The fourth Sunday service and Sunday School was pretty well attended. Good interest in the lesson and pounding Bro. C. E. Leslie followed. Baptizing Mr. Henry Prescott in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

There were but few at prayer meeting Sunday night. Let us realize who we are serving trying to show that we want to follow Him and learn more how He wants us to do. Now we want everybody to come and be with us and help us get all of the good out of it that can be found or made. Next Sunday night Brother Alfred Kidd will be the leader in prayer meeting.

Well those long-faced people have changed their looks by a long ways since we received those nice showers on the 23, 27 and 28. The crops look much better.

Some are planting Fall and Winter pasture expecting more of this nice moisture and some are starting to gather their cotton.

The sandstorm Sunday night was well set up with not knowing what might happen next.

RELATIVES OF J. C. ERWIN IN MISHAPS

Two relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Erwin have figured in accidents that might easily have been fatal the past two weeks.

A week ago last Saturday, August 25, his son, John Erwin of Lamesa, was caught under the leg of a derrick he was helping to move at Jal, New Mexico, and his foot badly crushed. After being treated there, he was brought to the hospital in Big Spring. Later he came on to Colorado and is now visiting in the J. C. Erwin home.

Last Friday afternoon Claude Erwin of Cuthbert, son of Emmett Erwin of that place and grandson of J. C. Erwin, fell from a wagon load of gravel when his team ran away and two wheels of the wagon passed over his body, breaking his arm and several ribs and bruising him badly. He was brought to Colorado first for treatment, then taken on Monday to Big Spring where his arm was put in a cast.

Son-of-a-Gun Stew Drew Judge Looney Back To Campmeeting Held Near Marfa

Son-of-a-gun stew drew Judge R. H. Looney back to the famous Bloys Campmeeting near Marfa this summer for the first time in many years. Judge and Mrs. Looney returned Monday after spending the summer in Marfa.

Over forty years ago, when he was an active, hard-riding cattleman with ranges extending into many parts of the state, Judge Looney attended one of the opening sessions of this campmeeting, which this summer was in its forty-fifth year.

And he never forgot the son-of-a-gun stew they served. Getting some more of that stew was one of his avowed purposes in going back to the meeting this summer. He and Mrs. Looney drove out from Marfa to the meeting, a distance of eighteen miles, every other day. The meeting lasted a week.

They always ate at the Mitchell-Medley cook camp, one of the oldest at the campmeeting. This camp was made up of the cooking outfits of two old-time cattlemen.

Cowmen and cowboys and their families from all over that section have been attending these annual campmeetings for the past forty-four years. They came first on horseback, then oxen-drawn carts, then horses and buggies, and finally in cars.

The tabernacle on the meeting ground will comfortably seat a thousand. The meeting is non-denominational and no contributions are solicited. Rev. F. S. Onderdonk of San Antonio was one of the principal speakers this year.

While making excursions out from Marfa, Judge Looney learned that the new State University observatory being erected on Mount Locke, which borders the Scenic Drive in the Davis Mountains, will stand on land that he once had leased as a cattle range. Once Judge Looney killed a deer near this same Mount Locke.

Shelter huts for travelers in the Rockies are provided by the Colorado National Forest Service.

MRS. W. N. MERRILL IS STILL SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. W. N. Merrill remains in a serious condition at her home here. She was brought home from the hospital, where she had been for medical treatment, last Friday. At the time she was thought to be somewhat improved.

One daughter, Mrs. J. R. Flaniken of Lamesa, went home last week. Mrs. E. A. Nippold of Atlanta, Georgia, is still here, as is Mrs. Merrill's sister, Mrs. R. J. Murrell of Gatesville, who will remain for some time.

Misses Shell and Allie Merrill are due to leave for their teaching positions in the next few days if their mother's condition is not too serious. Miss-Shell plans to leave Saturday for San Antonio and Miss Allie on Monday for Fort Worth.

DOORS OF COLORADO SCHOOLS TO SWING OPEN AGAIN MONDAY

Total Of 243 High School Students Already Registered

The doors of Colorado Public Schools will swing open for another year's work Monday morning at nine o'clock.

