BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY FEBRUARY 13, 1920

NO. 30

SOME OF THE THINGS BROWNFIELD NEEDS

There are many and varied things we need in Brownfield, and we will only mention a few of them.

The things we most need above every other consideration is incorporation, and the reason for it that we cannot ever start to building a city here without it. We cannot grant a franchise to any industry for any purpose, no matter how badly needed. We cannot have any sanitary laws or enforce them without incorporation. We can never hope to have any streets worthy the name without incorporation. We are doomed to villiagedom under present conditions and we must come from under.

A broom factory is needed here in the worst way, to take care of as much as possible of the straw produced in this county. Of course there are two or three farmers here now that make brooms for local consumption, but the efforts of these men should be combined and the product made permanent instead of as at present, when they are only engaged at odd times and are making no effort to supply any local market much less the foreign one.

We aimed to say that we needed a furniture and racket store, but we understand that a stock of these goods are being moved here from Lubbock.

It seems that we can never make the authorities at Washington understand our mail needs. They seem to think that we are a village of forty or fifty people with a store and post-office combined. We see hundreds of letters carried away from here each day to be mailed at Lubbock, and only found the reason recently. We learned that a letter mailed here at 2:17 p. m., or after the trains gets here from Lubbock, will not leave here until the day after to morrow, and if a business man get an important letter on the Saturday afternoon mail that needs immediate answer, and he mails it in the local post-office, that letter will leave here at 7:15 a. m. Tuesday morning, if the train happens to be on time, and that is perhaps once in fifty. Can't this trouble be remedied? One should be allowed to mail letters at least till 6 p. m. if the post office is open that long, and the department could pay for the extra trouble with the hundreds of letters and packages now being mailed at Lubbock.

Our local Western Union agent now has orders to absolutely go home at 3 p. m. no matter where the train is here or not, and it generally isn't. Therefore no express is given out till next day and a night letter has to be phoned by the party sending it to Lubbock, in the same old way. He has to go to his work so early of mornings that he does not see a soul for two hours after he gets on duty. Why can't the work schedule be changed to day time hours? Surely it doesn't take even our slow train no four hours to limp up to Lubbock. But is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than to get our Uncle to change a jot or tittle of his "infallible" laws, it seems. Though, we might try as we did to get the daily train.

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT TERRY

(Geo. McDougle, Mocation Bend, Texas.)
Editor Terry County Herald,
Dear Sir:—

I noticed recently that a correspondent had written a communication to your paper asking that you publish certain information in answer to a list of questions propounded by him and it struck me that was a good idea, as those living away from Terry and wanting to know of its good points is a class of readers whom to enlighten, might work benefits to the county. So I am taking the liberty to ask a few simple questions. As a great deal depends on your answers, please be accurate. I might come out there.

1. Has Terry county any sand in it?
2. Does the wind blow there? If so does it blow all the time from one way, or is the program varied?
3. What time of the year does the fish go up-stream?
4. Have you got any land agents? What time of the year is the hot air the worse?
5. Do jay birds and squirrels often depredate upon the crops?
6. What is the distance to the nearest "swimmin" holt to Brownfield?
7. Is there a regular hide market there, or are they shipped green? Is there any regulation way of skinnin' 'em?
8. What is the open season for new comers, or are you allowed to catch them any time during the year?
9. Are the wild cats very wild out there? If so what makes them remain so?
10. Would you advise me to come out there or remain away? It is a reasonably healthful where I am.

The Answer.

We take pleasure in answering your questions as follows:
1. Dock Powell says he found a grain of sand in his tobacco last Tuesday.

2. No the Herald and land agents do all the blowing. Some times they turn and blow from other directions.
3. Generally after the ice flows in the rivers and lakes in spring.
4. No the're all in Lubbock to meet the trains. Hot air varies with the seasons. Not much hot air in 1917.
5. No, its mostly prairie dogs and monkey-wrenches.
6. About 300 miles.
7. Yes, but its usually the new commer that gets skinned. The greener the better they like 'em.
8. The open season is from about Sept. 1st—if we have rain, until the first big "Terry county rain" during the March equinox.
9. Still wild; it is believed they fear the blind tigers.
10. Better stay where you are; might get sand colic or flu out here.

ANOTHER PROSPERITY STRAW.

