COLORADO STUDY CLUBS TO BEGIN NEW YEAR'S WORK

THREE ORGANIZATIONS TO HOLD BUSINESS MEETINGS ON FRIDAY OF THIS WEEK

Four Other Clubs To Launch Study Programs Next Week

Warned by the southward slanting sun and the tang of autumn in the shortening days that vacation time is definitely over, clubwomen of Colorado are preparing to begin another year's study and work this week and next.

One organization which is closely akin to the study clubs in the nature of its work began holding meetings last week. This was the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which meets every two weeks. It held its first meeting with Mrs. J. G. Merritt on last Tuesday.

Three of the town's six study clubs are to hold their first meetings of the fall this coming Friday. These are the 1921 Study Club, the Hesperian, and the Self Culture.

Mrs. J. T. Pritchett is to be hostess to the opening and business session of the 1921 Study Club, with Mrs. Sam L. Majors as leader. This club's course of study for the year is to be "The Romantic West from the Mississippi to the Pacific."

The Hesperian's first meeting is to be with Mrs. S. H. Millwood. Plans are to be made at the meeting for the presidents' luncheon to be held Friday of next week at a place yet to be named. Included in the Hesperian's course of study for the year will be Shakespeare's "King Lear," a contemporary poetry course from the University of Texas, Better English drills, and special day programs.

Mrs. Dell Barber will be the Self Culture Club's first hostess. This club is to study Mexico and devote a considerable portion of its time to drills in Better English.

The Shakespeare, the Standard, and the Zetaphian clubs will open Friday of next week.

The Zetaphian, newest of the study clubs and composed of members of the younger set of matrons, will meet first with its president, Mrs. Jake Richardson. Its subject of study for the year is "Drama and Literature, Arts and Craft."

The Shakespeare Club will concentrate its studies during the year on one of Shakespeare's lesser known plays, "Cymbeline." Mrs. Joe Smoot, president, will be the club's first hostess. In addition to their work in Shakespeare, club members are to study short stories during the latter part of the year.

The oldest of the town's study clubs, the Standard, will hold its first meeting with Mrs. R. B. Terrell. The course of study chosen by its members for the first half of the year is Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra," that for the second half his "Comedy of Errors."

COLORADO MAN IS VOTED LIFE MEMBER OF I.O.O.F.

W. L. Doss, Sr., active member of Odd Fellows of West Texas for many years, has been voted a life member of the Sweetwater encampment, according to information received by him this week in a letter from J. M. Simms, scribe of the Sweetwater organization.

"This is being done because we know no other order has ever come before the Odd Fellows in your thoughts," the letter read, "and because of what you have done for the I.O.O.F. organization."

It's got to be good to be advertised.

What Others Say

(Continued From First Page) ance, which is made up of the active Protestant pastors of Colorado. I can sincerely say that we very deeply appreciate the cooperation of the Record in printing church and denominational news and giving liberal space to church announcements from week to week. Such publicity is an invaluable asset to our church programs.

Speaking for the Mitchell County Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr., president of the Federation, has this to say: "I consider The Record one of the outstanding papers of this section of the state. I enjoy reading it each week and I and all clubwomen appreciate the cooperation it gives to club activities."

Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, says this: "I have worked consistently with newspapers for ten years, publicizing my work with rural women, and I have never had more efficient work done for me by the press than The Record has done. I have always found 'Service with a Smile' at the Record office. The Colorado Record, in my estimation, ranks with the dailies in the many services it renders to the reading public."

This statement is made by John E. Watson, superintendent of Colorado schools: "I have had charge of four different school systems, and, while realizing that I am not a good 'publicity man', I have never experienced a more pleasing relation than we have had with the Colorado Record." Mrs. Ed Grubbs, untiring church worker, mother of five children and an ideal housekeeper, says: "I never miss the ads in The Record. I read every one of them and from them map out my buying. The presentation of church news in The Record is the best I have ever seen in any paper, and we who work in the churches can always depend on cooperation from The Record."

Mrs. D. M. Logan, housewife and also a church worker, says: "I enjoy the Record and I take it all in, both ads and news. I think, of course, that it is one of the best weeklies I ever saw."

C. C. Thompson, president of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, speaks for the organization which he heads as follows: "I congratulate the Colorado Record on its 29 years of successful service to Colorado and Mitchell County. I've always admired the conservative attitude taken by The Record, and I have always found it ready to cooperate fully with worthy Chamber of Commerce projects."

Dr. R. D. Bridgford, president of the Colorado Lions Club, declares: "The whole-hearted cooperation of the Colorado Record with the Lions Club has meant more than I can say to the success of the club's undertakings."

B. J. Baskin, county farm agent, makes this statement: "Permit me at this time to thank The Record for the many courtesies and thoughtful deeds of service that you have so graciously extended to this office and its work for the past year. Too such acts of service have been of untold benefit to the people of this county in the many phases of the A.A.A. program we have been working upon. I extend the best of wishes for your continued success and assure you of my kindest personal regards."

Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, speaking for the Business and Professional Women's Club, of which she is president, says: "The Business and Professional Women's Club considers The Colorado Record a very good friend and values that friendship highly."

Miss Willie Fae Hall And Midland Man Married Saturday Morning In Loraine

The marriage of Miss Willie Fae Hall, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. C. Hall of Loraine, and Mr. Maurice Baumgarten of Midland took place at the home of the bride's parents last Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Only members of the families of the bride and groom and a few close friends witnessed the simple ring ceremony held by Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor of the Loraine Baptist Church. Preceding the ceremony W. B. Leggett, director of the Loraine Band, played "I Love You Truly" on the clarinet, with Mrs. Leggett accompanying him at the piano. The room was darkened and the ceremony said in candle light. The bride wore a dress of green crepe which was trimmed in black and gold. Her only ornaments were a heavy gold bracelet and a gold trophy of the groom which she wore as a necklace. Henry Baumgarten of Crane, brother of the groom, J. C. Hall, Jr., and Miss Christine Biden were the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Baumgarten left immediately after the ceremony for Lubbock and other points. They are at home in Midland, where Mr. Baumgarten is high school football coach. Baumgarten was reared in Schulenburg, Texas, and is a graduate of State University. During his senior year he was captain of the State football team. Mrs. Baumgarten received her early education in the Colorado schools, being a graduate of Colorado High School. Record Had Same Telephone Number Since Its Establishment 29 Years Ago

Back in the first issues of the Colorado Record, twenty-nine years ago, the office phone number was listed the same as it is today—253. And that makes the Colorado Record rank among the first in something else—it has had the same telephone number the longest of any business firm in Colorado with two exceptions. One of these is the Hurton-Lingo Lumber Company, which has been in Colorado for some forty-eight years and which has had a phone all that time, with the exception of a short period when Colorado had no phone service. Their number is and always has been 40. The other is J. P. Majors. Thirty-six years ago or thereabouts Mr. Majors made his beginning in the jewelry business in Colorado, and his phone number was 158—the same as today. Although Mr. Majors now lives in Sweetwater, he still owns the Colorado store and it goes under his name. Two business firms which run the Record's close race for third place are H. L. Hutchinson & Company, hardware, and the W. L. Doss Drug Store. Hutchinson came to Colorado and started his furniture and hardware store in January, 1906, and his phone number was 285. It is the same today. The Record was given its number in 1905. W. L. Doss has also had his number, 90, since early in 1906. He and John Doss had that same number when they were partners in the drug business, years before the Record was established. But the firm then was known as Doss Bros. and it has been W. L. Doss Drug Store only since 1906, which gives The Record another small edge.

Death Comes To J. E. Lasseter Of Westbrook

Death, climaxing a long illness, came to J. E. Lasseter, 88, prominent pioneer resident of Westbrook, early Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held at the Lasseter home in Westbrook Thursday morning at ten o'clock. The Rev. D. A. Ross, pastor of the Westbrook Methodist Church, was in charge.

John Emory Lasseter was born in Attapulgus, Georgia, on September 9, 1846. He was married in Georgia to Miss Mary E. Griffin, who preceded him in death six years ago. He came to Mitchell County over 27 years ago. Survivors include the following: three sons—H. A. and Z. T. Lasseter of Westbrook and L. E. Lasseter of Odessa; four daughters—Mrs. Millie Van Horn, Mrs. Georgia Bell, and Miss Margaret Lasseter of Westbrook and Mrs. Mattie Hamilton of Dallas. One sister, Mrs. F. M. Hines, living in Attapulgus, Georgia, also survives. Active pall bearers were Van Boston, J. S. Taylor, A. L. Young, Phil Gingerich, T. L. Fuller, and J. R. Lindsey. Honorary: Dr. J. P. Johnson, J. B. Holt, A. F. King, C. D. Doggett, A. B. Rhodes, C. D. Paul, C. C. Currie, A. P. Ozlesby, Burr Brown, T. W. Stonerod, J. Blake, M. P. Brady, E. Hamilton, A. M. Bell, H. L. Hutchinson, Sr., L. E. Gressett, T. W. Gilliam, J. T. Adams, R. E. Garber, and R. E. Gregory.

Association Of Bible Schools To Meet Sunday

Annual meeting of the Mitchell County Bible School Association is to be held at the Methodist Church in Colorado on next Sunday, September 30, at three o'clock, according to W. W. ANOTHER ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED BY RECORD

EVER PREVAILING LOYALTY GIVEN THIS PAPER BY ITS FRIENDS LED TO SUCCESS

The Publisher Hopes To Build To Higher Plane During The Years Ahead

The Record has succeeded in this field as an outstanding newspaper in this section of West Texas because the people it sought to serve have ever manifested loyalty to and appreciation of the publication. F. B. Whipkey, veteran publisher who 27 years ago came to Colorado with his brother, A. L. Whipkey, from West, to assume charge of the paper, said:

"We took charge of The Record under the most trying conditions," Mr. Whipkey stated this week as he recalled some of the rough places that have attended his career in Texas journalism. "When we came to Colorado the average newspaper man was frowned upon and there were few favors coming our way.

"But I had unqualified confidence in the West. I could vision transformation of this area into one of the most progressive farm and livestock communities of the Southwest and accordingly went to the task before me. I did not overlook the fact that a good newspaper, commanding the respect of those it proposed to serve, could do much in reaching the goal I visioned."

Thus The Record under management of the Whipkey Printing Company, came into being. It was not long until the paper began to grow and new names were added to the subscription list. Mr. Whipkey recalls there are pioneer citizens in this county who have read the paper continuously since the day he and his brother took over helm of the publication.

"As to the future, I can only promise that our long established program of giving the people a newspaper of which they might be proud is to be continued," he went on to say. "During the past few years I have not been active in either the managing or editorial departments but accept that my son, Walter, will continue as he is today, along the high plane that has ever attended the name of Whipkey in the newspaper realm of this area."

Under management of the Whipkeys The Record has gradually expanded in every detail. Along with its substantial rating of merit among the people of this section of Texas, has come one of the best equipped newspaper and commercial plant—street of Fort Worth. Every detail having to make for greater efficiency in the office has been added in keeping with the Whipkey slogan of giving its patrons and the public the very best possible of production.

Friday of next week The Record will enter its thirtieth consecutive year under this management. The publishers cordially invite the public to continue its loyal support as an aid to holding high a medium that has only one purpose—that of a greater Colorado and Mitchell county.

Ranch Home Burns Saturday At Noon With All Contents

SWEETWATER.—The ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Price Maddox, southeast of Colorado was destroyed by fire shortly after noon Saturday. The house and all its contents was a complete loss, it was reported here Saturday afternoon by Tom Donohue, who was at the ranch receiving 160 head of cattle.

It was not known what might have started the fire, Mr. Donohue said. The Donohue and Maddox families were eating dinner at the chuck wagon, where the cattle were being sorted, when they saw smoke from the ranch house, about two miles away.

