CITY COUNCIL MEETS

The City Council met in regular session on Wednesday night of last week.

The council voted to remit the penalty and interest on all delinquent taxes until January 31st, 1935.

A paving project to pave 2 1/2 blocks of Main street was again submitted to the Texas Relief Commission. Recent reports assure that this plan has been tentatively approved. Relief funds will supply $2663.00 for labor and team hire and the city will be asked to furnish $1222.80. Final approval will probably be given in a short time. This will be a permanent improvement and should mean a lot to our town. The proposed paving will be composed of rock, caheche and asphalt.

MOVED TO PHILLIPS BUILDING

Loraine intercepted one Colorado pass and completed two out of four attempts. Colorado failed to complete a pass out of two trials. The game started shortly after 4 o'clock with business houses in Loraine closed for the occasion. This was the first football game played on the local grid in 5 years. Five years ago the game played on Colorado grid resulted in a 20 to 0 victory for Colorado.

A miscellaneous shower was given last Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in Mrs. R. E. Bennett's home, honoring Mr. and Mrs. August Brademeyer. After each guest registered in the Bride's Book they were ushered into the witches booth which was located in the rear of the hall. There they were served delicious punch.

This noted witch gave each one a slip of paper with their fortunes written on it and were asked not to unfold or read them until given permission. Then following the leader to the living room the guests enjoyed a short musical program in which Miss Wynona Hardin played a prominent part with her accordion.

Miss Ruth Ann Hall gave an appropriate reading after which the witch came, strolling in blowing a Halloween horn to attract attention. She proceeded to read each one's fortune.

The bride and groom were both present. At last they were advised by the fortune teller to go to the dining room in search of a portion of their good fortune.

This notorious witch led the way and there was found a table laden with useful gifts, but before the packages were unwrapped and admitted the witch in her gracious manner toasted these newly weds and made good wishes for their future happiness.

Halloween decoration were used throughout the house.

Women Travel 100 Miles Over County To See Work of 4-H Demonstrators

Travelling 100 miles and visiting homes in five communities of the county, around forty Mitchell County women took part in the County Tour to homes of various 4-H club demonstrators Tuesday. The tour was led by Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent.

The first place visited Tuesday morning was the bedroom of Nova Lee Groom of the Lone Star Club, winner of the county bedroom improvement contest for 4-H club girls. With a total expenditure of $13.75 Miss Groom has improved her room until it is the bright spot of the Groom home.

Mrs. M. A. Webb's home in Loomney was the next place visited. Her improvements, which have cost her a total of $6.66, included kalsomining walls and ceiling, oiling floor, hanging new shades and curtains, making a tufted bed spread, hooked rug, and mattress pad, adding a wash stand, building a closet, covering a chair, and repairing screens and doors.

Members of the tour anchored at one o'clock at the city tabernacle and then visited Mrs. Tom Daughtrey's home in the Plainview club area to see the room which she recently improved for her son at an expenditure of only $3.00 in actual cash. Her work included papering, floor finishing, hooking a cotton rug, making a mattress cover and book shelves and hanging curtains. Mrs. Daughtrey also oiled all the floors in her house, improved two other closets, and made a tufted bed spread. She plans to improve her yard next year.

Three o'clock in the afternoon found the group driving toward Iatan to see the work done by Mrs. Dewey Phillips, who had done to her room all the things listed in the above paragraphs and then turned it over to her daughter. She is going to work on a hooked rug this winter.

From Iatan the group went across the country to Hyman where they visited first the bedroom of Florice Andrews. Florice carried out a purple and lavender color scheme in improving and beautifying her room. Once its walls were a grey, drapery sheet rock. Now they are covered with a cheerful floral paper. Three girls share this room and keep it in good order.

Mrs. Hyman's home was the last visited. She had a number of special guests to view her room, including Mrs. Bert Walton, Mrs. Clyde Davis, Mrs. Anna Simon, Mrs. C. H. Earnest, Miss Martha Earnest, Mrs. George N. Medahele of Georgetown, and Mrs. Ray Lane.

Her bright southwest room had bright blue-green drapes and bedspread. The upholstered, hooded chair proved to be the most envied article in the room. Mrs. Hyman had followed every suggestion made for improving her room and had invented a few of her own.

All these demonstrators have been exhibiting their work to friends all summer, working for a prize offered by Miss Gunter to the one whose room drew the most visitors. It was found at the end of Tuesday's visitation that Mrs. Harry Hyman had won this prize among the clubwomen with 271 visitors listed. Mrs. Marshall Webb had the second largest list and Mrs. Tom Daughtrey the third. Mrs. Phillips was fourth. The girls visitors have not yet been turned in to Miss Gunter.

Articles made of socks were exhibited at the homes of four of the women. These articles included a robe, pajamas, children's underwear, boys' suits, elastic pin holders, aprons, kitchen curtains, cup towels, lunch clothes, napkins, baby quilts, barber towels, pillow cases, and a dress.

