'WHITE WAY' CONTROVERSY BE SETTLED AT BALLOT BOX

'SOLDIER BONUS' PAYMENT WOULD ASSURE $200,000 CASH TO LOCAL VETERANS

Total 350 Mitchell County Citizens Would Share In Distribution

Mitchell county veterans would receive in the aggregate $209,596.38 in liquidation of the so-called soldier bonus in event the measure being advocated in congress by Wright Patman of Texarkana and other congressmen who are making the issue one of the major objectives around the capitol at Washington.

Figures showing that veterans of this county would receive that sum were recently compiled by Congressman Patman. Payments to all veterans in the country would total more than two billion dollars, the congressman states. $3,696,221.25 would be distributed to holders of the adjusted compensation certificates in Texas.

Enactment of this bill into law, according to Mr. Patman's argument would result in the following:

"It will save the government more than a billion dollars, or $112,000,000 a year for 12 years.

"It will save the government more than $10,000,000 in administration expenses of the Adjusted Compensation Act between now and 1945.

"It will prevent the veterans from losing a valuable equity by releasing them from the payment of compound interest on their loans. Veterans, who have borrowed 50 per cent under the present law, will have very little coming to them in 1945.

"It will require no bond issue, no increase in taxes, no additional interest payment by the government. The debt must be paid some time. Everybody will be helped if it is paid now."

Since leaving Colorado Fisk has made his home in California. He is now living at Reading, in northern part of the State. For several years he was city marshal there but in recent years Fisk has devoted his attention to mining.

COUNCIL TO BE GOVERNED BY MANDATE OF CITIZENS ON STREET LIGHT STATUS

Moeser Only Councilman Who Favored Taking Standards Out Of Second Street

In order to arrive at solution of a question that is perplexing members of the city council a special referendum election is to be held here Friday, January 25, to determine whether or not the qualified electors of the city favor or reject the proposition to take light standards from center of East and West Second street.

The election was unanimously agreed upon at meeting of the council Monday night following considerable debate. Chas. Moeser was only member of the council to press plea that Colorado agree to take down the equipment. He was supported by Mayor J. A. Sadler who addressed members of the council on the question but the presiding official had no vote.

Sadler read to the council communication from divisional offices of the State Highway Commission in Abilene in which it was stipulated the government would spend the sum of $34,000 in rebuilding Lone Wolf Creek bridge and widening East Second street and West Point avenue from the bridge east to the city limits, on condition the street lighting equipment was taken from center of the street.

"Mr. Mayor, I call for a recorded vote on this question and wish to again offer my motion that we extend this cooperation with the government in assuring this needed improvement," Moeser announced after his initial motion to that effect had died for want of a second. Again there was no second offered.

G. B. Price explained that he would favor removal of the equipment on condition the State highway commission would agree to underwrite cost of taking down the standards and relocating the "white way" along either side of the street.

At one time as the discussion became general with members of the city governing body expressing their opinion on the question with emphasis, Councilman R. O. Pearson offered motion to adjourn. A ripple of laughter ran through the executive chamber and another question received here.

Dr. Duff made his decision to return to preaching after several years of teaching. At present he is in Sherman recovering from a major operation.

Mrs. Baxter Scoggin, Jr., Honored
At Country Club Shower Wednesday

First, and probably largest, of the affairs honoring Mrs. Baxter Scoggin, Jr., formerly Miss Irene Powell, was the shower and reception to which Miss Elizabeth Grantland was hostess at the Colorado Country Club
Wednesday afternoon.

Guests were met at the door of the club room by Miss Jenks Spalding and presented by her to the receiving line, in which stood Miss Grant-land, Mrs. Lay Powell, Mrs. Scoggin, Mrs. J. P. Morgan of Snyder, Mrs.
Sue Scoggin of Snyder, and Miss Jones of Snyder.

Registrations were in a bride's book of white satin, decorated with a hand-painted pink rose and green leaves, which was presided over by Miss Frances Lupton. Miss Elverie Sorrells played popular piano numbers while the guests gathered.

Opening number on the program was a tap dance by Miss Opal Martin of Lorraine. Mrs. W. R. Martin, also of Lorraine, played for her. Miss Margaret Cook played for a strut by Marian Britton and a doll dance by Phyllis Berman.

