Improvement Plan To Be Given Boost Washington States

Regional state and district directors were named Tuesday to inject impetus into the federal administration's campaign to modernize millions of homes and commercial buildings.

At the same time, James A. Moffett, housing administrator, told reporters at Washington he did not "look for any general reduction whatever" in prices of building materials.

"There has been the general impression," Moffett said, "that to start the campaign a bargain price might be aimed. With few exceptions I believe prices are reasonable and generally below the 1926 level."

The new directors, the administrator said, were selected primarily for sales promotion activity. They will contact local communities through chambers of commerce, women's and civic clubs to tell home owners how and why they should borrow for home modernization.

"It will be purely a local effort, fostered by the directors," Moffett asserted.

Moffett implied that political considerations did not govern the choice of the directors, pointing out that "a lot of financial institutions are run by Republicans and many Republicans are home owners."

Honoring Mrs. Arthur Kinsie

Miss Ruthie Miller honored Mrs. Arthur Kinsie, nee Miss Mary Ruth Bell, with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. J. Miller.

The guests registered their names and gifts in a red and white heart-shaped bride's book. Then the honoree was ushered to a huge red bell, where the gifts were hidden. The white and red motif was used in a dainty refreshment plate.

Federal Loans

allied industries, he said. There were less than 100 new homes built in Chicago last year.

Seven out of every ten homes need some repair work, he quoted, making a total of 12,000,000 homes in the nation needing work. There is also a definite need of 2,000,000 new homes to take care of families driven to double up since the depression, he contended.

"The new building section of the housing act is in the process of development pending the accomplishment of the repairing program," said Stuart.

The district director said that one third of the unemployment in the United States was in the building trade and allied industries. This could be absorbed and relief loads greatly lessened by cooperation in the housing program, he believed.

"The housing program is a change," he commented, "from the dole to sound business."

He stressed the importance of every community perfecting its organization regardless of the attitude of the banks. In the event banks refuse to cooperate in handling loans, some other arrangement will likely be worked out, he predicted.

Stuart suggested that a general chairman be appointed in every county at once and that other details of organization be worked out at the earliest moment.

Methodist Church

Bro. Ross filled his regular appointment last Sunday morning and evening. At the evening service he gave a very interesting account of the Methodist Centennial meeting at San Antonio. Attendance was very good at both the morning and evening services.

Mrs. King led the devotion at the missionary meeting Monday afternoon, after which Mrs. Messimer gave a very interesting article on the negro and the rural work in the South, taken from the "World Outlook." The hour of meeting was changed to three o'clock. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy Messimer.

The group meetings were well attended Sunday evening. Our Young People's group regret to lose several of its good members, who are going away to school, but is glad to welcome our teachers back in our midst. Mr. Lauderdale will again have charge of the intermediate group.

Alvin Jones and Veta Bell Wed Sunday

Miss Veta Bell and Alvin Jones of Sweetwater, were married Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bell. The wedding was performed by the bridegroom's pastor of Sweetwater, using the ring-ceremony.

Only intimate friends and relatives were present. Miss Margaret Jones of Sweetwater was the only out-of-town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home in Abilene.

Honoring Miss Veta Bell, who was married here Sunday, September 11, to Alvin Jones of Sweetwater, Mesdames L. E. Gressett, Burr Brown and Van Boston, were joint hostesses for a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Boston, Thursday afternoon. The guests registered in the bride's book. Then were ushered to the dining room, where punch was served.

After a short program guests were started by the loud knock at the door, denoting the arrival of the new minister, Master Weldon Lee Dawson, dressed as a minister and carrying a basket, from which gifts were unloaded and presented to the honoree.

The play, "Oh! Aunt Jerusha" was well attended last Friday night. This play was presented by members of the Young People's Sunday school class, and directed by their teacher, Mrs. D. McCollum.

Rev. N. H. Balderec filled his regular appointment at Bethel church, Saturday night and Sunday. Rev. Balderec was recently extended the call as pastor at Bethel church for another year, but up to the present time he has not accepted the call.

The Sunday school service was well attended Sunday morning, but more young people should be in Sunday school. The Lord has blessed the people with good rains to help the crops, now let us not forget Him by staying away from church. The Lord is a jealous God. If we persistently forget Him, He in turn will not remember us. Let us resolve to be in Sunday school next Sunday morning at 10.

