

TEN PER CENT SALARY HIKE OKED BY COUNCIL AS CITY ADMINISTRATION SWORN IN

Sadler, Hornberger, Majors and Richardson Inducted Into Office; Merritt Is Appointed By Board

About the only material change affecting continuation of the Sadler administration, that Monday night was inducted for another term of two years, was authorization by the council to hike salary schedule of all city employees approximately ten per cent. In case of some of these workers the increase will be slightly under that figure. With others it is a little more.

There was only one new face to be seen in the executive chambers as the mayor and members of the council met at city hall to canvass returns from the municipal election April 6 and direct that those officials elected be inducted into office, for terms of two years. The new mayor was Jack Richardson, chief clerk of Col- Tex refinery.

The oath of office was administered to Mayor Sadler, Richardson, E. M. Majors and C. D. Hornberger, the latter three as members of the board of aldermen, by City Attorney R. H. Ratliff. Richardson succeeded E. R. Bibby of the council. Roy Dozier and Chas. Moeser are hold-over members of the body.

Appointment of J. F. Merritt as city tax assessor and collector and city treasurer, effective May 1, was a matter of business passed by the council. On that date, close of the fiscal year, Merritt, too, is to be formally inducted into the office of city secretary. The retiring official in those positions, J. Lee Jones, will continue in those capacities until then.

Dr. T. J. Ratliff, city health officer; Miss Louise Hardison, custodian of the water department records and office secretary, and W. R. Charters, superintendent at Ruddick Park, were all reappointed as the council set itself to the task of organizing for the work of another term.

FEDERAL RESOURCE BOARD CONTINUES PROPOSAL THAT 'WULFJEN LAKE' BE BUILT

Project Rejected At Ballot Box In 1935, Survives In Washington; Cost Placed At $184,000

"Lake Wulfjen," water improvement project on Champion Creek south of Colorado on which the city electorate turned thumbs down at the ballot box on November 12, 1935, stands today as then as an improvement that in estimation of the Federal government should be built.

Monday the National Resources Committee in Washington recommended a long-term development program for Texas. A filtration plant, pipe line and pump station for water supply at Colorado costing $184,000 were among the items listed as carrying approval.

Engineers estimate on construction of the lake, pipe line, filtration plant and pump station, as given final approval by Julian Montgomery of Fort Worth, State manager for PWA, during the early Fall of 1935 was $183,636. The city was called upon to furnish $110,000 of the outlay through authorization of a bond issue. Engineering on the project was done by Roy Buchanan and his findings and cost estimates were accepted by the government.

During the campaign that ensued the chamber of commerce, augmented by several civic organizations, supported the contention aggressively that Colorado should provide adequate water facilities. The proposed lake, it was pointed out, would supply water for irrigation, for pleasure and for commercial usages. Voters, however, declined to accept the proposal, turning the issue down by 193 to 147.

In the report out of Washington it was stipulated there were certain water conservation projects along the Colorado and other Texas rivers that should be given immediate attention. These were listed under the caption of Class A. A $500,000 water improvement program for Big Spring was included.

The Colorado project was listed in Class B, "projects, while desirable for immediate construction or study, face various obstacles and must follow those in the first classification." Mayor J. A. Sadler is non-committal when a representative of The Record directed his attention to the press report out of Washington. "I believe the voters of Colorado would authorize that bond issue now," was statement by Jim Greene, manager of the chamber of commerce.

'GREATEST BIBLE SUBJECT ON WHICH I TALK' LISTED THURSDAY BY GEO. TUCKER

'The Unpardonable Sin' To Be Discussed By Leader In Revival; Services Set To Close Sunday Night

Every statement made and every condition defined within pages of the Bible are great and the Book, even though written two thousand years ago, maintains its position as the greatest volume of the ages, in spite of our advanced learning in the field of writing, the Rev. George Tucker, leader in revival at First Methodist church, told his auditors Wednesday evening.

"And in accepting the fact that greatness pervades every thing between the covers of this great book, I am announcing that on Thursday night I shall deliver from this pulpit the greatest sermon that I preach—a treatise on the Unpardonable Sin. In my work as an evangelist I have been blessed with greater reward in the conversion of the lost through delivery of this sermon than any of the others."

Continuing reference to the subject, Rev. Mr. Tucker bantered, "What is the unpardonable sin? You probably have your opinion as to solution of this question; I have mine. I have given it more consideration and study than any other text in the Bible."

Friday evening is to be dedicated to young people of the community in delivery of sermon address affecting their lives. Special music is being arranged for this service.

"The Broken Home" is to be subject for the evangelist's address Saturday evening. Tucker has requested that families attending the service occupy seats together in the church auditorium. Sunday morning he will speak from the subject, "The Supreme Question," and for the closing service Sunday evening his subject will be "The Tragedy of Indecision."

Attendance upon the services, being held twice daily, at 10 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening, continues large. The young people are conducting special services in basement of the church each evening a short time before the regular services open.

"Much good has been done this city and community through influences of the revival and greater things for God and the church are expected," the Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor, stated Wednesday evening. "However, we are not satisfied. We want more. And under the able preaching of George Tucker and the singing of Mr. Martin this people should yet be led into a great spiritual awakening."

DO YOU THINK THIS IS RIGHT?

Is it right to build churches to save men and women and at the same time license beer halls and liquor dealers to destroy them?

Is it right to license men to sell that which makes men drunk and then punish the man for being drunk?

Is it right to derive a revenue out of a traffic whose success weakens virtue, morality and integrity?

Is it right to license men to make paupers and then tax sober men and women to take care of the paupers?

Is it right to license beer halls and liquor dealers to promote vice and then tax people for schools to teach virtue?

Is it right to teach boys and girls virtue and purity and then license places to accomplish their ruin?

Is it right to preach justice and charity and vote to license a thing which robs wives, widows and orphans of their bread?

DO YOU THINK IT RIGHT?

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise"—Prov. 20: 1.

Negro Pupils Are Heard In Musical Program By Lions

Singers Presented By Allen Connell, Trustee, Friday; Visitors Are Presented

An interesting musical program, featuring spirituals and popular religious melodies of the Southern daisy, was presented the Lions Club Friday by students from the negro school. Arrangements to present the singers were made by Allen Connell, board of trustees member representing the school.

