

FREDERICK BRAUN, EARLY DAY COLORADO BUSINESS MAN, DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Sold Drug Business To Doss Bros. In 1888 And Left For Los Angeles

Frederick W. Braun, who for a few years during the hectic boom days of Colorado City in the 80's, operated a drug business here, died recently at his home in Los Angeles. Braun sold his drug business to John L. and W. L. Doss, and the former has since operated the store at the same location on East Second street. Doss recalled Wednesday morning that Braun came to Colorado in 1883 and entered the drug business. His ambition was to enter the wholesale drug trade and after a few years decided to go to Los Angeles. "He left Colorado with $20,000 in cash in his pockets and after a few years in Los Angeles was considered the wealthiest citizen in that city," Doss recalled. "At the time of his death Braun owned more sky-scrapers in that California city than any other individual."

Braun was conducting his drug store here at the Second street building since owned by Doss. The latter had a drug business in building on West Second now occupied by the Broadway Cafe.

"John, I am going to make a trade with you," Braun is quoted as having said as the two friends told each other good bye in the drug store here 47 years ago. "If I ever need a job and you have one, you will give it to me and if you ever need a job and I have one, you will get it." The proposition was accepted and the two shook hands. That was the last time Doss and Braun met until 21 years later when Mr. Doss was visiting in Los Angeles.

Several Coloradans who were resident citizens during time of Mr. Braun's stay here recall him as among the pioneer-civic leaders who contributed much to the building of one of Texas' largest commercial centers here.

SPANISH BEING STUDIED BY COLORADO MINISTER

Rev. Dick O'Brien admits that he has recently taken up the study of Spanish in preparation of his ambition to read some Spanish language newspapers sent him a few weeks ago by a friend in Cuba. The preacher wanted to have direct information concerning the people of Cuba and requested the papers. He was puzzled to find they were printed in Spanish after a bundle containing several copies arrived by mail.

Cupid Game At Relief Office Brings About Wedding On Monday Afternoon

Playing Cupid is the latest diversion of the local relief office force. Their efforts in this direction reached a climax Monday afternoon when Joe Butler, negro janitor of the relief office took unto himself a wife, Jessie Biggers. Combining their resources, members of the force furnished the ring, the flowers, and the rice, leaving Joe only the problem of producing the bride at the appointed time. The ceremony was said by Minister J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ at his home at two o'clock Monday afternoon. The bride wore a red tunic and black skirt and carried a bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Rice was showered on the couple after the ceremony by the following relief office workers: Miss Emily Dulancy, Mrs. Joe Farr, Mrs. Bernie Grable, Mrs. Bonnie Burt, Miss Nellie Mae Henderson, Mrs. Maurine Reese, Miss Johnnie Lou Callison, Miss Lona Lipps, Mrs. Grady Beach, and Miss Ava Bea King.

COLORADO AT CRITICAL STAGE IN ROMANCE ON TRANSCONTINENTAL BUS

The romance that bloomed Saturday aboard a westbound transcontinental Greyhound bus, with much publicity resulting, must have been at its most critical stage when the bus passed through Colorado. It reached its climax in Big Spring, according to the Big Spring Daily Herald, when Robert E. Vanouse and his former wife, Mildred Vanouse, having found themselves aboard the same bus, decided to forget their divorce and try again. They dashed for the courthouse while the bus stopped in Big Spring and were married.

As soon as the Howard county judge had performed the ceremony they boarded the bus and rolled on to Redlands, California. It was, the Herald stated, "June in February" for them. Later, the Sweetwater Reporter said that the romance was blooming

Improved Models Have Added Features Embodying Best In Service, Economy

Improved commercial car models having more power, higher torque or pulling ability, greatly increased breaking efficiency, and numerous improvements in engine and chassis, have been announced by the Chevrolet Motor Company. In addition to the 1/2-ton trucks of 112-inch wheelbase and the 3/4-ton trucks of either 131-inch or 157-inch wheelbase, Chevrolet this year features a new unit, the Standard sedan delivery, intended for the fast dispatch of light merchandise. A wide variety of factory-built bodies, designed to meet the special requirements of different industries and trades, is available. Prices remain at the low levels established last year, when Chevrolet led the industry in truck registrations. The chassis prices, according to the Chevrolet announcement, are the lowest in the world.

The Chevrolet models for 1935 retain the general characteristics of the previous line in layout and design; mechanically, however, they incorporate many refinements and added features.

Changes in the engines include spark advance control, heavier crankshaft with improved counterweighting and harmonic balancer, selective balancing of rotating parts, high pressure oil stream lubrication to connecting rod bearings, increased oil pump capacity, electro-plated pistons, greater water pump capacity, and improved cylinder-head temperature distribution.