BACK TO SCHOOL

This week I'm going over the United States through and through. You know millions of students from age 6 to 21 will enter the walls of all schools from the kindergarten rural to college and universities all seeking knowledge. Knowledge is not wisdom, it is information. Wisdom is qualification for the use of knowledge to the best advantage. Knowledge without wisdom is like having tools without skill in their use. But both knowledge and wisdom from an unobtainable, capricious, get them. You can't have wisdom without knowledge.

tion, probably the most important is National Education Week, November 5 to 11. This for the reason that a nation's progress, prosperity and perpetuity depend in very large measure, upon the enlightenment of the people as a whole. It is the same as to the individual. This makes plain the necessity for improving every hour one can devote to the purpose of gaining knowledge and wisdom. Yes, soon, if not this week, the youth of America will be overflowing the schools and colleges in the search of knowledge. Fortunate are those who seek to acquire wisdom along with knowledge. Knowledge is of little use to those who do not have wisdom to give it proper and useful application. There are those who have little knowledge, but much wisdom, and there are those who have knowledge with practically no wisdom. Those who are truly wise will be truly good, but there have been innumerable tyrants, knaves and villains who have possessed extraordinary knowledge. In their cases knowledge served to increase the number and enormity of their monstrous villainies. No rascal was ever happy. His state of mind and his acts make it impossible for him to be so. It is an axiom in moral and spiritual economies that one cannot do wrong and be happy. No habitual criminal can be happy. It is not possible because of the nature of his deeds. The heartless gangster doesn't know what happiness is, so far as his experience is concerned. As a rule he has neither knowledge nor wisdom. He might have knowledge and be a gangster, but if he had both wisdom and knowledge he wouldn't be a gangster. What one contributes more to his happiness than what he has—if he is wise enough to live a life of service and uprightiness. Every teacher worthy of the calling knows this, and will try and impress the student with this fact. Whether the teacher would or not, he has much to do for the student, that the student should receive in his home training. Especially is this true of teachers in the lower grades. It is pretty well conceded that too many parents of today leave too much for the teacher to do in equipping their offspring for the responsibilities and duties of life. This includes moral and spiritual training to a great extent. Every youngster should have it impressed upon him that he is being educated in order that he may become a useful citizen. This writer claims a student should have a proper foundation on which to build an education to make of it a success and that foundation should be spiritually and morally correct. The Apostle in explaining his wonderful achievements said he had "God with him." He took Moses and his rod—one man and a stick—and freed three million slaves; he took Shaul and an ox goad and slew six hundred Philistines. He took Samson and the jawbone of a meek little donkey and killed a thousand more. He took a little shepherd boy and a sling and brought down the giant champion of the Philistine army. He took the same lad and made him Israel's greatest king and wonderful poet and— "He took a little Bethlehem baby and made Him the Savior of the world. Intelligence is light. It is up to you whether you are to be a tallow candle or a searchlight. But better no light at all than a light leading in the wrong direction. You are the lamp. You attend school to get oil. Get all you can. You'll need it. The more oil the more light; the more light the better sight; the better sight the clearer you can see the way. Columbus had more brains than the king of Spain. Had it not been for him Ferdinand likely would have been forgotten by this time. Position doesn't always mean proportionate greatness. Napoleon was not the greatest son of France. One Pasteur was worth a million Napoleons. Napoleon was not a Frenchman anyway, but an Italian. He was a blight. Pasteur was a world-wide blessing. Napoleon was a world-wide terror. The best has not been achieved in any line of human endeavor. Suppose you try it in at least one line. Get ready for your goal. Keep your eye upon it, summon all your talent, virtue and determination to the task. You may be able to set a standard that the world will strive for. Position in life counts for nothing unless you attain it yourself. What grandpa did is no particular help to you. Inherited honors are tawdry and cheap compared with those you earn. It's all right to be a good football player, but it is still better to be a great scholar. One is physical, the other is mental. It is possible to be both. You may not be an intellectual giant, but by hard study, reading and remembering what such men have written you may stand on their shoulders and see farther than they did. And don't forget that now, as always in the past, opportunity stands beating a tattoo on your door, from the cradle to the grave. Latent genius, talent and the resplendent virtues, which go to make up a worthwhile life are brought out by the searching grind, the heat and strife of daily battle, more than by luck of birth, fortunate position, or social influence. It seemed necessary to throw Joseph into a pit in order to set him on a throne. The hole in the ground became a mountain top. Selling him into slavery exchanged his "coat of many colors" for the purple robe of a prince. An obscure farmer boy in Canaan, he became Prime Minister of Egypt. From threatened death at the hands of envious brethren, he saved them from starvation. Uncle Sam Moves To Protect Migratory Birds From Ravages Of Shot-Gun Attack

As a means of protecting the gradually depleting flocks of waterfowl in this country Uncle Sam has, recently invoked certain laws to preserve these birds. In this connection, Colorado nimrods will be interested in noting some of the following provisions: America's migratory waterfowl, this Fall for the first time in history, have the right of way on two of their most important flyways with better than a 50-50 chance of not striking up an acquaintance with hunters' shotguns enroute. A fitting together of the big saw puzzle of staggered hunting seasons just allotted 30 states shows that the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey has given the drought-depleted wildfowl clear tracks all along the Pacific and Atlantic coasts four successful days of every week throughout the flight season. With the exception of narrow modification of the rest-day plan proposed by the Foundation in 1932. It should afford sportsmen the greatest amount of duck shooting advisable and at the same time prove a real conservation measure.

