PROJECTED ROUTE TO THE SOUTHEAST NO EXTENSION #101, COUNTY JUDGE NOTES

Highway 208 Would Connect With That Designation Here, However

Projected highway designation extending northwest from Robert Lee to Colorado has no connection with Highway 101, original north-south route between Snyder and Sterling City, County Judge B. L. Templeton and Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, stated Friday morning.

The officials were prompted to make that statement after their attention had been directed to misleading information that had gained current circulation during the past few days to effect it was the ambition of Mitchell, Seury and Coke counties to obtain designation of that route southeast to the Coke county capital. "What we are attempting to do is to obtain consideration of our position that Highway 208, already designated from San Angelo north to Robert Lee, be extended to Colorado, here to connect with Highway No. 1 and 101," Judge Templeton said. "Our interest in proposed construction of 101 to connect Snyder, Colorado and Sterling City has never abated."

THEATRE NEWS

"STAR OF MIDNIGHT" Palace—June 23-24

One of the most witty and entertaining films of the season. Featuring another polished performance by the star of "The Thin Man" it follows the carefree mood of that film. Audiences will delight in the crisp, sparkling dialogue and clever bits of business while becoming engrossed in a suspenseful mystery story. Plot concerns the disappearance of a Broadway star, the murder of a columnist and the careful rounding up of several suspects in William Powell's most nonchalant manner. Here he has the assistance of Ginger Rogers as his pet girl friend. Together they solve the mystery and even find time for a little romance. Stephen Roberts, deserves a pat on the back for his skillful direction and an extra nod must go to J. Farrell MacDonald and Robert O'Connor.

"GREAT HOTEL MURDER" Palace—June 25-26

Those two friendly enemies, Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen, are at it again, this time as rival sleuths on the trail of a murderer. Lowe, as a writer of detective stories, and McLaglen, as a dumb detective, are constantly getting in each other's way and much comedy is induced by their efforts to outdo each other and unravel the mystery. The suspects number almost everyone in the cast and audiences will be unable to guess the identity of the real murderer until the surprise ending. The slight, but sufficient, love interest does not concern the stars, but two of the subordinate characters. Last reel speeds up considerably and things start happening so fast that spectators leave the theatre satisfied.

"DEATH FLIES EAST" Thursday—June 27

There is entertainment of an average sort in this dramatic, somewhat mysterious, occasionally amusing and generally active story of a transcontinental flight which revolves about an act of charity, suddenly developed romance, pursuit by police, a murder and incidental bits of dramatic effects.

In fact the film has the larger part of its setting in the interior of a transcontinental plane.

"Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round" Ritz—Saturday Midnite Matinee Sun-Monday, June 22-23-24

A story that promises much and varied entertainment, a cast chosen with particular care as to adaptability to roles, plus elaborate and colorful, novel production locale, a seagoing showboat, suggest the unique showmanship potentialities of this picture.

The story gathers all sorts of characters, crooks, show girls, gamblers, racketeers, jail breakers, philandering wives and husbands, confidence men, cops and many others in its plot. Against a background of intrigue, doublecrossing, robbery, murder, comedy and gaiety, all spiced with tingling music and spectacular girl dance numbers, it tells a smart romantic story.

Texas Farmers To Front On 1935 Work Programs

Farmers of Texas are carrying on adjustment programs regardless of all wild rumors that the recent Supreme Court decision endangers AAA and more than 70,000 new contract signers have shown up this year in the various commodities, according to George E. Adams, assistant state agent of the Texas Extension Service.

Adams reported that he traveled through 26 counties last week including the lower Rio Grande Valley and in all of them the farmers are going ahead with the programs.

Confirming them in their confidence, Secretary Wallace issued the following statement a few days ago. "In cooperation with the leaders of Congress, amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act are being perfected which are intended to bring the Act's provisions as to marketing and licenses into line with the Schechter case decision and also to safeguard the farmers' voluntary adjustment program on basic commodities.

"These voluntary adjustment programs were not in the path of the Schechter case decision, and in no event could there be any question of the Government's ability to fulfill its contract with the farmers.

"Nevertheless, we have taken advantage of the decision to seek perfection in the law which will make certain the Government's authority to continue processing tax rates in accordance with the amended provisions of the Act."

Postoffice Building Not Be Ready For Occupancy July 1

The new postoffice building, nearing completion at West Third and Walnut streets, will not be ready for occupancy July 1, Postmaster J. Y. Fraser stated Wednesday. A few weeks before the postmaster expressed hope of moving into the new structure on that date.

Fraser said it might be August 1 before the contractors complete the building and installation of equipment. Changes in specifications have delayed progress of construction.

Congressman George Mahon, designated as personal representative of the Postmaster General to attend opening ceremonies, may not be able to meet the engagement, Fraser recently stated. Judge C. C. Thompson will, in that event, accept the building for the department.

