The boy, Hollis Jones, Jr., drove into the Watson filling station on the highway this side of Westbrook late Wednesday and ordered six gallons of gas.

When the gas had been put into the tank, the boy asked for a box of tire patching. While Watson was inside the station getting the patches, the boy drove rapidly off westward. Watson seized a 30-30 Winchester and fired twice at the gasoline tank.

Then he leaped in his own car and gave chase, coming up on the car stopped by the highway just east of Coahoma. The boy was nowhere in sight, but Watson saw blood all over the car seat, and knew that he had wounded or killed the occupant. So he returned to Westbrook and got J. C. Plummer, deputy sheriff.

Returning to the car, they found Jones in the back seat with a bullet wound in his hip. One of Watson's bullets had passed through the back seat and the front seat and struck him. He was brought to Colorado and given medical attention.

Episcopalians Open Season of Lent With Services Wednesday Afternoon

Observance of the season of Lent was begun by members of All Saints' Episcopal church with a special service conducted at the church Wednesday afternoon at 4 by the Rev. Alex B. Hanson, rector.

During the service the Rev. Mr. Hanson placed before his people the meaning of Lent and urged them to take part in the world wide movement being urged by Episcopal leaders of the nation.

The Lenten season, beginning on Ash Wednesday and ending with Easter, commemorates the forty days spent by Jesus in the wilderness, in prayer and fasting.

Explaining Lent as kept by members of the Protestant Episcopal church, the Rev. Mr. Hanson says:

"The observance of Lent, with prayer and fasting, is voluntary, not compulsory! Even as a runner trains for the races, so the Christian sets apart a season for special training in his duties to God. For the season, he does not eat those foods which are heavy, and make the mind sluggish. And, for a season, he lays aside all amusements and diversions—in order that his mind may be free to think with God. Not all Episcopalians observe Lent—in fact—very few do. Many are called, but few are chosen." Only those observe Lent who voluntarily choose to put spiritual things first.

"At this time, religion has recovered from the scare of the early days of the depression; and is again looking up. In view of this fact, the Episcopal Church has initiated the Forward Movement and is urging its people to take advantage of the turn of the tide, by fighting onward and upward to new heights of spiritual accomplishment. Each member is urged to re-consecrate himself to God, and to God's work—lest having shown others the way of life, and lest having given of his substance to help others into the way of life, he himself should fall short of the high calling of the Kingdom of Heaven."

FORT WORTH BOOSTERS VISIT HERE WEDNESDAY

These Fort Worth boosters visited Colorado Wednesday afternoon to bring to the citizens of Mitchell county an invitation to attend the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 15 to 24, and the Arlington Downs races, March 28 to April 20. Several Fat Stock rodeo performers were with the delegation which was traveling in a chartered loud-speaker equipped bus, led by the Fort Worth chamber of commerce pilot car.

There were forty people in the delegation. They were met west of the city by officials of the city and chamber of commerce and escorted to Walnut street opposite the Colorado hotel where they were welcomed to Colorado in an address by Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce. Chas. C. Cotton of the Fort Worth chamber, responded.

John Seybo, 71-year-old farmer of Liberal, Kans., has sued a spiritualistic medium for $7,500 which he says he spent on a "ghost" bride she was to provide for him.

C. L. GRAY IS CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL AFTER SEVERAL VOTERS PETITION

Lumber Concern Manager Is Well Qualified, Friends Of Aspirant State

C. L. Gray, resident manager for Rockwell Bros. Company, lumber dealers, Wednesday consented for his name to be offered as a candidate for city council, subject to the municipal election to be held on Tuesday, April 1. Gray did not consent to enter the race until several representative citizens had strongly urged him to do so.

Mr. Gray has been identified with Colorado several years. He came here from Rotan several years ago as manager of the Gray Lumber Company when that concern opened for business in Colorado. After his own company sold out a few years ago he went with Rockwell Bros. Company and has since held that position.

Gray is accepted as an active leader in civic, educational and religious affairs of the city. He is a past president of the Lions Club and for several years has been an executive of the chamber of commerce. He has been outstanding in church activities during his residence in the community.

"One of the best men for this important municipal office we know anything about," was comment offered by an admirer of Mr. Gray Wednesday morning. "We commend him to the voters of Colorado and solicit your consideration of his candidacy."

Baskin stated that he expected only a small number of new participants in the work this year. In 1934 there were a total of 958 contracts in effect in this county.

The county agent's office will work overtime in concluding the contracts and furnishing detailed information to cotton growers and land owners, once the campaign opening date is set.

The Texas allotment for 1935 under the Bankhead cotton control act was fixed Friday by the AAA at 3,406,117 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. The total for the country under this apportionment is 10,983,246 bales of 500 pounds gross weight or 10,500,000 bales net weight.

In the regulations issued Friday provisions of a one-year contract to be offered producers who did not sign the original contract last year also were made public. A total of about 1,012,000 producers signed contracts in 1934 covering that year and the 1935 season. Contracts covering the 1935 season only will be offered to those producers who did not sign in 1934.

Persons operating farms on which cotton was produced in 1933 or in 1934 and 1934 are eligible to sign the 1935 one-year contract. Persons operating farms on which cotton was produced in 1934 for the first time only are eligible to sign the one-year contract under conditions.

HORNBERGER IS CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL OFFICE IN ELECTION NEXT MONTH

Wholesale Merchant Enters Campaign After Friends Urge He Do So

Advancing that there is not a better qualified citizen in Colorado to render a progressive and economical administration of affairs of the city, friends of C. D. Hornberger Wednesday authorized announcement of his candidacy for one of the places on the city council to be filled at the ballot box on April 2.

Rumors had been going the rounds several days that Hornberger would be a candidate for the office, but he did not consent for his name to be used until after several business and professional men had personally urged him to agree to become a candidate.

Hornberger came to Colorado from Ranger a few years ago, after purchasing the wholesale agency distributorship of the Texas Company here. He immediately took up his place as one of the city's first citizens and has ever continued active in support of every program calculated to bring advancement to his adopted city and section.