Registrations and enrollment of pupils in the high school division has been going forward each week day morning since last Friday and will continue through Saturday morning of this week, according to C. A. Wilkins, principal, who urges that all high school students who have not yet enrolled do so during the remaining mornings of this week.

A total of 243 high school students had been enrolled up until noon Thursday. This is short of the total of 302 enrolled during the first week of registration last year, Wilkins states, but the final enrollment is expected to be the heaviest in the school's history.

High school students are to gather in the high school auditorium Monday morning. Pupils of lower classification are to report to their respective schools.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENTS ON EVENTS ATTENDING OLD TIME SPORT OF HUNTING

It's a rough and tumble sport, riding in a coyote hunt. Riders and horses alike often come in for punishment as happened a few days ago on the Elkin and Campbell ranch, 22 miles southwest of Midland.

W. T. Collins' horse folded up in making a quick turn around a mesquite and the rider received a broken collar bone in the fall.

A short time afterward (Coyote) Peet broke the back of his horse in an unusual accident. He and Winston Elkin were conversing on a wounded coyote Peet had shot several times with a shotgun. Elkin rode in to rope the coyote and Peet began firing at it with a .45 pistol. His horse turned quickly around a bush and when the rider attempted to turn his gun hand on the shoulder of the horse the gun was discharged and the slug tore into the animal's forehead.

Few sports equal the thrill of coyote hunting, but there is danger, too.

A salad course was served to Mesdames Ed Jones, Jr., R. J. Wallace, Joe B. Mills, Ed Majors, P. K. Mackey, Jim Logan, Milburn Doss, A. B. Blanks, Randolph McIntyre, Austin Bush, Jake Richardson, Dick Carter, Raymond Gary, R. D. Bridgford, E. H. Looney, Don Wallace and Mrs. Roy Arledge of Stamford.

ITS DANCING INTUITION CHECKED BY LASSO TIES

The typewriter in use at the office of Louis Latham, county tax assessor, has come to the end of its intuition to do the tango and other popular dance steps atop the office desk.

The machine, one of those long carriage affairs, would not "stay put" as Latham bused himself at the task of making up the tax rolls. "The thing seemed determined to skit from one end of the table to the other in spite of all the coaxing I could do for it to remain quiet," Latham stated Saturday morning in explaining why several strong cords had been employed to lasso the typewriter legs to posts of the table.

"I beat anything I ever saw," Latham went on to say. "Just the minute I would start to work the typewriter became overwhelmed with that impelling desire to amble from one end of the table to the other in some popular dance skit. These ropes have put an end to that ambition and I can now proceed with the task before me with considerably more ease."

Activities And New Policies In Local Government Emergency Relief Office

By J. H. Greene, Administrator

J. H. Greene, administrator, in receipt of information from Mr. C. Z. Crain, chairman of commodities distribution of Texas Relief Commission, that fresh meat will be distributed to members on the relief rolls. Families of five and under will receive two issues of 2 1/2 pounds each issue per week, families of six and over will receive two issues of five pounds each week. This meat will come to us from the Government canning factory wrapped in cold ice and packed in cartons of 75 pounds each. It will be necessary for this meat to be distributed immediately upon its arrival, therefore, clients will be divided into three classes. Class No. 1 will receive their issues on Mondays and Fridays. Class No. 2 on Tuesdays and Saturdays. Every person on the relief roll should call at the Relief office for assignment of a day.

After all assignments are made it will be ten days before first shipment is disbursed. When calling contact Mr. C. A. Kyle.

Colorado relief office has been operated on four and one-half percent according to figures compiled by A. O. Hickman, accountant in the relief office. Recent information carried by State papers charging that some eighteen to twenty percent is required for administration expense was the cause of Administrator J. H. Greene making an investigation, as to the cost of the local office, as the above figures.

The Colorado Relief Office was closed by an order of the Mitchell County Relief Board on recommendation of the Administrator that cotton picking could be had for all those who were able to pick cotton. This was done in compliance and in conformity to orders from Austin that people should not be fed nor worked when work was available outside of relief work. There has been no work relief program except finishing a few school houses in order to be ready for school to start.

Valley View School, North Champion and Hyman schoolhouses have been completed and therefore work will not be carried on.

