CITY COUNCIL JOINS WITH MUNICIPAL GROUP SEEKING CHANGES IN LICENSE LAWS

'Retain Colorado Money In Colorado,' Is Slogan Of City Heads

Funds being paid annually in registration fees by motorists residing within the corporate limits of Colorado are to be diverted from coffers of the county to those of the city, if, and when, proposed changes in statutes governing collection and distribution of those fees as demanded by Colorado and other Texas municipalities are accepted with favor by the legislature.

Resolution demanding the legislative amendment was passed unanimously by the council Monday night. Under the law in its present form all motor vehicle license fees collected at Colorado, excepting forty cents on each machine as fee for the registrar, is credited to the county. The city would seek to have funds paid by residents within the corporate limits remain within the city, to credit of the municipal treasury.

DEATH TAKES WIFE LOCAL CHAIN STORE MANAGER AS HE PLANNED MOVING HERE

Mrs. W. M. Mosley Died Last Friday Night at Home in San Angelo

Mrs. W. M. Mosley, 36, wife of the new Colorado manager for Hicks Rubber Company, died Friday night at the family residence in San Angelo within a few days after Mr. Mosley had been transferred from that city to Colorado by the well-known Texas chain store concern.

Mosley, who during the past 12 years has been associated with the San Angelo store of Hicks, was recently given management of the Colorado store. He arrived last week and was making plans to establish his home here when informed of his wife's death. While she had been in delicate health some four years, her passing was not expected at this time.

The body was forwarded to Anderson, near Houston, for burial. Funeral rites were conducted there Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Terrell, with Rev. J. E. Boulet of the Anderson Baptist church officiating. Survivors are Mr. Mosley and a son, W. M. Jr., 12 years of age.

Mosley and his son arrived in Colorado Wednesday morning and are registered at the Colorado. He plans moving to Colorado within the next few days and here Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Terrell, parents of his late wife, are to be in charge of the household.

"I am delighted to be in Colorado and expect to take my place as a citizen here," Mosley stated to The Record Wednesday afternoon. "My son is to soon enter school here and I hope to make the interests of this community my interests."

Mosley plans making no material changes at the local Hicks store, located on West Second street, aside from changes in the business office arrangement. The company will continue to carry complete stocks of tires, tubes, gas, oils and accessories, he stated.

SECOND PRESIDENT'S BALL HERRE JAN. 30

Authority for a second President's Birthday Ball in Colorado was received this week by Rod Merritt in a letter from Henry L. Doherty, chairman of the National committee on the Birthday Ball for the President.

Cooperating with hundreds of other towns over the United States, Colorado will have the ball on Wednesday, January 30, the President's birthday. The first such balls were held on the same date last year.

Merritt was assisted in arranging the ball last year by Mrs. R. J. Wallace, and she is to work in the same capacity this year.

Proceeds of the ball this year, as last, will go to combat infantile paralysis, although no part of them will go to the Warm Springs Foundation as the entire sum did last year. This year 30 percent of the money raised will go to a national commission for research on the control of the disease and 70 percent will be used by the local committees in working against the disease as they best see fit. Each community will decide for itself whether its share of the money shall be used locally or sent in to the state to be used against the disease.

Cotton Plan To Be More Liberal For Next Crop Season

A reduction of 25 percent from the base acreage of cooperating cotton producers for 1935, as compared with the 40 percent reduction in 1934, was announced by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The basis of payment was 3 1/2 cents per pound "on the average yield of lint cotton per acre for this farm for the years 1928-1932 with a maximum rental of $18 per acre" for the acres rented under the contract, and a "parity payment" of 1 1/2 cents per pound on the farm allotment.

At night the huge sign will be outlined with Neon light. It is said the shape of the horse may be seen from a distance of three to five miles, depending on weather conditions.

When Perseus, in Greek mythology, beheaded Medusa, the blood sinking into the ground produced a winged horse. Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom, caught and tamed him, giving him the name of Pegasus, and Pegasus he has remained throughout the ages. He has no mate. Nor has he ever had.

"Pegasus, red-winged horse trade mark of Mobilgas," said Fred M. Lege, Jr., Vice President and Director of sales promotion of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

This great sign, at the pinnacle of Dallas, will remain as a permanent fixture on top of the Magnolia Building after the American Institute convention, flashing its welcome for many miles in every direction from Dallas.