The candidate is active in the Lions Club and other organizations of service and civic objectives. His friends advance that he is progressive in ideals, yet sane and conservative in business.

"A vote for Hornberger in the April election will be a vote for progress in Colorado during the ensuing two years," one of the local business men who had interested himself in getting Mr. Hornberger into the campaign declared Wednesday.

THEATRE NEWS

"ROCKY MOUNTAIN MYSTERY"

Palace March 8-9
Engrossing mystery set in the mining mountains of the West, this is ideally suited for family programs. Adapted from a Zane Grey novel, the story concerns killing, stealing and shady dealing. Character portrayal of Chas. "Chic" Sale, as a deputy sheriff, is the highlight of the film. Randolph Scott, a mining engineer, arrives at the mine to replace his brother-in-law who has fled and is suspected of the murder of the foreman. Scott joins sale in attempting to solve the crime. After two more killings and with the finger of suspicion pointing to many innocent persons, the culprit is discovered. There is a happy ending. Directed by Charles Barton.

"SEOUOIA"

Palace March 10-11
A gripping story of the struggle for existence—yet a simple human story that will create much favorable word-of-mouth publicity. An out-of-the-ordinary film that brings out finer things of the screen. The leads are two wild animals, a deer and a mountain lion. Brought up together by humans, these natural enemies become friends and when necessity forces their release to follow their instincts the memory of their early friendship survives. After each finds adventure, tragedy and even romance, the deer is able to come to the mountain lion's aid in his fight with a villainous guide. The climax is a most thrilling and realistic struggle but is never apparent.

"GAY BRIDE"

Palace March 12-13
For usual commercial purposes, this is a different kind of gangster story. The fact that the story was a Saturday Evening Post yarn, is showmanship material, plus adaptation of some of the suggested potential exploitation possibilities. Essentially the story is modern dramatic romance, colored by the usually alluring atmosphere of gangsters and gangsterisms.

To counterbalance the melodrama, there is quite a bit of comedy in both dialogue, situations and action, this element reaching its climax in the chase finale.

While not of outstanding values, the picture does offer some chance for tricky title idea adaptations, use of the cast names and accentuation of the comedy color. By assuring the patrons that there's a laugh or smile for every tragic thrill, local exploitation should do more for the picture than it will do on its own strength.

"CARNIVAL"

Ritz March 10-11
Fairly entertaining story about the carnival with a "Hev Rube" fight and a fire for a thrilling climax. Tracy operate a puppet show with Sally Eilers as his "shill." After his wife dies in child-birth, Tracy leaves the carnival with his pal, Durante, and takes the child with him to escape welfare workers who contend the carnival is not fit place for the child. After two years they return to the carnival. Sally, who has been corresponding with him all the time, is interested in the child and in love with him, but Tracy is blind to the fact and searches frantically for a wife. Finally he realizes Sally's devotion when she carries the baby safely home from a raging fire at the carnival. Excellent entertainment.

"I AM A THIEF"

Ritz March 12-13
Robert Florey has here taken a familiar crook drama and by clever direction, maintaining suspense and keeping audiences guessing, until the end, has turned out a thrilling hour's entertainment. The locale is Paris where rival jewel thieves are after the famous Karantina diamonds. The first purchaser is trailed by a beautiful woman who follows him aboard a Paris-Near East Express where the major portion of the action takes place. Also on the train—all after the jewels—are a phoney American Colonel, a German Baron, and an Italian Count, among others. A couple of murders take place, the diamonds pass through several hands and a near train wreck results before the master thief is exposed.

D. L. BUCHANAN OFFERING CANDIDACY FOR ELECTION TO CITY COUNCIL APRIL 2

Resident Citizen Over Long Period of Years Would Serve His City

D. L. Buchanan, pioneer Colorado business man, Tuesday morning announced that he would be a candidate for one of the city council berths to be vacant April 2. Buchanan is offering his name as a political aspirant for the first time and is placing his claim for support at the polls upon his long identity with the city.

The candidate stated that he had no special issues to discuss nor promises to make, aside from the fact it would ever be his aim to render faithful and efficient service to the city if elected alderman. He established residence here 29 years ago and during most of the time has been engaged in business.

Mr. Buchanan was the first candidate to make formal announcement for one of the four places to be made vacant with the annual municipal election on Tuesday, April 2. His announcement came after admirers of the local citizen had strongly urged that he offer as a candidate.

"Colorado should appreciate offer of administrative services from an outstanding citizen such as Mr. Buchanan is generally known to be and we feel confident that consideration of his strong merit will prompt a vote for him at the polls," commented one of the citizens credited with encouraging the candidate to file for a place on the ballot.

Ranging in individual amounts from $25 to $4,884, feed loans totalling $20,840.00 have been granted through the feed loan division of the Mitchell county relief office since the division began functioning last August, according to figures in the office of Mrs. Joe Farr, who is in charge of loan applications in this county.
The total of $20,840.00 represents loans made to 209 borrowers, both farmers and ranchmen. Through the government's emergency crop loan set-up no loans for less than $25 have been made. Mrs. Farr is now prepared to fill out applications for loans of less than $25 through the Texas Relief commission. Notes for all loans are to mature Nov. 1. The local office was one of the few in the state not having any loan application held up pending corrections when a statement of counties having incorrect applications was issued last week from Austin.

COLORADO CHURCH CENTER FOR EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN OF LEADERSHIP TRAINING

Total of 43 Churches in 13 Counties Cooperating in BTU To Open Saturday

Announcing one of the most extensive leadership training campaigns known to West Texas churches, the Rev. Willis J. Ray of Big Spring, area missionary for the Baptist church, Tuesday morning said that plans for opening district Baptist Training Union at 43 churches in 13 counties Saturday afternoon had been concluded. Activities of the special educational drive is to be centered at First Baptist church.