A few people have been exempted from picking cotton by the local administration on the grounds of being sick or disabled. If any one is unable to pick cotton the administration will not require it. In fact the administration is not requiring any one to pick cotton—but relief is being withheld from those who the administration think can render livelihood by picking cotton.

Administrator Greene calls attention to the fact that if it becomes necessary to import pickers they will be left on our hands after picking is over and become relief charges and therefore urge everyone who possibly can to assist in picking cotton in order to save this. The Administrator also cautions the farmers who have only one or two bales of cotton to pick not to hire too much picking since the amount of relief funds are at the present time very uncertain.

RELIEF PROJECT TO PLACE FAMILIES ON FARMS MAY NOT APPLY TO MITCHELL

No Confirmation Received At County Offices Here, The Administrator Notes

The recently invoked project to place indigent families now being taken care of by county relief set-ups on rural farms may or may not apply to Mitchell county.

Checks totaling $235,000, representing the government's allotment to Texas counties for the rehabilitation work have been made out for administrators in 141 counties of the state, according to information received by The Record from State headquarters at Austin.

The bulk of this money, according to J. E. Stanford, head of the rural rehabilitation department of the Texas relief commission, will be used to loan and repair farm buildings with efficient tiltable land to produce food and feed requirements of the families who will occupy them.

The relief project in the rural rehabilitation program, Stanford said, will be in September and October, at which time most of the construction of work will be done in order to have clients established in their homes before winter.

BUILD HIGHWAY 101 OBJECTIVE OF ROAD ASSOCIATION

THREE COUNTIES UNITE IN CAMPAIGN TO CARRY ROAD PROJECT TO STATE BOARD

Delegations To Confer With Highway Commission At Austin On Monday

United under the common objective of realizing the construction of a paved thoroughfare over route of State Highway No. 101 between Snyder and Sterling City, members of county commissioners courts of Sterling, Mitchell and Scurry counties, together with other representative citizens organized a permanent highway association in Colorado Tuesday morning.

County Judge A. F. King of Mitchell county who called the session to order was elected permanent chairman as the group went into organization. W. S. Cooper of Colorado was elected secretary. A steering committee composed of Judge King, W. C. Hooks of Dunn, J. W. Scott of Snyder, W. W. Whipkey of Colorado and W. N. Reed of Sterling City was named to direct plans for taking the highway program to the State Highway Commission.

Spirited addresses urging unity of purpose upon the part of all sections represented and the appeal that commissioners courts of the three counties directly concerned offer ever cooperation to the commission in hope of realizing the objective were delivered by Judge King, J. H. Greene, Colorado; D. C. Durham, Sterling City, and J. Monroe and Scott of Snyder.

Judge King announced that his court had an engagement with the highway commission Sept. 10 and "I am sure that we will be in Austin 100 percent to do what we may be able to assure completion of this important highway."

After some discussion the assembly accepted that each of the three counties, through their commissioners courts, would give definite assurance to the commission that right-of-way for the proposed route would be furnished the State without cost. Each county pledged to either have its commissioners court in Austin for the September 10 conference or an authorized representative armed with proper power to act in meeting what ever conditions the State might exact.

Speakers stressed importance of the route as a traffic artery between South Texas and points to the Northwest. Ultimate building of the route south from San Angelo to the Mexican-Texas border and North to "the North Pole," if need be, was pictured in enthusiastic statement by some of the speakers.

Work on the project was started here several months ago with the letting of contract for grade and drainage from north city limits to the Mitchell-Scurry county line. This contract has since been completed and accepted by the State. Speakers representing Scurry county stated that hope was entertained there that

SUIT AGAINST COLORADO TO BE STUDIED BY CITY COUNCIL FRIDAY NIGHT

Suit alleging infringement of patent rights by the city as outlined in petition filed in the United States district court at Abilene is to be studied by Mayor Sadler and members of the city council Monday night, date for convening regular September session of the body.

"The council finds itself unable to offer any acceptable information just now and we will have nothing to say until original petition filed in the case has been examined by the city attorney," he said.

Shops At Colorado Closed Monday As Labor Day Tribute

The stores and shops in Colorado were closed all day Monday in tribute to Labor Day, holiday that annually receives strong recognition in this community. Original plans of some of the labor organizations to sponsor a program of entertainment were abandoned.

