BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY JUNE 20, 1919

NO. 49

ABOUT OUR PICNIC

After due consideration of all the angles, it has been definitely decided for several reasons that it would be best to have our picnic the 1st and 2nd, of August, being Friday and Saturday, the first week in August instead of just having one day on July 4th. There are many reasons for the change, the main one being that several of our boys cannot possibly be home by July 4th. Then the towns of Lubbock and Lamesa are each going to have a blowout on that date, and they are each so near us that none of them would be very good.

At a regular meeting of the Woodman lodge last Saturday night, it was decided that the lodge would take the lead in the arrangement as it is much better organized and has more funds than any other organization in town. They propose to put up from $50 to $100 of the entertainment money themselves, and to appoint committees to solicit the citizens of the town and county.

As stated before there will be no charges for anything on the ground that the soldiers may want, and arrangements will be made with all the shows that may be here that date to admit free any man in uniform.

More about the matter as we see the day approaching.

Killed By Lightning

Mr. Thompson, who resided east of Crosbyton, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning last Sunday afternoon. We understand that he was about one hundred yards from his house when the fatal messenger of death struck him down. He leaves a wife and one child.—Ralls Garner.

WHAT IS the use to have a starter on your car that won't start? See Gist for electrical work.

Halley Stays With 'Em.

Cashier O. T. Halley, of the Brownfield State Bank went to Austin last week to sell our school bonds, and he sold them, for he stayed right on the job till every detail was completed and they were taken by the State of Texas.

Well, he just had the guts to tell those gentlemen what he came for and what he was going to do, and he did it.

Now we can expect dirt to begin moving on the site of our splendid school building in the near future.

Halley says all it takes to put one over at Austin is to have just a little more nerve and gall than the office holders, and to just announce that you are not going home till there is something "didden."

Mr. Halley paid high compliments to all our State Officials including Governor Hobby, Comptroller Terrell, Treasurer John W. Baker—we all agree there—and Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Supt. of Public Instruction, and he paid the latter a very high compliment in assisting so much to sell our bonds. He says the most gruff and dignified fellows at the State Capital are the appointive ones.

Now let the school building go into the air and take the trouble to give Mr. Halley a cigar the next time you meet him on the streets.

Land Sold out of The Swastika Range.

Mollie D. Abernathy and M. G. Abernathy have recently sold six thousand acres of what is known as the Swastika range, to Mrs. Emma Hankins, of Eastland county. The price being paid per acre was about thirty dollars. We understand that the deal included the improvement on the ranch. About one hundred and thirty thousand dollars was included in the deal.—Lubbock Avalanche.

MASS MEETING

For Men and Boys on Sunday June 22nd at the Tabernacle

Evangelist Will Hawkins will preach on "Brickbats, Bumble Bees and Bull Dogs."

M. M. Johnson will sing, "Will the Circle Be Unbroken."

The Methodist Meeting

The Methodist meeting is going along nicely despite the fact that almost continuous cloudy and showery weather prevails that hinders outdoor services considerably but headway is being gained at each of the services, and hopes are entertained for a great meeting. Evangelist Hawkins did not arrive from the east till Tuesday and in about his first service paid a great compliment to the people of our town. He says he met most of the business men, and they all take hold of your hand and at the same time talk just like they were glad to see you. Rev. Hawkins, like Billy Sunday, uses a great deal of the stage—and then some—has a continuous smile, and so far as we have heard differs from the Sunday tactics in that he calls people no hard names and seems only intend on doing good in this community.

The singer, Rev. Johnson is some preacher himself, as well as a singer and held the audiences to good advantage before the arrival of Rev. Hawkins. The singer favors his audiences with some splendid solos at almost every service.

Victor Carter one of our boys who went over to give the measley huns a much deserved thrashing, has returned home. WELCOME BOYS!

BIG BARBECUE AT LUBBOCK JULY FOURTH

Lubbock Texas, June 14.—At an informal meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night, it was determined that Lubbock would celebrate the Fourth of July with one of the most complete programs that has ever been staged on the South Plains. Arrangements are being made for the occasion now, and the program committee does not propose to overlook anybody when it comes to furnishing entertainment for them. You will not be able to find a dull moment, and every thing will be done to make you enjoy the day.

Make your arrangements for coming to Lubbock that day. A special feature of the program besides good eats, etc. will be the soldiers drill, in uniform. It is the desire of the committee that every returned soldier come and join in this part of the program. Special rates on all roads running into Lubbock have been applied for.

