Boy Scout Annual Drive To Open On Tuesday, Dec. 10

Sustaining Memberships To Be Goal of Leaders, Jack Mays, Director, States

Plans for the Boy Scout finance campaign scheduled for next Tuesday, December 10, are practically complete, according to Jack Mays, campaign chairman. Workers to assist with the campaign are being lined up and it is planned to give every business and professional man an opportunity to share in the support of the Scout work.

The Sustaining Membership plan which has been used quite successfully for several years in the Buffalo Trail Council, of which Colorado is a part, will be used here, said Mr. Mays. In becoming a Sustaining Member a person, or firm, agrees to pay a certain amount each month toward the support of the Scout work. These payments should be considered not as donations, said Mr. Mays, but rather as investments—investments in character which are bound to pay dividends in good citizenship.

It is hoped that the citizenship of Colorado will respond generously to this worthy cause.

COLORADOANS' RELATIVE PULLS BUGGY 38 MILES

The Weldon Kellett of the following article, which appeared in numerous state papers Wednesday, is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Green DeLaney of Colorado:

GRANBURY, Texas, Dec. 3.—"Thanks for the buggy ride," beamed A. J. Simpson and A. P. Lowe as they stepped, with regal dignity, from the vehicle on Main street here today. The crowd cheered.

Weldon Kellett and Tom Cruce leaned wearily against the shafts of the buggy, smiling thinly. They had pulled the buggy, with Simpson and Lowe as passengers, from Ft. Worth to Granbury, a distance of 38 miles. The trip began Monday morning.

Why? They had bet on Texas Christian university to win over Southern Methodist university.

"There's one consolation," said Kellett, "nobody can make horse out of us—our ears are too long. Never again."

MISS COOPER'S BOOK IS PRAISED IN STATE EDUCATIONAL REVIEW

The typewriting textbook written by Miss Octavine Cooper, head of vocational commercial work in Colorado High school, and recently published in Waco was given highly favorable comment in the state-wide educational magazine, "Industrial Texas," for November.

Henrietta Stillwell, editor of the magazine, wrote in a signed article: "Miss Octavine Cooper of Colorado has recently published a manual, 'Efficient Typewriting'... Several features... make it superior... From the viewpoint of teachers this manual is especially good... From the viewpoint of the student it is well organized for his progress... Directions are clear and concise... The units advance smoothly... The selection of material for the more advanced drills is very good... 'One feature of this manual is that it does not stop with the mechanics of learning to type, but takes up general office routine such as the cutting of stencils and the principles of the mimeograph, with every commercial worker should know... This manual is the result of research and wide experience and brings to the commercial world a wealth of valuable ideas.'

NEW EQUIPMENT ADDED AT DR. ROOT HOSPITAL

The installation of an up-to-date electrically-driven Headbink Oxygen tent is another modern apparatus added to the armamentarium in the Root hospital for giving suffering humanity the best that modern science knows. Upon being questioned as to the use and benefit of such an oxygen tent Dr. Root gave this statement:

"In any condition in which the respiration becomes embarrassed or difficult to the degree of suffocation or asphyxiation the patient then suffers from the greater amount of oxygen than the ordinary atmosphere affords. In such condition by the use of the oxygen tent an atmosphere containing 3 or 4 times the percentage of oxygen that is naturally in the ordinary atmosphere is supplied. Pneumonia is the disease in which the oxygen tent is most frequently used and in which it is, perhaps, most beneficial."

New High Quotation On Cotton Is Shown In Report For Week Closing On Friday

Cotton prices advanced sharply to the highest point reached so far this season, and the ten market average of 12.15 cents for middling 7-8 inch cotton on last Friday was 67 points higher than a week earlier, it was shown in the weekly review of the U. S. department of agriculture. Continued improved demand conditions, along with an advance in the general level of prices of other commodities and securities, and a further decrease in the offerings particularly of the medium and higher white grades as a result of continued rains in the cotton belt, were important factors contributing to the advance in cotton prices. Smaller adjustment payments to growers as the ten market average price of middling 7-8 inch cotton approached the 12-cent level.

to 110 points on middling 7-8; for 1 1-8 inches remained the same at 150, and for 1 3-16 inches was increased 15 points to 240. Sales of 196,000 bales reported in the ten designated markets were 44,000 bales less than in the previous week and in the corresponding week in 1933, but were 96,000 bales larger than the small volume in the corresponding week a year ago. In addition to the decline in marketings as a result of a seasonal decrease in ginnings, farmers' marketings were decreased by rains which delayed harvesting and possibly by the smaller adjustment payments to growers as the ten market average price of middling 7-8 inch cotton approached the 12-cent level.

Junior High Notes

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Last Tuesday at the regular chapel period, which is from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock, the student and faculty body enjoyed an excellent program on Thanksgiving. The announcer, Earnest Porter, told us that the setting was laid in an orphan's home and the time was Thanksgiving eve. Doris Flo Doss was the patron who entertained the children. They sang, danced and she told them Thanksgiving stories.

Harriet Ann Pritchett acted the part of the good fairy who gave the children Thanksgiving dreams after they had fallen asleep. After this, we had a report from the most popular student in the Junior High school election and found that it was Craig Porter. Immediately people started shouting, "Speech, speech!" We then heard a short oration from Craig and went to our rooms every-one feeling sure that they would have a nice Thanksgiving.

7-A PARTY

As Miss Miller was going to High school and 7-A was her home room we decided to have a good-bye party in the form of a hobo party in the Junior High school library last Monday night. Everyone in 7-A dressed as a hobo, (including Principal Hayes Holman), and came with a lunch. After hobo games were played the lunches were eaten. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

The sixth and seventh grade art classes in Junior High under the direction of Miss Crosthwaite are going to do a bit of Christmas cheer this year by making some toys for the children of the Mexican and colored schools.

Miss Crosthwaite, Miss Bradford, Miss Locker, Mr. Mason, and Mr. Holman were in San Antonio over the holidays attending the T. S. T. A. session. Freddie and Martha Jane Watson went along to look after their father who also attended.

It will soon be "election day" in Junior High! Conventions were held in each seventh grade room during Social Science period Monday to elect for the office of Chief Patrolman and to select their platforms. Each room is a political party and have different platforms.

Burl Ballard is the candidate from 7-A, strongly backed by Harvey Cook, his campaign manager. Charles Stevens will represent 7-B in the race and his affairs will be taken care of by his campaign manager, Catherine Slagel. 7-C's nominee, Jack Smith, has served as Chief Patrolman for two terms, and he is a strong candidate for re-election. Harvey Hicks will fight for him.

To vote, each citizen (or student) must pay a poll tax of 2c. Upon presentation of the receipt at the polls next Friday he will be allowed to vote.

Three other offices are open: That of secretary to the Chief Patrolman, for which girls may run, patrol positions number four and seven. Doris Flo Doss, Bobbie Lou Cooper, Jaquyn Hubbard, and Earnest Porter are running for office No. 1; Wallace Kirby, Wilburn Whitaker and Edwin Plickens are running for position four with Louis Bodzin, Karnes King, Billy Chaney, and Robert Kirschbaum running for position seven.