Colorado furnished scores of visitors at Labor Day celebrations in Abilene, Big Spring and other West Texas cities. Many others took to the field in quest of dove.

Practically all lines of business here were suspended for the day excepting the drug stores, eating establishments and filling stations.

CONFIDENCE AND INITIATIVE BUILT STRONG LIONS CLUB RALLY SPEAKERS DECLARE

Annual 'Ladies Night' Given Over To Tribute To Joe Mills, Past Prexy

Lionism was outstanding in District 2-T, Texas, during the recent fiscal year due to fact the Colorado club registered phenomenal progress in every major activity, several hundred Coloradans were told Friday evening in address delivered by Del W. Harrington of El Paso, past governor of the district.

The El Pasoan paid strong tribute to leadership of Joe B. Mills, who during last year was president of the Colorado club. Mr. Mills, who was called to the speakers platform by Harrington, was presented with a solid bronze gavel with compliments of officials of the International association. The program was given at the bagd-shell in Ruddick park. After outlining some of the tenets of Lionism and offering strong tribute to fidelity of the business and professional men in Colorado who had united to build one of the outstanding service organizations in the entire country, Harrington attributed the realization of such a goal to "the confidence held in such outstanding leadership as that typified by Joe Mills."

After receiving the gavel Mr. Mills called for Dr. Dave Bridgford, present president of the club, and presented the gavel to him. "It is my sincere hope that during the months of this year we shall make progress in line with the distinguished mark set by President Mills during his administration, and I am going to devote my most sincere effort to that end," Dr. Bridgford declared.

Other features of the entertainment program included an address on Lionism by C. C. Thompson, musical program by pupils of Mrs. Eli Martin of Loraine, with Mrs. Martin at the piano; Spanish dance skit by Irlis Misses Phyllis Herman and Irlis Lovejoy, with Miss Margaret Cook playing the piano accompaniment; vocal solos by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins with Mrs. Louis Latham playing the accompaniment, music by the Check Wagon Serenaders, song by Paul Kneiff and dancing number by a negro youth, W. S. Cooper was master of ceremonies.

Before the entertainment program, which opened at 8:15, the Lions and their guests, including Lionesses, enjoyed a barbecue dinner at tables in east side of the park. 114 chickens and two goats were prepared under personal direction of Doyle Williams. The food was enjoyed to the fullest.

Visitors introduced at the band shell include Mr. Harrington, Jake Smythe, president of the Snyder Lions Club; John Majors, Lester Turner, Charlie Deen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmons of Sweetwater. Jim Greene, Moco Grantland, Bill Crosthwaite and other Colorado Lions were given recognition due to commendable record in Lionism.

"It would be inconsistent and certainly most improper to hold a function of this kind and not give consideration to Colonel C. M. Adams, the most loyal and universally beloved Lion in Colorado," the master of ceremonies announced in calling for Mr. Adams, who was first president of the club. Colonel Adams was roundly applauded as he arose from his place in the amphitheatre.

Pupils of Mrs. Martin presented on the program included Winnadel Rowland in "Sleepy Head"; Opal Martin in "Lazy Bones"; tap dancer; Wyona Hardin and Ruth Ann Hall in "School Kids"; "I Can't Do That," and Billie Marie Rowland in a tap dancing number.

LIONS CLUB TO RETURN TO HOTEL DINING ROOM

The Lions Club is to return to main dining room of the Colorado hotel Friday at noon for resumption of regular luncheon programs after curtailing this routine last week in order that members of the service organization and their friends attend barbecue and program at Ruddick Park. President Dave Bridgford will be looking for a representative attendance at the meeting today.

JOB OF SURVEYING LAND RENTED TO GOVERNMENT BE FINISHED THIS WEEK

Attached to the office of County Farm Agent Ben J. Baskin will complete another job during the present week when they make official survey of the last plot of land rented to Uncle Sam in campaign to reduce cotton acreage during the years of 1934-35. Only six of the plots remained to be surveyed Wednesday at noon.

When the special surveying crew started this task several weeks ago they were confronted by 968 individual plots, aggregating 43,000 acres.