Attractive Sign Is Hung Over Dallas Magnolia Building

DALLAS, Texas.—The most spectacular electric sign in the entire Southwest blazed forth a welcome to American Petroleum Institute delegates when they convened here for their convention November 12. The sign, made in the form of Pegasus, winged horse of mythology, now made familiar as the symbol of Mobilgas, is mounted atop the Magnolia Building tower.

The sign measures 38 feet from the tip of Pegasus' nose to his flowing tail, and is 31 feet high. Mounted on a steel tower on top of the Magnolia Building, the sign is 400 feet above the pavement, about the height of a three-story office building. The two sides of the sign are fourteen feet apart. The sign will revolve twice every minute.

At night the huge sign will be outlined with Neon light. It is said the shape of the horse may be seen from a distance of three to five miles, depending on weather conditions.

When Perseus, in Greek mythology, beheaded Medusa, the blood sinking into the ground produced a winged horse. Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom, caught and tamed him, giving him the name of Pegasus, and Pegasus he has remained throughout the ages. He has no mate. Nor has he ever had.

Lionism Calls

back into Old Mexico and found everywhere men like you, seemingly giving thought to the admonition they are their brother's keeper."

The speaker became emotional as he told how that a Gold Star mother once said to him that she had not lost her son in the World War, but, rather, had given him. "That is the kind of patriotism and devotion that Lionism calls upon men everywhere to give their fellowmen and their country," he declared.

"Patriotism does not mean simply to sing 'America' and face the flag, emblem of the ideals for which our country stands. It means much more than that. To be patriotic we must interest ourselves in an humble service to those about us, including the home, our neighbors and our nation.

"One of the greatest thrills that ever came into the life of Lion was that day when he picked up a crippled child and carried it into a hospital. The clasp of those tiny fingers about his neck gave an impression of true patriotism that shall never be forgotten. We must walk above the common things of life, elevating our influences to that plane occupied by patriotism, divinely inspired."

Mr. and Mrs. Hascall arrived Wednesday morning from Ranger where Tuesday evening he addressed Lions of that area. He spoke at another meeting in San Angelo Wednesday evening and Thursday morning visited the Big Spring club. Thursday night he was to be at Lubbock and from there is to go through New Mexico and Arizona into California, where they plan spending the holidays.

SON ARRIVES TOO LATE FOR MOTHER'S FUNERAL

A death message which travelled many miles into the hills north of San Francisco, California, to find a son of Mrs. D. L. Buchanan brought him across half the continent to her funeral—too late.

The wire was sent by D. L. Buchanan to his son, Lee, shortly after Mrs. Buchanan's death Friday night. There was no thought that it would reach him for days, since it would have to seek him out far up in the hills where he is in the mining business.

By a coincidence he received it within a few hours and started home at once, not thinking to wire that he was coming. He arrived Monday after his mother's funeral had been held on Saturday afternoon.

Business To Feel Full Prosperity In 1935, Dawes Says

Charles G. Dawes, Coolidge administration vice president, predicted at Chicago Wednesday, that June or July would mark the depression's death and commencement of the nation's full business prosperity.

He said President Roosevelt's bank moratorium restored mass confidence, and the 1929 market crash was shattered.

Dawes, former Reconstruction Finance Corporation head and republican party power, broke a long silence to address Chicago's Commerce Association.

He said: "The delayed rush for durable goods is due early next summer. This will herald a period of great recovery."

Dawes based his prediction on an extensive survey.

Huge Sum Will Be Spent By Nation At Yuletide This Year

WASHINGTON.—Christmas this year will be the happiest in five years for American business men as well as for the public, with $500,000,000 more to spend this year than last, business leaders informed Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper Thursday.

Christmas cheer permeated reports of officials that farmers and city dwellers alike have more money in their pockets and greater Christmas club funds coming due. More Government funds and increased payrolls are responsible.

Merchants were hopeful that in the first five months of the year the increase would amount to as high as 40 per cent over last year, they told Roper. In stable commodities the increase was expected to be less.

Reasons for their optimism were reflected in the following official and unofficial statistics for October:

Farmer's cash income increased $18,000,000 over last year to $642,000,000.

The Government distributed $758,000,000 about $250,000,000 more than last year.

Manufacturing payrolls were 4 per cent higher than last year at $500,000,000 for the month.

Retail establishments paid their clerks $250,000,000, or $37,500,000 more than last year.

Christmas clubs totaled $396,800,000 or $36,980,000 more than last year.

