in some Mexican woman fell in love with him. One very rich young bride of an old Mexican tried to steal Jack and run off with him to the United States. She offered Jack all the money and horses he needed and fixed it so they could fly. Jack said no, but he would come back sometime and get her.

Jack was put in prison and kept for several years. While in his dark dungeon his only companion was a big lizzard. This lizzard got so fond of Jack that every day he would come in and play with Jack and Jack got very fond of his strange friend.

One time Jack got out and was away for a few months, but they caught him and put him back and he found his lizzard friend glad to see him. But at last Jack got away and made a great soldier in the Mexican Revolution of 1819. Then he married a rich Mexicana and came back to Texas and helped free Texas. He died in good old age in East Texas.

So it may be that Jack Bean was about the first white man that trod the fertile soil of Terry, and more than likely Cezar was the first son of Ham to set foot on the sunny slopes and virgin valleys of this lofty section. We Terryites must not forget Jack and Cezar. Our little Terry boys and girls must not forget Jack Bean and his friend, the lizzard.

GOMEZ DOTS

Sept. 17th.

Gomez school opened on the morning of the 16th with a good attendance of pupils and quite a lot of patrons. The visitors were: Judge Nell, Rev. Lofton and the county and district trustees with almost all the citizens of Gomez. Interesting talks were made by Judge Neill, Rev. Lofton, Dr. Maddux and our county and district Trustees. The sentiment voiced by all was for harmony and a successful school term. Our faculty for this term are Prof. Harrison and wife and Miss Gay Broughton, and present indications are that there will be compeled to be another teacher as there is too much work for three teachers.

Andrew Simms and family, left Monday for Hall county, and later on they will go to Oklahoma to visit Mrs. Simms parents.

Mr. Roach, of Plains, has rented Andrew Simms' house and will move his family here immediately for the benefit of the school.

Mr. Claybourns family came in last week from N. M., and the children entered school Monday morning.

Messrs. Satterwhite and Proctor, of Plains, came in Monday and carried the well drill away from here that formerly belonged to Will Adams.

The Methodist meeting closed on the 13th and Bro. Jameson left on the 16th for his home at Hermleigh.

The Primitive Baptist had preaching here Saturday and Sunday and held communion. They received five members by letter.

Horton Leach, wife and little Helen, spent Saturday night in town, the guest of Artie Shepherd.

John Hays passed through town last Saturday evening enroute to Brownfield, where he intended to spend Sunday on business.

Claud Hays was in town last Saturday for the first time in a year. He has been away from home working on a ranch.

Mrs. Holland, from southwes Terry, brought her little grandson, Fletcher, in to put him in school, and stoped over several days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jim Key. Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Key went over to the Brownfield ranch, in east Terry, to visit Mrs. Ray Brownfield on Monday.

Mrs. A. D. Jameson, has been quite sick for almost a week but is improving at this writing.

Mrs. Joe Lane returned home last Saturday after a weeks stay in town.

Mrs. A. V. Taylor and children moved into Grandma Stapp's residence on last Saturday.

Mrs. Simon Holgate's music class begun this week.

Joe Lane has gone to Lubbock this week to attend the organization of a Knights Templar Lodge.

Mr. Bacon, who has been working for Joe Lane all the season, left for his home at Cisco.

Mr. J. McPhaul has been staying in Gomez several days this week.

Mr. Fowler and Dollie Duke, attended singing here on Sunday night. They took supper at the Hotel.

Mr. Claud Hays and Miss Katie Copeland attended singing here Sunday night.

Quite a lot of freighters left on Tuesday for Tahoka, and Walter Gainer left on Monday, we think, for Lubbock.

Herald has consulted three of the Commissioners and they are all in favor of the road north, if Lubbock business men and others will do their part. However, they don't want to delve into this matter until the road question south of here is fully settled, which we think will be in a few weeks. Yes, we are going to get a good wagon road to Lubbock.