Baskin stated Wednesday afternoon that land owners and farmers were extending full cooperation to the work.

Rains Bring Lower Temperatures For This Area Of West

Ending abruptly the searing heat of a drab hot summer, Fall seems to have arrived under more acceptable conditions. The first norther of the season blustered in Sunday night, bringing scattered rains and more frequent thunder storms over a wide territory of this part of the State. The change served to lower temperatures to new levels here.

In Colorado only a trace of rain fell Sunday but good "cotton showers" were received in several communities. North of town a downpour fell over a small area, sending a swirl of flood waters down the Snyder highway into Lone Wolf Creek. Communities south reported good showers.

Local weather observers Sunday were advancing the opinion that hail had fallen in this vicinity. This prophesy, however, failed to hold and the cold snap was later attributed to snow falls over some of the Rocky Mountain States.

LION SUPPLYING FRYERS FOR BARBECUE IS GIVEN IMPRESSION OF SERVICE

"I have just had the full meaning of 'service' as enunciated by the Lions Club," explained, as comment of John A. Thompson Wednesday morning.

"I furnished a hundred choice milk fed fryers for the Lions barbecue at Ruddick Park last Friday night. I strolled into the bank a few minutes ago and presented my bill for the chickens to Joe Smoot, treasurer of the club."

"Why, we are going to permit you to donate these chickens as a contribution to success of the barbecue, and take it that as a good Lion you will be happy to do that bit of 'service' for the organization," Thompson said Smoot announced in reply to request for payment.

In the meantime Thompson is not worrying over the outcome. "It is just another joke being poked at me," he concluded.

MOISTENED FIELDS GIVE INSPIRATION FOR LATE FIELD CROPS, GARDENS

Inspired by breaking of the prolonged drought, Mitchell county farmers and truck growers are devoting considerable attention to the planning and planting of Fall gardens and late field crops, including grain sorghums, small grain and other staple crops.

Hundreds of turnip patches are already showing through the soil to transform a previously barren spot into a vestige of green. Older garden vegetables, that for weeks stood dormant because there was no moisture to be transformed into productive growth, are taking on life with a vim and these, too, will yet furnish supplies for the table and pantry.

Local merchants dealing in seeds report a brisk trade followed on heels of the rains. Demand for Fall turnip seed was especially strong.

He left New York June 21 and peddled his way to Oklahoma City in twelve and one-half days. Vito was delayed there several weeks while an infected finger healed.

Loans For Winter Forage Crops To Be Advanced By U. S.

Advices received from Washington today permit additional advances to farmers in the drought areas for the purchase of winter seed wheat, rye or barley, or for summer fallowing, or both, according to Mr. Charles W. Sherrill, Regional Manager of the Emergency Crop Loan Office of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Sherrill states that in no case can a borrower obtain a loan for the purchase of winter seed wheat, rye or barley, or for summer fallowing, or both, during the year 1934, in excess of $400.00 or an aggregate from the 1934 Emergency Crop Loan fund exceeding $750.00.

As an explanation, a borrower who has received a crop loan of $250.00 and a wheat loan of $200.00 will be eligible for an additional wheat loan of $200.00 if located in the drought area. If the borrower has received a wheat loan of $400.00, he will not be entitled to an additional loan to assist him in the planting and cultivating of his wheat crop.

The time for making loans for summer fallowing and for the purchase of seed wheat has been extended to September 15, 1934.

Highway 101

That the projected highway leading south from Colorado would be routed by way of Sterling City was outlined in an address by Mr. Greene who said that a member of the highway commission had suggested that the State would designate such a route in preference to others in reaching an outlook to the south or southeast.

Mitchell and Scurry counties several months ago pledged to furnish the State 100-foot right-of-way for the highway, located wherever the survey might be designated. Sterling county, so members of the commissioners court there stated, had not passed such a resolution officially, but it was indicated that such would be done. Members of the Sterling delegation were reminded that unless their county pledged such cooperation there was little reason to look for favorable consideration at Austin.

Citizens attending the conference included Oscar Ratliff, R. T. Foster, C. A. Bowen, W. N. Reed and D. C.