Campaign speeches were made in chapel Tuesday by Nancy Price, in behalf of Burl Ballard; Freddie Watson, in behalf of Charles Stevens, and Earnest Porter, in behalf of Jack Smith. Candidates for other offices also spoke to enlist the support of the voters.

Gather round students! Select the best man and vote for him Friday.

W. O. W. ELECTED OFFICERS

The good attendance Tuesday night reminded us of old times. After the regular routine of business the following officers were elected for next year: Com. Com., Charley Delaney; Adv. Lieut., Tom Henderson; Banker, Luke Long; Excort, Jack Osteen; Watchman, Green Delaney; Sentry, Holly Howell; Physician, T. J. Ratliff; Auditor, W. L. Doss, Sr.; R. L. Wigley succeeds W. E. Doss, Sr., as Past Consul Commander. The holdover Auditors are B. N. Carter and H. E. Grantland.

The Financial Secretary was instructed to write the District and State Managers and ask for a deputy to be sent here to enlist new members. Charley Delaney, J. J. Smith, and Jack Osteen were appointed to act with a committee from the Woodmen Circle and arrange for a joint installation of officers with refreshments to be served. Watch for the date.

This information is being printed in this column in the hope that it will benefit the farmers of Mitchell county in solving their farm problems.

CONTROL OF POULTRY INSECTS

Lice. According to information being received from Mitchell county farmers there is a heavy infestation of poultry lice. A number of calls have been received by the Colorado Future Farmers as to the best method of control. There are two recommended methods, first dusting or dipping with sodium fluoride. However, during the winter months it is not advisable to dip the chickens. The second method is to paint the roost with Black leaf 40 a few minutes before the chickens go to roost. This is the easier method but more expensive. Repeat treatment in about 10 days because a new generation from the nits or eggs that are not killed by the first treatment. Avoid remedies recommended by peddlers which they recommend for internal treatment, however, there are a number of commercial powders sold by companies that have as a base sodium fluoride that can be applied in the same manner that is recommended for sodium fluoride and full control may be obtained.

MITES and Blue Bugs

Control of these two poultry pests is more difficult than the control of lice. Complete control is almost impossible however, by constant effort damage can be decreased. Clean up premises and apply crude oil to fence posts, infested places, hen house, barns, and roosts and repeat as often as necessary in order to keep down infestation. This method of treatment is necessary because mites and blue bugs remain in secluded places until hungry at which time they suck the blood from poultry and then fall off and hide themselves in crevices, under bark, and roosts, etc., and remain until hungry again. Blue bugs have been known to live without food for a long period. This characteristic makes control difficult. Carbolineum, a commercial product is the best known substance for controlling these pests because of its ability to penetrate wood, stone and other substances, but is rather expensive unless good laying houses that can be easily treated are infested.

Double Murder

bed clothes were blood-soaked and disarranged, indicating that he either had been shot or cut while still in bed and put up a fight to save his life. Body of the boy was found on his cot in a rear room.

An early customer who stated to the authorities that he came to the store to purchase food for breakfast, found the front door standing ajar. Entering the building he saw Toothman on the floor and started to leave to report his find to officers. He met deliveryman for a local bakery and together they went into the place and found both men dead.

Fact that the grocery stock was in place and Toothman's purse containing a small amount of cash, was found on the bed led officers to suspect the double killing was motivated by a grudge, rather than robbery. On the other hand the robbery motive was suggested by indications that the killer had gained entrance to the place before the men retired and that Toothman was supposed to have usually kept large sums of money on his person or secreted about the store.

Hamel's face bore powder burns, suggesting that the youth was shot at close range while he slept, the report arousing the elder man and that he probably was shot as he sat up in bed.

After recovering the boy had been assisting Toothman about the store and station. His identity was established by a card found in a bill fold on his person, giving the name of C. H. Hamel, route 4, Corsicana, as his father, and Miss Grace Hamel, Streetman, as his sister. Relatives of the youth arrived here during Friday and Saturday.

Members of Toothman's family in Fredonia, Kan., including Mrs. Fred Dice of Fredonia and Mrs. Mildred Simmons of Caney, Kansas, daughters, Mrs. Bertha Toothman, divorced wife of the murder victim, and Mr. Dice, arrived here Saturday to assist officers in trying to arrive at clues leading to motives for the killings.

Friday afternoon at 1 with Goodman and Forsan schools first up.

Second barcket contests are to begin immediately with close of the initial rounds, scheduled to be over Friday afternoon at 5. The consolation contest will begin at 8 o'clock Saturday night, with battle for championship belt to open an hour later.

Wilkins urges local citizens to extend full cooperation to the host and visiting schools. "Some of the fastest basketeters in this section of the State are to compete for laurels as the play schedule progresses," he said. "Colorado has an enviable distinction in the way of supporting these tournaments and I am confident that we shall not fail now."

Santa Claus

gest they added strong interest to the spectacle given in honor of Santa Claus.

The smiling face of Santa Claus was not seen until such of the parade had passed. He sat in a specially decorated chair on a float, waving and smiling to the thousands of children and adults that jammed either side of the street. He was attended by beautiful girls attired in costume. It was the greatest thrill in point of number affected, to ever give place in the hearts of Mitchell county folk.

There were comic strip characters, Mother Goose, Mickey Mouse, Little Boy Blue and scores of other characters that are dear to the hearts of children. Then, too, there were grotesque clowns mingling in the line of march here and there to add zest to the occasion.

The chamber of commerce has not announced an estimate on the crowd that jammed Colorado's business district for this parade. It is known, however, it was by odds the biggest pre-holiday gathering in history of the city.

The parade was formed on Chestnut street, extending north from East Third. The start was made at 3:30. Leading east one block and then south into East Second the parade came west to Elm. From there it followed Elm to First and west to Walnut. Turning north through Walnut street the route led back into East Second and west to Oak, north to West Third and back to Walnut. Reentering Second street in Walnut the line of march led east to point of beginning.

Color to the evening's program was added by carnival staged by ladies of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Levy building, East Second and Elm. Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, president of the organization, and other ladies directing the colorful event, did much to make the pre-Christmas carnival successful.

Mills & Bontright and the City Market tied for first place in contest to determine the most attractive window. Max Berman's department store was given second place. Selection of the winners was by vote of the public, registered in ballots placed at the chamber of commerce.

Schools Of County Had Large Part In Santa's Reception

Sponsors Elected By Ballot Rode Together In Parade On C-C Decorated Float

The public schools of Mitchell county played an important role in the reception accorded Santa Claus upon his arrival here Tuesday afternoon, the chamber of commerce recalls. Sponsors elected by popular vote of the several student bodies rode together on a decorated float furnished by the chamber.

"It is accepted that every school in this county had part in the parade and plans for welcoming Santa Claus," was comment offered by the organization secretary. "This is reflecting that kind of cooperation that the chamber of commerce sincerely appreciates."

In addition to the school sponsors, there were hundreds of rural school students in town for the parade. Several special delegations, riding in school busses and accompanied by faculty members, journeyed to Colorado for the event.