Two baby parades, for tots under seven years of age, will be staged during the 1934 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6 to 21, for which cash awards will be made to the winners. More than 150 babies participated in two similar events held at the 1933 exposition.

Anacoda, Montana, has been suffering from an over-supply of mosquitoes and toads. Herd them together, and the over-supply would consist only of toads.

living at a time of golden opportunities. "Goodness is Greatness. Service is Success."

P. S.—At the age of 14, this writer was left a penniless and homeless orphan. We had attended a few terms of a rural one teacher school. With our Ray's arithmetic, we had mastered the multiplication table. With our McGuffey's third reader we read it through and with our Webster's Blue Back spellen we had gotten as far as "Baker." This as an educational start was at the very bottom and I have been at the bottom ever since.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
helped to write this advertisement for
SEIBERLING TIRES

"How many legs has a calf?" Abraham Lincoln once asked a caller.
"Four," said the visitor.
"But suppose we call his tail a leg, how many legs will he have?" Lincoln persisted.
"Five," said the visitor.
"No, sir!" retorted Honest Abe. "He'd still have four. CALLING a tail a leg doesn't make it a leg."
...And CALLING a tire burst-proof doesn't make it proof against blow-outs... CALLING it a mileage marvel doesn't make it wear longer. CALLING it a masterpiece of tire building, doesn't make it so.

Seiberling Tires are built and sold on the four legs of fact. F. A. Seiberling, builder of good tires since 1898 and responsible for more major tire inventions than any other man, believes that car owners want tires that WEAR well—not that just READ well. Seiberling Tires are FACT tires. Let us show you the difference between a "leg" and a "tail" when it comes to tire mileage, safety and economy. Drop in today.

Uncle Sam Plans Additional Aid To Garden Projects

Emergency crop loans for the purpose of producing, planting and cultivating commercial vegetable and truck crops to be planted in the fall of 1934 and harvested in 1934 and 1935 are available in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona through the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dallas, Charles W. Sherrill, Regional Manager, has announced. These loans will be made from the spring crop loan fund under regulations approved May 1, 1934. First lien on crops to be planted and grown will be required. Amount to an individual borrower must not in the aggregate exceed $250.00 and any applicant applying for a loan in excess of $150.00 must submit written evidence that his application for a loan of approximately the same amount has been rejected by a Production Credit Association.

Applicants may submit their applications to county loan committees already established in the various counties of the region where emergency crop financing may be required.

Mexicans Plan Celebration Of Independence

Celebrating the 124th anniversary of Mexican independence, residents of Little Mexico are planning a fiesta period which will begin Friday, September 14, and come to a climax on Sunday, September 16, the actual date of Mexican independence.

On each of these days at six thirty in the morning there will be low mass and at 7:30 in the evening solemn services, according to Rev. Innocent Martin, Claretian missionary at St. Ann's Catholic mission.

A high mass will be held by the Children of Mary at nine o'clock on Sunday morning. Following this there will be a pageant, carrying both the Mexican and American flags. At four o'clock in the afternoon services will honor Our Lady of Guadalupe, patroness of all religious Mexican people.

Beginning at five o'clock Sunday afternoon the Mexicans will begin their day of their celebration most familiar to Americans—namely, their all-night dance. There will be Spanish and Mexican music by an orchestra, a number of speeches, and plenty of Mexican refreshments for all. American residents of Colorado are cordially invited to attend.

Texas Salt Lakes Being Utilized To Process Chemicals

MONAHAN'S.—For many years it has been the custom in West Texas to speak of a salt or soda lake as a liability, as a thief of ground that should be used by grass and mesquites. It has remained for the Ozark Chemical Company, operating about 11 miles south of here to produce a commercial product known as sodium sulphate from a property about two sections of which is owned by J. D. Jones of McCombs, a potash enthusiast. The company has not thrown up a bonus shack by the side of this lake but has an investment of perhaps a quarter of a million dollars in the project, the first commercial use of the vast number of such lakes in Texas. There are four alone in Crane County. There are reports that when the company has completed its contemplated expansion that it will employ some 375 men though that expansion may take years. A big company with ample capital operating elsewhere in the United States, it has proved that the concentrated waters of these lakes are as valuable as the oil that comes from the oil field, surrounding this town. Just now it produces only one or two products, one of them being shipped in sacks, the other in the bulk, but the big thing is that it has discovered that the saline waters are rich in other chemicals. Street talk has it that these waters are found to possess iodine, aluminum and substances used in the manufacture of glossy metal alloys employed in the automobile industry. Nine substances are known to be in the water which the company is not yet using.

