DUNK BOTS, Regular Correspondent

A roach crawled into Poke Eazley's right ear Monday night when he was not listening and its arrival out of the left ear is looked forward to with much anxiety by Poke.

Miss Fruzie Allsop rode as far as Rye Straw with the mail carrier on Tuesday Morning. She went as second-class matter.

The Hog Ford preacher has decided to begin a protracted meeting as soon as the weather gets cold. He believes it a good plan to do this while everybody has their hands in their pockets.

Fletcher Henstep was tried at Bounding Billows Saturday morning on a charge of stealing a ten dollar cow from someone over near Thunderation. He pleaded guilty with the understanding that the court would pay him three dollars to boot between the cow and the fine.

Ellick Hellwanger has a new vest with big stripes and cross bars on it. Raz Barlow says all Ellick lacks now of being in jail is having a padlock for a watch charm.

Toke Moseley went down the road this morning gathering up his family that got scattered in a runaway yesterday.

The Old Miser is getting closer each day. He would not even loan Dock Hocks enough lard to grease his watch.

Little Fidity Flinders got strangled on a chicken feather he accidentally swallowed Tuesday and the horse doctor had to be called. The doctor put him on a heavier diet.

Ellick Heiwanger made the trip to Bounding Billows on important business this week. He heard somebody over there had said something about him, but when he got there they all denied it.

Columbus Adsop is on a trade for two more dawgs, to take up the surplus fleas at his house.

The wife of Sim Flinders sent him to Rye Straw Monday after a spool of thread, and as the storekeeper would not have any in until next week, Sim decided to wait there until it arrived, and is the guest of the storekeeper.

The Deputy Constable and Washington Hocks have been hanging around the Moonshine Stillhouse on Musket Ridge for several days. The Deputy keeps order while Wash keeps or lering.

Poke Eazley is proud that there were plenty of frogs this summer, as they bothered the Old Miser with their hollering at night.

Sim Flinders has brought back with him from the Calf Ribs neighborhood a feather bed made of owl feathers. While coming home with it on his back the other night it was so soft and downy he fell asleep while walking along the road.

Until times get better and the financial questions of the nation get fully settled the Old Miser on Musket Ridge will live on two hickory nuts per day.

Yam Sims appeared in public last Sunday with a new pair of pants and a stripped necktie. They have made a wonderful change in his appearance, and until they wear out he will rank among our best people.

Luke Mathewsia has a good hawg pen for sale cheap. It would make a good front yard, and Luke may move his house up behind it.

Fit Smith is having his shoes remodeled, and will occupy them next week.

There is talk of another paper being launched at Tickville. The editor of the Tickville Tidings, who always takes a firm stand on all public questions, has come out in an editorial as being opposed to it. He says if Tickville had another paper the people would get too far behind with their work trying to help run it.

Rev. Durham made a trip to Gomez, this week on business.

Farmers Meeting.

As was advertised, a few farmers met with the business men at the Courthouse Monday afternoon, where the object of the meeting was freely discussed. An effort will be made to get a thresher here, as several farmers were of the opinion that they had rather market their products threshed than in the bulk.

A temporary organization was formed with R. H. Banowsky as chairman, and Judge Neill, Secretary, and a call meeting was set for Saturday, November 14th at which time the farmers will form a permanent organization, elect their own officials, adopt a constitution and by-laws, etc.

Don't forget the date, Mr. Farmer, as it is to your interest that the temporary organization is working. Come and bring a neighbor with you. If you don't take an interest in your own affairs, you can't expect some one else to.

FARMERS: We have on hand about 2000 envelopes that we are no longer keeping in stock, that we will print your name and address on for 50c per hundred, or sell you 100 for 25c without name and address. This is almost as cheap as the blank envelopes and they will always return to you.

Will pay 20c a dozen for eggs J. R. Hill.

Sam Walker was in on business for himself and the U-ranch, this week.

The grown young people enjoyed a real old fashion Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Banowsky last Saturday night. All who attended report a good time.

District Court.

Court convened Monday morning with Judge W. R. Spencer, Atty. G. E. Lockhart, District Clerk D. J. Broughton and Sheriff Geo. E. Tiernan in attendance.

After empaneling the Grand Jury, the Judge delivered his charge, that while not long, was to the point, simple, and we believe every man understood his duty thoroughly.

The following cases were tried by the Court, there being no petit Jury summoned:

E. D. Ware vs. May Ware; suit for divorce. Decision for plaintiff, though giving defendant care of the infant child, the plaintiff to pay all cost of suit.

Frank Tomlinson vs. W. T. McPherson et al. Judgement for plaintiff in the sum of $1180. and interest from 1908; judgement for co-defendants, B. and G. E. McPherson vs. W. T. McPherson, in the sum of $1293.00 and interest from 1908.

J. J. Lane vs. Chas. H. Good; Judgement for plaintiff in the sum of $7,138.30.

Nobles Bros. Co. vs T. A. Holley; continued to next term of court for service.

