"There is ample material in and near Colorado for one of the best bands in West Texas."

MOTORISTS HAET CARS AT STOP SIGNS AFTER SEVERAL GET TICKETS

Motorists are becoming more universally impressed with the impulse to bring their machines to a full stop upon driving upon a "stop" sign, as a result to a number of arrests reported during the past several days. More than fifty drivers have been hauled into city court to pay fines of $5.00 after given tickets by special patrolmen.

The city has only one alternative in enforcing rigid enforcement of the traffic laws, according to Mayor J. A. Sailer, and that is to assure greater safety to the public.

Motor vehicles are required to come to a stop upon entering Second, Hickory and Chestnut streets at practically all intersections.

Masked, Costumed Characters In Indian-Like Dance At Mexican Mission Friday

Masked and elaborately costumed, twenty-two Mexican youths kept up an Indian-like dance for nearly twenty-four hours last Friday in the yard of St. Ann's Mission in Little Mexico, north of Colorado, commemorating Saint Lawrence, early Spanish martyr, whose anniversary it was.

A number of Coloradans drove out to witness the dance, which began during the early morning hours Friday and continued until midnight.

Many of the visitors were welcomed by Father I. Martin, priest at the mission, who explained to them something of the significance of the dance. Father Martin has lived a colorful life in Spain, Mexico, and the United States. Although he speaks English brokenly, he writes and reads the language perfectly.

The dance was given here for the first time last year by a group of boys headed by Frank Marudelo and Albertus Cruz.

The youths taking part had practiced for several weeks. They wore colorful costumes and high head-dresses ornamented with small mirrors and beads. The various masks represented animal faces. The beating of a drum, accompanied by violin music, kept time for the dancers.

Novena, one of the most important of the Catholic religious occasions, will be observed from August 18-26. Father Martin announces. Novena honors the Immaculate Heart of Mary, and will begin with a high mass on Saturday at 9:30 by the choir of the Children of Mary Society. At five in the afternoon there will be solemn rosary and pageant following the image of the Immaculate Mary in the streets.

The most important civil celebration held in Little Mexico is coming soon—Mexican Independence Day, September 16.

Mrs. Cecil Cifers of San Antonio was the guest a few days this week of her sister, Mrs. Lee Dorn.

Sims Palmer spent the early part of this week in Lamesa and other points on business.

Mrs. Randolph McIntyre has had as her guests this week two nephews from Rankin.

Policies Governing Relief Outlined In Public Statement

The Record has received the following statement for publication from offices of the county relief administration:

Activities of the administrator of Mitchell county are growing so rapidly that J. H. Greene, administrator, makes the following statement to the public in order to prevent the necessity of too many people having to call at the office for information, and that is:

That the proper manner to secure aid or work through the Texas Relief Commission is for applicant to appear in person at the office of the Relief Administrator either in Colorado or Lorraine and make application answering certain questions. The sole responsibility of whether or not any one is eligible rests upon the administrator, the case worker and their assistance.

Greene further states that no one connected with any political position in the county has any right to pass on whether or not any one works.

Greene makes the following request in addition thereto: That the law-abiding, sympathetic citizens of any community be willing to give dependable, reliable information concerning any one when contacted by any legal representative of the Texas Relief Commission or the Mitchell County Board.

HUNTER RALLY SLATED AT COLORADO SATURDAY WITH HOUSTON CITIZEN SPEAKER

Mitchell Voters Invited To Hear Address Dealing With The Issues

Enthusiasts for Tom F. Hunter have announced that an area rally will be staged in Colorado Saturday afternoon at which issues that have embroiled the gubernatorial contest into a white-hot oratorical warfare are to be discussed. Hon. J. D. Salles of Houston will deliver the principal address.