Don't let the financial committee of the Fair have to hunt you down to get your donation. Hunt them up and not only show your generosity by a liberal donation, but also your abiding faith in Terry county, and her future. You probably realize as much as anyone, that this institution is not yet self sustaining, and only a loyal, liberal hearted people are dependent for its success. Our little fair is already attracting State and National attention. We are down on the list with other great fairs of the State, and that is the way the great Dallas and San Antonio fairs started. At first they were not self sustaining just like ours, but a loyal people were at the helm. Result: They are not only self sustaining now but have an international reputation.

There is a vast difference in living in ones own home than a borrowed or rented one, and the Herald is not less human than any other citizen. We have gone to the expense of buying one for the simple reason that we feel more at home, more able to do our full duty by our paper, and more at liberty to give a fair and impartial report of every transaction. A feeling that all our highest conceptions and work point to a certain plant in a certain building. But with all this our own, we, as much as ever need the hearty sympathy and co-operation of every individual and business man in Terry county and the standby and steadfastness of every subscriber on the books. Come let us work for the upbuilding of Terry county together.

S. E. Hamilton brought in a load of mellons Monday that averaged 50 pounds each. He remembered the Herald force with one that had the moon and stars on it.

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXX. ENCHANTMENT

CLEOPATRA sailed down the Nile and by her personal beauty and the grandeur of her retinue, conquered Anthony and with her charms held him captive until the sighs of Fulvia blew up the fires in the Senate and the Roman government crushed her crown. It is said this Egyptian beauty could, with a smile, change the map of Europe, but with all her subtle charms and native beauty, she is known as the "Serpent of the Nile." Many a beautiful craft of gilded opinions is floating down the political seas and stirs us with the image of its beauty, but, like the "Serpent of the Nile," its influence is degrading and its practices destructive.

CLEOPATRA CAPTURING ANTHONY.

Let those who aspire to public leadership understand that beauty and wisdom seldom walk together; that theories fair as a poet's dream, when embraced, bite like a serpent and sting like an adder and remorse, with all its vipers, will fill the land. There is no better evidence of weakness in leaders than a desire to grasp at things that dazzle and glitter. Texas Needs Great Men.

The first norther of the season blew up this (Friday) morning. We imagine several closets were rummaged for last winter's coats. Begins to make us to ask ourselves of what we done

Hello Mr. Elitor, wasn't that rain fine last Thursday night, and this morning the wind coming from the north asking what we all had done with our summer wages.

Mrs. Falliton, returned home last Monday from Collin county, where she had been on a visit to her Aunts.

Will Palmer is right sick this week; had Dr. Thompson from O'Donnell with him.

Mrs. Will Cathey has been right sick but is better at this writing.

Miss Bertie Preston has gone to Plainview.

John Cathey has gone to South McAllister, where he will attend school.

Charley Baker passed through here on his way to his sister's, Mrs. Davis, near the Woton Wells.

Mr. Wiley Fortenberry, returned home last week from the north plains, where he had been with a bunch of cattle.

Mr. Dee Brownfield was in this corner of the county last week buying steer yearlings. He carried off a nice bunch from this corner.

J. K. Epperson and wife, went to Lamesa last week.

A big girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Allen the 8th. Mother and babe doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cathey returned last Friday from Gail, where they had been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Miller.

Billie Bryant was shaking hands with friends around near Pride and Uncle Epps water-melon patch.

One of Mr. Charlie Tisdale's big black horses died last Friday night.

Sand Lapper.

Mr. Matthews, the Rice-Stix dry good drummer was here last week and the Mercantile purchased the most complete line of dry goods that will be found on the plains away from the railroad. Patronize home industry and watch Terry county grow.

Mr. A. M. McBurnett informed us last week that his father was recently up from Nolan Co. and upon showing him his crop, his father remarked: "You've got more corn than will be raised in Nolan county this year."

THE CHEAPEST and best reading you ever heard of is a combination of The Herald, Farm and Ranch and Hollands Magazine; $3.00 worth of papers for only $1.75. Get this combination for your summer, fall and winter evenings.

We respectfully call your attention to Cleve William's ad in this issue. He not only runs a nice, clean cold drink and confectionery, but is prepared to furnish you a good line of notions at the right price. Call and see him.

