HON. R. A. BALDWIN

of Slaton, Lubbock County

Mr. Baldwin is our present Representative in the Legislature from the 122nd district, having been elected last August for the unexpired term of W. H. Bledsoe, resigned, and is seeking re-election.

We point with pride to his splendid record during the recent special session. Mr. Baldwin has the ability and the determination to represent all of the people of all parts of this district faithfully and honestly. If anyone can secure laws favorable to our agricultural, financial and industrial interests, and get for West Texas a square deal in the important work of re-districting our State next year, we believe Mr. Baldwin is that man. The work to come before the Texas Legislature the next two years demands men of sound judgment and genuine ability. We therefore earnestly commend Mr. Baldwin to your favorable consideration at the primary election, July 24th. A vote for him is a vote for the best interests of West Texas.

Very sincerely yours
Baldwin Campaign Committee

WHO CAN VOTE

There has been a great deal said of late about who could vote, and a lot of good men in the county think that any one that had an intention of locating here, but did not get to Terry county in the six months limit can vote. Those who hold to this position can read the Attorney General's opinion at the Court House, and we would advise election judges to be careful who they let vote for we do not want any boxes thrown out or any contests in the county if it can possibly be helped.

We realize that the law disenfranchises a lot of good men, and that the law making body ought to provide for the fellow that is moving from one county to another, but it does not at present, according to the attorney general.

Married

Mr. Alton B. Green and Miss Mattie Stewart, two of the popular young people of the Needmore community, drove in to the Baptist parsonage last Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, where Rev. J. E. Anderson said the words that made them one.

Alton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Green, and is a sterling young man of honesty and industry.

Miss Mattie is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stewart of the Needmore country, and no truer or better liked girl lives in old Terry.

The Herald joins their many friends in congratulations.

EVANGELIST LEE P. MANSFIELD OF WACO COMING

The members of the Church of Christ at this place had an engagement with J. B. Nelson, of Dallas, Texas to hold their meeting, but owing to a misunderstanding of dates, that meeting had to be deferred, and the members thought they were up against the real thing, as the big guns so-called all have their meeting engaged months in advance, and they were lucky to get Elder Mansfield, but some of the members noticed in the religious journal that he had the 1st and 2nd Sundays in August to spare as a meeting had been put off elsewhere, and a long distance phone call was put in for him with the above results, and he will begin shelling the woods of sin under the big tabernacle on the 1st Sunday in Aug.

Elder Mansfield is given up to be one of the strongest preachers of this faith, and stands strong with the church throughout the southern states. He is a pupil orator of the first water, and all will be pleased with him, whether they agree with him or not.

CRASSHOPPERS GETTING BAD

Farmers here from the southeast part of the county last week report that the grasshoppers are getting fearful down there, and indeed there seems to be no part of the county that has entirely escaped their ravages, but only in this part of the country have we heard of crops that have been entirely cleaned out.

Henry French, one of the most successful young farmers of the Lou country reports that they absolutely cleaned his cotton, cutting the stalks down like jack rabbits. He said he had the prettiest prospects for a cotton crop just a few days before hand that he ever had in his life, and he noticed the hoppers in there, but he says the destruction seemed as if it was carried out at a given command and done right now.

Pat Brothers reports that they are cleaning up things in Cottle county, and W. W. Price, who has just returned from the oil fields say they are simply clinging all over the vegetation down there.

They are the old long canvan color ed flying kind and some say they can sail through the air not unlike a bird.

Many of the farmers are fighting them by driving them out of their fields. The method used is for two men or boys to mount horses each carrying the end of a 90 feet lariet rope with jute sacks tied along the rope. In this way the hoppers are driven to the pastures.

Some of the farmers say that if the pest gets their crops, they will have to get them while they are asleep, as they are going to be on the job all the time in the day time.

Prof. Zorns informed us one day this week that the Government experts predicted a plague of hoppers for this year, and warned the people to be prepared for them. They seem to hatch out in periods of several years apart, not unlike the locust.

Bedford Section 307, all of said lands being situated in Block D, and originally granted to John H. Gibson, in Yoakum County, Texas.