T. C. Gardner of Dallas, State secretary of the Baptist Training Union, is to personally direct classes throughout the extensive area, reaching from churches in the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist association westward to the Texas-New Mexico boundary. He will be assisted by a corps of trained leaders, the most of whom will come from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock 25 of the Abilene school workers are to be concentrated at Dunn where they will be assigned churches over the territory and taken to their work by automobiles. Organization of study classes are to be started immediately upon arrival of the leaders and the special instruction is to run through Saturday, March 16.

Miss Helen Gardner of Dallas is to direct work of the union at First Baptist church. Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor, stated Tuesday morning that he was expecting one of the largest classes in history of the church to be enrolled.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the several workers are to meet at Dunn for an inspirational and educational meeting. The host church is concluding plans to entertain several hundred visitors for this conference.

Commencement exercises are to be held at First Baptist church here on Sunday afternoon, March 27, with Secretary Gardner in charge. Class delegations representing practically all of the cooperating churches are expected to be in attendance. Two banners are to be awarded at this meeting. One will go to the church enrolling the largest number of students and the other to church shown to have done the most progressive work during the campaign.

"We are launching this educational campaign to train leaders for all departments of our church program," Rev. Mr. O'Brien stated. "The classes are open to people of all ages and older Christians are urged to unite in the objective along with those of younger age."

SUMMER LIVING ROOM IN YARD IS PLANNED BY MRS. McCOLLUM

An outdoor summer living room in her yard is the goal of Mrs. D. McCollum, second yard improvement demonstrator for the Bauman Women's home demonstration club, and she is pushing her work to have the yard ready for the first warm days.

With the help of her family she has hauled native rock from a hill one mile away and has made a flat walk four feet wide at the front of her home and two side service walks three feet wide. A hedge of algerita and native cedar has been set out on the west line of the yard with an intersecting north line of paradise shrubs.

Mrs. McCollum has started her foundation planting around the house with cedar, vines, and lilacs. She has also put out some native chinaberry and plum trees.

LOONEY WOMAN USES TWO LOADS OF STONE FOR FLAGSTONE PATH

Laying two loads of native rock to make a flagstone walk in her front yard was a lot of work even though it did not cost anything in actual cash, according to Mrs. Ollie Thompson of Looney who is working on her yard as yard improvement demonstrator for the Looney Women's Home Demonstration club.

In addition to laying the flagstone path, Mrs. Thompson has moved her roses from the front yard to a bed south of the house where they will be protected from the north wind, transplanted Bermuda grass in her front yard, and set out native chinaberry and plum trees in her back yard.

Cutting beds for armoet privet, abelia, salt cedar, roses, and grapes will be the March demonstration in yard improvement for the Looney club at Mrs. Thompson's home.

STRONG TRIBUTE TO LATE BUILDER HEARD AT LIONS CLUB MEETING ON FRIDAY

Speakers Refer To Judge C. H. Earnest As Leader In All Good Endeavors

Memorializing the life and works of an outstanding Lion, pioneer community builder and friend to his fellow man, speakers addressing the Lions Club Friday painted a picture of the late Judge C. H. Earnest as one of the most valuable public spirited citizens Colorado has ever known.

Col. C. M. Adams, an intimate friend and associate of Judge Earnest during fifty-one years, presided at the meeting. Mr. Adams recalled that he came to Colorado in 1883 and Judge Earnest located his residence here the following year.

"It was my privilege to know Judge Earnest in an intimate way during all those years and I am going to reiterate what I have often said before, that there was never a more loyal citizen to home city, county and State to have identification with Colorado through these long years. He ever contributed liberally of his means and manhood to advance interests of the city in every way."

"In private life, Judge Earnest was a good husband, a good father and a good man. As a Lion there has never been one to portray the tenets of this service organization more impressively than he." Col. Adams and Judge Earnest were among the twenty-five Colorado citizens who in 1922 had their names enrolled on the club roster as charter members.

Col. Adams sat at a table reserved for charter members of the club. Others among that group present and seated with him included T. W. Stoneroad, Jr., W. Whipkey, J. H. Greene, L. B. Elliott and W. S. Cooper. A vacant chair, at place where Judge Earnest usually was seated during sessions of the club, was draped in black in honor of his memory.

As Col. Adams concluded his address of respect in memory of his life friend, Lion and civic worker, he called on the Rev. Alex B. Hanson, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal church, to offer a special memorial prayer.

Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce and a past president of the Lions Club, was the next speaker. Thompson referred to loyalty of the late attorney as an outstanding leader in programs of the two organizations. Judge Earnest had served as vice president of the chamber of commerce several years.

"I am going to say that the greatest service ever rendered the citizenship of Mitchell county was realized through efforts of Judge Earnest and three other citizens of his type," Thompson stated. He did not disclose just what the special contribution was.

T. W. Stoneroad, who recalled that he had known Judge Earnest 36 years, described him as having exemplified in the greatest sense the tenets of Lionism, radiating through his life just what a true Lion should ever strive to be.

Judge Earnest as an attorney was discussed by R. H. Ratliff and Thos. R. Smith, members of the local bar. The speakers pictured him as a lawyer who was ever true and honorable and a man of few words when the time to take side on an issue came.

Communication from Joe W. Earnest, son of the late pioneer, in which appreciation of the family was conveyed for expressions of friendship and sympathy during illness and death of Judge Earnest, was read by County Judge B. L. Templeton. Dr. Dave Bridgford, president of the club, offered strong tribute to the late pioneer in a brief address.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARMS ARE LESS THAN IN 1930, FEDERAL CENSUS SHOWS

Drop of 125 During Period Reported By Supervisor In Tentative Totals

There are 125 less farms being operated in Mitchell county today than at the same time five years ago, K. C. Holmes of Lubbock district supervisor of the recently enumerated farm census, shows in report received by this newspaper Tuesday morning.

Farm inventory in Mitchell county as of January 1, 1935, shows a total of 1,356 as compared with 1,481 at the same time in 1930, Holmes stated. The 1935 figures, however, are tentative and may be corrected after final check on information gathered by local enumerators has been made, he concluded.

Decrease in the number of farms in this county is due to a decided trend toward operation of farms on a larger scale under individual management, the district supervisor explained.