It is well to keep reminding the Republican leaders that there isn't a public soup kitchen in America; that there isn't a breadline in America; that there is a Democratic administration in power. Sears Roebuck & Co. of Chicago report a gross business in 1919 in excess of $250,000,000, an increase of about 30 per cent over 1918. The net profits were $18,119,125. Equal to $24.44 a share on the common stock after payment of preferred stock dividends, compared with $17.63 earned for the common stock in 1918. And yet the Republican politicians, including senators and representatives from the state of Illinois, are forever growling or calling for the repeal of wise laws recommended by a Democratic President and enacted by a Democratic congress.—Ft. Worth Record.

The airplanes that were to have been here last week have failed to put in their appearance so far.

T. B. IS CURABLE AND PREVENTABLE

Austin, Texas—Thoughtlessness is one of the great causes of the sprad of tubrculosis, declares D. E. Breed, executive Secretary of the Texas Public Health Association.

This may seem to be a peculiar statement," said Mr. Breed: "but you often hear people say: 'Why should I help to prevent tuberculosis? I haven't the disease; and I won't get it.' But these people do not know that they are liable at any moment to contract the 'white plague' if it is allowed to spread. Their thoughtlessness may allow tuberculosis to enter their homes and attack their wife and childrn. This disease is preventable and curable."

The census of 1910 showed that there were over 690,000 negroes in Texas in that year. The tuberculosis death rate among the colored race of Texas is estimated to be 450 for every 100,000 yearly. This would mean that there are over 31,000 deaths among the negroes of Texas every year. The death rate among the Mexicans is very high on account of the bad living conditions under which many of them exist.

It is the duty of every Texan to help drive th 'Great White Plague' from the State and the thoughtlessness which says, 'I havn't the disease, so why should should I help?' allows tuberculosis to spread," said Mr. Breed. "The dread disease that causes such ravages among the people of our state must be checked; the negro must be helped as well as the whites."

The Texas Public Health Association which has been fighting tuberculosis for over eight years is sending a negro lecturer, F. R. Barnwell, among his race to lecture and teach the lesson of good health. He is teaching health habits as prevention for disease.

HATTON W. SUMMERS
TELLS IT TO 'EM

Lets It Be Known That Southern People Refuse To Ride With Negroes

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment by Mr. Madden: Page 55, line 9, after the word "prescribe," amend by adding a new section, as follows:

"(3) From and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any common carrier, owner, operator, manager, trustee, receiver,***to deny, or refuse to furnish, by any method or devise whatsoever equal and identical rights, accommodations, and privileges to any person who shall apply therefor and pay, or offer to pay, the uniform charge, or charges for interstate transportation, when such denial is on account of the race, color. ****

Mr. Summers of Texas: Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I want to appeal to my friends on both sides of the House in behalf of both white race and colored race living in the South to defeat this amendment. I believe my colleagues on this side of the House will acquit me of any charge of being intensely partisan. My father was a Confederate soldier, and I used to hear him and his old comrades talk about the days of long ago, and when I was a little boy I made up my mind definitely that if I ever grew up I would get me at least one Yank if I had to pot shot him. (Laughter.)

When I grew older and came in contact with the men of the other side of the line I found them to be the same sort of folks as my folks. (Applause.) Now gentlemen, let me lay before you the situation. We are unfortunately situated in the South in that we are trying an experiment which has never before succeeded since time began. We are trying to have two races live in the same community where no white man is willing to imagine that day when his granddaughter will mingle her blood with the blood of the grandson of a black neighbor. We might as well be honest about this. I do not know why, but when people live under a condition where there are a large number of an antagonistic race, with whose blood they are not willing to have their children mingle their blood then there comes to men the call of the race. I am speaking to many a man who does not understand what I am talking about. Nature does not waste her energy, and unless you live in the presence of that danger you never hear the call. Why God has put that in the breast of the white folks I do not know, but it is there, and when that call comes men respond to a call that is higher than the call of the law of self-preservation, because it is the call for the preservation of the race. I have seen many a man who came to the South from a part of the country where that condition did not obtain, and after he came to the South he heard the call. When that call comes—I am going to be honest with you—it will not yield to reason. I make another statement, and make it deliberately. It has no code of honor. It is the blind, unyielding, all-sacrificing purpose of the dominant race to control the situation, and you might as well urge to the moon as urge to a white man who is not a racial degenerate not to listen to that call. (Applause) I mean no offense when I make that statement. I am not talking about a theory. I am talking about what I have seen men do who came from New England, and I want you to listen to me, men. We have a hard situation in the South. We are partly responsible for it, and so are the other sections. We violated that great law of life which God announced to Adam at the gate of the Garden of Eden, and you people in the North and we of the South also are violating that law when we are bringing into this country people to do our physical labor, the folks who are now trying to tear down the country, and you will have to pay a penalty. We were not willing to do our own work; we brought an alien race to do it; we violated that law; and we of the South are paying most of the penalty. We are dealing with a hard situation.