"I have just left Austin, the center of Texas political arena and men prominent in affairs of the politics of Texas told me with a deal of enthusiasm that Hunter would sweep the State in the run-off election," Salles declared in a statement to The Record Tuesday at noon. In company with M. S. Goldman of Big Spring he stopped here, briefly enroute to points east where he was scheduled to speak.

"And I am happy to find that Mr. Hunter continues to gain in every part of the State, indicating that the prophecy given out at Austin is based upon fact," he continued. "The strong lead he registered at the polls over Jimmie Alfred in the July primary in Wichita County, home of the two candidates, will be reflected throughout Texas on August 25."

The men are traveling in a sales-speak at Lorraine, Roscoe and Sweetwater Tuesday afternoon and at Merkel that night. Turning north they visited communities in Jones, Haskell and Fisher counties later during the week, returning to Big Spring Friday night. Hour for the Colorado address remains to be definitely fixed.

Goldman, a former Colorado band director and oil man, is devoting his full time to campaigning for Hunter. He is accompanying Mr. Salles on his swing into West Texas, distributing literature and otherwise contacting the individual voter during delivery of the addresses.

Sand Belters Of Colorado Defeated By Snyder Sunday

Playing with several substitutes for regular members of their team, Colorado members of the Sand Belt Golf Association went down in defeat 24 to 16 in their last game of the Sand Belt summer tournament with Snyder at Snyder Sunday.

The Colorado team was composed of E. C. Nix, Ben Costin, Jake Merritt, O. D. Craig, Ross Dixon, Don McGuire, Fred Dozier, and A. L. Geer.

Exact figures on the results of the summer tournament were unavailable early this week, but Midland was conceded to be the winner of the tournament.

OPERATION OF CEMETERIES PASSES TO MUNICIPALITY

PROPERTY TO BE PLATTED INTO SCENIC BEAUTY SPOT UNDER DIRECTION OF CITY

Additional Acreage Bought; Keeper Will Be Employed On Full Time Basis

Properties of the Odd Fellows and Colorado Cemetery associations, adjoining on Highway One two miles east, have been acquired by the city and effective Monday night are to be operated as a municipally controlled enterprise. Final business of transferring the cemeteries to the city was passed at meeting of the council Monday night.

The city is taking over operation and maintenance of the properties at request of the prior owners, Mayor J. A. Sadler stated, and under the stipulated condition that the grounds be given every practical attention looking to making them a place of civic attractiveness. Seven and one-half acres of additional property, adjoining the Odd Fellows cemetery on the west, has also been acquired and is to be surveyed into conventional burial plots and made a segment of the general improvement program.

That the city plans definitely to make considerable improvement at the cemeteries was indicated Monday night as a series of special orders authorizing the employment of a full time keeper, allowing additional water usage for growing shrubbery, ornamental trees and flowers and the employment of labor crews when needed to clear the grounds of weeds and other objectionable growth, were passed.

In passing to supervision of the city there will be no change in the policies of operation, excepting for the material improvements already noted. Citizens having loved ones buried there are to receive every consideration and cooperation in keeping the plots attractive. The price of regulation lots, 10 by 18 feet, are to remain at $15 for inside properties and $25 for those bordering on streets.

All business having to do with sale of lots, the opening of graves and other matters will pass through the city secretary's office, rather than the undertaker as heretofore. Those called upon to prepare for burial of a loved one should apply at the municipal building for such details as may be required. The fee for opening a new grave will remain at $8.

Mayor Sadler announced appointment of Chas. Mosser, R. O. Pearson and G. W. Whitaker as committee from the council to direct affairs in handling the cemetery. A. B. Blanks, general superintendent of all public works departments in the city

Students in lower grades, including junior high school, will not be registered until the opening of school. Hayes Holman, principal of Junior High School, states that registration in his division and the lower grades is not necessary before the opening of school because of the fact that students under high school classification do not have such a wide selection of subjects as those in high school.