Singers To Meet At Roby For Two Day Convention

Snyder.—President Lawrence Dever of the district singing convention says plans are complete for the semi-annual gathering of the four-county group at Roby Saturday night and Sunday.

A feature of the convention will be activities of a new entertainment committee, headed by Rev. D. C. Reed of the host town, whose duties will be to provide quarters for visiting delegates.

Well-known singers who have notified Miss Ola Westbrook, secretary, of Sweetwater, that they will be present, include Virgil Stamps and L. D. Huffstutler of Dallas, and R. E. Jordan of Wills Point.

Saturday night's session will be held at the Roby Baptist church, and Sunday's meetings at the high school auditorium.

President Dever predicts that only a severe sandstorm will prevent the March convention from being one of the most successful and largely attended of any district gathering in recent years. The district includes only Fisher, Scurry, Nolan and Mitchell counties, but many visitors are expected from adjoining districts.

Roscoe, in Nolan county, was site of the fall convention. Under the plan of rotating conventions in the four counties of the district, Snyder will be host to next fall's session.

While here they were in conference with Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, and other citizens.

NEW TYPE ENGINE OILING BUILT INTO CHEVROLET'S MOTOR CARS FOR 1934

Danger of Faulty Lubrication
Eliminated, Factory Press
Letter Sustains

A unique method of flooding connecting rod bearings with a surplus of lubricating oil at high engine speeds is one of the new mechanical features of the Chevrolet engines in all 1935 models. The new oiling system assures an extra supply of oil to the bearings when most needed, that is, when the car is being driven above 70 m.p.h. for long periods.

At lower engine speeds, lubrication of the crankpins is provided by oil picked up from troughs by dipper on the connecting rods. The oil pan troughs are kept filled by the oil pump, which feeds fresh oil through nozzles opening below the surface level.

At high engine speeds, as the pump pressure increases, oil is forced from these nozzles with sufficient force to cause high pressure streams of oil to be thrown clear across the crankcase, directly in the paths of the connecting rod dipper. Because of the high speed of the dipper as the engine turns over 3000 or more r.p.m., they hit the solid stream of oil with so much force that tremendous pressure is created. The oil flows through the outlet in the top of the dipper and is forced through the deep grooves in the connecting rod bearing. The force of the impact of the oil stream provides positive lubrication to the entire surface of the bearing, and clears away any obstruction in the oil grooves, such as a high pressure stream of water from a fire engine rips roofing from a building.

First Wool Mill Marks Beginning Of New Industry

San Angelo, the world's largest inland wool market, will have the first commercial woolen mill to be erected in Texas, at an approximate cost of $500,000, according to an announcement today by M. C. Cotton, president of the Texas Woolen Mill Corporation of Dallas, that he had closed contracts for the site there.

The mill which the corporation plans to set up will be a ten-set plant of 100 looms, seventy broad and thirty narrow, and will include approximately 7,000 spindles, Cotton said. A general meeting of the wool producers will be called soon.

Development of a woolen industry in Texas, largest wool-producing State, would be worth $175,000,000 to the State and is the next logical step in efforts to provide industries to supplement the agricultural development of the Southwest, Mr. Cotton pointed out.

New Business House, New Railroad Were Front Page News 25 Years Ago

Breaking of dirt for a new business house, latest news on the Colorado-Concho railroad, Colorado's need of a hospital, the problem of replacing the high school which fire had destroyed, and the approaching baseball season furnished front-page news topics for the Colorado Record March 11, 1910, twenty-five years ago.

The new business building was to be owned by James Dulaney. O. D. Jones of San Angelo was the contractor and J. R. Bryant of Sweetwater the architect. On completion the lower floor was to be occupied by the H. L. Hutchinson Furniture and Undertaking Company. Dr. B. F. Dulaney was to have his "dental parlors" in part of the upper floor, while the offices of the Concho-Colo-rado railroad were to fill the remaining rooms.

Writing of Colorado's need of a hospital, the Record said: "There is scarcely a time when there is not someone from this section in the hospitals of Dallas or Fort Worth."

In an effort to decide whether the high school building should be replaced with one central high school or several ward high schools, the Commercial club had called a mass meeting at the tabernacle on Monday night. No decision was reached. The arrival in town of "Slats" Givens was declared to be the signal for the opening of the baseball season and The Record was "for" a good one.

Another front page article said that Howard county had voted dry by a margin of more than 300. The Methodist Women's Missionary society had elected as officers

Mrs. D. N. Arnett, Mrs. Q. D. Hall, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Mrs. M. K. Jackson, Mrs. J. R. Collier, Mrs. C. C. Blandford, Mrs. A. J. Payne, and Mrs. S. Jackson.

J. J. Patterson had announced for county treasurer. McCall Merritt's tenth birthday on Monday had been celebrated with a party for the "kid baseball nine."

The opera "Faust" and Shakespeare's "Othello" were to be presented at the opera house by the Sanford Dodge company.

Members of the Colorado Concert Band were listed as follows: Lee Jones, instructor; G. L. Wallace, J. B. Annis, Orin McCreeless, Sam Majors, B. L. Cooper, J. B. Pritchett, Henry Enderly, Milburn Dess, Bob Cooper, O. H. Majors, Carlock Annis, Howard Cooper, Roy Dozier, Austin Altizer, Gerald McCreeless, Forrest Payne, Tom Free, J. E. Collier, Fred Harris, Gilderoy McCreeless, Cecil Watson, Ed Jones, John Witten, Ed Majors, Harry Collins, W. E. McKinney, Henderson Witten, Al Jones, Tyson Gilbert, George Oederholz, and Frank Newman.

W. P. Leslie had announced for reelection to the office of county attorney.

MARINE VACANCIES WILL BE FILLED THIS SEASON

Captain George R. Rowan, officer in charge of replacement activities at the Marine Corps district headquarters, New Orleans, states in a recent communication to The Record that vacancies in this branch of the service are to be filled by young men over 18 years of age and who meet certain requirements exacted by the service.