That the singing was appreciated by the men was indicated in prolonged applause offered. The entertainers appeared to sing two numbers but gave the third as an encore.

Among visitors introduced were Alfred Jameson of Amarillo, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Jameson; Otto Braum of Waco, auditor for the Hicks Rubber Company; Ferris Bass, teacher in Junior high school, and Al Stiles of Sweetwater, area Scout executive.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Some original soul should have asked Ira Lauderdale, superintendent of Westbrook schools, if he felt like the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe Tuesday night. . . . He was herding some 30 Westbrook freshmen who were taking in the bargain night show after picnicking at Ruddick Park. . . . But his similarity to the Old Woman of Mother Goose fame didn't extend beyond the number of children around him, because he didn't seem to know what to do and he didn't spank them and put them to bed. . . . It's also fairly certain that they'd dined on more than "broth without any bread" . . .

Aha! A shower invitation which I've just received reveals that one of those weddings which was rumored for Easter will take place Sunday, April 25, or thereabouts. . . . The girl has been reared in Colorado, the boy works in a Colorado grocery store. . . . Shuckins—this is too easy for you to guess!

A smallish, very attractive blonde caught my eye the other morning. . . . Inquiring around, I learned that she is Mrs. Ernest Keisler, wife of a G.S.I. employee. . . . They live in one of the Dr. T. J. Ratliff apartments. . . . She is an expert weaver—she was wearing a woven coat when I saw her—and she has been teaching the art to several Colorado women. . . . The Keislers have no children. . . . Mrs. Keisler's girlhood home, I understand, is in Austin. . . .

The fertility of words and the limitations of human expression came home to me this week when I tried to write the story of "Grandpa" Dorn's passing. . . . His life would make a novel, if there were anyone hereabouts with enough talent to write it. . . . He came to Mitchell county nearly half a century ago and from him descended many of the county's leading citizens. . . . The Dorn community was named for him—and that community's annual homecoming will be minus its central figure this summer. . . . He was a cheerful, lovable "patriarch" and he and his cane and his ready smile will be missed from Colorado's streets. . . .

Early spring rains made possible the wild-flower loveliness of Mitchell county this year. . . . In spite of the all-too-frequent sandstorms of the past month and the high winds that blow almost every day, we are having a beautiful spring to my way of thinking. . . . Have you noticed the wild flower carpet at the cemetery?

"And so Little Red Riding Hood took the basket and went through the woods to her grandmother's house and . . ." You'd hear such words as these if you listened in on Juan Mason's freshman English class these days. . . . If you kept on listening in without looking in you might think that the class had some nursery-maidish or kindergarten-minded or something. . . . But not so. . . . They're telling and re-telling the stories of "Little Red Riding Hood" and "The Little Red Hen" and such to learn the art of facing a group and telling a story without self-consciousness. Incidentally, they're having a lot of fun in the doing. . . .

The death of a J. M. Skaggs of Winters was recorded in Tuesday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram. . . . He was, it is believed, manager of the Grissom-Robertson dry goods store here for a few months several years ago. . . . Several Coloradans recalled having known him.

Holland Hope, the McMurry college ministerial student who shot and fatally wounded a "peeping tom" in Abilene last Friday night, is the husband of the former Bernice Ramsey of Westbrook.

One of the past week's best stories, in my humble estimation, goes this way: It had been widely announced that the Methodist evangelist was going to preach one night recently on "The Meanest Man in Town." A few minutes before church time that evening the Rev. C. E. Jameson of First Methodist church received a telephone call. The caller was Jim Greene. He said he had just heard that he was going to be the preacher's evening topic and he was, he declared in no uncertain terms, highly indignant. . . . They say it took the Rev. Mr. Jameson several minutes to make sure that he was the victim of a joke.

Quite a character is Nettie Sneed, deaf, mute negro who has spent almost a lifetime with Mrs. J. Max Thomas. . . . Some day I'm going to write a story about Nettie because I think she rates one—a much better one than I'll probably be able to write, in fact. . . . Mrs. Thomas says that Nettie is better-read in some ways than she is herself, that being largely because Nettie retains everything she reads. . . . She writes well and is very capable. . . . When she and Mrs. Thomas get into a "conversation" downtown they attract a great deal of attention, but they don't seem to have any trouble getting each other's meaning. . . . Nettie's mother, the Savannah who lives in the Y. D. McMurry home, is also a deaf mute. . . .

A brief interlude of excitement downtown Thursday morning when the wail of a siren accompanied the arrival of the T. & P. Sunshine Special, going east. . . . The siren kept going after the train stopped and folks began heading depot-ward with eyes and mouths open. . . . And it turned out to be just the boyish pranking of a group of El Paso Shriners bound for Dallas in three special coaches on the train. . . .

This little tale is vouched for by a certain Junior High teacher who has a habit of telling things with his tongue in his cheek, but it's a fair story anyway, so I'm passing it on: It seems that a certain Junior High class was asked to select phonograph records to be used in connection with their study of grains and vegetables, among the former being corn. . . . A record submitted for corn illustrations was the old break-down, "Pass Around the Bottle."

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies, such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Planters Operating Regularly Seeding Fields To Acreage Of Cotton And Feed

Planters are being operated in all sections of Mitchell county this week as farmers are starting their crops of cotton and feed in earnest. It is estimated that thousands of acres were seeded during the week.

Black land belts are receiving the major attention just now as the planters are being put into service. In scopes of instances the seeding machines are being operated from 18 to 24 hours daily, with power equipment and relief crews.

Fields in the sandy land areas will be sufficiently warm by next week, with continuation of favorable weather, to begin planting there to best advantage, suggested E. Barber of Spade, director of the West Texas Cotton Growers association, when seen in town Monday afternoon. Barber recalled that black land normally becomes warm earlier than the other lands.

That planters are going in for improved cotton seed is indicated in sales reports from dealers at Colorado and other points in the county. Good demand for the better grades has been noted in all parts of the territory.

HAPPY OR SULLEN

You have much to be thankful for if you have a joyful and happy disposition. The world seems good to you, the people seem agreeable, and everything is cheerful if you are happy. Not so if you have a sullen disposition. The world and its people are dull and cheerless then.

The same world may have these extremely different views because of the difference in the spectators. Cultivate joy and happiness and your school work will be easier. You will have more friends because everyone wants to be around cheerful and pleasant people.