Those taking part in the tour were:

Hyman: Mrs. Harry Hyman, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. H. H. Vandant, Mrs. W. G. McAlpine, Mrs. T. P. Smallwood, Mrs. Carl Lowry, Mrs. Schuster, Mrs. Jim Boyd, Mrs. Lon Fry, Mrs. Walter Averitt, Mrs. Ruby Waggoner, Mrs. Perry Vandant, Mrs. Roy Lane, visitor at Mrs. Hyman's;

We had 68 present Sunday for Sunday School. The Juniors took the Golden Star from the Bible class. We had one visitor from Valley View and 4 visitors from Lubbock county. Mrs. V. E. Railsback and two girls, Elzora and Irene and a chum of theirs Miss Juanita Meadow of near Aeff, 12 miles east of Lubbock.

Prayer meeting was well attended by a large number with Miss Ethel May Green from Sylvester to help out in the Young People's Bible study. Denfer Hale will lead prayer meeting next Sunday night.

We are sorry to state that the epidemic of accidents are still occurring here. Bill Claxton was cutting feed with a row binder and while crossing a ditch became overbalanced. He reached for something to catch hold of and got his two middle fingers in the cogs under the seat. The Doctor removed the end of one but has hopes of saving the other. It was his left hand and we are afraid it will bother him in his music making.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haggerton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Cummings Sunday.

Mrs. Hugh Wells and children were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Forbus Sunday.

Mrs. B. V. Walker was overjoyed with her three oldest sons, Jack, Robert, and Calvin bringing their girl friends over to spend the day with her. They were Erna Stevens, Beulah Evelyn Wells and Vivian Cummings and nephew of Mrs. Walker who has been visiting her from Red River county.

We want to say we appreciate the music furnished at our house Friday night but sorry that some couldn't be here than we expected so much.

The glad handshake of six of W. O. Hale's children Sunday at their brother, Alex Hale's, was the first time in three years that the family had all been together except a sister.

Beulah Negilan at San Antonio and a brother, Grady at Iran. There was an uncle and aunt present also, Charlie Hale and wife and three children. The ones present were Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Railsback and daughters, Elzora, Irene and Edith. Mr. V. E. Railsback is Mrs. Alex Hale's brother. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Saunders and five children; Mr. and Mrs. Roby Roach and little daughter, Bettie Joe of Sweetwater, and Irvin and Lester of Iran. They hope it won't be so long next time before they all see one another and the other brother and sister.

HAMRICK INFANT BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home of G. W. Hamrick in Colorado for James LeV. Hamrick, six-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hamrick of near Westbrook. The infant died here Saturday after an illness of ten days.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. D. Leach. Kiker & Son were in charge of arrangements.

WHAT THE CENTENNIAL MEANS TO TEXAS

We have reason to believe that the time is at hand when Texas shall commemorate the achievements of those who gave Texas transcendent glory. The fundamentals upon which the Centennial was built were two fold: A prayerful thanksgiving for the devotion of pioneer Texans and a challenging bid for future progress and development of the State.

The question of whether Texas can afford a Centennial would never have arisen, had it not been for the well-known and well-timed depression. But if the Centennial is to mean anything to us we should look upon it as a courageous, soundly conceived and carefully planned attack upon the depression itself. Since the project blends in with the national recovery program, it can be expected to merit the strong financial support of the Federal government, once the State of Texas pledges its confidence with an adequate appropriation.

The Texas Centennial will give work, revive confidence, and stimulate the people of Texas as nothing else since Independence was proclaimed and won. It will encourage travel, adding millions to the State's income in gasoline taxes alone. It will attract millions of visitors from all parts of the country, and from many parts of the world. Hotels, restaurants, railroads, theaters, and garages throughout the State will be the immediate recipients of a new prosperity that will spread to every hamlet and every home in Texas.

More than all else it will unify Texans, educate them to the marvelous potential development of which their State is capable.

Texas is tremendously rich in resources, in cheap fuel, in abundant labor, in fine ports, highways and railways—in every conceivable requisite for industrial development. It merely remains for Texas to parade its potential advantages before the nation, to place these excellent blessings in the show windows of the Texas Centennial.

So think, talk and write Texas Centennial!

LENA SMITH.

NICKNAMES IN TEXAS OIL FIELDS

Somewhere in Wyoming a "wild-cat" driller had a ruck oil and the news of the discovery spread like fire. The country began to change and busy men began building der-ricks, laying pipe lines, and erecting storage tanks. Farmers who had lived in blissful isolation were forced into contact with the oil men. The "old fogey" farmers had their horses and the oil men. They thought that an oil man was something which they could not bear to come in contact with.

The men got most of their nicknames from the way they did a particular work. For instance, "Big Hole Ben" got his name from the fact that he will not work on casings less than ten inches in diameter.

Men who work long enough to make only one pay day are known as "pay day boys." "Pay Day Slim," "Pay Day Dan," "Pay Day Blacky," and such are common.

"Spark Plug" is an active live wire who can run up and down a derrick with speed and endurance. "More Pele Slim" is a pipe liner who holds the rope pole, a long wooden pole which guides and keeps the pipe in line until the threads of one joint are well fitted into those of another.