Durham of Sterling county; J. W. Scott, W. A. Johnson, L. E. Russell, J. Monroe, John Spears and J. C. Beakley of Scurry county, along with several citizens of Mitchell county.

BULL SOLD TO FEDERAL AGENTS GOES ON SPREE AFTER BEING PENNED UP

A high bred Hereford bull, sold by Lay Powell to government agents the other day, went on a rampage after finding himself denied freedom of the open range. In a short time after being placed in pens at the Texas & Pacific cattle loading yards east of town, the animal charged and killed two cows before cowboys could lasso, the infuriated beast and bring his war inspired ambitions under control.

"That bull actually threw those cows eight feet into the air and would catch them on his horns as they came down," Powell said the next day in giving version of the attack. "He has been mean all his life and seemed to have become enraged when placed in the pens."

The bull would offer fight when one approached the pen in which he was confined. He would attack paper or any other object thrown into the enclosure. He made deep dents in timbers of the enclosure with his horns when charging the fence in attempt to obtain his freedom.

It would have been suicide for a person to have entered the pen with the bull, Powell stated. "He would kill anything, man or beast, and would not require much time in which to complete the job."

Introducing

A Gas Water Heater Radically Different

Original and individual in appearance, this new Ruud is a radical departure in gas water heater design and performance. Conventional ideas have had no part in its development. It is wholly unlike any automatic water heater you've ever seen!

The glistening porcelain-enameled jacket is a delight to the eye. But what's more important is the "inside" where a new principle of "Faucet-Control" and "Faucet-Action" is employed to give you an instant, unlimited flow of hot water at a fuel cost controlled by your hand at the faucet.

The faucet's opening starts gas burner and hot water flowing with instant synchronization—with burner open in direct ratio with water flow. You pay only for the water you use as there is no tank to waste heat with tank radiation.

See this revolutionary advancement in hot water services. Have one installed this month at a special low introductory price.

Be sure the gas appliance you select carries the approval of the American Gas Association Laboratory... your assurance of safety and lasting satisfaction.

Gas Water Heaters and other modern gas appliances are available also from your dealer. See his displays.

ALPHABETICAL CODES

Last week we received a report from the PWA, NRA and RFC and tried to explain and one of our readers says the explanation is worse than the explained. It takes a good explainer to explain the explanation. To explain in an explanatory manner one must be quite explicit in his explanation. So this week we will try to make it a little clearer by taking the inflated silver dollar.

If the nationalization of silver, following the abandonment of the gold standard as a means of experimental inflation, to regulate foreign exchange, makes possible an increase in government allotments for underproduction of farm products in accordance with the AAA, then how many eggs could a hen and a half lay in a day and a half, and what effect would this have on a boy going to mill in a Model T Ford.

Now, a gentleman writes in from Abilene and to make it still clearer for him we submit the following verse:

ONE FROM ONE LEAVES TWO
Higgledy piggedly, my black hen,
She lays eggs for gentlemen,
Gentlemen come every day
To count what my black hen doth lay.

If perchance she lays too many,
They fine my hen a pretty penny;
If perchance she fails to lay,
The gentlemen a bonus pay.

Numbly pumbledy, my red cow,
She's cooperating now,
At first she didn't understand
That milk production must be planned.

She didn't understand at first
She either had to plan or burst
But now the government reports
She's giving pints instead of quarts.

Fiddle-de-dee, my next-door neighbors,
They are giggling at their labors,
First they plant the tiny seed,
Then they water, then they weed,
Then they hoe and prune and lop,
Then they raise a record crop,
Then they laugh their sides asunder,
And plow the whole kaboodle under.

Abra-cadabra, thus we learn
The more you create, the less you earn,
The less you earn, the more you're given,
The less you lead, the more you're driven,
The more destroyed, the more they feed,
The more you pay, the more they need,
The more you earn, the less you keep,
And now I lay me down to sleep.

SPIRITUALLY KEEPING PACE
A glorious thought here is, that never and greater spiritual realizations are keeping pace with those appertaining to the material world.

Much depends upon the point of view of those whose gaze is fixed upon them and upon the direction in which they are traveling.