Tests! This week is dedicated to study. The sixth grade Language Arts classes are making imaginary trips around the world. Do the patrol officers work when there is a ball game? Ask Mackye Loving and Catherine Reese. We wonder what they think about people who appear dumb. Some of the Junior High boys say that it isn't too early to go swimming. Why does a certain girl always wait until she gets to school in the morning to study? Lazy! Some of the seventh grade Social Science programs have been very good. There have been Governors' banquets, debates in Congress, and interviews with important personalities given in class. Mary Jane Kinard won third place in declamation in the district Interscholastic League at Sweetwater last Saturday.

Mrs. Pink Wade Hodge and Betty Hodge spent the week-end at the Ervington apartments in Dallas as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Scott, former Coloradans. Mr. Scott is now manager of the Ervington. Oldsmobile Engineers Built Features Of Silence Into All Parts of Machine

The great attention paid by automotive engineers and designers to the sound-proofing of automobiles is amply demonstrated in the noise-reducing features to be found in the new Oldsmobile Six and Eight.

In keeping with the many other refinements to be found on the new Oldsmobiles, the high degree of quietness achieved by these cars is unsurpassed in the industry, engineers point out.

In the all-steel Turret Top Body by Fisher on the new Oldsmobiles, the top panel has a soft pad cemented to the under side to prevent drumming. The back, side and door panels have a special mat cemented to them on the inside. The dash and cowl are insulated against heat and noise by a thick jute and celotex mat. The floor, which is of steel, is ribbed and stamped to prevent vibration. The front floor mat, of moulded rubber, also has a heavy jute backing to cushion it against wear and to further insulate the front compartment while the rear compartment, has a jute pad under the floor carpet.

The body is securely bolted to the rigid frame at 12 points, six on each side, and is cushioned on thick rubber mountings.

Independent mounting of Oldsmobile's radiator and fenders, in combination with Knee-Action Wheels, provides a front-end construction which has remarkable stability at high speeds and lends further quiet to the operation of the car. With this construction, the fenders and radiator are mounted as a single unit on a sturdy brace extending from one front fender to the other across the front of the car. The hood side panels, when bolted in position, securely fasten the radiator harness to the body dash. This wing-like structure is cushioned on a block of live rubber which pivots on the frame at the center of the front crossmember. Any movement of the frame has no effect upon these parts because the frame movement rotates about the center-point rubber mounting. This method of assembly eliminates annoying front-end vibration which is often a characteristic of conventional front-end construction in which the fenders and radiator are fastened directly and rigidly to the chassis.

Road noises which might originate from the tires when driving on paved or rough roads are subdued by means of special, moulded rubber pads which insulate the rear axle from the springs and frame at the axle housing spring seats. This is an added precaution which Oldsmobile takes to insure quiet operation.

Further improvement of Oldsmobile's tri-cushion engine suspension has been another important factor in noise elimination. An increased amount of rubber cushion in the single front mounting provides a greater degree of absorption of lateral and vertical engine movement. Forward and backward movement of the engine is controlled by means of the interlocking channel sections which are insulated by pieces of live rubber moulded in the outer closed channel section. This design permits radial movement for absorption of torque reaction with close control of end movement of the engine for smooth clutch action.

Two rear mountings, scientifically located to reduce vibration, support the engine at the rear of the clutch housing.

Country Paper Is First In Benefits To The Advertiser

National Authority Visiting This Area Supports That Contention

That the country newspaper ranks first as a medium for advertising is held by Harry M. Kelley of Dayton, Ohio, special representative of the Frigidaire division of General Motors Sales corporation who is spending several days in this section of the Southwest. Mr. Kelley came to West Texas to study needs of electric refrigeration.

In an interview given at Abilene Monday Mr. Kelley stated that his company had just completed a National survey of refrigeration advertising efforts. This proved, he said, that dealers using the greatest percentage of newspaper advertising space also had the largest percentage of average sales per meter served.

That similar results would be the result of advertising in the sale of other commodities was asserted. The official outlined that his opinion was not based upon presumptions but actual figures arrived at through careful checking of sales income against the advertising outlay involved.

Religion In Texas Retarded By High Taxes, He Claims

Proposed Sale Tax Would Exact $61,400 Out Of Mitchell County

Mitchell county merchants do a total retail business of $3,070,000 and a 2 per cent sales tax as now proposed in the Texas Legislature would yield $61,400 from this county while the sales tax burden to be borne by each resident of the county would amount to $4.33 per year.

These figures are based on a recent census of the United States Department of Commerce and are contained in an eight page pamphlet, "Texas Taxes, A Suggested Solution," being distributed by Rev. J. Earnest Stack of Houston, Editor of the Christian American.

Other enlightening facts contained in the pamphlet include:

"A two per cent sales tax will yield $28,432,300 in annual recurring revenue to the State of Texas."

"The yearly volume of business done by the 70,000 retail establishments of Texas is approximately $1,432,615,000."

"Under a 2 per cent retail sales tax each inhabitant of Texas would be required to pay $4.72 per year."

"Sales tax collections per store under a 2 per cent levy would amount to $417.20 annually."

"Forty-five per cent of the sales tax revenue would come from 10 counties in Texas in which the largest cities are located."

Dr. Stack, a well-known Baptist minister, recently made the public statement that burdensome and excessive taxes were hampering religious activities in Texas.

"Any man or woman who ever served on a church finance committee knows only too well that 'High Taxes' is too often given as the reason for failure to meet obligations to the church," Dr. Stack said.

Car Delivery Scene Carried In Record Recently To Be Reprinted In Detroit

The cut carried in this newspaper a few weeks ago showing J. E. Mills of the Mills Chevrolet Company delivering Frank Dunn his 21st Chevrolet motor car, is to be used extensively by publicity department of the company out of its Detroit office, according to information received by Mr. Mills.

Felix Doran, assistant sales manager with headquarters in Detroit, states in letter to Mills that the fact he has delivered 21 cars to one man within 11 years is unique, and "We are referring this important sales record to our publicity department."

Doran was formerly attached to the Dallas branch office and frequently visited Mills during the dealer's first years business here. "I am most happy that you have established yourself as one of Chevrolet's successful dealers in West Texas," Doran wrote, after recalling the small establishment Mills started with eleven years ago.

