CITY TO COOPERATE WITH COUNTY IN MEETING COST OF EMERGENCY CHARITIES

Pact Reached Monday Night During Joint Conference At The City Hall

Agreement was accepted during joint conference of officials of the city and county Monday evening that all emergency charity expense originating within corporate limits of Colorado should be paid for cooperatively by the two governmental subdivisions. The cost is to be divided equally.

Announcement that the pact had been accepted was made by Mayor Sadler shortly after conference between Judge Templeton and Commissioners E. K. Shelton, J. S. Boyd and M. C. Holt with the mayor and councilmen at the city hall. Urge that the city assume a part of the expense was made by the county judge and commissioners.

It developed that several months ago the city paid one-half the cost of all charity obligations originating in the county. Later the city dispensed with this plan and assumed responsibility for its own benevolences. This was stopped the first of January this year after Mayor Sadler was informed that cities operating under the general laws of Texas were not authorized under law to pay out funds for charity.

The cooperative order was pending approval by the Attorney General's department. In event it is ruled unlawful the agreement will not be binding.

Producers who did not participate in the 1934-35 pool and are holding the tax exemption certificates issued for that season may also place them in the special pool. It is planned to have the certificates ready for sale with opening of the ginning season this year. They are to be sold at a price below the ginning tax as fixed by the Bankhead act.

Unsold certificates totaling 180 million pounds, the equivalent of 376,000 bales, remain from the 1934-35 pool to be returned to producers on a pro-rata basis through this sale. When not turned into the special pool, the certificates will be issued to producers as 1935-36 tax-exemption certificates and will be in addition to their regular allotment of such certificates under the 1935 program. The special pool will operate for a limited time only.

At expiration of the special pool the proceeds, less operating expenses, will be divided pro-rata among the participants and if any certificates remain unsold they will be returned to participants on the same basis. ### DROUGHT DEFINITELY ENDED AS AVERAGE THREE INCHES BLANKETS THIS TERRITORY

Year's Rainfall Boosted To Over Six Inches During First of This Week

Another hard rain had been falling for an hour at 2:30 Thursday afternoon and an overcast sky indicated that additional moisture was due for Colorado and this area. Hail accompanied the downpour but the stones were small and are not supposed to have rendered much damage.

The era of prolonged drought that for months has occasioned stress throughout this territory has been broken and today ranchers and farmers are looking ahead with stronger optimism that might have been felt at any time during the past three years.

From two to four inches of rainfall blanketed the Colorado area during Tuesday and Wednesday, placing total precipitation for the month at the highest figures reported since 1932. Streams were running bank full Thursday and surface tanks on the range were holding more water than for many months. The Colorado river Thursday morning was bank full.

Tuesday and Wednesday a total of 2 inches was registered at Colorado. South, east and north the rain was heavier. At the Spade ranch over three inches fell. In some communities farmers and cattlemen reported that gauges registered four inches.

Up to June 1, 1934, total rainfall at Colorado had reached 4.56 inches. Up to that time in 1933 only 2.90 inches had fallen and on that date in 1932, when this county harvested over 50,000 bales of cotton, rainfall up to June 1 was 16.29 inches. A total of 38.69, one of the highest on record in the county, fell during that year.

Young crops of cotton and early feed, planted before or immediately following rains of a few days before, are growing off rapidly. On the range prospects suggest favorable conditions not excelled in several months.

COLORADOAN VIEWS PULITZER PRIZES

By JOE EARNEST
August Loeb, who is from Shreveport, Louisiana, and is a friend of Joe Earnest of Colorado, was last week announced as one of the Pulitzer Prize winners. Loeb, a graduate of Cornell and the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, has been working on a newspaper in Louisiana, but last year attended Columbia University for graduate work.

The award is a $1500 scholarship enabling the recipient to spend a year in Europe to study the social, political, and moral conditions of the people, and the character and principles of the European press.

Probably the most deserving of all the prize winners for the year is Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, who received the award in the field of biography for his four volume work on Robert E. Lee. Dr. Freeman is editor of a Richmond, Virginia, newspaper, conducts two weekly broadcasts, and last year commuted to New York by airplane each week for lectures in the School of Journalism of Columbia, where, incidentally, young Loeb is one of his pupils.

Dr. Freeman began work on the biography nineteen years ago, and although he recognized the historical and scholastic value of the work, he never in his fondest hopes expected it to become a piece of popular reading. His technique in preparing the work was to consult every written item about Lee and his period and interview all those persons who had seen Lee or had personal connections with him. As Dr. Freeman told his students, the biography was written before breakfast as he was busy every other minute of the day.

BAUMAN WOMEN TOLD OF WINDOW CURTAINS

"Window decoration forms the harmonizing link between the walls and furniture of the room," explained Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, to the members of the Bauman Home Demonstration club which met with Mrs. Charles Land May 8.

Window curtains should never be more elaborate than the furnishings of a room. They should harmonize in style and color. Softly draped windows add much to the restfulness of a room. Cotton or mercerized material is considered more appropriate for the average farm home.

Mrs. McCollum reported that one-third of the club budget was raised by the play sponsored by the club. Plans for the exhibit May 17-18 were discussed.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim Lee May 22, at 2:30 p. m. Visitors and new members always welcome.

Mrs. Bertha Barber of Abilene has been here the past two weeks visiting her sons, Truett and Dell Barber, and her mother, Mrs. C. P. Conaway.

Front Page Space Given Irrigation Experiment In 25-Year-Old Record

Front page space in the Colorado Record for May 20, 1910, twenty-five years ago, was given to an irrigation experiment launched by Dr. N. J. Phenix.