They rushed to the ranch house to find the place enveloped in flames, unable to save a single item from the house.

TURNER RETURNS TO HIS WORK AFTER OPERATION

Bill Turner, printer on The Record for several years, Monday morning was back at his place in the shop after two weeks absence, due to illness. Turner has fully recovered from effects of an appendicitis operation performed at the C. L. Root hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tippitt returned to Tulsa, Oklahoma, Friday after a visit with Mrs. Tippitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lay Powell.

Veteran Publisher Recounts Progress Of His Newspaper During Years Of The Past

BY F. B. WHIPKEY

This September 28th The Record changes volume and number to Number 1 Volume 30th, thus we enter the 30th year of continuous publication and in all these years have never missed an issue or even been late. In all these years we have never deviated from an active support of every move which it considered best for the moral, cultural, and economic interests of the community.

When we came to Colorado in September 1905, there were three newspapers here, C. W. Simpson with the Clipper, Tom Cooper with the West Texas News, and Mrs. T. A. Kindred with the Weekly Record. Colorado was known all over the West as a veritable newspaper graveyard. We bought the $400 plant from Mrs. Kindred, changed the size and name (Colorado Record) and got out the first issue September 28.

Mrs. Kindred had enrolled exactly 100 subscribers and 75 of these names are still on the list, 25 of them removed by death, and strange to say out of all the business men, merchants, lawyers, doctors, druggists, etc., here at that time only a very few are here now.

The first businessmen and citizens we came in contact with as we recall was Dr. P. C. Coleman, F. M. Burns, Will Warren, De Moss, J. L. Killian, J. D. Wulfjen, D. N. Arnett, J. E. Hooper, W. K. Homan, H. B. Smeot, Felix Thurmond, W. J. Bennett, Rev. Shuford, C. P. Conaway, W. M. Green, W. B. Crockett, Mose Carter, W. W. Watson, Joe Shepherd, John Vaughan, John Prude, Samuel Gustine and many others that we cannot now recall who have been called by death to cross Tenneyson's Bar.

Among many of the old timers we first met and who are still with us are Col. C. M. Adams, Judge R. H. Looney, Judge C. H. Earnest, Judge A. J. Coe, T. Y. Poole, W. A. Cochran, L. E. Franks, J. A. Buchanan, Dad Clark, Q. D. Hall, Dr. Ratliff, J. M. Green, R. E. Grantland and after all these years they are still good friends to the Record.

When we came here the reputation of former printers was such that no one would rent us office or residence. Judge J. E. Hooper had charge of the lower floor of the Masonic building and we rented that and stayed there until 1917 when we erected our present office building. We paid a years rent in advance to our good friend Gus Bernier, now of Little Rock, to build us the two residences just west of the Baptist church.

About this time the old rock courthouse was found to be in the middle of the street just west of the Union tabernacle. It was torn down and the rock used for sewerage and to build the present post office building. A brick courthouse was built on the extreme northeast corner of the present square which was afterward torn down and the present structure erected.

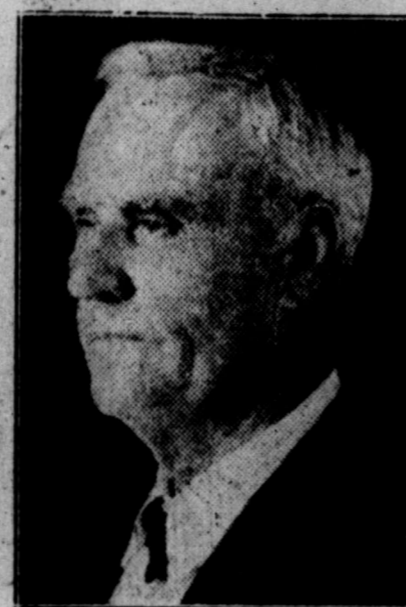

When we came here the town was unincorporated. It seems that some time back, a $10,000 City hall bond was voted. The hall never was built, the money lost and the corporation dissolved. Of course our first duty was to get back the corporation. This we did and it revived the bonds and we have been all these years paying them off. Another thing we advocated was a city owned water works, which we gained and besides cheap water the plant has made money.

About this time a Mr. Keiper drove here from California in a Maxwell car and established the first auto agency in Colorado. It was the supreme test for any car to drive up Hickory to Ninth and back to town on Walnut. A car that could do this was easily sold for these streets at that time were the very worst sand-beds filled with mesquite bushes.

For 25 years we stood on the corner of Oak and Second street and watched the town and country develop: the streets graded and gravelled and finally paved; we saw the St. James Hotel burn to be replaced by the splendid City Bank building; we saw the depot corner livery stable go down to be succeeded by the magnificent Colorado Hotel; we saw the Safeway and adjoining building go up in place of the Cooper blacksmith shop; we saw the commodious and substantial Colorado Bank building erected while the eastern part of town was being decorated with the Bancroft Hotel, the Judge Earnest block and the Mills Chevrolet block; we saw the oil mill, compress, and seven new gins; we saw one lumber yard grow to three.

We have seen magnificent and commodious school buildings erected and filled with happy growing youth; we have seen extra fine and comfortable church buildings go up and filled with a God-fearing, heart loving people, seen the wonderful development of Ruddick Park, beautiful homes and a prosperous, happy people.

In 1914 and 1915 we saw land sell for $40 per acre and at the same time we saw one crop pay for that land. All these years we were working to make the Colorado Record the best weekly newspaper in the West, which we succeeded in doing.

In 1919 and 1920 when you had to nearly kick ten dollar bills out of your way we traded some in real estate and made a barrel of money, most of which was invested in our homes and office building housing a $60,000 plant.

In 1926 Walter Whipkey came from Paris and bought the A. L. Whipkey interest and assumed entire control and business management. Everybody knows Walter and its not for me to say except that everybody is his friend and he is making of the business a success. In 1928 when this writer retired from the business, W. S. Cooper was secured as editor and has held this position these years and with the ever-growing popularity of the paper has become a permanent fixture to go up and out with the citizenship of Mitchell county as friends of the Record.

There are two conflicting views as to what is the proper function of a newspaper. One view is that a newspaper is merely a great commercial institution, whose proper function is to supply the reading public with the news, without bias or personal opinion, supporting itself by means of subscriptions and advertising, much as a department store or filling station is a private business enterprise set up to render certain specific purposes to the public, without voice on religious, political or moral questions. The other view is that a newspaper is a medium for molding and directing public opinion, with a definite responsibility to society for the proper exercise of this responsibility.

No sir, as we stood on the corner we have not grown old in the business. Rather, due to the interest and the continued efforts we have made for the advancement of our city, county, State and nation, and to the thousands with whom we have come in personal contact, we find it necessary to use a pencil to ascertain the above mentioned fact. During the years as we look back upon them now, we find in our record no cause for regret. If we had the privilege of retracing these paths we would not deviate from them. Not because they have been so successful, as men

Story Of A People's Progress In Files Of Record, Starting Some 30 Years Ago

There's a story thread, equal to any found in fiction, running all through the musty, yellowed files of the Colorado Record from the time it made its first appearance some thirty years ago until the present.

Such a story, if worked out, would be colossal in its time scope and number of characters. It would show how the lives of people in an average town have kept marching with and been affected by the world's moving on. And through it would be woven a second story—that of the newspaper that has recorded this moving on and often hurried it up.

It was a world of lively stables, horses and buggies, bustles, elaborate dresses, elaborate words, and even elaborately carved cooking ranges in which the first Colorado Record made its appearance.

It came into a town that had had the reputation of being a "graveyard for newspapers." One of the earliest issues says the Snyder Coming West commented on the new Record as follows:

"The Weekly Record published at Colorado reached us this week. We wish the Record success, but Colorado seems to be a graveyard for newspapers."

Little items scattered through the pages of these early issues give graphic little pictures of life as it was then.

A buggy accident was on the front page of one of them, taking the place of the car accidents which dot the front pages of today's papers. The buggy horse of Mrs. J. B. Annis got loose while standing tied in front of the Methodist church and ran away, demolishing the buggy.

Railroads were still feeling their way out into the Western half of Texas. Representatives of the Santa Fe, riding in a private car on the T. & P., had their car sidetracked in Colorado and from here took a hack across country for Roswell, New Mexico. They were thought to be looking over the proposed route for a cut-off from Brownwood to Texas.

C. M. Adams, pioneer dry goods merchant, had some new corsets for sale, in "all the latest styles and shapes." Their pictures in the ad look, at first glance, a little like saddles.

The St. James Hotel had Dave Mitchell as manager then, and J. P. Majors, now of Sweetwater, warned "Do not cross the danger line by investing in cheap or worthless jewelry." The entire jewelry business of Colorado still remains in the hands of his sons, divided into the Sam Majors jewelry store and the firm of Oscar and Ed Majors.

A. S. Henry and Sons had the "best family hack in West Texas." You could go places in style those days for forty dollars or so, or maybe around sixty dollars if you had to buy harness. Provided, of course, you already had the horse.

And, speaking of horses, Frank Greene advertised that he had the "fastest and safest" ones, and the "swallest rigs."

A short fiction story carried in one early issue gives a hint of the melodramatic trend in literature at that time. In one place the heroine "screamed" at the hero, "her breast seeming to be the home of overmastering emotion." Later she exclaimed dramatically, pointing her finger, of course—"Go back to your little narrow world of wealth, the world where women's hearts are but to be trampled on and crushed."

The entire school enrollment in those days numbered little more than the present high school enrollment. T. J. Yoe was superintendent, and he expressed thanks in one issue for work done for the schools by the Woman's Club, which was headed by Mrs. Martha B. Smoot.

Some of the names which were scattered through these first issues were: Mrs. John Mooar, Mrs. M. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Waldo, Rev. Holmes Nichols, Thos. R. Smith, Joe H. Smoot, Judge Crockett, J. R. Aycock, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Judge J. H. Homan, Dr. and Mrs. Willis R. Smith, Conrad C. Harness, Miss Lillian Blandford, Robert McGurry, Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bertner, Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Coleman, Dr. N. J. Phenix, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Bell, Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest.

Chevrolets To Be Sold In England As Tariff Taxes Lower

First evidence of prospective improvement in the export of American cars to Great Britain, as a result of a marked reduction in the horsepower tax to become effective January 1, 1935, is to be seen in the announcement that a Chevrolet passenger car distributor has been appointed in England.

Now, for the first time in many years, active merchandising effort is to be put behind the Chevrolet in England as the result of the appointment of Messrs. Cass & Joyce, Ltd., a firm which handles also the Talbot and Sunbeam cars, as Chevrolet distributor. The firm will market the American cars through a dealer organization which comprises 150 outlets in England, Scotland, and Wales. In London, the Chevrolet showroom, and main selling offices will be at 24-27 Orchard street, opposite Selfridge & Company, famous London department store.

Because of Chevrolet's long absence from the British passenger car market, says General Motors World, "it is impossible to forecast next year's volume figure, but a substantial initial shipment has already gone forward and both the distributor and the general sales department are most optimistic about the future of the territory."

Brennand, Miss Aury Williams, Miss Tillie Nunn, Miss Katie Warren, and others too numerous to mention.

Ten years later war had pushed all the little happenings of peace time off the front page. America was not in the conflict then, of course, and was not to be for nearly three years, but the war clouds loomed dark and threatening enough to take the eyes of people off their own little world and focus them on nations which had suddenly become something besides mere geographical names.

"Germans attack on the Allies' Left Wing has been Repulsed," read one headline. "Portugal Declares War," read another. "Germans Win Big Naval Battle over British—Terrible Loss of Life—Nineteen Russian Transports sent to Bottom," was still another.