WESTBROOK SCHOOL NEWS

The Senior's carnival Saturday night, April 10, was a huge success. The class estimated that about $60 was taken in. The Senior class wishes to thank the people who helped make this a success and especially those from other classes who helped us in getting it up. . . . The money we took in will be used for our trip to Carlsbad Cavern next month. All the classes before this one have made trips to Christoval, but the Seniors this year are breaking the old custom by going to Carlsbad. . . . We are also changing the graduation exercises, which we will do all ourselves, with the help of a few members from the Junior class. . . . The Junior play, "Cheerio, My Dearie," will be presented April 23. The cast, taken from the Junior class, is a very promising one in spite of their awkwardness and mistakes at first. . . . The characters are: Mechizedek, colored porter—M. L. Cope. Desdemona, colored maid—Lena Lee Bird. Sue Grahame, joint owner of Mountain View Inn—Pearl White. Cherry Holt, joint owner of Mountain View Inn—Elizabeth Young. Dick Grahame, Sue's husband—Alfred Taylor. Sophronia Spatchett, Cuthbert's fiancée—Cap McKinney. Pifi, her French maid—Dorothy Taylor. Lord Cuthbert Twillingham, in search of an heiress—Billy Waters. Snodsbury, his valet—Neal McCullough. . . . Two hours of entertainment. Be sure to be here to see the merry, funny comedy in three acts. And if you want to see an English Lord, you had better come, for the Juniors have three of them. . . . You should see the Sophomores' big smile. . . . Weldon Strange, when asked why, answered: "I'm just smiling while I can, because this six weeks will be up in five and three-fourths more weeks, you know." . . . The Sons fell down in their test grades this six weeks, but they are still proud. The majority of the Westbrook students were those won by Sophomores. Iris Costin won first place in essay in the county, and Winton Lee Coleman, first in declamation. They went to Sweetwater Saturday where Iris won third place and Winton Lee fourth. As both are sophomores, they are making a good beginning. . . . The Sophomore play was really good. They played all of their expenses, gave half of the amount left to the library, and still had twelve dollars and fifty cents left. Rah! Rah! Sons, you're doing well, so stay in there. . . . The gymnasium was started last week and is progressing fine. Everyone is tickled over it, all but the Seniors who won't get to play in it. But deep down in our hearts we are

The Rev. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church, told members of the service organization Friday.

The Presbyterian minister addressed "message to the Lions Club after the Rev. Dick O'Brien of First Baptist church had spoken of strong merits of the evangelist. "I have attended all services of this revival that I could and I have been deeply impressed with the power and sincerity with which this preacher delivers his gospel messages," said the Baptist pastor.

"There are Presbyterians, Christians, Baptists and Methodists in this town who will only attend meetings at their own church, but this is certainly a time and occasion when we should break down those little petty differences and rally under leadership of this man of God for a great revival in Colorado," continued Rev. Mr. Elliott.

Influences Will Affect Life

Stiles Declares; Charter
Presented Troop 20

The Boy Scout organization in Colorado is "going places" and extending its influences for the building of character and good citizenship to such degree as to already rightfully merit the recognition as being a factor in this community, Al Stiles of Sweetwater, executive secretary for the Buffalo Trail Council, stated during an address at the Lions Club Friday.

"The fact of the business is that under leadership of Troop 20, of which Dr. W. B. May is Scout Master, Scouting is making such strides in Colorado as to assume that its influences are to touch the life of every fourth boy in its four year program," the area executive continued. "Eighty per cent of the boys enlisted on roster of this troop last year were re-enrolled and they are making outstanding progress in every line of endeavor with which a Scout has to deal."

In behalf of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, Stiles presented President Walter Whipkey of the club with charter for Troop 20. The document was signed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and several other outstanding Americans who hold responsible offices in the National organization.

Stiles also announced that the National Council wished to present to Troop 20 a flag pole emblem in recognition of distinguished progress in Scouting during the past year. Members of the Scout Committee and James Herrington, assistant Scout Master, were also praised in remarks by the speaker. Members of the committee include Joe H. Smoot, Dr. R. D. Bridgford and Jack Helton.

As a further indication that the Scout movement was making progress in Colorado Stiles announced that a troop had been organized among negro youth of the community. "These colored boys are very much concerned in the principles for which this organization stands and I am sure that you Lions are going to hear commendable reports relating to their work as Scouts," he said.

Stiles offered praise for support given Scouting in Colorado and the county by the Lions Club. All organized troops in Mitchell county have been sponsored by the service club and in addition to extending friendly cooperation to the boys and their leaders in Scouting, the Lions have made financial contribution to the movement. W. W. Porter, member of the Lions Club, is district chairman for the Mitchell county unit of the Buffalo Trail Council.

THIRTY CALVES EXHIBITED

Price-Of $13.50 Is Paid For Grand Champion; Nine To Ten And One-Half Cents Is Quotation On Others

The baby beef fed out and exhibited by Tobe Womack won grand championship pennant at Eighth Annual FFA Chapter show in Colorado last Saturday. The Womack calf was champion in the light weight division and calf entered by Raymond Fuller was champion in the heavy class section.

The grand champion individual was sold to P. G. Fuller, Cuthbert merchant, at $13.50 per hundred pounds. D. H. Snyder, Colorado rancher, was heaviest buyer of the calves, taking 13 of the baby heaves at 10½ cents. Howard Rogers bought 12 at 9 cents. Chester Beights 7 at from 9¼ to 9½ cents. Two of the show's top calves, entered by James Cox, were sold to Piggly Wiggly at 10½ cents.

In the light division, weighing less than 775 pounds, Duff Chesney won second place, James Cox third and fourth and Corley Rogers fifth. Corley won second place in the heavy division, weighing 775 pounds and over; Olan Lawrence third, Hall Franklin fourth and S. D. McMillian fifth.

There was a total of 30 calves entered for competition in the two arenas, owned by 22 boys, members of the Future Farmers of America. A total of 48 calves had been on feed by 23 boys in the department, with 18 of the number not exhibited at the show. A load of 11 calves were trucked to Fort Worth market.

The judging was done by Milton Templeton, director of the vocational agriculture department in Sylvester high school. Templeton judged the calves last year. He paid strong tribute to the boys in their work with the calves. The animals were lighter in weight than those shown in years of the recent past but quality was not lacking, Templeton stated after the judging was over.