Chevrolet Building New Plants In That Output Be Greater

The Chevrolet Motor Company has expanded its manufacturing facilities by the addition of a new assembly plant at Baltimore, Md., and by enlarging and improving assembly plants in nine other cities for increased manufacturing schedules during the year.

Completion of the new Baltimore plant is being rushed and it is expected that car assembly at this point will begin early in March. Additions to the assembly plants at Kansas City, Mo., and Atlanta, Ga., have been completed, and at Buffalo, N. Y., a 500-foot final assembly conveyor has been installed.

Both passenger and commercial car production have been speeded up at Chevrolet's Oakland plant with the addition of a new assembly line conveyor to be used exclusively for trucks.

To improve volume production of Chevrolet's knee-action units and to maintain a high rate of orderly output, the Detroit spring and axle plant has been renovated, providing a more efficient system of assembly. The manufacture of the various parts used in the knee-action units was brought under one roof and the consolidation resulted in more efficient handling of the processes and inspections needed for the quantity production of knee-action equipment, the manufacture of which involved practices totally new to the automobile industry.

Dates Set For 4 Of Wolves' 1935 Conference Tilts

Four conference games for the Colorado Wolves' 1935 football season, which will mark their return to Class B football, were lined up by Jim Reese, coach, and C. A. Wilkins, high school principal, during a trip last week to schools which will play in this section of District 6 Class B football next year.

Included in this section of the district, which has heretofore been known as 13B, are Rotan, Roby, Roscoe, Snyder, and Colorado. The Wolves' first conference game, according to the schedule mapped out last week, will be with Rotan on October 18. Others will be with Roby October 25, with Roscoe November 1, and with Snyder Nov. 22. The Snyder and Roby games will be here. Places for the other two are yet to be decided.

Two non-conference games have been arranged for the Wolves. They will meet Midland there in a night game September 21 and Sweetwater in Sweetwater on Armistice.

POLICE CHIEF HICKMAN SENT TO BED WITH FLU

Police Chief Dick Hickman was detained from duty a few days of this and last week due to an attack of flu. The official states that he was in bed during most of the time of his absence from the streets.

School officials point out that the last scheduled conference game is for November 22 in order to leave Thanksgiving day open for the district championship match between sectional winners.

Arrangement of the conference schedule was postponed for a time pending the outcome of a move to create a new district of Class B football in this section. The move was not successful.

Wilkins and John E. Watson, superintendent of schools, met with officials of other schools of the district at Roby over two weeks ago to make preliminary arrangements for the 1935 season. L. W. Johnson, superintendent of schools at Stamford, was reelected district chairman at that time. Superintendent C. Wedgworth of Snyder and Supt. N. C. Forester of Roby were elected committeemen from this section of the district at that time.

Did You Know That

Insurance is such a large field that no man can know it all, but what little I do know, I know well. And I know enough to know what I don't know. As a representative, I will try my best to diagnose your insurance and tell you what it is that you need. If I don't find out, I will tell you so, and (through my knowledge of the profession and your needs) I will take your case to an insurance specialist, and will cooperate with him until we do determine what in the thunder you really need.

THE HAUPTMANN VERDICT

We have been asked our opinion on the verdict of the Hauptmann jury and our answer was "we do not believe in capital punishment."

"THOU SHALT NOT KILL"

Of all the uncivilized, unchristian, barbarian laws contained in the constitution, the one that gives the jury the right to take a man's life is the most absurd. This life is not granted by men and should not be taken by men.

No man or set of men has the right by law, moral or divine, to take a life.

There are two rules in the Bible that are outstanding. "Thou shalt not kill" is one of them. There is no way to get around the meaning of this rule because it means exactly what it says. Some say the criminal did not give this rule any recognition when he committed the crime but the comfort of knowing that you are not the only one that has eluded a rule is only temporary. There is coming a time when such deeds will have to be answered for by all alike.

The other law is the golden rule. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." At first glance you will see no connection between this law and capital punishment. When you think of it you can readily see that there is not a single instance when you would be willing for your life to be taken regardless of the seriousness of the crime.

Now comes a letter from T. J. Smith of Kansas City in defense of capital punishment in which he says: Legal execution by the State is not murder. "Thou shalt not kill" was directed to individuals, not the State. You forget Genesis 9, verse 6, "Who so sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed."

Execution by the State is man shedding the blood of a premeditated murderer.

You also forget Matthew 26, 52, which reads: "... They that take the sword shall perish with the sword." Christ and you don't agree.

Concerning the duties of government, Paul in Romans 13, 4, says "... But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain; for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil."

If you are right you would have to hear the "sword in vain," because the State wouldn't let you use it.

In Acts 25, 11, Paul says, in defending himself, "For if I be an offender or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die."

Here Paul admits that there is such a thing as committing an offense that is worthy of death and says he would not refuse to die.

But you disagree with Paul; you believe there is no offense that is worthy of death. Beyond a doubt the Bible authorizes society—the State, the Government—to execute murderers who plan murder and kill their victim. The Lord gives life and through the execution of law it is the Lord taking away life.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away." Read Romans 12, 19:

"... Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord." Connect this with Romans 13, 4, and you have God using the civil authorities as ministers of God executing wrath upon evil doers and thus God gets the vengeance that belongs to Him. All attempts to use the Bible to allow murders to run at large and continue their lust for blood are wrong.

Mr. Smith attempts to show the Holy Scriptures both approve and condemn it. This confusion is caused from a lack of "proper division" of the word of God, 2nd Tim. 2:15.

In the Bible are positive, divine laws and moral laws. The moral relates to things that are right in themselves always were right and God commands them because they are right. They can be seen to be right, not because any authority requires them, but are seen to be right in the very fitness of things. Right to tell the truth, wrong to lie. "Thou shalt not kill," Exodus 20:13 is moral law and can, in the very nature of things be seen to be wrong to kill.