"July Thirsty First"

Chicago, June 11.—Postmaster W. T. Carlile was discussing with a friend from Kentucky the rapid approach of July "Thirsty-First" when an assistant handed him a letter. It was from Young E. Allison, close friend of "Marse Henry" Watterson and editor of the Insurance Field in Louisville. Allison enclosed this poetic effort, a parody on America.

Dry country, 'tis of Thee—
Sweet land of Liberty—
Of thee I sing.
Ere prohibitions tide
Swept o'er the nation wide.
Luckily my Fathers died—
They had their fling

My native country, Thee,
Dry as a saddle tree,
Thy name I praise.
Closed are thy many stills;
Soon I must seek thy rills
When thirst my larnyx drills,
My tongue ablaze.

Let prohibition breeze—
Once but a porty wheeze—
Go to it strong.
Let every smoker quake,
Or his tobacco shake;
Down with the dance—awake,
Push it along.

Jupiter Pluvis,
Parched as Vesuvius,
Am I, Oh, King,
After July the First,
If I am ever cursed
With an old-fashioned thirst,
No more I'll sing.

Biggest Saloon Quits Business.

The biggest saloon in the world went out of business in Bridgeport, Ohio, last Monday, when Ohio became dry under an amendment to the state constitution.

It was located in the little city of 4200 souls, just across the Ohio River from Wheeling Va., and was owned and operated by Sam Ungerleider. The saloon employed seventy-seven bar tenders and clerks and had 216 feet of bar. For the past year or two its average daily bank deposits have been $5000, or $1,500,000 a year. The saloon made Bridgeport one of the show places of the Ohio Valley.

Ungerleider is thirty-six years of age. He is a millionaire and says he never smoked or drank intoxicating liquor. He estimated that since 1915 approximately 20,000 drinks a day have been sold over his bar. He also claims there has never been a fight in his saloon. He attributes this to the fact that he would not sell to a drunken man or a minor.

In addition to owning the world's biggest saloon, Ungerleider is a banker, manufacturer, mine owner, oil man, hotel owner and vice-president of a street railway company at Columbus Ohio.—Texas Republic.

Jazz "Muzeek" Of French Origin

Paris June 12.—Whether it is part of the Anti-American propaganda now more or less prevalent in the French Press, or an isolated attack, is not clear, but "Le Matin" declares that the credit of inventing the jazz band does not belong to the United States, but to France. The jazz band idea, it says, originated in Paris in the time of the Directory, when people went to ball concerts. "In those days as well as now," it continues, "people did not know what to do to amuse themselves; so they made a noise. Those who had great taste for noise went to the concerts of the "Cat Orchestra." There were twenty cats in a row on the keyboard of a harpsicord. The performers, by striking the keys, worked a device which pulled the cats tail, causing a "caterwauling" which gradually took on as much volume of sound as the jazz band and was fully as musical and entertaining. This so-called American invention is only a recurrence."

Spell it "Wilm" Hohenzollern now. The hel has been knocked out by the allied peace terms.

And another thing. We would not advise any person who wants to succeed in business and make money to start a sanitarium for the cure of inebriates. They are all cured or soon will be.

Germany is now swearing she will not sign on the dotted line and is emitting talk that sounds real brave. Reminds us of how we used to cavort before a crowd of boys and declare we would never cut another stick of wood. When the physiological time rolled around we were glad to cut the wood in double quick time. So also will Germany be glad to sign on the dotted line. In fact, all the time she's emitting "biggety" talk she's reaching for her fountain pen.

One Application Kills Lice

One application of sodium fluorid will kill all lice on chickens, entomologists of the department of agriculture have discovered. This inexpensive white powder, they find, will rid a flock of all the seven common species of chicken lice in a few days. One pound, costing only forty or fifty cents at the time of this writing, is enough to treat 100 fowls, if dusted on. If dissolved in water and used as a dip, the same amount will go three times as far. It is easily applied, economical, gives immediate results, and does not injure the fowls or the poultry man.

The big thing about Chesterfields is their unique blend. The Chesterfield blend is an entirely new combination of tobaccos. It is a most important development in cigarette making.

As a result, Chesterfields deliver a new kind of cigarette enjoyment — just like a "bite" before bedtime when you're hungry — they SATISFY!