Dr. Phenix had installed a gasoline engine and pump on a fifteen acre tract of land up the river above the "old race track." The source of water was to be a great hole in the Colorado river, one which rarely dried up.

The Record predicted that if his experiment proved successful it would doubtless mark the beginning of a new era of farming in this country.

A big union Sunday school picnic was to be held on Thursday, May 26, at Seven Wells. Everyone was requested to close all gates and "not to turn any horses loose in the pasture," which was described as the "old Bailey pasture now owned by W. P. Raddick."

A "Bathing club" had been organized by the younger people of the town. Members had built a public bathhouse on the rocks just west of the south bridge.

County officials signing the quarterly report of the county treasurer, J. J. Patterson, as approved by the commissioners' court were A. J. Coe, county judge; W. H. Gardner, commissioner Precinct One; W. M. Green, commissioner Precinct Two; J. S. Barber, commissioner Precinct Three; U. D. Wulfjen, commissioner Precinct Four; Jesse H. Bullock, county clerk.

Report of the Commissioners' court showed that W. P. Leslie, as county attorney, had made his report; that S. E. Brown, C. M. Adams, and others had petitioned the court to put Loraine and Colorado in separate precincts; that Wyatt Hall and others prayed for an election in the independent school district of Loraine to determine whether or not cattle and horses should be restrained from running at large in the district.

Mrs. D. G. Ferguson and baby daughter were visiting Capt. R. A. Jeffers and family.

Mrs. Bravis Coe had come from Ector county to visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. Abe Dolman had been to Paris to attend a wedding.

Harry Landers and J. C. McCreeless had received some young bass from a government fish hatchery and were stocking tanks on the Landers ranch and at Union.

Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Phenix had entertained the graduating class with a party at their home.

Miss Bird Blandford clerk at the postoffice was on a vacation trip to Pecos City.

J. L. Doss had left on Friday to join Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Reese at Houston, and they were to go to Galveston from there.

Judge W. B. Ratliff of Delta county had been visiting his brother, Dr. T. J. Ratliff.

There was a new son and heir at the John E. Holt home.

A daughter had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Roundtree in Cisco.

Bruce Phenix had been honored for cartoon work at Baylor University.

O. M. Mitchell and the Pond boys had returned from their trip to Mississippi and Alabama.

Mrs. W. B. Womack and children had gone to visit relatives in Callahan county.

Jack Mayes made a business trip to Dallas last week.

Look over the advertisements in this paper.

Hilarity and heart throbs interlace in the new Will Rogers starring vehicle, "County Chairman." This Fox film comedy is to show at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.

REEL FOOT LAKE OFFERS PARADISE TO FISHERMAN LOCAL MINISTER STATES

Reel Foot Lake, famed watering place in Northwest Tennessee, is among the favored spots in this country to fish, according to Minister Jim Harvey of the Church of Christ. The Coloradoan stated Tuesday that he recently took fifty-eight bass from waters of the lake during a few hours.

Harvey was holding a revival meeting at Paducah, in western part of Kentucky. During his stay in the "Show Me" State he preached in Illinois and Indiana.

Folk in those states are different from West Texans, Harvey told the Record Tuesday afternoon. His broad brimmed hat and sunburned face caused the people to refer to him as a West Texas cowboy.

Pastors Turned To Mother For Pulpit Theme Last Sunday

While pulpit orators told of the glories of motherhood, letters and telegrams carried messages of love and personal gifts told anew the old story that mothers like to hear, churches in all community centers of the county Sunday joined to render homage.

"Mother" as a rule was the theme about which ministers built their sermons addresses at the 11 o'clock worship services. Songs and other musical features, too, were sentimental of the traditions of motherhood.

Attendance upon services at Colorado churches for the morning program was larger than usual, ministers have stated. As a rule auditoriums were filled to capacity as sons and daughters came to have part in the united program to offer tribute to motherhood.

FORMER COLORADOAN'S SON IS NEAR DEATH

Edward Pierce, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pierce, former Coloradoans now living in Plainview, is near death in a Plainview hospital from injuries received in a car accident which claimed the life of another youth Sunday night.

C. A. Pierce, Jr., of Dallas, brother of the injured youth, told J. H. Greene in Plainview Wednesday that practically no hope is held for his recovery. Edward's pelvis bone is broken in five places and he has internal injuries.

Edward was driving the car, which he had owned but ten days, when the accident occurred. The car left the highway and overturned several times. A third youth sustained minor injuries.

His parents left here about eighteen years ago when the late F. M. Burns opened a store in Plainview. C. A. Pierce, Sr., had been employed by Mr. Burns here. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce now operate a ready-to-wear store in Plainview.

MILITANT ATTACK LODGED AGAINST PARKING LAWS

'DRIVING BUSINESS OUT OF COLORADO,' IS CHARGED IN PROTEST TO CITY COUNCIL

Stormy Session of Body Not Concluded Until 2 A. M. Tuesday Morning

Charging that the recently passed traffic ordinances having to do with parking cars and trucks on Second street was literally driving the public from Colorado and if not removed would delegate business here to dangerous proportions, a group of business men Monday night stormed the city council chambers to register militant protest against the law.

Mayor J. A. Sadler was just as strong in support of the ordinance as were some of the citizens in terms of denunciation. The city council passed the revised traffic control measure, he explained, after continued demand from "men, women and children" that the city do something to remove a menacing hazard to life and property, described as having been apparent in the old center and angle curb parking.