Editorials begging that the United States keep out of the war were reprinted in several issues. New York was reported in one issue as being a "dismal scene," with stock exchange brokers closed because of the European war.

And the American government was having its own troubles, watching Villa and Carranza fight down in Mexico.

H. C. Doss offered to pay eight and one-half cents for all strict and good-middling cotton. The Opera House was having regular out-of-town attractions. Automobiles had made their appearance and F. S. Keiper was selling Studebakers at his brick garage. Dr. A. H. Weston was editor of the Record.

Names on the pages of church and social news included those of Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, Miss Myrtle Maddin, Rev. Guy B. Duff, Eleanor Coleman, Louise Roe, Etta Doss, Ella and Jo Dry, Mrs. J. H. Greene, Mrs. Royal G. Smith, Miss Sallie Herrington, Mrs. Everett Winn, Miss Anna Dyas, Miss Roxie Couchran, Miss Jessie Smith, Mrs. C. C. Forsuwall, Mr. and Mrs. Ose, Waller, Douglas Burns, J. E. Stowe, Mrs. W. L. Doss, Mrs. P. C. Coleman, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Mrs. M. K. Jackson, and others.

And ten years after that, 1924, the war was being rapidly forgotten. Prosperity was growing. Brunk's Comedians were coming to town. The names in the locals and on the society and church page were much the same as today. A few have died or moved away. Many of those listed as going away to school are married now and have homes and children.

J. A. Holt, F. M. Burns, the Colorado Bazaar House, and Hurd's Bakery, were some of the business firms listed then that are here no more.

The issues from then until now reflect the rise of prosperity until its peak in 1928. They reflect, but calmly and with faith that they would pass, the depression years that followed.

And, coming up to the beginning of the paper's thirtieth year of existence, they show that faith justified and brighter times ahead again.

(Continued From First Page) measure success, in dollars and cents, but because we know they have been years of unselfish service, years of sincere devotion to those causes which we know to be right. They have been void of bitterness, of personalities, always expending the long hours and burning midnight oil in the interest of building and not tearing down, in helping to hold higher the torch of fair dealing, justice and right.

During these years we have seen this country in every condition, with our people we have known short rations, and with them have drunk of the full horn of plenty during the Golden Age. We have known the rigors of storm and flood, of drought and pestilence, have drunk with them from the cup of happiness and partaken from the same container the essence of bitterness pressed to their lips, have walked with them in the glorious sunshine of happiness and groped through ashen skies of sorrow and disappointment.

For this we make no apologies and we ask no alms. It was for us a glorious experience, because God made us that way, and we cannot help it, would not if we could. We have been on the watchtower, and never have we abandoned our post or quibbled about the sacrifice necessary for the cost in personal comfort.

Now as to the next 30 years. The Record will go on building and sharing with our many readers and friends all the ups and downs, ins and outs of life, wishing for all that these 30 years may have been so lived that we can quote Tennyson's last verse of "Crossing The Bar:"

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

All Employees Of Colorado Bank, Even To Janitor, Are Leaders In Churches

Something unusual and rather striking in the way of banking institutions is to be found in Colorado. It's a bank with its entire personnel, from janitor to president, taking leading parts in the church life of the town.

This situation didn't come about by design. Those directing the affairs of the City National bank have simply chosen able, responsible men and women for places in the bank, and it just so happens that these people have proved as responsible in their religious life as they are in business.

The president, C. H. Lasky, while holding no office in the Baptist Church, is one of its active members, attending church regularly. His wife is a teacher in the Baptist Sunday School.

T. W. Stonerod, Jr., vice-president, fills two important places in the Methodist Church. He is a member of the board of stewards and teaches the Business Men's Bible Class of the Sunday School.

Joe H. Smoot, vice-president, is a deacon in the First Baptist Church and president of the Amigos, Business Men's Bible Class of the Baptist Sunday School.

George Slaton, also a vice-president, is a deacon in the Baptist Church and superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School.

J. C. Pritchett, cashier, was until recently a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist church, serving in that capacity several years. He continues to be an active member of the church.

H. E. Grantland, assistant cashier, is chairman of the board of stewards in the Methodist church.

Charles Moeser, assistant cashier, is general secretary of the First Baptist Sunday School.

Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, clerk, was until recently teacher of a class in the Church of Christ and she is still among the leading and most active members of her church.

Gas Cheney, bookkeeper, is active enough at the Methodist church to have been named last week on a committee to direct in the organization of a new business class in the Sunday School.

Miss Neta Mae Davis, bookkeeper, is secretary of the Glensons Sunday School class of the Baptist church.

Scott McKinney, bookkeeper, is in regular attendance at the Methodist church.

And last but not least, Frank McCann, janitor of the bank building, is a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Melvin Dow and two children of Wink and Miss Bunnie Dow of Lubbock were week-end guests in the home of Mrs. W. J. Chesney. Miss Josephine Chesney accompanied Mrs. Dow home to Wink Sunday for a week's visit. All went to the circus in Big Spring Friday night.

PROGRESS OF THE CHURCH RESTS UPON STRENGTH OF INNER MAN, BISHOP SAYS

Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman Is Speaker At All Saints Sunday Evening

It matters not how much Paul might have prayed for the church, nor does it matter how much he might have prayed, but little, if any, spiritual progress will be attained unless we repent and think, talk and act inwardly as the apostle urged in his letter to the Ephesians, Bishop E. Cecil Seaman, of the North Texas Missionary district, declared in his sermon address at All Saint's church Sunday evening.

"Paul was so enthused in the gospel that it landed him in jail," the bishop stated after briefly reviewing some of the determined stands taken by the New Testament leader in his cause for righteousness. "Would that we should become so enthused about religion and the church as to bring many of our friends into the church."

Bishop Seaman read for his text Eph. 3:16: "That he would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with might by His spirit in the inner man." He pled for loyalty to the church, even as Paul exemplified while a "prisoner of the Lord" in Rome.

The prelate discussed plans for the Tri Annual convention of the Episcopal church to be convened in Atlantic City October 10. Thos. R. Smith of the local congregation is by delegate to represent the district in sessions of the convention.

"There is not a church in New Jersey large enough to accommodate the convention and therefore we shall meet in the auditorium at Atlantic City," he stated. Bishop Seaman pictured opening of the convention as a great religious ceremony to be attended by some 40,000 worshippers from all parts of the earth.

"There will be bishops and clergy there from all parts of the United States, from South America and the Canal Zone. They will be there from Labrador and from the far away reaches of India and Japan, truly depicting Christ's admonition to his people that a universal church be builded and nurtured."

Bishop Seaman, with headquarters at Amarillo, is making his final tour of the area before leaving for the convention at Atlantic City. He came here Sunday afternoon from Sweetwater where that morning he made official visitation to the congregation there.

Immediately preceding the regular evening worship a baptismal service was held with the pastor, Rev. Alex B. Hanson, officiating. Visitors from other congregations were present for the services.

THOUGHTS OF COLORADO FRIENDS BRING BRIGHT PLACES INTO HIS LIFE

Thoughts of Colorado friends never fail to bring bright spots in his life and lure him into the almost irresistible desire to return "home" for another visit among some of the "best men that God ever let live," the Rev. Oren C. Reid, pastor of Riverside Baptist church, Fort Worth, states in a recent communication to T. B. Russell.

The minister, a former pastor of First Baptist church here, lists several local citizens as among friends he will ever cherish. He has something to say about The Record as a paper with personality.

"I often visit over again in my mind many of the places in Colorado where I developed such strong friendships," the minister said. "Reading and thinking of these bring a tugging at my heart and suggest that I make another visit out there soon," he concluded.

ANCIENT ROME

One of our good readers writes in to ask when was Christianity first adopted by the Roman Empire and when was it first started to say "When did Rome Do As Romans Do?"

Unnumbered books have been written about Rome. In the fulfillment of the centuries Rome became the capital of the world. It developed great Generals, invincible armies, understanding statesmen. It was a pagan civilization, barbarous but magnificent. It developed a line of Emperors, including the best of the Caesars, who ruled with brilliance and built enduring evidences of a daring conception of mightiness. In Julius Caesar's time the city of Rome had 2,000,000 inhabitants, not including the slaves, black and white, who were not considered human, therefore were not counted. The Roman Empire itself reached from Great Britain to India and into the forests which then were Germany. Church history teaches that St. Peter and St. Paul appeared in Rome as missionaries, preaching Christianity and suffering martyrdom soon after the time of the Crucifixion in Roman Jerusalem. Two tremendous churches bearing the names of the martyred saints stand at Rome to prove the history.

Christianity made slow headway among the Romans, but gradually became recognized and respectable. The Emperor, Constantine, early in the fourth century A. D., adopted Christianity as the State religion and had himself baptized. It is doubtful if he was a very good Christian, for he is alleged to have been cruel and ruthless. But Rome became officially Christian and has remained so, at least officially, from that date to the present. In fact, as the long-established seal of the Roman Catholic Church it may be said that Christianity has played a mighty part in Rome's world-wide importance.

THE WORLD'S END

Not long since one of those heavy-bearded, dirty-necked, holy-roller, street exhorters, Zionists set the date of Sept. 10th for the world to come to an end. His name is Voliva and I wrote him to have it put off as the date did not suit the people in Colorado.

I don't think he knew anything about it but somehow I felt relieved when the time passed. Now I think it was uncalculated for and don't think we need such a thing. Besides, I am not ready and I have talked to a number of my neighbors and they say they are not ready, either. In fact, they say they don't want it at all. Everyone seemed delighted that he had postponed it for a while at least. There are so many things we need much worse. I don't think right now is a good time for such an event. Everybody in Colorado is too busy trying to make a living and get by the drought. However, if nothing else will satisfy Mr. Voliva, but to let him know this great event, I respectfully suggest that he have it in midsummer in the midst of church revivals and he would probably find more people ready. What we need here just now worse than anything else is a good general rain and it appears to this writer that Mr. Voliva could bring about a rain earlier than the thing he is working for. I know this would suit the people better.

All day, the Choir of Zion prayed and listened for the crack of doom to sound out of the skies. The sun came up as usual and laughed at the poor suckers. The sun moved over to the west and the hungry World-enders prayed the louder. The World-enders forgot to take their dinners along, and they were hungry. At last old Sol thumbed his nose at Bro. Voliva and his faithful followers.

Tom Dees from Midlothian writes in to ask: Is our great doctor in Washington curing any of our ill? Has he done anything toward a permanent cure? Are the people of this country honestly and sincerely backing the President? Do a majority really and truly believe that we are getting anywhere toward lifting this country out of this depression?

It is popular with Senators and Congressmen and all the Democratic politicians to shout from the stump that they are "with the President" but is it actually true or are they trying to hold office by hanging to the coat tails of our leader?

Do you know of a farmer who believes that he has been benefitted by the efforts of the Department of Agriculture?

Are the people as a whole any better off today than they were a year ago or two years ago?

Can anyone see the end of this depression under the present mode of treatment? Can you cure a man of cancer of the stomach by doctoring him for tuberculosis? Can you cure a man of poverty by encouraging laziness? Who are paying the bills and furnishing the billions of dollars our doctors are spending? How long can this extravagance be kept up?

There is one place where all the idle may be happy and self-sustaining "on the farm." "Eventually—why not now?"

Our good friend H. L. Baker over in East Colorado is so sweet on this column that he sends in a quart jar of fine comb honey. This is a new kind of criticism and is probably intended that we should be sweeter if possible.

