Why Will One Kill A Dog, Is Subject Of Youth's Essay

C. L. Root, Jr., Contributes Interesting Paper On This Subject
 "Why Will a Person Poison a Dog," is the theme about which C. L. Root, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Root, offers the following article for publication. The article was written several weeks ago after the local physician had announced a competitive contest on that subject. Some of the offerings were published during the recent past.
 How anyone can poison a dog has always been a question most baffling to me. How can anyone willfully and purposely plan the execution of a life? A life is one of the few things that can never be replaced by any earthly possession. Life is the most divine of all the gifts bestowed upon many by the Heavenly Creator. Anyone who takes a life should be sure that his reason for doing so are of the highest order and the results to be obtained are worthy of the deed. To kill is the most primitive method of obtaining possession or of ridding oneself of annoyances. It is the easiest way out: simply following the line of least resistance. But, does the end justify the means? Cannot the same results be obtained in some other way? What is it that a dog does to the person that poisons him that cannot be prohibited in a more civil manner? Why can the person not speak to the dog's master about the mischief caused by his pet? If it is a stray dog, why not turn it over to the city pound to find its home or dispose of it in a less painful manner?
 The only conclusion that I can reach in this problem is that the whole is based on ignorance. These people are crude in their manner of self-preservation. They neither think nor care for the feelings of others—man or beast. They do not know of the beauty and complexity of all forms of living organisms. If they could only see and understand the splendor in the organization of organic material to function as a living machine, the huge gap between the most complex man-made machine and the simplest of God's creations, and the resemblances of lower forms of animals to man, they would hesitate before stamping upon an ant. Thomas A. Kempis, in speaking of lower animals, said, "There is no creature no matter how small or contemptible, that does not show God's infinite goodness and mercy." A dog has motor ability, the five senses, and emotions just as man has. The most characterizing difference is the degree of cephalization of the nervous system. However, Dr. Ishkanian believes that most people do not possess sufficient intelligence to comprehend the intelligence of animals. Do you wonder, then, why I call the person who will kill or poison a dog a murderer? La Martine says, "We have not two hearts—one for the animal, the other for man. In the cruelty toward the former and the cruelty toward the latter, there is no other difference than in the victim."
 In comparing man and dog I am prone to agree with Joseph M. Anderson and Toussenet. Anderson once wrote:
 "As mortals go, how few possess Of courage, trust and faithfulness, Enough for which to undertake, Without some borrowed traits, to make
 A decent dog.
 Likewise, Toussenet wrote, "God created man; then seeing how weak he was gave him the dog."
 In conclusion, I believe in the extension of the Golden Rule to cover our poor relations—the animals. In the eyes of the law ignorance is no excuse, but may the mercy of God excuse the ignorance of the murderer of another man's best friend.
 Note—This is the second essay in the "Poison a Dog" contest. Next week we will publish the third essay.

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 We are very happy over the results of our eight day meeting. We exceeded all goals for last Sunday but are not permitting ourselves to become satisfied, so we are leaving all goals in tact.
 We are taking our children to see the Centennial this week-end but hope to be back for all Sunday services. One of our chief concerns now is our annual budget. All of our work being financed by voluntary offerings with no public collections or private solicitations means that many will neglect to do their part. There will be pledge cards on the collection baskets at each service. If you have not indicated your pledge for the coming year, will you please do so at once.
 If we can get the water heater repaired this week we will baptize at the evening service next Sunday. If this work is not done this week we will surely get to it by the following Sunday.
 Strangers and visitors always welcome at our services.
DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH
 Rev. Alex B. Hanson
 Sunday services in All Saints' Church, Protestant Episcopal, will be: Holy Communion and Sermon, 11 a.m.

Preaching at the 11:00 hour. There will be no evening service as the pastor will go to Big Spring for revival lasting eight days. Preparation is being made for the "One Day Convention" to be held here Monday, Nov. 16th. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. There will be speakers of national fame during the day. Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:30. These meetings are growing in interest.

MRS. SMITH HOME
 Mrs. Jack Smith returned home Saturday after being away two weeks, ever since the death of her father, E. W. Bounds, in Fort Worth. She left her mother somewhat improved but still under care of a nurse. En route home she stopped in Abilene for a few days visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bryan Lawless. She plans to return to Fort Worth about November 20.

County Gin Total Near 14,000-Bale Mark For Season

Seed Quotations Remain At $29 Per Ton; Staple Sells At 9 To 12 Cents
 Approaching the 15,000 bale mark, ginning receipts of Mitchell county had reached a total of 13,588 bales Thursday noon, according to figures tabulated by the Colorado Record.
 Two months ago the cotton yield of the county was estimated at 15,000 bales in a Record news-story. Present indications are that this figure will be passed. At the time the estimate was made many cotton authorities of the county regarded it as too high. In nearly all sections of the county the harvest has been greater than was anticipated during the summer drought.
 Colorado gins have received 6,371 bales, distributed as follows: Farmers Cooperative, 995; Farmers No. Three, 1,655; Lambeth, 779; Concrete, 1,682; Williams-Miller, 1,260.
 Loraine's receipts totaled 2,741 bales, Westbrook's 2,393. China Grove reported 872 bales, Valley View 881 bales. Buford gin's total at the time it closed down about a month ago was 33 bales.
 Prices paid for the staple here were ranging from 9 to 12 cents. Seed was bringing $29.

WOMEN IN THE STUDY CLUBS

Zetagathian

A review of Margaret Mitchell's sensational novel, "Gone With the Wind," featured the Zetagathian club's meeting Friday.

The meeting was opened with a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Greene, mother of the club president, Mrs. Joe Pond. Quartet tables were arranged in the living room for the luncheon hour, each table being covered in white and appointed with crystal and china. The dining table was covered with lace and centered with a bowl of roses flanked by pink tapers. Luncheon was served buffet style.

Mrs. Wade Scott's review of the Mitchell book followed the luncheon. Her review received many favorable comments.

Guests for both the luncheon and the review included Mrs. Henry Cook, Jr., of Loraine, Mrs. Jack Wilder, and Mrs. Delma Harralson of near Loraine.

During a brief business meeting which followed the review Mrs. Neal Prichard's resignation from the club was submitted but members voted not to accept it. A report of the bridge benefit and style show on Thursday was given.

This Friday's meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. B. May.

1921 Study

A piano rendition of Guion's "The Harmonica Player" by Mrs. W. C. Hooks opened the 1921 Study club's third program on Edwin Arlington Robinson at the home of Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Friday. Mrs. J. T. Pritchett was leader.

Mrs. P. K. Mackey gave an analysis of Robert Frost's introduction to Robinson's "King Jasper." Readings from Robinson's "Miniver Cheezy," "The Mill," and "Mr. Flood's Party" were given by Mrs. Sam Majors, who was substituting for Mrs. J. M. Doss. This week's meeting with Mrs. J. T. Pritchett will be given over to an address by Congressman George Mahon on "Congress and Its Work." Mrs. C. C. Thompson will be leader.

Shakespeare

Egypt was studied at the Shakespeare club meeting Friday. Mrs. Pearson was hostess, Mrs. R. O. Pearson leader, the latter substituting for Mrs. W. R. Motley.

"Along the Nile Through Egypt and the Sudan" was Mrs. T. W. Stonerod's topic, Mrs. Joe Smoot told of "Social Life and Customs."

Current events were given during roll call. Mrs. Pearson also led the Shakespeare lesson. Delicious refreshments were served. The club meets this week with Mrs. T. W. Stonerod.

Self Culture

A lesson on the Southern poet, Sidney Lanier, was studied by the Self Culture club during its meeting with Mrs. James Harrington Friday. Mrs. H. G. Whitmore was leader.

Topics were as follows: "Biography of Lanier," Mrs. Harrington; "Lanier, Poet Laureate of the South," Mrs. Mayme Taylor; "Lanier's Knowledge of Nature," Mrs. Dell Barber; "Comparison of Whitman and Lanier in the Civil War," Mrs. C. P. Gary.