"I have been criticized for this ordinance but I wish to state here and now that I have received many more compliments, coming from the business and professional interests of this city because the council deemed it wise to pass the law," he declared as he addressed the group.

"The city did not go into this matter without due consideration, as has been charged," the mayor went on to say. "For two months immediately preceding the April municipal elections I had a special commission from this council detailed to study Colorado's traffic problem. Then for one month after the election three members of the council continued this study. The result is the parking ordinance that you have come here to protest against."

Nat. Thomas, of the Thomas Dry Goods Company was the first business man to be heard as discussion of the controversial question was taken up. His statement was that the ordinance was driving business from Colorado and should be repealed. He invited the council to consider the question as to all merits involved.

"This is just a country town and I cannot understand why we should try to act like they do in the city," was opening shot to come from Miss Ruebelle Smartt, associated with members of her family in operation of a cafe on East Second. "This new parking law you have forced on us is driving people to other towns and is going to ruin Colorado for good, unless you permit return of the old parking provisions."

Miss Smartt stated that she would favor return of center parking along Second street in heart of the business district, in response to questioning by the mayor.

H. L. Hutchinson, former mayor, addressed the mayor and council at length on the controversy. His charge was that business was being driven out of town because of the ordinance. He explained that he had

TRIBUTE PAID TO MOTHER IN SONG AND ADDRESS AS LIONS UNITE IN PROGRAM

Dr. Root And Rev. O'Brien Presented In Memorial Features On Friday

There can be no finer nor more noble attribute to reflect Lionism than that of paying tribute to motherhood in recognition of the universally accepted proposition that it has ever been through influences of mother that the tenets of the organization have been sustained, members of the Lions Club Friday were told. The usual entertainment program was devoted to devotion to mother through rendition of appropriate songs and addresses.

Dr. C. L. Root, for several years a member of the club, sang two solos dedicated to motherhood. First he gave "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," and as a concluding number sang "All Alone." He was accompanied by Mrs. Lulene McCreless at the piano and L. B. Elliott on the bass violin.

The Rev. Dick O'Brien, chairman of the program committee, spoke briefly of the significance of Mothers Day, to be generally observed in Colorado the following Sunday. Every Lion present whose mother still lives accepted to deliver a message of love and devotion to her sometime during Sunday, either in a personal way or otherwise. The minister offered strong urge that every Colorado Lion attend services at some church Sunday.

B. L. Templeton, first vice president, presided. He announced that Raymond Gary had been unanimously elected for reinstatement in the club. Mr. Gary is due to be formally presented during program today.

Joe W. Earnest, son of the late Judge C. H. Earnest, charter member of the club, and through several years an outstanding Lion, was presented as a new member of the service organization. Earnest was introduced by Col. C. M. Adams, lifelong personal friend of Judge Earnest.

"It is a privilege that I cherish to have opportunity to present you to this Lions Club," Col. Adams stated. "You are the son of a noble Lion and a noble sire and we feel that you will meet the responsibilities of a good Lion as did your father." Earnest spoke briefly to express appreciation for the references made and pledged to give of his best to the organization.

Lloyd Groves, member of the San Angelo Lions Club orchestra, was a guest.

LONGFELLOW SCHOOL IS DEDICATED IN SERVICES HELD ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The new brick school building at Longfellow was dedicated in impressive ceremony Friday evening, with Weldon Moore, principal, directing the program. Students of the school were presented in drama and musical features.

Principal dedicatory addresses were delivered by County Judge B. L. Templeton and W. S. Cooper of Colorado. The school auditorium was not large enough to take care of the large number of citizens attending. The building, completed a few weeks ago, was built to replace a frame structure that burned to the ground a few months ago. Before the flames had died out Moore and members of the board of trustees were considering plans to rebuild.

Among those attending from this county were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wulfjen, Sam Wulfjen, Frank Smith, Chester Jones, J. L. Bowen, Oscar Bauman, Leslie Terry, Ward Jenkins, B. J. ## Shower Monday For Former Miss Hattie Ballard

Returning to Colorado for her first visit since her marriage in Fort Worth on March 30, Mrs. Ray Swann, of Benbrook, the former Miss Hattie Ballard, was honored with a shower given by Mrs. Dan Mackey at her home Monday evening.
A May basket motif was used by Mrs. Mackey in decorations and appointments for the shower. House decorations were baskets of May flowers. The bride's book was in the shape of a May basket and plate favors at refreshment time were miniature May baskets. Pink and white were colors used.
Presiding over the bride's book was Mrs. Charles Delaney. After the arrival of the guests, the hostess presented Verna Campbell and Nina Catherine Quinney in a dance number.
The gifts were introduced by Mercedes Fitzgerald, who carried part of them to Mrs. Swann in a May basket. Mrs. Dick Delaney toasted the bride.
Pink and white brick ice cream and white cake were served to about twenty-five guests.
Mrs. Swann, who came home for Mother's Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ballard, returned to her home in Benbrook Tuesday noon. Mr. Swann, who was formerly employed on D. H. Snyder ranches near Colorado, is now working for the Snyder interests at Benbrook, near Fort Worth.