Positive divine law is of higher order. It has the force to make right things not right in themselves. They are real tests of faith. They are made right because the absolute, supreme authority commands them. Adam and Eve forbidden to eat fruit of a tree in midst of garden, Gen. 2:17. It was not wrong in itself to eat of the tree but wrong because God forbade it. God commands baptisms, Matt. 28:19. No one can see any good in itself to be baptized but it is right because the supreme authority commands it.

Moral law is "Thou shalt not kill." Positive, divine law said to King Saul to "utterly destroy the Amalekites," 1 Sam. 15:3. Gideon, Samuel, David and others were commanded to kill. Positive, divine law supersedes moral law and has been in collision with it. Gen. 22:2. God commands Abraham to slay his son Isaac. But moral law says "Thou shalt not kill." Positive, divine law finds its greatest test of faith in three degrees.

First, to obey when it is seen the thing commanded can do no good in itself.

Second, when one knows there is no good in it.

Third, to obey when one sees the thing commanded is clearly wrong in itself.

We think a life sentence in the penitentiary is far greater punishment than capital punishment.

F. B. W.

TITHES

This columnist is a member of the Baptist church and is therefore privileged to criticize other members. The church everywhere is always in debt, but if every member would only tithe the problem would be solved and the church always have money in the treasury. Another great failing of the membership is they don't read the Bible. We have members here that never read the Bible. If we would all read the Bible, tithe and pray, what a fine church we would have.

The force, the logical power of many passages of Scripture is lost by misinterpretation. This true of some of the richest, most meaningful scriptures. One of the best illustrations of this fact is the account of Jesus watching the people put their money into the treasury as recorded in Mark 12:41-44.

To understand this passage we must understand the occasion and what the people were doing, why they were there. To do this let us put two passages together.

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse (treasury), that there be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

What were the people to do? "Bring all the tithes," all the people were to bring and they were to bring the tithes of all kinds of income. They were to bring to the Lord's house and put them into the Lord's treasury.

Now read Mark 12:41-44: "And Jesus sat over against the treasury and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury, and many that were rich cast in much."

"And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing."

"And he called unto him his disciples and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury."

It was a titling occasion and they were obeying God as He commanded by Malachi. Jesus sat down and watched them.

He was not merely passing by, but sat and watched them as they were putting their tithes into the Lord's treasury.

What did he see? He saw a group of people in sincere earnest obeying God. Some who were rich came. They had honestly computed their tithes and sincerely brought the amounts and put them into the Lord's treasury. Consequently, they "cast in much." Being rich their tithes amounted to much. The record is that not merely a few of the rich, but "many" of them came. They were sincere men and women. Jesus did not reprove them, but put on record what they did, for the instruction of all people in all future ages in all countries.

Then he saw a poor widow, such a woman as would not be expected to give, one whom many deacons would pass by or advise not to give. She came with her little tithe, one fourth of a cent, and quickly put it into her Lord's treasury and went her way to earn some more. It was all she had and she would, no doubt, have spent it had she looked upon it as hers. But to her it was God's and not hers. The more this great passage is studied the more wonderful it becomes.

The occasion was solemn. They were in God's house. Jesus the Son of God was there watching the people obey God. He saw their honesty toward God.

He saw a woman, poor in goods but rich in heart. She recognized her personal duty to her God. She would not let the rich do all the supporting of God's cause. She felt that God's commandment was for her. Her religion was a personal matter and she was going to attend to it, meet her personal obligation and have her own joy. No one on earth would be allowed by her to serve God for her. So she put in her tithe along with the others.

She cast in more than the others, no in amount, but exactly the same proportion plus sacrifice. She had her reward in her heart. She knew what heat approval meant that day. She could go on to her mental tasks with conscience clear and God in her soul.

Rich men have their problems and burdens too. Those rich men could go out into the business world knowing that they had obeyed God. They had done their duty too. The meaning of the passage is that supporting God's cause is an individual matter, for all individuals regardless of their condition, that the tithes belong to God and should be handled honestly and that God regards the honesty, and sacrifice is a plus added to the proportion in supporting His cause.

"JOHN DEERE DAY" TO BE OBSERVED AT COLORADO

A new talking motion picture entitled "Partners" will provide a full hour of entertainment and education to farmers who attend John Deere Tractor Day, to be conducted by Jones, Russell Co., local farm equipment dealer, aided by representatives of the John Deere organization.

This picture which is being enthusiastically received by farmers in other localities, takes the audience into the huge John Deere Tractor plant at Waterloo, Iowa, and shows how tractors are built and tested. From the factory, the cameraman takes the audience out into the field to see John Deere Tractors at work. Woven into the picture is a story of how a father and his son became partners on the farm.

The meeting will be in session from 9 a. m. and lasting all day Thursday, March 14th at Jones Russell building in Colorado.

"We invite every farmer in this section to be our guest and we particularly want the boys to come, too," says Jones. Russell. "The program will be in charge of men who are thoroughly familiar with tractors. In plain, understandable language and illustrations they will demonstrate the latest developments in tractors and the best ways to keep the farm tractor tuned up for greatest efficiency."

"We are planning to make this a social affair, but at the same time a very worthwhile affair to farmers and their families. We are counting on a big crowd coming in to enjoy the big day with us."

John Deere Tractor Day is proving exceptionally popular with farmers as evidenced by the picture above which shows an interested group at one of these meetings.

EDITORIAL—GRADUATION

At last that long-awaited time is almost here—graduation! To some the end of school means a vacation but to the Seniors it means that they are forever leaving C. H. S. to pursue their education elsewhere. Of course the Seniors are very enthusiastic over graduation, but behind all of that happiness there is a little spark of regret because they know that when the days in C. H. S. are over the days that they have ever known are gone.

When school starts next fall the Seniors will cast longing eyes at the C. H. S. campus and wonder what is going on in those familiar halls and last but not least, who has taken their place by Miss Smith's desk in Spanish class and underneath it all there will probably be a prayer that the Seniors of '36 get as much "kick" out of being a Senior that we, the Seniors of '35, have.

RUTH SMITH.