That said lease contract was made and delivered upon the express condition that the said Claude C. Wild, his heirs or assigns would begin within eight months from the 28th day of October 1919, the drilling of a well on some part of said lands or on some part of 40,115 acres of said land, mentioned and described in a certain contract dated the 28th day of October A. D. 1919, and it was so stipulated in said contract that if there was no well begun on some part of said 40,115 acres of land, which included the lands herein described, and that if the said Claude C. Wild did not within said time furnish to these plaintiffs or some one as trustee for them, a good and sufficient bond, guaranteeing that he would drill said well with reasonable diligence and with reasonable dispatch, to the depth of four thousand feet unless oil or gas was found in paying quantities at a less depth than all said contracts would become null and void, and that after the execution and delivery of said lease contracts, and the agreement of the said Claude C. Wild had had with these plaintiffs; and about the first day of May, A. D. 1920, the said Claude C. Wild transferred and assigned said contracts to the said defendant John Fernow, but before the said contracts were executed and delivered, the said Claude C. Wild, made executed and delivered to the defendant the First State Bank of Plains certain instruments in writing in favor of each of the plaintiffs herein where by he, the said Wild, released any right, title, interest, claim or demand in and to said land by reason of such lease contracts, to be delivered by said bank to the respective owners of said land, in case he the said Claude C. Wild, his heirs or assigns should fail to carry out all the terms and conditions of said contract; and the said defendant bank now has in its possession each and all of said re-lease contracts, and the agreements connected therewith the defendant John Fernow, promised and agreed to perform and carry out the obligations of the said Claude C. Wild, with reference to the beginning the drilling of said well and the furnishing a bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars. That the said Claude C. Wild and the defendant John Fernow have each of them failed and refused to begin the drilling of the well in the time specified in said contracts, to wit, on or before midnight June the 28th, 1920, and has failed and refused to furnish to these plaintiffs or any one for them a good and sufficient bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars to guarantee that they would do and perform the things agreed to be done and performed by them, and have wholly breached their said contract and by reason thereof said lease contracts on the lands and premises have become null and void.

That the defendant John Fernow has failed and refused to begin the drilling of said well, and has failed and refused to furnish said bond, at the same time is now asserting that he has a good and valid lease contract on and against said land, and has instructed the defendant bank not to turn over to said plaintiffs said re-lease contracts, and has made and caused to be recorded in the deed records of Yoakum County, Texas, and certain affidavit in which he states on oath that he has done and performed all these matters and things agreed to be done and performed by him, and by reason of said contracts, and assignments thereof, together with said written agreements and the assignment thereof to the defendant John Fernow, and by reason of the affidavit and claims of the defendant John Fernow, there is cast a cloud on the plaintiffs' title to said land and premises, and the plaintiffs allege that the defendant Fernow will unless restrained transfer and assign said lease contracts, and will thereby continue to hold the title to said lands, and plaintiffs pray for a writ of injunction restraining him from further transferring or assigning said contracts or any part thereof.

Plaintiffs allege that the defendant W. H. Hague is the county clerk of Yoakum County, Texas, and that unless restrained from doing so that the said defendant as such County Clerk will file and record any and all such assignments of said contracts, as made by the defendant, Fernow and others and plaintiffs pray for a writ of injunction against the defendant W. H. Hague as county clerk restraining him from filing or recording any other assignments of said lease contracts, from the said defendant John Fernow or any other person or corporation affecting the lands herein described.

Plaintiffs also allege that the defendant bank has failed and refused to deliver to them or either of them the releases made and executed by the said Claude C. Wild, and pray for the writ of mandamus requiring the defendant to deliver to each of these plaintiffs the release of the said Claude C. Wild, affecting his lands herein described.

Plaintiffs also pray for judgement removing the cloud cast on their title to said land, by them owned, for the cost of this suit and for general and special relief.

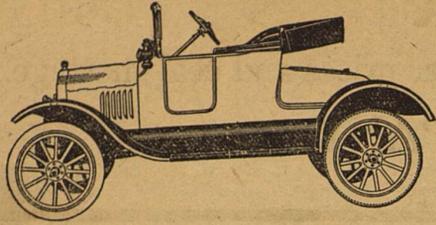

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness M. E. Dumas, Clerk Pro Tem of the District Court of Yoakum County.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Plains, this the 6th day of July, A. D. 1920.

THE HERALD IS NOW SWEET SIXTEEN

Did you know that the little weekly that you read every week and pay your cash for once a year, is older than Terry county?

That is, the Herald is older than the organized county. Of course the good rich soil of old Terry has been here for ages waiting for the man with the hoe to come and tickle it into the big bumper crops she is so famous for—but we have jumped the subject—we can't help boosting old Terry.

