Four-H Club Girls Of County Enjoy Outing At Lake Sweetwater Despite Hot Weather

In spite of hot weather, Mitchell county 4-H club girls who attended the two-day encampment at Lake Sweetwater last week reported "a fine time" when they returned home late Saturday.

Gathering at the courthouse Friday morning at 10 o'clock, the girls were conveyed to camp in the Dorn school bus.

A semi-military organization was formed for camp duties. Two adult sponsors, Mrs. Carl Lowry of Carr and Mrs. Douglas Barber of Conaway, assisted Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, in overseeing activities of the camp. A recreational program of games, songs, stunts, and skits was featured.

Transportation and groceries for this outing were financed by the Colorado chamber of commerce. Dorn school donated the use of its bus.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

The good old days when "meeting the train" was almost a daily social event and certainly a most popular diversion in Colorado might come back, who can tell? I was in the T. & E. passenger depot just before train time Saturday noon and picked up more local items than I've found in any other single place this week.

Grace Mann buying a ticket for Denton, Dallas, and other points. . . . Jan Lee going to Cisco. . . . Mrs. Harold (Fayrel Plaster) Boney and her daughters returning to Baird. . . . Mrs. Bertha Barber going back to Abilene. . . . And others there I didn't recognize, ready to board the 1:19. . . . It all brought to my mind "how times do change." . . . Years ago, before cars became so universally used, one of the regular "beats" of a snoopy reporty like myself was to "cover the trains." . . . Or so I'm told. . . . But in the years since I've been working such would have been practically a waste of time, because the trains brought little and took away little but the mail. . . . Modernization of train travel, especially the use of air-conditioning, has changed that. . . . People are traveling by train again. . . . I may have to add "covering the trains" to my already-varied list of duties. . . .

Mr. Shropshire, who used to be Baby Dale Warren, will be missed in other organizations, too. . . . Mrs. Pond is a Zetogathian and a Bridgette. . . . Mrs. Shropshire is a Hesperian. . . .

A knee injury that didn't seem to be very serious to begin with has just about ruined Marcella Fee's summer. . . . She's just back from Dallas, where the cast was removed last week, but she has several weeks of inactivity still ahead of her, they tell me. . . .

A certain director of the renowned Promising Oil company was discovered in a Midland alley early this week engaged in a rush job of trailer painting. . . . The trailer wasn't his, either. . . . But, to do the man justice, he wasn't trying to camouflage it. . . . He'd simply borrowed it some time ago, had forgotten to return it, and was applying the coat of paint as a sort of peace offering. . . .

I hear that the friends of one of Colorado's most popular girls are calling her "Florence Nightingale" because of her faithful attendance at the bedside of a certain patient at Root hospital. . . .

A brief story in the Sweetwater Reporter Tuesday told of the marriage of R. H. Snyder and Gladys Carey of Colorado in the courtroom of S. E. Shook, Sweetwater justice of the peace, on Monday.

Fort Worth Paper Gives An Account Of Beal-Scroggie Wedding, Thursday Night

An account of the marriage of Miss Frances Ann Beal of Colorado to Dr. Val Scroggie of Dallas in Fort Worth last Thursday evening appeared in Friday morning's Fort Worth Star-Telegram as follows:
 "The marriage of Miss Frances Ann Beal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Beal of Colorado, to Dr. Val Scroggie of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Scroggie of that city, took place Thursday night at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Beal, 2719 Waits avenue.
 "The ceremony was read by Dr. John Lord of T. C. U. before an improvised altar of pines, snapdragons, and fern. White tapers burned in tall candelabra. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, H. C. (Jimmy) Beal II of Fort Worth.
 "The bride wore navy blue sheer ensemble with matching navy blue felt hat and accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.
 "Her only attendant was Miss Martha Reba Hubbard of Dallas, who wore a pink lace frock with a corsage of seasonal blossoms. Dr. Carl Fleet of Dallas was best man.
 "An informal reception was held after the wedding for close friends and relatives. Dr. and Mrs. Scroggie have gone to Detroit, Michigan, where he is to intern one year at Harper hospital.
 "The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Beal, and her sister, Betty Jo, returned Friday night to their home at the White Elephant ranch. They had been in Fort Worth since Monday.