A treasure hunt idea was used to introduce the honoree to her gifts.
Miss Lillian Bean read the first clue:
"A treasure hunt in progress swings
To bring the bride innumerable things.

Let her look on the mantle and see for herself
The way to the treasure of incalculable wealth.

On the mantle Mrs. Scoggin found a note, reading:
"Friends love as only friends can do,
And through the years they have been loyal to you.
They ask you to seek on the piano
there

The key to the future if you dare."
The "key" on the piano proved to be a real one, tied with pink and green ribbon, and accompanied this note:

"This key will unlock a treasure chest,
And we hope its contents are only
the best.
May success, health, and happiness accompany you
As you find in the east room our good wishes for you."

The "east room" was the dining room, and in it stood a large cedar chest which the key opened and which was filled with gifts.

Tea was poured by Miss Erdine
Morgan and Miss Lois Elouise Burdine from silver tea services on a table covered with lace over pink satin and centered with a bowl of sweet peas and a miniature bridal party lighted by green tapers in green holders. Cookies and pink and green mints were served with the tea. Sweet pea corsages were plate favors.

Business Better Than During First Half Of Last January, Business Man Declares

Business conditions in Colorado were considerably improved over those for the first half of January in 1934, a prominent Colorado merchant stated to this newspaper one day this week.

"Our trade volume has exceeded by a considerable margin the total for the first fifteen days of last January," he commented Wednesday after making comparison of sales figures for the two fifteen-day periods.

The merchant indicated that he felt confident conditions would continue to improve with passing of the months in 1935.

"Oh, it will rain some of these days. It sometimes takes a long time for the weather man to send moisture but he has never failed yet," he surmised while tracing his eyes across an overcast sky.

to the character and responsibility of the management of any proposed Federal savings and loan association.

An actual need for such an association must exist in a given community before a charter is granted. The lack of inadequacy of existing facilities and assurance that injury would not be caused to existing local home-financing institutions by the organization of such an association, are the test of such necessity.

Different types of shares are specified in important feature of uniformity among such associations. These include optional savings shares for regular investment of varying sums; installment thrift shares for regular investment of a fixed amount each month; prepaid shares for lump sum investment with dividends allowed to accumulate, and full paid income shares with lump sum investment with current dividends to be paid to the shareholders.

A bonus is given to reward consistent, systematic investment in any Federal savings and loan association by setting up semi-annually, a reserve of one half of one per cent of the total amount outstanding to the credit of installment thrift shareholders, who have paid their installments regularly, to be paid to such shareholders upon the maturity of their shares if no repurchase has been made thereon.

Loans made by the association must be on homes or other improved real estate, located within fifty miles of the association's office. $20,000 is fixed as the maximum amount to be loaned on any one home or combination of home and business property.

Light Standard

came up for consideration. It was but a matter of moments, however, until the council was back on the light standard subject.

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, met with the council and in an address before the body offered strong plea that the light standards be taken down. "Until such time as those standards are removed you need not expect one dollar of the $34,000, already allocated to the city, to be expended," he declared. Mayor Sadler expressed the same opinion.

It was estimated that approximately $20,000 of the $34,000 to be spent would be taken up by labor; "passing directly to hundreds of Mitchell county citizens sorely in need of work at this time."

Before agreement was reached to submit the matter direct to the voters, Mooser addressed the mayor to ask if he would call the council into recessed session within three days, "after we have had time to take this question to the people through petition to this council." Sadler did not indicate whether or not the suggested adjourned session would be called.

A. L. McSpadden, manager for the Texas Electric Service Company, was quoted at the meeting as having recently informed the mayor that the cables now carrying electrical energy to the street lights in question are about passed their days of service. The utilities official reiterated this statement Tuesday morning, declaring that in some sections repairs to the cable had been made as much as a dozen times. "The equipment is liable to become unserviceable at any time," he stated. The present conduits must be replaced at best within the next year or 18 months, it was stated.

Have You Seen Our Hen?

She hovers 52,000 eggs (3½ tons) at one time. She never leaves her nest, she never breaks her eggs. She is more intelligent and more kindly through all of the 21 days of hatching period than a feathered hen.