Another optimistic item was the Treasury's announcement that its agencies disposed of $16,703,000 of Government securities during the month, indicating the Government bond market, because of rising prices, no longer needs Federal support.

Officials said they expected this year's Christmas business to boost retail sales to $30,000,000,000 for 1934, $5,000,000,000 more than the total for 1933.

TRAVELLER IN COVERED WAGON VISITS COLORADO

Travelling in a covered wagon drawn by two Shetland ponies, Isaac Sacks of Chicago paid Colorado a visit Tuesday morning and left behind him his "history."

With his sunburned face, white hair and mustache, he looked a little like pictures of Buffalo Bill. Although giving his age as 81, he was very active and quick in his movements.

His "history" introduced him as "Chicago's most interesting pioneer and citizen" who has traveled all over the United States in a covered wagon, accompanied only by his dog. He came to America from Russia when he was 18.

A wife and five children stifled his "longing to wander" for many years, the history continued, so he waited until 1926, when the children were grown and married and able to take care of their mother, and then he hitched his two ponies, Bess and Babe, to the covered wagon and started out. He caught his food and cooked it Indian fashion, and earned just enough to live on as he went along.

His first trip lasted three years, and took him all over the Western states. He came to Colorado in 1929 and started out again, and is now on his third trip. He and his ponies have traveled 20,000 miles and have visited every state in the union with the exception of New York and a few small states near it.

Borden County Is Opening Its First Trial For Murder

GAIL.—First murder case ever to be tried in Borden county got underway Thursday morning at Gail, when Johnny Cox of Treadway, community near Gail, faces a murder charge in connection with the death of F. L. Burrus, a former Mitchell county citizen and brother of Tom Burrus of Colorado.

Burrus was fatally shot on the night of August 6 in front of Cox's store at Treadway, the shooting allegedly the outgrowth of a domino game in which his son, Stelvin Burrus, and Cox had engaged earlier in the day. The bullet which killed the elder Burrus assertedly was intended for his son, said Sheriff J. R. Jenkins, to whom Cox surrendered. Cox has been at liberty since August 9, under bond.

A venire of 50 jurors has been summoned for the trial. The indictment was the seventh criminal charge ever to be brought in Borden county in 32nd district court, and the second charge to be prosecuted, the first being a liquor-violation charge two years ago. Another murder case, originating in Borden county, was transferred to Mitchell county for trial.

George Outlaw of Sweetwater, new prosecuting attorney of the 32nd district, will be assisted by Clyde Thomas of Big Spring in handling the case. The defense will be represented by James T. Brooks of Big Spring and Sterling Williams of Gail.

Percy Bond was on the sick list early this week.

COTTON FARMERS STAND BY FOR REFERENDUM VOTE

STATUS OF BANKHEAD ACT FOR THE SEASON OF NEXT YEAR RESTS WITH BALLOT

Ten Polling Places Be Open In County, County Agent Baskin Has Noted

An election holding strong interest in the South, with special reference to cotton producers, is scheduled for Friday (today) in the Bankhead law referendum. In Mitchell county it is accepted that practically every farmer qualified to participate in the election will go to the polls to write his conviction of a legal question that has attracted world-wide interest.

Rules governing the election were incorporated in an article published in this newspaper last week. In many respects the referendum vote will be conducted along lines similar to primary and general elections. The polls, of which there will be ten in the county, are to open at 9 A. M. and close at 5 P. M. Ballot forms and other supplies have gone out to the several election judges from the office of Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, designated as official representative of the government in conducting the referendum in Mitchell.

The ten polling places designated are listed as follows:

Lorraine, First State bank building; Valley View, gin office; Buford, Farmers Gin Company office; McKenzie, school building; Seven Wells, Payne church building; Spader, school auditorium; Hyman, Westbrook, Williams-Miller gin office; Cuthbert, Fairview church building, and Colorado, county court room.

An eligible voter is defined in statement by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture as "person who has the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, sharecropper, or otherwise, to produce cotton on any cotton farm or part thereof, in the United States for the crop year 1935-36."

Census Takers To Be Appointed By Lubbock Director

Mitchell county citizens desiring information relative to appointment as enumerators for the government's farm census should communicate with K. C. Holmes, Wall building, Lubbock, Texas, who, the department of commerce has informed this newspaper, will direct appointment of Texas citizens within this district to those positions.

Certain requirements will be exacted applicants for the work and a test to indicate fitness of the applicant will also be given.