The calves had been on feed 143 days with exception of the grand champion, that had been in the feed lot only 135 days when taken to the show grounds. Ranch and farm folk from a wide section of this territory were in Colorado to attend the show.

James Cox won prize offered for showing the best two calves fed by one boy. Corley Rogers was awarded halter offered by Ben J. Baskin and J. H. Greene for the best trained calf. "The FFA chapter in high school, having to do with the problem of training boys how to properly breed and feed calves is, to my mind, one of the most important branches of study offered in our public schools of today, and in view of that fact these youth, who are to become the citizens of another day not so far in the future, should merit the full cooperation of the public," Doyle Williams, director of the department, stated Monday.

ONLY YESTERDAY

Little is realized the vast changes that frequently happen from one day to the next in the lives of human beings. One morning in New London the school children strolled merrily to school, books hanging over their shoulders, smiles on their faces, and songs on their lips.

The next morning their little, stiff and mangled bodies lay under the wreckage and ruin of the school building, some breathing the last breath of life, some already gone. One morning they sat at their desks, the hum of the recitation floating out the windows, the quietness penetrating the air during the still morning. The next morning they lay, crushed under those very desks, the walls crumbled over them. Yesterday they had studied their lessons, lived merrily and happily, and today they are gone.

Thus, we are made to realize, to make the best of every opportunity during the day for such an opportunity may not be presented to us the next. Live our lives the best we can each day, for one never knows the changes that may come which cause us to refer longingly to "only yesterday."

BAND GOES TO HARDIN-SIMMONS CONTEST

Saturday morning the band left for Abilene from the W. L. Doss drag store. They arrived in Abilene about 8 and Mr. Rose drew numbers to see when they would lay. He drew fourth place. The warm-up number was "34th Division March," the selected number was "Light Cavalry" overture, and the contest number was "Daphne's" overture. As soon as the band had finished these numbers, the went to another building where they had to sight read a march, "The Whippet."

Hunter Brannon entered the solo contest and won a medal with a grade of 95.

All judging was under the direction of Dr. H. A. Vanderecock, president of the Vanderecock School of Music, Chicago.

Colorado had to compete with many bands with two and three times as many members as they had and with beautiful military uniforms. Regardless of the competition in nine bands entered, Colorado won fourth place.

In the marching contest, they won third place which they considered excellent for the size of the band. The grades on marching were, 88 on drum-major, and 90 on appearance of uniform and 88 on playing ability, the highest grade of the seven bands competing in Class B.

Then at 8 o'clock Saturday night several of the members played in the mass band which consisted of more than five hundred members. It was directed by Marion B. McClure, director of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band, on the first two numbers and by Dr. Vanderecock on the last number.

The band is now making preparations to attend the contest to be held in Lubbock, April 30 and May 1. BIG SPRING DEBATERS IN COLORADO

Last Thursday the Big Spring High school debate club brought two boys' teams to Colorado to debate the Colorado High school teams. The Colorado boys debated the A team from Big Spring and the girls debated their B team. The girls lost their debate with a vote of two to one; however the boys won theirs with a unanimous decision. Everyone enjoyed the debates.

COLORADO TIES FOR THIRD IN DISTRICT DEBATE MEET

The Colorado High school boys' debate team, winner of Mitchell County debate tournament, went to Sweetwater last Friday to participate in the District Interscholastic League Debate Meet. The boys returned home tied with Roby for third place. In the first round the boys drew Big Spring, and defeated them with a vote of two to one. They had to debate Sweetwater in their second debate and they beat them by a vote of two to one. After winning these two debates they were placed in the semi-finals with Abilene. In this debate the Colorado boys were defeated by unanimous decision. While all this was happening Fluvanna and Roby advanced to the semi-finals in the other bracket and Fluvanna beat Roby, therefore Colorado and Roby were tied for third place and Abilene won first place by defeating Fluvanna.

C. H. S. is quite proud of the progress made by the debate team this year. They have debated eleven times and only lost two debates, one of these being to Abilene and the other to Roscoe in the county meet by a decision of three to two. The second time they debated Roscoe they beat them.

DEBATE QUESTION CHOSEN FOR NEXT YEAR

The question for debate next year which has been chosen by the University Interscholastic League is resolved: That Texas should adopt a unicameral system of legislation. Both the boys and girls plan to work on the question during the summer and be prepared to get an early start next year. The girls will have both members of their team back next year, however one of the boys, J. W. Dunlap, will graduate.

HOME EC DEPT. ENTERTAINS FACULTY WITH LUNCHEON

The second year girls rushed about frantically as they planned the faculty dinner given last Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. They had never dreamed that there was so much work to just a little dinner. The menu was: Loganberry Juice Cocktail, Tenderloin of Red Fish, Lemon Tartar Sauce, Potatoes on the Half Shell, English Peas, Butter, Cloverleaf Rolls, Crabapple Jelly, Pear and Cheese Salad, Delmonica Dessert, Mints, Coffee.

CAMPUS CAMERA

Virginia Reese and Edna Fern went to see Marybel Crosthwaite to study Monday evening. The studying turned out to be fond. Stephen Nobles came to visit some of his friends here Sunday. The car was so full Sunday afternoon that students were riding on the outside. Frances Elliott has a regular escort to church each evening. Does Robert Hailey mean anything to Frances.

Jimmie Harrison saved a seat for Catherine Slagel at the Young People's meeting but Catherine didn't come.

SENIOR YEAR BOOK PLANNED

The Seniors with the aid of several Juniors have begun their year book. Last week in the Senior English classes the students voted to dedicate the book to the principal, Mr. Wilkins.

Different departments will be featured to serve as a reminder of the past. Likewise each Senior will be characterized. Also it will contain the Senior will and prophecy. Poetry, essays, and stories will be among its pages. One of the members of the Senior class, Marybel Crosthwaite, will furnish illustrations. It has been planned that this book will take the form of a magazine. The price will be only three cents a copy or two copies for five cents.

Further announcement concerning this book will be made later.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Monday, April 12, the assembly program was sponsored by the Senior class. Doris Wayne O'Brien was in charge of the program.

The first number of the program was a duet, "A Gypsy Love Song," by Misses Hazel Grubbs and Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, with Miss Mary Frances Mackey at the piano. Next was a saxophone solo by Hunter Brannon, with Miss Gladys Miller at the piano. Rev. Haley, minister of the First Christian church, then did some magic tricks, which were enjoyed immensely by the audience.