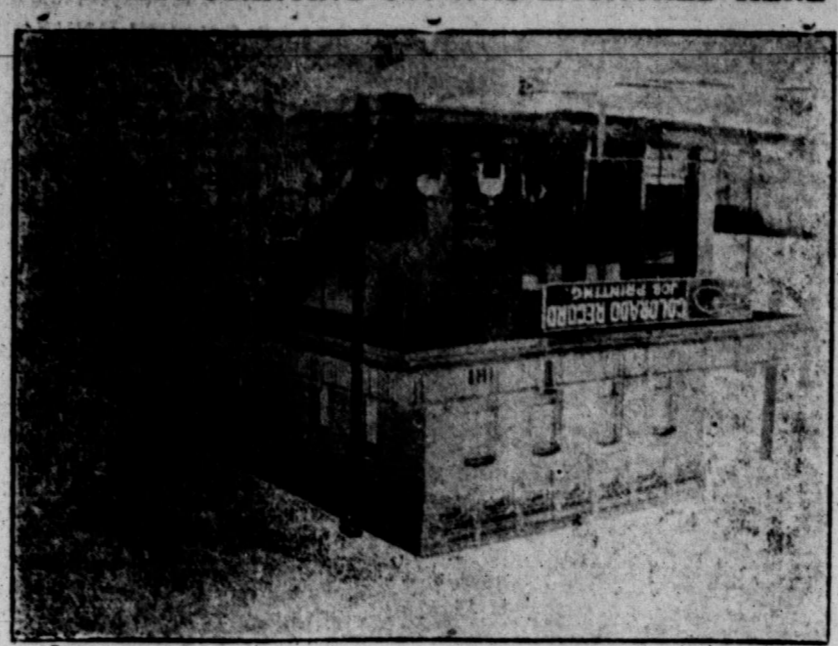

We came across J. P. Billingsley on the golf course the other day trying to make a hole in one. He was trying to quote Bobbie Burns, "I shot an arrow in the air, it fell to earth I know not where," and this is what he made of it:

I shot a golf ball into the air
 It fell to earth I know not where,
 I only know with woe immense,
 That I had lost my fifty cents.

REMINISCENCES OF LONG AGO RECALLED BY PAPER

The following article is reprinted from the 50-years ago column of the Georgetown Sun. Captain Snyder was the father of P. H. Snyder of Colorado.

Our public citizen, Capt. D. H. Snyder has just presented the Young Ladies Department of the University with a bell which we suppose for size and fineness cannot be expelled in the State. It will give some idea of its size to know that the bell alone without any of its fineness weighs 1050 lbs., and with the wheel, frame, etc., which accompany it, 1500 lbs. It is warranted to be of the finest bell-metal in use. It has an apparatus for tapping and one for ringing. We are glad to see from the annual catalogue that Capt. Snyder is now a member of the board of Trustees. This is a warrant to all who know

Resumption Live Stock Buying Is Sought By Group

Representatives of Mitchell and four other counties in conference at Big Spring Thursday morning endorsed resolution favoring resumption of cattle buying in this area by the government.

The resolution called attention to fact that recent rains were scattered and were hardly sufficient to assure good range conditions or to produce necessary stock water. Poor condition of many herds and approaching winter months were also cited as reasons why the program should be resumed in this section soon.

Eight Constitutional Amendments Will Be Offered For Consideration Of Voter

General election day will not pass in Texas this year with the usual perfunctory vote. Not that any fear is felt by Democrats that its state ticket will be defeated, but because the state's million or more voters will ballot the same day on the proposed state new deal.

Eight sweeping changes in the state constitution will get approval or be rejected. They are: A limit on taxation; different tax rate for real estate and other property; abolishment of the fee system; combination of counties; salary fixing powers for county governments; taxation of the University of Texas' vast land areas; four year terms for municipal officers; and right of cities to change their charters annually. The proposed amendments were printed in The Record a few weeks ago.

The tax limit amendment pegs at $11.25 per person, the total amount of revenue the state may collect annually from taxes, licenses, permits and fees. Based on 6,000,000 population, that is approximately what the state collected from such sources in 1932, the $68,000,000 so collected, left a big state deficit. The amendment has been proposed to prevent any legislative spending spree.

Opponents of the plan to permit different tax rates for real estate and for all other property grouped by reasonable classification, expect help against the amendment from the small homesteaders. An amendment of several years ago exempted $3,000 of homestead property from tax. The new amendment, it is said, will abolish that exemption by its provision that "Taxation of real property shall be equal and uniform."

Larger units of local government are sought by an amendment to permit abolishing and consolidating counties. A clause in it provides that no county shall be created with an area of less than 900 square miles, nor any existing county be reduced to contain less than 900 square miles unless both the new and remaining county have a population of 50,000 or more. In border counties the 900 square miles total may be varied if it is impractical. It will be possible to make city and county boundaries coincide under the amendment on counties. The provision on small counties with not less than 50,000 population permits this.

Abolition of fees for district and county officers has with it an accompanying amendment which gives county commissioners courts power to fix fees of county-wide or precinct officers, and to combine offices within the county. The three foregoing amendments are all part of a plan to reduce the cost of local government.

Western counties will continue to receive taxes on the vast tracts of University of Texas lands, under another of the proposed amendments. A former amendment made them taxable. The new one provides that the taxes shall be paid by direct state appropriation. The university land once was tax exempt. Counties and school districts complained that the large areas of the tax-free land not only prevented ample provision for schools and other facilities but blocked issuance of bonds for such purposes.

Municipalities are especially interested in two proposals that will be voted upon. One makes it possible to have three or four year city terms of office, instead of two years; the other permits charter cities to amend their charters annually instead of biennially.

'Anthony Adverse' Reviewed By Local Episcopal Minister

Something different! Such was the review of "Anthony Adverse" by the popular author, Hervey Allen, as given Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Alex B. Hanson of the Episcopal church. The review was given at the American Legion building as a project of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church.

Hervey Allen is a great author, especially when he forgets that he is speaking to this generation, and speaks from his own mind, the minister noted. In first volume of the novel Mr. Allen is trying to play up sex in such a way as to look "cute" to his audience, and if that volume were all of the book it would have died in its first edition, Mr. Hanson said. Following the minister further in the review we learn:

In the second volume, Mr. Allen becomes more interested in his own characters, sex becomes secondary, and in his analysis of human nature, and in his narrative appeal, Mr. Allen begins to rise to greatness. But it is not until the third volume is reached that the author shows himself fully as a great author. Here, he is no longer trying to strut himself as a "sex-modern" author, but constantly holds the heart of his reader in his spell by his sheer understanding of the inner human soul, and by his masterful use of narrative.

Anthony Adverse is a masterpiece. The one great defect in the book is that every character thinks and feels as would a person born since 1900. In the 1700's, Angelica thinks as would Amelia Farhart—her "career" comes first. And in the 1780's Anthony views the slave trade—himself a "black-bird," as would an Ohio man in this year.

Those who attended this review felt as has felt many another person—that if you know the fiction of your generation—you know your own heart. Sometimes they smiled, and sometimes they conformed a tear; but, in this review, Anthony Adverse became, to them, a living man; and a representative of the mind of today.

Six Millions To Be Spent For Relief In Texas This Winter

The House and Senate at Austin Saturday finally agreed to authorize issuance of six million dollars in State relief bonds to meet demands for bread among the State's indigent until March. The fund will be expended under direction of the State Board of Control.

At least 35 percent of the amount must be expended for labor, the committee stipulated. On work projects it was specified that 80 percent of the total must be expended for wages and 20 per cent for materials.

No wage scale was set for relief workers. Budgeting of the fund provides that $1,000,000 is to be expended during the months of October, November and December and $1,500,000 during January and February.

Mitchell county relief administrator expects to be able to continue certain projects under authority of the bill.

Mrs. P. K. Mackey, Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, and Misses Mary Frances Mackey and Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon took in the circus at Abilene Saturday.

I Bought a Hudson I have owned at least 25 cars. I am thoroughly satisfied with my judgment in purchasing your car, as it has performance, economy, comfort and price.—HENRY M. McCONAUGHY, Seattle.

I Bought a Terraplane I used to be a car driver, but not after I sat behind the wheel of a Terraplane. I'd never have a car again without Road Leaders like you furnish. Smoothest riding I've ever enjoyed.—A. A. CONY, ING, Cincinnati.

Does it pay to take your time about buying a car? Just ask Hudson and Terraplane owners. Of the thousands of men and women who have bought new Hudsons and Terraplanes this year, 5 out of every 8 looked at several other makes of cars before they decided.

They'll tell you how much you'll be ahead if you "don't buy any car too hurriedly."

We'll be glad to show you more owners' statements like these above, as well as sworn affidavits to certify the economy and low upkeep cost enjoyed by owners of Hudson-built cars.

You'll be interested, also, in the facts about the recent nation-wide "Challenge Tests." Only one competing car dared accept a wide open challenge to prove economy and performance—and was beaten in every test.

The facts about Hudson and Terraplane are here at our showrooms for you to see—more real brass tacks information than you ever got about any cars before. Come in and ride in these cars—drive them.

Corn Not Entitled To Credit For Saving Mitchell Citizen's Life, Writer Declares

It was more in keeping with law of averages and not any curative properties of the corn in question that saved a Mitchell county man from ill effects when bitten by a rattlesnake, a Fort Worth citizen writes in offering criticism to article published in this newspaper last week. The story in question outlined that a rural citizen, bitten by a snake, gave himself a few liberal doses of corn whiskey and never felt any ill effects.

"Snakes in the United States kill only about ten percent of the persons they bite," our correspondent goes on to say, and he quotes authorities to back up his contention. He continues:

"The greater percentage of those persons dying of snake bite succumb because of inadequate or delayed treatment. With adequate treatment, probably not more than two percent would die.

"That many snake bites do not prove fatal," he said, "is due to diminished venom when the snake is feeding, miscalculation of striking distance, interposition of clothing, bites in fatty areas where there are few blood vessels, and bites in areas having little connective tissue, such as toes and fingers."

Hard Winter Is In The Offing, Local Gas Manager Says

Wild geese have already started south, stepping up their usual schedules about a month, with the first flight in Texas reported in August by a Fort Worth citizen. Scientific minded gentlemen, observing this and similar occurrences in other parts of the state, have come forth with statements that early flights of geese foretell an early and a hard winter. M. O. Chapman, manager of the local gas company, explains that while he can't pose as a scientist, in his opinion gas users would do well to check over their heating equipment now. "Too many people put off looking over their gas equipment until the first norther hits," he explained.

"Now is the time to look over your heating equipment and have it set up. Wall cocks and old room heaters should be inspected and replaced if necessary. Whenever possible gas equipment should be connected with gas piping, if flexible tubing is used, it should be renewed as it is rarely good for more than one season. Additional heating equipment, if needed, should be purchased now, while gas appliance dealers have a complete selection, and installed before the last, minute rush. Vented automatic heating equipment for incris-

Story Of San Angelo Man Defeating The Depression Holds Interest Here

There is much to be gained through study of the plan adopted by a certain San Angelo citizen in defeating the depression, Jim Greene, county relief administrator, points out. The story, as told by Barney Bratten was published in the San Angelo Times for Sunday morning. Bratten had been out of a job for three years. The story follows:

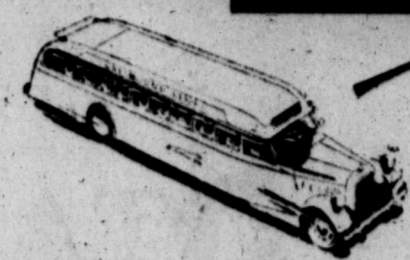

"First, I hunted cheap home rent. Next I cut my lights and gas off. Then I raked and scraped and got me an old trailer and hauled garbage for people at 10 cents per sack. I picked up some pecans and shelled them at night, selling them for 25 cents a pound. Times got tougher—so I looked about in the house and began selling furniture which was not exactly necessary, and at the end it got down pretty low before the mend came.