MRS. J. G. MERRITT IS HONORED DURING VISIT IN EASTLAND

Accepting an invitation to be guest speaker on the program of a Mother-Daughter banquet at the First Methodist church in Eastland Thursday evening, Mrs. J. G. Merritt was the houseguest of a former Coloradoan, Mrs. W. P. Leslie, Thursday and Friday and was honored with a breakfast given by Mrs. Leslie on Friday morning.
Leading club and church women of this district were among the dozen women attending the breakfast. Among those present were Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of the sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Horton, district corresponding secretary; and Mrs. G. B. McGlamby, a former officer of this Methodist conference.
Another guest was Mrs. Connie Price, formerly Miss Ruth Booher of Colorado, whose husband has a clerk's position in the court of appeals at Eastland.
The breakfast group accompanied Mrs. Merritt to the train Friday noon. She arrived here on the 3:45.

not come before the city council through selfish motives, but was interested in the welfare of Colorado.
Others to speak included A. A. Herrington, B. M. Moore, I. G. Haines, Ray Womack, S. H. Bedford, Bodzin, J. F. Morris, all of whom registered vigorous protest against the law. Womack and Burnett, operators of cafes, contended that the ordinance was driving them out of business. Burnett said his patronage had dwindled twenty per cent since the law became operative.
"I have been mayor of this city for twenty-five months and have received more favorable comment on this ordinance than any legislative measure this council has passed during that time," Sadler said. "We are not seeking to injure any individual or group but this body has been populated in the sincere desire to do the best thing for the city and every citizen within it."
That business men themselves were to blame for much of the so-called traffic congestion, due to parallel parking, was charged by Sadler. "You business men who have come here tonight to enter protest against this ordinance claiming that there is no room at the curb for your customers to stop, will get into your own car and drive to town, park the machine directly in front of your store, there to remain for hours. Why not leave your car on some side street or in the rear of your store and work cooperatively to the end of solving a problem that is ours, as well as yours."

Sadler asked some of the citizens what would they do with trucks. "Would you permit trucks to park into the curb at an angle of forty-five degrees," he suggested. As a rule this question was given no definite answer. One or two demanded that the trucks be allowed to park in center of the street, or at the curb.
"We have experimented with parking large trucks and cars with trailers attached at the forty-five degree angle," said Sadler, "and found that when two of these machines are parked opposite on either side of the street, it is impossible for two cars to pass between them."
As the citizens delegation concluded its verbal attack against the traffic control legislation Ex-Mayor Hutchinson expressed appreciation for the cordial hearing and with the statement "I realize you gentlemen are up against a problem," suggested that the visitors retire.
It was then that the mayor and councilmen went into a huddle to weigh the protests lodged against the city. As considerable discussion came to an end motion that center parking be authorized along Oak street over a distance of three blocks prevailed.
The amended parking law will permit parallel parking on Oak, between First and Fourth. Provisions of the new ordinance as affecting all other thoroughfares in the downtown district remain intact. The police department was directed to check the

THE FISH OF '35

When the Fish of '35 marched through the halls of C. H. S. for the first time, perhaps the upper classmen thought we were dumb and "green." At least that is the way it seemed from the light remarks we received. Frightful tales were related to us before our glorious entry into high school, such as the horrors of making speeches to the Seniors, Juniors, Sophs, and beloved faculty. Now we look back over the past year and realize the dumb stunts we've pulled. Isn't that "just like a green Frosh?" However, we've learned a great deal, and next year maybe we can be a little more sophisticated (I doubt it).

You know how Fish are. They certainly feel their importance; that is for the first few days. Sometimes the upperclassmen can make us feel pretty little but our one consolation is the fact that some day we will have the honor of being classed as dignified Seniors.

Here's wishing good luck to the future Sophs of '36.

JANE MESKIMEN.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Wednesday, the student body was pleased to have Rev. Wright with them again.

Wherever we go in life we hear someone saying "Listen, Listen to me." There are so many to listen to that we often become confused and fail to listen to anything. There are many things to listen to—good and bad. How are we to know what to listen to and what not to?

There is an inner voice called conscience that will lead us to listen to the good, if we will only go.

To some the voices are so confusing that they try to get away and live alone. Soon it is found that this cannot be done. Wherever one goes there are voices—voices of old friends, life, literature and of God. The lost voice is the voice to which we should listen. That voice will give us a complete life and a great reward afterward.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Tuesday, May 7, the Colorado Music club rendered a very pleasing program consisting of three numbers from the cantata "Garden of Flowers." The selections were "Spring Morn," "Summer Wind," and "The Bees." Mrs. Charles Moeser opened the program with a solo, the "Bazaar Ballade."

Mrs. Meskimen directed with Mrs. Latham accompanying. Mrs. Meskimen announced the presentation of the Junior Twilight Musical on May 12.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Last Friday, May 10, the annual Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Colorado Hotel.

About 8 o'clock all the pupils assembled in the dining room in order to begin the banquet. Elwood Beal, the toastmaster, had Frances Jones play "Hail, Hail The Gang's All Here," in which the whole group joined. As soon as the noise had settled down somewhat, George Kiker sang a song that was enjoyed by everybody.

The next event was the crowning of the queen. Maxine Dorn was the queen and Pete Warren was king (at least he escorted the queen). The queen was placed on her throne and crowned by the toastmaster. When the queen was seated she was entertained by different groups of children from the classes of music pupils taught by Mrs. Guitart, Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. Deffebach. The queen was then escorted to her seat at the banquet table.

The invocation was given by Rev. Elliott.

Next on the program was music by different groups of girls. The first group was: Frances Jones, Mable Cooper and Mrs. Jimmy Maddox. The second group was the Jenkins' Twins. The song by Truman McCreless was between two dances the first given by Mrs. Martin's pupils, Misses Morrison and Slagel, and the second also by Mrs. Martin's pupils, Misses Quinney and Campbell.