With few exceptions characters represented in the parade were students of Colorado high school. They were selected under direction of G. D. Foster, faculty member, and costumed in gym of the school building.

ARRIVE FOR WINTER

Mrs. Robert M. Webb, who lived in Colorado about twenty years ago, arrived last week from Red Hook, New York, to spend the winter here. Her sister-in-law, Miss Louise Webb, had arrived a week earlier. The two have an apartment in the J. Max Thomas home. Mrs. Webb's husband, who has been dead several years, was one of Colorado's leading citizens during the early part of the century.

Worship and sermon at 7:30. Young People at 6:30. Come and bring your friend.
W. M. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Probably the most encouraging sign registered in our services last Sunday was the fact that practically one hundred percent of the officers and teachers in the Sunday school were present and stayed for the preaching service. And we understand that those who were hindered from being there made arrangements for their work to be looked after. This is a source of great encouragement to the general superintendent and departmental superintendents. Let the good work go on.

The regular services will be held next Sunday morning, and a special treat is in store for us at the evening service at which time Rev. E. D. Dunlap, of Sweetwater, will bring the sermon. Brother Dunlap and I have been planning to exchange pulpits for many weeks, and we are sure you will be glad to hear him.

LEAVE TO SPEND CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Leon Jenkins and her twin daughters, Loysie and Louise, left Monday for Fort Worth, where they will visit relatives until after Christmas. Mrs. Jenkins, whose mother, Mrs. M. M. Waller, died last week after a long illness, is going for a rest. The three went by train to Sweetwater and were met there by Don Teel, Mrs. Jenkins' son-in-law, who flew them on to Fort Worth.

A BIT COOL, THOUGH

Citizens of Big Spring are invited to inspect a recently completed municipal swimming pool during Sunday, according to the Daily Herald of that city. Notice of the pool opening was carried in Tuesday afternoon's edition, while near freezing weather prevailed.

Brake System In Use By Chevrolet Proven Success

Hydraulic Principle Being Used In All Machines As Safety To Motoring

An entirely new braking system, utilizing the hydraulic principle of actuation in combination with its own design of brake mechanism within the brake drums at all four wheels, is introduced by Chevrolet in its 1936 models. The system, says the company's announcement, possesses all the inherent advantages of hydraulic brake actuation, plus the special benefits that Chevrolet has built into its own type of articulated brake shoes and linkage by which pedal pressure is converted into braking effect.

Except for the means of actuating the brake shoes, the new Chevrolet brake system is the same as last year, though improved in mechanism details and increased in braking capacity.

Ease of brake adjustment to compensate for wear is one of the features of Chevrolet's exclusive brake design. There is only one adjusting point for each brake shoe, reached through an opening in the brake flange plate or the brake drum. With a screw driver used as a lever, a notched adjusting wheel is turned until the shoe slightly drags on the drum, then the adjusting wheel is backed off four notches, completing the operation. Not even a feeler gauge to measure clearance is required.

In its design of the hydraulic system, Chevrolet has made full use of its inherent advantages, which include self-equalization of pressure on the brake shoes, freedom from frictional losses between pedal and shoes, proof against trouble caused by dirt or ice, and ease of maintenance.

By making the pistons in the wheel cylinders larger than the master piston operated by the pedal, thus multiplying the effect of foot pressure, the Chevrolet design achieves sure stopping with light pedal pressure. Further advantage is taken of the hydraulic principle in that the front wheel cylinders are made larger than those of the rear wheels. As a result, for any given pedal pressure, the front wheel brakes exert a stronger braking effort than the rear—a desirable effect because, when brakes are applied, the weight of the car shifts to increase the load on the front wheels, while the weight on the rear wheels is reduced. Chevrolet's distribution of braking effort compensates for this shifting of weight, and divides the total braking effort between front and rear wheels in proportion to their load and traction.

The Chevrolet design of articulated brake shoe and links prevents the uneven wearing of brake linings by insuring full contact of the entire lining with the drum, distributing the pressure and the wear over the entire area of the linings.

The system differs from others also in that the hand brake lever actuates both brake shoes in each rear wheel drum.

West Texas Will Have Exhibit At Texas Centennial

Mitchell County Invited To Have Part In Exhibit To Be Shown Next Year

West Texas is to have an exhibit at the Texas Centennial. Colorado and Mitchell county have been invited to have a part in assembling material for the all-West Texas display. Plans are being formulated already for the exhibit from here which will go into the main display from this section of the state.

In Lubbock, a committee has been appointed and has started to work. Other towns in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce organization are beginning plans for the display.

The exhibit will be shown in the agricultural building on the Centennial grounds.

Six thousand square feet of floor space in the building have been contracted by the regional organization and tentative plans are to divide the space into sections, allotting individual stalls for each composing district.

Each WTCC district will have a committee to be appointed by its chairman, Clifford B. Jones to name a district 2 body. Each district will work out a project believed best suited to the individual district, for instance, one district will feature general agricultural development, others irrigation, others cattle, others wool and mohair, fruit and vegetables.

SPEAKERS URGE ATTACK ON TARIFF BY FARMERS

Ovations were given speakers to the Texas Agricultural Association convention in Dallas Wednesday who declared the protective tariff must be abolished or the processing tax retained if farmers are to escape peonage.

The speakers were Congressman Sam Rayburn, of Bonham, Texas, and Dean E. J. Kyle of the school of agriculture at Texas A. & M. college. "We're going to have to abolish the protective tariff," Rayburn declared, "if the farmer is not permitted to keep his own tariff, the processing tax. Otherwise the farmer will be reduced to peonage."

Rayburn traced the depression "directly" to high tariff walls "which stifled and stopped international trade." Agriculture lost its markets, he said, industry shut down and unemployment rose because the whole country is affected when the farmer loses his buying power.

"President Roosevelt is determined," Rayburn said, "to go ahead with his recovery program aimed to put all industry, including agriculture, back on a sound and equal basis."

"Regardless of what the 'kept' magazines and subsidized newspapers may say the country is on the road to recovery and the people are for President Roosevelt and his program."

RED CROSS SEALS TO BE SOLD

"Forty-one nations affiliated with the International Union Against Tuberculosis are cooperating as a unit, under the banner of the double-barred cross, to sell Christmas Seals," Dr. Z. T. Scott, managing director of the Texas Tuberculosis Association said recently, speaking of the annual sale of Christmas Seals which started Thanksgiving Day.

"In the fight against tuberculosis the whole world is united. Even though economic and disarmament conferences may fail, many nations are fighting tuberculosis under the common banner of the Christmas Seal."

"At this moment, Christmas Seals are being sold, not only in the United States but in forty other countries of the civilized world. From Occident to Orient the stamps bearing the double-barred cross raise funds with which to fight this greatest scourge of mankind."