'Chimes Of The Holy Night' To Be Given At Methodist Church Sunday

"Chimes of the Holy Night," a cantata, will be given as the Christmas program of the Methodist church Sunday evening, December 16, at 7:15. It will be the first of the church Christmas programs to be given here.

The setting will be one of reverent stillness and simple Christmas beauty. Those in charge of the cantata have requested that members of the audience enter the church silently. Users will show them to their seats.

Old, familiar Christmas carols will be played by an orchestra while the audience is assembling. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Wallace Jones of the First Christian Church.

A choir of fifty voices will sing in the cantata, which is being directed by Mrs. N. H. White, Jr., with Mrs. Lurline McClessee, pianist. Numbers are as follows:

Attractive Street Lights Give Color To Downtown Area

The near approach of Christmas is strongly suggested in colorful display of holiday illumination that at night transforms the business district into a suggestive fairland. The lights were placed Saturday by the Texas Electric Service Company and turned on for the first time that evening.

Placing of the special holiday lights was under direction of the chamber of commerce, with merchants extending cooperation. Jim Greene, chamber secretary, stated that lights are to burn nightly until after the holidays.

Fifteen Farmers Study Problems At Evening Classes

Some fifteen farmers are enrolled in the evening school being conducted at Seven Wells by Doyle Williams, head of the vocational agriculture department of Colorado High School. A number of them have indicated their intention of enrolling.

Problems with which the farmer of today is confronted are being studied and some of the problems which farmers have already brought up for discussion are the butchering of farm meats, control of worms and insects which prey on plants and animals, feeding livestock and poultry, how to construct and lay out a tile irrigation system for the home garden, control of udder diseases in the dairy cow, and control of root rot and smut.

Williams states that all farmers are invited to attend the classes, which are free. Meetings are held each Tuesday and Thursday night, beginning at seven o'clock.

Mrs. Arnold Uses Christmas Meeting

Conforming to the dictates of the Christmas season in her decorations and appointments, Mrs. Ralph Arnold entertained the Friday Club Friday afternoon.

Green cellophane, adorned with Santa Claus stickers, covered the card tables. Tallies hung on a small Christmas tree.

There were three tables, Mrs. Johnny Reitor and Mrs. A. C. Anderson being guests. The latter made high for guests and received a pepper and salt set. Mrs. W. G. Sargent made high for members and won a silk gown.

A salad plate was served with fruit cookies and coffee. Cups of candy centered with tiny Santa Claus were favored.

Plans were made for the Christmas party with Mrs. V. Hopkins this Friday.

International Topics At Hesperian Meeting

International relations were studied following a full business session at the meeting of the Hesperian club Friday with Mrs. Willis Shropshire at the home of her mother Mrs. Dale Warren.

During the business hour Mrs. Ed Majors and Mrs. J. A. Sadler reported having visited Dorn School, talking with them thirty-five magazines. Mrs. Sadler told of plans for city entrance made at the highway beautification meeting at the City Hall, and the club voted a donation of five dollars toward erection of the entrance columns. The county federation meeting was reviewed by Mrs. A. L. Whipkey.

Plans were made to arrange for Christmas trees in the club's adopted schools, Dorn and Seven Wells. Mrs. J. G. Merritt and Mrs. E. H. Winn were appointed to see about the former school. Mrs. Sam Wulfjen about the latter.

Leading the international relations lesson, Mrs. Whipkey had the roll call answered with "A Psychological Reason Why Armament ends to Bring on War."

Outstanding on the program was "The Story of the Peace Treaty at Versailles" by Mrs. S. H. Millwee. Mrs. Whipkey had a paper on "Principles of American Policy in Relation to the Far East," and Mrs. J. Ralph Lee discussed "Advances and Retreats Made on the Peace Front in the Past Year." The program closed with a paper by Mrs. Merritt on "America First" is Not a Valuable Idea to Use in a Slogan."

Ice box pudding, whipped cream, and coffee were served by the hostess and her mother, who was a guest during the meeting. The Christmas meeting next week will be with Mrs. Sadler.

Christmas Plans Made At Methodist Meetings

Plans for Christmas and the raising of money occupied the three circles of the Methodist W. M. S. which met Monday.

Meeting with Mrs. D. N. Arnett, the Winn circle gave thought to a Christmas box for an out-of-town friend. Mrs. J. G. Merritt led the lesson on the second chapter of "Suzuki Looks at Japan."