Business included the treasurer's report, showing $3.78 on hand, and Mrs. John Brown's report of the county federation. Mrs. W. A. Pele fry of Amarillo, a former member, was a guest. Ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. A. F. King is the next hostess.

Standard

Two papers, one by Mrs. Roy Buchanan from the previous week and one by Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, were read during the Standard club's lesson on Act 2 of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" at the home of Mrs. C. E. Way Friday.

Mrs. Roy Buchanan's paper was titled "Shakespeare's Use of Tumult in Nature to Accompany Crime." Mrs. J. A. Buchanan's paper was "The Position of Caesar Among Shakespeare's Plays." Mrs. Y. D. McMurry was lesson leader.

Those answering roll call were Mesdames C. M. Adams, Roy Buchanan, J. A. Buchanan, Lee Jones, Y. D. McMurry, L. W. Sandusky, P. C. Coleman, R. B. Terrell, and Way. Mrs. McMurry is the next hostess and Mrs. Sandusky will be leader.

Hesperian

Entertained by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, who was assisted by her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. I. Kilkins, the Hesperian club held its regular meeting Friday afternoon.

A new member was voted on. It was decided to combine the November 13 and the November 20 lessons, having both on November 13 so that the meeting originally planned for November 27, the day after Thanksgiving, can be held on November 20, thus leaving the Thanksgiving week-end free of meetings.

Mrs. Ed Majors was lesson leader for the third act of "Hamlet." Mrs. Doyle Williams read a paper on "Synopsis of Act Three," Mrs. Walter Wilson one on "Interpretation of Hamlet's Soliloquies in Act Three," and Mrs. E. H. Winn one on "Vengeance of Hamlet."

Sonny Wilkins and Doris Ann Coffey, both in Halloween costume, passed Halloween napkins as refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. W. I. Kilkins.

An Armistice program will be observed when the club meets with Mrs. E. H. Winn this Friday.

Solon Proposes To Drill For Oil Along Highways Of State

Senator Joe Hill, Henderson, Sees Income $3,000,000 To $5,000,000 Annually

Motorists should not be surprised if they see oil derricks blooming on Texas highways.

The situation may develop if Senator Joe L. Hill of Henderson has his way. In the special session of the Legislature, he introduced an amendment to a tax bill to empower the board of mineral development to lease state highway rights of way for oil and gas development, the state to receive one-fourth royalty on roads it owns and one-eighth on those on which it has easements. The proposal was deleted by a conference committee but Hill may reintroduce it in the regular session.

Hill estimates revenue from this source of $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year, citing several highways which traverse the state's richest producing fields.

Asked if the well equipment would not destroy the value and beauty of these highways, Hill answered: "Certainly not. The entire equipment can be placed in cellars. This has been done in many instances and beautiful grass lawns cover a number of producing wells in this state. The only indication that there is anything there is a small concrete slab on the surface which acts as a door to the cellar."

The wells will not constitute traffic hazards," Hill says, "surface equipment for flowing wells have minimum of machinery. Anyhow, and if they must be pumped, the cellars will be more than adequate."

The owner of the property where the state has only an easement will have to quit claim his mineral rights to the state. "He will be better off if he quit claims because in this way he will get one-eighth royalty and if he doesn't, he won't," Hill says.

LOCAL CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS ISSUES APPEAL FOR SUPPORT IN CAMPAIGN

Roll Call Drive To Open On Nov. 12; Captains Hope To Subscribe Quota Within 3 Hours, Chairman Notes

Appeal that citizens of Mitchell county rally under banner of the American Red Cross as annual roll call is opened Thursday morning of next week, was issued this week by the county chapter. R. I. Barber, chairman of the membership drive, has announced that he and his corps of assistants hope to realize subscription of the quota of 500 between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock noon that morning.

Benefits to be derived locally are listed in the statement. Benevolences of the Red Cross wherever disaster strikes are stressed, including mention of the relief and rehabilitation work done in Mitchell county following the cyclone in Spring of 1923.

The statement, addressed to the people of Mitchell county, follows:

We bring greetings and express to you our appreciation for your full cooperation in the past in connection with our Red Cross. We not only appreciate the money which you have contributed to the local organization, which is divided with the national organization, and the money which you have contributed for disaster relief, but we also appreciate your cooperation in contributing clothing, time and effort in assisting in alleviating pain, assuaging suffering, and caring for the sick.

We are reminded of the constant call on our citizenship by various relief agencies. However, we call attention to the fact that the Mitchell County Chapter of the Red Cross makes one membership call annually. We call attention also, to the fact that only 50c out of each contribution is forwarded to national headquarters. All the balance is used locally to benefit our own home people. Those who are financially able should contribute more than one dollar, if they care to. However, the drive is based largely upon the one dollar membership.

We earnestly appeal to each citizen to cooperate with our workers and be prepared to pay dues on November 12.

Our chapter appreciates very much the work of R. H. Barber, Dr. May, and their assistants in putting over this county drive. We endorse their effort to complete it on November 12, and sincerely trust that our citizenship will show the same spirit of cooperation in this as in all other things and comply with the request of our roll call chairman.

We also congratulate our captains in their choice of workers. We earnestly urge that each worker who has been selected put everything aside and be prepared to assist on November 12.

Finally, it is the belief of the officials of the Mitchell County Chapter that with personnel of the workers for Mitchell county 1936 Roll Call drive we will go over the top on November 12. It is our earnest desire to exceed this quota on that date.

When we remember the many benefits derived locally from the 1923 cyclone, we realize that we are but to be reminded of the ever increasing disasters throughout the nation and the constant demand upon the great American Red Cross to secure full cooperation from our citizenship, and we are, therefore, anxious to lend our support to such a worthy undertaking.

CRASH VICTIM NEPHEW OF THREE COLORADOANS

One of the four persons who died in a car crash on the eastern outskirts of Midland Sunday morning was W. B. McAnally, 38, of Hot Springs, Arkansas, nephew of three local people—Mrs. John Colson, Mrs. R. D. Lefevre, of near Loraine, and Conley McAnally.

Others killed in the accident were Miss Wilma Hines, 30, of Long Beach, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davis of Fort Worth. Two others were injured. All were traveling eastward in a light car and crashed into the rear of a truck load of oil well pipe. McAnally had driven one of a string of cars to the west coast and was returning home. All the injured died within two hours after the crash. The truck-driver was uninjured.

McAnally's wife came to Colorado from Hot Springs after learning of the accident. A Kiker ambulance was sent to Midland for his body Sunday night and proceeded to Jonesboro Monday afternoon. Mrs. Colson and Mrs. LeFevre accompanied Mrs. McAnally to Jonesboro. Funeral services were held there Tuesday morning, the American Legion having charge. Mr. McAnally enlisted in the World War when only 16.

His wife and a stepson are survivors.

PHYSICIAN RECALLS HIS EMOTIONS AS BILL FOLD WITH $13,500 IS FOUND

One of the tense emotional experiences figuring in his life came years ago when he was a medical student in St. Louis, Dr. T. J. Ratliff, pioneer Colorado physician, recalled the other day, a twinkle taking up position in his eyes.

It all happened as he and a classmate were walking along a street in the Missouri city. They came upon a large billfold and picking it up were surprised to find it bulged with currency. A count disclosed they had found $13,500.

The boys agreed that they should report their find to dean of the medical school. The college official locked the currency in his office safe. In a few days owner of the lost money was contacted and after acceptable identification it was delivered over to him.

"Well, I appreciate honesty of those two young men very much and want to reward them for having returned the money," said the owner as he left one dollar each for the two future doctors.

WHOOPING COUGH CONTROL NEEDED

AUSTIN.—While whooping cough the first weeks in October this year is evident in all months of the year, showed a rise in the number of cases reported to the State Health Department.

"Whooping cough is one of the most serious communicable or germ diseases affecting childhood, and is especially dangerous to babies who have not passed their first birthday," Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said in recommending strict methods of control.