Now listen to me, my countrymen. I am appealing to you as statesmen now. The South is a part of this country. We are undertaking to deal with a hard and difficult situation.

The races are compelled to commingle a great deal, but it is my deliberate judgement, and I state it not as a southern man, but as a man who has observed the situation, I make this statement deliberately and upon my responsibility as a Representative in the American Congress, that those laws which separate the two races traveling upon the common carriers of this country are of as great if not greater service to the colored man than they are to the white man. (Applause.) I make that statement deliberately. And gentlemen when you interfere with the attempt of the people on the ground to deal with a difficult and dangerous situation, you do no good to the people who occupy a subordinate position racially.

Within 20 minutes this House, by its vote, is to speak those words which shall determine whether or not the people of the South who understand the situation shall be privileged to do the best they can to handle the situation, or whether by national legislation you will inject an irritating situation there that will make the streets of the southern cities run red with the blood of the people you are trying to serve.

Gentlemen, do not misunderstand me. I do not mean that as a threat, I am trying to state the truth. If ever that time comes in the South, and you will find the same thing if you travel there, when this great horde of colored people, traveling to picnics, for instance, comes crowding with your wife and daughter, you will not like the situation. Bad blood will be engendered and somewhere down the line there will come a reckoning. I hope, gentlemen, you will view this matter from the standpoint of statesmen, and I believe you will. I hope when you come to render a decision you will recognize the fact which I admit, and that it is a bad situation down there. I do not know where the end of it is, but I do know that unless you permit us to draw some line of separation somewhere, so that we can prevent the friction which inevitably results, you add to the difficulty of both the whites and the blacks. Gentleman, do not mistake this: When a large number of white people and a large number of black people come together in intimate relationship friction does develop. Unless you give a chance to prevent the friction which inevitably develops, then upon you and upon you alone, when you put this amendment into effect, must rest the responsibility. (Applause.)

The Chairman. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Madden.)

The question was taken; and on a division (demanded by Mr. Sanders of Louisiana) there were—ayes 12, noes 142.

So the amendment was rejected.

Brownfield is seriously handicapped in growth and development because of a shortage of Homes.

Many families are living in camped quarters or hunting a place to live.

Every patriotic citizen should lend his efforts to this campaign to build more homes. If you are a renter build a home of your own. If you own a vacant lot improve it with a house for rent or for sale.

We cannot hope to attract additional families to Brownfield unless we can provide comfortable housing.

WEST TEXAS IS COMING

More than 500,000 souls have been added to the population of West Texas since 1917. More than 800,000 souls were added to the population of West Texas from 1900 to 1910. It is the wheat producing section of the southwest. West Texas is one of the great livestock producing sections of America. West Texas is an enormous producer of petroleum in the year 1919. West Texas may produce crude petroleum of a value of $500,000,000 in 1920. West Texas in 1919 produced more than one half of the cotton crop of Texas. West Texas produced vast crops of feed stuffs. West Texas produced vast number of hogs. West Texas endured four years of drouth. West Texas became prosperous fifteen days after the drouth was broken.

West Texas is the fastest growing section of the southwest. West Texas has millions of acres of tillable land that are not cultivated lands. West Texas has rapidly growing cities, towns and villages. More rail ways are under construction today in west Texas than any other section of the south or west. West Texas is in the garden of the Lord and men of vision realize that it is a close approach to the Promised Land.