Dr. Scott continued: "Too often we are aware of only the local aspect of the fight against tuberculosis. Not only are our states united in the National Tuberculosis Association but the associations of nearly all the countries of the world are joined in the International Union Against Tuberculosis. World conferences are held; world policies are decided upon; aid in the form of knowledge of methods of control is passed from one nation to another. International goodwill is strengthened while international control is gained. We are not isolated with regard to disease; our boundaries do not form barriers to a germ. Only through international cooperation and coordination of effort can we hope to win this battle and remove tuberculosis from the earth."

Belief that Santa Claus was dead and never again would visit his meagre home to leave gifts for himself and his little brothers and sisters was expressed Tuesday afternoon by a neglected boy as he stood on the curb and eagerly watched the beloved person smile and wave at the sea of faces on every hand as parade in his honor slowly passed along the street. "Why, I thought Santa Claus had died or something, and did not expect to see him in this parade," the boy exclaimed, a smile of hope covering his dirty face. "But there he is and I am going to expect something for me and my brothers and sisters now."

With an exultant cry of glee the boy was lost in the jam and gone before those standing by learned his identity. It will be in the sincere effort to bring realization of such hopes as that boy entertained Tuesday afternoon that the Lions Club and other organizations and individuals will play the role of Santa Claus at this Christmas.

AMERICAN LEGION SCHOOL STUDENT CONTESTS OPEN WITH UNIVERSAL INTEREST

Seventh Grade Boys, Girls In Four Communities Entered
For Competition In Better
Citizenship Campaign

Launching of the American Legion annual merit award contest Wednesday afternoon in four schools of the county precipitated universal interest among boys and girls of the seventh grades, contestants for the better citizenship awards. The four speakers who carried message of the contest to these students report enthusiastic reception by the students, faculty members and trustees.

Superintendent J. E. Watson of the Colorado schools addressed boys and girls of junior high school on the subject of courage, one of the five features to be considered. Mayor Van Boston of Westbrook spoke to students of his home community on the subject of leadership; Rev. Cal C. Wright of First Methodist church spoke at Iatan on scholarship, and County Clerk James Herrington spoke on service before members of the Loraine class.

All of the addresses were started at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and subsequent discussions of the subjects to be considered are to be given on the same week days and time.

County Judge B. L. Templeton, fifth member of the speaking committee and general chairman of the contest, will discuss the subject of honor. He is scheduled to deliver his first address on January 8, speaking at Colorado.

Lending encouragement to students through these annual contests has been featured by the ex-service man's organization here several years. Interest among students and teachers became so universal that a few months ago Legion officials announced that schools at Loraine, Westbrook and Iatan were to be included. Heretofore seventh grade students at Colorado alone competed for the awards.

The contests are to continue until close of school. Students winning the awards, to consist of a bronze medal to the boy and girl making highest percentage in the five subjects, are to be announced by faculty members of their respective schools. Each of the five speakers are to visit the four competing schools at intervals of approximately thirty days.

Roscoe Plowboys
Capture B Pennat
By Routing Haskell

Spectacular Contest Staged at Haskell Thursday; Score
Was Close, 13 to 6

The formidable Roscoe Plowboy eleven, that through successive stages of class B conference games in this district had folded up one opponent after another, Thursday afternoon of last week trimmed the Haskell Indians to annex championship belt for the large territory covered by district 6.

Clicking smartly by their running plays, the schoolboys from Western Nolan county followed Bill Emerson, big shot in the fight, through successive gains. The Indians, up to this game undefeated, however, put up a stiff fight and time after time held the invaders on downs after long strides across the field had been registered. The score was 13 to 6.

Emerging from the Indian stadium with colors flying high, the Plowboys looked toward the South Plains town of Slaton where their next opponent in parade toward State pennant is to be met. Slaton recently won championship for district 5.

The district champions are to meet at Newman Field, Sweetwater, Friday afternoon to settle dispute as to which school shall be entitled to bi-district pennant.

BAPTIST HOSPITAL GETS GIFT OF OVER $100,000

Direct gift of $110,000 was made to the West Texas hospital at Abilene recently by Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hendrick, pioneer West Texans. Announcement of the gift was made Saturday in Abilene. A part of the money has been used to pay off indebtedness against the institution and the remainder will go to finance a four-story annex, making the hospital one of the largest and most complete in this section.

CHAMPION BELT GIVEN ANGELO BY COMMITTEE

Quarrel between San Angelo and Big Spring over championship for district 3, class A conference, was settled Saturday when a committee of three voted to give the pennant to San Angelo. Both schools had contended title to the trophy after playing a scoreless tie game recently at Big Spring.

COLORADO NOSES OUT HER OPPONENT TO ANNEX BELT IN FINAL SEASON CONTEST

Snyder Tigers Held As Wolf Pack Stages Come-Back In
Final Period To Register
Scoring Lead Of 1 Point

The Colorado Wolves came from behind twice to score in the third and fourth quarters to nose out the Snyder Tigers during a sensational conference tilt at the Tiger Stadium Thursday afternoon. The game was the last conference contest in west half of district 6-B. The score was 13 to 12.

One of the largest fan aggregations to invade Snyder during the season jammed the grandstand and sidelines. A large section of the enthusiastic rooters were from Colorado, including the band and pep squad. Walter Rankin, one of the best men on Colorado's first line this season, was in the melee. Rankin, playing at halfback position, had been benched during practically all of the season due to ineligibility.

Victory for the Wolves as the conference schedule closed marked second time this year that the local gridsters had defeated Snyder. In game dedicating Cantrill Field as a lighted stadium early in the fall, the locals won over the neighboring schoolboys 6-0.

Bo Moffett, Snyder's star fullback, tallied on five yard plunge near the end of the first half after a twenty yard pass, J. R. Watkins to Morrow, end, paved the way. Fullback Miller, Wolf ace, ploughed over for six yards to tie the count near beginning of the third quarter, after Colorado blocked a punt on the Snyder seventeen yard line. Extra point plunged over by Miller proved the margin of victory.

Snyder's second tally came near the end of the third quarter when Mitchell, end, took a surprise pass on his own ten-yard line and galloped 90 yards for a touchdown. With Miller again pacing the visitors, the final Colorado tally came early in fourth quarter after three short passes put the ball in scoring position.

Five minutes later the Watkins-Mitchell pass combination almost repeated, when the big end trotted 60 yards. He was pulled down from behind on the eight-yard line, where Snyder lost the ball on a fumbled lateral.

It was a game of passes, with both squads making most gains by the air route. First downs were Colorado 11, Snyder 7. Captain Priestner pressed Miller for honors in the Wolf backfield, while Captain Clark and Tate, Snyder tackles, stood out. Snyder played without the services of its regular quarterback, Strayhorn, injured in practice early in the week.

'SEVERE POUNDING' WAS
LOT OF THIS MINISTER

The Rev. Albert Click, wife and son, who recently moved to Westbrook where he was assigned as Methodist pastor during the conference year, were given a "severe pounding" by parishioners of the churches at that point, Cuthbert and other communities. "We had almost enough groceries to open a store," was comment of the minister Friday.

FAULTY RIFLE CREDITED IN SHERIFF'S BAD LUCK

It was fault of the rifles used and not his marksmanship that occasioned a no-hit record for Sheriff R. E. Gregory on a recent deer hunt in the Davis Mountains, so the officer explains. Other members of the party brought down large bucks, but the sheriff missed several shots. Bronson Gregory, one of the hunting party, killed a 12-point buck with his first shot.