Mitchell Countians Interested In The Cotton Situation Invited To Gathering

Cotton producers, ginners, buyers and other citizens of Mitchell county interested in the present cotton situation are invited to attend conference to open in Dallas July 1, in the following communication received by this newspaper from Representative F. E. Knetsch of Seguin: A joint committee composed of five members of the House and five members of the Senate of which Representative F. E. Knetsch, of Seguin, is Chairman, will hold an open meeting and hearing in the Crystal Ball Room in the Baker Hotel in the City of Dallas, beginning July 1, 1935, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Members of the Committee are: Senators Tom DeBerry, Bogota; Will M. Martin, Hillsboro; Will D. Pace, Tyler; W. B. Collie, Eastland; and John S. Redditt, Lufkin; and Representatives J. J. Olson, Yoakum; R. A. Fuchs, Brenham; W. E. Pope, Corpus Christi; A. B. Tarwater, Plainview; and F. E. Knetsch, Seguin. The Committee urgently requests the attendance of all those who are engaged or interested in the growing, producing, ginning, compressing, transporting, shipping, marketing, buying, selling, processing, manufacturing, spinning, warehousing, or exporting of cotton. Invitations to attend are extended to Mr. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture; Mr. C. A. Cobb, Head of the Cotton A.A.A. Program; Mr. J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture; representatives of A. & M. College, Texas Technological College, and all agricultural colleges in Texas; representatives of all cooperative marketing associations, farmers, land owners, ginners, spinners; representatives of cotton compresses, and all transportation agencies engaged in shipping or transporting cotton; in fact, all interested in the textile industry, cotton buyers, merchants, manufacturers and exporters.

The Committee recognizes that cotton is one of the world's greatest crops and is the South's greatest crop and that Texas is the greatest cotton producing State. The growth and handling of the cotton crop is one of the largest and most intricate businesses in the world and has become more complicated the past five years. It is generally conceded that we have no permanent policy today from a government standpoint as to the cotton situation.

The Committee is, therefore, anxious to get all the information and light from all interested parties so that if possible a comprehensive program can be worked out. The Committee is not sponsoring or opposing any plan but is only interested in getting a cross section of the opinion of all interested parties and respectfully invites appearance and suggestions from everyone interested in this very important commodity.

The Committee suggests that where groups are represented they confer and select spokesmen for the group as it will be impossible for the Committee to hear each individual member of the various groups. The Committee will appreciate hearing from interested parties, giving time requested before Committee.

COTTON SUFFERS DURING SAND GUST LAST SUNDAY

Again farmers of this territory have experienced damage to their cotton crops, as another chapter in events registering toll during the past several days. Sunday and Monday low rolling sand storms in some localities did considerable damage to the crop. Many planters were out in their fields Sunday running sand furrows in effort to check the damage.

CALIFORNIA COMPANY HAS LEAD IN HOWARD COUNTY OIL NEWS DURING WEEK

Corporation Maintains West Texas Headquarters At Colorado

That the California Company, among the major oil corporations doing business in this area, held lead in oil development in Eastern Howard county last week is shown in the following drilling report from that sector. The company maintains its West Texas headquarters offices here.

The California Company's Nos. 6 Bell and 3 Dodge in eastern Howard County were shot last week, the same firm's No. 11 Foster near the Mitchell county line flowed 125 barrels daily while cleaning out following a shot and two Continental tests in the Settles area showed oil. Reports from a number of tests were not obtained owing to muddy roads.

California No. 6 Bell, in section 12, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, deepened to 2,785 feet and was shot with 300 quarts from 2,607 to 2,783 feet. Merrick & Lamb No. 2 Bell in the same section had drilled to 2,160 in gray lime. Sinclair-Prairie No. 2-B Denman, in section 10, block 30, continued cleaning out after a shot, bottomed at 2,845 feet.

California No. 3 Dodge, in section 1, block 30, swabbed 30 barrels of oil daily after being shot with 300 quarts from 2,609 to 2,770 feet, the total depth, and prepared to test. Sinclair-Prairie No. 16 Dodge, in section 3, block 30, drilled to 2,290 feet in lime. Bond No. 2 Rhotan, in section 4, block 30, had a slight showing of oil at 2,420 and drilled ahead below 2,450 feet in lime.

International Petroleum No. 4 T-P Land Trust, in section 45, block 30, had drilled to 2,175 feet in lime. John I. Moore and Hugh White's No. 1 D. H. Snyder, Jr., wildcat south of the Dodge-Denman pool, in section 28, block 30, had drilled to 1,833 feet in lime. California No. 11 Foster, in section 6, block 29, had cleaned out to 2,770 feet, within six feet of the total depth.

Continental No. 15 Settles had slight showings of oil from 2,374.88 and from 2,392 to 2,397 feet below which point it drilled ahead. Continental No. 16 Settles had a slight showing of oil from 1,620.30 feet in drilling to 1,940 in gray lime. It set 8 1/4-inch casing at 1,528. Both tests are in section 133, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By Gordon K. Shearer
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, (UP).—When the complete history of NRA is written, it probably will be revealed that the President's ill-fated code authority had its origin right here in Texas.

In those days before the Blue Eagle era, Texas had a $17,500,000 penalty suit against major oil companies and the American Petroleum Institute, alleging agreements in restraint of trade in violation of Texas laws.

The defendants replied that they were acting under a code approved by the Federal Trade Commission. "The Federal Trade Commission's function is to prevent harmful combinations, not to approve agreements that violate state laws," answered James V. Allred. The present Governor of Texas, then was attorney general of the State.

Best legal talent of the country had gathered for the hearing, and it may be true, as some Texas officials believe, that the idea of authorizing someone specifically to approve codes had its beginning right there. It is considered significant that NRA legislation soon appeared with a provision that the President might approve codes. In that event, and out went the Texas penalty suit. NRA had superseded Texas statutes, District Judge J. D. Moore decided.

Allred, before becoming Governor, appealed from Judge Moore's ruling. The court of civil appeals sustained the dismissing of the suit but, on another ground—that Texas anti-trust laws were void, regardless of NRA. Attorney General Wm. McCraw carried the case to the State Supreme Court this week. "A matter of such importance should reach the highest tribunal," McCraw said.