"The history of West Texas today is the history of one of the most remarkable romances in commercial progress ever to occur on this continent. Who would have thought in 1900—only a few years back—that by 1920 West Texas should have become the most abundantly prosperous region within Uncle Sam's domain? History is being made in this section today upon a scale so large as to attract national attention. It is the era of West Texas. West Texas is beginning to take, in a large measure, her place in the sun. She offers to the engetic American today a field of endeavor, broad and sure and true. And it is no wonder that the people are coming to West Texas by the thousands and tens of thousands from every state in the union. They are helping us to build our cities and expand our magnificent agricultural regions. They are commingling in that great body of cosmopolitan Americanism pregnant in West Texas. West Texas is the most American section of America. A larger percent of its 2,000,000 are native white Americans than is the case anywhere else under the flag. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce as it begins its second year congratulates the people of West Texas upon their mighty impulse for progress and their aggressiveness and their Americanism and on behalf of the West Texas within the fold today, we invite the good people everywhere who desire to come and live with us and share our property."

The story of the year 1919 is a story of magnificent development and achievement. The story of 1920 remains to be written, but the program is broad and beneficial and outlined some of the demands of West Texas and its progress and its patriotic people.

They demand justice. They do not ask for charity. Among these demands are legislative enactments which will result in the conservation of flood waters; the irrigation of semi-arid sections; the building of modern highways, better railroad facilities; greater education-advantages for all of the people; fair rendition of taxable wealth and a just taxation of the wealth assessed; an agricultural and mechanical college for boys of the vast southwest and the west; an honest apportionment of the thirty-one senatorial districts of Texas and an allotment of the to West Texas based on actual population of the territory; a fair division of the entire state in congressional districts after the census enumeration of 1920 has been officially announced by the federal government; needed legislation for the protection of agricultural interests, the livestock interests, the oil interests, the irrigation projects and a wider difusion of knowledge of conditions in west Texas and for the betterment and enlargement of the same through protection and service and publicity. These are some of the demands of West Texas and these demands will be made platform demands by the voters of a section that contains more than half the wealth of the state and nearly half the population.

Rev. J. E. Anderson went to Lubbock Tuesday to visit Orel Adams, who is in the Lubbock Sanitarium.

Chas. Acker came in this week and handed us another ear of corn for the chickens. Who in blazes has been telling the farmers of Terry Co. that the fowls at the editors home are on starvation.

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

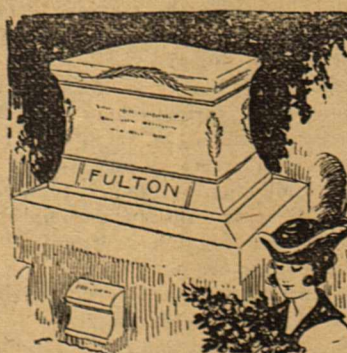

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night . . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui . . .

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again . . . I decided I would try Cardui . . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

WHEN HE CAN'T GET A DRINK

E. M. Statler, the hotel man in the June American Magazine says: As a result of prohibition, we seem to have these very definite effects: that men go out with their wives and families to the restaurants and theatres more than they did; they drink soft drinks, and they eat more food, especially sweets; they walk more and ride less.

"They are also easier to get along with. At least my manager in Detroit says that it is like being transported to heaven since drinking has been almost eliminated from the hotel guests.

"As time goes on, more and more men are certainly going to take to soft drinks. In the new hotel Pennsylvania in New York we have three soda fountains, and I expect they will do a big business. In Detroit the two most popular temperance drinks with the men are grape "juice highballs" which is grape juice and seltzer and the various ice cream sodas.

The Heyday of Sodas

"I have been making inquiries, and I find that men that have been patronizing soda fountains more and more in recent years, even when there was no prohibition. A woman told me the other day of going into one of these places in the New York financial district several times lately. On each occasion she was the only woman in the place, aside from the girls behind the counter. And the men in there were not office boys or young clerks, but solid, substantial business men who are taking their ice cream sodas, their phosphates and even their nut sundaes, with evident enjoyment. If they did this when the bars and saloons were open they will surely do it still more when there is no place else to go.

In Detroit another effect of the prohibition is that the people are spending more money for food when they go to the restaurants. The average check for luncheon and dinner is twenty percent higher than it used to be. Remember! This increase in spite of the fact that all charges are now absolutely gone. That means that one large item has been abstracted from the amount spent in the restaurants and yet the sum has increased. I meant the average sum per person.

SAME DANE GETS BUILDING CONTRACTS AT BROWNFIELD

Sam Dane, local contractor, has recently been awarded the contract for the construction of a modern brick building to be used for a garage in the city of Brownfield. Mr. Tudor, former manager at Brownfield, of the Bradley Auto Company, let the contract we are informed. Work will begin in the early future.