We have reference to the Smith Incubator used in Colorado's Largest Hatchery.

Poultry experience is our guarantee to you...

Experience in any business means greater understanding of the customer's needs and therefore the ability to serve a customer to his entire satisfaction. Nothing counts more in the Poultry Business than Experience... unless it is ability to give the Poultryman something just a little better than he can buy elsewhere, regardless of price. But back of that there must be experience in breeding and culling of flocks. You get this experience when you wisely invest in our chicks. No matter what breed.

We sell baby chicks that live and grow, or, bring your eggs and we'll hatch them for you. This is an invitation for you to visit us. You will be interested, whether or not you own chicks. We will take you inside of our incubator so you can see how the world's largest mechanical hen hatches baby chicks.

Place your orders now for Baby Chicks. First hatch January 25th.

TWO UNDERPASSES PROPOSED IN RAIL-RELIEF PROJECT

IMPROVEMENT DEPENDS ON CLOSING OF TWO STREETS AT RAILROAD INTERSECTION

Proposition Be Submitted In Special Election Called For February 19

Campaign to eliminate two dangerous hazards to life and property through closing of Elm and Oak streets at intersection with the Texas & Pacific Railroad this week assumed an encouraging aspect when contracts for financing the proposed improvements were advanced the city by the rail corporation and the Texas Relief Administration.

Whether or not the project, calling for construction of two underpass connections to South Colorado, is to be realized depends upon sentiment to be expressed in a special election to be held February 19. Order for the election was passed Monday night by the city council after petition carrying 150 names had been presented by Jim Greeche of the chamber of commerce.

"I have here for your consideration this contract, passed by the proper authorities at Austin, authorizing my office to employ certain labor and pay cost of certain drainage hauls in process of this construction," Greeche declared. "We cannot proceed with this improvement, however, until the Oak and Elm street crossings have been officially closed to traffic."

Greeche stated that E. A. Pistole of Big Spring, divisional superintendent for the Texas & Pacific, had entered into an agreement to build the two proposed underpasses, including the improvement of street approaches within in bounds of the corporation property.

One of the rail underpasses would be built along Lone Wolf Creek and the other on east bank of the Colorado river. Both would be connected with street extensions. Traffic to South Colorado would use the Lone Wolf Creek underpass, passing from south end of Elm street east along north side of the rail property and back to Concho street on south side of the creek.

The river underpass is proposed to serve traffic to the industrial district, all of which now uses the Oak and Elm street crossings.

J. E. Watson, Joe B. Mills and W. C. Davis returned early Tuesday from Monahan where they had gone to hunt birds. Fair success is reported by the group.

Birthday Ball Plans Assume Final Shape With Committee Appointments

Already assuming definite shape, plans for the President's Birthday Ball at the Legion Hut on Wednesday evening, January 30, are being pushed toward completion, according to announcements made this week by Rod Merritt, local chairman of arrangements.

Those buying tickets this year will be given their choice of two hours of bridge or several hours of dancing—or both. The bridge games will begin at 7:30 at the hut, and the dancing at 9:30.

Music for the dancing will be in charge of Harry Ratliff and will be furnished by a fifteen piece orchestra, composed of the following: Mrs. Oscar Price, E. P. Rose, Jim Logan, James Herrington, Boyd Dozier, Frank Pidgeon, Ed Jones, Sr., Lawrence Sniveley, Harold Martin of Lorraine, Liggett of Lorraine, J. E. McCleary, Marvin Watson, and Hall Dugarmo.

Mrs. Don Wallace is chairman of the bridge committee. She is appointing her helpers from the various bridge clubs.

Hostesses during the evening will be Mrs. R. J. Wallace, Mrs. W. R. Martin of Lorraine, and Mrs. Van Boston of Westbrook.

Ticket sales in Colorado will be in charge of Joe Pond, who will be aided by members appointed from the service clubs. Miss Irene Brown will direct sales in Lorraine and Miss Pauline Van Horn in Westbrook.

Merritt announces that a hat-checking service will be one of the improvements of this year's dance over that of last year.

A number of Colorado merchants are cooperating with Merritt and his co-workers in making the ball a success by making donations.