Men who are either slow or lazy are given such names as "Molasses," "Mercury," "Hot Shot," "Sleepy," "Lightning" and "Speedy."

A driller was christened "Push Bottom," because his "lazy bench" had a pillow on which he would sit. Even though oil men are considered bad by the farmers, they are energetic and independent. They are men who are rich today and poor tomorrow but will share their last dollar with their "buddy." The oil man is always hoping that the company for which he works will "strike it lucky." But, however luck may fall, the oil man works—and men who work are to be trusted.

Man has the most excellent eyes of all mammals, in the daylight, but his ears and nose are far inferior to those of most others.

The Webb car was taken from in front of the Donald Wallace residence on Hickory street and rolled about two blocks near the Jack Helton home where the wheels and tires were removed.

The Neff machine was found Saturday morning near the residence of P. K. Macoley where it had been towed and stripped of the wheels.

"One of Our Babies"

Red Cross public health nurse proudly displays one of the infants under her care. In the past five years Red Cross nurses have aided at the birth of more than 15,000 babies and have given care to mothers of many others, in their work to save lives of mothers and babies.

RED CROSS AGENCIES SAFEGUARD HEALTH

First Aid, Life Saving, Nursing Care, Promote Health and Safety

Five outstanding services make up the health-conservation program of the American Red Cross, according to the annual report just issued in Washington. These services are first aid and life saving, which together have trained more than a million persons; nursing, with an active enrollment of 26,133 registered nurses; Public Health Nursing, conducted by 750 nurses in 424 chapters last year; and Home Hygiene, which has taught more than 700,000 men and women simple ways of caring for the sick at home.

"The achievements of the Red Cross in public health nursing place it among the leaders in this field," said James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations. "This service was organized in 1919 to meet needs developed by the World War and the ravages of the flu epidemic which in 1918-1919 took a great toll of life."

"Since that time Red Cross nursing services have been pioneers in more than one half of the counties in the United States. Many services we established were taken over later by civic, state and federal agencies, and the Red Cross continues to establish services in other new fields. Red Cross nurses made more than a million visits to patients last year, and 629,625 children in schools were inspected. "Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick are especially important in times of depression, because they teach families to maintain hygienic conditions in their own homes and to recognize symptoms of illness early enough to prevent serious consequences."

"Our courses in first aid have been instrumental in saving lives of the injured; in safeguarding the accident victim until the physician arrives, and in reducing time lost by workers in factories, mines and other industries. We are also giving the course extensively to police and fire departments throughout the country, and to state highway patrols."

Everyone is invited to join the Red Cross during the annual membership roll call which continues from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, to have a part in the health program and the other humanitarian services of the Red Cross.

An Army of Goodwill

When members of the Junior Red Cross learned that schoolbooks had been destroyed in the Kentucky floods last August they gave $100 from the National Children's Fund to buy new textbooks for use in the schools. The maximum membership for the Junior Red Cross last year was 7,550,250, an increase over the previous year of more than 250,000. They carry on civic and service programs in their own communities which each year bring comfort and pleasure to thousands of needy and unfortunate people. An international friendship is built up through correspondence with Junior Red Cross members in foreign countries.

To Teach Water Safety

Life saving services offering training in first aid methods for swimmers have been carried on by the Red Cross for two decades. In 20 years, life saving certificates have been awarded to more than a half million people who are interested in water sports. Last year chapters issued 75,503 life saving certificates.

The Red Cross enrolled 2,502,394 members in last year's roll call. Join in the 1934 roll call—Armistice Day to Thanksgiving.

BRAIN TRUSTERS NOT AS WISE AS PHAROAH SAYS

MULESHOE NEWS WRITER Jess Mitchell, editor of the Muleshoe Journal, is responsible for a readable, on ancient and modern droughts, methods of combating them and protecting the people from hunger and famine. His article follows:

Clearly there is considerable difference in the methods employed in olden times to combat drought conditions from those used in these later days, the method used by Pharaoh and Joseph being quite at variance to that of this twentieth century. Of that early drought record the Bible says:

"Let Pharaoh do this and let him appoint officers over the land. And let them gather all the food for those good years that come and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities. And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine. . . . And the seven years of dearth began to come according to Joseph had said, and the death was in 'a' lands, but in all, the land of Egypt there was bread."

The Brain Trust handles the crop somewhat differently:

And the brain trusters declared unto the chief administrator, let us rid our land of this oppressive surplus of material wealth that we may indeed be the richer. We say, therefore, unto you, we shall plow up every third row of cotton, pay the farmers not to cultivate and plant their commonly raised crops, pay the stockgrowers to not raise hogs, and the dairymen to reduce their number of cows, plow up the wheat fields and let these fields grow nothing but weeds for we have more food in the land than can be sold at a profit by the growers and its value has become as nil.

And the brain trusters putting into action their new plan, sent out all over the land men to compel the farmers to reduce their crops of cotton and wheat and hogs and cows, and then other men to pay them for doing so. They paid the farmers for being idle instead of working, laziness became a virtue and thrift a vice, and a tax was levied on all people that it might be so.