Details of the bazaar tea which they are to give at the parsonage Monday afternoon from 2:30 until 6 were given attention by members of the Rainbow circle, which met at the church with about 18 present. Mrs. Ed Grubbs, circle chairman, reported the Harvest Day meeting which she attended at Big Spring last Thursday after Mrs. Van King closed the devotional. Dolls being made for the mission church Christmas tree were reported nearing completion. This circle will have no meeting next Monday because of the tea and bazaar.

A treasurer's report showing $92 paid out during the year and a balance of $13 in the treasury was heard at the meeting of Mrs. Jeff Dobbs' circle. Mrs. Dobbs and Mrs. Charley Coffee joined in bringing the devotional. Officers' reports were heard. The circle planned a rummage sale Saturday in the building just west of the bank and a bako sale at Piggly Wiggly's. The bako sale will include dressed chickens, pies, cakes, and other foods.

Mrs. Jake Richardson, class president, was in charge of the opening business session. Mrs. Floyd Jay led the devotional from the second chapter of Luke. Group captains made reports and Mrs. Buster Baker told of the three Thanksgiving boxes given away by the class. A free will offering was taken for a Christmas gift to Mrs. E. S. James and infant daughter of Cisco.

The social program was in charge of Mrs. R. C. Johnson, Mrs. E. G. Locklar, and Mrs. Clarence Pritchett. It was begun with a Christmas song and continued with Christmas games until Mrs. Pritchett invited the class into the dining room, where a unique arrangement of gifts had been made.

Hanging from the chandelier above the table was a shower of Christmas bells, festooned with red and green and with streamers of the Christmas colors extending to the table corners. Centering the table on a mat of red and green was a lighthouse, also in red and green and hung with silver bells bearing the inscription "Merry Christmas."

Gifts had been placed on the table around the lighthouse. Guests were blindfolded and instructed to turn the house around and an arrow on it pointed to the gift which the one turning it would receive.

Class gifts were presented to the teacher, Mrs. Whipkey; to the former teacher, Mrs. C. L. Gray; and to the pastor's wife, Mrs. Dick O'Brien. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. O'Brien were guests.

Forty-two were served with two kinds of sandwiches, cakes, and coffee.

Early Day Incidents And History Of Clubs Given At Shakespeare Meeting

Early days in Colorado and the history of Colorado clubs furnished the basis for the Shakespeare Club meeting Friday with Mrs. R. S. Brennan. Mrs. J. Max Thomas was leader.

Incidents in the early lives of pioneer Coloradans were given in response to roll call. Three members, Mrs. J. Riordan, Mrs. Joe Smoot, and Mrs. Thos. R. Smith, told of things that had happened to their mothers-in-law. Mrs. Riordan's story dealt with a party which the late Mrs. J. Riordan, Sr., gave for her mother, Mrs. Frances Marie Douglas, on her eightieth birthday, March 6, 1885. She read a poem on "Retrospection" which Mrs. Riordan read on that occasion.

First newspapers in Colorado, beginning with the Courier and leading to the Colorado Record, were covered in Mrs. Thomas' talk.

Telling about cowmen of the early days, Mrs. Jack Smith recalled that the first wire fence was built north of town in 1883 by the father of Mrs. Wes Allen. Mrs. Allen's father also had the first windmill in Colorado.

Being the grand daughter-in-law of Mrs. M. B. Smoot, Colorado's first club woman, made Mrs. Joe Smoot especially fitted to give the city's club history.

The first woman's club in Colorado, according to her story, was organized by Mrs. Smoot in 1892, and it was called then as it is called today, the Standard. Later in 1892 Mrs. Smoot guided the organization of a second club, the Standard Unique, which soon changed its name to Up-To-Date, and in 1893 became the Hesperian Club.

The Hesperian Club split in 1909 over the question of federation, and those not favoring federation withdrew and organized the Bayview Club, named for the magazine which it studied. It disbanded in 1917.

A few months later several of the members reorganized calling themselves the Bayview Club but changing their name soon to that of Shakespeare.

Since that time clubs organized have been the 1921 Study Club in 1921; the Self Culture in 1925, under sponsorship of the Hesperian; and the Zetaganian in March, 1934, sponsored by the 1921 Study Club.

After the Shakespeare lesson in "Cymbeline," refreshments of creamed chicken in pattie, pineapple salad, hot buttered rolls, coffee, plum pudding, and white sauce were served to the members and one guest, Mrs. Lovell of El Paso, mother of the hostess. Mrs. Thomas is hostess next week.