At this point several students began to look so hungry that it was decided that now was the proper time to begin eating. The Juniors were very liberal in the food line for on the menu was: Salad, veal cutlet, potatoes and vegetables. A grape juice cocktail started things off and ice cream and cake ended them while between these ice tea kept the ball rolling.

After everyone had finished some short talks were given by different men. The topic was: To be Socially Efficient One Should Be—The things that one should be given by the speakers. Mr. Ratliff gave that one should be law abiding; Rev. Wright gave that one should be religious; Mr. Reese gave that one should be healthy and Supt. Watson gave that one should be educated.

After the talks everyone sang "Colorado" and were dismissed after expressing their appreciation for such a good time.

LA TERTULIA

As the school year of 1935 draws to an end, the members of La Tertulia consider it altogether fitting and appropriate that they express their thanks and appreciation to the Spanish instructor, Miss Smith, for this enjoyable year spent in studying Third Year Spanish. The club work has consisted of translation of plays, discussion of current topics, and various reports dealing with Spain and Spanish America. One of the main efforts being made by the Spanish classes of this school, as well as many other schools, is to further a friendly understanding between the Americas; this cause has been greatly aided by the "Pan American Student Forum."

The members of the club have enjoyed the Spanish atmosphere at their Spanish banquet and various other socials.

SENIOR NEWS

Seniors, the end of your high school days is close at hand. Only a few more days and you'll be leaving the dear, old familiar halls of C. H. S., but it is being rumored that most of the Seniors are welcoming the end with a cheerful face. Such is life!

Sighs of relief are being heard from every Senior class room. No wonder. The "dreaded ordeals" are over and each heart is beating normally again because its owner made fairly presentable grades.

Our Senior classmate is back in school after a second siege of chicken pox. Wonder how it feels to have them twice.

Fuzzy Reese has taken off her wig of gold, but her name "Goldie" still remains.

The Seniors have been practicing songs for the graduation exercise. John Morgan Hale is one of the sturdy bass singers and is helped by Buster Aycock.

JUNIOR NEWS

Well, the long worked for, planned for banquet was put over in a big way Friday night. We hope everybody enjoyed themselves, at least the Juniors did!

The Junior girls hope to get to go on their hike Saturday. Maybe it won't be put off on account of the weather this time.

Did Lorraine Hart have a good time Friday night? Ask her for details.

What Would Happen If:

Regal Porter knew his Spanish perfectly?

Dorothy Daughtrey got "stood up."

Tom Coker wasn't flirting. Kathryn Motley would get fat. Auther Connell and Wesly Elliott were quiet in third period study hall. Mildred Montgomery didn't blush.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Marguerita Beights entertained a group of her friends from Valley View Saturday night. Games were played and all had a good time. At the social hour ice cream and cake were served.

BIOGRAPHY

"In the Fifty Years Ago column of The Dallas News of Feb. 28, the death of two well-known citizens of Texas was noted, men who had helped to make history in their days," remarked Judge R. C. Crane, president of the West Texas Historical Association.

"The men in question," Judge Crane said, "were David G. Mills and Dr. William Carey Crane. David G. Mills lived to be 74 years old; came to Texas in 1852, had been a pioneer and a soldier in the war of Texas Independence, and engaged early in the mercantile business at Brazoria in partnership with his brother, under the firm name of R. & D. G. Mills.

"Dr. Crane was 69 years old when he died; came to Texas in 1863 to become president of Baylor University, located at Independence, and so continued until his death in 1885.

"D. G. Mills died at his home at Galveston to which place his firm removed their business in the early days of the Republic of Texas.

"His firm for many years was the outstanding mercantile concern in Texas, doing a large volume of business.

"The result of wildcat banking, ill-advised State banks, organized in the various States, and President Jackson's successful fight to put the National bank out of business, and the financial panic and crash of 1837, had their echoes in the Republic of Texas in more ways than one.

"Under the laws of the several States, insurance companies, railroad companies and canal companies were chartered with banking privileges. These would in many instances open banks, and proceed to issue bank notes in large volume to circulate over the country and never undertake to do anything else called for in their charters.

"There were no banks in Texas and about all of the money which had lawful authority to circulate consisted in the notes issued by the Republic of Texas; and these were at a discount, being worth at the time of the admission of Texas as a State, about 15c on the dollar. And hence there was need in Texas of a larger circulating medium.

"This need for more currency was largely solved by the firm of R. & D. G. Mills by the simple expedient of indorsing such of the bank notes as they found to be good; and thus indorsed, many thousands of dollars of the notes of many of these banks, scattered over the various States, were made good for use as money in Texas and were accepted by the firm of R. & D. G. Mills in the conduct of its business.

"Toward the latter days of the Republic of Texas, the indorsement of the Mills firm was probably more acceptable to the people over Texas than would have been that of the Texas Government itself, for the credit of R. & D. G. Mills was considered good, while that of the Texas Republic had reached a low ebb.

"Dr. Crane was about as much of a pioneer in his field of education as was D. G. Mills," Judge Crane continued.

"He came to Texas in 1863 to become president of Baylor University at Independence, in Washington County. The War Between the States was then on. Baylor University was then all but dead, because of the war and internal strife in the Baptist denomination. Many colleges over the South had closed their doors, never to be reopened, because of the war.

"Confederate soldiers were occupying some of the grounds and buildings of Baylor University, and Dr. Crane was compelled to apply to General Magruder, commanding the Confederate forces in Texas, to have the soldiers to vacate and surrender possession of the buildings; and after the soldiers vacated, the buildings had to be overhauled, and floors, doors and windows replaced before they could be used.