Vets' Hospital For West Texas Sought
 By George Mahon

Favorable Consideration Has Been Given Effort, Local Congressman Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Hearings by a special committee on the need for a general medical and surgical veterans hospital for West Texas may be expected within the next few weeks, according to Congressman George Mahon. He conferred with Colonel George E. Hams of the Veterans Administration who is a member of the special committee appointed by General Frank T. Hines, Administrator of the Veterans Administration, to make a general study of the need for additional veterans hospital facilities. The West Texas-Panhandle section is one of two areas in the United States designated by the administrator to be given particular consideration.
 As originally appointed, the special committee consisted of Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., Surgeon General of the United States public health service and chairman of the special committee, General George H. Wood, special representative of the administrator on National homes for veterans, and Colonel George E. Hams, assistant administrator of the veterans administration, but Dr. Parran was unable to serve. Rear Admiral P. S. Rossiter, surgeon general of the United States navy, has been asked to serve as chairman, but his acceptance of the assignment had not been given last week. As soon as the committee is completed, open hearings will be held to consider the need for new hospitals.
 Mahon stated that he expected to appear before the committee and urge favorable recommendation for the West Texas hospital. He has a bill pending in this congress which authorizes an appropriation for a hospital to be erected in the Fifth American Legion district comprising all of West Texas. Bills with more limited restrictions as to location have been introduced by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Congressman Ewing Thomson of El Paso, and Congressman Clyde Garrett of Eastland.
 Mahon pointed out the necessity for cooperation of all West Texas areas in an effort to secure a favorable recommendation at the veterans administration at this time, stating that competition between individual cities could easily detract from the weight of argument for the veterans hospital for all West Texas. He stated that the appointment of the special committee for special consideration was more definite encouragement than had heretofore been given by the veterans administration.

Efficient Motorist
 Regards Rights Of Others On Highway

Pertinent Motoring Tips Are Offered Public By Official
 Of Chevrolet Motor Co.

The following article on motoring tips is contributed to The Record by J. M. Crawford, chief engineer, Chevrolet division, General Motors corporation:
 Not long ago, a party of tourists narrowly escaped mishap when a battered old car coming toward them on the highway suddenly cut across their path into a farm drive. Good brakes on their car, and a wide apron on the road, enabled them to miss it by a hair, and as they backed onto the road again, they congratulated the driver, who was just beginning to realize how close to trouble he had been.
 "Why in the world didn't you signal that you were going to turn?" one of the party demanded.
 "Why, Mister," the other driver answered, "I thought everybody knew I live here."
 Whoever remarked that the average car was better than the average driver probably meant that operating technique, as observable on our streets and highways, has not kept pace with the evolution of the motor car itself. Certainly a little heavier stress on the niceties of driving would enable the motoring public to secure a greater measure of the comfort, safety, and general satisfaction that are built into every car today.
 In my opinion, that motorist is the most competent who keeps in mind, at all times, the fact that there are others besides himself on the road, and drives in a manner consistent with that realization. The good driver never assumes that others know what he intends to do. He signals every move—not only his steers and turns, but also his intention to pull away from a curb. He is equally careful to give notice, with his horn, when about to pass. Observance of proper signal procedure will automatically do away with one of the most dangerous driving hazards—the sudden unexpected move.
 And if he hopes to qualify among the really topnotch drivers, he will go one step further, and keep his eyes open for the other fellow's signals, so that his own starts, stops and turns may be based on information more reliable than a guess or a "hunch" of what others are about to do.

VIOLENT DEATH TOLL HELD HIGH RECORD IN TEXAS AS 20 KILLED OVER WEEK-END

This County Continues Out Of Fatality Roster, However, As Traffic Accidents And Other Causes Take Life

Another week-end of fatalities has blurred the history of Texas with a total of 20 violent deaths recorded, 12 of whom died in traffic accidents. In this respect Mitchell county again escaped with no serious accidents reported although a few motor accidents in which cars were demolished occurred on highways of this immediate territory.

State highway patrol and other public officials dealing with the traffic problem suggest that persistent appeal from practically every organized source is having good effect in keeping traffic accidents of a serious nature to a low figure in this section of West Texas. Safety lane campaign conducted by the patrol here a few weeks ago is being followed by municipal officials and the press in stressing the importance of driving under strict safety practices when at the wheel of a car or truck.

During the week-end two persons died from drowning in Texas, three were shot to death, one died from the kick of a mule, another was killed in a fight and one leaped from a three-story building, in addition to the dozen killed in traffic mishaps.

Herman Carter, 22, of Ben Wheeler, Van Zandt county, died Monday of injuries received that night when two automobiles sideswiped on highway 15 one mile west of Forney.