The first issue of the Herald was printed at Gomez sixteen years ago past, but was at that time called the Terry County Voice, but after the county seat election, was moved here by the proprietor, Mr. Long, who was also well equipped in the land business, and so much of the Herald was devoted to the Long Land Business that some of the readers got tired of reading land ads and nothing else, and we presume sent a copy to the Post Office Department. Anyway, it was suspended for a few months, and the next proprietor, Judge W. R. Spencer, the present District Judge had to rename the sheet the "Terry County Herald" before it was to be resurrected. Pretty soon the law business of Judge Spencer picked up to where it precluded worrying with a country newspaper, and he sold it to Neill Brothers, the senior member being Geo. W. Neill, whom we still have with us. He was also elected County Judge, and his younger brother tired of the game of running a paper 100 miles from a railroad and therefore they sold to an experienced land agent and newspaper man, Neil H. Bigger, and that was as far as the transfers got for the present management happened along to grow up with the country about that time, and seeing a way open to make money without work (?) bought the old critter at his own terms—that is, we did not mind so much the price of the paper, but the cash payment was to be real easy, and it was. That happened eleven years ago the first of last June, and it has been at the steering wheel ever since.

Sixteen year young; yet ever once in a while some bo from the east writes into the post office here and asks if "they is airy paper printed at that town." But there is another lot of guys that address their notes to the "Leading Paper" and the post master is always kind enough to put them in our box. We like these leading paper bugs.

Sweet Sixteen! When she was just a small girl of thirteen summers, she begin to show some signs of pride and ordered a cylinder press, but at the age of fifteen, she was so pampered that she had to have a linotype machine. Since then she has added many things that call for cash, and is even now talking seriously of getting a folding machine. But the hardest thing on the "old man" yet is what she eats up. Paper Bills and then some more Paper Bills! When will it all end.

But she is Sweet Sixteen and the "Old Man" is proud of her.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bar.

Messrs M. P. Williams and H. P. French with their families attended the picnic at Tahoka this past week. Also some of the M. Taylor family accompanied by Miss Mattie Cotten.

Mr. Winston and another gentleman took dinner at F. M. Ellington's last Tuesday. They were working for a life insurance company which they represent.

Sunday School was well attended last Sunday, and everyone is taking great interest in it.

There was a singing at H. P. French's Sunday night. We failed to get any report from it, but feel sure it was much enjoyed by all present.

Little Eileen Ellington has been sick this past week, but is up around again.

Mrs. J. M. McMillian returned to her home Saturday. She has been visiting relatives in Runnels county, having accompanied her mother to her home about two weeks ago.

Brit Clare made a trip to Brownfield, Saturday.

Hugh Snodgrass and J. R. Hill were at Harris, Sunday.

FOR SALE:—160 acres of land, five miles east of Seagraves, as good as there is in Texas. Has improvements amounting to good house, wind mill, good fences and cross fences; 60 acres in cultivation. Price $20, per acre. Possession given Jan. 1, 1921. Address L. T. Baldwin, Brownfield.

Alvin Duke moved the old restaurant building that stood on the south side of the square at Gomez, one day recently and located it on his lots in the Santa Fe addition, and is now occupying it for his residence.

Try want ads in the Herald. They bring home the bacon.

Those who attended the picnic at Tahoka last week report a good time and one of the best if not the very best picnics they ever attended, and that Tahoka not only took care of the big crowds in grand style, but feed them handsomely. Good for our sister to the east.

YOU Need insurance and we have what you need. Ingle & Green, Agents for Southland Life Insurance.

J. T. May and wife returned one day last week from a two week visit to the grand old commonwealth of Ark., and report a good time. J. T. had two very heavy grips when he got off the train, but we never learned whether it was corn in the ear or corn in the bottle—and he didn't say.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui. . .

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. . . I decided I would try Cardui. . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-139

A DEFEATED SHERIFF

In my Election experiences, I lost 1394 hours of sleep thinking about the election, lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats, and five sheep to a county barbecue, gave away two pair of suspenders, four calico dresses, five dollars in cash and sixteen baby rattles. Kissed 250 babies, kindled fourteen kitchen fires and put up six stoves. Walked 5026 miles, shook hands with 9508 people, told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make in print 1000 volumes, attended sixteen Revival meetings and was baptized four different times by immersion and twice some other way.

Contributed fifty dollars to foreign missions, and made love to nine grass widows, hugged forty-nine old maids, got dog bit thirty-nine times, and was defeated.

Forty-Two Party

A most enjoyable occasion for the young people was the party given by Mrs. W. B. Downing on Saturday evening. The affair was in honor of Mr. Jim Downing of Norman Oklahoma.