The Herald is a tired member this week, moving; straightening up and getting out the regular issue, and will certainly appreciate the day of rest, but we are nevertheless proud to get in our own home. We will be one day late this week.

A. M. McBurnett came up this week to meet his father-in-law, S. B. Fickers, of Snyder. Mrs. Fickers came up some time ago, but Mr. Fickers was detained on court duty. Mr. Fickers will distribute several circulars in Scurry county advertising the land of promise.

We learned with pleasure this week that Mr. Harper, of Lubbock, who owns the section of land joining the town section on the northwest, had rented the Leard bungalow, and would move his family down in the near future. This is an excellent family and we certainly welcome them to our little city. Mr. Harper has already gathered about ten ton of maize from his Terry county farm, and hasn't begun.

Judge and Mrs. Spencer, of Lubbock, accompanied by Mrs. Spencer's brother, Mr. Pickens and family, of Sweetwater, were down this week. Mr. Pickens is a passenger conductor on the Santa Fe between Sweetwater and Coleman and took his vacation to run down and see his splendid half section of land one and one half miles northwest of town. Being an old time typographer, he visited the Herald office and set the first line of type in twenty-five years.

WANTED—The Cosmopolitan Group requires the service of a representative in Terry county and surrounding territory, to look after subscription renewals, and to extend circulation by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Salary and commission. Previous experience desirable but not essential. Whole time or spare time. Address, with references, Charles C. Schwer, The Cosmopolitan Group, 381 Fourth Ave., New York City.

Maybe some has grasped the idea that the Herald dines out every once in occasion to or in order to write of our visit, or to brag on what the hosts had to eat, or raised, but such is not near the truth. We certainly enjoy these calls, but the main object is to get before the minds of non-residents just what this country will produce when the soil is tackled in the right spirit. We know we appreciate these calls whether or not the guest do, and not only go to please ourselves and the hosts, but to tell outsiders of the great homes in Terry county that are not near the starvation point, but are really living in luxury.

IN PRAISE OF PUMPKIN PIE

Editor of Yonkers Statesman Pays Deserving Tribute to Great American Institution.

There is another Richmond in the pie field and the pie editor of the Ohio State Journal would do well to look to his hauberk and his laurels. The new knight is Edwin A. Oliver, editor of the Yonkers Statesman, father of the paragraphic joke, and he prances into the arena armed cap-a-pie, as it were, and with his pie knife couchant. Listen to his praise of the flaky crust with the pumpkin filler:

"When one takes a huge bit of it in his mouth and his happy thoughts unfold into a dream and he hears afar 'the breaking waves dash high and a stern and rockbound coast, and the woods against a stormy sky their giant branches tossed,' one feels how happily related to a brave historic event is the modest pumpkin pie. It came 'when the conquerors came, and they shook the depths of the desert gloom with their hymns of lofty cheer.' This is cheer—the sunbeams imbued in pumpkin pie."

prime offense against the customs laws; yet the high rates of duty on some articles, such as tobacco and spirits, offer great temptation to illicit traders, who employ all sorts of artifices to smuggle—or evade the notice of the customs officers.

When silk was dutiable women were the chief offenders, and as they sometimes wound the contraband article around their persons, under their ordinary clothes, it was found necessary to employ female searchers, now no longer brought into requisition. One of the latter, on one occasion, made a curious discovery.

A female smuggler had had constructed—but not for running silk contraband—an india rubber dress for wearing under her ordinary clothes. She appeared, when this contrivance was in operation, to be a very fat woman; in reality, she was abnormally thin. But the india rubber underwear was double and hollow, and the space between the skins, so to speak, was filled with brandy!

Early Anti-Trust Law.
An old statute has been unearthed by the Cincinnati Enquirer and applied to present conditions. If the law today were what it used to be in the early days of Kentucky and were carried out we might see Wall street dotted with men who had lost their ears for conspiring to restrain trade. A statute of some 363 years ago, which was intended to put a stop to the meat trust, the brewers' trust, the bread trust and the fruit trust of those days, makes the Sherman act look gentle. This statute became law in Virginia and therefore in Kentucky when Kentucky was formed out of Virginia. It is fair to point out that the statute of Edward VI. also went after any laborers who got together to keep up wages or limit the hours of work, so that it was markedly in opposition to the beliefs of our own day. Moreover, we violate no confidence in saying that it was enforced more violently against the laborers than against the dealers who kept up prices. Kentucky, it may be well to add, has since repealed the act.—Collier's.