"I ate lots of good old red beans instead of steak and chicken. Plenty of corn bread instead of biscuits. Went out on a farm and worked for 75 cents per day and my dinner. My wife washed for the farmers' wives for vegetables, milk and butter. I cut wood and hauled it for them for wood for my good old wood cook stove. Smoked Duke's Mixture instead of Camels. Went to church instead of the movies. Walked many miles per day instead of direct relief and now am working 35 to 40 hours a week at 10 cents per hour and feel like a man.

Allred Winner In Battle For Place On Official Ballot

The Fourth Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio Saturday, in a unanimous decision, dissolved an interlocutory injunction issued by Judge W. W. McCrory of the Ninety-Fourth District Court to bar the name of James V. Allred, Democratic nominee for Governor, from the general election ballot because of an alleged excessive expenditure of campaign funds.

The main opinion was written by Chief Justice John H. Bickett, Jr., and concurrences were written by Associate Justices W. O. Murray and Edward W. Smith. Suit was brought by three plaintiffs who sought to keep Allred's name from the ballot on allegations he had spent more than $10,000 in campaigning during the two party primaries, the limit allowed by law. It was claimed that Allred had spent as much as $100,000. One of the plaintiffs was present when the appellate court handed down its decision late Saturday, but none of the attorneys of the complainants was present. It was expected, however, that a motion for rehearing would be presented and an effort made to take the case immediately to the Supreme Court.

WOMAN REARED HERE DIES IN FORT WORTH

Notice of the death on Monday of Mrs. B. H. Kennedy of Fort Worth, who will be remembered by many Coloradans as Miss Maude Fortner, appeared in Tuesday morning's Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Mrs. Kennedy, who was 55 years of age, was teacher of social science in William James Junior High School in Fort Worth at the time of her death, but had been on a leave of absence from her duties since last February. She had taught in Fort Worth schools for twenty-two years. As Maude Fortner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Fortner, Mrs. Kennedy was reared in Colorado. Her parents were among the prominent early citizens here, living in South Colorado. She was married here to B. H. Kennedy, who later became a Methodist minister. The Rev. Mr. Kennedy was buried here several years ago. Survivors of Mrs. Kennedy include her sister, Mrs. B. O. Crozier of Houston, the former Miss Lulu Fortner; a brother, Fred M. Fortner of Philadelphia; and a daughter, Miss Maude Kennedy of Fort Worth. Burial was in Fort Worth Tuesday afternoon.

ROGERS HAS P.T.A. PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

Marking the first meeting of the Rogers P. T. A. for the year, a program was held at Rogers school last Friday evening with several Coloradans taking part. A large crowd was in attendance. The Rev. Cal C. Wright, pastor of the Methodist Church, was principal speaker. Dr. C. L. Root sang, with Mrs. Lurline McCreeless and James Herrington as accompanists. At the P. T. A.'s business session Mrs. H. H. Callan was elected president and Mrs. Jack Hamilton secretary. Mrs. C. W. Burford is retiring president. Games of 42 were played after the close of the program.

Long-Used Laxative

To be bought and used as needed for many, many years, speaks well for the reliability of Theford's Black-Draught, purely vegetable family laxative. Mr. C. E. Ratliff writes from Hinton, W. After all these years, I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught."

BIG SPRING YOUTH WHO LOST LIFE IN WYOMING MISHAP GIVEN BURIAL

The body of Aubrey Cook, 22, Big Spring youth who a few weeks ago enlisted as a CCC recruit, arrived in Big Spring Wednesday from Cody, Wyoming. Burial rites followed with the Eberley Funeral home in charge. Cook lost his life in waters of the Shoshone river near Cody, Wednesday night of last week when the car in which he and four other persons were riding crashed into a retaining wall around a canyon. In attempting to jump free of the machine, he plunged 60 feet into the river below. Other occupants of the car were unhurt.

NOLAN COTTON HARVEST SOON OVER, PAPER SAYS

There was a time

—when old-fashioned heating systems blistered your face while your back shivered.

But now...

with natural gas, winter is just another pleasant season in the modern home.

A timely reminder

Days are growing shorter, nights longer, and the first cold days of winter are on the way.

Now is the practical time to check up your heating equipment while winter is still "around the corner." Don't let obsolete or inadequate heating rob you of a pleasant indoor climate. Improved gas heating equipment and your dependable gas service will give you care-free, inexpensive comfort at the touch of a match and you'll find just the type heater to fit your particular need on display at your gas company or appliance dealer.

If this were a gasless community, the next order of business would be laying in a supply of coal or wood. Of course, your dependable gas service makes this fuss and bother unnecessary. All through the summer months your gas company has been "keeping your fuel service faithful"—improving facilities so that you may have the safety and security of a dependable natural gas supply again this winter.

If for any reason your gas meter is not connected ready for winter—call your gas company NOW and avoid the rush of that first "norther."

An ample gas supply has been provided... pipe lines and distributing lines have been checked over... compressor stations have been overhauled. In fact, every detail of your gas service has been carefully perfected to assist you in stopping Jack Frost at the threshold of your home.

WILL COLORADO STAGE 'COME-BACK'? FANS PONDER

WOLVES HOLD PLOWBOYS TO 6-POINT LEAD DURING OPENING CONTEST FRIDAY

Visitors Heavier Than Local Gridsters And Held The Point Of Experience

Battling against strong odds that made them the underdog from the first kick-off to final play the Wolves Friday afternoon held the Roscoe Plowboys to a 6-0 scoring record in a non-conference game at Cantrill Field. It was the first time for some of the local men to play football and it was the first time they had faced an antagonist under leadership of their new coach, Jim Reese.

Colorado won the opening kick-off and for a few minutes things looked all but favorable for the visitors. The Plowboys were held on downs when Wolf forwards plowed through the heavier line to stop progress of the ball carriers.

Red Moon Morrison tore off 20 yards through the line and Paul Kniff moved the pigskin ahead another 20 yards in a run around left end. The ball was on Roscoe's 30 yard line and things were looking good for the Wolves. But an attempted pass, Red Moon to Cooper, was intercepted near the Plowboy pay stripe and returned to their 22 yard line.

The threatened spurt by the

Roby Lions, Strong Class B Outfit, Will Invade Wolf Rendezvous This Afternoon

The Roby Lions, among the formidable Class B conference outfits in these parts, are to invade rendezvous of the Wolves Friday afternoon for a non-conference game. The battle is to be staged at Cantrill Field, beginning at 3:30.

"We need your support," is appealingly heralded here by the Wolf mentor and school authorities. The appeal is that Colorado fans support the game in keeping with determined spirit of the Wolf pack to annex a winning score. "The boys are serious over this game and really plan entering the melee determined to win," to quote statement coming from the high school building. Roby is to bring an equally determined machine to Colorado. Information from 'den of the Lions indicate that a strong fan delegation is to accompany the team to Colorado.

This will be second game to be played by the local boys this season and experience gained during fight with the powerful Roscoe Plowboys last Friday should be of material help in advancing power of the Wolves, in both the aspect of brawn and technique.

Captain to lead the Wolves in the game will not be announced until just before the opening gun.

Wolves was smothered by the heavier machine and for remainder of the period fighting was centered about midfield with first one and then the other in possession of the ball.

Colorado staged another serious threat as the second period opened. Red Moon completed a long lateral pass from his 40 yard stripe and the ball was carried to 30 yard line of the Plowboys before being downed. Colorado was held on downs. Attempted progress through the air by both teams failed as a rule and penalties were much in vogue. The half ended scoreless with Roscoe credited with five first downs to three by the Wolves.

Colorado kicked to M. Jones, towering member of the "Jones Brothers" two lads who did much to carry their club through to victory. The ball was returned to Roscoe's 10 yard stripe. Long lateral pass was intercepted by Red Moon on Colorado's 45-yard marker. Center and end plunges carried the ball to Roscoe's 25 yard line where Colorado again offered serious threat to march across the enemy pay stripe. Another game of see-saw was enacted as the opposing teams drew penalties at regular intervals. Colorado attempted to break through by passing but the ball was either knocked down or went wild.

The ball went over on downs and Roscoe staged a sensational play from her 35 yard line after Emerson, towering forward, took the pig-

PLAY THE GAME CLEAN JIM REESE TELLS HIS CHARGES IN FOOTBALL

"It will not be whether you won or lost but how you played the game," is a time honored adage that Jim Reese believes should apply to football as well as the more serious aspects of life.

In talking things over with his charges between halves Friday afternoon the recently elected mentor strongly urged that they play the game in such manner as to ever reflect clean sportsmanship.

"You may lose in so far as figures on the score board are concerned, but let us win in the higher sense of clean sports," was his statement.

Lend Wolves Your Moral Support, Is Bid By New Coach

Strong bid that the Lions Club lend strong moral support to the Wolves during conference games soon to be under way was made Friday by Jim Reese, recently elected coach of the squad. The mentor was brought to the club as a guest of John E. Watson, superintendent of schools.

Special reference was made to influence for greater stamina presence of local folk ever has on the bars as they go onto the gridiron to defend the name of their school.

The coach offered no promises of a winning team but left the impression things would not be disastrous for the Wolves, if fans of the home town fought with them in the games to follow.

Veteran Colorado Newspaper Man Gives Version Of Impressions Left By Circus

Writing in the Abilene Morning News for Sunday, F. B. Whipkey, veteran Colorado publisher, gives some interesting versions on the circus. Mr. Whipkey was among Coloradoans visiting the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus in Abilene Saturday afternoon. After the show he went to office of the Abilene newspaper and wrote the following:

Yes, we went to the circus. A crowd of Colorado folks drove to Abilene on Saturday solely to see the circus.

Barnum was right. This was forcibly brought out Saturday in Abilene when the circus came. The American people like to be humbugged, as evidenced by the very great attendance at the circus, and the "biting" at the various schemes. Possibly there has been no greater humbug than Phineas T. Barnum, but he was honest enough to admit it.

A day in old Rome—hardly that—was transferred to Abilene Saturday. The circus had its beginning with the ancient rulers of the Italian city, and the idea has prevailed to provide the modern world with a thrilling entertainment that never fails to get plenty of attention.

The circus has come and gone. Even though it left a wake of dust, a voidness in our pocketbooks and a ringing in our ears, many a little heart was glad, and we feel that it was worth the price. The children of Abilene and Taylor county enjoyed the circus, as did many of the older persons, and it is always worth the price to give the children a chance to see things that they want to see so dearly.

Yes, grown men, the circuses was worth the price. Those who frown upon circuses because they are alleged to "take money out of the community" should remember that children themselves are costly and frequently take the money out of the community. But they are worth more than they cost. You will say so. Still circuses are not for children alone. Circuses are for everybody who wants to see animals from foreign parts, clowns from only heaven knows where, tumblers who are amazingly tumblersome, trapeze performers who do death defying swings, leaps and catches at the top of the tent with only a net under them for protection.

Best of all, it is only in a circus that you see beautiful ladies in tight, riding galloping horses forward, backward and sideways. The circus is foreign travel brought to where you sit on a more or less comfortable seat. The circus is a medley of strange sights, exotic smells and cosmopolitan connotations. The camel reflects for deserts, the elephants bring the jungle to our door, the hippopotamus reminds of Nineveh and Tyre, and the tiger tells of Nimrod, mighty hunter before the Lord. The peanuts and the lemonade are reflectors of the carabansaries when dusty travelers find rest and refreshment, and the ladies who ride the broad horses typify the hours who inhabit the Arabian heaven. The circus is worth the money.

We were a quiet and sober set, Little accustomed to noise and fret, Decent and modest at work or play, And oh, so proper in every way.