The company drills wells at the side of the lakes, turns the water from them into the lakes and then into refrigeration rooms. Glauber salt drops out first, and then there is further treatment in kilns where the salt cake of sodium sulphate is produced. The lakes where the company operates have never been known to be dry. Many salt lakes in Texas have springs in them.

The equipment of the company, much of it heavy machinery, occupies about a half block. The salt cake is employed in the manufacture of rayon, paper and glass. Immense storage tanks are used on the property. It is located about two miles east of the Monahans and Royalty road, where the company has bought a good quality of land. About 15 men are employed on the job, and shipments by rail are made regularly.

Bilious Attacks
For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theford's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me that I know."

Colleges And Universities Claiming Colorado Youth, Beginning This Week

Colleges and universities of the state are claiming their share of the youth of Colorado this week and each week from now until the latest of the schools opens early in October.

Miss Iva Lee Rankin left several days ago to enroll in Draughan's Business College in Abilene.

Paul Sweatt leaves soon for Canyon, where he will attend West Texas State Teachers' College, partly working his way by employment on the college farm. He was required to pass strict tests as to character and scholastic ability to enter the place.

Miss Suey Reed Snyder is to have Thursday for Georgetown, where she will be a student in Southwestern University.

Miss Iris Tynell will be a senior in North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton. She has already been elected to leading places in student activities.

Miss Princess Martin of Lorraine, formerly of Colorado, returned Monday to Texas Woman's College in Ft. Worth. She belongs to an officers' group which meets at Lake Worth prior to school opening to make plans for the year's work. Miss Mattie Beth Payne left Tuesday to resume her work at this college.

State University at Austin, Abilene Christian College, and perhaps Texas Tech at Lubbock will vie for first place as to the number of Colorado students enrolled.

State will claim Miss Julia Mae Root, Charles Edwin Root, James Budine, Hubert Moore, and perhaps E. Frank Tiner. Those attending this school are to leave here about next Monday.

Abilene Christian College will be Alma Mater to Jack Cox, Harvey Barker, Miss Dora Frances Harvey, and Miss Elizabeth Watson. This group left Colorado for Abilene early this week.

Texas Tech will probably enroll Miss Lavada Baze, who has been a leading student in T. W. C. Fort Worth, for the past two years. John Tom Merritt and Milton Bodzia also plan to attend this school. If Miss Frances Elaine Price goes to school, Tech will likely be her choice. Tech opens late, around the first of October.

Don Taylor, who was in John Tarleton, Stephenville, last year; plans to enter Hardin-Simmons University next week, as does Bill Viles. Charles Wigley will go to Simmons, provided certain plans work out. Max Austin of Lorraine will also enter Simmons, which begins enrollment next Monday.

Miss Mildred Whitaker will also return to Simmons, where she was a student last year.

C. I. A. Denton, which has in past years claimed many Colorado girls, will probably have only two girls this year. These are Miss Mabel Rathiff Madjane and Miss Wanna Wade. Miss Wade will be a junior and Miss Madjane a freshman. They will be leaving Colorado Sunday and Monday.

Miss Vivian Cook left Sunday to enter Rannolph College, Cisco.

John Elliott, who left Sunday night for Maryville College, Tennessee, is probably the only Colorado boy or girls going to an out-of-state institution this year.

T. C. HART HONORED ON BIRTHDAY LAST SUNDAY

T. C. Hart was honored on his forty-eighth birthday last Sunday with a birthday dinner given by Mrs. T. C. Hart and daughters, Mrs. T. B. Coker and Mrs. Douglas Barber.

Returning from church, Mr. Hart found the house filled with relatives who sat down with him to a dinner which was climaxed with the pink angel food cake bearing forty-eight candles. Those present at the dinner were:

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Armstrong and son, Vance, of Shepherd; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Armstrong and son, Ronald, Jr., also of Shepherd; Mrs. C. C. Hart and children, Nell Grace and Buster; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Palmer and sons, Jack and Leroy; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Coker; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barber and daughter, Joan; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Webb; Mrs. J. A. Webb; Misses Lorraine and Lucille Hart and Lloyd Hart, children of the honored man and his wife. Misses Ardath and Veneta Byrd called in the afternoon.

One of every 20 Americans is on the federal payroll.

There are 22,000 stones in the Washington Monument.