Ten Women of Bible Discussed By Rev. Mr. O'Brien At Self Culture

Ten outstanding women of the Bible were presented by the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in a discussion which featured the Bible Day program of the Self Culture Club Friday at the home of Mrs. A. E. King.

Theme of the entire program was summed up in the day's quotation, "A Beautiful Woman Without Religion is Like a Flower Without Perfume." Mrs. John Brown was leader and roll call was answered with memorized Bible quotations. A scripture reading by Mrs. Henry Pond followed the singing of "Silent Night, Holy Night" by the club and the Rev. and Mrs. O'Brien, both of whom were guests.

Fidelis Class Has Christmas Motif

Bells of Christmas-time, varied in size, were used profusely in decorating the home of Mrs. A. L. Whipkey for the class-meeting and Christmas party of the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Church last Thursday afternoon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Grady Bench, Mrs. Dell Barber, Mrs. Luther Scarborough, and Mrs. Jewel Barrett.

Mrs. Jake Richardson, class president, was in charge of the opening business session. Mrs. Floyd Jay led the devotional from the second chapter of Luke. Group captains made reports and Mrs. Buster Baker told of the three Thanksgiving boxes given away by the class. A free will offering was taken for a Christmas gift to Mrs. E. S. James and infant daughter of Cisco.

McIntosh, superintendent of schools, Amarillo; Dr. R. P. Parcella, school board member, Amarillo; Blair Cherry, Amarillo coach; P. G. Hull, business manager, Amarillo; George Gentry, Principal; J. B. Collins, member school board; W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of Big Spring.

According to the agreement each team will receive 50 per cent of the proceeds, after expenses are taken care of.

Both teams will pay their expenses to and from Lubbock. Five per cent of the gross receipts will go to the Interscholastic League, and approximately $100 will be paid to Texas Tech authorities for handling the game details, such as ticket sellers, ushers, printing of tickets, etc.

Amarillo offered Big Spring a guarantee of $3000 to come to Amarillo for the game, but local officials declined the proffer. George Gentry, principal of Big Spring high school, said: "We turned down this offer because we thought Big Spring people were entitled to see the game as near home as possible and we stand a fine chance of making $2000 on the game anyway."

NO RADICAL CHANGE TO BE BUILT INTO 1935 MACHINE. GENERAL MOTORS NOTES

Higher Speed, Lower Costs Among Changes Announced From The Factory

DETROIT.—Although rumors have been revived that a car with rear mounted engines is in the offing, it can be put down as a certainty that the cars which Mr. Motorist will buy in 1935 are not ready for any such revolution in motor and chassis design. Motors up front still will be the vogue.

If the best authorities who keep posted on new car design in advance of their announcement, know their 1935 motor cars, there will be no mechanical changes for next year as startling as knee-action of 1934. One and probably two of the advocates of the exposed coiled spring type of independent front springing will abandon it in 1935. The reason given is the extra cost over the older type of leaf spring.

It is true that there will be marked changes in some of the popular lines. Rumor has it that another low priced line of sixes will make its appearance in the General Motors family. The company to which the new six is credited is said to have been an exclusive eight-cylinder builder for the past two years.

No details are available about this new six further than that its motor will resemble closely its very satisfactory eight in design and construction.

The real changes in the motor cars for next year will be in bodies. No such radical in shape, probably, as some that were introduced this year, but a complete remodeling with long sweeping lines to finish off the rear.

Solid steel tops are said to be the newest innovation from the standpoint of construction. The old padded chicken wire center with a fabric cover will be a thing of the past. Someone has borrowed a name from the Navy and called it the "Turret Top."

One of the cars, at least, that will be seen with this new design and construction of body will be the same General Motors builder of the new line of sixes, so its is claimed.

Engine power is being stepped up again to give greater speed, and along with the power increase will come more efficient and quicker acting brakes. Engines will start easier in cold weather, and fuel economy will be still higher.

Engineers and designers of low priced cars will be seen to have outdone themselves in giving those millions of motorists who have flocked to the low price standard during the depression, more than they ever dreamed of in their higher priced cars.

MISS COOPER THANKFUL OF COOPERATION GIVEN

Miss Octavine Cooper, director of the commercial vocational department in high school, appeared before the Lions Club Friday to express appreciation for the support given by Colorado business and professional men to play scheduled for that night at the school auditorium. Sixty-four local concerns, so Miss Cooper stated, had bought advertising space on the programs that were printed and distributed for the affair.