Mollie Brabson vs. M. V. Brownfield et al. Continued to perfect service.

The Grand Jury returned four bills of indictment; two being misdemeanors and transferred to the County Court.

The account of C. H. Smith, court stenographer for $71. was allowed.

W. E. Cherry, W. J. A. Parker and R. H. Banowsky were appointed to draw the jurors for the next term of District Court.

G. W. SNIDER TAHOCA, TEXAS

Stay with home folks. They should at least be friends, whether they are or not.

The Big Springs Herald says their town was recently covered with cob webs. To bad, to bad! Nothing but the Bibles are ever covered with cobwebs in Brownfield.

Editor Stricklin of the Brownfield Herald sort of rocked the boat with his ultimatum laid down to the "whang dang merchants," but he says it takes a scare to make some business men wake up. He says he is sitting steady with his hands on the tiller; and that furthermore "he is captain of the captain's gig," and if the boys want to get right, they can patronize the Herald.—Slaton Slatonite.

David R. Francis, former Governor of Missouri and president of the Saint Louis World Fair, says that an editor does more boosting than any other citizen, and goes on to say that the boosting of one editor for his town and county, averages an equal with ten men of any other profession. David Francis has handled real big businesses and knows more about the value of publicity than the ordinary run of people, tho his estimation of the local paper's worth to a community may be a bit overdrawn. However, there never was a class of people that give of their means as freely to the public as publishers of country weeklies, begrudging no one nothing. Recently a citizen remarked to us that he believed the Herald gave a Brownfield firm from $50 to $100 worth of free advertising during a misfortune, and he couldn't see why they didn't advertise with us. The PRICE of advertising remains long after all past favors are forgotten, with some people.

Our Gomez Correspondent has written us to say that the great mass of readers at Gomez want the Hogwallow Locals to go. We have to try and please people all over the county, and want to say that the great mass of our readers over here, old and young, like this department. In fact, we notice they read Dunk's quaint saying about the first thing. These people, of course, know there is no such place as Hogwallow, at least in Terry county, but they do enjoy reading a little nonsense along with the serious. This old world is a serious proposition at best, and Johnny would become a grum boy without some fun. The fact is, this is the first complaint we have heard from any source, and some Gomez readers have told us they liked it. We have tried to print a paper to suit the public as much as possible, even though we have to do the work, stand off bills and take the responsibilities. Yet, as we have a little more than 50 subscribers at Gomez that we are anxious to please; if our correspondent will send us the names of half this number that want this department discontinued, we believe we will comply with their request, though this correspondent will then have to get busy with the Dallas News and other noted papers about their comic sections.

The Minister

The minister arose in his pulpit one Sunday morning and said, "Brethren, I have to announce that this will be my last appearance in this pulpit. I have many reasons for this. In the first place, you do not love me, because you have not paid me a dollar on my salary this year, in the second place, you do not love God, for you are doing nothing to advance his kingdom on earth; God does not love you, for there has not been a funeral in this parish for many months. In the third place, you do not love one another, for there have been only one wedding in two years. These being the facts, I have decided to leave this field of labor, and have accepted a position as chaplain in the jail. And now I will preach my farewell sermon from the text: "I will go to prepare a place for you, that where I am ye may be also."—Exchange.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly troubles, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Mr. Bynum got in last week from Cisco, where he went after his son, Arnett, who was suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Arnett had entered as a pupil in the Brittan Training School. We are glad to report him some better.

W. E. Cherry, who was doing grand jury duty this week, paid the Herald a short call while here.

C. F. Holt was in doing grand jury duty this week, and had us add his name to our ever growing list of subscribers. Mr. Holt is one of our most progressive east side stock farmers.

We learned this week that Edwin Holt and wife were moving, back to make old Terry, their home again. Welcome home.

The dancing young people enjoyed one of the best of the season at the Spencer building Saturday night. A large crowd from Tahoka was on hand.

Lee Allmon came in from Floyd county last week, and after winding up his business here, will move to that county to make his future home. He came in this week and paid up on the Herald till January 1st 1916, so he will get the news from Terry.

Will Ward came in this week after quite a stay, and loaded up his household goods and moved to Tahoka.

Walter Duke returned from Dallas last week where he went some three weeks ago to look after employment. He says that it is a hard matter to find a job in town, now.

H. L. Ware and son, Elmer, of Gomez, were here this week, attending court.

Uncle Joe and Aunt Laura Hamilton spent the day Sunday with the Herald folks. They said this was the first time they had spent the day away from home in about two years, but we must say they appeared to enjoy the day very much.

We understand that the opera seats for the school auditorium have been ordered, and may be on the road by now, but will not be here for the play tonight. They will contain metallic numbers, which will be a great convenience in numbering tickets, over the old seats. These seats accommodate more than 100 people and with the additional seats in the rear, something like 200 people can be easily seated.