The validity of the state anti-trust laws had been argued before District Judge Moore. He did not find the Texas law invalid. Some lawyers believe there is strong possibility that the State Supreme Court will sustain at least the civil penalty statute. One anti-trust statute is void on its fact. It allows an exception for agricultural combinations and the U. S. Supreme Court has definitely held such exceptions are not permitted. The appearance of that exception in the Texas statute is a palpable error. It was stricken out by a legislature after the U. S. Supreme Court decision. Later all laws were codified. When the codified statutes appeared, there was the exception. It had gotten back some way.

Lawyers argue that it is such a palpable mistake that the supreme court would be justified in deciding that it was not the legislature's intent to have it in the law. If the court finds that it cannot exclude what is actually written into the statute, there is still another way. The error is in a statute passed separately from another statute creating the civil penalty. Whether the supreme court holds the two so interwoven that they cannot be unscrambled, remains to be seen.

Regardless of how Texas officials feel about NRA and how loyal they may be to it as the creature of a Democratic administration, there is visible joy about the State Capitol at the praction of the U. S. Supreme Court ruling on "immediacy." The holding that just because things may eventually get into interstate commerce does not justify regulation as though they were actually in interstate movement, is believed to end all possibility of Congress enacting the Thomas bill for Federal oil regulation.

Col. Lawrence Westbrook, soon to visit Texas, is one of the men who have advanced most rapidly under the national recovery program. "Colonel" is his title from the World War service. He has a genius for organization and detail. For years he was a member of the Texas legislature from Waco. He attracted no great attention; made no "speeches," and was not a "leader." But at the end of a legislative session, it usually was found he had pushed through quietly the things he wanted.

Colonel Westbrook's first welfare work was in cotton campaigning. For his activities he received as many brickbats as bouquets. When general relief needs became apparent, Westbrook had a plan ready to lay before Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. It was complete. Only a law to authorize it was needed. That quickly was passed. Under it Westbrook became Texas' first relief director. He got national recognition when President Roosevelt decided relief was getting to the needy too slowly and ordered jobs for all at once. Texas provided the jobs quicker and in more number than any other State. Soon Westbrook was being called to Washington for consultations. Now he heads the rehabilitation program.

Another former Texas House member is much in the limelight. Congressman Wright Patman of bonus bill fame. Texas legislators who recall how hard he fought for measures in the Texas House are not surprised at the battle he has staged at Washington.

Eat What I Want
—and all I want, says Hugh Stinson; and how he used to suffer!
Read letter . . .
"I was bothered with gas on my stomach after eating, and pains I could hardly stand. Tried everything. Had gotten to where I could not stand to eat enough to keep from going hungry. Because system going to the bad. A friend of mine said, 'Why don't you get a bottle of GORDON'S COMPOUND and get well?' That is just what I want to say to anyone suffering from acid or upset stomach, for I was said to have a stomach that nothing but a milk diet and a thick peck-book could ever do any good. Since taking two bottles of GORDON'S COMPOUND I now feel as well as I ever did. Now I eat what I want, and all I want, and am never bothered with any more pains after meals. I recommend GORDON'S to anyone suffering as I did."—Hugh Stinson, Hillsboro, Texas.

FIRST CHRISTIANS FROLIC AT ANNUAL SOCIAL AFFAIR GIVEN BY MEN OF CHURCH

Barbecue Featured Attraction Wednesday Evening; Over One Hundred Attend

Members of First Christian church came together for celebration of their annual barbecue and social affair Wednesday evening at Ruddick Park. Approximately 125 people were present to enjoy the occasion. J. B. Pritchett, official of the church and member of the committee in charge of the outing, stated to The Record Thursday morning.

A barbecue with baby beef done to a turn and accompanied by other delectable edibles was the feature attraction. Salads and other special dishes were prepared by ladies of the congregation. Members of the Men's Bible class of the church were hosts.

Bringing the entire church membership together in such a social affair is an excellent thing to do and ever contributes much to blend efforts of the congregation into closer relationship as objectives of the church are striven for, the Rev. Wallace Jones, pastor, declared.

Due to menacing clouds the program was curtailed somewhat and the merry makers left the park grounds to return to their homes earlier than had been planned.

Pastors of other churches, Sunday school leaders and other citizens were present as special guests of the congregation.

Investigate Before Buying Stocks And Bonds Is Suggestion

Who is he? Can I depend upon his word? Is he registered and licensed? These are the questions that you should have answered to your complete satisfaction before buying stocks, bonds, oil leases, royalty or any other form of investment securities from a salesman—particularly when the salesman is a stranger. That's the advice of Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, administrator and chief enforcement officer of Texas' new Securities Act.

Designed to curb the fraudulent and crooked seller of securities, the new law required every security dealer, agent and salesman to be registered with the State. Any citizen may determine for himself if the salesman is registered by writing to the Secretary of State. The records are open to the public.

The State does not propose to guarantee or endorse any stock, bond or other security. However, salesmen may be held strictly accountable for representations made in the sale of securities.

The important thing according to Secretary Mann, is to be sure the salesman is registered!

PENSION PROPOSAL FIRST ON BALLOT

The amendment authorizing the legislature to provide an old-age pension system drew place No. 1 Wednesday of last week at a public drawing to determine the order amendments to be voted on August 24 should appear on the ballot.

The drawing was held in the office of Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann in accordance with a law passed by the last session of the legislature.

The amendment authorizing commitment of persons to state hospitals for observation without trial by jury drew place No. 2, and that modifying constitutional prohibition of alcoholic liquors received place No. 3.

Other amendments and their places in order on the ballot were as follows:

Authorizing submission of constitutional amendments at special sessions of the legislature.