Everyone hopes that he will come back soon to put on another program.

Among the students who were honorable mention in different things last Saturday were: Katherine Black, tennis, Walter Rankin, Rudell Glover, John Henderson, Jack Smith, track, Kathleen Phillips, declamation, Hiram Duffer, shorthand, and Toby Womack who won the grand prize for his baby beef.

Mr. Watson stated that never had there been such an eventful week-end as the past.

COMMERCIAL DEPT. NEWS

Hiram Duffer, Colorado High's entry in shorthand in the Interscholastic League, won fifth place at the District Meet at Sweetwater Saturday, April 10. This place gives him the privilege of attending the Regional Meet at Abilene April 17. The typewriting team made an excellent score but did not place. Nancy Price won 10th place. The team consisted of: Alyne Moore, Nancy Price and Theda Howell. The contest was excellent training and was worth the time and effort put out by both pupils and teachers.

Several of the bookkeeping students have finished the first month's financial reports on their fourth set, the partnership set. The students that finish the fourth set will be given a bookkeeping certificate of efficiency. The certificate is approximately the size of the high school diploma and it means that the pupil who is fortunate enough to get one has done as much work in bookkeeping as the ordinary business college offers.

R.F.A. NEWS

Call Given For Local Methodists To Take Part In Bishops' Crusade; Program Planned

Issuing a call for all Colorado Methodists to enter wholeheartedly into the Bishops' Crusade of Methodism, members of the crusade committee of the First Methodist church this week announced plans for the Bishop's Crusade program of the local church on Friday evening, April 23.

On that date it is pointed out, Methodists in all parts of the nation are to gather in their churches for a great rally, the great goal being the wiping out of the Board of Missions debt. The goal of each church will be to have every adult member present.

The program for the local church will be held at 8 o'clock on Friday evening and will commemorate "89 glorious years of missionary history." There will be music by the church orchestra and a song, "The Kingdom is Coming." After a prayer, a scripture reading will be given by the Rev. C. E. Jameson, the choir will sing, and the purpose of the Bishops' Crusade will be presented. A pageant will be presented by Mrs. Ferris Bass, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, and Howard Lewis preceding the address of the evening, which will be given by a speaker yet to be selected. Miss Gladys Miller will sing, "We Are Able" and then an offering will be taken. A social hour in the basement will follow.

Following is the call issued by the local crusade committee:

"Methodism has called a Crusade for the recovery of the church's lost vigor and spiritual power in order that the lost radiance of a religious experience may be restored, that souls may be won, that life may be deepened, that missionary passion, sacrifice, and activity may be the major business of the church's numbers.

"One objective of 1937 is the wiping out of the Board of Missions debt incurred when the church, like other organizations, was struck by the depression in 1929. The time set for this is April 23, when all Methodists are to gather in their churches for a great rally. The goal of every church will be to have every adult member present. An offering will be made.

"On Sunday, April 25, a special sermon is to be preached and another offering made. This will commemorate the sailing to China of the church's first two missionaries 89 years ago. In 1938 a real spiritual revival is expected, but it is known that unless the first phase of the work—that of wiping out the debt—is accomplished, the second phase—a general heart-warming—will not result.

"This is a program for the whole church and the Southern Methodists of America should everyone be in their own local churches, singing, thinking, praying, and growing together.

"We want Colorado Methodists to have their part in this one hundred per cent strong. Each of you have a part—will you meet your obligation?"

SHRUBS DISCUSSED AT FAIRVIEW HD MEETING

By Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Reporter
"We are perhaps becoming more intelligent in regard to shrubs," said Miss Emma Gunter, Ft. D. agent at a meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration club with Mrs. Preston Pace Friday, April 9th.

Screen, hedge and foundation planting and shrubs and vines suitable for each were discussed. Baker's honeysuckle was suggested as one of the best plants for screen planting. Cydonia Japonica, Abilia and Forsythia for foundation planting, and arbor privet for hedges.

As Mrs. Roy Young has moved away Mrs. J. L. Strain was elected council delegate to fill her place. It was decided to have Rev. A. L. Haley come out April 15 and give a program at the church. Miss Gunter brought our play and assigned the parts. We plan to have it ready by the first of June. There were ten members present, Mrs. D. N. Pace and Miss Mosley, visitors, Miss Gunter and the hostess.

The next meeting will be April 23 at the home of Mrs. O. L. Simpson.

Tech Students In Earnest That The Public See Show

Engineers Exhibit Will Be Held At Lubbock Friday and Saturday

Did you ever see rayon being made? Have you ever seen a drill tipped with diamonds? Do you know what "chemilluminescence" is? Have you ever seen blueprints made? These and many other questions of interest to the average citizen of Mitchell county are to be explained during annual Engineers' Show at Texas Tech college, Lubbock, Friday and Saturday by the senior engineers in that school. Students of Mitchell county who are identified with the class are extending special invitation to citizens here to attend. A special message, urging members of the Lions Club to attend the show was brought to Colorado recently by John Tom Merritt.

In the electrical engineering department the visitor will see a demonstration of the electronic alarm, which is a radio circuit sensitive to the presence of a human body. There will be exhibits of the correct and incorrect method of lighting a reading room, an automatic drinking fountain, and a talking light beam. The giant tesla coil which generates 2,000,000 volts, will be in operation. A stroboscope will be on display, to be used to stop the motion of valves or pistons for the naked eye for the purpose of study.

The department of geology has prepared an animated model of a prehistoric dinosaur for the visitor. One exhibit will show how our modern machines pattern after basic animal skeletons in mechanical principles and lubrication systems. The effect of soil erosion will be shown on a stream table. Specimens of rocks and fluorescent minerals which glow in the dark will be on display. The visitor will pause for a few moments to view a motion picture "Glimpses of Texas—Its Natural Resources."

A blueprint machine in operation will be featured by the department of industrial engineering and engineering drawing.

At the mechanical engineering shops, small cups will be made on lathes by "spinning" the metal.

In the textile building the visitor will wander through large rooms inspecting the various steps of processing cotton and wool. For the first time he will see cotton dyed in the raw and then processed, instead of the usual procedure of first processing and then dyeing. A method of making rayon from filter paper will be demonstrated by the students of the textile department.