Before we went to the circus, Nobody had ever seen us go At all too fast or at all too slow; No matter how gladly we talked or sang

We never had used a word of slang, Before we went to the circus.

Alas and alas 'tis a woeful sight, The way we are changed as I write, Father is swaying against the breeze, Hung by the toes from a high trapeze, Trying to copy the circus.

The boys on their heads, with feet in air, Are riding wild horses on the side-walk brick, Are balancing tubs for a juggling trick.

The girls have painted their hands and face And got themselves up for an Indian race, As they saw them do at the circus.

Mother high up on the table stands, Swinging the baby with both her hands, Swinging the baby with many a rub, Brandishing him like an Indian club, While baby himself, in a terrible fright

Howls like a Zulu from morn 'til night, Since we went to the circus.

Alas and alas, I can only say I wish in the night, I wish in the day,

BUSINESS GOOD DURING SATURDAY WITH STORES THAT WENT FOR TRADE

It was to be noticed that business during Saturday was unusually good at those Colorado stores and shops in which the management went after business through advertising in this newspaper. One of the larger places reports that the largest volume of business for the year was realized.

Business is going to be good with the progressive merchant during remainder of the Fall and Winter season. History is repeating, in that it is easy to note that the merchant actually out to induce customers into their store is getting his share of patronage.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP FARMER IN BIG SPRING; $200 IN CASH IS LOOT

BIG SPRING.—A. C. Polado, Ackerly, was hijacked of $201 near the Crawford Hotel Saturday at 10:30 P. M. His assailant stepped out from the dark and drove a pistol into his abdomen and reached into shirt pockets where he had his money, he said. Polado described the hijacker as a man about 35 years of age, light brown hair, average height, rather thin and wearing a brown suit and stiff brim straw hat.

"I saw that man watching me in the hotel lobby when I was waiting for a truck to go home in," said Polado. "I know now he saw the bills I was carrying when I got a cold drink and reached into my pocket for change."

He said that he and a boy had started toward a truck which an acquaintance was driving. Without warning, the hijacker held him up, relieving him of all his money. Half an hour later Polado was trying to find the truck. He is a farmer residing northwest of Ackerly.

Record Was 'Just Another Newspaper' 29 Years Ago, Mrs. H. B. Smoot Recalls

A frank confession that she doesn't remember much about the first issues of the Colorado Record, which is observing the beginning of its thirtieth year this week, was made Tuesday morning by Mrs. H. B. Smoot.

Because she has lived in Colorado more than fifty years, and because she is to be paid special honor by Colorado Baptists when they celebrate their Golden Anniversary in November, Mrs. Smoot was being questioned about her memories of the Record's beginning and about her fifty years as a Baptist in Colorado.

Explaining why she has no definite recollection of the first issues of the Record, Mrs. Smoot said:

"I suppose I thought of it at first as just another newspaper that would dwindle away. We'd been having that kind for several years when The Record was launched. I do remember the first time I heard that the Whiskeys seemed to be nice people. Mrs. T. A. Kindred (the woman who began The Record, selling it to the Whiskeys in a few months) was well-thought-of, but she was here so short a time."

When Mrs. Smoot came to Colorado with her husband and his mother, Mrs. M. B. Smoot, in May, 1883, The Colorado Clipper was appearing weekly. Alfred Toier, whom she terms "a fine man", was its editor. She recalled the time, several years after the Smoots came to Colorado, when he let the women of the Baptist church put out his paper and have all they made to apply on building the Baptist church which eventually gave place to the present modern structure. Mrs. M. B. Smoot was editor that week and Mrs. F. M. Burns was one of her helpers.

A desire to "come west," expressed by the late H. B. Smoot to a friend, was the thing that resulted in the Smoot family coming to Colorado. Mr. Smoot was employed in Dallas, where he and Mrs. Smoot had moved from Bryan some six months before. He and Colonel John James, an early official of the old City Nat-

GOODRICH COMPANY HAS DONE BUSINESS FOR LONG PERIOD, DEALER RECALLS

Brown Tells History Of Tire Concern Founded Sixty Four Years Ago

More than sixty-four years of rubber product manufacture during which it expanded from a small enterprise to one of America's outstanding corporations is the history of The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, according to J. Brown who recently was appointed a tire dealer to represent Goodrich in Colorado.

"The Goodrich Company was founded in Akron, Ohio, its present location by Dr. B. F. Goodrich, a Civil War surgeon," Mr. Brown says. "From a modest beginning during which production consisted of wringer rolls, heaving carriage tires and fire hose, the Goodrich Company has grown until today the product list embraces more than 32,000 rubber articles.

"Goodrich was the first rubber company west of the Allegheny Mountains and was America's first tire manufacturing concern. As a pioneer in the industry, Goodrich constantly developed new products, new methods of manufacture and new compounds, many of which have been adopted by the entire rubber industry.

"Dr. Goodrich, when he founded the company, told his employees that 'Goodrich must build goods destined for service', a policy that has remained the guiding spirit through more than three-score years," Brown says.

The continued development of new products indicates that Goodrich remains a pioneer. The company maintains a large research staff and employs a testing fleet to prove by actual service each new development.

J. Brown, located on East Hill, sells the complete Goodrich line of Silvertown and Cavalier tires, tubes and accessories.

REV. ELLIOTT HOLDS MEETING IN SAWYER

The Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, left Tuesday to open a meeting in Sawyer. He will be gone over Sunday and no church services will be held at his church here at either the morning or evening hours.

ional Bank here and a former president of A. & M. College, had been friends in Bryan.

One day Colonel James, in Dallas on business, stopped in to see Mr. Smoot and the latter mentioned the fact that he wanted to move west and would consider a business opening out here. It was only a short while after Colonel James' return to Colorado that he wired Mr. Smoot to come to Colorado and work in the bank as a bookkeeper.

That was the beginning of the Smoot family's prominence in the banking business of Colorado, for Mr. Smoot was soon made an assistant cashier, and from there continued his rise.

Mrs. H. B. Smoot and Mrs. M. B. Smoot had to wait until Mr. Smoot could have a house built for them before they could follow him to Colorado. And the house he built for them is the one now occupied by J. R. Sorrells and family, directly east of the First Baptist Church.

The situation of her first home was appropriate to the life which Mrs. H. B. Smoot has led during the more than fifty years she has been in Colorado, for the church stood then where it stands now and her life has been interwoven with its history.

Rev. Peter Turner was pastor of the church then, devoting only part of his time to it. Jim Smith, who was then a bookkeeper for the firm of Burns, Walker and Company and who later became a member of the company, was organist. Mr. Smith recently died in Amarillo.

Both the Mrs. Smoots quickly became active in church work. Sunday School was a union affair, held in a frame building just west of the church, and S. N. Sherwin was superintendent. Mrs. Smoot recalls that two members of the first class of boys she taught were Gardner Harness and the late Royall G. Smith. From that time until just the past few years Mrs. Smoot has taught in the Baptist Sunday School.

Some members of the Baptist church at or soon after the time Mrs. Smoot came here were Mrs. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dunn, Mrs. A. C. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Slaughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hooper, Judge, and Mrs. George W. Smith, J. B. Harness, B. F. Yule, John Walker, F. M. Brown, Q. Mullin, Mrs. Largent, S. S. Metz, Tom Van Tuy, and others.

Mrs. Smoot recounts the past reluctantly.

"I'm so afraid I'll leave out someone or get my dates confused," she explains. "Memory is such an unreliable thing. I catch myself thinking, 'I'll ask Mrs. George W. Smith about that,' and then I remember that she is gone. I think of someone else and they are gone, too."

Rains Reported In West Texas Sunday Add To Prospects

BIG SPRING.—Rains falling Sunday night cheered farmers west and north of here. Forecasts of additional precipitation kept stockmen and farmers to the south and west in hopes Monday that August showers would be followed by an early autumn rain. Unofficial reports said that 3 inches fell in Midland. All streets were carrying heavy streams of water Sunday midnight. Lamesa, long in a dry spot, received a 1.75 inch rain falling in successive heavy downpours. Vincent reported approximately a 3 inch rain, tapering off to a bare shower northwest. Rains were also lighter south of Vincent. Good rains were reported all the way to Lubbock.

Stanton experienced a good rain. Precipitation at the United States Weather Bureau at the airport amounted to .20 inches. At the U. S. Experiment Farm .30 inches fell. A few miles north of here the rain grew heavier and gradually increased in intensity to Lamesa. While Big Spring received a refreshing shower, the precipitation slackened south and completely played out at the end of the pavement on Highway No. 9, south.

LOONEY OPENS WITH PROGRAM ON MONDAY

Looney school began its year's work with a program Monday morning. Rev. Cal C. Wright of the Methodist Church being the principal speaker. Singing led by W. K. Miles was also part of the program. The faculty for this year is the same as last—Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Chism and Miss Mamie Lou Bedford.

WOMEN, GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

By MISS EMMA GUNTER, Home Demonstration Agent

The Iatan home demonstration club met Sept. 20th with 10 members and 4 visitors present at the home of Mrs. Emma Sutphen. The business for the day was taken up. It was decided that the picnic planned earlier in the month will be held Friday night, September 28th in connection with the P. T. A. organization. The council report was given, Mrs. E. L. McElhatten was designated a yeast bread demonstrator.

The president selected Mrs. J. M. Rogers, Mrs. Geo. Edwards and Mrs. Jeff Hillhouse to represent the club in the team demonstration in November. They are to select their own subject to work out their demonstration from. Each club will have a team and will give the demonstration before their local club first then before the council meeting in November and then before a new club or in an unorganized community. The club adjourned early so that some of the women could play in a game of handball against the school teachers. The next meeting will be October 4 at Mrs. Edwards.

The club girls selected by the county home demonstration agent to represent Mitchell County at the Educational Encampment at Dallas Fair October 8-12 are mailing their canned products with their own records and club histories this week.

Jauree Burford of Rogers club acted as bedroom improvement demonstrator for her club this year and she is sending a pint of pear preserves and a pint of red and green pepper relish with her history and record. Jauree has done exceptionally well with her bedroom work and has completed her clothing requirements and her garden work was attempted but was a failure on account of drought, rabbits and crows but she really did some work. She attended the bedroom improvement Achievement day of the Carr girls' club and also the Girls' Club Rally in Colorado.

Dorothy Thompson first year club girl of Loomery Club has been a very enthusiastic worker this year. Her first endeavors were in clothing and she worked independently of her mother and learned many things in making her school slip and dress. Dorothy attempted gardening also but failed even though she had a windmill to water her garden from. She is sending a similar exhibit to the other girls to Dallas. Her food preservation work was cut short but she has learned how to make green tomato relish, red and green pepper relish and pear preserves.

A former club girl of Foard County was Sophie Smith of Silver club. Sophie was fortunate in living in the teacherage for she had the opportunity to help repaper the house, go over the wood work with varnish, put on an oil finish on the floors and to build a new clothes closet. She refinished a chair and did her required sewing in the clothing work even though she did cry several times in the construction of the garments. Her food preservation work gave her an opportunity to learn how to make two very simple and inexpensive relishes for the family use. Sophie and her club attended the Bedroom Achievement Day and the Rally Day program.

Thus we find that these girls have done the best they could under existing circumstances and have succeeded in most of their goals this year, learning lessons that will stay with them for years. They have been prompt in answering reports and sending in information, besides attending every club activity that they could.

Mrs. Jeff Hillhouse, garden demonstrator for the Iatan club has succeeded in having a very early crop of mustard green and turnip greens in her front yard. Her other garden report will be turned in soon, which supplied fresh vegetables for her table as well as having some surplus for canning for herself and a neighbor.

The Hyman home demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. W. G. McAlpine, September 21st, with six members present.