CHEVROLET PRODUCTION IS BOOSTED TO HIGH FIGURES FOR JULY, FACTORY NOTES

Total of 92,947 Passenger Cars And Trucks Built During The Month

Chevrolet Motor Company established a production record for the month of July, building 92,947 passenger cars and trucks, the highest July production since 1929, according to an announcement made by the officials of the company.

To meet the demands of dealers, which continued on a high level during the month, the heavy production schedule was maintained. In the last four full working days of the month 16,901 units were produced with a record of 4,933 cars in a single day.

Handicapped by a late start in the early part of the year, Chevrolet production set a pace during March and April which was maintained through June, July, and the early part of August.

It is significant to note that at the close of production on Saturday, August 4, Chevrolet had surpassed last year's total production figure, building 626,303 units as compared with 626,277 units for the entire 12 months of 1933.

July sales rivaled the June record in reflecting the current demand for Chevrolet cars. Deliveries made during July totaled 86,570 units, officials of the company said. Retail sales for the month, as compiled from dealers' reports and Canadian and export deliveries, were the basis of this announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smoot, accompanied by their house guests, Miss Maggie Figh and Miss Annie Campbell Hale of Montgomery, Alabama, visited Carlsbad Caverns over the week-end.

News of Club Girls And Women

The Silver girls club held a club meeting in the teacherage Thursday, August 9th and had as their demonstration the making of pepper relish as this is one of their required cannings. Those girls desiring to work for Dallas Fair trips, must have two pint jars of relish, one of pepper and one of green tomato pickles.

The jars must be square glassed topped jars either clamp or screw top types. The Silver club has done exceptionally good work this year and since their school has begun will be able to carry on club work again.

The Hyman home demonstration club met in regular session Friday, Aug. 10th, with 8 club members and one visitor present, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Harlins.

The main part of the program was the report of the Short Course delegate, Mrs. T. P. Smallwood. Two musical numbers on the victrola were given by Miss Gunter. Plans for the annual club picnic for their families was discussed, and voted to be held Aug. 17th in China Grove with Mrs. Smallwood directing the games for the evening.

The women that attended the Short Course from Mitchell County are grateful to their clubs as well as to the Lions club and Chamber of Commerce and business men for donations given to send them to the largest Short Course ever held in Texas. So to further express their thanks they have arranged a program for the Lions club meeting this coming Friday with Mrs. Lee M. Jones of Plainview club as chairman, Mrs. W. K. Miles of Looney and Nuvalee Groom of Lone Star, as speakers on the program.

Cemeteries

All citizens having lots in either of the cemeteries should obtain deed conveying the property to them without additional delay, in event such instrument has not already been executed. Deeds already passed and not recorded at office of the county clerk should be filed there for registration, it was pointed out.

"The city realizes that in assuming responsibility for our burial grounds it has taken up a task that must be well done, and in this connection we invite the cooperation of all citizens who have interests there," Mayor Sadler said Tuesday morning. "It is the ambition of the council members to maintain the property to such state as to elicit your pride. It will require an effort by all of us, however, to realize such a worthy goal."

"Full Feeling" After Meals

Here is how Theford's Black-Draught proved helpful to Mr. Archie W. Brown, of Fort Green, Fla. "I have taken Black-Draught when I have felt dull from over-eating or eating too hurriedly," he writes. "Small doses right after meals rid me of gases and heavy feeling. I am a great believer in Black-Draught."

"How many legs has a calf?" Abraham Lincoln once asked a caller. "Four," said the visitor. "But suppose we call his tail a leg, how many legs will he have?" Lincoln persisted. "Five," said the visitor. "No, sir!" retorted Honest Abe. "He'd still have four. CALLING a tail a leg doesn't make it a leg."

Hunter Has Served Texas People Though He Has Never Entered An Elective Office

Raymond Brooks, among the popular news writers with headquarters at Austin, is giving some interesting information on major candidates to the public these days. The following story on Tom Hunter was written by Mr. Brooks for the Abilene Morning News and other West Texas newspapers.