As he thinketh in his heart, so is he.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

An indignant passenger of a Texas railway train has written the Railway Commission demanding that a rule be enacted prohibiting passengers from removing their shoes while on passenger coaches. No such rule should be made. Individual rights have been whittled down until there is hardly such a thing as a person being the author of his own acts or movements, and we should make a final stand and declare that the work of destroying human rights shall go no farther. Some good old-time Democrats simply can't stand when their feet get hot, and they should be guaranteed the constitutional right of pursuing liberty and comfort by removing their shoes to relieve their swelling feet, even though their socks are punctured with holes at toe and heel. People to whom the atter of feet is offensive should provide themselves with gas masks when they travel.

FROM ONE WHO RAN

Dear Editor:
I have decided not to run for a county office any more on account of the following misfortunes I recently had in the Whitley County campaign:
I lost 1,319 hours of sleep trying to find out some way to beat my opponents. I also lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with one of my angered opponents. I also donated one beef and four sheep and five shoats to barbecue. I gave away three pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5.00 in cash, and 13 baby rattles. Kissed 129 babies. Kindled four stoves. Walked 4,079 miles; shook hands with 9,911 persons, most of whom promised to vote for me. Told 10,101 lies and talked enough to make in print 1,101 volumes. Attended 16 revival meetings and was baptized four times by immersion, and three times by other ways. I contributed $50 to foreign missions, and donated to 25 preachers, and made love to nine grass widows, and was engaged to seven of them. Also hugged forty-nine old maids and was engaged to most of them. I got dog bit 23 times and was defeated overwhelmingly. I would ask you for the money I paid you for my advertisement, but I just hate to do so. So I ain't goin' to run no more.
A DEFEATED CANDIDATE.

LIKE LILIES OF THE FIELD

Often some one tells us, to end the depression, and start us on the road to quick recovery, we should get more Christianity in our business and governmental affairs. Also to ask our President to designate a day to be observed by fasting and prayer.

The fasting on the part of many millions has been going on for several years. Why have just one more day? Those who recommend prayers should be able to cite an instance in the history of this country where they were answered favorably.

Now as to getting more of the teachings and spirit of the founder of Christianity in our business and governmental affairs, I take it that no one will deny that the verses in the sixth chapter of St. Matthews, twenty-sixth to thirty-first, inclusive, are as much a part of his commandments as any other in the whole of the New Testament.

To save the reader the trouble of hunting for his Bible, I quote them, in substance, as they read:
"Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?"
"Take ye no thought of the morrow for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."
"Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your Heavenly Father feedeth them.

FORMER RESIDENTS THIS CITY BUY ATLANTA BLDG

The following news story, reprinted from the Atlanta Georgian, will be of interest locally due to fact John C. Moar is a son of the late John W. Moar and wife, among the pioneer citizens of Colorado.

The first large apartment house sale to be consummated in several months was announced Monday by G. H. Sims, manager of the real estate department of Haas, Howell & Dodd.

The building is a 16-unit modern type brick at 242 Twelfth Street and was sold by the National Life Insurance Company to Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moar for approximately $35,000. The sale was by G. W. Withers, who specializes in apartment house sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Moar said they are very enthusiastic about real estate as an investment and that they believe the market is on a definite upturn.

A religious order living in and around Bombay, India, called the Parsees, demands that babies be born on the ground floor of the house as their first act of humility. Children have their names and wedding dates set by astrologers.

One who is facing the rising sun beholds with wonder its brilliance and glory, while he who is walking in the opposite direction must marvel at the shadows and stand in constant dread of approaching darkness.

One sees the shimmering dewdrops on the grass, admires the trees which tremble in the breeze; gazes with pleasure at the beauty of the flowers and inhales with joy their pleasing odors, and beholds with rapture the nightly panorama of lunar rays and stellar glory.

The other proceeds with faltering footsteps into the darkness, where he is sure must lurk beasts of prey, venomous reptiles and stinging insects, while at the same time feeling his way cautiously to avoid pitfalls into which he may tumble, and the snares by which his weary feet may become enmeshed.

But man's ability to reason, the attributes which enable him to advance into the mysteries of material science and solve problems resident in material things, should also enable him to witness the glorified unfolding of spiritual knowledge and become conscious of the growing understanding which it is his privilege to receive.