RELATED TRAIN CHANGED

BIRD FREED WITH CASH TIED TO LEG CAUGHT BY BOY LATER FOUND SLAIN

There were few persons to seemingly enjoy Colorado's annual Turkey Day more than Wilson Hamel, youth who Thursday morning was found shot to death in a small grocery store west of the Colorado river bridge.

Hamel was present several minutes before the birds were tossed into the streets Tuesday afternoon. Learning that Roy Dozier, local barber, was to free a guinea with a dollar bill tied to a leg, the youth announced that he planned taking that feathered creature as his prize.

And in that Hamel was successful. He was all smiles as he captured the guinea and took the currency from its mooring, not realizing, of course, that within a few hours he would be shot to death as he lay in his meagre couch in rear of the store.

Thirty cents in change was found in a small wallet in Hamel's trousers Thursday morning. It is accepted that the small amount of money was out of the cash prize he won in running down the guinea on Colorado streets two days before.

COLORADO BETTER CITY THAN CITIZENS BELIEVE

Colorado is a better city than many of her citizens accept, according to L. G. Geer of Sweetwater, district manager for the Texas Electric Service Company, who Tuesday afternoon was a business visitor in town. "To an outsider your city suggests progress and stability," he commented. "Colorado, in my mind, is one of the best towns in this part of West Texas."

1921 Club's Art Tea Saturday To Exhibit 30 Paintings By Ruby Conaway McIntosh

To present to Coloradans the paintings of Ruby Conaway McIntosh of Abilene, a former Mitchell county woman whose work has gained wide recognition, and to present the artist herself, members of the 1921 Study club have completed arrangements for an art tea to be held at the home of Miss Mabel Smith Saturday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Around 150 persons have been invited to attend, the invitation list including members of all study clubs and various other organizations of the town. The Colorado hotel was originally announced last week as the place for the exhibit.

Ruby Conaway McIntosh, known in private life as Mrs. R. H. McIntosh, is the daughter of Mrs. C. P. Conaway of Colorado and the late C. P. Conaway, pioneers of western Mitchell county. She lived in this county until fifteen years of age when she went to Simmons University, Abilene, where she began her study of art. During her last year there she received a medal for doing the best art work in her class. Later she studied at the Art Institute, Chicago, and at the University of Chicago. She opened her first studio here in 1916, teaching here two years.

For several after her marriage in 1920 she did little painting, being too busy with her two children, Betty and Calvin. In the summer of 1928 she taught art at Montezuma College, Las Vegas, New Mexico, and in the winter had a private studio in Fort Worth. She moved to Abilene in 1929, and shortly afterwards won a blue ribbon at the West Texas Fair on two old-fashioned plaques, which are now owned by Miss Virgie Powell of Colorado.

Other Coloradans owning her paintings are Miss Audrey Smith, Mrs. J. T. Pritchett, Truett Barber, Mrs. C. P. Conaway, and other members of the Conaway family. A prized possession of J. C. Hooker is a painting by Mrs. McIntosh of the burial place of his son, Oran C. Hooker, the first Mitchell county boy to die in the World War. Mrs. McIntosh copied this from a postcard picture of the burial place sent to Mr. Hooker from France. This picture will be among those shown at the exhibit here.

From 1930 until 1934 Mrs. McIntosh was head of the art department of McMurry College, Abilene. She has studied with the nationally known painter, Harry Anthony DeYoung, and with Frank Klempner of Dallas. She exhibited last year at permanent headquarters of the Texas Federations of Women's clubs in Austin. Two years ago she showed "Pithecoid Blood" and "Cloissine" at the New museum in Austin. Recently she exhibited with the Creative Art Sketch club in Abilene. She is a charter member of that organization, and is also active in the Texas Fine Arts association.

All of the thirty paintings which will be exhibited here are originals, with the exception of the one showing Oran C. Hooker's grave. Most of the paintings were taken from subjects located in the vicinity of Colorado, Abilene, Galveston, Fort Davis. Some were done in New Mexico.

The paintings are to remain on exhibit at Miss Smith's home Sunday afternoon from 3 until 5 for the benefit of those unable to attend the tea Saturday afternoon and those not belonging to study organizations, according to Mrs. Ray Womack, president of the 1921 Study club.

Miss Margaret Cook Is Married To Farris Lipps

Coming as a surprise to their wide circle of friends here, the marriage of Miss Margaret Cook and Mr. Farris Lipps took place Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dierdorf.

The ceremony was said by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor First Baptist church. It was witnessed by a small group of friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Dierdorf, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Nix, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pond, Louis Cooper, Miss Christine Viles, Miss Alice Blanks, Miss Kack Price, and Mr. and Mrs. Albam McGill.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Drew Cook of near Colorado. She was reared in this county, graduating from Colorado High school. She received her degree at C. I. A. Denton and has taught public school music in the Hutchinson school here several years. She will continue her teaching.

Mr. Lipps is a son of Mrs. Olive Lipps and has lived in Colorado for a number of years. He is employed by the Col-Tex refinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lipps will make their home here.

Granddaughter of Mrs. M. E. Cooper To Marry

The approaching marriage of Miss Georgia Slay, of New Orleans, granddaughter of Mrs. M. E. Cooper of Colorado, was listed in the Sunday issue of the New Orleans Item-Tribune as being among prominent approaching weddings in New Orleans society.

The item about Miss Slay read as follows: "Mr. George Elm Slay of Crystal Springs, Mississippi, announces the engagement of his daughter, Georgia, to Mr. James William Milam of New Orleans, the wedding to take place on Wednesday, December 18. Miss Slay has made her home in New Orleans for the past several years.

"Mr. Milam is the son of the late Mr. J. W. Milam, a prominent planter of Guthrie, Kentucky. He attended the University of Kentucky and Notre Dame university and is now an attorney connected with the Louisiana Bureau of Internal Revenue."

Hesperian
"So Red the Rose," Stark Young's famous novel of the South, was reviewed by Mrs. S. H. Millwee at the Hesperian club meeting with Mrs. Willis Shropshire Friday afternoon. Preceding the review Mrs. Walter Wilson, who was also lesson leader, gave Stark Young's biography.

At the invitation of the club Miss Princess Martin, a visitor from Lorraine, read a number of her poems. Several of them have appeared in the magazine, Southwester. Many were composed while she belonged to the poetry club at T. W. C., Fort Worth.

Other visitors were Miss Velma Barrett, Mrs. E. S. McCord, Mrs. Dale Warren, Miss Pauline Jones and Miss Frances Jones.

The club planned to have a car in the Christmas parade on Tuesday. Instructions were also given for the writing of a note to Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, who was visiting in town, and the submission of a resolution to Colorado merchants regarding Texas-made products.

The hostess served individual cherries with whipped cream and tea. The club meets this week with Mrs. S. A. Martin in Lorraine.