Authorizing trial judges to extend suspended sentences, place defendants on probation and revoke suspended sentences for cause.

Abolishing the fee system as a basis of compensating public officials and substituting the salary plan.

Authorizing the state to supply free textbooks to private as well as public schools.

In the past, the secretary of state has certified the amendments to county election officials in the order he chose, and the officials, in the absence of a specific mandate by law, have followed the certification or disregarded it.—Austin American.

New Deal's Farm Program Is Given Support By House

Amendments intended to protect the New Deal's farm program from a supreme court death sentence of "unconstitutionality" Tuesday swept through the house at Washington by a three-to-one majority. The AAA amendments which have kicked about congressional corridors for months now looked to the senate for final approval.

Opposition there, which last year blocked action on similar legislation governing the handling and distribution of farm products, had lessened and leaders planned to push the revamped bill to an early vote.

So listless was the house contest over the AAA program that a record vote was not forced. Speaker Byrns counted 168 members standing in favor of passage to 52 against. Party lines split.

The long fight against the cotton processing tax by New England textile interests ran into an 87 to 17 vote rebuff on Wigglesworth's (R-Mass.) motion to have cotton producers paid benefits directly out of the treasury.

Although some republicans, and a few democrats, said they doubted the constitutionality of the provision authorizing Wallace to "order" marketing agreements for handlers of a half-dozen commodities, they apparently were anxious to retain essentials of the farm adjustment law and willing to leave debatable points to the courts.

SWIM PARTIES ATTRACT SCORES TO PARK POOL

GREYHOUND'S NEW INTERCITY BUS MARKS RADICAL ADVANCE IN HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION

This new Greyhound bus, built by General Motors, has been placed in regular passenger service between Detroit and Chicago. After a short experimental period a huge fleet of these ultra-modern coaches is expected to replace present Greyhound equipment throughout the United States. The new super-bus has its motor in the rear, with an extra large luggage space underneath the passenger deck, which is considerably higher than on present buses. The coach is lighter, lower, and smoother riding than present inter-city buses, yet it accommodates 36 passengers, with more comfortable chairs, additional leg room.

NO INTERRUPTION of YOUR GAS SERVICE as Texas Streams Burst Banks!

With torrential flood waters swirling at many points between you and the gas wells, Lone Star Gas System again has met the threat of the elements. Bridging the gap between the gas wells and your gas appliances, this dependable system has conquered the hazard and kept your service uninterrupted.

The greatest and most widespread floods in the history of this company have threatened the gas pipe lines at many points. As the waters rushed on over the country-side, men stood by these lines day and night ready for any break. While bridges went down and roads were washed out and traffic was halted, the gas lines held intact.

This dependable service is not an accident. It is due to a quarter of a century of planning and huge expenditures of money. Seven pipe line bridges across swollen streams, heavy steel pipe laid deep in the ground, a well trained organization, are among the facilities which have made this gas system able to meet the unprecedented flood conditions.

The ability of your gas company to serve you during emergencies is after all, the supreme test of service. The significant fact is that the facilities and organization necessary to keep your service constantly dependable in such an emergency must stand by throughout every day of the year waiting your instant call.

Congress Set For Long Term With Bills Piling High

Congressional chiefs set themselves this week for a session lasting, far into the summer when some leaders passed word around that the President not only was preserving his original "must" legislative program but was adding to it.

The additions, it was said privately by party spokesmen, were measures to regulate the bituminous coal industry and to guarantee the collective bargaining rights of labor—the Guffey-Snyder and the Wagner labor disputes bills.

Some changes, it was added, will be made in both measures. They might even emerge from Congress bearing different titles. But the spokesmen said the principles of these two would be enacted before Congress adjourned. Their adjournment date guesses ranged from July 15 to Aug. 17.

The additions made the "must" program, as summarized by these leaders, include NRA extension on an interstate basis, utilities holding company elimination or regulation, social security, omnibus banking, regulation of motor bus transportation, expansion of Tennessee Valley Authority powers, continuance of existing nuisance taxes, readjustment of ship subsidies and changes in the farm adjustment act.

Because of the present congressional situation, the leaders looked for a long and hard session. They said the President still stood by his determination to have Congress do everything possible this year so a short session may be held in 1936—the year of national elections.

Labor's reaction to the Administration boost reported given the Wagner and Guffey-Snyder bills was told in a "very pleasing" comment from President William Green of the American Federation of Labor. But congressional leaders looked for anything but smooth sailing on the two new measures. In fact, one—from below the Mason-Dixon line—said the Guffey-Snyder plan would "have a tough time because it's anathema to the Southern coal operators." Senator Guffey, Democrat, Pennsylvania, said he would introduce at once a new draft of the plan to create a "little NRA" for the soft coal industry.

Both the Wagner and Guffey bills were discussed at the cabinet meeting today. Nothing was said afterward about them, but Secretary Perkins indicated clearly the determination to keep the social security bill on the program when she asserted it was on "sound constitutional grounds."

There was much talk in Capitol corridors about what changes would be made in the Wagner and Guffey-Snyder bills. One Democratic chief said the former would be rephrased so as to make such the measure guaranteed collective bargaining rights only of employes in interstate business.

Chairman Connery, Democrat, Massachusetts, called his House Labor Committee to meet tomorrow. He had a number of "minor" amendments proposed to the labor disputes measure and said they would be offered when the bill was brought up on the floor. It already has passed the Senate.