"From the time of his arrival at Independence in the fall of 1863, Dr. Crane worked in season and out of season for the cause of education and religion in Texas, and to keep Baylor University alive, until his last illness in February, 1885.

"In the interest of Baylor University he spent his patrimony of $10,000, and sacrificed at least $40,000 in the matter of salary which he had opportunities of earning elsewhere.

"He had been educated at what is now Colgate and George Washington Universities, and had been pastor of the Baptist churches at Columbus and Vicksburg, Miss., and Montgomery, Ala., as well as president of several colleges and universities in Mississippi and Louisiana.

"He had been one of the organizers of the Southern Baptist Convention, several times one of its vice presidents, and for many years one of its secretaries, before coming to Texas; and after coming to Texas he was several times again vice president of that convention.

"As early as 1866, addressing the Texas Legislature on the question of improving the public schools of the State, he advocated the immediate establishment of the State University, for which a site had been set aside at Austin in 1839. At the same time he advocated the establishment of a normal college for the better training of teachers in the public schools.

"Again, at the meeting of a State convention of Texas teachers in December, 1872-January, 1873, of which he was president, he introduced resolutions, which were passed, again calling for the establishment of the university; for a normal college and for the betterment of the public school system, and for the remainder of his life he continued to work for these objects.

"In January, 1879, the State teachers' convention of Texas was organized at Austin, while the Legislature was in session, and Dr. Crane was elected its first president.

"In this convention Dr. Crane was chairman of the committee appointed by it, for the purpose of making recommendations to Governor Roberts and, through him, to the Legislature, on the question of the establishment of such a school. Governor Roberts submitted the recommendation at once with his indorsement, and Sam Houston Normal College was created at once (on the site of old Austin College), the first normal college in Texas.

"When in 1881 the Legislature finally passed the law providing for the establishment of the State University, Dr. Crane was a member of the committee from the Texas teachers which submitted the recommendation to Governor Roberts, and with it the plan of establishment which was adopted by the Legislature.

"Dr. Crane was considered by his contemporaries who knew him to be a gentleman of rare culture and educational qualifications, a pulpit orator of unusual ability, and a teacher and developer of character with few peers.

the growth and development of the history of Texas, and hence are interesting and valuable."

MOTHER'S DAY

The day is rich in sentiment and tender in meaning and grows in popularity as the years go by.

Down in the depths of a woman's inmost soul there is still a pure love for her offspring, there are still characteristics of fidelity, self sacrifice, tenderness of heart and obedience to God, and as of old, there is a vast majority who stand for the true, the good and beautiful, and plead for honor and righteousness.

In this age of materialism and practicability we are greatly in need of more sentiment and through the sentiment of Mother's Day we will become more deserving of honor, more appreciative of the highest office that can be filled by any of God's creatures, that of Motherhood.

Every Mother has or has had a Mother and when Mother's Day comes we are not thinking so much about ourselves but about our own mothers and their loving ministrations. The sentiment instills into our hearts high ideals of life and awakens in us the great urge to be as true, and faithful and as loving as she who watched over us through the joys and sorrows of life and filled our hearts with an effable love and happiness.

Children of the present day are living in an age of progress, their days are busy ones and they need to be taught to love and honor the mothers of men. Mother's Day awakens in them tender thoughts in the days of childhood and youth, and down through the years as they become more worldly wise, as they become lost in the whirl of life's activities, sometimes steeped in waywardness and sin, the call that Mother's Day brings, perhaps, will soften their hearts and awaken in their thoughts the sweetest flowers of memory, and who can tell but what these memories may stir to a burning desire to live worthy of the one whose love never failed.

I know no better way To keep her memory sweet Than from my day to day Whomever I may meet.

I know her heart's desire Know what she dreamed and prayed I need not now inquire What tribute she'd have paid.

There was no secret hid Throughout her life from view I know from all she did Just what she'd have me do.

To honor her I can No truer tribute pay Than try to be the man For whom she used to pray.