"The disease is usually transmitted," Dr. Brown said, "by direct contact with the secretion of the mouth or the nose, or with articles freshly soiled with the secretion. Only a short exposure is required to contract the infection. The communicable stage must be considered to extend from seven days after exposure to an individual infected with whooping cough to three weeks after the development of the characteristic whoop."

"Whooping cough is not easy to detect in its early stages, for during the first week or two it resembles an ordinary cold in its symptoms. Then, however, the child begins to have attacks of whooping. The catarrhal symptoms and cough gradually become more severe, there is a running from the nose and the eyes are reddened. The child coughs in spells, the cough getting more severe and finally develops what is commonly known as the 'whoop.'"

"Preventive measures against whooping cough should include keeping small children away from other children when whooping cough is in the neighborhood, and a visit to the family physician if whooping cough is suspected. Medical care is essential in whooping cough because proper medications can ease the spasmodic whooping and thus may save a life."

Two Bedroom Improvement Demonstrators Hold Open House To Show Achievements

Bedroom improvement demonstrators of two Mitchell county home demonstration clubs held open house this week to show friends, neighbors, and other club members what they had achieved in their demonstrations. On a damp murky day, Mrs. Frank Andrews, bedroom demonstrator of Hyman home demonstration club held open house to show how she improved her bedroom with the small expenditure of $3.66 spent for wall paper, curtains, and a new window pane. Mrs. Andrews has a northeast room that used to seem dark and cold in the winter, so an all-over pattern of wallpaper that reflects light and warmth was used with window curtains of a bright henna color. A hand hooked wool rug and a natural tufted bedspread add further interest to the room. The bed was properly clothed by having the springs enclosed and the mattress covered with a protector and pad.

This makes three rooms that have been improved in Mrs. Andrews' house—the living room some six years ago, the club girls' room two years ago, and the present room. With a bright warm sunshiney day in her favor, Mrs. Jack Bourland, bedroom improvement demonstrator for the Fairview home demonstration club's opened her bedroom to visitors. Mrs. Bourland had to spend $9.57 on the improvements in her bedroom, since the room had no clothes closet to begin with. New wallpaper was put on, the floor and woodwork repainted, and new materials bought for the mattress protector and bedspread. Mrs. Bourland remarked that she had never thought she would have a room as pretty as she has now. She has a complete dressing center with a dresser and clothes closet; a reading center with a desk, chair, and book shelf; a bathing center; and a sleeping and rest center.

After the visit to Mrs. Bourland's bedroom, the group went to the outdoor living room of Mr. and Mrs. Will Berry. There the group saw how interesting a yard can be made using such native plants as cacti, yucca, wild china berry, mesquite, bird of paradise, and tamarix. Rock tables, seats, a fireplace, barbecue pit, and fence have been built of rocks. The new addition to the yard is arranged for groups to play games with yard furniture as seats. Refreshments of orange nut bread, doughnuts, cookies, cake, and coffee were served here.

Those attending were: Mrs. Annie Glover, Mrs. Ruby Davis, Mrs. Y. D. McMurry, Mrs. R. F. Hargrove, Mrs. J. L. Payne, Mrs. J. T. Vest, Mrs. W. D. Mitchell, Mrs. J. M. Hahn, Mrs. T. L. McKenney, Miss Roselle McKenney, Mrs. Lee Coleman, Mrs. Emma Sutphen, Mrs. Ollie Harris, Mrs. Dewey Phillips, Mrs. Ray Knight, Mrs. Lon Strain, Mrs. Ralph Payne, Mrs. E. R. Uzzle, Mrs. W. W. Jenkins, Mrs. R. Young, Mrs. J. H. Badgett, Mrs. Claude Willis, Mrs. Chester Berry, Mrs. Will Berry, Mrs. P. C. Pace, Mrs. Jack Bourland, and Miss Emma Gunter.

Thirty bedrooms have been improved as demonstration rooms in the county since 1933 and of this number, twenty-five are still good patterns for co-operators.

Special Train With Students Aboard Is Enroute To Dallas

Mitchell and Nolan Counties Cooperate In Plan To Send Visitors To Centennial

A special train with students from the public schools of Mitchell and Nolan counties aboard and the Texas Centennial at Dallas as its destination, pulled out from Colorado Thursday morning at 9:10 o'clock. The special made its first stop at Westbrook a few minutes earlier to pick up students and others there. Third stop in this county was at Loraline.

The special was due to arrive at the Centennial grounds Thursday afternoon at 5. That evening the children were to be shown the Cavalcade and during Friday they were being shown the exhibits.

The special is to make stops in Taylor and other counties east of here to pick up additional students. Miss Madge Sandeford, deputy district superintendent, is to be aboard the train.

The special will be parked near the Centennial gates until time for departure Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The return fare is good for any train out of Dallas as late as Saturday night.

A fare of $2.65 was quoted for the round trip. Adults were given the same rate as children on the special. Roy Davis Coles, Mitchell county school superintendent, cooperated with other school officials in arranging for operating the train.

METHODISTS LEAVE FOR ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF CHURCHES AT HOUSTON

Methodist pastors and lay delegates left during first of the week for Houston where since Wednesday they have been attending sessions of the Northwest Texas Conference, convened jointly with all other Texas conference divisions of the church, along with the Texas Northern Methodist and Texas German speaking people's conferences.

Among those attending were the Rev. Cal C. Wright, pastor; Mmes William Brookover, Cal Wright, E. A. Barcroft, Davis and Miss Nelda Garrett from First Church; Rev. Albert Clark of Dunn, Jim Bodine and M. E. McGuire of Buford; Cliff Birdwell of Ira; Rev. Ham Wright of Loraline and Rev. J. E. Peters of Westbrook.

The conference opened Wednesday and is to run through Sunday, with announcement of pastoral assignments for the next year as the concluding matter of business.

MITCHELL COUNTY AGAIN WINS IN AREA CONTEST HELD AT SWEETWATER

For the second consecutive time entrants from Mitchell county have won first place in the district amateur hour contest at Sweetwater. Miss Vivian Giddens of Colorado attained that distinction Saturday night with a tap dance number, Mocking Bird Miles of near Loraline carried off first prize at the first program given two weeks before.

Miss Billie Margaret Gregory, another entrant from Colorado, received praiseworthy mention. She was presented in a toe tap dance skit.

Amateurs were entered from Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher, Seury and Taylor counties.

HIS HOPES OF ATTENDING CHURCH MEET REALIZED

Jim Bodine, prominent in affairs of the Methodist church for several years, came into town from his farm home near Buford Monday morning somewhat depressed. He had been summoned on the grand jury panel and his ambition was to be enabled to attend sessions of the Methodist conference in Houston. Luck was probably with Bodine, as his name was last on the panel of 16 men. The jury was filled just before the clerk came down the list to his name, and Bodine, with a broad smile, left the court house to conclude plans for going to Houston.

Wide Field In The Realm Of Service Is Seen By Lions

Major Activity Groups Hold Conferences Regularly To Plan For Those Duties

Major activity committees of the Lions Club are evidencing an unusually aggressive interest in the possibilities for rendering service during the months to come, reports given by directing officials of the organization indicate. There is never a week but that one or more of these departmental groups are called into conference to map programs for carrying into being more universally the objectives of Lionism.

Friday three of these committees were in conference following adjournment of the weekly luncheon meeting. Practically every department of the organization is evidencing unselfish attention to the responsibilities given it. Among these might be mentioned the blind, Boy Scouts and other committees.

ELLIOTT TO PRESIDE AT ENTERTAINMENT AFFAIRS

L. B. Elliott is chairman of the entertainment committee for the Lions Club during the month of November. R. H. Ratliff and T. M. Marsh are other members of the group. Their appointment was announced Friday by the president, Walter Whipkey.

MRS. JNO. GREENWOOD, PROMINENT HERE YEARS AGO IS DEATH VICTIM

Death claimed one of Colorado's best-known pioneers when Mrs. John Greenwood succumbed at her home in Texarkana last Thursday.