Tires Should Be Checked Up Before Holiday Driving

Automobiles, and especially tires, should be checked over before the car owner starts on an extended Fourth of July trip, in the opinion of Thomas Bros., local dealers for The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.
 "If the car and tires haven't been checked over since the start of the summer driving season, the wise motorist will see that this important matter is attended to before starting on a holiday tour," Mr. Thomas declared. "Tires especially should be checked over, if they haven't had this attention since last summer. Smooth worn tires are likely to give the motorist trouble at a time when he is all set to enjoy himself."
 "Heat is a natural enemy of tire life, and the hot roads of summer time will help cause an old tire to go bad about as quickly as any other means. Also, on a rainy day, when pavements are slippery, the danger of skids is increased immeasurably with old tires. New tires relieve the motorist from any worry or bother with tire trouble, and give him trouble-free miles over the holiday."
 "Goodyear-G-3 tires, that are in the public eye a great deal just now as a result of the investigations on the mileage conducted by Joseph A. Farnot, noted detective, have proved especially popular by reason of their long-wearing qualities. Persons coming in to have their tires checked up at our station have seen these tires and put them on in place of "smoothies" in order that their summer driving might be absolutely without worry," Mr. Thomas concluded.

INDEPENDENCE DAY FETE PLANS BEING CONCLUDED

ANNUAL RODEO EVENTS TO BE STAGED ON LOTS NEAR 2ND STREET RIVER BRIDGE

Concessions Be Awarded This Afternoon; Fences, Pens Under Construction

Program for Independence Day celebration to be staged at Colorado July 3 and 4 is being rapidly brought to a close with every indication pointing to one of the most colorful and largely attended of these jubilees ever staged at Colorado. Committees directing details of the varied program are assuring two nights and one day filled with pleasing attractions.

The rodeo, feature of the celebration, will be given on property of the Farmers Gin Company west of the Second street Colorado river bridge. R. A. May, rodeo committee chairman, started a crew of men to work constructing corrals, arena fence and other improvements there Tuesday.

Those directing plans for the celebration appreciate courtesy prompting officials of the gin corporation to extend free use of the property. John Baze, general chairman, stated Tuesday. U. D. Wulfjen, president of the concern, and Bill Dorn, manager, concurred in agreement to permit holding the wild west attractions on the West Colorado grounds.

R. P. (Pete) Ainsworth of the Spade ranch who during the past two or three years has been in charge of the rodeo show will again be in his place as arena boss. Ainsworth is giving promise of an attraction that will be filled with thrills every minute.

Gaston Brock of Abilene, who is to furnish trained Brahma show cattle for the rodeo events, states that the animals are to be moved here from Bronte, within the next few days. The herd is being held at the Coke county town where two weeks ago they featured in rodeo attraction. The animals are said to be in excellent condition.

Concessions at the rodeo park will be awarded to one person or concern under one award. Baze stated Tuesday following conference with members of his directing committee. The award is to be let at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce. Persons desiring to bid on concessions should file bids at the chamber of commerce not later than the hour designated.

"There will be no beer concessions awarded under any conditions," the general chairman said.

List of awards to be hung up for contestants in the rodeo events is being compiled and will be made public next week, Baze stated.

Federal Agents To Take Up Search To Find Lost People

Travel checks issued to Lorious and said to have carried his forged signature were later cashed at Colorado and other places in this part of the State.

T-P PIONEERED IN DRIVE TO BUILD A GREAT WEST, SPEAKERS STATE AT CLUB

Employees of Rail Line Are Honor Guests At Lions Club On Friday

The Texas & Pacific railway is just as much a pioneer meriting honor as such are the men and women who a half century ago pushed ahead into this new area to lay foundation for the phenomenal progress and civilization that we of West Texas enjoy today, speakers addressing the Lions Club declared Friday.

Employees of the railroad here were at the Lions Club as guests of the chamber of commerce who, through the organization secretary, Jim Greene invited the men to attend in recognition of National Railroad Week, being observed here and throughout much of the country. The men came to the club in a body and occupied a table reserved especially for them.

"The Texas & Pacific railway is the greatest single asset that we of Mitchell county have and there is much credit due this system and the men who have been associated with it down through the years as we take note of the wonderful progress this section of the West has made," said Judge C. C. Thompson, as he offered tribute to the honor guests and the corporation for which they worked.

Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, was another speaker to offer praise to the Texas & Pacific. Greene recalled that it was in 1881, 54 years ago, that the railroad, pushing westward into a new country, reached banks of the Colorado river, where stands the city bearing name of that stream.

He referred to another community, older than Colorado, "But today has only one building, as it did back in the late seventies, because it has not had the advantages for progress that a great rail system like the Texas & Pacific ever brings."

Greene called attention to the fact that the T-P was one of the greatest trunk line rail systems in the country and "operates through Colorado every day passenger and freight service not to be excelled by any other road in America." Colorado is, and should be, proud of the T-P and the men listed as its employees here, Greene concluded.

"We are proud of the Texas & Pacific and the history that has attended her more than fifty years of identification with the West," John T. Howell, local agent, stated in a brief address. He was presented by Jim Ferguson chairman of the program committee. Howell stressed the fact that service to every citizen was an ambition dominating every employee of the T-P in Colorado.

Employees of the rail corporation here include the following:

J. T. Howell, passenger and freight agent; V. Hopkins, cashier; A. C. Anderson, rate clerk; J. R. McMurry, warehouse foreman; Ben Daniel, ticket agent; T. E. Reed, foreman of switch engine crew; C. E. Smith, switch engine; C. C. Davis, switch engine engineer; O. M. Waters, fireman on switch engine; T. A. Wynne, electric signals maintainer; R. L. Witley, car repairer; B. S. Lanston, section foreman; S. A. Hinojos, engine watchman; E. Tilley, truck deliveryman; L. J. Crowder, express agent, and Tom Henderson, express deliveryman.