ALL TOGETHER FOR COLORADO

This is our fourth article on Buy-at-Home. Glen Burk declares: "I do not particularly want the greatest good for the greatest number. I want the greatest good for me. And to others I concede the same right."

He expressed the creed of every fighting American, for we are an intelligent people and we realize that we must look out for ourselves. It is not a selfish creed, for the greatest good for any one of us is likely to mean greatest good for all of us.

A prosperous community is generally a good place in which to live and work. Roger W. Babson points out in speaking of his own bleak Gloucester, "The spirit and thrift of a city are much greater factors in making prosperity than are natural resources."

Colorado will go far, because it has both natural resources and the spirit of cooperation that makes for good towns. But while we all mean to pull together, we are sometimes a little thoughtless. We forget that Colorado stores are a vital factor in our success that twenty-five per cent of our people depend on Colorado merchants for their livelihood.

A great man once wrote: "After the house in which he lives, nothing is more important to man in the economy of life than the store from which he draws the supplies upon which he lives."

It certainly behooves every citizen, whether he thinks of the greatest good for himself or the greatest good for the greatest number, to buy from Colorado stores, price and quality being equal. To do so guarantees a continued livelihood for twenty five per cent of our total population. It guarantees the continued prosperity of stores that do credit to our city—an annual payroll running into tens of thousands of dollars. It guarantees tens of thousands of dollars for taxes, licenses, rent and other items of overhead, all of which is placed into local circulation and becomes quick community assets in which we all share.

Let's stick shoulder to shoulder, then for Colorado! All together for that spirit and thrift which Babson says "are much greater factors in making prosperity than are natural resources." A solid front against the temptation to buy in other cities the things that can be had equally well from Colorado stores, remembering that if Colorado merchants do not have it they will get it for us.

ON GETTING MARRIED TOO SOON

A green boy without a dollar, present or prospective, sparking a girl regularly and talking about marrying, is a spectacle for gods and men. He should be reasoned with, and if he will not quit it until he is able to support a wife, and knows who he loves, and the difference between love and passion, he should be quarantined, or put in a convent erected on purpose for such cases. Nineteenth of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in the society pasture without any yoke on them.

They marry and have children before they have mustaches, they are fathers before they are proprietors of two pairs of pants, and the little girls they marry are old women before they are twenty. Occasionally one of these gossin marriages turns out all right, but it is a clear case of luck. It is time enough for these bantams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised enough money by their own work to buy a bundle of laths to build a hen house.

But they see a girl that looks cunning, and they are afraid there is not going to be enough girls to go around, and then they begin to get in their work real spry, and before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life, and before they own a cookstove or bedstead he has to get up at night and go for the doctor, so frightened that he nearly runs himself out of breath and abuses the doctor because he does not run too.

When the doctor gets there he finds that there is not enough linen in the house to wrap up a doll baby. It is about this time that a young man begins to realize that he is a colossal fool, and he flies around to heat water and bring in the bath tub, and goes whooping after his mother or her mother, he turns pale around the gills, his hair turns red in a single night and he calls high heaven to witness that if he lives until morning, of which he has serious doubts, he will turn over a new leaf and never get married again until he gets older.

And in the morning a green looking "father" is around before a drug store is open without a collar on, his hair sticking every way, his eyes bloodshot and his frame nervous, waiting for the clerk to open the door so he can get something to make tea of.

There is much talk of the divorce problem. There is no divorce evil or problem. To muffle the fire bell won't prevent fires. The problem is rearing men and women with sufficient moral stamina, with sufficient dependable character to meet the issues and hard facts of life, men and women who will stand firmly by their vows until they can meet and solve the social, family and individual problems of married life.

TIME CHANGES ALL THINGS

The constitution has spread enough, under the general welfare clause, to permit laws to stand that are passed by the people's representatives in Congress, and approved by the President, to meet the changed conditions brought about by the developments of this country. "It must be remembered that in 1787, when the constitution was created, there were no steamboats or steamship lines, no railroads, no hard roads, no telegraphs or telephones, no street cars, no gas companies, no electric lights, no electric power, no radios, no moving pictures, no airplanes, no public schools, very few corporations, few if any labor organizations, few if any combinations of capital, no Federal District Judges, etc." Changes in laws and courts have been made, and must continue to be made, to meet the requirements of developments, and conflicting interests caused by changed conditions. The Legislative and Executive departments have made six or seven changes in the number of supreme judges in the past without a constitutional amendment, and there is no valid reason why another change can not be made to carry out the wishes of Congress, the President and the people.

The Howl staff up at the High school asked me to write them some poetry for the Howl and here is what I wrote:

*Lauretta wears such flimsy skirts
The lightest fairy breeze
That comes along, can blow them up

WELL

*But in the ages that are gone
When grandma dressed quite plain
To blow her skirts above her knees
Would take a hurricane.*

One of our Colorado doctors was writing a prescription for a voluble lady patient. "Just put out your tongue." Continuing the writing he said, "There that will do." "But doctor," the patient protested, "you didn't look at my tongue." "It wasn't necessary. I just wanted to keep you quiet while I wrote the prescription."

A LAY SERMON

"Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word." Psalms 119:9.

In other words how shall a young man keep his way clean, keep clean? By taking heed thereto according to God's word. What was God's word at the time of the writing of this Psalm?

In Exodus 20 chapter we read: (1) Thou shalt have no other gods before me; (2) Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image; (3) Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; (4) Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy; (5) Honor thy father and thy mother; (6) Thou shalt not kill; (7) Thou shalt not commit adultery; (8) Thou shalt not steal; (9) Thou shalt not bear false witness; (10) Thou shalt not covet. And there is another included in the fourth commandment: "Six days shalt thou labor." Few persons do or wish to keep the sabbath holy and fewer, if any, wish to work six days each week.

We hear much about this being a corrupt age, the many temptations of the young, the difficulty of living righteous, clean lives and the change to modern conditions. But what are the changes and difficulties in living? To live clean lives and build substantial, dependable character requires about the same action and restriction that were required 4000 years ago.

It will be readily granted that if one keeps the Ten Commandments "from his youth up" he or she is a pretty dependable person, an upright person, a clean person. But who is doing that? Most people break one or more of these "rules of life" with impunity; some break each and all of them. And a man who breaks himself over only one of them wants to take credit to himself over the fact that he does not break the other nine.