The Greenwoods moved away from Colorado about 15 years ago. Mr. Greenwood has been dead several years. When the family lived here Mrs. Greenwood was active in club and church work, being a member of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Greenwood and her daughter, Mrs. Lasco Preston, the former Olive Greenwood, visited Mrs. J. C. Ethridge, Miss Mabel Smith, and other friends here this past summer. Another daughter, Mrs. W. W. Jones, the former Ethel Greenwood, survives Mrs. Greenwood in addition to Mrs. Preston.

SNYDER AND ROSCOE ARE SCHEDULED FRIDAY NITE

The spotlight in District 6-B for this week-end will be focused at Snyder stadium Friday night as the Tigers and Roscoe Plowboys do battle for leadership in parade to the district pennant. Snyder's unbroken pace to the coveted goal was checked last week when Merkel held the Tigers to a 7-7 tie. Roscoe has taken victory in all of her conference games to date.

Business Women Entertained With Buffet Dinner and Bridge At H. I. Berman Home

One of the prettiest affairs of the season for the Business and Professional Women's club was the buffet dinner and bridge with which Mrs. H. I. Berman and Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick entertained at the home of Mrs. Berman Friday evening.

Soft light from orange tapers and orange colored wall and ceiling lamps gave added beauty to the entertaining rooms, which were decorated with marigolds, zinnias, cosmos, and roses. The dining table from which the turkey dinner was served buffet style was centered with a large pumpkin stuffed with vari-colored candies and wrapped in gleaming cellophane. Orange tapers burned on either side of the pumpkin. Novelty shaped flower holders filled with marigolds marked the tables four corners. The quartet table where guests ate were covered with Halloween cloths and centered with bowls of marigolds.

Halloween hats were favors to each guest. In the games following the dinner Mrs. A. L. McSpadden made bridge high score, the prize being book-ends. Mrs. Leslie Crowder won vases with high in 42.

Guests for the evening were Miss Nina Coles, Mrs. W. R. Martin, Miss Alwilda Crosthwaite, Mrs. Mayme Taylor, and Miss Pearl Traylor.

City Contracts To Refund $20,000 In Street Warrants

Contract to refund $20,000 in six per cent street improvement warrants, issued during 1919, has been accepted by the city, Secretary J. Lee Jones stated Monday. Contract recently entered with the Donald McNeil Company of Dallas would reduce the interest rate to four per cent.

Just when the refunding contract is to be closed was not known, pending final acceptance by attorneys representing the bonding concern and the city.

The reduction of two cents annually on the interest rate would effect a material saving to the city, it was pointed out.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

The more-than-life-size picture of Landon which has adorned a window in Bob Brennan's office all these weeks was removed Wednesday morning after the election by Mr. Brennan's enterprising Democratic friends... It made its first street appearance around Lay Powell's shoulder, a-la-Indian-blanket...

Disposal of the picture was a matter of some argument... Some held out that it should be carried to the bank and draped over Tom Stoner's desk... It was finally decided that it should be "laid out" in the back of the Keybrook, pending an "inquest"...

Maybe Jim Cantrill's Democratic friends are doing him wrong but they're telling this on him: That he turned on his radio early Wednesday morning and was greeted with the information that Roosevelt had 519 electoral votes to Landon's 12... Whereupon he arose hastily from bed and hurried to town in quest of a Roosevelt button...

When Armistice comes around each year I always try to straighten out my rather tangled memories of the signing of the Armistice and the way the news was received in Colorado... I can't quite remember which celebrations were the false and which the true... I do remember that all the school children marched into the auditorium one afternoon under E. P. King's direction to stage a jubilee over Armistice news only to stop or sing when G. E. Quinn, who was school janitor then, came from town with word that it was only another false report.

To me and others my age Mr. Quinn was rather a figure in those days because he had three boys "at the front"—Gilbert, Floyd, and Lloyd... No wonder he went to town to be sure the news was true before he let himself celebrate...

Speaking of the false Armistice reports, there's a very interesting article in the November Reader's Digest telling the why and the how of that first false Armistice report on November 7, 1918... The article is titled "The Amazing Armistice" and is condensed from a Century magazine article... The writer, who was an army intelligence officer in France at the time of the Armistice, says that German espionage undoubtedly had something to do with starting the rumor that sent America into a cheering frenzy... After seeing plainly from that celebration how the American people felt about an Armistice President Wilson could do nothing but stand against the other Allies for the signing of such an Armistice a few days later...

The idea for these next few paragraphs was, we herewith confess, "mooched" from a recent column by Margaret Turner in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal... Miss Turner wrote in this particular column about a few newspaper errors, typographical and otherwise, that have given night sweats and cold chills to newspaper people she has known...

That set us to thinking of all those "misprints" which must be laid at our door... Reluctantly, we confess that not many of our worst ones can be explained by dragging in that old alibi, the "linotype operator"... We've a maddening habit of thinking one word and writing another, then reading proof on the darned thing and reading it the way we meant it to be instead of the way it is...

The most embarrassing error we recall of hand was a paragraph about Julianna Smith Donaldson's son being born at the home of the "bride's parents"... We meant, of course, to write "the mother's parents"... And then one time we had Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff of Biggerstaff here for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. Ralph Lee... That was the first Mrs. Biggerstaff knew of there being a Texas town named for her...

And then there was the time we had "Dr. J. Ralph Lee" helping with a health program at one of the schools... And the bride that we robed in "transparent crepe" when she really wore transparent velvet—which is quite another matter... And so on and on... We never saw a one of them on the proof sheet, but they jumped out at us the moment the Record was printed and they were beyond recall.

A newcomer to Colorado who isn't quite "new" because she became rather widely known during a few weeks' residence here last summer is Mrs. Albert Kimbrough... Her husband works with the California company's rotary crew and he has been here several weeks... Mrs. Kimbrough just arrived week before last, bringing along a 2-month-old daughter, Kathleen, whom her Colorado friends hadn't seen... The two of them have been staying with Mrs. Kimbrough's parents in Lubbock, which is Mrs. Kimbrough's hometown... She was reared there as Evelyn Stewart, receiving her degree from Texas Tech... Taught in the Lubbock schools for four years, resigning last Christmas... Is a girlhood friend of Mrs. Charles Mooser, the former Virginia James of Lubbock... Friends describe Mrs. Kim-brough as a tall, attractive brunette... She has already been invited to join the Hesperian club... The Kimbroughs are at home in the E. McCurry apartments near the hospital... Mrs. Kimbrough is incidentally, a sister of the Mrs. Dan Murrell whose husband worked at the Alceve some 8 years ago.

If Mrs. Adrian Clark, another newcomer in Colorado has a hobby, it is football... She said so herself in response to a question about hobbies, and it's entirely fitting, since her husband is a former football star of Texas Tech and present assistant coach of the Colorado Wolves and since she herself is sponsor for the Wolves' pep squad... Asked about her "private" life history, Mrs. Clark revealed that her maiden name was Erma Followell... That she was reared in Lipan, Texas, graduating from high school there... That she attended Weatherford Junior college, North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton, and Texas Tech—where she met her "future" in the person of Adrian Clark... They were married a year ago on October 12... Mrs. Clark taught at Wilson near Lubbock two years and at Monroe, also near Lubbock, a year... She's a substitute teacher for Colorado Junior High now... Is a new member of the Zetaganian club... "Loves" reading... Belongs to the Church of Christ... She didn't mention having rather striking eyes, a nice complexion, and a beautiful hairline, but she didn't need to because we could see that for ourself...

Minus crutches for the first time in some two months, Charles Smith, WPA highway construction foreman here, is now walking around on both feet again... Smith broke his ankle several weeks ago... Then, when it was just beginning to heal nicely, he fell and re-broke it... He's gone on with his work steadily in spite of the injury, getting around on the now discarded crutches and being "chauffeured" to and from work by friends...

A lady of national fame is the Mrs. Frances Boaz who read some poems by Colorado Junior High school students over WBAP, Fort Worth, last spring... Mrs. Boaz, called "the patron of America's child poets," was given a full page in the American magazine's section on "America's Interesting People" in the November issue... The page includes a large picture of Mrs. Boaz at the microphone and a sketch of her work.