DISCOVERY OF SKELETON RECALLS INDIAN FIGHTS IN PRE-CIVIL WAR DAYS

Discovery of a human skeleton along banks of a creek south of Sweetwater the other day served to recall an Indian fight with pioneers in that area in pre-Civil War days. The find was made by W. C. Calvert, former Nolan County farm agent, as he walked along the stream following a heavy rain.

Torso of the skeleton was found protruding from bank of the stream and is said to be in good state of preservation. Long time residents of the section have since related that Indians raided an upost settlement there in 1855, murdering a family named Jackson.

BIRD-BRAND COWBOYS IN SERIES OF CONCERTS AT COLORADO STORES, CLUB

Radio Artists Spend Several Hours Here Friday; Play For Ball At Hut

The Bird-brand Cowboys, talented radio artists heard regularly from studios of WFAA, Dallas, spent Friday in Colorado, bringing their musical and song features that for months have been popular over the air direct to the local public.

The band is sponsored by the Armstrong Packing Company of Dallas, makers of food products carrying the Bird-brand label. They were accompanied by Tex Armstrong, manager and radio announcer.

The first public appearance was at the Lions Club at noon where four old songs of the range were given. They were attired in real cowboy outfits—terr gallon hats, colorful shirts and ties, bandanas, chaps, high heeled boots and spurs. Armstrong wore a big six gun as an added feature to reflect romance of the frontier ranch hand.

During the afternoon brief concerts were given at the Red and White stores, Piggly Wiggly, I. Tucker's and Pick and Pay. Friday evening, beginning at 9 o'clock the musicians furnished music for ball at the American Legion building.

The afternoon programs were made more interesting through appearance of the Jenkins Twins, the Misses Lois and Louise Jenkins. The popular singers and dancers were extended invitation to have part in the musical offerings by members of the band.

Other members of the musical organization were "High-Pockets," guitar; "Uncle Jim," violin; "Dizzy," bull fiddle; "Buck," accordion, and "Cyclone," banjo. The latter is a Cherokee Indian.

The band was in Colorado to advertise trade-marked food products made by the Dallas plant. Their presence here was made possible through cooperation of the retail stores at which these foods are on sale.

SPADE-HYMAN ROAD IN GOOD CONDITION AFTER GRADING AND SURFACING

TWO WALKS IN BURFORD YARD

The yard of Mrs. C. W. Burford, yard improvement demonstrator of the Fairview club has two thirty foot service walks, four feet wide, made of native rocks hauled from the canyon nearby. It took four small wagon loads to make one walk. These walks are laid "jigsaw puzzle" style and are allowed to settle for one month. Then they are cemented with a mortar of 1 part cement and 2 parts of sand to keep the rock in place and to make the walks more lasting.

HERE FROM ALABAMA
Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ethridge this week is Mr. Ethridge's sister, Mrs. T. A. Underwood of Dothan, Alabama. Mrs. Underwood arrived last week and plans to leave about Friday of this week.

LAWNS ARE STUDIED BY BAUMAN WOMEN

By Mrs. Ivan Barber
"Lawns are carpets for our yards while walks are stepping stones." Walks should cost very little in this county as the native rocks are accessible for the hauling and lend a charm of lore to the surroundings. These facts were given by Miss Emma Gunter, Mitchell county home demonstration agent, to the members of the Bauman Home Demonstration club which met June 12 with Mrs. Drew Givens as hostess.

Walks are built for service rather than beauty, however when carefully laid and planned they add to the attractiveness of a yard.

The annual club rally will be held in the form of a picnic for club members and their families on June 28 at Ruddick Park at 6:30 p. m. Members will bring basket lunches and entertainment will be provided for all. A band concert will follow the picnic for those who wish to remain.

The next meeting of the club will be postponed due to the picnic. The next regular session of the club will be on July 10 at the school with Mrs. Ernest Meadows as hostess.

FAIRVIEW WOMEN TOLD OF PRACTICAL WALKS

That walks are built more for service than for attractiveness was brought out by Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, in a talk before women of the Fairview Home Demonstration club at the home of Mrs. C. W. Burford Friday afternoon.

With the help of the club women and Mr. Burford, Miss Gunter directed the laying of a 26-foot rock walk.

The club will not meet again until the rally picnic on June 28. Those present were Mrs. Will Berry and children, Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Mrs. Ed Jenkins, Mrs. E. R. Uzzle, Mrs. J. W. Dawson, Miss Dorothy Dawson, (Mrs. Hugh Callan (new member), Mrs. John McGuire (new member), Mrs. Hopkins (visitor), Miss Alice Burrus (visitor), Miss Jauree Burford, Mrs. Burford, and Miss Gunter.

TIRES MAY LOOK ALIKE ON THE OUTSIDE ON THE INSIDE THEY ARE DIFFERENT

HEAT on the inside created by friction is the main cause of blowouts. Firestone tires are different on the inside—they are built with the patented extra process of Gum-Dipping that soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped.

Firestone performance records again emphasize the undisputed evidence that Firestone tires are not only blowout-proof, but give greatest protection against skidding. There are three questions and answers that will solve the problem of what tires to buy:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes. For eight consecutive years Firestone tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death. This is undisputed evidence that Firestone gives car owners greatest protection against skidding.

QUESTION 2—"Are they blowout-proof?"
ANSWER—Firestone Gum-Dipped tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the grueling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped tires. Not one of the 33 drivers had any tire trouble of any kind.

As Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles at 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without fire trouble of any kind. These are most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Firestone High Speed tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile due to the tough, wear-resisting tread built with higher shoulders and a wider, flatter contour. This rugged tread is held securely to the Gum-Dipped cord body by Firestone's patented construction of two extra layers of cords under the tread, a special construction feature not used in any other tire. Unequaled mileage records by thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed tires.

You Always Get Better Quality at No Higher Price when You Buy a Firestone Tire with the Firestone Name and Guarantee

1 University tests show Firestone tires stop cars 15 to 25% quicker.

2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping is not used in other tires.

3 Wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

POLITICAL
 It is a matter of common knowledge that a great many folk who wish to make some observations in the field of politics betray a woeful lack of understanding of the terms they use. In the minds of a great many, apparently, the terms Bolshevik, Communist, atheist, I. W. W., Socialist and anarchist are synonymous. As a matter of fact these terms have distinctive meanings and uses, and to confuse them but adds to the already intolerable ignorance. For the benefit of those interested in speaking and writing accurately I am giving here a sort of glossary of these terms, along with certain illustrations that will make them more meaningful.

Let us begin with those political parties with which we are most familiar, namely, the Democratic and Republican. These parties represent practically the same economic philosophy. Both adhere to the doctrine of laissez faire, which Herbert Hoover defined as rugged individualism. Both hold that private profit is the dynamic of economic and social progress. On particular issues they adopt definite recommendations from campaign to campaign, and even change their positions between campaigns, but almost without exception their economic philosophy, noted above. The difference between the present administration and the preceding one does not represent so much a difference of the political parties in power as it represents a difference in the personality and leadership of the presidential incumbents.

An anarchist is one who believes that all government should be abolished, and that every man should be a law unto himself. Anarchists are of two varieties. The one that attracts so much attention we may designate the bomb throwing type. He believes in the violent overthrow of government. The other group seeks to achieve the same end, but through education rather than violence. They are peaceable, visionary, often fanatically religious and sufficiently naive as to believe that men would all do right if they knew the right. They have produced some beautiful characters as, for example, the late Count Tolstoy.

The Socialist and the Communist hold views directly opposite to those of the anarchist. The economic creed of Socialism may well be defined as "public ownership and control of things publicly used, and private ownership and control of things privately used." Oil wells, factories, mines, public utilities, etc. would thus be publicly owned under Socialism and operated for the benefit of all instead of a few; while things privately used, even including the farm that one tills, would be privately owned. Since Socialism is an international party the creed varies in detail from country to country, but I have stated the general philosophy of Socialism. Communism is simply an exaggerated form of Socialism. That is, it would extend the list of things to be publicly owned; extreme Communism would abolish private property, but probably no party advocates that extreme. The outstanding difference between the Socialist and the Communist, however, is that the Communist advocates the overthrow of the existing order by force and the setting up of a dictatorship of the proletariat, whereas the Socialist is opposed to violence and seeks to change the economic system by lawful and constitutional means, as a result of education.

Thus Socialism and Communism are like anarchy only in the means by which they seek to achieve their ends. But while anarchy would abolish government, Socialism and Communism seek ends that would necessitate a vast extension of the powers of government. Between these two extremes stand the Democratic and Republican parties, either of which is more like anarchy and Socialism are like each other.

A Bolshevik is a believer in Bolshevism. Bolshevism may be defined as, "the principles of Socialism championed by the Bolsheviks." The Bolsheviks were the members of the radical branch of the Social Democratic party in Russian politics, favoring terroristic methods. The name has become synonymous with Russian Communism, and is not properly applied to Communists of other countries.

The I. W. W. (International Workers of the World) is not, and has never been, a political party. It is a radical labor organization that has a reputation for resorting to sabotage to achieve its ends. It thus became confused with militant Communism and the bomb throwing anarchists.

The word "atheist" does not belong to economics or sociology. An atheist is one who does not believe there is a God, and he may belong to any political party or subscribe to any economic theory. There have been outstanding Democrats and Republicans who were atheists; also outstanding anarchists and Socialists who were Christians. However, the principal leaders and a very large fraction of the Communists have been, and are, atheists. That is true because the Church, especially in Europe, has espoused the cause of the ruling and oppressing class from the time of Constantine the Great until now. Because of the tragic blunders of these narrow visioned leaders of the Church, economic reformists have come to look upon Christianity as being a religion of oppression. They were driven to atheism by the Church itself. As regards the tenets of atheism, however, it has no economic philosophy and no affinity with any political party.

PHILOSOPHY
 The first Adam was a romantic, and all the sons of Adam have been made in his image and likeness. The first Adam was a dreamer, and was all that he desired but a great yearning filled his heart. He had dominion and he had companionship. That is, he chatted comfortably with the animals and in the evening he walked with God. But the thoughts of God were as much beyond him as the aspirations of the beast were below him. What Adam wanted was a mixture of both. To love him, understand him, work with him and play with him. So, in passionate yearning, he fell asleep and dreamed Eve.

That is the crux of the whole matter. Eve did not dream Adam. Adam dreamed Eve. Eve, for her part, realizes that she is a dream and ever since has tried to occupy Adam's entire imagination.

She has no time to be romantic herself. She must be the object of Romance. Its inspiration and its satisfaction. She bedecks herself physically and mentally to that end, for she knows her Adam as he is—a lover, a dreamer, a Romantic.

Then, there was Cinderella and the Prince. Cinderella was not romantic. She was competent. A Prince was a mighty good match. But for the Prince to view an unshined as the sharer of his throne—that took a romantic complex. How he mooned about over that glass slipper. When he found out that it fitted a cinder wench, did he grieve? Not a bit of it. He saw her as a Princess. Romantic fires burn brightest in men's hearts.