WAITING FOR THE DOCTOR

The play "Waiting For the Doctor" was given by Miss Barrett's class last Wednesday. This was a very clever sketch about mistaken identity. Instead of being a M. D., the doctor was a tree surgeon. The two patients, Marjorie Carlock and Melba Slaton, left the office screaming when the doctor, Regal Porter, gave his assistant, Oren Womack, orders to operate at once! The assistant was armed with axes, saws, hammers and wood chisels. The play was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

THE COLORADO F.F.A.

John Colson, a first-year agriculture student fed out two baby beavers as a major project. Last week he took these two calves to Odessa where he won reserve champion. He will take the calves to San Angelo, March 9. The agriculture class wishes him good luck toward winning the Grand Champion prize.

The Father and Son banquet will be given March 8. There is a good program planned and are sure of everyone enjoying himself. The Home Ec. girls and Miss Hargrove are going to prepare the food. The banquet will be held at the High School from 8 until 10:30 o'clock.

The agriculture boys are going to Ft. Worth March 15. Every year Mr. Williams has taken his students to the Stock Show in Ft. Worth. It is undecided whether they will go in cars or the school bus.

BILLY HENDERSON.

MR. CLINE AWAY

Mr. O. W. Cline, head of the History Department, was called away last Wednesday to Wolf City where his father is critically ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Charles Moeser is taking his place while he is away.

ATHLETICS

The Tuscola quintet, representatives of District 5 in the playoff for championship of Region and the right to enter the State tourney, was downed 22-9 by the tall Brownwood Lions in the final game Saturday night. This is the second consecutive year for the Lions to hold this title. Cottonwood, representative of District 7, was downed by Brownwood, while Crews, representative of District 8 was eliminated by Tuscola.

The Lions were taken 26-23 in the first round of play in 1934 at the State Tourney by Thomas Jefferson. Lamesa, runners-up in the State Tourney in 1934, have repeated their victory this year by defeating the Pampa Harvesters and gaining the right to go to State. There will be a new champion this year as Athens, winner of the crown for the past two years, was eliminated 38-35

by Gilmer. Following a series of meetings of the athletic director of schools comprising district 3-B, a division of the district has been agreed upon which would provide more uniform competition during the football season of 1935. The conference was split into an eastern and western division with each unit being an independent division. Colorado has been accepted into the western half.

Haskell, Stamford, Hamlin, Roby and Anson will form one section and Rotan, Snyder, Roscoe, Merkel and Colorado will comprise the membership in the other half.

LA TERTULIA

The Spanish III club met Monday, March 4. El senior Reynolds Brown gave "From Darkness to Light in Rural Mexico." It is a very difficult problem for teachers to educate the children and teach them to appreciate refinement without rousing the anger of their parents. The natives resent the fact that their children are being taken from them and that they are not allowed to follow their fashion of living. Yet, with all these handicaps, the children are quick to understand and good at remembering.

"La Primera Disputa" was read in Spanish by las señoritas Loyse Jenkins, Lyda Mae Viles and el senior Buster Aycock. The same play was translated into English by las señoritas Mabel Cooper, Mary Alice Gunn, and el senior Robert Earl Wulfjen.

THE WOLF HOWLS.

She isn't the type to smile at you and pretend to be your best friend, and then next time you see her cut your throat and smile about it. She's the type that is born to be a favorite among old or young, rich or poor. A day is incomplete for her unless she has a good laugh or does a kind deed. She is president of the senior class, carnival queen, an office girl, editor of the Howl, and a member of the pep squad. I don't see how she does so, much, but yet she's always thinking of more to do to help her class to be a grand success.

A few other tips—her favorite pie is chocolate, her favorite color is red, and her favorite sport is swimming. I know you know who she is, but perhaps some green little fish doesn't know. So for his benefit I'll tell—Maxine Dorn.

1ST YEAR H. E. NEWS

The girls in the first year sewing class of Home Economics are finishing their slips. They have learned how to make fitted facings and how to put in hems. This week they will learn how to make flat-fell seams, to do blind and slip stitching, to make a French hem, to join lace and to make a rolled hem.

JANE MESKIMEN.

The third year girls have been studying the different periods, styles, and types of furniture and houses. They will also help prepare and serve the F.F.A. banquet.

HOME MAKING II-A

The past week all of the girls of the Home Ec. classes have been planning a banquet which will be served Friday night at the High School. This banquet is for the Future Farmers of America, their mothers, their fathers, and the faculty. It will be served at 8 o'clock. The following menu will be served:

- Fruit Cocktail
- Meat Loaf with Tomato Sauce
- Snap Green Beans
- Potatoes on Half Shell
- Harvard Beets
- Butter Rolls
- Head Lettuce Salad
- Thousand Island Dressing
- Cherry Pie with Whip Cream

1ST YEAR H. E.

The first year class has for the past week been studying the preparing of lunch boxes, how to make a lunch interesting just with certain kinds of foods such as dry foods or cold foods.

Friday night the H. E. girls will help serve the banquet for the F.F.A. meeting.

SENIOR NEWS

Last Monday morning Mr. Wilkins informed the Seniors that the time is gradually coming when Seniors no longer will be Seniors but graduates of Colorado High. So the Seniors will order their invitations soon. This year the Senior class will vary a little from the usual custom and on commencement night will present a new type of program. Characters will be picked for the play, "The Blue Bag," sometime this week. Several have entered for "tryouts."

Mary Alice Gunn visited Vivian Carpenter over the week-end. We wondered why they had that "all in" expression Monday morning. Wham, chug, bang. Good gracious is that an earthquake! No, no why that's merely the "Modern T" losing some more of her parts. The boy's club had better raise some money somewhere if they intend to keep "Lizzie" together, buy her foods, springs, etc. Why, its even rumored that her side is loose! Wonder if she has appendicitis!

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior class is going to be a bit original and make the plans for a Senior ring themselves. Some of the Juniors that have a mania for drawing are sketching and making plans for their ring for '36. The Juniors are very much in favor of this plan for their rings.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Juniors, Thursday, March 3, presented a one-act play in assembly. The title "Waiting for a Doctor" suggests the contents of the play. The cast were: Regal Porter, a young doctor; Oren Womack, his assistant; Melba Slaton, Margie Carlock and Agnes Cawthron were the patients.