And behold the dearth cometh, and the wheat crop is the smallest within the memory of the last generation and the drought descended and the hot winds came, and the creeks and rivers dried up and the dust storms became a common menace from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande and from the Mississippi toward the western border—and a great famine spread abroad in the land with multiplied millions out of work and nothing to eat.

And then came the workless and the hungry and inquired of the brain trusters "Where, oh where are the millions of bushels of wheat we plowed up and did not raise, where is the pork we sold you and the beef we disposed of, according to your word of law, and where is the cotton we did not raise, for winter cometh, and lo we have no clothing to protect us from the cold weather?"

And the brain trusters said unto the people thus asking: Why come ye hither with loosened tongues? What matters it if ye be hungry and cold if we may experiment upon you as a scientist does upon a rat, or a guinea pig!

The first balloons were inflated with hot air, obtained by burning damp straw and wool.

'SUPPORT THE RED CROSS; IT SUSTAINED US,' IS SLOGAN

ROLL CALL CHIEF INSISTS CITIZENS SHOULD READILY SUBSCRIBE QUOTA OF 600

Drive To Open On Armistice And Continue Through Thanksgiving Day

"The American Red Cross sustained us during a time of great distress and it is but right that we support this great benefactor now," is slogan under which John Deffebach, Roll Call chairman, is to launch annual membership drive. The campaign is to open Sunday, November 11, Armistice Day, and continue through Thanksgiving.

Mr. Deffebach recalled that following the devastating storm here several years ago the Red Cross spent over $50,000 in direct relief and rehabilitation, among several hundred citizens, left practically destitute in wake of the storm.

"Mitchell county shall never forget the charity evidenced by officials of the National Red Cross when we were sorely in need of assistance," Deffebach said. "I know that our people, out of gracious remembrance, will rally to our appeal and oversubscribe the quota of 600 members assigned the county."

In addressing 200 Roll Call leaders from West Texas in San Angelo Tuesday, Henry M. Baker, of Washington, D. C., assistant national director of disaster relief, pled for the people of this area to accept the challenge of the Red Cross to meet demands heavier than ever before in history. Deffebach and others of his county-wide organization attended the conference.

Cooperation of the schools, civic clubs, the churches and other organized units of citizenship will be cheerfully given in the membership drive, leaders in those organizations have indicated. Chairman Deffebach is to enter the drive with optimism, believing that public spirited citizens of this county will sustain his appeal that our people cannot afford to turn away from the call for support of an organization commanding the consideration universally held here. Ministers are requested to make reference to the drive from their pulpits.

"One of the greatest sales our store has ever conducted and I am confident that the $45,000 stock of fine merchandise included will not last long due to the low figures, at which reasonable stocks are offered," J. P. Summers, owner of the shop, stated Thursday morning.

The store was closed all day Wednesday while sales people were marking down stocks for the sale.

DIRECTOR GENERAL LOOKS FOR UNIVERSAL INTEREST IN ANNUAL LEAGUE MEET

Wide Field Offered Students, Wilkins Notes; Rules Are Available To Schools

The Intercholastic League of this county offers the schools this year a wide variety of contests, according to C. A. Wilkins, recently elected Director General of the organization for the current school year.

"No other extra-curricular activity," he said, "engages the interest and stimulates endeavor along helpful lines more than the contests which are scheduled for the county meets. Here we have an activity for practically every child. There is opportunity for participation in fifteen different fields, both athletic and literary, ranging from the third grade on up to the last year in high school."

"We are advised from the State office that the Constitution and Rules is ready for distribution and that applications for membership are coming in from schools in all parts of the state. The schools in this county should get in on the ground floor and begin preparation early. Each school that joins is given a copy of the Constitution and Rules, a copy of the current spelling list and is entered for a year's subscription to the Intercholastic League."

"Last year nearly six thousand schools joined the League and participated in its work in 220 different counties. There are contests arranged for every class of public school, including rural, ward, and both small and large high schools, and all-round championships are decided in each of the divisions at the county meet."

Pastor Frist Church To Head Delegation Leaving Next Week For San Antonio

Colorado First church and other congregations in Mitchell county are to have representation at the 86th annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas to open in San Antonio Tuesday of next week. The Rev. Dick O'Brien, accompanied by Mrs. O'Brien, will be among the church leaders to attend.

Plans for Mitchell county baptists to attend the sessions had not been completed Thursday. Rev. Mr. O'Brien told The Record, but it was apparent that delegates from churches other than the one at Colorado would attend. Each congregation, regardless of how small, is entitled to two delegates, the minister said.

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor college, Belton, is president of the convention and will preside at the opening session. Dr. E. T. Miller, pastor First Baptist Church, Corsicana, will preach the annual-convention sermon.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, general secretary of the convention, will make his annual report, which will show that the 3,153 Baptist churches in Texas have gained in membership during the last twelve months 52,192. This number of people has united with the Baptist churches of Texas by baptism during the twelve month period. Dr. Williams' report will also indicate that the Baptist church buildings in the state are now valued at $31,846,625.38. The annual report will indicate further that the 576,945 Texas Baptists have raised for all purposes including local church expenses as well as missions, Christian education, and beneficiaries a little more than four millions of dollars, according to advance statements.