Life Story Of Jimmie Allred Protrayal Of Strong Determination To Reach Top

From the pen of Raymond Brooks of Austin The Record has received stories of lives of Tom Hunter and Jimmie Allred. Following has to do with the latter.

He is suspicious of the ability of the wealthy and powerful to write special favors from political government; and has charged that while the farm and home owner are ground down with taxes, over two-thirds the actual productive wealth of Texas escapes taxation, and one of his major planks, no doubt hewed in the brooding sense of injustice in the mind of the Montague county farm boy, he now professes, if given the power of that office to subject those owners of most of the productive wealth to a share of the state's tax burden.

HE'S A FIREMAN!

London's firemen are now outfitted with asbestos umbrellas as well as with the regulation asbestos suits. Thus they are protected from falling embers and are able to approach more closely to a burning structure.

struggles of two self-made young West Texas men, will leave an impression upon the public policy and life of Texas, as controlled by the outcome of this month's political contest.

He proposes regulation of the chain stores. He wants the state clothed with adequate powers to conserve resources and control the production of oil. He denounces the corporation lobby activities and demands that lobbying be purged from within the membership of the law-making bodies and sharply controlled on the outside.

After eight months' schooling, Hunter worked as a farm and ranch hand. For more than a year, he lived in a one-room log cabin in the Chickasha Indian nation.

A UNITED GROUP

Speaking editorially of the Eighth Annual convention, West Texas Press Association, in session at Spur Friday and Saturday, the Lubbock Morning Avalanche says:

Entirely devoid of jealousy or desire for power, members of the West Texas Press work together and play together, all for one and one for all.

There is no "gang" which, after every session gathers in a hotel room and "picks the slate" of officers for the next year.

There is no collusion between editors and their friends in other businesses who have "axes to grind", in selection of officers and, instead of making leadership a closed proposition for everyone who isn't a lover of the landlady's daughter, there is a free-for-all effort to pass the job and the honors around.

We salute the West Texas Press association individually and collectively for its democratic methods of operation and for the horse-sense annually disclosed in making for an "even break" for all members.

Re-organization of the gang-ridden Texas Press association along the same lines would make not only for a better and stronger state group, but also for a real press association rather than a conglomeration of newspapermen and press agents.

HOARDING

There is a sore spot on the national financial ledger that the new deal would like very much to eliminate.

Over three billion dollars of idle money is gathering mold in our banks. The depositors are carrying nearly two billion more than the Federal Reserve's excess reserve requirements.

inspector was here this week and in going over the I. K. Galey dairy he made this report:

"Turning grass into milk is relatively easy to calculate. Every cow takes about the same time as all the other cows, except sometimes one cow may be more addicted to regurgitation than the other cows are. Regurgitation consumes time of course and should be entered in the calculations by the most exacting mathematician."

The above is like a report from any of the NRA, CCC, AAA alphabetical codes, the explanation is worse than the explained. It takes a good explainer to explain the explanation. To explain in an explanatory manner one must be quite explicit in his explanation.

Mr. Galey does not know any more now than he did before the inspector came.

NECESSITY

Let the ponderous minds deal with the ponderous subjects. This columnist feels obliged at times to lend his attention to astronomical phenomena, of again involve himself by taking up the manners, habits and morals of the hydroptera or the lepidoptera and with the ancient historians plunge into the morass of a thousand templed antiquity, or in an esoteric mood give eulogy to the joni's bloom and fronds.

This column does not worry today over what it, shall print tomorrow. It waits until tomorrow before coming to grips with necessity. And even then it finds that necessity has a fairer face, a lighter frown, a kinder look than is too generally assumed by those who think of necessity only as a need and need only as a species of suffering. It wouldn't do for everybody to be friverty. There has to be serious minds, responsible folk, stern sentinels in the towers. But a few optimists whose optimism runs into floss and rhodomontade are not entirely to be despised.