It will be remembered that the garage which Mr. Tudor was managing in Brownfield burned only a few days ago. The new building will be constructed on the same lots formerly occupied by the old garage.

Mr. Dane reports that there are also other brick business houses in course of plans in Brownfield, of which he thinks the contracts will be

The other business houses mentioned in the above news item will cover a quarter and possibly a half of the block on the west side of the public square, and while as Mr. Dane says, the plans of these are not completed, they are sure to be erected some time this year, but likely in the early spring.

Luke McLuke says: "Wouldn't it be a terrible calamity if all our laws were written in Newspaper English. People would be able to understand the blame thing and know what they meant."

Rev. Geo. Shearer, of Lubbock, the new presiding elder of this district was down Sunday and held the first quarterly conference for the year. It is said that he is one of the youngest presiding officers of this church in this conference, but that his work is fully up to the average, and he stands high among the clergy of Western Texas. The members of the Methodist church in and around Brownfield seem to be mighty well pleased with Rev. Shearer as their presiding officer, and look for a great years work.

In a case recently sent to the Supreme Court from San Angelo, where in a local bank was sued by a customer because one of his checks was raised from $5 to $500, the court decided in favor of the defendant for the reason that plaintiff used a pencil instead of a pen in drawing the check, and held that none but a very prudent person would detect a check raised, that had been drawn with a lead pencil. Now lets all of us fellows with big bank accounts take heed and use a pen.

We had a letter from H. L. Taylor of Lubbock the latter part of last week about as follows: Dear sir: Please announce in your paper that I will be in Brownfield the 3rd Sunday and will preach at the Church of Christ morning and night on the following subject: "The reason why the Church in which I stand identified does not use instrumental music in church worship, together with other modern inovations. This will be treated in two sermons, and I want those that hear one to hear both, and I guarantee not to hurt your feelings as I will only tell why we do not use them. I presume there are lots of people in Brownfield who have never heard one of our ministers on this subject, and I will do the very best I can for the subject from a bible standpoint."

R. B. Ingle, of Lubbock, a brother of Homer Ingle of this city was here this week on business. Until recently he was linotype operator for the Avalanche, and is considering intering the insurance business in this town in the near future if he can find a place to live. Why in the Sam Hill don't some of our people who have money laying idle, doing them no good at all build some nice little cottage for rent. There are people here every day trying to get homes, but have to be turned away. People are living over every building in the town that they can get, and some are scattered throughout the residence section, in lots of cases one family to a small room. Forty or fifty houses would soon rent here at good prices.

We had a letter Friday of last week from our long time friend and subscriber, Henry Hansburger, of Columbus, O., enclosing his check for $10.00 to be applied on the fire losses recently sustained in Brownfield, and in compliance the editor turned the amount, divided equally between the two sufferers for whom the petition were circulated. In the name of the community we wish to thank Mr. Hansberger for his liberal donation, and we wish that all the non-resident land owners had the county at heart as has this big spirited gentlemen. Each of the receiptants have taken Mr. Hansberger's name and address to personally thank him.

Who Ordered News:—One of our readers ordered the Semi-Weekly

Farm News through us recently, and while we made a note of the order we neglected to put the man's name on it.

W. D. McDonald and son, W. G. of Calera, Okla., came in this week and are so well pleased with Brownfield and old Terry that they will not even return home, but send for the rest of the family.

We learn that approximately 160 cars of corn have been shipped from Brownfield alone, this season, and lots of it has been shipped from Meadow.

Everyone coming here recently that has not been here in the past year or so are amazed at the growth of the town, but it has reached its limit, for you can no more rent a house here now than you can fly without wings. Who will build a house for another family. Its either build yourself or go some place else.

AUNT Jemima's pancake flour at Brothers & Brothers.

Men are here every day asking for rent houses. Do we want Brownfield to make a city, or stay in the village class. The monied men of the town can say which. Build a lot of rent houses. They will rent like not cakes, and don't forget it.

S. B. Johnson of the west side of the county came in this week and presented the editor with a bag of the finest pecans we ever saw. We made mention of the fact last fall that Mr. Johnson had gone to Hood county to spend the fall picking up pecans on his place down there, and at that time he promised us a sample of them when he returned, but the promise had entirely been forgotten by us, but not so; he delivered the goods, and as said above they were extra large and lucious specimen of this justly famous nut, and we thank Mr. Johnson for the present in the same good spirit we know he gave them.