Standard
With Mrs. S. N. Sherwin as hostess, the Standard club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Y. D. McMurry Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. A. Buchanan was leader of the lesson on "Coriolanus." Mrs. L. W. Sandusky and Mrs. Sherwin had papers.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. A. Buchanan, Roy Buchanan, P. C. Coleman, H. L. Hutchinson, Jr., Y. D. McMurry, J. E. Pond, L. W. Sandusky, S. N. Sherwin, R. B. Terrell, and C. E. Way.

The meeting this Friday will be with Mrs. Roy Buchanan at the home of Mrs. C. M. Adams.

1921 Study
Completing plans for the art tea at which the club will present Mrs. Ruby Conaway McIntosh of Abilene and thirty of her paintings Saturday afternoon, the 1921 Study club met with Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Friday afternoon.

The tea exhibit is to be held from 3 to 5 at the home of Miss Mabel Smith with members of the six study clubs and other organizations as guests.

Other matters given attention during the business session were the club's vehicle in the Santa Claus parade Tuesday afternoon and the drawing of names for the club Christmas tree.

"Some Bits of Later Texas History" was the topic for the lesson, which was led by the hostess. Papers were read as follows: "Effects of the Civil War on Texas," Mrs. C. C. Thompson; "The Lower Rio Grande Valley," Mrs. P. K. Mackey; O. Henry's story, "Passing of the Black Eagle," read by Mrs. A. C. Anderson. The club meets this week with Mrs. A. C. Anderson, with Mrs. W. C. Hooks as leader.

Delay In Occupying Postoffice Building Protested By Lions

Organization Requests That Building Be Placed In Use Without Further Delay

Continued delay upon part of the postoffice department in occupying the new federal building at West Third and Walnut streets has occasioned protest by the Lions Club. Recently upon direction by the executive board, Secretary Jack Helton of the service organization addressed a letter to S. W. Purdum, fourth assistant postmaster general at Washington, expressing hope that the structure, completed August 1, would soon be occupied.

The postal official outlined in reply that delay in receiving furniture as contracted for by the procurement division had held up moving the local postoffice into its new home.

CHURCH NEWS

The Dorcas class of the Baptist Church entertained their husbands and families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moore Tuesday night with a pre-Thanksgiving dinner which could not fail to satisfy and satiate.

Good old fashioned coffee was served sizzling hot that gave a solid sense of stimulation leaving the brain clear for the course of puzzling games afterwards participated in by the appreciative guests. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were assisted by their son, Weldon, who evidently does not consider a "night out" with the "haz beans" beneath his dignity. About forty were present. No one could have failed to enjoy the friendliness and hospitality of such a home entertainment.

Rev. Willis J. Ray, missionary for District 8, will speak at the Baptist church Sunday morning. Everyone invited.

Thanksgiving has come and gone. Here is what we intended to write. Only the generous heart is grateful and only the grateful heart is generous. Gratitude is fragrance from the flowers of Love.

Love is the all-inclusive virtue, and gratitude is the sweetest of all possessions. Mercy is a part of Love itself. Not a separate virtue. Gratitude's closest associate is humility.

Gratitude is the sweetest incense ever rising from the Altar of Love. It is a blessing often greater than the blessing impelling its expression.

The ungrateful heart is miserly. It holds with greedy tenacity to all it can get because it does not realize the duty of giving and the sweet consciousness of having been generous. Neither does it experience the joy of having created happiness in the hearts of others.

Ingratitude shrivels and makes sterile the heart. The heart prompts the hand to its ministrations.

One of the greatest lessons taught by Him who "went about doing good" was that of impartial helpfulness, as shown in the story of the Good Samaritan. The neighbor, the friend, the brother, is anyone suffering or in need.

PRODUCTIVE OF HAPPINESS Probably no other virtue is so productive of happiness as gratitude, for he who is grateful will give others cause for being so by the good deeds impelled by this Great White Virtue.

This is because the exercise of it is most needed by all humanity. It is more promotive of generosity than any other of the virtues. It is those who have experienced suffering, sorrow and deprivation who know what it means to be in need and have that need supplied.

He who is most grateful for what he has troubles less about what he has not, and so the sin of selfishness and its concomitant evils fall to obtrude themselves upon his happy heart.

Only the open hand can receive, and it is the open hand that can give. Thus it is that only he who is grateful is deserving of what he has, or is worthy of receiving more and greater blessings. One does not receive without giving, nor give without receiving.

It is not the closed rosebud, holding fragrance within its petals that receives most of the morning dew, but the full-blown flower, cheering the passer-by with its beauty. It does not receive without giving, and it automatically receives while giving.

FLOWERS OF LOVE Flowers of Love do not grow in barren soil. There is no element in such soil which the rose can, with its unseen alchemy, convert into perfume and beauty. There is no material in barren soil out of which tints and colors can be made. When generosity is not present the comforting and cheering fragrance from the flower of gratitude cannot be exhaled.

Gratitude puts a song in the heart, brightness in the eye, and contentment in the mind of him who possesses it. Such a one appreciates more the "God bless you" of one to whom he has been kind than the "hurrah" of the unthinking multitude for one whose deeds have been simply dramatic or spectacular.

HAPPINESS NOT ONE-SIDED

Happiness is the goal every one looks for and hopes to attain. The economies of ethics is such that he who does not confer happiness is deprived of the result that he hopes to achieve by being ungenerous and ungrateful. If he does not give happiness to others he shall not have it himself.

The ungrateful heart is one that shrinks and shrivels and therefore is miserable. It starves surrounded by plenty. It mourns when joy abounds. It peaks and pines in the midst of mirth and jollity.

Gratitude is one of the keys that unlock the treasure house of happiness. It is to him that is thankful that blessings come. Certainly it is to him that they should come. Therefore "with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." Usually it is because of greed that there is ingratitude. Greed is so busy crying for more that it fails to realize the joys that surround it already. "Let not thy mind run on what thou lackest so much as on what thou hast."

MOST VALUABLE POSSESSIONS

He was indeed right who said that the most valuable possessions anyone could claim are those he has given to others. When the last inevitable hour comes, it is the good we have done others, not that we have received from them, that will rejoice us most.

Morally and spiritually our best investments are those we pay out for the betterment, relief and comfort of those needing our help. The dividends are not tangible, but they are nevertheless real. The most valuable of all things are not tangible nor visible, but are unspcakably precious. Spirit itself is one of them, mind is another, the virtues are others. Our very souls are among the unseen and intangible.

The Creator Himself so valued them that He sent His Son to make it possible for them to be redeemed and saved. The most esteemed of all things are those that are imperishable, intangible, invisible.

The unseen things in what we call the material or physical world also are invisible, power, electricity, air, the forces of nature. Nothing could exist without them.

WHERE TO PLACE OUR AFFECTIONS

That was splendid advice that the Apostle gave when he said, "Set your affections on things above, and not on things on the earth."

It must be conceded that he who sets his affections on soul, mind, spirit, the virtues, and the deeds and words of loving kindness which He did who commanded these things, is more certain of happy results than if he kept his thought altogether on things material and physical.