It took the finest selections of TURKISH and DOMESTIC tobaccos and no end of skill and patient experiment to get this blend right.

Bones of Human Giant Unearthed in Baylor County.

A dispatch from Seymour says: This town is all excited over the recent discovery of the remains of what is said to be those of a prehistoric giant. The bones were discovered by W. C. Rev. L. W. Williamson, recently employed as missionary by the Baptists of the Brownfield Association, has arrived on the field, and will enter upon his duties at once. He will probably fill the pulpit at the church in Tahoka some time soon, having already preached at Slaton and other places in the association. Tahoka News.

Rev. Williamson was in Brownfield for the first time this week, looking after the business of his new duties and while here was taking subscriptions to the Baptist Standard. The last time we saw him he had taken eleven subscriptions, and said he had not been turned down by a single member of this church. He will make Slaton his headquarters on account of that school being affiliated.

Almost every time the train pulls out of Brownfield these days the baggage cars is loaded with chickens, eggs, cream and other eatables for the city folks, and we understand that this is the case in nearly every plains town with railroad facilities. Come to God's country.

We had a letter this week from a subscriber in Oregon enclosing the coin to keep 'er coming, and stated that they and others were wanting to come to the south and asked why the farmers of Terry county did not advertise their farms for sale or for rent if they wanted to sell or rent them. We can't answer.

Governor has called a special session of the legislature to meet early in July. It has been his intention to do this for some time in order to enact laws to enforce the constitutional amendments recently voted on, but as only one of them carried—the prohibition measure—it will be the only one to validate. Then the general appropriation business must be attended to.

We notice the Abernathy Breeze is to move to Barnhart, Texas. Bro. Downey has made a strenuous effort to make the Breeze go. Local patronage has been lacking. Abernathy is without a paper and we suspect they will remain without for some time. They don't need a paper we imagine. Success to you Bob.—Lamesa Reporter.

Speaking of the attempt to assassinate the Attorney-General of the United States, A. Mitchell Palmer, a recent dispatch says: Terrorism struck a fateful blow at organized government in the attempt to assassinate the Attorney General of the United States last week. Officials of the government were not frightened, but stimulated by the act of violence. It means a stern campaign of repression rather than lethargic indifference to radicalism and anarchy. Striking the very officer of the government who is charged with the duty of suppressing disorders and conspiracies aimed at the constituted authorities the whole power of the Federal Government has been set in motion to crush the first semblance of Bolshevism that may appear hereafter. Palmer's life was saved purely through an accident. His assailant stumbled on a cement coping and the bomb exploded prematurely, blowing to fragments the unidentified man who carried it. Several thousand dollars worth of damage was done, Palmers home being wrecked.—Rals Banner.

Powder Face Eckerd To Be At Las Vegas.

Las Vegas, N. M., June 15.—Still showing the effects of the strenuous fight in France, but filed with the old time courage and nerve, "Powder Face" Eckerd, champion steer bull dogger, will be among the contestants at the Fifth Annual New Mexico Cowboys Reunion, to be held here July 2, 3, and 4. Eckerd made the contest here in 1917, shortly after he had registered for the draft. He left with the first contingent of San Miguel County boys, September 1917, for Camp Funston, where he was placed in a machine gun battalion. While at the camp he engaged in a frontier days' celebration and displayed so much nerve that he was complimented by his commanding officer. In France, Eckerd distinguished himself. He was in the thick of the fight until he was gassed so badly that he had to go to the hospital.

Eckerd was here until a few days ago, having hiked directly to his old stamping ground at Jim Whitmore's carrol. He has gone to Peoria, Ill., where he is being featured as a pop-liner by the management of a big roundup to be held the latter part of this month.

Eckerd is an all around hand, but his best work is done in bull dogging a hazardous feat, in which a mounted cowboy runs down a fleeing steer, and while horse and cow-brute are in full motion, leaps from his saddle, seizes the brute by the horn and throws him to the ground. Eckerd also does this stunt from a moving automobile. He has a knack of falling under the steers neck, which makes the spectators gasp for breath, as it looks like Eckerd had been crushed. But he always arises unhurt.

Dawson Co. Man Under Arrest at Sweetwater

Sheriff Russel, of Dawson County, brought Henry Crosset whom he had arrested in that county last week on a warrant from Travis county charging him with murder, here and placed him in the county jail to be turned over to Deputy Sheriff Holley of Austin.