Max Berman's Department store will furnish serpentine, confetti, and bridge scorepads.

Pond and Merritt will furnish the playing cards.

Colorado Drug will give a bridge prize.

J. Riordan will donate balloons.

Whipkey Printing Company is making tickets without charge.

The American Legion is giving the use of the hut.

TEXAS EDUCATOR LAUDS ORGANIZED EFFORT FOR COMMUNITY'S WELFARE

An organization such as the Colorado Lions Club is worth much as a community builder and the inspiration to develop an appreciation of community service, Dr. C. V. Edwards, vice president of Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton, stated during an address at the Lions Club Friday.

The well known educator was here with a group of seven young women who came to Mitchell county from the school to conduct special training courses among young people of First Baptist and other churches. He was a guest of Rev. Dick O'Brien at the club.

WOLF PACK LOSES PLACE IN TOURNEY AFTER THIRD CONSECUTIVE GAME TAKEN

Big Spring Steers Rout Roby In Finals To Capture The Championship Belt

The Wolves did not sustain threat to parade through Fourth Annual Invitation Basketball tournament here last week to again walk off with coveted pennant and went down in defeat before onslaughts of the Roby Lions Saturday afternoon in one of the most exciting contests of the four-day meet.

In their first round, played Wednesday afternoon, the home town boys defeated Hermleigh 26 to 20. In second round of the tournament Friday night the Wolves routed Lorraine 24 to 15 to maintain their place in the brackets. In the third round Saturday morning, with the locals arrayed against Divide, Colorado again emerged the victor with a score of 29 to 17.

But the semi-final round was different. It was one of the hardest fought battles ever seen in the high gym. First the Wolves would lead one or two points and then the Roby Lions would swing ahead. It was a toss-up until the final whistle as the game ended with Roby two points in the lead.

Other Mitchell county teams entered in the tournament were Lorraine, Latah, Westbrook and the Colorado Jackrabbits.

Westbrook lost in her first encounter staged Wednesday afternoon with the Sterling City club as opponent and in first round of the consolation bracket lost to Latah 26 to 11 after the latter had been defeated by Roby 41 to 12. In second consolation round Sweetwater drove Latah from the arena by a score of 17 to 10.

The Jackrabbits were eliminated as their initial round was over. They lost to Roscoe to the ratio of 31 to 12. In first consolation round Friday afternoon Lorraine was defeated by Sweetwater 31 to 17.

Lorraine defeated Dunn in first round Wednesday by the score of 13 to 10. The boys from Lorraine were eliminated in second round when they lost to the Wolves 24 to 15.

In the tournament semi-finals Saturday afternoon Big Spring and Roby Lions qualified for final play after defeating runner-up contestants for the honor.

In the final Saturday night the Big Spring lads won over Roby by the score of 32 to 23. This marked third time within four years that the Steers had captured first place in the Colorado tournament.

REGULATION OF BEAUTY SHOPS AND OPERATORS SOUGHT BY COMMITTEE

Regulation looking to rigid control of all beauty shops and operators is demanded by operators of the larger beauty shops in Colorado. A committee representing the shops, called at the city council meeting Monday night to register protest over certain phases of the trade here and demand that regulatory ordinances be considered.

Statements by some of the committee members indicated that it was the transient and inexperienced operator they sought to have placed under some kind of regulation. The charge was made that children were doing work in competition with trained experts with no regard to sanitation or other requisites so essential to the profession.

WOMEN, GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

By MISS EMMA GUNTER, Home Demonstration Agent

MRS. C. C. BLACK IS HOOKING RUG

Making the most of her time while she cannot work outdoors, Mrs. C. C. Black of the Looney community is hooking a woolen rug of discarded clothing using a modernistic geometrical pattern. She was very fortunate in getting a very substantial frame made by Mr. Black using the A. & M. blue print as a guide and with the use of her automatic needle has performed a miracle at comparatively no cost.

Every rural home needs more place rugs and since discarded clothing can be found in almost every home the next step is execution. Any information desired along this line can be had by calling on the county home demonstration agent.