It probably was because of the garnering of the harvest in the fall that this time of year was set apart for thanksgiving and prayers. But if one's gratitude and supplications are confined only to the things of the body, he shall not experience the happiness that would be his did he follow the advice of the Master.

In the fall we reap as we have sown, and all that time we shall be vastly more thankful for the things we have sacrificed for others than for those we shall still possess.

"But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee, then whose shall these things be which thou has provided?"

For every opportunity for doing good that comes to us, and they are almost continuous, we should be more grateful than for good done us, more grateful for favors bestowed, than for those bestowed upon us. It was thoughtful old William Penn who said, "Do good with what you have, or it will do you no good."

GRATEFUL FOR GRATITUDE.

Since gratitude is the heart's pay for generosity, and as both generosity and gratitude make us happy, we should be grateful for both grat-

Former Colorado Girl Married 'Country Boy Who Moved To Town And Made Good'

The success story of a man who has risen to fortune and state-wide fame in the last twenty years involves prominently the name of a former Colorado girl who married him when he was only a 'country boy who had moved to town to make good.'

Ed Rowley lived in Sweetwater when Juliette Looney, daughter of Judge R. H. Looney of Colorado, married him. It was two years after their marriage before he and his partner, H. B. Robb, opened over a San Angelo feed store the tiny air-dome which became the beginning of their march to success.

Today Ed Rowley and H. B. Robb are the two "R's" in the R. & R. theatre firm which owns and operates leading theatres in cities all over Texas. A sketch of their rise appeared in Sunday's San Angelo Standard-Times on the occasion of the sixth birthday of the R. & R. Texas theatre in San Angelo.

The Rowleys now live in Dallas. Mrs. Rowley is here several times each year to visit her father. They have three children. Two boys, Ed, Jr., and John, are students in the University of Texas. The daughter, Frances Rowley, is a senior in Highland Park high school at Dallas.

"Ed Rowley and H. B. Robb, who now own an extended chain of theatres in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and California, launched into the show business in San Angelo 20 years ago and since then their success and growth has fixed them as owners of the largest chain of show houses in Texas.

AMERICA SHOULD BE GRATEFUL

Not only as individuals should the people of the United States be grateful, but as a nation. Both individually and as a people they probably are better off than any other nation in the world.

The most impressive fact for which we should be grateful at this Thanksgiving time is that progress has been made in recovering from the great industrial and financial depression, that the outlook is for future recovery, and that this progress has been made without the dissension and strife which have characterized efforts for similar purposes in other countries.

We should be grateful that those who are grinding the destinies of our country at this time are men whose patriotism, honesty and ability are such as to inspire confidence and courage.

LET US BE THANKFUL

Let us be grateful, first of all on this Thanksgiving Day, to an Almighty God who, in infallible and benign wisdom, is omnipresent and omnipotent in guiding a mortal world in its rightful course regardless of the confused efforts of the people who labor so often in darkness.

Let us as Americans bow in gratitude to the Father who has seen fit to endow our nation with richest natural blessings, who has given us strength and courage and wisdom to use these blessings to the enrichment of a people.

Let us glory in the Divinity who gave us the innate spirit of tolerance, in religion, in government, in business and society, the spirit of justice in dealing with our fellow man, the spirit of charity toward the less able and the spirit of kindness in our relationships with one another.

Let us as Texans acknowledge the Power who has watched over a mighty commonwealth for 100 years, has given it sturdy and sane citizenship, has provided it with the facilities for development and natural growth.

Let us give humble thanks to the God who so protects and cares for us mortals that we, in our very dependence, acknowledge His guidance and His power and His love through the institution of Thanksgiving Day. F. B. W.

No wonder they urge others to try it. Mrs. Joe G. Roberts, of Portersville, Ala., writes: "A friend recommended Black-Draught to me a long time ago, and it has proved its worth to me. Chevrolet To High Production Record During Last Month

6,000 Units Are Rolled From Assembly Lines November 22, Factory Announces

Chevrolet retail sales during the first 20 days of November totaled 60,707 units, nearly double the previous high record for that period, it was announced at the offices of the Chevrolet Motor Co., Detroit.

Only once in Chevrolet history, in 1926, has the sales total for the whole month of November exceeded that for the first 20 days of the present month, the records show. Since the November, 1926, figure was only about 5,000 higher, the current November will be, by a wide margin, the greatest in the history of the company.

To assure an adequate supply of cars to meet the record demand, production has been stepped up beyond the 100,000 units originally projected for November. A new high mark for a single day's production of 1936 models was reached Nov. 22, officials reported, when more than 6,000 units rolled off the assembly lines.

Look at the label on your paper. It will tell whether or not you are behind with your subscription.

The unpretentious beginning of the R. & R. Theatres, now numbering 86 theatres, began in San Angelo 20 years ago when the two men operated a tiny air-dome over a feed store on West Concho. Fourteen years ago the two men formed partnership in San Angelo with J. D. Jones. At that time there were two theatres being operated here. Robb and Rowley owned the Lyric and Jones owned the Crystal—that was in 1921. The men decided that San Angelo deserv-

Tax Payments To Higher Total As Half Period Ends

Property Owners Reflecting Better Times In Mitchell, County Collector Notes

Tax payment totals were pushed to the highest total in recent years Saturday as first period of the split payment provision came to an end, County Assessor-Collector Roy E. Warren announced Monday morning.

Proposal of the State to extend one-half of the annual tax account six months in advance on condition fifty percent of the amount be paid on or before the last day of November brought a large number of remittances, Warren stated. "The total, while not yet tabulated to indicate exact figures, is one of the largest in recent years."

FIRE LOSSES LOW

Fire losses in Sweetwater were low during the month of November. There were only four fires reported during the month, entailing a total loss of $600.

THE BACKBONE OF MITCHELL COUNTY

The title for this article has been selected only after the subject had been given much thought and consideration. It was our desire that the title should be significant of the basic value of the community; that it should be descriptive of the real commercial strength and life of the community; that in brief it should be a story, sufficient in itself, requiring no elaboration. The word BACKBONE is used advisedly. If you study it carefully you will agree that it has a wealth of meaning and we feel justified in using it in its most liberal sense, for it is our conviction that these men of whom we write are the real BACKBONE OF MITCHELL COUNTY.
The various stores, garages and other industries included in these columns, embrace places of distribution of nearly all of life's necessities and many of its luxuries and their importance to the civic and industrial welfare of Mitchell County cannot be over-estimated. All of these Firms are owned and controlled by men who have the welfare and interests of this community deeply imbedded in their hearts. All of them are competent and capable business men who have by their combined and individual efforts given this section, business places that are second to none in the STATE, for the quality of merchandise sold, the service rendered and the careful courteous treatment of its patrons. The writer has no hesitancy in making these assertions. They are sufficiently good without them.
Men and places of this kind have placed the name of Mitchell County upon a high plane, a lofty pinnacle of moral, civil and industrial standing and as long as men of this type elect to transact business here just so long will this section maintain that enviable position.
One must remember that successful business houses are an absolute essential to the progress of any community. In fact a community cannot exist without them. They are dependent on your support, you and your community are in turn dependent on them, and a perfect spirit of cooperation between you makes the ideal thriving community.