Popular Demand Is Holding Chevrolet Well In The Lead

DETROIT.—Domestic sales of the Chevrolet Motor Co., based on reports for the first twenty days of November, are the highest for this period since 1926, officials of the company announced today. Sales for November, 1926, were the highest for that month in the history of the company.

Reports from dealers indicated that the demand for Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks had remained consistently firm throughout October and the early part of November in spite of the usual downward trend inherent at this season of the year. Sales for the second ten days of November were on a par with the sales for the first ten-day period but the figure represented an increase over the same period of the previous month.

The November 20-day total surpasses the October total for the same period by approximately 1200 units.

Columnist by "UNCLE FRID" The Big Boss

Jim Pittillo an old-time friend of this columnist and editor of the Farm Labor Journal at Waco is a son-in-law of our fellow townsman Sam J. He sends us the following from his columns:

"CHRISTIAN AMERICA" SAM J. SMITH, FORMER WACONITE, BUT NOW OF COLORADO, TEXAS, DECLARES GOD'S WAY IS ONLY WAY OUT OF PRESENT DIFFICULTIES — AND MANY PEOPLE WILL HEARTILY AGREE WITH BRO. SMITH.

The name Sam J. Smith is almost as familiar to the older residents of McLennan County as any of our citizens of the past half century. For 40 years he was engaged in the grain business in Waco and had satisfactory business relations with literally thousands. About ten years ago with his family he removed to Colorado, Texas, where he made important business connections with the continental Oil Company and has made satisfactory progress in that western city.

For several weeks Mr. Smith has been quite ill, but it is highly gratifying to believe that he is surely beating it back to his normal condition again and it is hoped he may arrange his plans to visit the old home town about Christmas time, as is the custom of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

No more genial, courteous and cheerful soul ever lived than Sam Smith and it is good to know that he is sufficiently recovered to take his pen in hand and write his thoughts of present day conditions and what is best to get back to normalcy. It is the Christian way, of course, as is indicated by the forceful article that follows:

Observations of Sam J. Smith Colorado, Texas, Nov. 11, 1934. I am just wondering as we pass the mile post of life whether personally or nationally, with its retrospective mirror reflecting our imperfections, ingratitude, and unworthiness, if it would not motivate us on to nobler thoughts that develop the highest type of idealism, if he would only give ourselves a chance for meditation.

Retrospection with its power of revelation can unfold the little selfish motive that blocks the important avenue to world tolerance that is now stultifying the giant minds of the nation's most popular thinkers. Could it be said that a sane thinker would dare suggest that intolerance is the paramount stumbling block that is throttling the United States in its effort to regain its rightful place in the world and restore economic normalcy? Mr. Roosevelt's name is being heralded in lauder tones around the world as the greatest man living. If this be true there is coupled with this great honor, corresponding responsibilities in this the most momentous and psychological time in the history of our Nation to unite the peoples of America; and enlist them

Razing of Coe Rooming House For Postoffice Sets Memories To Work

Hammer blows that knocked apart the old Coe rooming house on Walnut Street to make way for the erection of Colorado's new $35,000 Federal postoffice set memories stirring in the minds of many Coloradans.

Some recalled that Colorado's first city hall once stood on that same site. When it holds the postoffice building it will return to civic importance after more than a quarter of a century of private ownership.

Others remembered when the Coe home, instead of being a rooming house jammed against a filling station, was a homey, rambling structure in a tree-filled yard which extended to the street on the south and looked almost like a downtown park—and was sometimes used that way, especially on singing convention days.

That was when it was the home of Judge and Mrs. A. J. Coe and their family, and to Judge Coe its razing meant the passing of another material link with his early, active years in Colorado.

Judge Coe built the original six rooms of the house in 1905, shortly after he and Mrs. Coe moved in town from their farm two and a half miles northwest of Colorado. He also built another house just north of it for his daughter, Mrs. Sam Majors, and her husband. In later years the two houses were moved together. Rooms were added at various times. The structure contained about fifteen rooms when it was torn down.