DANGEROUS AMENDMENTS
On Tuesday of next week the citizens of Texas will be called to the ballot box to speak their preference as to whether or not certain proposed amendments to the State constitution shall be authorized. There may be some merit in some of the proposals but in others there is couched real danger. One of these is the amendment limiting tax levies. Its passage would threaten serious injury to the public schools of Texas, taking from the Colorado schools alone $14,000 annually in State allocations. This proposal was discussed in a recent article published in The Record.

Another amendment that should be defeated because it is objectionable as a matter of public policy and detrimental to the citizens of Texas, is S. J. R. No. 16. It says:

"The legislature may make reasonable classifications of all property other than real property and may impose different rates on each classification and that the rate on each classification shall be equal and uniform."

This provision clearly and distinctly takes out of our local boards of equalization, the power to equalize the value of property for taxation purposes.

It distinctly places, in the Legislature, the right to impose different tax rates on property, and distinctly places the power to fix county, city and school district tax rates in the Legislature.

If it did not propose to take these constitutional duties from local authorities, exceptions would have been made.

The broad statements quoted above from the resolution itself shows that the Legislature would fix the classifications of all property other than real estate for the State, county, city and school districts and no taxing authority would have any supervision whatever except to carry out the mandates of the Legislature.

It is alleged that if this amendment is adopted it will not disturb the exemption of the $3,000 homestead. If it does not destroy that exemption then why did the promoters say "all real estate shall be uniformly taxed"? If the homestead is to still be exempt the exemption should be in the resolution. If No. 16 is adopted the exemption of the homestead could become involved in litigation as to its exemption from State taxes.

WHY NOT COLORADO, TOO?
Scores of Texas communities are sending high-powered delegations to Austin to press petition that certain appropriations be authorized by the legislature in that Centennial celebrations be staged in the old home town at public expense.

If such a program is to be in vogue, who not include Colorado in the list of applicants? It would be just as reasonable for the tax-payers to dig down in their pockets and give $25,000 for a glamorous spectacle in 1936 as to accord such generous consideration to those insisting that such be done.

It stands to reason that every Texas community cannot stage a Centennial at public expense. Then, why all the ballyhoo?

You can cultivate 175 acres, 6 times over, with the F-12 tractor and its equipment, with fuel cost not to exceed $25.00. PRICE BROS.

A GROUND HOG SITUATION MET

I have heard some of the boys beefing about the way Uncle Sam is cutting down on the purchase of cattle. So far as history relates, no government ever undertook to take and pay for cattle that were undesirable for food and market, until 1934. It is a new thing, but so far it has given no relief to the ranchers, and I understand it had form to fail because your good old Uncle is not doing more.

I want to tell you that you don't know the first letter of hard times in the cattle business. You do not know what it is to get out and rustle for your herds as the old timers were forced to do in pioneer days.

Up to a few years ago, it was every fellow for himself and the devil took the hindmost. Even then we had our good times, but after we had our "die-up" if we were not careful and on the job all the time.

In the year 1887, the members of the Kellis Colony drove a small herd of cattle to this country and located there in the valley of the North Concho near the mouths of Willow and Chalk Creeks. It was the third year of the great drought and starving time in West Texas. There was no grass in these valleys. It was simply a pile of dust that had been kicked up by herds of cattle that had been driven here by inexperienced people when there was grass everywhere.

There was some grass on the Divide, but here was no water. Colorado was the nearest railroad point, but no one thought of buying feed for cattle. Even if we had, there was no money with which to buy it. The banks at that time would not have advanced you a thin dime on a thousand head of cattle. Banks at that time were used to deposit money in only. The depositor was sometimes lucky to ever get his money back—especially if the cashier was in the habit of going to Mexico or Canada on a vacation.

The old timer had to look out for himself and take care of what he had or he would be up against it. Every one knew this and we would act accordingly. There was no Relief Board to run to in case we got into a tight. The only interest Uncle Sam had in us then was that we were tax-bearing animals. There were no banks to loan us money when it seemed necessary to get cash, and few stores would trust anybody for a sack of flour, and some bacon. It was root, hog, or die. O, them good old days.

Getting back to cattle. Somehow the Lord took care of them during the summer and fall. They browsed on the catclaws and mesquites and managed to live until winter. We knew that somehow those cattle had to be saved, for they were all we had, and we had to save them or go back east and nigger cotton again.

As is now, there were lots of prickly pears and bear grass on the range, so we went to work cutting and hauling them. After the cattle had eaten all the mesquite leaves we went to burning the thorns off the pears and feeding them to the cows. While they did not fatten they kept strong and healthy. To vary the feed, we cut up the green bear grass and chopped it up so they could eat it, and they seemed to like it. We kept this up until Spring.