FARMER'S CO-OP GIN CO.

Firms engaged in agricultural pursuits apparently have a closer and more intimate appeal to residents of Mitchell County due, no doubt, to the fact that this is so essentially an agricultural community. They also have a greater opportunity to serve and by the same token a greater obligation to their community.
The farmers Co-Operative Gin Co. has, in its twenty-eight years of activity in the cotton ginning business at Colorado, always endeavored to serve the farmers of this community to their very best interests thereby fulfilling that obligation in a manner befitting so reputable a firm.
This firm is made up of 45 local farmers as stockholders, C. P. Gary being President and Manager, W. D. McAdams, Secretary, and K. M. Gary, Treasurer and Bookkeeper. Mr. C. P. Gary a ginner of 43 years experience has been active in the ginning business in Mitchell County 22 years.

Edgerton as manager has in its eight years of business activity built up a large trade with residents and farmers of Mitchell County. By continuing that practice they hope to continue building their business.
HICKS RUBBER CO., Colorado

KEYBROOK CONFECTIONERY, Colorado
Success of the kind attained by The Keybrook Confectionery is not easily earned. Only hard work could achieve it; hard work, high grade work and high grade merchandise. Buy your confections, fountain needs and news publications from L. E. Manning, owner of a business that has won that kind of success. Curb service is maintained here.
FARMERS GIN CO., INC., Colorado
This review of Mitchell County, would be incomplete indeed if it did not include among its columns a resume of the business career of The Farmers Gin Co. Inc., which was established here six years ago and which is managed by Bill Dorn. During these six years engaged in ginning cotton and buying cotton and cotton seed, the firm has lucrily emblazoned its name upon the agricultural interests of Mitchell County, for its very evident that a business house of this kind, providing as it does a needed and valuable service to the farmers of the community, is a most important factor in all that pertains to its interests.
Any enterprise that tends to enhance and increase the agricultural progress of this section is surely a business worthy of mention, for we know of no more real worth while industry than that of the farmer. He needs more encouragement. And firms like The Farmers Gin Co. Inc., with a gin at Colorado and one at Buford provide that encouragement.

JOHN A THOMPSON, Colorado
With just and ample cause to be proud of its role in the development of Mitchell County in an agricultural capacity, The John A. As in the past, the future will be marked by a continuance of the old reliable policy of handling only the best in flour and poultry and dairy feeds.

U-SAVE GROCERY & MARKET, Colorado
Business houses of this nature have always played an important role in Mitchell County's forward progress. Because of years of successful ventures right here in your midst; because of such close association with many of its citizens; because of an inherent good business sense that tells them that their future is unalterably wrapped in the future of Mitchell County, this firm owned and operated by Newsom Bros. has developed a rather close affinity with the County in general, and their business is, in great measure, distributed throughout its breadth.
The products of The U-Save Grocery and Market have firmly and indelibly impressed their merits on the people of this County, and their increasing patronage is more than ample proof that people do know and do appreciate good merchandise; that they are willing, yes eager, to pay a fair price for it, and will even go a little out of their way to get it. Give them a fair "shake," that's all they want. J. O. Newsom is manager of this store, handling groceries, fruits and vegetables and home killed meats and buying butter and eggs from local farmers.

BAPTIST NOTES

Our Sunday school is growing some both in interest and in number. Especially Rev. Hardin's Bible class, but we find there are a number of families in and near Lorainé that are not attending Sunday school or preaching services. Let us urge you to lay aside all excuses and come find your place, be a help to us and let us be a help to you in the study of God's word.

We were favored with a special song by the Juniors just before the preaching hour, titled "Jesus Was a Junior Too," with Dorris Mahoney leading and Maxine Hooker at the piano.

Elvis Narrell who is attending Simmons University was with us Sunday and brought the morning message. He read the last three verses of the 28th chapter of Matthew then spoke to us on the origin of the Sunday school, gave a brief history of Sunday school work, their teachers, their difficulties, etc.

E. T. U. is urged to meet promptly at 6 o'clock each Sunday evening for their program.

Rev. Hardin preached on "Sin" and explained anew Christ's mission on earth.

The W. M. S. rendered a Lottie Moon Christmas program in the home of Mrs. Lester Jarrett Monday afternoon. The ladies will meet at the church Friday afternoon for a prayer service. All ladies are urged to come join in this service.

FROM LOCAL CHAPTER W.O.W.

Local members and friends of the Woodman Circle will be interested to know that an announcement has only recently been made that construction will begin immediately on a third building at the Woodman Circle Home for aged members near Sherman, Texas.

This announcement was made at a recent board meeting of national directors at Omaha, Neb. The building, which will house old people, is to be known as the Dora Alexander Talley building in honor of Dora Alexander Talley, W. C. national president. It is to be erected by the Texas membership of the society. Tentative plans call for accommodation of 50 old people in the new building. Individual living quarters will be provided for all. It is to be finished by June.

Principal address of the occasion was delivered by Chas. C. Thompson and was followed by impromptu speeches from members of classes from 1909 to present time with Supt. Bennett acting as chairman.

A motion was entertained for the permanent organization of ex-students. Chas. C. Thompson was elected president; Mrs. W. F. James, secretary-treasurer, and Eldon Mahon, vice-president.

The president appointed a by-law committee with Judge B. L. Templeton chairman. Alphonso Dunnahoo, Miss Fern Coon, Miss Princess Martin, and Mr. R. L. Adams of Roscoe. Entertainment feature was continued in the downstairs hall where the Senior class of 1936 poured coffee and served cookies to those present.

FARMERS LIKE THIS BANK

FARMERS NEED THE SPECIALIZED SERVICES OF A GOOD BANK MORE THAN ANY OTHER GROUP OF PEOPLE. THEY HAVE MANY SPECIALIZED PROBLEMS AND LITTLE TIME TO DEAL WITH THEM. AND SO WE'RE ESPECIALLY PROUD OF THE FACT THAT A GREAT MANY OF OUR DEPOSITORS ARE FARMERS.

We appreciate a farmer's problems. Hardly a day goes by that we're not called upon to discuss them. With our complete range of banking services we stand ready to further agricultural progress, and through it, general prosperity.

Functions Of Vital Organs Give Basis For Health Talks

Service Organization Hears Address Friday On Eye, Mouth And Stomach

The important part played by three major organs of the human body, the mouth, eyes and stomach, was pictured in brief addresses heard at the Lions Club Friday by Dr. R. D. Bridgford, Dr. W. B. May and Dr. O. H. Majors. The first two speakers are dental surgeons and Majors is an optometrist.

Proper care of the teeth, starting even before the child is born, was urged in talk by Dr. Bridgford. Malformation of the mouth is responsible in many instances to lack of proper attention there, he stated.

The important part played by the eye was discussed by Dr. Majors. He recalled that defective vision had much to do with human ills that are frequent these days.

The stomach as an important organ in digestion was pointed out. The stomach is not as important as some people believe, he said, since there are records in which people had lived normal lives after having this organ taken out.