Wit of Augustus Thomas.

"The trouble with amateur carvers," said Mr. Thomas, on one occasion, "is that the gravy so rarely matches the wall paper." A fatuous argument he characterized as "like a chorus girl's tights, which touch every point and cover nothing." When Mr. Thomas was rehearsing "The Witching Hour," one of the management stopped the players, and, turning to the author, remarked: "I think this would be a good place for some witty dialogue."

"Yes," replied Mr. Thomas. "As for instance?"—Channing Pollock in "The Footlights—Fore and Aft."

Austin, Sept. 12, '12.
Hon. Geo. W. Neill,
Brownfield, Texas,

My dear Sir:—
I have your letter of Sept. 9th extending an invitation on behalf of the management of your Co. Fair for me to attend same and deliver an address on that occasion on Oct. 3d. In response to which I beg to advise you that it will afford me a great deal of pleasure to comply with your request unless prevented by other duties, in which event I shall gladly assign our Mr. Neill to attend your Fair and to deliver an address to your people. It is my purpose to have our Institute lecturer visit as many of the fairs as possible, yet a number are to be held in your section of the State from Oct. 3rd to 10th, I am

Refreshing showers keep coming out our way, and say that norther was fresh too.

We learned that P. J. Ross had the misfortune to lose a good saddle horse not long since. Mr. Ross stopped at the T. F. M. ranch and finding a feed of oats fed it to his horse. The oats had been poisoned to put out for prairie dogs and killed the horse.

Misses Ethel, Eva and Fern Harris have begun their literary studies with Mrs. F. M. Ellington as instructress. Their school is short and doesn't begin till late and the girls are preparing themselves for the opening of school.

Rev's. Cornelius and Harris, closed their meeting here Sunday. Those who were attending regretted very much that they could not continue the meeting through the week.

Roy Harris went to Gomez Sunday returning Monday.

Olive and Johnie Fitzgerald are staying at Arthur Cotton's attending school over there.

Roy Harris has traded for two gentle young mares and has a splendid buggy team in them.

Good Rains Visit Portions of Terry.

All of Terry received good showers last week and portions received the biggest rains of the season, especially the southern portion. On last Friday afternoon the Brownfield vicinity received a regular young flood, but it did not extend scarcely more than a mile north, but south, a good way.

These rains mean much to old Terry, as they will not only make fine winter pasturage, but will finish young feed to perfection. In other words, it may be worth at least $100,000 to the county.

Come to the Terry County Fair Oct. 2nd and 3rd.

M. V. Brownfield went to Gray county on business this week. He was accompanied as far as Lubbock by Hugh Pyeatt, who was on his way home at Waco.

IS LIKE LITTLE KINGDOM

Family Life Is Wholesome Because It Has Bracing Qualities of Commonwealth.

The modern writers who have suggested, in a more or less open manner, that the family is a bad institution, have generally confined themselves to suggesting, with much sharpness, bitterness, or pathos, that perhaps the family is a good institution because it is uncongenial. It is wholesome precisely because it contains so many divergencies and varieties. It is, as the sentimentalists say, like a little kingdom, and, like most other little kingdoms, it is generally in a state of something resembling anarchy. It is exactly because our brother George is not interested in our religious difficulties, but is interested in the Trocadero restaurant, that the family has some of the bracing qualities of the commonwealth. It is precisely because our uncle Henry does not approve of the theatrical ambitions of our sister Sarah that the family is like humanity. The men and women who, for good reasons and bad, revolt against the family, are, for good reasons and bad, simply revolting against mankind. Aunt Elizabeth is unreasonable, like mankind. Papa is excitable, like mankind. Our younger brother is mischievous, like mankind. Grandpa is stupid, like the world; he is old, like the world.—Gilbert Chesterton.