William Howard, 20, of Livingston, and J. H. Hood, 24, of Jefferson, died from burns caused when an automobile overturned. Mrs. Vera Schwend, 45, of Dallas, succumbed to injuries suffered Friday night in an automobile-truck collision near Rowlett.

Ed Holly, 17, was killed in an automobile-train collision at Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson, 51, and 40 years old respectively, of San Marcos, and Lupe Gonzales, of Del Rio, were killed in a truck-automobile crash near San Marcos.

Warren F. Moore, 45, died from injuries in an automobile accident Thursday near Abilene, where he resided. At San Antonio Nathan Jones, 17, of Conroe, was fatally injured in a fall from an automobile running board; Elso Schneider, 17, died from injuries in a bicycle-automobile collision; and Thomas Garcia, 60, was fatally injured when struck by a truck.

Nelson Lewis, 14, drowned at Malakoff. Leonard Campbell, 25, drowned near Elderville.

Alex Schuppel, 22, was shot to death at Houston. Antonio Perez, 28, and Faustino Villela, 44, were found shot to death at San Antonio.

Roger Byrne Jeffrey, 4, died at Lockhart from complication caused by the kick of a mule three weeks ago.

Melvin Comstock, 23, of Gholsion, died from injuries received during a fight.

Perry Morrison, 34, leaped to his death from the third floor of police headquarters at Houston.

HOSPITAL NEWS

MISS PRICE 'FAIR'

Although she is still not out of danger, Miss Callie Price is "holding her own" in an encouraging manner, according to hospital attendants. Miss Price has been critically ill since undergoing surgery for a ruptured appendix nearly two weeks ago. She was given two blood transfusions this week. Her condition Thursday morning was described as "more favorable."

Mrs. W. P. Bassham, heart patient, remains about the same.

PATIENTS DISMISSED

Last week's appendectomy patients dismissed from the hospital this week were Charles Walker of near Colorado, Jimmy Cook of Colorado, Charles Hall of Colorado, Josephine Nunn of Colorado.

John Bryant of Route 3, a ruptured appendix case of two weeks ago, went home Thursday.

FOUR APPENDECTOMIES

Four appendectomies have been performed this past week. M. L. Cope of Westbrook received surgery on Thursday. Mrs. G. W. Webb of Buford on Monday. Charley Smith on Monday afternoon, and Red Womack Tuesday. All are "doing fine."

TWO TONSILLECTOMIES

Two tonsillectomies have been administered. Mrs. Belle Vaughan's tonsils were removed Saturday morning. Those of Rogers Bussey of near Colorado were removed Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Elliott and little daughter, Shirley, have returned from a visit to Denton. Mrs. Charlie Mizell of Denton, sister of Mrs. Elliott, accompanied them home for a visit here and in Lorraine.

LIVING UP TO MY AD

Giving you tops in Mileage

I know the trouble. So many oil ads yell mileage, that you can't tell one way or another. I don't want my own ads to be in that class, so I'd like you to know all I'm staking, when I personally recommend Conoco Germ Processed oil to you. In my case, you see, I'm the owner of my business. And there's nothing makes repeat customers for me like my Germ Processed oil . . . or I ought to say, the long mileage it gives you. The patent Germ Process makes this oil get fastened real firm to the bearings and cylinders and other parts—as if they'd been built with an actual plating of oil that can't separate . . . can't thin out and burn right up. Neither is it going to run down every time you stop. Then you can't make any "dry starts" with Oil-Plating, and right there is where engineers say you will end a good half of all the wear you used to get in Summer. The less wear, the less oil your engine eats. You'll get on to this yourself, from your cool quiet Oil-Plated engine. And that's how I make another good friend for my Conoco Germ Processed oil.

FAIRVIEW WOMEN TALK ABOUT FLIES

By Mrs. O. L. Simpson, Reporter
"This is the time of year when everyone is or should be fighting flies, mosquitoes, and household insects," said Mrs. W. W. Jenkins as she led the lesson on control of household and other insects when the Fairview Home Demonstration club met Friday at the home of Mrs. L. A. Strain.

It was pointed out that fly traps at the back doors and around the garbage can will cost little and catch thousands of flies.

Mrs. L. A. Strain was appointed chairman of a committee to amend by-laws of the club. On the committee with her are Mrs. Claude Willis and Mrs. Preston Pace. Mrs. Claude Willis was elected parliamentarian.