SUCCESS

Every now and then we hear some fellow say that they don't think President Roosevelt is so brilliant, that he has done this thing or that, but nevertheless he succeeded in getting away on a month's vacation without taking the wife along. And we doubt if a single one of us could succeed that far.

THE MINISTER

The minister announced in the local paper that he would preach on the subject "Old Fashion Power," and the fool printer put a "k" in the word power instead of "w" and made it, read "Old Fashion Pker."

The next day the editor hunted up the preacher to apologize with the preacher said, "Well I had a packed house." This same preacher had a deacon who read Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress through to find out something about the "Pilgrim fathers."

CRITICISM

We have a letter from a lady friend who criticizes us severely for something we said not long ago about a dog. We have no defense to make except to say, say on fair lady, we are bold and brave, ruthless in our rejections, obnoxious in our answers, inflammable in our brusqueness and terrible as a defeated candidate.

NRA

If we consumers should be reduced to cornbread and turnip greens for our physical sustenance we would have the consolation of knowing certain wage earners are having meat. The good things of life are never evenly diffused throughout the world or throughout a single nation, but as a rule inequalities are ironed out after a while, if the country has sense enough to avoid war and internecine strife.

Party Building Huge Political Machine Under Leadership Of Chairman Farley

The Roosevelt administration will have at its command in the congressional elections next fall a vast army of political workers, never before exceeded, even in war-time.

In spite of the protestations of non-partisanship, the administration has been building under the direction of James A. Farley, postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic national committee, a powerful political machine, with ramifications into nearly every city and rural community.

June 1, there were approximately 205,000 federal jobs outside the civil service. Of that number 95,000 were added since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration. According to civil service officials nearly all of these jobs are rated as desirable, or not classified as manual labor or low pay employment.

In the Hoover administration there were 110,000 non-civil-service appointments, but only 35,000 were listed as desirable jobs. At present 453,000 government employees are under civil service and not classed as political appointees.

Virtually all of the far-reaching emergency organizations set up by this administration have had no civil service requirements. The exceptions are the communications commission, the stock market control commission, farm credit administration, Tennessee Valley authority, national labor relations board, the aviation board, and possibly the railroad re-organizing board.

That does not mean every emergency garment they must be receiving a very small wage.

NOT SO

A news story from California says a boy dislocated his neck by washing it too hard. All boys in Colorado who believe this will stand on their head.

Prayers haven't broken the drought yet, but there is one thing we can say for the country. Everybody has a chance to become poor and honest. E. H. W.

West Texas Press Convention To Be Held In Big Spring

SPUR.—Big Spring, in a spirited contest with Midland to secure the 1935 convention of the West Texas Press association, was awarded the site for the next year's meeting at the meeting of editors here Saturday morning.

Officers for 1935 were chosen as follows: J. W. Roberts; Snyder, president; F. B. Harris, Ruffe, vice president; Hemmerson Shuffler, Odessa, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Mary Dunbar, Palo Pinto, director.

The most far-reaching emergency organization outside of the civil service is the Home Owners Loan Corporation, which has upward of 15,000 employees. This has been recognized as having the greatest political possibilities, because it extends down into nearly every community. Efforts by the Senator Norris of Nebraska in the last session of congress to remove the employees of this agency from politics were defeated.

This administration has had an eye on building up a national political organization. There was much to say about legislation to prevent national committees from practicing law, using political influence by the back-door route or holding federal jobs, but nothing was done. The 24,000 first, second and third class postmasters were to be taken out of politics under the President's orders. But nothing was done.

In drawing into the government service a large number of the economists, college professors and advisers, politics has been ignored. There also has been a large number of Republicans appointed, but for the most part they have been Roosevelt Republicans, just as loyal to the administration as a Farley-Democrat would be. There has been much talk, principally among Democrats of the large number of Republicans in federal jobs, but after one looks over the lists of important positions, he has difficulty in finding more than a corporal's guard.

