Hand Set Users Given New Rental Charge Effective May 26

Almost 140,000 handset telephone isers in Texas will receive a reducion in rates totaling more than $250,000 annually, W. L. Prehn, general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, announced today. Telephone users, when they have had hand sets for two years, will no longer have to pay the addiional charge of 15 cents a month.

The new rate will be effective May 26. The two year period will be retroctive from that date, which means that customers who have had handsets for two years will cease to pay

Handsets were first introduced in 927, at which time a charge of 50 ents a month was made because of higher manufacturing costs and maintenance, as well as the necessity for control to keep the demand from exeeding the available supply. ## While embers glowed the reconstruction started

Before the flames had reached the telephone switchboard in the little Arkansas, town - before the swirling wall of smoke had driven operators from their posts - plans for rebuilding the fire-doomed office were under way.

At a great warehouse in a distant city, men were loading a new switchboard, new telephone cable, new office equipment, into express cars. Nearer to the spot, cable splicers and workmen skilled in telephone construction were being taken from their jobs and rushed toward the office about to be destroyed

While embers still glowed in the fire-twisted skeleton of the old office, the work of reconstruction was under way.

One advantage of the Bell System's far-flung organization is this: When disaster flattens the telephone system, men and money and materials are instantly available for the prompt repair of the damage.

The terraced fields of Mitchell ity to the farm as program of the and thrilling. Federal Soil Conservation law becomes operative.

Such has been catalogued as an accepted fact after considerable research work by this newspaper, working in conjunction with the county farm agent, leading planters and other citizens who are giving serious thought to the 1936 farm relief bill as it affects the citizenship of Mitchell county.

During the past few weeks a representative of The Record has visited in every farm community of the county. It was to be noticed while driving along the road that farm after farm, extending in all directions, has been terraced, putting to a lower possibility deteriorating flood damage and soil erosion wastage in the future. Hundreds of the terrace lines have been constructed within the past year. All of them have been tuilt during the past two decades.

With provisions of the soil conserving law in force, these farms will not be menaced with the danger of additional soil wastage by overflows. The terrace lines are to look after that matter and do it in good shape. The specified soil building crops to be cultivated under government direction can thus work faster and more Hardin of Loraine, Rev. H. N. Turner owners cited will be called to meet lems. The criminal is in business for money, and when he can sell a friend for $5,000, that seems preferable to risking his own life. The reward system should be extended: $5,000 reward for evidence resulting in arrest and conviction of any murderer.

Reducing Versus Age MIDDLE - AGED over- chusetts. A weight woman, a member of a bridge club, secretly began to reduce her food intake in the once more the figure of which anyone who writes for it .- Adv. she formerly had been so proud, She ate a "little" of everything that was served at the club, avoiding sugar.

unusually well also. By the end of another six weeks the change was so great that other fat members asked her secret. Her only reply was that she didn't eat as much as formerly, that she was doing a bit of her own housework, and that she was spending about one hour less of the twenty-four in bed. By the end of one year her weight was exactly the same as when her age was thirty. She was very happy and very healthy because her face and figure were more youthful. Other women of the club, seeing these brilliant results, began reducing their food and obtained results more or less satisfactory in proportion to their perseverance.

Why Results Are Different

One member decided to make a real job of reducing her food and liquids and on learning the extent to which her successful friend had cut down on foods, decreased her daily diet by just twice the amount. She did some extra work about the house, did considerable walking, lessened the number of hours in bed, and tried to do as little sitting as possible.

Sure enough, the weight began to come off in both face and body, but whereas her friend's face had be come more youthful with bright eyes, she found that her face was wrinkled and worn, that her eyes were sunken, her body, though thinner, had no buoyancy. Instead of looking ten years younger, she appeared to be ten years older than before she started reducing.

The reason for the success of one nd the failure of the other, is two fold. 1. The second woman attempted to reduce in too short a time. Not only were the skin, underlying tissues, and the various organs of the body unable to accommodate themselves so quickly in a normal way to this change, but the severe method of reducing was an actual shock to the system and shock shows on the face and body of every one, whether the shock is due to physical or mental causes.

2. There is a definite ideal weight that each body should carry. The amount of weight depends upon the height and width, the length of the legs, family characteristics and other factors. Thus an individual with a short body and long legs should not weigh as much as one with a long body and short legs.

This second woman then had not only removed the fat too rapidly but had reduced beyond the ideal weight for her particular body. Besides, the amount of meat and eggs eaten was greatly below the body's requirements to maintain the body's muscular framework.

Matter of Individual Study

Another woman who had become quite plump at puberty (as she emerged from girlhood into womanhood) attempted to reduce weight in the commonsense manner of the first member and found that the fat came off to a certain point and then her weight remained the same. By reducing the food intake further she found that a little weight was removed but she felt so weak she had to increase her food intake.

Consulting her physician and giving him the history of her efforts, he suggested the use of small doses of thyroid extract for a certain period as her overweight was due more to lack of gland juice than to overeating.

The whole point about reducing for men and women is that each one should study himself or herself, the the housewife when she was hiring build, the build of the parent most closely resembled, the weight when aged thirty, and then very gradually, very slowly cut down on the foods known to put fat on the body -bread, sugar, potatoes, butter, cream, and all liquids. Sleeping a little less and exercising a little more brings results in half the

> How Reducing Drug Works There has been so much discussion among medical men about the results obtained by the use of dinitrophenol, that a "final" report from Drs. M. L. Tainter, A. B. Stockton and W. C. Cutting, San Francisco, is of great interest.

Of 170 patients they studied only five lost no weight, while reduction was obtained in the remaining 165. The average total loss of weight per patient was 17 pounds, amounting to about a loss of 11/2 pounds weekly.

"Certainly "Miss Hambidge says, if you'll go straight to her house, she'll be there."

Fortunately, he got Evans at once, and they were on the Merrick road less than an hour later. "Never mind the red lights," Barry ordered. "Keep going."

But Evans was wary, beating the lights when it seemed safe to do so; stopping when it didn't, and pushing the car to its limit on stretches of unpoliced highway. Before two o'clock, Evans drew up in front of the Hambidges'. Pat was waiting.

"I've just this minute got back from the hospital," she declared. "Peg's still there, of course. But Jacky's arm's broken."

"Nothing worse?"

Pat shook her head. "The whole thing's my fault," she said, tremulously. "Jacky's too young for a pony. Although I had one at his age. My mother was brought up in a little town called Warrenton, where bables rode before they could walk."