That position is utterly futile. The man that breaks any one of the Ten Commandments willfully and persistently is liable to and often does suffer a sudden break in his moral character. His honesty, his integrity, his morality, his reliability, his dependability and other attributes are links in his chain of moral stamina. The persistent, continuous violation of any one of the Ten Commandments destroys one of these links. Suddenly with or without occasion the chain snaps and his friends are astounded to find him in a state of moral bankruptcy.

There is talk of the nation or nations being morally bankrupt. If such is the case, it is because the individuals are morally bankrupt. If individuals are morally bankrupt, it is because such individuals have openly and continuously flouted one of the ten elements to character building. Then wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way, keep his way clean, keep himself clear and clean and build and maintain a dependable character? By taking heed thereto according to God's word. Keep the Ten Commandments. It is an easy rule and may be hard to keep.

THE 119TH PSALM

Most people know nothing of this Psalm; a few people know something about it; no one knows all about it. It is known as the longest chapter in the Bible. It has 176 verses.

The word "way" occurs 12 times. The word "law" occurs 25 times. The word "testimonies" occurs 23 times. "Precepts" occur 21 times. "Statutes" 22 times. "Commandments" 22 times. "Judgments" 21 times. "Word" 41 ties and "ordinances" 1 time. This makes 188 times these synonymous words occur in this one division of the Psalms. Neither of these words occur in verses 90, 122 and 132. Verses 1, 15, 16, 48, 160, 165 172 have two each of these words. These 9 words meaning somewhat the same thing are found 188 times in 176 verses.

And any one of the 176 verses is a good foundation for a sermon or lecture. If the writer was a preacher he would begin at the first verse and preach straight through 176 sermons. This might result like the new preacher at one place. He preached several sermons on repentance. A committee took him out and asked him why he continued to preach on repentance. He replied that all hadn't repented yet.

WORDS AND MEDITATIONS

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer." Psa. 19:14.

Some one has well said, "We are not what we think we are; but, what we think, we are." Every thought makes a place for itself somewhere in our personality structure, and from that place yields its influence over all of our future lives.

If a thought be evil, it tends to produce evil somewhere, in some way; and its ugly fruit may ripen and surprise us sometime in the future when we are least prepared to receive it.

On the other hand, no good thought is ever lost, for it is also a living plant in the garden of personality, and cannot fail to bring forth fruit after its kind. And so each of us creates some measure of Heaven or Hell for ourselves here and now according to our thoughts. It is not how much we learn, but how fully we use what good we discover, that raises us above the averages in life.

When we catch these glimpses of the importance of thought we may well join David in the great prayer which forms our text, for as our thoughts create us, our words reveal us to others. It can be said of every one, "Thy speech betrayeth thee." Listen to a man's conversation when he is not on guard, and it is then easy to learn what he is at heart. Our inmost thoughts have a habit of finding their way to our tongues, and leap over our lips in the unguarded moments. Let us prayerfully strive to keep our thoughts and words in harmony with our Creator, and enjoy the certainty of greater success and well being both here and hereafter.

THE OCEAN TIDE

The tides, the ebb and the flows are caused by the slosh of the mighty waters. The slosh itself is caused by the turning of the earth, just as the wheeling of a water pail causes a slosh in the pail of water. No professional scientist will admit this, because it is too simple. A professional scientist delights in the complex. He likes to understand phenomena in a way that nobody else understands them. Still, our admiration goes out to the scientists. They really do great works, although they have been trying for two thousand years to make hair grow on baldheads, without being able to raise more than a fuzz.

Chevrolet Brakes Built To Sustain Safety Measures

Important Aspect Of Motor Driving Gets Consideration At The Factory

By C. E. Wetherald
General Manufacturing Manager
Chevrolet Division,
General Motors Corporation
One of the most important aspects of motoring these days is the business of motoring safety. Safety campaigns are under way in all the major cities of the United States. Various commissions have been appointed to study the problem and make recommendations to legislative bodies.

The primary responsibility for traffic safety, however, lies with the motor car driver.

The manufacturer has provided all the safety devices that the sane driver should require. He has built the Turret Top, all-steel body to protect driver and passengers. He has provided a powerful engine that has enough power to pull the car out of unexpected situations.

And in Chevrolet, we have given the public a new and perfected hydraulic braking system that is one of the safest and surest that it is possible to build.

There are more than 100 reasons why the Chevrolet brake is all but foolproof, and these are the careful and meticulous inspections of every part that goes into the brake along with the checks that are made during assembly of the various brake parts.

A recent checkup of operations revealed that there are more than four-score of parts that go into the Chevrolet brake. Each is inspected during machining operations and at various specified intervals along the brake assembly line. Specifications must be met to the thousandth of one inch. Balance must be perfect, hardness and strength must conform to standards. Each part must fit the others precisely.

The checkup showed that there are over 100 manufacturing operations in the fabrication of the completed brake. Each of these includes an inspection by the worker on each particular job. In addition, special inspectors check up at specified intervals.

Exposed parts are given a bath in a special anti-rust solution to insure against deterioration and to guard against any possible impairment of the brake's functioning.

Within the shops, special safety features guard the workmen against all hazards. Every machine is equipped with guards to make it almost impossible for a man to get hurt.

The precise grinding of the brake shoes means that in the assembled brake the power is evenly distributed over the entire braking surface. The final adjustment of the brake provides an expansion of nine-thousandths of an inch will brake the car.

From the hub of the wheel in the little hydraulic cylinder that provides the braking power, each part of the Chevrolet brake has been made to conform to rigid engineering standards to provide the utmost in safety insurance to the automobile driver.

Next to the alertness of the driver himself, the most important thing to be considered in motoring safety is the car's braking system.

OATMEAL FOOD FOR THE FAMOUS QUINS

Child specialists and diet experts appointed by the Canadian government to care for those charming babies, the Dionne Quintuplets, have chosen oatmeal as the Quins' cereal. Every mother will be interested to learn the reasons for their choice. Because no money or effort is spared and the Quins' diet is always one of the first considerations.

It is because medical authorities agree that oatmeal with milk is so full of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, energy-making carbohydrates, and Vitamin B' for keeping fit.

The importance of Vitamin B in children's diets is emphasized by food scientists because it is essential for childhood's protection against nervousness, constipation, and poor appetite due to lack of that vitamin in the diet. That is why they give the Quins generous helpings of Quaker Oats.