The charge against Crosset is alleged to have resulted from the death of a woman with whom he had been living in Austin as man and wife, following an illegal operation some two or three weeks ago. The woman is said to have lived in Dawson county before going to Austin, and the remains were taken back there for burial. The physician who was charged with performing the operation is alleged to have committed suicide.

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

Peace Program Of The Red Cross and problems of motherhood are among the important subjects on the peace program of the American Red Cross, to be outlined by national and divisional officials at a series of three conferences, one of which will be held at Dallas, Tex., on June 18. The conference, which will be held during the day will be open to the public and all chapter workers, and will be followed with a mass meeting during the evening.

The principal speakers at the conference and meeting will be Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee, American Red Cross, Willoughby Walling, vice chairman of the committee, both of Washington, George W. Simmons, Manager, and Alfred Fairbank, acting manager of St. Louis of the South western Division, American Red Cross.

Simmons is now en route to the United States from Russia, where he headed a Red Cross mission to Siberia. His address will be along the lines of what the Red Cross is doing in Russia.

The Dallas conference will follow one at St. Louis, to be held June 16. The third will be held at Wichita, Kans. on June 20.

The carrying out of the peace program of the American Red Cross is just as important as the work of the organization during the war, according to officials of the organization. That there is much to be done is clearly evidenced by a statement of Dr. Farrand, who recently returned from Europe, where he assisted in the formation of the League of Red Cross Societies. The object of this league is to unify the Red Cross organizations of the world in a systematic effort to anticipate, diminish and relieve misery and suffering caused by diseases and disaster.

"The work of the American Red Cross will not slacken until all the misery and suffering caused by the world war has been overcome", is the announcement of Dr. Farrand. "While the Red Cross of each nation has its part to play in the new work, a large proportion of the relief work must be undertaken by the American organization.

"The most interesting and touching situation now confronting America and American people is that in the Balkans and Eastern Europe. The diseases that are likely to spring up among a people ill-nourished and with poor sanitary surroundings are beginning to ravage Eastern and South Eastern Europe. Typhus fever is spreading at an alarming rate.

"The main item in the peace program of the American Red Cross will be to use the membership of 19,000,000 as machinery for the protection of public health. It has been decided to continue the Junior Red Cross, with its 9,000,000 members and to encourage them to help the children of Europe to obtain an education and fit them for their life work."

17-Year Locusts Emerge From Ground On Schedule

After 17 years underground the periodical cicadas—"17-year locusts"—of brood No. 10 began emerging in the latitude of Washington in considerable numbers the night of May 21. The great swarms were expected to come out during the next few nights. During the next few days tree trunks, bushes, and chunks were thickly studded with cast pupa skins.

The period during which the cicadas do damage to trees by splitting the branches to deposit eggs would not begin for 10 days or so, said entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Within that period it would be easily possible for the individual orchardist or farmer to determine whether or not the insects were present in sufficient numbers to make protective measures necessary.

F. E. Walters has been doing some improvement work out on the ranch this week.

The Texas Cattle Raisers Association will hold its next convention at Houston, according to information reaching Fort Worth Wednesday morning. The decision was made by the executive board, which met at Victoria Tuesday.

The Executive Board was entertained at Victoria by A. M. McFadden, former president. On Wednesday he entertained more than a hundred cattlemen at his ranch with a barbecue.

While at the McFadden ranch the visiting cattlemen were shown a herd of Brahma cattle.

HOW YOU CAN HELP.

Any public spirited citizen of Texas can help make this a greater, better state to live in by posting bulletins furnished free by the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad, giving information about tuberculosis. Few realize that this disease, owing to a lack of knowledge of the means necessary for its control, is making tremendous inroads into all classes. Every citizen, worthy of the name, should be interested enough to at least inform himself and, if possible, spread the knowledge thus gained.