MRS. ORR MAKES DYED BEDSPREAD

Without any extra cost Mrs. Jack Orr of the Lone Star community took three yards of ten quarter bleached sheeting that she had on hand and some left over blue and lavender dye and from the dye pot came a nicely colored spread of blue lavender color. Mrs. Orr plans to draw off her design and tuft a candlewick spread. She figures she has saved $1.00 by dying her material and drawing off her own design and through saving of postage if she had ordered colored sheeting.

MRS. W. K. MILES IS PAINTING WOODWORK

The old saying, "A little paint makes an old thing look what it ain't" surely is the case of Mrs. W. K. Miles, bedroom improvement demonstrator of the Looney club. The bedroom has been canvassed, and papered at a cost of $5.00. The floors will be treated next with an oil mixture.

GARDEN HINTS

Be sure to get your garden spot plowed in January so that you can begin planting hardy vegetables in March. Plow deep and then pulverize thoroughly. About 4 to 6 loads of barnyard fertilizer should be worked into the soil in 1/4 acre garden.

Then sit down and make out a garden planting plan. This enables you to know how many seeds to buy and to proportion the desired quantity of each vegetable needed to supply the family with fresh vegetables and a surplus to can. It has been

It's FALSE ECONOMY TO TURN OFF YOUR REFRIGERATOR

Electric refrigerators are so constructed that they adjust themselves instantly and accurately to changes in temperature without your assistance. If the weather is warm, they buckle down to hard work and keep the inside of the box at its proper temperature. If the weather is cold, it automatically turns itself off as long as the temperature remains in safe bounds. That's why we say it's false economy to turn your refrigerator on and off according to your ideas of the weather—your electric refrigerator catches temperature changes quicker and more accurately than you do.

COFFEE... right at the table ELECTRICALLY

It's very disturbing to get up from the dining room table and run back to the kitchen to see how the coffee is getting along — it's also very unnecessary, for an electric percolator will make your coffee right at the table, where you have it at arm's reach all the time. Priced from $4.95 up.

Banish WINTER ILLS

It's surprising the relief one gets from the aches and pains of colds, "flu" and grippe by applying constant, regulated heat. Hot water bottles, hot bricks wrapped in towels and such are usable in an emergency, but an electric heating pad is the thing for permanent service.

A GOOD BANK Is a Servant to YOUR family

"Take care of my family till I return." These were always the parting words of the Crusader knight of long ago as he set out for the wars and he always spoke them to his most trusted retainer. He might die on the battlefield or captive in a dungeon but he knew his retainer's promise would be followed to the letter.

Today it is easy for a man to provide much more surely for the absolute security of his family. Instead of depending upon a trusted body-servant he can commit their welfare to the trusted department of a good bank. He knows that they will have the protection of a home, every educational opportunity, leisure for a really full life and a comfortable old age. He knows they will be secure.

The management of trusts is one of the greatest responsibilities a banker can have. It is treated as such. The investment of trust funds is handled with special care. Here a good bank has full opportunity to demonstrate all the knowledge and skill gained through years of experience. Changing trends in real estate values, in securities and in business are carefully studied. Security of principal is preserved at all hazards. Then a fair return is assured. This bank maintains a separate reserve fund as additional protection for the trusts it administers.

Your banker can help you safeguard your family through trust protection. It will pay you to know him better.

OPENING OF HOTEL HERE
50 YEARS AGO RECALLED
BY NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

One Of Texas' Most Colorful Events Staged As Stockmen Stage Eventful Ball

Gay festivities attending Colorado's social life fifty years ago are recalled in an article published in the Sunday Dallas Morning News. The paper in its "Dallas and Texas Fifty Years Ago" column recalled that "The three-story brick hotel building (St. James) in Colorado City, Texas, has just been completed and will be open for business on the 15th of February under W. S. Wilson."

Judge C. H. Earnest, resident citizen here at that time, Monday recalled festivities attending formal opening of the hotel.

"Some of us recall that soon thereafter, on March 4, the celebrated Stockmen's Supper and Ball took place," Judge Earnest stated. "The affair was advertised far and wide and attended by stockmen from all over the State in that it commemorated not only the opening of the hotel but also the inaugural of a Democratic president—Grover Cleveland (first term)."