REFLECTIONS

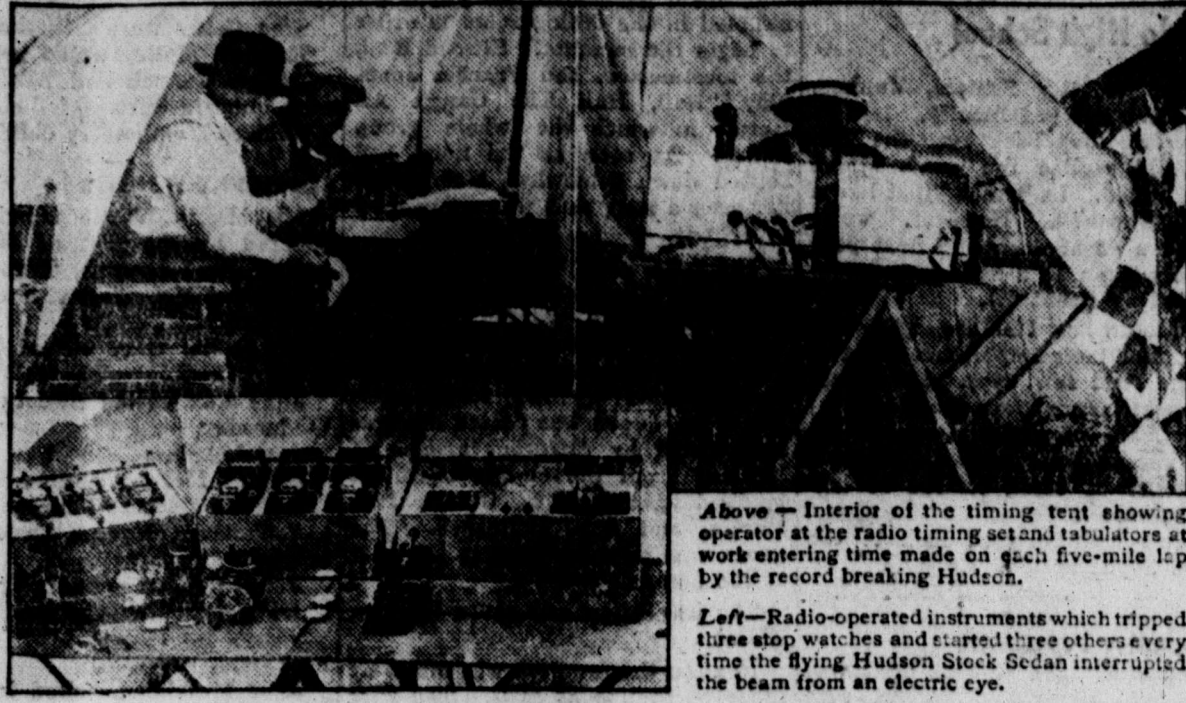

This writer lives much in the past. In our loneliness we sit in the moonlight and croon. What memories flood in upon us as we reflect to the days of childhood, of father, mother, brothers and sisters and home? Of the lovely paths leading out into the woods along which daisies grew to brighten the way of innocent childhood. Then the little log school house set in deep groves of oaks from whose branches flitted the little birds whose songs seemed to welcome the children as they gathered with their blue back spellers to apply themselves for a few weeks each year and then later to become the builders of great empires and an integral part of their day and generation.

RADIO TIMING USED FOR HUDSON'S MUROC RECORDS

Extreme accuracy is the watchword in the timing of records certified by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. At Muroc Dry Lake, California where a Hudson sedan set 36 stock car records on April 12 and 13, the latest scientific devices were employed to have the timing correct to the thousandth part of a second. A continuous current flowed through the electrical timing device interrupted only when the passing of the car broke the beam of a photo-electric cell, commonly known as an "electric eye." When the beam was broken, three stop watches were instantaneously stopped and three others were started.

'Why Not Try God First?' He Comments On Campaign Slogan of Salvation Army

Charlie Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche, offers food for thought in the following editorial comment, published in a recent edition of his paper: "Why not try God?" asks the Salvation army as it carries its worldwide campaign for lost souls through a depression-ridden world.

"Why not try God?" queries the army, pointing out that in God there is a refuge from the perplexing woes of the world. And the army is right, of course. "Why not try God?" is a question that can be answered logically only by "I will."

Too often, however, the man or woman of the day unconsciously enlarges on the phrase, "Why not try God—everything else has failed," seems to be the reaction.

Early Friday morning when Joe Palmer went to the electric chair at the Texas penitentiary he went, as many another doomed man has gone before him, "a saved sinner." But it is interesting to note that religion meant nothing to Joe Palmer in the heyday of his criminal career. It was not until "everything else failed" that he tried God—if he ever did.

The Palmer incident is not unusual. Not at all. We have seen it before, many times. Back in the bleak years of the war, crowded at every regular service, in week-day mornings, afternoons and evenings, when no services were scheduled, churches remained open and hundreds of thousands of our people went into them, and prayed as they never had before.

In the darkest days of the present thing about which the opinions of men differ so widely as that of religion. This is because there is no other one thing about which they know so little as they do about God. Aside from the religious books and the fact that they realize that they have intelligence, men of themselves know little of Him. And they go to fanatical extremes about their religious beliefs because of this importance of the matter of life hereafter as they see it.

Workers of the Crown have been trying, for generations, to get that story across to millions, but the sad part of it is so many of the millions won't take time to listen and to believe before they are practically driven to God for comfort and rest.

LOOKING FOR 'GOOD TOWN'

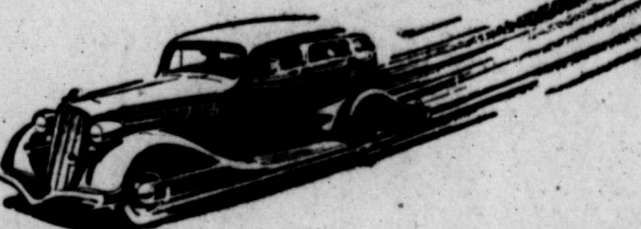

"Well, how far is it to a good town," hotly interrogated one of four fair ones at a local drug store the other afternoon after a polite attendant behind the soft drink counter informed that beer was not served in Colorado. Driving in a big sedan with a California license the ladies left for the east, after declining to consider some soft drink as a means of appeasing their thirst.

CONTRACTOR IS VISITOR

Jim Morgan of Big Spring, who a few years ago erected several brick buildings in Colorado, was a visitor Monday afternoon. Morgan stated that he was enroute to Snyder.

HUDSON SMASHES 36 MORE OFFICIAL RECORDS in one of the most gruelling tests ever given an automobile... makes clean sweep up to and beyond 1000 miles

1000-mile record beats best mark ever set by any closed car

NEWS FLASH—Muroc Lake, Cal., April 13—36 official A.A.A. records broken by a stock Hudson Eight. Top speed—over 93 miles an hour for five miles. Average speed—over 85 miles an hour for 1000 miles and beyond. A clean sweep of every record in its class up to and including 1000 miles and 3000 kilometers, and four unlimited class closed car records. Electrical timing correct to a millionth part of a second and every record certified by American Automobile Association.