The guests were received by the hostess in her gracious manner. After several hours spent in the pleasant and exciting game, delicious refreshments of Angel Food cake and banana whip were served. We were then favored with some music and readings by Misses Baughman and Treadaway.

At a late hour as the guests departed there were numerous expressions to the hostess of the pleasant hours spent in her home.

Theos invited were; Cecil Smith, Oscar Sawyer, Carl Lewis, Virgil Bynum, Fletcher Stewart, Robert and Otho Welch, Laurence and Gladys Green, Glyn and Jot Akers, and Jim Downing; Misses Irma Rentfro, Nola Jackson, Emily Miller, Tera Baughman, Mildred Burgess, Louise Stinson, Ruth and Elen Welch, Mozelle and Stella Treadaway, Ruth Turner, and Myrtle Mathis, of Lorenza, Texas.

OLD BAT HISTORICAL RELIC

Bowdoin College Treasures Memento of Baseball Game Played Over Half a Century Ago.

A note in a current American newspaper has peculiar interest for all those American citizens who are interested in the national game. Bowdoin college has come into possession of the baseball bat, long in the keeping of the Maine Historical society, which was used more than fifty years ago in the first game ever played between that college and an outside team. The old bat, made of spruce, on the very day of the game, is about the size of the bats still in use, and, if the college had won the game, would doubtless have remained ever since in a collegiate atmosphere. But the Sunrize team, made up of boys from the town of Brunswick, defeated the collegians, in that day of long scores, to the tune of 46 to 42, and the bat, inscribed with the names of all the players, went to the winners. Later they gave it to the historical society, which now presents it to the college. But in 1860 no one of the players could have foreseen a time when what is said to be the oldest baseball bat in the country would be an object of national interest.—Christian Science Monitor.

Raising Birds in Captivity.

The first attempts to produce a domestic supply of parrots and cockatoos were made with incubators. This was unsuccessful. The eggs hatched, but the baby birds perished for lack of mother's care in feeding them, all young birds of the parrot family being fed from the parent bird's crop, like doves or pigeons. Efforts were made to feed the incubator-hatched birds by hand, but to raise a single parrot by this method almost required the services of a special nurse. Setting parrots and cockatoos were then tried, and with greater success. The nesting room is virtually an artificial jungle in which the temperature is kept at 110 degrees F. Humidity is maintained by numerous tiny spray pipes that discharge onto the sand floor upon which the birds make their nests.—John Edwin Hogg in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Keeping Tools in Good Order.

Anyone who has a collection of small tools, such as taps, drills, etc., will find it a good plan to line the tool drawers with corrugated paper, so that each tool will keep its proper place and be easily identified, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. If the atmosphere in the neighborhood of the drawer contains considerable moisture, as is likely in districts along the coast, it is advisable to saturate the corrugated paper with oil, so that it may creep around the small tools and preserve them. As the numbers stamped on taps are usually too small to be easily read, it is good policy to glue a strip of white paper to the corrugated board at the position occupied by each tap, with the number, size, and number of threads per inch clearly marked.

Fashions Always With Us.

In nothing is custom more rigid or relentless in its minute exactions than in woman's dress. It has been so from the year 1, and if it were possible to compute time in the prehistoric era, one would doubtless learn that some fifteen thousand or so years ago there was rabid jealousy between rival style leaders of the stone age. As far back as the reign of Cleopatra, woman's dress and style tendencies were matters of grave concern to husbands and lovers, not to mention a means of welcome revenue to silk weavers and makers of expensive cloths.

Blouses are definitely known to be some 5,000 years old, records going back as far as the fourth, fifth and sixth dynasties in Egypt (2457-2980 B. C.), when Memphis was the capital of the then known world.

Eskimo Lamp Indispensable.

All the life of the Eskimos may be said to revolve around the family lamp, which makes it possible for them to dwell in an otherwise uninhabitable region. They depend upon it for their very existence. It consists of a shallow semicircular dish of soapstone, with a wick of fat-saturated moss. It derives its oil from drippings of a piece of seal blubber suspended near the flame. Above the lamp is hung a pot for cooking, and above that is a network of thongs containing articles of clothing put there to dry in the ascending warm air. The lamp gives a brilliant and beautiful light; it cooks the food, it dries the clothes, it heats the house and, not the least important, it melts the snow for drinking water. The lamp is the recognized property of the woman head of the family, and when she dies it is buried with her.

Valuable Fish Statistics.

The French government has published some curious figures as to the depths at which sea fish can be found and taken. These are really startling, for they prove that many of the most valuable food fishes live in far deeper water than was ever before imagined.