As kitchen demonstrator Mrs. Jenkins reported her floors oiled.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO J. O. McCRELESS

An illness of more than a year claimed the life of J. O. McCreless, former Coloradoan, at his home in San Antonio early Monday. Funeral services were held in San Antonio Tuesday morning.

Kiker & Son had charge of local funeral arrangements.

Boys' Clubs Have Projects In Good State, Baskin Finds

Meetings Held During This And Last Week With 4-H Clubs Of County

Four-H Club boys of Mitchell county are making splendid progress with their maize and cotton projects, Ben J. FUNERAL HELD HERE FRIDAY FOR YOUNG VICTIM OF POISON

Victim of self-administered poison, Minnie Anderson, 18, was buried here Friday afternoon following services at Kiker chapel.

Miss Anderson died in a Big Spring hospital shortly before midnight Wednesday, about an hour after she had swallowed the contents of a bottle of household disinfectant. Joe A. Faucett, Big Spring justice of the peace, returned a verdict of suicide.

Until about two weeks before her death Miss Anderson, who was reared in Colorado, worked in a local cafe. She went to work in a Coahoma cafe after leaving here. She was the daughter of Mrs. John Busbee of Colorado.

The Big Spring Daily Herald gave the following account of the manner in which Miss Anderson died:

"Opal Goodin, roommate of Miss Anderson, told the justice of peace that she returned to their room near the cafe where they worked Wednesday evening to find Miss Anderson across the bed, an empty bottle nearby.

"She said that the girl was still conscious and begged weakly: 'Don't call anyone. I've done it. I want to go.'

"Help was summoned and Miss Anderson was rushed to a local hospital where a stomach pump was applied and counteractives administered without success. She died 20 minutes later.

"Previously the girl had made threats to end her life. Faucett was told by Miss Goodin. The night before she had declared her intentions but Miss Goodin said she 'talked her out of it.'

In addition to her mother Miss Anderson is survived by her father, Joe Anderson of California; her stepfather, John Busbee of Colorado; a sister, Mrs. Maude Allison of Colorado; two brothers, Oscar Anderson of Colorado and Bine Anderson of Eeolon, California.

Kiker & Son had charge of local funeral arrangements.

'Practice Safety Rules' Is Slogan Of Col-Tex Paper

'The Safetygram' Prides In Splendid Record At The Plant During Year

"The Safetygram," official publication issued by employees at Col-Tex refinery, largest industrial enterprise in Mitchell county, is chesky over the splendid safety record maintained there during the first six months of 1937.

In current edition of the paper illustrated data featuring the appalling death toll through accidents in America last year is given considerable space. A total of 111,000 accidental deaths attended passing of the calendar days of the year, the paper recalls.

After referring the reader to those figures, attention is directed to safety record of Col-Tex during the year. To date there has been only one lost time accident and five doctor cases reported among the employees.

"Is it necessary to practice safety rules?" interrogates N. H. White, Jr., editor, as he presses the urge that every precaution against accidents be maintained by the men. "Let's do everything in our power to go the rest of the year without any further accidents," he suggested.

Timely reference to the Fourth, personal news notes dealing with personnel at the plant and other features combine to make the paper one of interest, both to the large number of citizens identified with the plant and the general public.

THE EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM - - - - - IF HE KNOWS WHERE TO LOOK!

Watch a robin on the lawn some sunshiny morning. A few hops, then a pause. A few more hops, and he listens again. Then, triumphant, he pulls out a fat, wriggling worm.

A silly bird, you would say, if he merely pecked here and there, hoping to strike it lucky.

O mores! O tempora! In other words, what are we coming to? Never before in our lives have we witnessed so much immodesty as is being paraded before our eyes today. Pictures of practically nude women unashamed, are being flaunted on the pages of almost every newspaper and magazine, every billboard and movie screen. Practically nude women, unabashed and unashamed, appear in the flesh before the gaze of men in many public places. Never before in the history of our country was there so much drinking and drunkenness among women and girls. And never before was there as much infamous crime as is being committed today—young men killing their sweethearts, girls killing their boy friends; husbands killing their wives and wives killing their husbands; children murdering their parents and parents murdering their children; even mothers, so steeped in immorality, as to be able to murder their own offspring with no apparent compunctions of conscience. There has never before been anything like it in the history of our country. We need to get back to the cardinal virtues. We need to become God-conscious. We need to study anew the Ten Commandments and the teachings of Jesus. Were it not for the fact that in spite of all this Maelstrom of immorality we still have a great body of noble men and women and the finest set of young people the world has ever known, the situation would indeed seem hopeless. But we have the faith to believe that the forces of righteousness and virtue will prevail, that Christian principles will continue to spread, and that the world will continue its struggle upward toward the light.—Lynn County-News.