The marriage of a well-known young Colorado man is to take place within the next week or two... The bride-to-be doesn't live here—he didn't even meet her here... Said young man is now engaged in house-hunting, and when the proper house is found, it is understood, the wedding will take place...

The town belonged to the spooks Saturday night, sure enough—especially the downtown part... Fearful masks covered thrills—and sometimes started—little faces... Horns tooted incessantly and crowds jostled up and down the sidewalks... Mothers herding their costumed youngsters pretended to be losing both their minds and their hearing—but I'll bet most of them were about like me, kinda glad to have a youngster to herd... Having a child gives us grown-ups a grand excuse to get "into things" again...

Comments on the manner in which Mrs. Fred Brown of Butler camp announced the Zetaganian style show at the Colorado hotel last Thursday afternoon have been numerous and highly complimentary... Mrs. Brown is a charming and talented person who is quietly and unostentatiously taking a more and more active part in Colorado's social and church life... She teaches a class in the Baptist Sunday school and is a new member of the Zetaganian club... Her husband is a California company employee... The Browns have a young son not quite old enough for school.

Trio Arrested At Little Rock, Ark., Not Wanted Here

Indictments, However, Held Against Lambs In Several West Texas Counties

R. L. Lamb, his son, R. L., Jr., (Sonny) Lamb and a former Mitchell county woman, wife of one of the accused, arrested last week at North Little Rock, Arkansas, are not wanted by the authorities in Mitchell county, as reported in press dispatches, Sheriff R. E. Gregory has stated.

Grand jury indictments against the two men, charging murder, robbery and other offenses, are pending in other West Texas counties, however. The murder count is in King county where operator of a liquor store was fatally shot during a hold-up.

The Lambs are facing indictment charging robbery of the Thomas Liquor store on Highway One near Coahoma a few months ago, a raid that netted $35 in money and 300 pints of whiskey.

7B ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

7B presented an assembly program Friday afternoon. The stage was arranged for an amateur hour, with entertainers, judges, director, and audience seated in their places. There was a call for directors to present their program. 7B pupils, representing the teachers, entered with a "Knock, Knock" and tried to direct. Mr. Glover, the only one who did not receive the gong, finished the entertainment successfully.

BIG SPRING TEAM DEFEATS CUBS

Substitutes were Wayne Russell, Kenneth Connell, Tommy Ratliff, and Royce Smith.

SUPPORTING OUR TEAM

Yea, Cubs!
Why not support our team? Everyone in Junior High school should have enough school spirit to stay after 4 o'clock and watch the football games. Let's show the boys we are interested in their games and that we are anxious to win. They need cheers and encouragement from us, not discouragement. Whether they win or lose, come to the games and show your loyalty to Junior High.
The Cubs are doing their part. What are you doing?

CHATTER

Congratulations, Mary Louise Cooper! That was a good theme that won first place in the newspaper contest. . . . Some 7C girls have decided that it is not best to write notes during school. . . . Our assembly program by Billy Lewis and the Indian Chief promises to be good. . . . Wanted: bobvy pins—A 7B boy. . . . We wonder if the visit in Mr. Glover's office Tuesday morning was enjoyable. We also wonder if the results will be good. . . . If you want to be a scarecrow, see Nat Mann. He knows all the latest ways to slump in his seat. . . . Are our classes work or play now? We are certainly enjoying Bingo and our puzzles. . . . The Halloween spirit took hold of Junior High pupils last week. Spooks appeared at parties and in the street parade Saturday night.

Learn the amazing benefits of GULFPRIDE

THE WORLD'S FINEST MOTOR OIL

(Above)—MANY WORLD'S RECORDS on land, sea, and in the air have been set with GULFPRIDE OIL. Racing drivers, fliers, speedboat pilots swear by it. Proved in the toughest competition, GULFPRIDE will outwear, outlast, and outperform any oil you ever used in your car!

(Left)—4 TIMES AROUND EARTH. A man drove his automobile on GULFPRIDE OIL 100,000 miles—without ever needing a repair, without ever having the head of the motor, without ever adding one drop of oil between drains. Expect great things of GULFPRIDE—you'll get them!

WHY is it that no other motor oil in all the world can deliver the performance of GULFPRIDE OIL?

Because only GULFPRIDE starts from the finest Pennsylvania crudes. . . is refined to the same point as other fine motor oils. . . and is then further refined by Gulf's exclusive Alchlor process!

This process is the most efficient ever developed—the fruit of 15 years' research by Gulf scientists—men who stand behind every Gulf product.

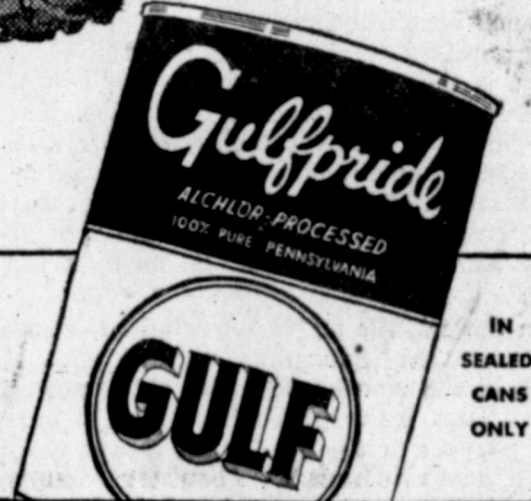

Read the facts on this page. Then drive into any Gulf dealer's—and replace your old summer-worn oil with GULFPRIDE now.

THE ALCHLOR PROCESS removes all sludge and residue. Proof: we took 6 of the finest Pennsylvania oils we could buy and put them through the Alchlor process. It removed 20% waste from already highly refined oils! Be wise—get GULFPRIDE—the only oil that has this head start.

GULFPRIDE

Improved Oil Gives Longer Service For Motor In Planes

Gulf Product Found Meeting Requirements; This Oil Is Also Best For Automobiles

In a recent interview Major Al Williams, famous aerobatic flier and speed ace, emphasized the importance of an airline keeping its ships in the air as much as possible. Each time a plane is grounded to undergo repairs, the depreciation and other fixed charges rapidly eat up the profits that it has made for the operators.
A few years ago, many of the giant airliners that operate on the Skysways of America had to be withdrawn from service every 200 hours so that their motors could be completely overhauled. Upon examination, the bearings, wrist-pins, pistons, and cylinder walls were found to be considerably worn. The oils used to lubricate these parts were classified as being among the best obtainable, but the best was none too good and science had to discover a lubricant that would permit the operation of these ships for longer periods. Science had bridged the gap with Gulfpride Oil, and today many of the planes of Eastern Airlines and other air transport companies operate for more than five thousand hours before they require overhauling.
"Motorists who want their cars to last longer, perform better, and operate more efficiently should take a tip from the airlines," said Major Williams. "Alchlor-processed Gulfpride is the choice of many airmen whose lives depend upon the perfect lubrication of their motors. Car owners will discover that this remarkable lubricant will slash the operating costs of their automobiles and will permit easier starting when the temperature takes a nose dive."

Mary Ann Latham is editor, Iva Helen Lee assistant editor. Reporters are Sidney Terry, Audrey Cary, Dimple Sue Hart, Robert O'Brien, and Daphne Mahon. All Hutchinson teachers, Mrs. J. F. Quinney, Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, Miss Beatrice English, Mrs. Farris Lipps, and Mrs. J. G. Kilian, are listed as sponsors.

The little sheet, mimeographed in magazine form, addresses its first words to parents. After the paragraphs to parents come reviews of the various units being worked out in the different rooms; these reviews being introduced by a page of explanations by the sponsors.

These explanations tell how the third grades had a transportation unit the first three weeks of school and then the recently completed unit, "Getting Ready for Winter." The fourth grades have just culminated a six week's unit on "The Hot Dry Lands."

Following these explanations by the teachers are reports from each of the rooms by the various reporters. The sheet is plentifully illustrated with original drawings, accompanied by original poems and riddles.