Flat fish, such as soles, lie upon the bottom at 70 fathoms—that is, 420 feet. There is a case on record of a sole being taken in a specially constructed net at the depth of 630 feet.

Hake, gurnard and rays abound up to a depth of 60 fathoms, or 360 feet. Sole, turbot and brill are all found at greater depths than this, the latter two varieties having been taken at 450 feet. It is noticeable, however, that small fish are not found at great depth; it is only full-grown specimens that seem able to withstand such tremendous pressure of water.

Tiny Flats.

Little Roy, after his first experience in a sleeper, said to his aunt: "The flats were awful small. There was only room for mother and me downstairs, so pa had to sleep in one upstairs."

Musings of Martha.

CARRIED THE SAVIOR'S CROSS

Simon of Cyrene Pressed Into Service Through Accidental Meeting on That Dread Day.

There is a more or less general belief that Simon, who carried the cross for Jesus, was a negro. While there is no direct evidence on this point, he was probably a white man and a Jew. The city of Cyrene, from which he came, was in northern Africa, but it was a Greek city and the Jews were settled there in large numbers. Simon was a Jewish name and not likely to have been borne by a native African. St. Mark speaks of him as one Simon, a Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus, both of whom were well-known Jews and white. The curious thing about Simon's carrying the cross on which Jesus was to be crucified was that he had nothing to do with the proceedings before Pontius Pilate, and was forced into the service of carrying the cross. Matthew, after describing the trial and the surrender of Jesus to the crowd, says: "And they came out, and they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name; him they compelled to bear His cross." Mark says: "And they compelled one Simon, a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear His cross." Luke says: "And as they led Him away they laid hold on one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it for Jesus." These accounts indicate that the crowd met Simon by chance and that he was pressed into the service of carrying the cross.

Lighthouse That Fell.

There have been three or four Eddystone Lighthouses. Henry Winstanley built one that was criticized by engineers as being unsafe. "It will stand the storm," he replied, "and I hope I may be in it when the first and worst gale sweeps down the coast." On the night of the first fierce equinoctial tempest the bulider and some workmen went into the lighthouse. Next morning when the people along the shore looked for the lighthouse it was gone. The awful storm had swept everything away and the men had perished.—Boston Post.

Paul Verlaine.

Passion, wisdom, creative genius, the power of mystery or color, it has been wisely said, are allotted in the hour of birth and can be neither assimilated nor learned. For good and evil—for he was a mixture of evil and good—Verlaine possessed all these qualities. Verlaine is always faithful to himself, to the two sides of himself, and he has thus succeeded in rendering as no one ever has before, the whole home duplex, the eternal conflict of humanity.—Arthur Symons.

Naturally Road Is Crooked.

For the benefit of automobilists who have wondered why the road from Exeter to Hampton, N. H., is so crooked, it is explained that when the first settlements were being made in New Hampshire, a bear made a night raid on that part of the Hampton settlement known as Wigwam row, and men in pursuit the next morning followed its tracks in the light snow to its watering place at Squamscott Falls, and built the road accordingly.

Famous Sundial Broken.

A sundial known as "Nell Gwynn's Sundial," which for years has been in position in the terrace at Lauderdale house, Highgate, England, was broken beyond repair while workmen were trying to change its position, a London dispatch says. There is still in the house Nell Gwynn's original bath, which is much older than the sundial, and was placed there when she was installed in the place by Charles II.

Word of Many Meanings.

What does not that word cheerfulness imply? It means a contented spirit; it means a pure heart; it means a kind and loving disposition; it means humility and charity; it means a generous appreciation of others, and a modest opinion of self.—Thackeray.

ON PRINCIPLE OF BOOMERANG

Airplane Constructed Along Same Lines as the Famous Weapon of Australian Bushmen.

Although an anomaly to go to the primitive savages of Australia for points in an airplane, that was just what was done in the development of the airplane by humans. The principle of the plane is the same as the boomerang, having been discovered by the aboriginal men of the antipodes. The principle of the boomerang, which by veering in its flight the air at a slight angle got a "lift."

The trajectory of the boomerang may be in part horizontal or may even rise as a result of this lift. Any surface that is more or less flat that travels at a slight angle through the air tends to lift. If the section has a slight camber, or convex curve, the lift is increased. Better results are obtained if a body of appreciable thickness is used instead of a thin sheet. These points the Australian discovered.