While the patients are in the doctor's office, the doctor was waiting for his tree surgeon to arrive. Finally he arrives carrying carpenter tools. The patients, mistaking him for an assisting surgeon become afraid and leave the office leaving the tree surgeon and the doctor bewildered as to what might be their hurry.

Loyse Johns flew through a car window Saturday. I don't know whether she took wings or it was just an accident.

If a certain tall Senior girl thinks she can go with a certain red-headed Senior boy without any competition from a Junior girl, she doesn't know what she's up against, does she?

The Juniors are just giving fair warning to the other classes, especially the Seniors that we are going to win that play tournament, so just watch our smoke.

The Juniors are ready to start practicing on their play entitled "He Was a Gay Senorita," by Austin Goetz. The play, a three act comedy, is to be presented April 9th in the High School auditorium. Everyone is invited to attend.

What is this we hear about a certain Soph not tagging at a dance?

I believe that the Sophomore class has found "galloping Romeo" in Joe Cox on the dance floor.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Junior girls had their first baseball game Wednesday afternoon with Junior High School. They lost the game 15-9.

There has been no baseball practice since Tuesday afternoon because their coach, Mr. Cline, was called to Eastland county Tuesday night. His father was very low at the time.

There were several pupils absent last week. Frances Cooper, Frances Doss, Blanche B. Jones, and Alene Reese. We are glad to have them all back in school this week.

IMPORTANT DATE August 30, 1915—an important date? Well, your guess is as good as mine! Nope, my mistake, I happen to know of one important thing that happened that day. Now, don't start guessing, and just keep your shirt on, and I tell you. . . .

One fine morning, way back in 1915, the doctor walked out of the bedroom, and with his face wreathed in smiles, said, "It's a boy!" And so began the "ups and downs" and "roundabouts" of Lenn Morrison, familiarly known because of his fiery red crown as "Red Moon."

When (speaking of his fellow classmates) first came to know him, was the morning he entered the first grade, just a little, shy, but always grinning boy. Grammar school came next, then Junior High, where he learned the game of his life—football. Then came the last stretch—High School.

Red's history in high school has just been a mixture of girls and football. I might say an equal portion of each! Right now, he expresses his vocabulary on paper and other-

Potatoes Advanced To Popularity Through King, Enraged Cook

A vengeful cook, a king who adorned his buttonhole with a potato blossom, and a famine are historical incidents leading up to an estimate by modern home economics experts that about 14 per cent of all food cooked on the housewife's gas range is the popular Irish potato, according to M. O. Chapman, manager of the local gas company.

Louis XVI popularized the potato in France by wearing a potato blossom regularly in his buttonhole, hence French fried potatoes became first a national and then an international food. In 1853, a Saratoga, New York cook, to get back at a patron who complained that his fried potatoes were too thick, sliced potatoes, paper-thin, dropped them in hot grease and took out the first potato chips. With the failure of the potato crop and resultant famine in Ireland in 1845, began the great wave of Irish immigration to the United States which inaugurated the present day popularity of the starchy tuber.

Recipes brought over by these people and cooking methods have been so improved that housewives and professional cooks never need fear an end of tasty potato recipes. Latest are the potato combinations in oven dinners which are becoming so popular, according to Mr. Chapman.

"Everything is cooked in the oven," he said, "and the new recipe has been popularized by the new heat controlled, insulated ovens found on gas ranges which makes oven dinners so easily served."

Several of the newest gas ranges are to be seen at the spring showing in the gas company office and local dealer showrooms. Latest improvements in gas ranges include non-chip enamel, built-in recipe files, more colorful appearance, divided cooking tops, drawer type smokeless broilers that eliminate tipping and spilling, porcelain interior and exterior finish, automatic lighters, simmer burners, utensil drawers, automatic heat controlled ovens with insulation which saves gas and keeps the kitchen cool. The gas company cooking experts have figured that a good meal can be prepared on one of these modern ranges for as low as one-third of a cent per person for the gas.

Etta Harkins: "I don't like your meals. There was no chicken in the chicken soup."

Virginia Reese: "What do you expect, a horse in the horseradish?"

Ruth Wright: "The modern conception of 'Silver Threads Among the Gold, is the henna didn't take.'"

Dubs Crow: "Isn't it wonderful how women improve their looks with paint?"

Jimmie Booher: "Yeah, even an old barn looks better when you paint it."

An old colored minister took for his text, "Go ye out into deep water."

The choir got up and began to sing "Pull for the Shore, Sailor, Pull for the Shore."

NEED OF PICTURES IN RURAL HOMES POINTED OUT BY MISS GUNTER

"Most rural homes need more pictures," said Miss Emma Gunter, Mitchell county home demonstration agent, in a study and demonstration on picture framing given to the Bauman Home Demonstration club at the home of Mrs. Dee McCollum Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

An investment in a good picture is always worth while, Miss Gunter pointed out. Pictures should be chosen so that all of the family can understand them. The demonstration on framing included sawing the molding in a miter box, securely nailing the frame together, cutting the glass and cardboard and putting the picture in the frame.

Miss Gunter explained the budget plan to the members. A finance committee was appointed by the president. It was decided to have two demonstrators for yard and bedroom improvements. Mrs. McCollum and Mrs. Jesse Lee were chosen as yard improvement demonstrators. Mrs. Ivan Barber and Mrs. Jim Lee were appointed as bedroom improvement demonstrators.

At the close of the meeting a wild chinaberry tree was transplanted. New members present were: Mrs. J. H. Hall, Mrs. M. H. Kelley, Mrs. D. C. Stubblefield, Mrs. Jim Johnson, Mrs. E. M. Bruce, Mrs. Ernest Meadows, Mrs. B. Landers, Mrs. Drew Giveus and Mrs. Bessie Yarbrough. Miss Ruth Johnson was a guest.

All members are asked to try to bring six cuttings to the next meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Henry Eaten March 13.