Death Of Mrs. T. H. Roe Recorded On Front Page Of 25-Year-Old Paper

The death of Mrs. T. H. Roe, one of Colorado's most prominent pioneers, was recorded on the front page of the Colorado Record for Friday, June 24, 1910.

Surrounded by all her family except one daughter who was in China, Mrs. Roe had died on Friday night, June 17. Among those coming from out-of-town for the funeral on Monday Mrs. A. J. Roe and daughter, Adelaide, of Fort Worth.

Precinct chairmen for the primary election were listed as follows: F. M. Burns, E. M. McCreless, R. A. Hood, B. L. Wulfin, J. R. Hastings, A. A. Daniel, W. H. Henthorn. Presiding judges were to be J. W. Bird, C. P. Conaway, S. F. Ward, C. C. Roach, J. M. Jenkins, W. A. Oliver, and T. J. Coffee.

G. W. Carnes announced his candidacy for county attorney.

The location of the Fourth of July carnival had been changed from West Colorado to South Colorado, just beyond the river on the east side of the street.

Business houses agreeing to close for the Fourth were C. M. Adams, Burns & Bell, J. H. Greene, W. H. Moeser, G. E. Crawford, J. F. Mc Gill, Y. D. McMurry, Burns and Bell Grocery, Colorado Mercantile company, J. B. Amis, Sherwin and Son, C. C. Graves, W. W. Porter, R. T. Manuel, J. Riordan & Co., B. L. Cooper, J. P. Majors, Doss & Johnson, H. Means, H. L. Hutchinson, C. H. Lasky, Buchanan & Payne, Will Wright, D. F. Glissom, Hastings & Morrison, Colorado Dry Goods Co., J. O. McCreless, S. T. Dozier, Jones & Harris, Nettles and Jarnagan, J. W. Shepperd.

The approaching marriage of William Boatright and Miss Sudie Nunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nunn, was announced. It was to take place at the Nunn home in South Colorado on June 28. Mr. Boatright was of Maryeale.

The farewell sermon of the Rev. Holmes Nichols was to be preached on Sunday night.

The great adventurers, explorers, and inventors have been men. The lure of many-colored Romance drew them while wives and sweethearts waited. Even the most unlikely masculine exterior hides a romantic soul. What is the so-called "big business" man but a romantic youth in search of buried treasure?

I have seen the light shining in the eyes of an old prospector in the West. In the eyes of a lover when he talked of his Golden Girl. And in the eyes of a small boy when he told me of what he was going to do when he grew up. The small girl does not thrill over the lure of the unknown future. She dutifully attends his bisque children, her house in the piano-box, her marketing, and her social calls upon the piano-box next door, while the Romantic Sex fights Indians, puts out fires, brings home gold and captives, builds forts and takes them from the enemy by storm. This distinction between genders holds throughout life.

IN CONCLUSION
 In bringing this opus to a successful conclusion, a gem perfected in the crucible of tranquility will say everyone should have a high aim in life. Don't be a drone. As for me I do not want to be a frigidaire, merely holding and preserving in cold storage a system of noble doctrines and sound dogmas. I want to be a radio out from which shall be wafted wave after wave "the sweet music of life." I have ceased to covet the lofty mountain crag where the ambitious eagle builds his lonely nest. Rather let me be the obscure dove at the suburban base where birds sing and flowers bloom and happy children laugh and play. For spectacular flying the eagle is a mighty bird, but an old dominica hen that can't fly over the barnyard fence but who will modestly lay 20 eggs a month and hatch out two broods of chickens a year is worth to society far more than the high flying eagle. You be the eagle, let me be the dominica.

A TRIBUTE ABOVE MEASURE

Who can measure the devotion that is the expression of a loving heart? Who can measure the sincerity of a service which does everything in its power to express that devotion? We believe that our superior funeral direction must succeed in expressing such devotion and at the same time must be kept within the means of all.

RADICAL CHANGES LOOKING TO PLEASURE, CONVENIENCE NOTED IN GREYHOUND BUS

New Type Coach Unveiled At Detroit Recently Amid Colorful Ceremony

In a colorful ceremony, the Greyhound bus system presented a brand new type of passenger bus to the public, at a luncheon held in Convention Hall, Detroit, Tuesday, June 11.

Two hundred invited guests, including city and state officials, bus company presidents from all parts of America, newspaper and newswomen, and executives of the General Motors Corporation watched the spectacular unveiling of the cellophane-wrapped vehicle.

The new Greyhound coach is utterly different from any previous type used in the bus industry, as it involves radical departures in almost every detail. The new features include additional comfort, more room, better vision, improved ventilation, greater passenger capacity, and much lighter weight.

Unveiled like a piece of statuary, and stripped of its cellophane wrappings, this new highway cruiser was revealed as a blunt-nosed modernistic vehicle in the familiar blue-and-white Greyhound colors, with glittering metal trim. It is not grotesquely streamlined, but has smooth and flowing contours that instantly impressed the luncheon gathering with a feeling of fleetness and power.

While the Greyhound Lines are immediately placing the new bus in passenger service between Detroit and Chicago, officials of the company impressed the fact that there would be a probationary or trial period before large fleets of these buses are completed.

Every detail of mechanical operation and passenger comfort will be checked in actual service in order that the coach may be letter-perfect. After a short period of trial operation, it is expected that hundreds of the new buses will roll from General Motors plants to supplement and replace present Greyhound equipment.