"The bill for champagne alone was $2,500. Stockmen in those days did not do things by halves. I only remember the champagne, the no less sparkling girls, and the excellent music by the imported orchestra, or string band."

The ball was staged on third floor of the old opera house at East Second and Elm.

Judge Earnest listed other Coloradans who would recall the event to include Judge R. H. Looney, John L. Doss, W. L. Doss, C. M. Adams, R. O. Pearson, Mrs. Harry Smoot, C. H. Lasky, Mrs. C. M. Adams, then Miss Fannie Rix, and Mrs. C. H. Earnest, then Miss Fannie Craig.

CITY WILL CONTINUE IN DRIVE TO BEAUTIFY THE BURIAL, OTHER GROUNDS

That the city council has no intention of neglecting the city cemetery and other publicly controlled properties was indicated Monday night as order for 200 Chinese elms to be planted in the grounds was made.

Construction of the rugged stone fence about the cemetery grounds is being continued and the property has been otherwise improved.

Much improvement has recently been made about grounds at the sewer disposal plant. Ornamental trees and roses are to be set out there.

Of course columnists haven't much of a head for figures. If he had such a head he would be a bookkeeper. Or if he had a head for facts he would be a preacher. Being unable to be anything of importance, he comes to be a columnist.

Not long since we received a letter from, we guess a feminine, she is that disapproving, in which she criticizes us on some remark we made about Adam and Eve, and goes on to state she doubts we own a Bible.

Our statement was that Adam and Eve were ordered to "subdue" the earth when this feminine writer pokes fun at this statement and tells us several things to do about improving our scriptural knowledge. We did say that Adam and Eve were ordered to "subdue" the earth and the twenty eighth verse of the first chapter of Genesis sustains us. Our forefathers were orally and pointedly directed to "multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it." The direction is as plain as the rouge on this lady's face. Adam was a farmer required only to dress and keep the Garden of Eden. Our suggestion that she "search the Scripture," and she won't have to hunt long to find we are right in our first assertion, also the subsequent reiteration.

A columnist is not always wrong. Just because columnists are meek and have little cultural background is no sign they can't be right some of the time. The fair critic is warned that we will continue to write about the Bible and will not hesitate to become a theologian when we feel that way despite her warning that we lay off such deep stuff. Not only will we theologize when we feel theological—we will ichthyologize when we feel ichthyological, paleontologize when we feel paleontological and gormandize when we feel gormandizing.

LIFE Always it is service, not years, that must be the correct standard of measurement of a life. Also it is the right standard of valuation.

The Dead Sea receives the waters of the Jordan and other streams but it doesn't let any of it run out. A sponge absorbs water but it has to be squeezed before it will give out any of what it has received. Some men are Dead Seas and some are sponges in human form.

The worlds discovered by telescope and microscope are greater than that discovered by Columbus, and the worlds discovered by spiritual long and heart yearnings, while the discoverer is perhaps gazing through the prism of tears, are incomparably greater than those whose existence was found by use of the telescope and microscope.

The scenes viewed by the Eye of Faith are more beautiful than those gazed upon by the physical eye. The music heard by the Ear of Listening Love is sweeter than that made by the best orchestras playing symphonies and sonatas.

Many say and do things "In His Name" but not always in His Nature and Spirit.

The same spirit prompts all deeds of loving kindness no matter who it is that performs them, where they are performed, or what particular creed he espouses.

The beneficent effect of a noble deed is not affected by religious belief, race or nationality.

There is a psychological essence in the thought and an inherent power in the deed that lifts both the thought and the deed above all human systems, creeds and dogmas.

Such deeds always are on the credit side of Life's ledger. For God to discredit good would mean to deny Himself.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

Ah, but what is Life? The old, eternal question. It must be something very precious, because God gave it to His Son as a supreme experience, and as one of God's possessions it's not to be scorned. "For as the Father hath Life in Himself so hath He given to the Son to have Life in Himself.

Life is knowledge. It is not escape. It is not running away to a hermitage. It is knowing what Christ knew. And he turned his head from nothing except causing suffering in others. He said "I am Life." Magic words. Words are the soul's antennae. We can only know what they pick out for us. When Christ said, "I am Life" He told it all. And He spent no time save the forty days, in mortifying the flesh. If we slough off all that interferes in living the Christ life 'twill be enough.