Investigation will show little difference between the wing section of the modern airplane and a cross section of a boomerang made by the bushmen or whittled by a New York boy after he had visited the circus and had witnessed the stunts of the boomerang throwers.

The resemblance of the boomerang's cross section is closer to a propeller section of an airplane, as a boomerang is a sort of cross between an airplane wing and a propeller.

WOOD LASTS FOR CENTURIES

Oak Buried in Water or Wet Sand Has Proved to Be Practically Indestructible.

Men employed in driving a new gallery in a gold mine at Charlotte Plains, in Victoria, Australia, have made an astonishing discovery. At a depth of 300 feet below ground they have come upon pieces of timber perfectly preserved, which have every appearance of having been sawed and shaped by the hand of man.

This timber lies in the bed of an ancient river now being worked for gold, and the timber is oak. Now, oak has the peculiar property of lasting for centuries when buried in water or wet sand. Oak piles have been taken out from under old wooden bridges constructed by the Romans, and found as sound as when they were put there, nearly 2,000 years ago.

Oak, known as bog oak, is found buried in Irish peat bogs, and is perfectly black, intensely hard, and very valuable. Just before the world's war it was discovered that the bed of the river Moksha, in Russia, for a length of over 400 miles, is simply full of magnificent old oak trees bedded in sand. The river is shallow, and broad, and the oak can easily be raised.

Smaller deposits are found in England. There is a pool in the river Dart, known from time immemorial as Oak pool, in the bottom of which are masses of fine old oak. The strange thing is that there are no oak trees near the spot at present.

Yellowstone's Wonders.

In writing of the Yellowstone park, John Muir has said: "In some of the spring basins the waters, though still warm, are perfectly calm, and shine blandly in a sod of overleaning grass and flowers, as if they were thoroughly cooked at last and set aside to settle and cool. Others are wildly boiling over as if running to waste, thousands of tons of the precious liquids being thrown into the air, to fall in scalding floods on the clean coral floor of the establishment, keeping onlookers at a distance. Instead of holding limpid pale green or azure water, other pots and craters are filled with scalding mud, which is tossed up from three to four feet to thirty feet, in sticky, rank-smelling masses with gasping, belching, thudding sounds, plastering the branches of neighboring trees; every flask, retort, hot spring and geyser has something special in it, no two being the same in temperature, color or composition."

Ancient Rome Had Strike.

On the word of a decipherer of ancient records there was, in the year 300 B. C., a strike of the musicians' union in Rome. The officials of Rome, it appears, thought that the musicians should play without pay at a forthcoming festival in honor of Jupiter. The musicians thought otherwise, and although Rome, then engaged in one of the Samnite wars, had little money to spend for music, declined not to "do their bit" by performing without pay. Apparently the argument that they were really playing for Jupiter himself was tried without effect. So the city officials decided on an appeal to public opinion; they evolved a stratagem by which they decoyed the striking musicians to the scene of the festival, and, with all Rome looking expectantly at them, the musicians changed their minds and there was "music as usual."—Christian Science Monitor.

Had the Resemblance.

Clarence had a dog of which he was fond. Being one of a number of children who looked much alike, he had heard the family resemblance remarked upon frequently. One day a neighbor, meeting Clarence in the street with his pet, asked him jokingly who the dog looked like. Taking the question seriously, the boy replied: "Oh, Rover has the family resemblance, I guess."

Something to Be Proud Of.

Some folks wipe the drops of sweat off their faces as if they were really ashamed of them. Man alive, drops of sweat that come from good, honest work are finer than any gems that ever sparkled in the crown of a king. And their greatest beauty is that they make the whole world happier and better. This cannot always be said of the stars on the monarch's brow.—Exchange.

Value of Salt.

You can clean your teeth with it, keep your eyes bright and strong by daily salt baths, gargle with salt water to strengthen your throat, throw a handful of common salt into your bath for toning up the system generally, and bathe your feet in salt water to prevent chilblains.—London Tit-Bits.

Humility.

The only true independence is in humility. . . . But humility is not the virtue of a fool; since it is not consequent upon any comparison between ourselves and others, but between what we are and what we ought to be.—Washington Allston.

The Campaign Is On

Brownfield is seriously handicapped in growth and development because of a shortage of Homes.

Many families are living in camped quarters or hunting a place to live.

Every patriotic citizen should lend his efforts to this campaign to build more homes. If you are a renter build a home of your own. If you own a vacant lot improve it with a house for rent or for sale.

We cannot hope to attract additional families to Brownfield unless we can provide comfortable housing.

Our modern home plans will help you to decide.