A SERMON

"Think Soberly"—Rom. 12:3.
Some people do not think at all. Some think as others direct them to think. Others think from a wrong basis and reach a wrong conclusion. Others think correctly from a correct basis and arrive at correct conclusions. Paul said, "Think Soberly."

There seems to be quite a lot of teaching now that if you are born under a certain star, your fate is sealed, your destiny fixed. This is urged although the particular star may have been blotted out long before you were born. And people are paying their good money for such drivel as that. Poor man; if his course is fixed by some star, he is not responsible. There is no sin, no crime and there should be no punishment. Poor worm of the dust; he just can't help himself.

And then there is the moon. It has no effect on the weather. The same moon brings much rain east of us, occasional rains here and no rain at all on much of the earth's surface. And we speak of the "change of the moon." The moon does not change at all. The sun shines on half of it all the time; the earth's shadow passes ceaselessly around the moon. The moon is the same size, made of the same substance and is in the same position; we only see more and less of it at times. It has no effect on the rain. And planting "in the moon" is wholly a superstition.

There is the matter of economy. Many think the world owes them a living; some think they can get something for nothing; some think that something will turn up without being turned up. Others think the government can feed and clothe all the people. These things have never worked out that way. Human experience is against such conclusions.

There is the matter of politics. One hundred thousand people at a time will cheer and shout for Hitler. The same for Mussolini. And people make fools of themselves for this hero and that hero. If they would think soberly they would know that all these models (small imitation of the real thing) heroes have no object in mind except aggrandizement of themselves. They are here for the day and tomorrow look ridiculous. So do their devotees.

There is the matter of religion. Probably people have less sense about their religion than anything else. If a person can foam and froth at the mouth and make a big noise he is supposed to be spiritual. That isn't spirituality; that is emotionalism. It serves the same purpose to a person as the escape valve does to an engine—it permits them to blow off. About the same is true of a man when he boasts himself and his crowd and condemns everyone else. To be sincerely spiritual a person or a church must be in such temper and frame of mind that they are and remain in sympathy with, have compassion on and are ready to sacrifice to aid, comfort and labor for the uplift and salvation of every one that needs sympathy and help. Read Matt. 25:31-46 and "think soberly."

When one kills another to get rid of him; when a man holds-up a bank or another to get money; when one drinks to drown his trouble; when a man plans to violate the laws of God and man, how much better it would be if he would think soberly. Paul gave some good advice.

When people are told that, within 300 years after the Apostle Paul, Christianity spread over the Roman World it seems easy. It wasn't easy. Thousands of men and women were persecuted, sent to prison, killed and burned, tried to stamp out Christianity. Great men appeared on behalf of the new faith during this period. Among many are a few of the very great, early Christians: Polycarp, who is supposed to have associated with the Apostle John, Irenaeus, Tertullian, Origen, Arius, Athanasius, Eusebius, Gregory Nazianzen, Basil, Gregory of Nyssa, Ambrose, Chrysostom, Jerome and Augustine. What made these men great? For one thing they had embraced a great idea—Christian faith in Jesus of Nazareth.

But there seems to have been another force behind the making of these great men: Dr. John Lord in his Beacon Lights of History says of Chrysostom: "His father was a man of high military rank; his mother was a woman of rare Christian graces. And it is a pleasing fact to record that most of the Great Fathers received their first impulse to their memorable careers from the influence of pious mothers; thereby showing the true destiny and glory of women."

The same author speaking of Augustine says, "He owed nothing to the circumstances of wealth and rank. His father was a heathen. But his mother was a woman of remarkable piety and strength of mind, who devoted herself to the education of her son; and his history adds additional confirmation to the fact that nearly all the remarkable men of our world have had remarkable mothers."

Many years prior to this Cornelia had pointed to her two sons as her jewels. These two sons she inspired to be great Roman citizens. Long years prior to that Moses mother must have taught her little boy many things about the God Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, that the sordid life of the Egyptian court could not efface from his memory. Long years afterward Sussanah Wesley must have greatly inspired her two sons that unwittingly originated the great Methodist movement.

It would be great to know more about the mother of Abraham, David, Daniel and Paul. We do know much of the lives of our modern great men. It seems that a family, a school, a church or a country that would rear great and inspired men should first produce some great and inspired women. "And Elisha passed to Shunem, where was a great woman."

The New York Liquor Dealers Federation recently issued the following instructions to bar keepers, "Keep women away from the bar. There is nothing more disgusting than to see a woman, especially one under the influence of liquor, standing at the bar. If a woman insists, you must serve her but many times you can get her to sit at a table. Keeping women away from the bar may keep prohibition away from the nation."

A member of the State Liquor Authority said, "I don't like to see women at bars. I think they should be served at tables instead. Yet they have a perfect legal right to demand service. A bartender cannot refuse to wait on them."

Many people were led to believe that if the 18th Amendment and Constitutional prohibition was repealed bars and saloons would not appear, liquor would disappear and intoxication among men, women and children would cease. It is a lot easier to promise than it is to perform.

LEARNING THE VALUE OF DIVIDING WITH OTHERS—Junior Red Cross boys and girls collecting a library for a mountain school. FLOOD CONTROL

A lot is being said these days about soil erosion and flood water control. We should remember that a long time ago old man Noah heard a flood was coming but he didn't try to stop it. He just got busy and built a boat and got on top of the flood and got by.

Then later a mighty ruler of the land found his subjects feared another flood would come, so he decided to "control the flood" and built a tower so high he thought the water maker could never get enough water together to get over it, but the one who controls such things just sent a little streak of lightning down it and put it out of commission in about three seconds.

However, this great and mighty ruler of the land thought it was an accident and that lightning "never strikes twice in the same place," and he prepared to rebuild the tower, but the Creator of the floods said: "No you won't. I'll just give your workmen so many different languages they can never work together, their talking will be just babbling." So they called that the tower of Babylon.

The League of Nations, the World Court and the Texas Legislature are still babbling trying to unscramble that order.

HYPOCRITE

Gypsy Smith in one of his sermons said, "A professed Christian who will not attend the Wednesday night prayer meeting is a hypocrite. We disagree with the Gypsy. We say a man who professes to love his wife better than any other woman, and then treats another woman better than he does his wife, lets his acts convict him of being a monster hypocrite, and there is no place in heaven for a hypocrite."

ONE AT A TIME

In the last session of Judge Templeton's County Court, Charlie Thompson was dispensing oratory in a vigorous speech for the defense, when in the middle of his speech a donkey down in the yard below began to bray. The Judge put up his hand at this juncture and said to the counsel, "Kindly stop a minute Mr. Thompson, I am unable to hear two at once."

A little later, while the Judge was reading his charge, the donkey again brayed, and the counsel stood up and said, "Would your lordship mind speaking a little louder? There is an echo in court."

Some people we know in Colorado are like electric fans. They go around in a circle, never get anywhere and circulate a lot of hot air.

The most impressive thing at the Texas Centennial is the lighting system.

It is a rarified effulgence more brilliant than the austral stars, yet less glaring than Phoebus at meridian. It is like the dawn against the sea, like star-eyed Aurora at the eastern gate, like Celeste in her silvery gown. It is softer than the afterglow of a perfect day, yet far more luminous than the rounded moon, etc.

A pessimist is the optimist who played the marble machine.

And when the dancer changes her costume in the modern show, all she can do is to substitute a new color for the grease paint.

Aunt Het in the Dallas News says: "Cousin Jim wants to retire, but I can't see where a man is much above a hog if he's got nothin' to do but set around and wait for catin' time."

Now Tom Goss, H. B. Broadus, John Ellis and this writer are all retired, or has-beens, and not a single one of us believes a solitary word Aunt Het says. This is as evident as the wrinkle on a Ram's Horn.

The old-fashioned way of getting farm relief was for the second generation to move to the city.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN

A little boy went into a candy shop and asked the boss for a cent, which he got. Shortly after he came back and with the same cent bought a lollipop. That is the Townsend plan in a nutshell.