Mrs. Carl Lowry gave a report on the council meeting.

The club decided to have a birthday basket for the purpose of making money for the club. Each member is to give as many pennies on her birthday as she is years old.

The club adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Tom Smallwood, October 5th.

The home demonstration club met with Mrs. B. B. Howell, September 19, with four members present. The following committees were appointed for Work Achievement Day:

Invitation, Mrs. J. C. Franklin; Program, Mrs. J. M. Jones; Exhibits of Cooperators, Mrs. B. H. Henson and R. K. Howell; Refreshments, Mrs. B. B. Howell and Mrs. T. W. Daugherty.

Report of council meeting given by Mrs. J. C. Shepherd.

A pillow top was made of the candlewick tufts and suggestions of designs for bedspreads were offered.

Refreshments of four kinds of cookies and orangeade were served at the social hour.

Meeting adjourned to meet Oct. 3 with Mrs. J. C. Franklin.

Chevrolet Truck Is Duly Christened In Japanese Ceremony

First a shower of champagne, then a ritual of purification and blessing, greeted a Chevrolet truck when it rolled off the assembly line at Osaka, Japan, recently.

The Chevrolet was selected for these special honors because it marked the completion by General Motors Japan, Ltd., of the 70,000th unit in 7 years. In Japan, 7 is regarded as the number particularly favored with good luck.

The Osaka plant has similarly celebrated other important occasions as when it turned out an all gold car (No. 50,000), and a car colored to match the hoo-bird (No. 60,000).

At the time of the ceremony, a caravan of twenty Chevrolet units was touring central and northeastern Japan. Attendance at the exhibits staged enroute was put at two million. At Kobe, 63,700 attended the first showing.

The caravan comprised all models of passenger cars and various truck models. Included was a handsomely equipped parlor coach, complete with berths, lavatory, shower bath, and other requisites for touring. This conveyance, it is said, greatly interested His Imperial Highness, Prince Chichibu.

Sunday School still on the climb. Had two more present Sunday than last but the Bible class won the golden star reading the most chapters.

We had a nice crowd at prayer meeting Sunday night and a fine lesson with Bro. B. L. Kimbell leader. Claud Hale will lead next Sunday night. We invite everyone that does not have prayer meeting at other places to come.

Little Marvin Walker enjoyed his 7th birthday dinner Sunday which the folks enjoyed.

The epidemic of accidents has not stopped here as Ralph Walker who got his arm broken the 15th of June got the end of a finger cut off Monday while sliding feed. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Hugh Wells and family and Denfer Hale were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prescott's Sunday.

The musical at Mrs. Hugh Wells' was well enjoyed and a musical will be held at Mr. Tom Webb's next Saturday night.

TALK WON'T PUT WEIGHT ON CATTLE and TALK can't put SAFETY and MILEAGE into TIRES

It would be easy to make money in the cattle business if ranchers could use the gift of gab to add weight and raise prices. But talk won't do it. And saying that a tire won't blow out doesn't prevent it from blowing out. And claiming that a tire is three or four times safer or that it will run many thousands of miles farther doesn't make any tire safer or last longer. Talk doesn't build good tires. Only rubber and cotton and long experience can do that. And that is why Seiberling tires are FACT tires—not CLAIM tires. They are built by a man who has been building good tires since 1898 and who has more major tire inventions to his credit than any other man.

Come in and let us demonstrate the facts about Seiberling tires. Let us show you how the exclusive Seiberling Vapor Cure process adds greatly to tire mileage—to tire safety and to ultimate tire economy.

SEIBERLING Vapor Cured TIRES

I have sold Tires in Colorado for nine years. Never have I had a better Tire to offer the tire buying public than I have today. See the Seiberling Tire before you buy Tires.

Methodist Women Closed Summer's Work With Reports Given At Monday Meeting

Closing their quarterly division of work with the giving of reports for the past three months, members of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church with Mrs. J. G. Merritt, president, in charge.
At the opening of the meeting the scripture reading was brought by Mrs. A. B. Blanks, who gave a very well-received comment. Mrs. Ace McShan told of the "Work of the Deaconess in the Rural South." Mrs. Merritt discussed work done during the quarter just closing.

The reports which are to be sent off by the first were given by the various officers, and then the circle reports were heard.
The enormous amount of work done during the hot summer months by the Rainbow Circle, of which Mrs. Ed Grubbs is chairman, came in for much favorable comment. Mem-

R. BERGER OF LORAIN AND HIS TRAINED DOG PRESENTED LIONS CLUB

R. Berger, farmer of a few miles east from Loraine, came to town Friday with one of his pedigreed German police dogs to entertain members of the Lions Club. He was presented by Roy Dozier, member of the program committee.

The visitor gave a program of music on his native German accordion and then brought the dog to the platform. It was interesting to note how the animal had been trained to do whatever told by her owner. It might be of interest to recall that the dog, said to be among the best bred of the strain in this country, was sent Berger by a friend in New York City.

TEXAS FURNISHED ONLY DRUNK SEEN AT ANNUAL BARBER UNION MEETING

Doug Rutherford returned late Thursday from Indianapolis, Ind., where he attended sessions of the annual convention, International Journeymen Barbers Association of America. Rutherford was sent as a delegate from the Colorado local.

"I saw only one drunk during the entire convention and this fellow was from Texas," Rutherford stated Friday morning.

"I am an antique dealer. I try to sell railroad tickets," Mr. Jensen said. "We are operating the finest passenger train in the United States right through your city but it has been a long time since we received a passenger in Colorado. Perhaps you are so fond of your town you would leave reluctantly."

Jensen conferred with officials of the club while here on routes to Mexico City next Summer. It is tentatively planned to operate a special train from here to that city for annual convention of Lions International.

'ANTIQUE DEALER' TALKS ABOUT BUSINESS AFFAIRS AT LIONS CLUB MEETING

Frank Jensen of Dallas, general passenger agent for the Texas & Pacific railway, addressed the Lions Club Friday, referring to his business of interesting the public in the rail system in humorous vein.

"I am an antique dealer. I try to sell railroad tickets," Mr. Jensen said. "We are operating the finest passenger train in the United States right through your city but it has been a long time since we received a passenger in Colorado. Perhaps you

ROY FARMER HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED WITH THIS PAPER THRU THE YEARS

In giving thought to another anniversary edition of The Record the publishers would not overlook the opportunity for making reference to their good friend, Roy Farmer, who during a number of years has been among the close personal friends of the paper and the employees.

Royal is chief mailing clerk and every Thursday afternoon he is to be found at his desk in the office making up mailing lists for machine from which the name of each subscriber is labeled on the paper.

Every person connected with the paper appreciates Roy for his loyalty and active support.

Rural Trustees Asked To Sign Applications

All rural school trustees expecting to get aid for their schools this year are requested to come to the office of Mrs. Ruby McGill Dodge, county superintendent, and sign their applications immediately.

MUMPSEY WALLACE WAS ELECTED CAPTAIN WHEN WOLVES OPENED SEASON

Mumpsey Wallace holds the distinction of being first man on the Wolf squad to hold the post of captain as scheduled games for the year were formally opened. Under plan adopted at close of the season last year a captain is to be elected by the boys just before entering into the fight. The post is to be held only during the one game.

Brady Warren, one of the best men to wear the Wolf uniform last season, was out of the playing Friday afternoon due to an injured arm. And it is not definitely known just when he will be back in his place in the line-up.

Be loyal, trade in Colorado.

Governors, Past And Future, Supply Bits Of Interesting News For Texas Readers

Attorney General James V. Alfred has a new address. It is "Seclusion." Whether he has taken refuge from the hordes of office seekers, or is seeking an undisturbed chance to plan for his governorship, is unsettled. One report says he will hie to Washington after the general election and talk relief direct with federal authorities.

Former Governor O. B. Colquitt, until recently a member of the federal labor mediation board, attributes the end of his services to not being a "brain trust." It is not necessary to remove him from the board upon which he had succeeded another former governor of Texas, Pat M. Neff. The law creating the board is so worded that mere failure to remove him vacated the office at the end of his specified term. Most officials remain in office until successors are named.

Colquitt is now the oldest living ex-governor of Texas and that is his only office, as he points out. Except for whitened hair, he shows little sign of passing years. Complimented on his youthful appearance when he visited the legislature recently, he told this incident:

Leaving the Governor's office after an exceptionally hard and long day, he met two men as he walked down the tree-shaded walk. One asked: "What's the matter? You look terrible." The other said: "Governor, you look younger than you did 20 years ago."

Former governors like to tell jokes on themselves. Dan Moody's favorite is that his check was turned down by one of his own appointees to a state office. He mentioned no name but when the word "she" slipped out, it became apparent that Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state in both the Moody and Ferguson administrations, was the person. Her office rule prohibited accepting any personal check for state fees or charges. Henry Ford's check was once turned down in the same office.

Colquitt says he is another example of the fact that holding public office does not pay in dollars and cents. He computed recently that he received $48,000 pay and spent $56,000. Former Governor Neff estimated that it cost him $80,000 to be governor of Texas. He included in the estimate fees that he might reasonably have expected to earn if he had continued law practice.

There are legal kinks as well as stream, twists that have to be straightened out in rectification of the United States-Mexico boundary as defined by the Rio Grande. El Paso representatives found that out and

FARMER TO DETERMINE IF CORN-HOG CONTRACTS ARE TO BE CONTINUED IN 1935

Referendum Vote Slated For October, County Agent Baskin Informed

Corn-hog contract signers in Mitchell county will be asked to vote on the 1935 plan of the corn-hog section of the AAA according to word received here by County Farm Demonstration Agent B. J. Baskin from E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension Service husbandman. The referendum is set for the first week of October.

Regenbrecht represented the Texas Extension Service in the AAA meeting held recently in Kansas City where farmers and representatives from state agricultural colleges from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas met to make recommendations for the next steps in the corn-hog program. The first question discussed at Kansas City and to be voted on by corn-hog contract signers is whether or not there shall be any sort of adjustment program in this field, Regenbrecht stated.

The second point to be decided is whether the contract shall deal with corn only, or hogs only, or by a joint contract as in 1934.

The third question will ask for preference on the type of contract which they wish to follow in the 1935 program. This refers to a possible unified contract for the six basic grains: wheat, corn, rye, barley, grain sorghums and flax. It would represent a shift from several single crop contracts to a broad program of developing better systems of farming through less intensive use of land, conservation of soil resources, and use of land for those crops for which it is best adapted.

The fourth question will be voted on only by those contract signers who are grain sorghum growers for grain. It will ask if they prefer that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract. The exact wording of the questions will be available at the time of the referendum.

At Kansas City the voting was that benefit payments be made on both corn and hogs, that the established 1932-33 base in the 1934 program for both corn and hogs be used, with benefit payments of $2 per head on 75 percent of the 1932-33 hogs, and of 40 cents per bushel on the appraised yield of contracted corn acres; and that the growing of hogs be permitted up to 80 percent or 85 percent of the base, and corn acreage increased up to 75 percent to 90 percent of the base, the exact percentage to be optional.

Other recommendations made by the conference were that contracted corn acreage be used without restriction for hay, pasture, soil improvement, soil erosion prevention crops, fallowing, or for forest plantings; that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract on the same basis as corn as to adjustments, benefits and tax; and that the base of processing tax be broadened to include other commodities in proportion to the benefits accruing to them from this program.

It was also recommended that the plan for warehousing corn on the farm be continued and the same principle extended to other grains, and that the 1935 corn-hog contract be made a step toward a long-time contract program to begin in 1936. It was asked that the referendum be held the first week in October; that the questions be clarified and made more specific; and that the poll be taken by unpaid workers. "It must be remembered that these were merely recommendations to the AAA and that they may or may not be followed," Regenbrecht said.

offered a bill in the Texas legislature that permits Texas to cede to the federal government the river bed and banks where necessary to effect the rectification.