President R. E. Vinson preached the baccalaureate sermon at the commencement exercises of the University of Texas, Sunday, June 8. He took for his text 1 Kings 19: 11-13. Dr. Vinson said, in part:

"Tearing down is no part of God's work, catastrophe does not belong to Him. Things and conditions that are evil generate their own destruction. When atmospheric conditions produce a storm, or when the adjusting of the crust of the earth makes it quiver and shake or when lightning flashes from a surcharged cloud, just so sure will any structure that is built upon an evil foundation crumble and fall-and fall because of its own nature and not from any external pressure whatever. We know that industry, sobriety, justice, charity are the strength of the community; we know that pride, fullness of bread, and abundance of idleness are its death. The church and the school are the constructive agencies of civilization. They are therefore charged with an enormous responsibility. There has been, it seems to me, a tendency upon the part of both church and school to place a disproportionate emphasis upon the realms of truth yet unexplored at the expense of the things which are already known and believed among us, and in consequence of this the atmosphere around us has become one in which questioning and criticism and doubt form by far too large a part for it is certain that neither religion nor education can long endure, much less grow, in such unfavorable environment. The genius of discovery is that which keeps the known interesting, so that without it both church and school would become possessed of dry rot and become stale and unprofitable. Both religion and education are based upon knowledge and not mystery. The man who is ever learning but never able to cometo the knowledge of the truth, who attitude toward life is only that of a question mark, who exalts ignorance into a philosophy, has no place in the pulpit or in the class room of the church or the school which must participate in the task of rebuilding the nation from decay and death. There is one end before the church and school which takes precedence over all their other purposes. To them are comitted the men and women of each generation to be fitted and be kept fit for the duties and responsibilities of life, that these men and these women may be clear headed and clean hearted, so that each one may take his place in the world and count for one in all relationships. The ideals of service and the motives of sacrifices and love which these institutions teach are not matters for statutory enactment. The realms of social and civic life, of business and of government will never be controlled by the principles for which these institutions stand unless and until the men and women who make them up go in and possess the land, able to match wits with wits, to meet strategy with strategy, and to measure against the endurance of selfish greed the superior endurance of unselfish endurance.

A Senator's Worries.

New York Times: Senator Johnson declared in the Senate on Monday that the League of Nations was a trust. He has forgotten President Roosevelt's memorable division of trusts into good and bad trusts. The American Sunday School Union is as much a trust as the League of Nations. So, for that matter, is the United States of America. Calling a thing a trust now a days does not evoke the sensation of loathing and shirking which some feel when they see a snake.

But he also supposes it to be a war trust, in as much as it does not provide for the calling of a referendum whenever our country is attacked by a foreign power. If, for instance, that country which keeps him awake nights, Japan, were to sieze Hawaii and land a few divisions in Washington state and California, Senator Johnson would have the people of the United States hold a referendum on whether we should send any troops to resist their penetration. At least so we infer from his speech. He would not have a single company sent west of the Rockies to defend California until the last return was in from Eastport Maine. No wonder California loves Senator Johnson.

To Senator Johnson's eyes Belgium must be the most villainously autocratic of nations. When German troops crossed Belgium soil the Belgians held no referendum—not a foaction of a referendum, not a single, solitary plebicite in the remotest Belgian vilage. They simply declared, in the words of the Chinese schoolboy, "Belgium is a country, not a road." and, as Cardinal

Mercer put it the other day, they fired the first and last shots of the war. So Serbia. When the Austrian artillary began to bombard Belgrade they did not even hold a town meeting mush less a referendum. They turned in and drove the Austrians off the Serbian side of the Danube, and kept on doing it until the Austrians got the assistance of Germany, Bulgaria and Turkey. These Serbs are an antique lot, on whom the sun of new thought has never shown.

The Senator says that the Holy Alliance failed and so wil the League of Nations. The Holy Alliance was formed to insure the untroubled reign of despotism, of autocracy. It wanted to insure peace it is true, but the peace of Warsaw, the peace of autocracy regnant. Now, to a man who is picking at the coverlid and to whom nurses are administering daily doses to make him sleep, it may appear reasonable that when a bund of Emperors lat's to insure the domination of autocracy it is a sure sign that aleague of all the world's nations will therefore fail to insure a democratic peace. It will not occur, however, to the passerby outside the hospital.

So, too, with the reservation concerning the Monroe Doctrine. "It could not have been written with any other purpose than the destruction of the Monroe Doctrine." On the contrary, it might have been written with another purpose. It might have been written by an American with the purpose of obtaining from all the nations of the world the things which for a hundred years they have refused—the recognition of the Monroe Doctrine. It recognizes the Monroe Doctrine as a "regional understanding," and upholds it. That is a good deal more than any president, from Monroe to Taft, has been able to extort from the nations in the way of recognition. The danger, in Senator Johnson's mind, seems to lie in the words "regional understanding." What does it mater what they call it so long as they recognize it?