Here's what it means to you. Probably you'll never care to drive a car five miles at 93 miles an hour. Yet, it means a lot to you to have a car that can go that fast—to shoot out of traffic tangles or flash you out ahead on the highway. It isn't likely you'll want to drive a thousand-mile stretch at 85 miles an hour, but you do want a car with the fine engineering, power and ruggedness it takes to do this. Ordinary driving is no work at all for a car like this. That's what it means to own a Hudson—smoother miles, more enjoyable miles—plus ruggedness and gasoline economy that make those miles cost less. You can see and drive an exact duplicate of this record-breaking Hudson Eight at any Hudson showroom. You can also see the complete list of these 36 new records, and scores of others held by Hudson-built cars. Take the wheel today and discover what this record-breaking performance means to you.

Those Viewing 'Baby' Typists To See Experiment Getting National Notice

Those who watch demonstrations of the ability of 140 "Baby typists" of Colorado's primary grades at the Coleman building Friday will see some of the results of an experiment which is being watched with interest by state and national education authorities.

So far as is known, Colorado's baby typing class is the only one of its kind in the world. All previous experiments in teaching small children the use of the typewriter have not used the touch system.

By teaching the use of the touch system, Miss Octavine Cooper, head of Colorado High school's vocational commercial department and sponsor of the baby typists, hopes to eliminate all disadvantages of typewriting for children, such as eye strain and nerve strain.

Letters asking for information on the outcome of her experiment, carried out on a large scale for the first time this year, have been received by Miss Cooper from D. M. Wiggins, dean of Hardin-Simmons university and director of the curriculum revision movement in this section, and from Dr. Freeman of the research department of the University of Chicago.

Last year Miss Cooper trained nine baby typists and took them to the State Teachers' convention in Austin, where they attracted much attention.

Teachers of the lower grades have cooperated with her this year in experimenting with large groups of pupils. She was assisted in training the baby typists by Miss Mary Frances Majors, Miss Juanita Cook, and Miss Sadie Simpson during the early part of the year and by Mrs. J. V. Glover and Miss Elizabeth Grantland during the latter part of the year.

The general public is invited to attend the demonstration Friday. Demonstration hours will be from 9 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. Pupils, ranging in age from 5 to 10 years, will type for fifteen minute periods.

THEATRE NEWS

"RUGGLES OF RED GAP"

Palace—May 17-18

A good story, plus a good screen adaptation, plus splendid portrayals, equals sure entertainment; that's Ruggles of Red Gap. Fun for any town and any family. Charles Laugh-ton in the role of Ruggles, man servant to a titled Englishman, is won in a poker game by a newly-rich American woman who thinks she can make a gentleman of her democratic husband. The husband introduces Ruggles to Red Gap society as Colonel Marmaduke Ruggles and excitement prevails in the little city until Ruggles, breaking all traditions of his ancestors goes into the restaurant business and cleans up. His former employer, in America to take him back, causes more excitement with Ruggles satisfied to stay in the States and becomes independent.

"COUNTY CHAIRMAN"

Palace—May 19-20

This George Ade classic of humor makes a typical Will Rogers' story. The yarn deals with political ambitions of rival candidates to control county politics. Berton Churchhill running for the office of district attorney finds himself in the unique position of having to defeat his daughter's sweetheart nominated for the post by Will Rogers. Electioneering tactics of both parties furnish the bulk of comedy and some thoroughly-enjoyable situations. Election and the romance winds up to everyone's satisfaction and all ends well. The yarn has a period background of about 1900 and is well-costumed with hoop skirts, bustles and all the trimmings of that vintage. Excellent photography and keen direction by John Blystone.

"MURDER ON A HONEYMOON"

Palace—May 21-22

Splendid adaptation of Stuart Palmer's murder novel, "The Puzzle of the Pepper Tree." Plenty of suspense and hilarious comedy. The dialogue is clean and clever. Should register big with the Edna May Oliver fans. The plot concerns a murder on a passenger plane carrying Edna May Oliver, a school teacher; Lola Lane, an actress; Leo G. Carrol, a director; Dorothy Libraire and Harry Ellerbe, a pair of newlyweds; and DeWitt Jennings, a sea captain. A dead man is the victim of heart failure, according to the coroner, but Oliver believes it is murder and wires for Gleason, a New York detective to help solve the mystery. Good photography and scenic background.

"WHILE THE PATIENT SLEPT"

May 23

This is fairly amusing mystery stuff told from a comedy angle, with no lessening of the usual suspense and thrills, but not particularly long on originality. It follows the familiar formula of murders and the business of excitement attending the solution of the shooting of the gent who has tried to run off with an ornamental elephant. The action throughout takes place while the old uncle sleeps off the effects of a stroke. Guy Kibbee as the inspector with Aline MacMahon as the nurse, do their best to make things clear, the while enjoying a few romantic asides. Allen Jenkins contributes his share of confusion and comedy as Kibbee's aid and everything goes along to the customary but far-fetched, solution.

"SWEET MUSIC"

Ritz—May 19-20

A snappy and tuneful musical with a good share of comedy, three or four song hits and a pleasing performance by the star Rudy Vallee. He doesn't take himself too seriously in this hit, in addition to exhibiting his ingratiating personality and crooning half a dozen song hits. Ann Dvorak displays a new-found talent for singing and dancing. Frank & Milt Britton's collapsible band brings its usual howls of glee. Picture opens with the hero and heroine angry at each other. The misunderstanding lasts almost until the close of the film. Night clubs, musical