The one condition is that we must "tune in" with God.
Too much "static" will prevent us from hearing the Still Small Voice.
Only as one's character is in harmony with universal law, love and wisdom is it constructive in nature and beautiful in expression.

"Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin, yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."
This is the perfect orthodox of the dictators of the Epicurean philosophy taught.

Eat, drink and be merry today, with a reckless disregard for what the law of self-preservation has in store for us tomorrow, is their doctrine. Applying these precepts to the decade—1919 to 1929. Most of us observed them to our utmost ability.

What did the high-priced, wage-earner, the farmers, merchants and bankers do with the "root of all evil?" they gathered in so easily, and some, craftily, during the most prosperous decade our country ever had.

Evidently most of them took "no thought of the morrow." They wore fine clothes for a day, owned mansions and castles for a season when cabins would have been more accommodating to their needs, and all wanted finer, faster and more costly cars than their neighbors; plus several for other members of the family.

While on the subject of autos, let us take note of the fact that it cost about $1.00 per day to make music out of gasoline through the exhaust pipe, or near $10,000,000 yearly, on which there was no salvage.

Who can deny the part, he or she played in the idea of "taking no thought of the morrow," procession, that has been largely the cause of our ever-extending bread lines.

Let us be fair with ourselves, therefore we attempt to alibi the origins of our financial misfortunes on either, a Republican, Democratic, or Dictator Government.

Thirty-Three Million American Students To Attend School During Opening Terms

The nation's educational system, still staggering from the blows of the depression, is getting ready to care for about one-fourth of the country's population this fall.

With attendances augmented by thousands who in normal times would find compensatory occupations, it is estimated that the enrollment will reach a record-breaking grand total of more than 31,000,000 students, some 28,000,000 in the public schools and 3,000,000 in private institutions. The increase over last year's attendance is figured to be between 300,000 and 400,000.

Government education officials say the brunt of the burden imposed by increased enrollment will be borne by the high schools, which already are overcrowded and handicapped by drastic curtailment of facilities. Moreover, the drought and continued pressure of adverse economic conditions are expected to make 1934-1935 the worst year for the schools in some sections of the country.

They believe, however, that on the whole the depression in education has about reached bottom, that greater stability will be attained in school financing in many states this year and that general improvement will be noticed a year hence.

Emery M. Foster, chief statistician of the United States office of education, says the outlook has been brightened by the movement toward restoration and enlargement of state aid for schools, by the business pickup in several southern states where the situation had been desperate and by the improvement in municipal tax collections.

Nearly all school districts are reported to have some resources for opening their schools this fall. While no definite allotments of federal funds to prevent the closing of schools have been made, some states have taken steps to insure the operation of all public schools and the government is setting up machinery to keep the schools going in the drought areas.

It is expected, moreover, that federal emergency relief administration funds will be available in a pinch just as they were last year when $17,000,000 was distributed among 33 states to prevent the closing of

HERMLEIGH AREA NEEDS RAIN COLORADOAN SAYS

Rain is needed in the Hermleigh vicinity, according to D. B. Price who Monday made a business visit to that community. When Colorado, and most other parts of West Texas were receiving generous downpours a few days ago only showers were accorded the Hermleigh territory by Jupiter Pluvius.

Economic pressure has not only cut available revenue but it also has increased enrollments in the upper grades which are most expensive to operate, Foster says. There were more than 1,000,000 more pupils in high school last year than in 1930, and the prospect is that the increase this year will be considerably in excess of 200,000 students.

Students, who in prosperous times left high school after the second or third year to get positions in trade or industry, are remaining in school because there are no jobs for them. Thousands of children released from jobs by elimination of child labor and other thousands of post-graduates have helped to swell the high school population.

Foster says there are indications, however, that reductions in teachers' salaries, which dropped as low as $30 and $40 a month for white teachers in some southern and western states, have about reached the limit. In some places salary cuts have been partially restored.

Legislators have been struggling with the educational crisis along several fronts. One outstanding trend has been an unprecedented assumption by the states of greater proportions of school costs, the result of the inability of local districts to finance education in the face of reduced tax rates on property, reduced assessment valuations and curtailed revenues.