At the time Judge Coe built the home the lots of Moore's livery stable covered the Doss block south of it. Mary Marshall, negro, lived near the corner. A Chinese laundry was on the corner. Mrs. Nellie Schroeder's home was where the Kincaid shop is

OBITUARY A lonely soul. What of them? Let them live on when I am gone out in the cold. Then let it be said, when men pass by the hole you've dug for me, "Men siphoned" his blood till his veins were dry, then turned him adrift when the tide was high. He pleads not a tear, only a sigh. He died the death good colonists die. We are each one, older growing Every day Down life's river swiftly rowing Every day Steered for Temples ever standing We are borne at God's commanding Nearer, closer to the landing Every day. F. B. President Hascall of Lions International Leader in Legal, Civic Phases of Country

Vincent C. Hascall of Omaha, Nebraska, President of Lions International, is by profession a lawyer, but he uses his knowledge of law these days in handling the legal affairs of the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska. He was born in Ogden, Utah, June 9, 1888. When he was three years of age his family moved to Omaha, Nebraska, and there he attended the public schools of Omaha until he entered high school, when his family removed to North Platte, Nebraska, where he attended and graduated from high school. In 1907 he entered the University of Nebraska, where he spent five years in Academic and Law, graduating in 1917 with a degree of Bachelor of Laws. He went at once to the practice of law, was Judge of the Omaha Municipal Court for five years, and served two terms in the Nebraska Legislature. He is a member of the City, State and American Bar Associations.

When the Omaha Lions Club was formed Vincent C. Hascall was a charter member. He served as president of the club, and in all major official capacities. When the International Convention was held in Omaha in 1924, he distinguished himself by his services, and came to the favorable attention of all delegates and officers of the Association. He was elected district governor of the Ninth District in 1926, when that jurisdiction included Iowa and Nebraska, and in 1927, was chosen Chairman of the Board of Governors of Lions International. When his term in this office expired at the convention in Des Moines, Iowa, he was elected to the Board of Directors, serving three years, from where he was elevated to the Third Vice Presidency at the 1931 convention in Toronto, Canada. In successive years he became Second Vice-President and First Vice-President, and at the 1934 convention of the Association, held in Grand Rapids, Michigan, he was unanimously elected International President of the entire Association. With one exception he has attended every International Convention of the Lions Clubs since the second convention.

Of course Vincent Hascall took time out from his legal and judicial labors to serve in the World War, taking his training at the Field Artillery Officers' Training Camp at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Kentucky. His tastes run to athletics. He played University football and baseketball. He and his family attend the First Methodist Church of Omaha. He belongs to the Happy Hollow Country Club of Omaha, and other organizations which claim him are Tangier Temple of the Shrine, the Scottish Rite Masons, the Blue Lodge, of which he is past master, His Majesty's Council of Ak-Sar-Ben, American Legion and the Omaha Club, the Omaha and the United States Chambers of Commerce.

He has been active in the local and state councils of the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, and the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association, and since 1915 has been attached to the staff of the University of Nebraska Medical College as a lecturer on medical jurisprudence.

On November 27, 1914 he married Miss Darline Dale Pugh, of Topeka, Kansas, and they have one daughter, Alice Ann.

The plant will be known as the Stoneham Abstract Company and will continue in its present situation. Both Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Taylor have had wide experience in the abstract field. The former helped her father build his plant and Mrs. Taylor has done work for both the Mitchell County Abstract Company and for Mr. Stoneham.

TEXAS PLANTERS LOOKING INTO BETTER DAYS. LAND BANK OFFICIAL ANNOUNCES

More Optimistic Than During Last Year, Washington Official States

In spite of the drought damage, Texas farmers are more optimistic than they were a year ago, A. C. Williams, president of the Houston Land Bank, declared in statement received Tuesday by The Record.

"Considering effects of the prolonged drought in Texas, the collections of maturing installments on Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commission's loans have been good this fall," Mr. Williams said. "Borrowers have appreciated their loan from the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commission, and are cooperating by prompt payment."

"In spite of the drought there is a very good demand for farms and on sales of farms will exceed sales during 1933," Mr. Williams rejoiced. "We are anticipating a continued rise in the price of good farms for some time to come."

"The cotton crop in Texas was only about one-half of normal this year because of the drought and was considerably below the allotment under the Bankhead bill. Higher prices and smaller payments however, have partially made up for the short crop. The numbers in the live stock section of Texas have decreased mainly as a result of the drought and the price of live stock is expected to be in effect during the entire holiday season up until January 1st and will carry liberal return limits.

"Although there was a slight seasonal rise in the number of applications received for loans by the Houston Federal Land Bank during the month of November, 1933, this would indicate that the number of farmers desiring to be refinanced is still a more normal period of operation."