MRS. PELFRY HERE

Mrs. W. A. Pelfry, a former Coloradoan who has recently been living in Amarillo, visited Mrs. Mary Lindley, Mrs. John Colson, and other friends here during the week-end. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Benton of California, and they were en route to McAllen, where Mrs. Pelfry's mother is ill. Mrs. Pelfry will probably live in McAllen in the future.

DALE WARRENS' GUESTS

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Warren were Dr. and Mrs. Almus Blackwell and their daughter, Betty Jane of Stamford and Mrs. C. F. Elliott and daughter, Frankie, of Sweetwater.

Mrs. Belle Vaughan returned home last Friday after a visit of two months in El Paso with her friend, Mrs. Nellie Schroeder.

"TEXAS RANGERS"

Palace—Friday and Saturday
November 6 and 7

Taking a surging story of early Texas, Producer-Director King Vidor conclusively proves that it is possible to make a western which will rank high among the season's hits. Jack Oakie merits the most bows for his splendid interpretation of the happy-go-lucky bad man, who, with one of his two partners, becomes a Ranger and is slowly weaned to the side of law and order. Fred MacMurray, the other reformed bandit, delivers capitally, as does Lloyd Nolan, third of the trio, who elects to stay bad.

Players are Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie, Jean Parker, Lloyd Nolan, Edward Ellis, Bennie Bartlett, Frank Shannon, Frank Cordell.

"GREAT ZIEGFELD"

Palace—Sunday, Monday and Tues.
November 8, 9, and 10

A breathless panorama of a glamorous life, "The Great Ziegfeld," deals with the career of the late Florenz Ziegfeld, one of the nation's most astute showmen, in episodic fashion. Comedy, drama, spectacle, romance, beauty, music—all are packed into a perfect example of a showmanship picture. Metro has glorified the screen with an artistic skill it was heretofore thought could have been achieved only by Ziegfeld himself.

Players are William Powell, Myrna Loy, Louise Rainer, Frank Morgan, Fannie Brice, Virginia Bruce, Ray Bolger.

"WALKING ON AIR"

Thursday—November 12th
Kit, determined to marry a man already heavily burdened with alimony, is opposed by her father. Kit hires Pete to impersonate a count and insult her father. Her father hires Joe to prevent Kit from eloping with her fiancé. He announces that he approves of Pete as a son-in-law, and Kit suddenly discovers that she really loves Pete.

"YOURS FOR THE ASKING"

Ritz—Saturday Midnight, Sunday and Monday—November 7, 8, and 9

Bright, fast comedy and a convincing performance on the part of George Raft who gives his role of the gambler with social ambitions an air of plausibility. Raft rents Dolores Costello Barrymore's mansion for a gambling layout. Fearing that Raft is falling for the girl, his pals hire Ida Lupino to make a play for him. Raft discovers the trick, when Lupino doublecrosses the boys, and fires them. Miss Costello, who was wise to the scheme all the time, arrives in time to explain the whole thing and get the boys back their jobs. Raft realizes that Miss Costello is the "classy dame" for whom he has been looking.

Players are George Raft, Dolores Costello Barrymore, Ida Lupino, Reginald Owen, James Gleason, Edgar Kennedy, Lynne Overman.

"CRIME OF DR. FORBES"

Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday
November 10 and 11

The timely and highly controversial subject of "mercy killings" gives this Sol Wurtzel production a mounting designed for more-than-average audience appeal. Michael Forbes, a young doctor, is taken into the laboratory of Dr. Godfrey, who is working on a cure for a deadly spinal disease. Forbes falls in love with the older doctor's wife. Mrs. Godfrey is summoned to the bedside of her husband, who gets hurt. Godfrey dies, and an autopsy shows that his death was the result of an overdose of opiates. Forbes is accused, but investigation shows that three of Godfrey's attending doctors had left extra narcotic tablets, with which the suffering medic had killed himself. Forbes is exonerated. Players are Robert Kent, Gloria Stuart, J. Edward Bromberg, Sara Haden.

TOO LATE!

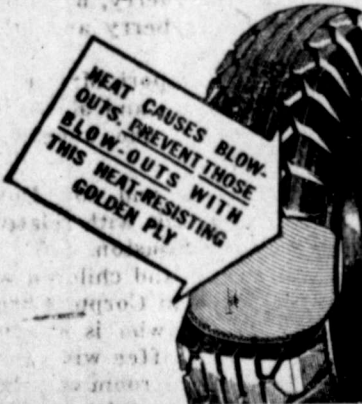

IF ONLY I'D THOUGHT ABOUT MY TIRES BEFORE THIS BLOW-OUT HAPPENED

Suppose YOU had a blow-out. Afterwards, when you're sitting by your wrecked car waiting for help, you'd have plenty of time to think about how dangerous it is to gamble on tires. But why not think of that NOW—why not let us put real blow-out protection between your car and the road TODAY?

HERE'S BLOW-OUT PROTECTION Free! Only Silvertowns Have the Life-Saver Golden Ply

Whether you realize it or not, heat—the terrific heat generated inside your tires by today's high speeds—is the great, unseen cause of high-speed blow-outs. But now—thanks to the research of Goodrich engineers—thanks to the invention of the Life-Saver Golden Ply by them, this terrific heat is resisted in the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown. You're protected because dangerous heat blisters don't get a start inside the tire. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.

NOTE: Goodrich Silvertowns are the only tires made with Golden Ply Blow-out Protection and they cost no more than other standard tires. Isn't that a double reason for insisting on Silvertowns for your car? See us now.

Performance, Beauty and Safety Mark Chevrolet's Completely New Cars

Chevrolet's 1937 engine is completely new, but adheres closely to time-proved Chevrolet engineering principles. It is of six-cylinder valve-in-head type, smoother, more powerful, more economical, and lighter.

Luggage capacity in Chevrolet's new trunk models has been greatly increased, as has interior luggage space in other models.

Beauty and utility mark the new Chevrolet instrument panel. The windshield is of greater area, with narrow corner posts, affording better vision.

A representative model from Chevrolet's new line, typifying its beauty and grace—the Master De Luxe Sport Sedan with trunk. Note the distinctive "speed line" extending back from the side of the hood.

Unisteel construction joins the floor, cowl assembly, panels, and Turret Top of Chevrolet's all-steel, all-steel body, to form one integral structure, welded in all joints, and reinforced and braced for permanent silence and safety.

New power, economy, durability, safety and comfort, coupled with striking new beauty, characterize Chevrolet's new models for 1937. They are offered in two series, Master and Master De Luxe, virtually identical in appearance.

Chevrolet's fully-enclosed Knee-Action is furnished at no extra cost on the Master De Luxe models; and new Synco-Mesh transmission, and safety plate glass all around at no extra cost, feature all models of both series.

Price Of Cotton Drops 9 Points; Exports Decline

Heavy Ginnings and Better Crop Conditions Are Given As Balancing Factors

The price of cotton declined 9 points last week to 11.90c, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics summary, released by the Dallas office of the Cotton Market News Service, disclosed Monday. The weakness in prices was attributed to heavy ginnings and to trade reports indicating improved crop prospects.

Exports decreased as compared with the volume of the previous week and were smaller than the corresponding week a year ago. Inquiries for shipment to England, Japan and France predominated. Exports of 157,000 bales for the week compared with 228,000 in the preceding week, 224,000 in the same week a year ago and 179,000 two years ago. Total exports of 1,503,000 bales from Aug. 1 to Oct. 30 were 84,000 bales larger than in the same period last year.

Exports to Japan exceeded those to any other country and for the season to Oct. 30 were well above those for the same period a year ago. While trade barriers affecting Japanese cloth exports were increased during the last year and exports for the 1935-36 season were less than in the previous year, considerable improvement in sales of Japanese goods in recent weeks has been reported, exports of cotton to the Continent of Europe for the season to Oct. 30 were also larger than last year and trade reports indicate prospects for some improvement in mill activity on the Continent and in England.

Forwardings to domestic mills increased further and were larger than in the same week in either of the two preceding years.

Ginnings of 8,568,000 running bales to Oct. 18 reported by the Bureau of the Census are equal to three fourths of the estimated crop of 11,609,000 bales, 500 pounds gross, based on conditions of Oct. 1.