In February it began to rain and by the middle of March the whole country looked like a flower garden. Plenty of cow feed everywhere. The little herd went through that dreadful winter with the loss of a single hoof. The day was saved. There was no note at the bank to pay, and no feed bill at the grain store to take care of. It was simply a case of "pushiness." A groundhog situation to be met, and we met it without the help of Uncle Sam or anyone else.

Now you boys who are crabbing about Uncle Sam not helping any more than he has done, close your traps and think what your dads and mothers had to go through with before you were born.

The above is from Uncle Bill in the Sterling City News and reminds this Columnist that he and Uncle Bill punched the dogies over the rough

Music Federation Meeting Here Wins Editorial Comment In Star-Telegram

The recent convention in Colorado of the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, was given the following editorial comment in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram for Friday of last week:

"The Texas Federation of Music Clubs broke away from precedent the other day and devoted a whole day to its junior department at the convention for the Sixth District at Colorado, Texas. Featured on the program were the massed chorus Colorado and the massed orchestra directed by Miss Wilda Drago of Eastland. The skill of the young performers rivaled that of more mature artists. This West Texas section is to be congratulated upon having produced such musicians. "The community music development move is one which should be given every encouragement. It is a splendid thing to sit enraptured while the composition of a world master floats in to you from the orchestra pit or comes to you over the air by radio. It is a much more splendid thing to create that melody yourself. There is no single force that so much aids in the development of latent musical genius as does the community club. Germany is the most striking proof of this truth. At the top rank musically among the nations of the world, her most remote village has its singing club, its band and its orchestra. "And the youthful organizations should be nurtured—young voices guarded, protected and developed—nimble fingers trained—and a balanced sense of musical tones promoted. The program of the West Texas group was not out of balance because these junior artists were given their day."

DECLAMATION CONTEST TO BE RECKONED AS SCHOOL TRADITION. GLOVER NOTES

"Saving Pieces" Featured In Closing Exercises Of The 'Old Timers' Day

There is one feature of Interscholastic League Work which comes down to us from old pioneer days, and that is declamation," said J. V. Glover, who was recently elected Director of Declamation of the league in this county. "Who is there among old-timers who does not remember the Friday afternoons of the pioneer school when the children were required to 'save pieces'? Many will remember, also, the 'exhibitions' at the close of the school year when the best speakers declaimed 'Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight' and 'The Old Oaken Bucket'.

"In the declamation contests of the Interscholastic League we have a survival of this very fine school activity. Children learn by hear, worthwhile selections in prose and poetry which they are trained to deliver as if they were their own. Emphasis is placed upon straightforward and sincere delivery, hence two very important ends are served: first, the learning of the selection contributes to the mental enrichment of the child; and second, the child gets valuable training in skill in public speaking which will be of use to him all his life. "This contest is one of the most popular in the League. Tens of thousands of children all over the state participate in this activity. There are divisions for rural schools, for ward schools and for high schools, and also separate divisions for boys and girls. There is a further division on an age basis. This insures healthful competition."

Bauman News

"The Adoption of Bob," a one act play, was presented to the pupils of Bauman school last Monday morning. This play was presented by the pupils of the eighth grade. The same program will be given this Friday night for members of the P. T. A.

The regular Tuesday night singing is getting to be a special event with the people in the Bauman community. Large crowds have been present for each singing. This Sunday afternoon at 2:30 is the time for singing at Bethel Church. All the singers are invited to be present on time. Several quartette numbers are being arranged by singers from Lorraine and Silver. If you enjoy good company singing then do not fail to be at Bethel Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Church News

Rev. H. N. Baldere filled his regular appointment at Bethel last Saturday night and Sunday. The theme for Sunday morning was "The Surrenders of Abraham." For the evening service Rev. Baldere brought a message on Mission Work. Following this service a collection was taken, the money to be used to help carry on the Baptist Mission Program.

There were only fifty-seven in Sunday School last Sunday. That was only a little more than half the number on roll. If you are a member of Bethel Sunday School, then try to make an effort to be in your place at the services next Sunday. If you are not a member and not in Sunday School elsewhere, then you are invited to visit in the Bethel Sunday School next Sunday. The services always start at 10:00 and close at 11:00.

"The act has already appropriated to special interests more water than comes down the stream during flood stage." Jim Greene, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was another speaker to denounce the act.

SENIOR NEWS

Senior Social
 By Bonnie Bill Brizendine
 The "upperclassman" Halloween party, alias "The Senior Flying Jubilee," was individually and collectively a "howling success." Throughout the activities of the party, held at the Legion Hut, Friday evening, October 26, rivalry was maintained between two equally divided groups of the class, the reward being a promise of entertainment from the losing side at the next class social. This also served to keep the party lively and enjoyable throughout the evening. It can certainly be truthfully said that "the axes have it" as to whether the party was a success.

The delightful Halloween refreshments, served at the social hour, and the beautiful decorations adorning the Hut were supervised by the "ever industrious" Sponsor (Crosling) while the counsellor of the entertainment for the evening was none other than our own "famed wit," Sponsor Coffman.