To estimate accurately the size of the administration's political army at this time, and its reserve forces, fluence through the past and the recent primaries. I served on three major committees in the 43rd legislature and besides these was chairman of the School District committee and also served on two special committees. There was only one member of the House who served on more conference committees setting the differences between the House and Senate (which if you will investigate you will find that only men who have firm conservative views are selected for this task) than I did, and only eleven members of the entire hundred and fifty members of the 43rd legislature, introduced as many corrective amendments to bills coming before the house. This will prove to you beyond doubt that I was on the job all the time when important bills were coming up and had studied and knew the subject. The records further show that I answered roll call every day of the regular session of the 43rd legislature Pages 3278-3279 House Journal.

The Appropriations Committee and Revenue and Taxation Committee, recognized as the major committees in any legislature, of which I was a member, governs the expenditures of all money and levying of new taxes, and these two committees in the last legislature made a record never equalled in the history of the state. We reduced expenses about thirteen and half million and defeated every general tax measure. No new member can scarcely hope to be appointed to these important committees, and therefore, with my experience and qualifications I feel justified in asking for your continued support, and promise your honest conscientious service as your legislator from this district.

I do not offer the above in a boastful, bragging way but wish to set forth some of the facts of my record before the voters of this district. I acknowledge that I, like every man, made many mistakes but I was endeavoring to render service to my people to the best of my ability.

I hope to contact each voter personally, and glad to discuss any phase of legislation with anyone at all times, but should I not see you I hope you will take this as personal solicitation for your vote and influence. Sincerely yours, WILL H. SCOTT. (Pol. adv.)

PLACE INDUSTRY BACK ON PROFITABLE PLANE, PUNDT CHALLENGES IN CAMPAIGN

Rail Commissioner Candidate Leading Active Drive To Win Nomination

Pointing to conditions in which the oil industry, the railroads and the highway transportation systems find themselves, John Pundt of Dallas, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, today offered a three point program of correction.

Mr. Pundt at this time is making a vigorous campaign in behalf of his candidacy and reports growing strength in every section of Texas.

People everywhere are aroused over conditions which the present Railroad Commission under its chairman, Lon Smith, has permitted to exist and are determined upon a change, Pundt rejoiced.

"The railroad commission through its unintelligent enforcement of laws regulating the three major Texas industries; oil, trucks and railroads, has been a major contributing factor to the present depression in Texas," Mr. Pundt said.

"Shut down of refineries, curtailment of fair oil production, cancellation of trains, shutting down railroad shops and bankruptcy of the truck industry, have brought on vast unemployment throwing thousands of persons out of work," Pundt charged. His three cardinal points in his program to bring these industries back to prosperity include:

- 1. Honest and impartial enforcement of the oil laws to end the hot oil racket and bring about much employment. 2. Revaluation of railroads and basing freight rates on actual values to bring lower rates. 3. Increase truck loads from 7,000 pounds to 12,000 pounds to bring lower freight rates and put truck industry on profitable basis. Pundt will make a vigorous campaign with a visit to practically every section of Texas until the end of the present campaign returning to Dallas upon the day before election for his final appeal to the voters of his home city. Bauman News

Work on improvements at Bauman school is nearing completion. Preparation is now being made for an early start of school. This should be a record year in the history of Bauman school. There are more pupils in the district than ever before. We have 118 pupils remaining in the district with 26 transferred to Lorraine. Last year we had 95 remaining in the district with 35 transferred to Lorraine.

Miss Ruth Johnson of Lorraine was recently elected by the school board to fill the vacancy as primary teacher of Bauman School. Miss Johnson comes very highly recommended by those having known her as a teacher in other schools.

A number of people from Bauman attended the revival meetings at Looney and Lorraine last week. Bauman baseball team suffered defeat last Friday for the first time this season.