T. J. Price, our hustling north side stockman, sent the Herald a half gallon of his own make of sorghum, that were simply fine. They look like honey and are just as good. Home made sorghum are pure, and good for the Luman family to eat.

Jim Lewis and Elbert Proctor are busy this week working over the north side well in the court house yard. It has been idle for some time, as it is more convenient, for the traveling public, we are glad to see it put in shape.

The election went off quietly here, only about a third of the vote of the primaries being polled. Both boxes gave a full democratic vote no other party being represented. If that isn't endorsing the Wilson administration, and tying Zapata county on her usual solid Republican vote, then we don't know. The vote we gave is only the two Brownfield boxes; not having heard from the other portions of the county.

Well, Mr. Editor and correspondents, sickness in the family prevented us being with you last week. We are glad to report our brother rapidly convalescing. We didn't learn much during our hurried visit to Lockney except that it is mighty nice to have sandy yards during rainy weather.

Messrs. Spear and Hooker attended court at Plains last week.

Roy Harris made a trip to Lubbock last week after goods for the store.

Mrs. Zeffa Bell visited Miss Olga Fitzgerald last Saturday and Sunday.

Brit Clare is attending court at Brownfield this week.

We noticed the correction of our item regarding the dance at B. C. Christenson's, the correction stating that it was a party instead. We never want to misrepresent anything. We did not attend the party (?) but were informed by reliable persons who did attend that they one-stepped, two-stepped, schottisch-ed, waltzed and stepped to "Little Brown Jug", also that the Timms boys furnished the music. Young ladies in Brownfield say they were invited to a dance there that night so how were we to know. Surely the editor upon hearing of a literary society would not be expected to report a prayer meeting.

Mrs. Zeffa Bell is spending the week with Mrs. B. Clare.

Last week Brit Clare received the sad news of his mother's death, at her home near Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Geo. Snodgrass, a prominent young stock farmer of the west side was in this week on business.

FINANCING RAILROADS

The Fundamental Elements in Securities.

BY JULIUS KRUTTSCHNITT, Executive Head of Southern Pacific.

THE financing of a railroad is a function which the people, through their servants, the Railroad Commissioners and the Legislators, have never attempted, but it is a most important problem, especially to sections of a State where new railroads are needed. The placing of securities has been left entirely with the promoter and owner of railroads.

"The immediate determination of what earnings the railroads shall be permitted to receive and what burdens it shall have put on it is in the hands of the other servants of the public—the Legislators and the Commissioners.

"Managing a railroad is quite different from managing a government where the money is raised by taxation. When the expenditures, for good reasons or otherwise, increase, taxes can be equally increased. The railroads, while servants of the public, cannot raise money with such ease and facility. The railroads must keep their expenditures within their incomes because while they have some control over their expenditures they have almost no control over their incomes, their rates being fixed by public authorities.

"There is not a railway manager in the country today who is not fearful that under the press of increasing demands the transportation systems of the country will, in a few years, break down, unless the railroads are allowed to earn larger funds wherewith to build it up. There are vast sections of the country, especially in the West, where more railroads are needed and they cannot be built unless the railways raise new capital.

"People invest money in order to make money, and they are skeptical as to whether they can make money by investing in concerns that are dealt with stringently and unfairly. Railroad securities must be made more attractive to invite investments, and in order that they may be made more attractive, the roads must be allowed earnings that will enable them to meet the increased capital charges."

Governor on Papers

Ex-Governor Francis, of Missouri, once said the following of newspapers: "Each year the paper gives from $500 to $1000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local newspaper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited, or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or teacher. Understand me I don't mean morally and yet on the moral questions you will find most of the papers on the right side. Today the editors of the local papers do the most for the best money of any people on earth."

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

The personal reminiscences of Baron de Méneval, for thirteen years private secretary to Napoleon Bonaparte, bring out, as no history can, many enlightening and interesting side lights on the character of that greatest of leaders. De Méneval's descriptions have the piquancy and interest possible only because he was an actual eyewitness of the scenes and incidents of which he writes. Their reliability and historical interest can be judged by the fact that the very conservative French Academy publicly recommends them.

Yes, Williams, I'll Tell You Why I Won't Invest in Your Enterprise

YOU'RE located in the wrong town. Closed seventeen saloons last Spring, the first institutions to come across with their taxes. You voted yourselves out of those good funds, and what has it got you? Practically a dead town.

You tried to deprive men of their personal rights. You told 'em they couldn't drink beer, even moderately as they had been doing. Men who couldn't even get beer in respectable beer saloons, got unlimited quantities of cheap, stronger drinks in the countless blind pigs that your blue laws created.

Those orderly saloons were the Liberty Hall of many workmen who sought an hour's relaxation, amusement, fellowship. To them, they were what a club is to you and me. Naturally, denied the privilege of drinking an occasional glass, they skulked to the convenient speak-easies and became law breakers.

There you are, Williams. None of my money for a town that clamps down the lid—not on intemperance, but on business and sobriety.