Claude C. Westerfeld, who comes to the state senate in January as successor to Sen. George Purl, is a former law partner of District Judge W. F. Robertson of 126th District court, Austin. His first call on a visit to the capital city was upon the judge.

Texas legislators still are trying to decide if drought, dollar tinkering, or cotton reduction caused the rise in cotton prices. Experts assigned all three reasons. Some named them singly, some in combination and some joined the three.

History Of The Record Has Been Closely Interwoven With Progress Of West Texas

History that during the past twenty-nine years has noted progress of The Record has in many respects reflected the progress of this section of West Texas. The paper has through the years maintained the policy of championing every objective believed to be for the advancement of this citizenship and this area.

On that September day in 1905 when Fred and Abe Whipple took charge of the paper they did not have much over which to boast. The plant equipment was meagre, some of it even in that day obsolete, and the struggling sheet was housed in a rented building.

There is to be found in the pages of history dealing with that time a similar condition with respect to territory The Record was founded to serve. Mitchell county was undeveloped, in a sense, and Colorado was a typical county seat town, unincorporated and possessing few of the progressive conveniences as a means of making living here preferable.

But the Whipkeys visioned progress toward better days and they set to the task of championing a determined drive to such a goal. The Record and Colorado and Mitchell county have progressed together during the intervening years until today each of them is to be reckoned as among the leaders in their respective capacities—a newspaper second to none in the area, a splendid city of 5,000 progressive people and a county filled with an Anglo-Saxon citizenship not exceeded within borders of the Lone Star State.

Republican Reader Of The Record Has 'Remedy' To Offer

A reader of The Record who admits that his political affiliation is still with the GOP, sends in the following communication with request it be given space in the news section:

A friend of mine in New England has a neighbor who has received a "Government check" for $1,000.00 this year for not raising hogs. So my friend now wants to go into the business himself, he not being very prosperous just now; he says, in fact, the idea of not raising hogs appeals to him very strongly.

Of course, he will need a hired man, and that is where I come in. I write to you as to your opinion of the best kind of farm not to raise hogs, on the best strain of hogs not to raise, and how best to keep an inventory of the hogs you are not raising. Also, do you think capital could be raised by issuance of non-hog-raising gold bonds?

A friend who got the thousand dollars got it for not raising 500 hogs. Now he wants to raise 1,000 hogs, so you see the possible profits are only limited. The number of hogs we do not raise.

The other fellow had been raising hogs for 40 years and never made more than $400 in any one year. Kind of pathetic isn't it, to think how he wasted his life raising hogs when he could have made so much more not raising them?

I will thank you for any advice you may offer.

Miss Helen Stout, Sherman Hart, and Ross Dixon, Jr., were among Coloradans at the circus in Big Spring Friday night.

The HOWL

Edited by Pupils of Colorado High School

EDITORIAL

Once again the doors of Colorado High opened to receive the group of boys and girls who make up our more student body than of 1934-35. New ones, old ones, fat ones, lean ones, bright ones, dull ones, all gathered to begin the new year. A few lips drooped, a few brows puckered, but the vast majority were smiling old friends and making new ones, gathering up textbooks, and leaving class rooms. There was a keen enthusiasm and good fellowship.

Let us keep this feeling of comradeship and industry alive throughout the year, and make this session not only the biggest, but the best.

CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS

Watch for spots, little stomachs, bad breath, restlessness, loss of weight, itching around nose and arms. They may have pin or round worms. Whites Cream Vermifuge has safely and for years, reliably expelled the worms and toned the delicate tract. Whites Cream Vermifuge recommended by druggists.

THE TWELFTH MAN PREPARES TO SUPPORT THE WOLVES

The pep leader for this season is Sarah Melton, assisted by June Cox and Milba Slaton. The sponsor is Miss Barrett.

The group met last week and decided on the uniforms. They are to be black skirts with red sweaters and black and red tams.

They are working hard on the formation for the next game. The formation is to be the spelling of WOLVES.

FOOTBALL

The Colorado Wolves are now going through hard workouts in preparation of their second game to be played on Centennial Field. This will be one of the three games of the Wolves to be played on Centennial Field. A conference bout with McCamey is slated for the third game here.

The Wolves put up a stubborn battle against the Roscoe Plowboys here last Friday afternoon, losing 6-0.

This was a hard fought battle but the Colorado Wolves were finally forced to yield to the stronger Roscoe eleven. This was the first victory of the Plowboys over the Wolves in several years.

The Wolves are working at a disadvantage this year because of the number of inexperienced men and therefore need the help and backing of every pupil in the entire student body, so if the spirit is in you, let them know it.

LA TERTULIA MEETING

La Tertulia met Monday morning, September 24, in Miss Smith's room. The following officers were elected: president, Ruth Smith; vice-president, George Kiker; secretary, Billie Berry; treasurer, Maxine Dorn; reporter, Estelline Chivers.

A report on the Spanish people was given by Reynolds Brown. Maxine Dorn told the story of the "Golden Bracelet." The play, "El Barbero de Sevilla," was then read and translated by the class.

CAN YOU IMAGINE:

Maurine Whitaker ever catching the point to a joke.

Mary Alice Gunn having "the big head" over a compliment a certain person told her.

"Speck" Connell and Vernon Priddy fighting for the hand of a "fair Freshman."

The Spanish III class having the name of being the best class in school.

Brady Warren being anything but sarcastic.

Howard Simpson not being rushed by the two Bill Fish.

Joe Leonard Blackard dating the biggest girl in school.

Buena-Vista not giggling at every cute remark she hears.

Anyone being sorry that John Hale is not in a certain Spanish class.

Mumpsey Wallace being the most handsome "brute" in school.

NEITHER CAN WE.

MUSIC CLUB

The Colorado High School Music Club, directed by Mrs. Meskimen, has been asked to give two numbers at the luncheon of the Sixth District Federation of Music Clubs annual conference which is to be held here. The luncheon will be October 10th. The numbers are "Forest Dances" and "Come To The Fair," to be sung in chorus.

Joe Cooper: "I still admit that you make it pretty hot for me."

Ruth Wright: "Can't you go any faster?"

Buzzy Hughes: "Yes, but I have to stay with the bus."

Lyda Mae V.: "The more I look at you the better looking you become."

Regal P.: "Yes?"

Lyda M. V.: "I ought to look oftener."

Mrs. Cantrill asking about Vista W.: "Does she sing like a bird?"

Mary Elizabeth P.: "No, a bird can be scared off."

Hazel Jim Gray: "I'm as happy as if I had good sense."

Virginia Reese: "Well then, you're happier than I am."

People who live in glass houses should address in the dark.

THIRD YEAR HOME ECONOMICS

The third year class has been studying Family Relationship and the first thing considered was the home life of primitive people. They have studied Hebrew, Greek and Roman types of the patriarchal family and found that the status of the woman in earlier times was entirely different from the status of the present day woman. One of the most interesting lessons was the study of the kinship system—metronymic system and patronymic system.

They have studied the different forms of marriage which consists of monogamy, polygamy, polyandry, miscegenation, exogamy, and endogamy. It is interesting to know where the different forms of marriage were practiced. Each girl has given a report on some phase of home life. They find this subject very fascinating and all are very glad they are living in the present time instead of the past age.

ARABELLE SORRELLS.

F. F. A. BARBECUE

Colorado Future Farmers are giving their annual Chicken Barbecue at 6 o'clock Friday evening, September 23 at Ruddick Park. The purpose of this social feature is to acquaint the new members of our club with the attitude of the F. F. A. club.

An interesting program is being planned and as usual plenty of food will be served to the guests consisting potato salad, pickles, beans, coffee, bread and onions.

A number of tickets will be sold at 50c to help pay the expenses of the barbecue.

P. E. CLOTHING II

The pupils of the second year Home Economics class are learning the different parts of the machine and the teacher is reading to them "The Girl Today and The Woman Tomorrow."

They will not start sewing until they have read their textbook.

In trying to cut down the amount of money each girl spends, she is required to keep an expense account showing how much she spends each month.

There are not as many girls taking second year H. E. as there were last year.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASS

Our class which is the 8th grade class is now studying clothing which is very interesting.

We are studying how to do our part in Home Economics. For example:

Studying our machines.

Studying our patterns and the chain of fashions which is a help in designing our clothes.

We also are studying how to save in buying our clothes.

WILLIE BELLE KELLEY.

HOME EC. I

The Home Ec. I class met last Friday and were weighed and measured. After measuring and weighing we went into the food lab to work.

Miss Jennings taught us many different ways to prepare fresh fruits for breakfast, luncheon, and dinner.

We find the studying of food very interesting.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Much progress is being made in both high school and Vocational Commercial classes. Because of a new method of teaching the classes are more advanced than ever before at this time of school. Only one class of typing is being taught in high school work, due to the fact that bookkeeping is being taught this year, and many who wanted to enter the typing classes were turned away because of lack of typewriters.

The Vocational classes are full, and unless some who are already enrolled drop out, no more can be admitted.

STUDY LAMPS

Designed by the Illuminating Engineering Society to do the best possible job of lighting the study table, these new and decidedly different Study Lamps are the last word in table-type portable lamps. High enough to allow properly diffused light to spread to the farthest edge of the working surface of the table or desk, equipped with a new type of reflector that permits the use of a larger globe without glare and with the added feature of reflected light from the top of the lamp out into the room, these lamps are absolute necessities for close reading or study.

$6.95 $1.15 DOWN AND $1.00 A MONTH

Furniture stores, department stores, electrical dealers and your electric company all carry these lamps in stock and have several styles and types from which to choose. Look them over at your earliest opportunity—at least before school opens if there are children in your home. You'll be amazed at the difference between these and ordinary lamps.

Miss Laura Murray, is expected to be here this week-end.

LIBRARY

The high school library has been undergoing a number of changes since school started. Miss Barrett, who is in charge of the library again this year, has planned a number of improvements.

Already all of the books have been gone through and arranged in better order or discarded if they were in bad condition; a new occasion book has been purchased in which every book in the library is to be recorded; and a more efficient system of filing has been adopted. Besides this, a number of new books have been ordered for every department.

Miss Barrett has employed an efficient staff of librarians this year. Lovena Wren, a member of last year's graduating class, is head librarian and she is assisted by the following high school students: Ora Jane Williams, Eleanor Hagler, Margie Carlock, Mary Alice Gunn, Agnes Cawthorn, Annetta Laey, Bonnie Brizendine, Ferril Roberts, June Cox, Lena Smith, and Mabel Earnest Cooper.

TEACHERS' VACATIONS

During the past summer some rather interesting vacations were enjoyed by the various teachers.

Miss Smith went to Mexico City where she saw many interesting places and things. She seems to have improved her Spanish, for now Joe and Pete catch only one word in ten instead of one in nine as before.

Mr. Coffman went against the teachers code by working all Summer with the exception of a few days fishing.

Mr. Foster attended school in order to give us more trouble this winter. Mr. Foster received his A.B. degree from Canyon.

Mr. Croslin spent most of his time studying calories in order to meet the new school year with a proper increase of poundage.

Miss Cooper spent six weeks at Texas University and received her masters degree in Business Administration.

Doyle Williams was in Colorado most of the Summer except for the A. & M. Short Course.

Mr. Wilkins visited relatives and went on fishing trips for the greater part of the Summer.

Mrs. Cantrill was in Colorado most of the time.

Mr. Reese spent the Summer in Dallas.

Miss Barrett and Miss Jennings were in various points in Texas throughout the Summer.