At the social hour, Sponsor Coffman struck on a "wise idea." This proved to be the method by which the boys present obtained their "dining partners." Accordingly, a common, everyday calendar was placed on the wall, and the girls were numbered. Each boy had to "shoot" at the calendar with an arrow, prepared by Sponsor Coffman, of various and sundry articles, and the number which he hit was immediately called and his "dining partner" stepped forward. After a delightful lunch of sandwiches, punch, apples, and sweet cakes, the party was terminated by songs and yells by the class.

In addition to the members of the class and the sponsors, there were four guests present: Miss Velma Barrett, Mr. Doyle Williams, and the recently chosen class mothers, Mrs. Dale Warren and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, all of whom reported an exceedingly enjoyable evening.

LA TERTULIA

La Tertulia met Monday, October 29. The roll was called and each member answered by giving a Spanish proverb. Four reports were given continuing our imaginary trip through the South American countries.

Joe Cooper reported on the "Birth of The Amazon." It carries more water than any other river in the world and discharges four times as much as the Mississippi.

Charles Hutchinson told us something of "Brazil's Diminished Treasure."

Loyse Jenkins reported on the "Coffee Country." Brazil produces half of the world's coffee. And that one export brings in more money to their country than all the other exports combined.

Loyse Jenkins gave a report on "The Purple Land." Paraguay is a great deal larger than Uruguay but the population is not nearly so large.

COLORADO F. F. A.

The Colorado chapter had their second chapter meeting this Thursday and the second district meeting next Tuesday. There will be a man from this town to give a talk at this meeting and also some of the members have organized a string band and they will play a few numbers.

A NEW DISCOVERY IN EGG PRODUCTION

Kenneth Bassham has discovered a new method of making hens produce eggs. A new process which has been practiced on the Bassham farm for two weeks and they find it very successful and that is to give your chickens plenty of exercise. Every morning Kenneth drives the chickens down the hill and back up the hill at least three times and he thinks this makes the hens lay at least two eggs each a day. However in our class we have found that careful feeding makes a better egg production record.

MISS ALSUP SPEAKS ABOUT CHINA

Miss Arty from Fort Worth spoke to the student body Wednesday about her experiences in China. She impressed upon the students the age and number of people in China. China has a recorded history 5,000 years old. In other words China's history that is known is twelve times as long as the period from the discovery of America to today. The population of China is about four hundred million or if they were all in a city like New York it would be sixty times as large as New York is today.

The people are very proud of their civilization and cling to many quaint customs in spite of the fact that China is changing. China has progressed very much in the last twenty-three years. In fact it has progressed more than in all the past years. China is supposed to be a republic but in reality it is only a great number of small independent provinces. These provinces are slowly being brought together by the building of railroads, highways and other western methods of transportation. The people of China are beginning to read more and more. About twenty years ago only 5 percent of the people could read, but now over 10 percent are capable of doing so. The language has been simplified to only 1,000 characters so that the people can learn to read in about four months of study.

In spite of much poverty in China there are also many beautiful things. The temples on the sides of the hills are very beautiful. In the streets one may see silks of very brilliant and intricate design. Jade and pearls are made into the most beautiful articles that one can imagine.

The western world has given to China a great number of sports. The young people now go together and play like we do. Football, baseball, fiddles, sports and games are very popular in China.

Contrary to the belief of many people the Chinese do not eat only rice. They eat a great deal of rice but it is used in place of bread. The poor people do not eat much more than rice and fish but the rich serve very elaborate meals. The Chinese diet is eaten with much ceremony and form. Each course is served in a large bowl from which the ones dining may be served. The more elaborate meals have from twenty-five to thirty different courses.

The habit of binding the feet of baby girls has almost disappeared. The practice is frowned upon by the intelligent people and is forbidden by law. In the interior provinces this habit is still practiced, but is rapidly disappearing.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Wednesday Rev. Elliott gave the student body a very interesting talk on the three R's.

The first R is to be punctual. It is very desirable to have the habit of being punctual. Punctuality will certainly get a person somewhere in this world. Rev. Elliott told a story that certainly "hits the hammer right smack on the head" (as Andy says). The story is as follows:

A business man wanted an office boy and advertised for one. The next morning the boys of the neighborhood were assembled at his office. He then told them to return exactly at nine the next morning. The next morning they started in at 8:30 and continued coming until 9. However, there was only one boy that arrived exactly at nine. This was the boy chosen. He was punctual.

The second B was to be dependable. A very dependable person is hard to find now but more could certainly be used. Everyone should try to develop his dependability as it will certainly be a good trait to have.

The third B was to be steadfast. One should be steadfast and unmovable in his pursuit of the good and high things of life. Many temptations will come to everyone's life but if he is steadfast in his principles he will not be moved or hurt. The motto "I will try anything once" is not a good one if one is to be steadfast in the good of life.

THIRD YEAR H. E. NEWS

The Third Year Home Economics class gave Miss Evelyn Jennings a picnic Tuesday afternoon at Ruddick Park. Dr. Cunningham from Lubbock, Lottie Crislin, Mrs. Dozier, Felix Boyd Dozier, Emily Dulaney and the members of the third year class were present.