Brakes and braking have been greatly increased in efficiency and ease of operation, now possessing such features as lighter pedal pressure, higher coefficient of friction in the lining, limited articulation of brake shoes, and increased life of linings. As a result, the new trucks can be stopped in half the distance formerly required.

Improvements in manifolding, carburetion, timing and valves, through the adoption of the Chevrolet Blue Flame design of the Master engine for this year's truck engine has resulted in a horsepower capacity of 70 in the 1935 trucks, a gain of 10 horsepower over last year. Maximum pulling power is developed, with 150 foot pounds torque, at low engine speeds, corresponding to 17 to 24 m.p.h. speed range.

Oil dilution is prevented by a patented crankcase ventilator which discharges gasoline fumes and vapors into the air stream underneath the oil pan. The feature of the ventilator is that heavy oil vapors are trapped and condensed, to return to the crankcase, as a measure of economy.

An important contribution to smooth engine performance is the use of electro-plated pistons, which considerably shortens the period for the proper breaking-in of the engine.

The new sedan delivery on the New Standard chassis, having a Fisher body of the same size and appearance as the Standard sedan, with no-draft ventilation, is announced by Chevrolet as the lowest priced enclosed commercial car on the market. It was designed especially to provide economical fast delivery service for merchants and businesses handling light merchandise.

BOYS TRAINED IN SCOUT TROOPS SELDOM FOUND IN PENAL INSTITUTIONS

A boy who has not been a Boy Scout has 1 chance in 40 to become a criminal. A boy who has been a Boy Scout has 1 chance in 2,400 to become a criminal.

These facts were found by a survey recently made by the Carnegie Institute at a cost of $50,000 to determine if the Boy Scout program was effective in the lives of boys in America.

The Government survey of crimes committed in the United States last year shows that more crimes were committed by 19-year-old boys than any other age; 18-year-olds were next in number.

In 1932 the United States Government spent 13 billion dollars on crime. A little over 3 million was spent on Scouting.

President Franklin Roosevelt recently made this statement:

"The racketeer and the gangster go out the window when Scouting comes into the door."

LIFE
Life is so mysterious, so unknown, so complex. No one knows what life is, how or why we breathe, how we can raise our arm or take a step forward.

Man's body is of a three-fold nature. The carnal, fleshy or earth, earthly, the spiritual, evil and Holy. When we are tempted to sin, and do sin the evil spirit predominates.

I claim the two-fold mind, our thoughts, conscience, life and our very being is what we call the Soul and when we die (Give up the Ghost) the Holy Spirit vacates the body and carries the Soul to Heaven.

The gospel narrative about Zaccheus, the only sick man in gospel times who is definitely stated to have passed through the needle's eye's entrance to the Kingdom of Heaven. He did so by offering to give half his goods for the poor and to restore fourfold to all from whom he had taken anything by false accusation.

Right here I take the liberty to digress from the subject long enough to say: There is no greater crime committed to the Soul of man or woman than to die and come before the Supreme Judge, the Creator of all, leaving behind accumulated wealth which was not used to relieve suffering humanity.

Some people who believe in telepathy and telepathic communication say that a person in celestial state might have power to project their astral selves back to earth and parade the streets of Colorado. There may be mental communication between separated individuals, and telepathy may be its proper designation. But surely it is between living individuals. Solomon asserted that the dead know not anything. The only communication between earth and Heaven is via prayer, and only God can respond.

Some one has written a book on "Life begins at Forty." Not so Life begins each morning, whether one is 20, 40, or 60, whether one has succeeded, failed or just muddled along, whether yesterday was full of sun or storm, or one of those dull days each morning. Life begins each morning. Life is a day, this day. All past days are gone beyond reviving. All days that still may come for you or me, are veiled in the great mystery, and for all we know, there may not be another for us. Therefore, this day is life, and life begins anew with it. There is no stated age or period of which it can be said, "Here is the dawn of Life's day." Today is the dawn of that day. Take and use it as best you can, or as you choose. It is your life and if you prefer to loll it away or waste it, that is your privilege, though it may be unwise and unprof-

Some wise guy has asked this writer the fool question, "Why is a newspaper like a pretty woman?"
Answer: To be perfect it must be the embodiment of many types. It is always chaste, though inclined to be gaudy. Its form is made up. It enjoys a good press, the more rapid the better. It has a weakness for gossip. Talks a great deal. Can stand some praise, and is awful proud of a new dress. Every man should have one of his own and not be borrowing his neighbors.