'Best Cars In Chevrolet History' To Be On Display At Mills Company Saturday

"The finest, most economical and safest motor cars in Chevrolet history."

That is the description given The Record Wednesday afternoon by Joe B. Mills of the Mills Chevrolet as he discussed features of the 1937 models to be placed on display at his show room Saturday. Four body types of the new machines are to be shown.

The cars are completely new, embodying many added and distinctive improvements over those of 1936 vintage, Mills declared. "I have never in my several years of motor car dealership at Colorado offered a finer motor car to the public," he declared.

Mills stated that the citizenship of this territory were invited to call at his place of business, corner Elm and First streets, during Saturday and inspect the new machines. Courteous attendants will be present to explain features of the motor cars.

Among salient features embodied in the 1937 machines are safety plate glass all around, genuine Fisher no-draft ventilation, super-safe shockproof steering and perfected hydraulic brakes. "There are too many of these sterling qualities to enumerate here," Mr. Mills declared. "Visit our display room and see for yourself the superb qualities of this wonderful complete low-priced motor car."

Zetagathian Style Show and Benefit Bridge Last Thursday Well Attended

Carrying out a seasonal theme in decorations and appointments, the Zetagathians held a bridge benefit and style show at the Colorado hotel last Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There were fourteen tables of players for the bridge hours and five additional guests for the style show and refreshment hour following the games. Decorations, tallies, and scorecards were in the Halloween motif. Four games of bridge were played. The raffle prize was won by Mrs. R. D. Bridgford, the high score prize by Mrs. John Watson, and the second high score prize by Mrs. Bridgford. The raffle prize and the high score prize were wall lamps. The prize for second high was a white, oblong flower holder. The style show was held after four games of bridge had been played. Models entered at a side door, crossed the stage, and followed a path among the tables. Mrs. Fred Brown announced the models and described the styles shown. Models for Max Berman's Department store were Mrs. Bill Oswald, Mrs. Wylie Kinard, Virginia Reese, Martha Jane Majors, Grace Callan, and Jane Daniels. Britton's models were Juanita Cook, Mrs. Wade Scott, and Mrs. Baxter Seogrin. The Nat Thomas models were Etta Fern Hawkins and Eunice Land, the latter of Lorraine. Kirschbaum's presented Zilpha Thomas. Street costumes, lounging pajamas, and evening dresses were shown. After the show club members served chocolate pie with orange meringue and coffee.

A COLD caused this!

"Colds" are dangerous! Leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases START with a "common cold." Thus the cold germ becomes America's Public Health Enemy Number One.

Any sudden change in temperature as you go from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat-regulating apparatus of the body and makes it susceptible to cold germ attacks. Even the brief time that it takes to answer the telephone in an unheated hall is sufficient. Fight against "colds." They create a condition of depressed physical vitality which is favorable to infection and aid the progress of serious organic diseases that frequently result in death.

If your home is inadequately heated . . . if you "huddle" in one room during winter, sudden temperature changes are unavoidable. Your family goes from an over-heated room where the temperature has climbed as much as ten degrees past the point necessary for comfort, into a cold hall or adjoining room; then shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. This happens many times a day. Each time it happens they have made themselves susceptible to highly communicable winter diseases.

Fight colds this winter with proper ventilation and adequate heat in every room in the home.

. . . Lone Star Gas System

The common gold germ shows no favor. Invisible but dangerous, this Number One Enemy of Public Health skulks like a bandit of the night ready to rob you of good health.

PUPILS IN THE FOG

We usually think of Freshmen as being in a "fog" when they enter high school because they are so "green," but we have found out that upper classmen can be in just as much a "fog" as the Fish. With so many studies and with so much outside activity, all of us are in a "fog." We have so much to do that we don't do any of it well. The pupils in chemistry and general science are probably in a little deeper "fog" than the other students. Pupils in chemistry stand with their mouths open when Mr. Wilkins explains or demonstrates an experiment. Is it because they are dumb, or lazy or just can't get it? We wonder!

HIGH SCHOOL SONGSTERS

The Colorado High school songsters have many plans for the year. Tuesday they presented a program of Stephen C. Foster's songs of the South. Among these were: "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Folks at Home" and "Old Black Joe." These songs were to be preceded by three talks on the life of Foster and his accomplishments. Mrs. Moser has also organized a girl's trio, Frances Cooper, Lucille Goode, and Betty Hodje. Plans are being made for a one act operetta before Christmas. So come on out songsters and sing awhile.

Colorado High School

Dear Mr. Wilkins,
No kidding, Mr. Wilkins, we all think you're grand, but you surely can make a student—well why go into particulars. I guess you understand.

Now how do you do it? You have a way of making yourself known when you're not even seen. For instance, if I get careless, turn my back to the door, and start enjoying the social life of study hall, I am sure to get a prickly feeling which tells me you're standing in the doorway. Honest, you just drive me wild. If this continues, I'll be a nervous wreck before I'm a Senior. Did you ever hear of "Belling the Cat," C. A.? Well, I'll bet it from me to call you a cat, but I think the bell idea is perfectly grand. If you'd consent to carry one I'm sure the high school students would be glad to buy you a real lovely silver one—maybe even gold-plated.

Please think the idea over and let me know if you don't agree with me. Watchfully yours,
Graysee.

H. E. NEWS

Everything is "looking rosy" for the first and second year Home E. girls. Most of them have their slips and tailored dresses finished and what a variety! Clothing of all colors and patterns; they can hardly wait to "step out" in them. There will certainly be some good home builders out of the third year class. They are learning every feature of home and home life.

Junior News
The Junior class won the Volley Ball tournament was composed of teams from each class. Each team had three girls and three boys. The Juniors had a good team, but also had some strong competition from the Seniors.

Sophomore News
The Sophomore class hasn't done anything of any importance this week but get a few demerits.

The class has elected a new reporter to fill the place of Bill Rucker who has moved to Forsan. That is all for this time but we shall try to find a little gossip for next week.

Freshman News
The Freshman class, as I've heard, had a spooky Halloween, but the ghosts didn't get any of them, because they were all back to school Monday. There were a few Freshmen who went to Halloween parties and some who went to Colorado. The rest stayed home like good little kids.

JUNIOR PLAY NEWS

The Junior play cast is progressing very rapidly and expect to present one of the best plays this season. Just think how amusing it will be to see Betty Hodje as the mother of three perfect holy horrors, Robert Stell as the father of two scheming boots, Helen Faye Rankin as an old maid, and Joe Lee as "Step in Fetch" the second.

Don't forget to see "Ready-made Family" Tuesday, November 10 at 7:45 o'clock. Admission 10c to everyone.

IN THE FISH BOWL

Fish Flakes

Have you been wondering what's wrong with the Fish? I'll admit they are a little "ate!" But this accounts for it: It's the sight of those report cards... We heard recently that the Fish were furnishing three-fourths of the pep in the pep squad. "Ain't that awful"... "The Promoter" (the Freshman play) we noticed during rehearsals, are promising to give their upper classmen a "run for their money"...

Mr. Christian's graph of the term grades in history wasn't so satisfactory as it might have been. What can we do about that, Fish?...

Secrets (?) of the Fish: It's still hard to get into our lockers... especially on a moment's notice... It will seem queer to lug home four report cards instead of one! We doubt seriously if we can keep all four from the view of the "public"... The home economics girls, in the stages of learning to cook and sew, often come out of class with punctured or burned finger-tips. But it is so interesting they go back for more...

While on the other hand, the hopeful scientists sit and gaze blankly (at first, mind you) at the experiments Mr. Clark performs, but after "they see the light," it's really quite new and altogether fascinating...

COME ON WOLVES! THEY MAY BE BIGGER BUT THEY AREN'T ANY BETTER!

PERSONALS

Miss Rilla Payne is substituting as teacher in the Commercial Department filling the place of Mr. John Edwards who resigned last week.

Misses Mary Alice Gunn and Bonnie Bill Brizendine were visitors at the high school the past week.