ALL IS NOT GOLD THAT GLITTERS

Whether a man be rich or poor, he is a degenerate if he makes wealth the criterion of all that is good. A rich man who has nothing but wealth and is nothing but wealthy is the most miserable of men. A poor man who has everything but wealth and is everything but wealthy is the happiest of men. This writer, once heard a poor man say: "There was a time in my own life when I was so poor that I ate with avidity crusts of bread I picked up from the streets and lived in a den so squalid that I was pitted by the poorest working men. Yet I was never happier than I was at that time, for although my pockets were empty, I was rich in a good conscience and in a soul stored with treasures not of this earth. I never envied rich men for I doubled the value of wealth." My friend was right.

True happiness springs from a source deeper than that of the purse. When we begin to envy and emulate vice, just and good men, then we shall find peace of soul. And peace of soul is no small treasure. Many a martyr dying in an inferno of flames was happier in his dying than a thousand millionaires feeding at their troughs of gold.

My friend doubled the value of wealth. This question of doubt is premised upon the notion that wealth is money and also gives expression to the very prevalent and time-honored obsession which has possessed humanity ever since money became a medium of exchange. Money is not wealth. Wealth is composed of the God-given natural resources of the earth operated upon by the will of man impelled by his ideal, desire and operative through his intelligence and muscle and brawn. The fountain of wealth is constituted of the material gifts of God and the creative will of man. If these causative conditions of wealth continue to exist unimpaired then man will be happy.

Humanity surely has come to a sorry pass of mind when it permits itself to be paralyzed into inactivity because it does not possess the medium of exchange which humanity itself created as an instrument of action and which humanity may modify, destroy or set aside for a better instrument of exchange without in the least diminishing the potential wealth which the will of man operative upon the God-given and never diminishing material resources of the earth may continue to produce.

Why does humanity continue to cringe and plot in fearsome adoration before the devilish God of Greed incarnated in money and gold? Money and gold without themselves are inert, dead. If they live or have power it is because man infuses into them his own life and power, for they are man created, man's creatures, and surely it is thinkable that man's creation should be superior to man, the creator. Humanity has the power to shake itself loose from the strangling grip of his own created monster. The present depression is but a self-created dungeon of despair. Humanity may be free the moment it resolutely and uncompromisingly repudiates greed, challenges greed's lying philosophy of "Me and Mine," and hopefully marches forward.

SENIOR NEWS

After the confusion of the midterm exams, the new schedules, basketball tournament, and new classes, quiet once again prevails as everyone begins the last half of this school year. Downfallen looks convey that some poor Senior didn't make the grade and will have to fall behind. Others are happy because they have left one half of the year behind and forgotten.

That a political battle is promised as voters of the Sweetwater independent school district go to polls to elect trustees next April is indicated in fact that recently a group of Sweetwater women representing an organization known as the "Better Schools association" allied on members of the school board the other day to demand that no superintendent be elected until after the coming election.

BRAIN MIND THOUGHT

Lord Francis Bacon wrote: "A little philosophy inclineth a man's mind to atheism, but depths in philosophy bringeth men's minds about to religion. I had rather believe all the fables in the legends and the Talmud and the Acoran than that this universal frame is without a mind."

When I was a boy in school they tried to teach me that all thought originated in the brain. I did not believe it then. I do not believe it now. The brain acts as a transmitter only, but from where to where? Here is a good place to ask why do we think? What is thought, whence does it emanate and where does it go? The brain is the registry office of the mind. Brain and mind are not quite synonymous. The brain is physical like the mirror; the mind is a brain reflection like once facing a mirror reflection.

When one starts to perform a task he first thinks of doing it. The operation is motivated by the brain which throbs and manifests energy. If the brain were not governed by the mind the task could not be performed. Mind then is the will and spirit while the brain is the engine of thought. Some animals have massive brains but little minds. This is because their brain texture is coarse and casts a poor reflection like a sandy looking glass. When a person has severe bodily pain, he doesn't see the seat of his misery, but the sense of same is transmitted through nerves to the responsive brain and the latter directs obedient mind to find a remedy.