THE HERALD $1

THE CONSTRUCTIVE DOLLAR

Money for Development Must Come From Outside the State.

Money is by far the most necessary, the most powerful and the most useful agency in the affairs of human life. Its study is fascinating, its pursuits alluring and its possession the most agreeable of all earthly substances. It stands first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of the people.

There are two sources of development, to-wit: wealth and population. The two are inseparable; people without money become a howling mob and money without people becomes a worthless substance. There are also two kinds of dollars—trade and development. The following cut will illustrate the difference between a trade dollar and a development dollar.

MAP OF TEXAS.

If a farmer located at "A" sells his farm and buys another located at "B," he has changed his location but Texas has not developed as the transaction has increased neither our wealth or population, and if the farmer at "A" sells his farm and buys a factory, he has changed his occupation, but he has not developed Texas, as neither our wealth or population has increased, but if the farmer at "A" sells his farm to some one outside the State and invests the proceeds in another Texas farm or factory, then we have increased both our wealth and population by the transaction and Texas has developed.

If the farmer at "A" can, with his net earnings, buy the farm at "B," then we have also developed, as our wealth has increased, altho our population has remained the same. The development dollar must, therefore, come from the soil or moving into the State from outside its borders.

The Best Crop I Ever Had.

Sometime ago we had a little write-up of one of the most successful business farmer in Terry county, who is no other than S. E. Hamilton of the Groves Chapel neighborhood. Probably some of our readers remember us giving an account of this man who came here four years ago all broken in health and darn nigh broke financially, with only a scrub team but with a face and honesty of purpose that he run allright for a half section of Terry county's choice dirt, and who paid for the same with two crops and had nearly $2,000 to his credit in the bank but spent a goodly portion in a wild goose chase to South Texas, but one year did him in that region. This man will make affidavit to the above.

He informed the Herald man recently that he had the best crop he ever raised.

Now, the Herald is going to ask Mr. Hamilton to keep an accurate account of all the farm truck from beans to buttermilk then, we are going to have him make affidavit to the fact, and the result will open the eyes of those Easterners so wide they'll never close them till they get a half section of land in grand old Terry county.

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXIX. CONQUEST

POMPEY said that three times he had triumphed and each time for the conquest of a continent; first, Africa, then Europe and next Asia, which completed the conquest of the world. Texas has three continents of industry yet unconquered; first, Agriculture, then Manufacturing, and next Mining, and we await the advent in the life of the State of a powerful man who can take them. Commerce belongs to the country that can conquer it and we need in Texas mental giants who can conquer the mighty forces of nature and wave the flag of Texas over the commerce of land and sea.

POMPEY RETURNING FROM HIS CONQUEST.

Let those who would soar to the altitude of greatness, subdue nature and conquer commerce, wave a wand of genius over our magnificent resources that will widen the industrial horizon of the State; rise out of the feverish throb of modern civilization like a Colossus of medieval times and set up a throne of industry in Texas that will levy tribute on the commerce of the world. Texas Needs Great Men.

He brought in thirty mellons this week that would average 50 pounds each.

Primrose.

Putting up feed and cutting maize heads is the order of the day with our farmers now.

Berlin Dickerson is cutting millet for the Timmons Bros. this week.

J. N. Farris and son, sold a nice lot of steers this week. They received $28 per head for them.

A. W. Blankenship and Lee Cowan delivered a small bunch of steers to J. N. Farris and son, Monday.

J. N. Farris moved his family to Lubbock Saturday for the benefit of the school.

We had a nice shower of rain on Wednesday of this week, for which we are truly thankful, as we were getting very dry.

Our school is progressing nicely, but a few of the scholars have dropped out to cut maize heads.

R. L. Stallcup, of Lockney, is down in our neighborhood this week on business.

Ben Beal is working for A. W. Blankenship this week, shocking maize behind the binder.

Cricket.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Garrison, of the west side, were in doing some shopping this week. They informed the editor that they had a good crop, but was not hardly ready to gather yet. These people always do make a good crop.