Several weeks ago a barbecue dinner was spread at the Spade ranch at which "Uncle Bill" of Sterling City was present and in his "Rambling Remarks" had some uncomplimentary remarks about the Panjandrum of this column and for that reason, in answering the above Lynn County News article we are going to steal some of "Uncle Bill's" thunder and mix it up with ours.

Brother Hill, you must be getting old. The bad things of which you speak concerning the crimes of the human race have always been the heritage of mankind.

Speaking of the nakedness and the want of common modesty of today, don't you recall reading in your Bible that the first man and woman did not wear any clothes until that old, talking snake had a palaver with the woman and influenced her to don a fig leaf gown. The man also made him a pair of britches out of fig leaves. Remember now that they were as naked as young birds until the woman met a snake that could talk.

From that time on, people wore clothes until recently, some nutty people started the fashion of going naked, and other nuts followed the style by wearing next to nothing and exposing their anatomy so much that they think little of it.

Don't you remember about King David, the man after God's own heart, got so happy over the recovery of the Ark of the Covenant that he pulled off his shirt and britches and danced a jig before all the folks, and his wife, Michal, bawled him out about it?

Don't you recall reading about some of the capers of King Solomon with the women?

Now about murder and other crimes of which we have a lot today. Don't you recall the siege of a certain city in Bible times where the women killed and ate their babies and the head of a jackass sold for a big piece of money. Remember about Pharaoh and King Herod having had all the babies of a certain age slaughtered? As you know the German naval force under that windbag Hitler are about the only ones who keep up that sport as a regular amusement.

It has always been thus. When you and I were coming up we never saw a woman's ankle until we were grown up and married, but it was the style then. In those days women were very careful to keep their persons covered. It was considered bad for a woman to expose her limbs (legs). I never knew one who had the temerity to do it until late years, when the skirts began to grow shorter and shorter until they reached a lofty altitude. Then they began to grow longer and longer until they have reached almost to the depths of former modesty.

It is all in the fashion, Brother Hill. When it was the style to wear dresses as tight as the skin on an eel, they wore them. When the skirts were so long that they trailed a yard behind, they wore them and when they became so brief that they became a matter of mere imagination, they wore them. All this time, the minister thundered at each change in style, but the women always looked good to me, no matter if their habiliments were a la Sallie Rand. It does no good, Brother Hill, women are going to wear what they please, and we old fellows can do nothing about it except to howl, and I for one, don't like to howl.

As for crime, Brother Hill, the reason we think that there is more crime now than there used to be is because we have newspapers, telephones, radio and other quick means of learning of them, and we naturally think that the world is going to hades because every crime is now fed to the printing press, whereas, in the long ago, we didn't hear of one crime in twenty.

People are no worse now than they always were. Of course they take spells of being bad at times, as they always did. The time will come when people will quit going nude because it is more comfortable to wear clothes. They will let up on crime because they will finally learn that crime doesn't pay.

Then there will be a spell when the world will be calm and serene again. It all goes by spells, Brother Hill.

The Sunday evening service out at the park was in the hands of the Baptists and they having no pastor substituted Bro. C. E. Jameson who orated, preaching a Baptist sermon from a Methodist standpoint.

He avoided the use of the word water and infants and touched on apostasy very lightly. In his discourse he had occasion to say lots about wisdom. "Wisdom is the greatest asset a preacher can have." In wisdom there is strength." Then he went on to say "I am not wise."

A Baptist deacon sitting on the front seat said, "We know you are not wise, if you had had wisdom you would never have been a Methodist preacher."

A lady reader of this column was dressing to go to the Bridge club when she said to her daughter, "I'm afraid I'll be late." The daughter replied, "Oh dear, Mother don't you know that in a fashionable set nobody goes to a party until everybody has got there?"

A lady friend of mine has bought a new car. Someone asked her what make. She replied, rather vaguely, I think I heard my husband say it was a WOW.

Mr. Wallace who has become a national figure is now treading on dangerous grounds. It is said he is a teacher of a Bible class and is trying to introduce Communism into their religion.