Grand Jury Turns in Two Bills of Indictment.

The grand jury that is in session this week, up until Wednesday evening had turned in two bills of indictment to the District court, which were: The State of Texas vs. J. W. Robinson, charged with the murder of Tom Richmond on or about January 20th this year.

The State of Texas vs. George F. Fox, charged with intent to defraud L. B. Wright and J. W. Gilon, by removing one Ford car which was mortgaged, out of the State, on or about the first day of July 1917.

Mr. Robinson was arrested early Thursday and later released after furnishing $10,000 bond.

Mr. Fox was released on a bond of $500. He was at one time a citizen of Lubbock havng lived here about two years. He is a carpenter and contractor by profession and his home is now in Ranger.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Chas. Randal and family, who have been living at Seagraves for the past several months passed through this week on their way to place Mr. Randal under care of a specialist, as he has been in poor health for some time.

Arrested and Cleared.

On last Thursday night the Overland Garage was robbed of about $60 in money and notes. Suspicion pointed to Roy Gaultney and Basset Hurst, only because they were at the garage that night and left Saturday for Big Springs. They were arrested on the mail car a little distance out from Big Springs by Sheriff McCutchin of Howard County, and held for Sheriff Russel of Dawson county who brought the two young men back and lodged them in jail at Lamesa.

Monday evening they had an examining trial and were both turned loose on this charge. Hurst was held charged with carrying concealed weapons. We are glad for these boys that they are not guilty and never could believe that they were. They are from two of the finest families in Dawson county.— Dawson county News.

Hobby Calls Session for June 23.

Austin, June 12—A special session of the Thirty-Sixth Legislature is called to convene June 23, by a proclamation issued by Governor W. P. Hobby today.

The Legislature is called to make appropriations for the support of the State government and public service for fiscal years beginning Sept. 1, 1919, and ending Aug. 31, 1921, and to consider and act upon such other matters as may be presented by the Governor, says the proclamation.

John Raymer and family moved into their new residence they recently purchased from Tom May.

To Begin Harvesting Texas' Greatest Wheat Crop

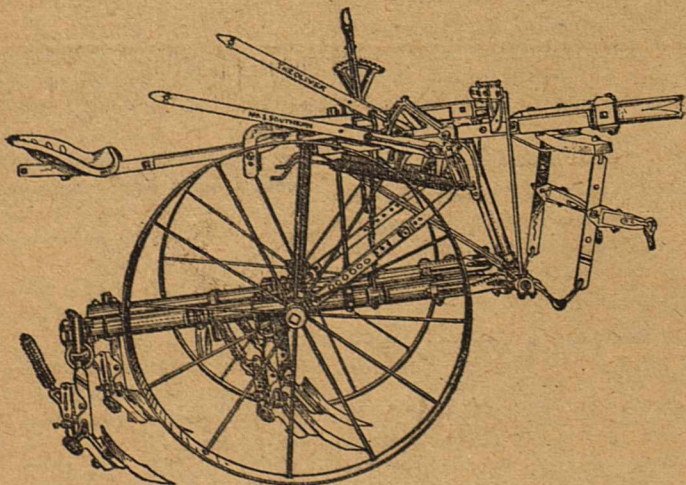

Texas has planted its greatest oat and wheat acreage and now that crop, the largest it has grown, stands ready for the harvest. On the north in Oklahoma, Kansas Nebraska, the Dakotas and Canada, acreage planted and the prospective yields surpass all previous records. The harvest now commencing in Texas will conclude in Canada, in the late summer or early autumn. In all those fields thousands of harvest hands are and will be needed. Men who want jobs can go to work in Texas wheat fields today and follow the harvest to Canada, working all the way at good wages.

According to Government estimates, Texas has about 2,000,000 acres of wheat this year and the same authorities estimate that the yield will be about 33,000,000 bushels. If so it will be worth about $72,000,000. Will any of that be lost for lack of labor?

In the Texas wheat fields there has been general apprehension of labor shortage. And yet in most localities there is this spirit: "If sufficient outside help is not secured, all the people in the community who can stand hard work will go to the fields. A belief that the crop will be safely karvested is justified more by the determination than by reason of a certain and definite supply of mobile labor that can be shifted from one section to another as the crop advances.

I. C. Burgess has purchased the ice business from Tom May, and will supply this place and Seagraves, and points west of here. Read his statement in this issue of the Herald.