The class served the following menu: Pimiento creamed cheese sandwiches, ham sandwiches, potato chips, fruit punch, cakes and marshmallows.

MOCK BREAKFASTS
 Tuesday of last week the first year Home Economics girls studying foods set the table for both an informal and a formal breakfast.

The girls have been studying a great deal the past few weeks about good manners at the table. In order to put their learning on display they had these mock breakfasts. At each breakfast, girls representing the different members of a family presided at the table. They found these meals of much interest and hope to carry out what they learned at their homes.

A spelling match was another source of interest last week. The girls were divided into sides. The person who misspelled a word had to go to the foot of the line. They spelled only words used in their Home Economics lessons. Many of them found that they had better brush up on their spelling.

SENIOR NEWS

It seems that the opposite sex has lost all of its attraction for Vernon Priddy. Was it a Soph or a Freshman who broke his heart?

What is there about these little Freshman girls that attracts Romaine Hammonds and Aaron Peaster so? Maybe it's their ability to ride "the Rocket" without passing out like a few of their classmates do.

It seems that a certain Senior is still "that way" about Billie Berry. Maurine Whitaker says she believes she'll play football because she's so easily tackled.

Lyda Mae Viles and Maxine Dorn went to Sweetwater Sunday to see the show "Now and Forever."

Vista Wulfjen spent the week-end in Plainview.

Ruth Smith seems to have a weakness for brunettes at present.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

We hear that June Cox has a new flame.

I guess you all know Ewing Lee, the inventor. Well it was like this: Ewing was working late one night and was struck by a grand idea. He worked long and hard for many days. At last it was finished. We all looked at it and saw merely an alarm clock.

"What's the idea?" says I.
 "It is an alarm clock which doesn't alarm. It is for the man who is out of work," says Ewing Lee.

In the seventh period study hall the girl who was talking reports made this announcement to Miss Smith: "Tell us the 'kids' who have tickets to sell to please turn them in to the office." Well, up jumped a Soph or two. Imagine a Sophomore admitting to be a "kid."

On Tuesday, November 6, the Sophomore class will present the assembly program. We invite everybody to attend. The program will be presented at 12:45 in the auditorium.

Mary Frances Mackey, Armaria Whitmore, and Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon went to Big Spring Saturday and also to Sweetwater Sunday.

Murtha Jane Majors went to Midland over the week-end.

June Cox went to Sweetwater Sunday with her brother.

Lucille Bodine stayed all night with June Cox.

Etta Fern Harkins was sick for a few days last week and could not perform in the Dixie Minstrel.

The Freshman class regrets the loss of one of their fellow classmates, Robert McGowan, who has moved to Roscoe.

LAST YEAR'S SENIORS

By Ruth Wright
 What has become of last year's Seniors?

In attempting to work out an answer to this question, your reporter found that the aid of a detective agency would have been helpful. But here are some facts that ought to prove interesting.

Some of that group who walked out last Spring with all the dignity possible to assume have already taken places of responsibility in the community. C. W. Hagler is working in Carlsbad Cavern; Sidney Thomas is working at the courthouse; Bud Loving has two jobs. He is married and he is working downtown; J. M. Kirby is also working downtown. Charles Garrett, Robert King and Omer Rodgers are working in the C. C. camp at Big Spring.

There are a part of that group whom this year's classes still have to look upon from day to day. Arthur Gaffis, Louis Taylor, Sam Venable, Grace Callan, Opal Alexander, Iva Lee Pennington, Memphis Porter, Cleo Shepherd and Lovena Wren are working diligently to secure a degree from "Cooper Commercial College."

Still others are in institutions of higher learning seeking further knowledge. This group includes Harvey Baker, Lenn Bodine, Red Church, Jack Cox, Elvey Stagner, Charles Price, Mabel Majors, Frances Price, Iva Lee Rankin, and Susie Beal Snyder.

A part of the group have already taken a degree of matrimony. We want to express best wishes to the following: Leonard Alexander, Bud Loving, Bud Allmond, Polly Bellomy, Mildred Brandon, Blanche Mackey and Lela Johnston.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Last Tuesday the Juniors had charge of the program. It was opened by Archie Moler, N. T. Berry and Courtleigh Snodgrass. They played the song "Beautiful Texas." Next Frances Jones played "Valkie" by John Morjick. This was a good number though few of us understood the title.

A dual ovation was put on by Ellwood Beal and Jessie Jones. The way Ellwood orates would make old Abe look to his honors.

At the close of the program two songs, "Shanghai Lil" and "For All We Know" were given by Arabelle Sorrells, Meiba Slaton, Marguerite Jackson, Loyse Andrews, Kathryn Motley, with Frances Jones at the piano.

It is considered poor housekeeping to have torn shades or tattered draperies, and it is just as bad to leave empty light sockets in ceiling and wall fixtures. Not only do these vacant sockets, or sockets filled with blackened and burned-out globes look bad, but the increased amount of light detracts from the appearance of the room.