The writer of this column once taught a Bible class and as we said before "an aphorism is applicable to some experts but not to others."

We suggest to him as a timely and appropriate lesson text, Acts 4, 33-37, and 5, 1-11, which is an account of the Apostolic Church's venture in communism. Wholly of their own accord, these first Christians organized a co-operative society, such as Mr. Wallace proposes for the United States. But when it came time to kick in, a certain couple named Ananias and Sapphira kept back part of their means with tragic consequences. "And great fear came upon all the church." The first cooperative society was disbanded and never was mentioned again.

This lesson text will open the way for Mr. Wallace to tell his class how he expects to make his device work despite the fact that the devout, miracle-working Christians failed. He might also explain why the Almighty expressed His disapproval of this first co-operative society by bringing great fear upon all of its members, upon even all of them that turned in all of their means.

NEWSPAPER VS. CIRCULAR

If you ever need another good argument for newspaper advertising as opposed to circular advertising, perhaps one of these will help:

It reaches more actual buyers than the circular. The life of a country weekly is longer than that of a circular. A newspaper has more prestige than third-class matter.

The local merchant reaps a direct benefit from local newspaper advertising by putting his money in local circulation.

The money spent for postage is a dead loss to the community and never returns to it.

If all the money spent by local merchants for postage on third-class matter were spent in local newspaper advertising, the local newspaper could put more local men to work, grow into a better newspaper, put more property on the tax rolls, and benefit the whole community.

A student of the Bible says there are in Genesis thirty-seven specific prophecies of the second coming of Christ; more than twenty in Exodus, and in Isaiah there are more than seventy specific prophecies of the return of Christ. There are numerous prophecies in other books of the Bible pointing to the second coming of Christ. As to the time, that has not been revealed. But we are told that when we hear of wars, rumors of wars, famines, pestilences, earthquakes, and apostasies, you may know the time is near at hand. Like death and the flood, Christ will come unexpectedly, and many will not be prepared to meet Him.

The Cazique of the column like Popeye, the Sailor Man, desires to state "I am what I am and that's what I am."

General Nelson A. Miles once said, "I lived as a farm boy the happiest days of my life. I think such a life laid the foundation for my healthful constitution, its simplicity and purity having a great influence upon my after success—greater than anything else. It taught me habits of industry and economy, and its freedom and independence caused me to acquire the habit of thinking for myself. The exercise of farm life gave me strength and courage."

From George Washington's Farewell Address: "If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the Constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance in permanent evil any partial or transient benefit which the use can at any time yield."

- "God give us men! A time like this demands
- Strong men, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
- Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
- Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
- Men who possess opinions and a will;
- Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
- Men who can stand before a demagogue
- And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
- Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
- In public duty and in private thinking."—John G. Holland.

Epsom Salts Will Not Kill Hoppers Farmers Advised

County Agent Cites Recent Tests In Which Negative Results Were Obtained

Considerable publicity has been given recently to the use of epsom salts instead of arsenicals with bromine to destroy grasshoppers, Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, stated Monday afternoon. Baskin stated that several inquiries had come to his office as to efficiency of the new formula.

Extensive tests in which epsom salts was used have proven negative in destroying grasshoppers have been reported by government experts, the county agent explained. In a recent test conducted under direction of the Federal Grasshopper Control with offices in Minneapolis, Minn., standard bait killed 98 to 100 per cent of the hoppers within 48 hours and the epsom salt mixture failed to produce any fatalities at all after a period of ten days.

Baskin offers the following formula for killing the pests: Twenty-five pounds coarse wheat bran, one pound white arsenic or Paris green, one ounce amyl acetate, 2 quarts molasses. Water sufficient to make mixture that will crumble when placed in small piles. Should be applied at rate of five pounds per acre. Broadcasting should be done early in morning before temperature reaches 90 degrees or late in the afternoon.

The Willingness of a Bank to Loan

—is limited only by the fundamental rules of good banking practice.

IN making loans a bank uses primarily the money of others—its depositors. As custodian of this money it is obligated to obtain adequate assurance that its borrowers are responsible and its loans are safe. Furthermore, a large part of a bank's deposits are subject to withdrawal on demand and it must always have ample cash available.

For this reason preference is given to commercial loans for current business activities, because their cash proceeds are sufficient, within a specified period, to repay the loan. These repayments, together with new deposits, enable the bank to meet the requirements of depositors and to make fresh loans.
