

SURFACE RESERVOIRS WILL GIVE RANGERS OF COUNTY ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY

Containers Being Built This Year In All Sections Of Area; 42 Cooperating In Conservation Project

Application of the Federal conservation program for 1937 to ranch lands of this section, in so far as the water control feature is concerned, is being accepted by cattlemen here as one of the longest strides ahead they have taken in years. Earthen tanks, either completed or definitely planned, are to dot the ranch lands of Mitchell county once the objective shall have been finished.

Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, stated Monday that a total of 42 ranchers were cooperating in the tank building program. The earthen containers are being located along water sheds on the uplands and in drouth seared creek beds where as a rule no water surplus has heretofore been stored.

Completion of the tanks will give to the cattlemen of this county their largest and most dependable water supply in history," the agent said. There are 300,000 acres affected under the project.

R. S. Brennand, Sr., has completed two tanks on the Phelan lease near Latah. These are of the "dam" type, Chester Jones, controlling ranch interest at Latah and Vincent, has moved 775 yards of earth in building of a "dishpan" tank on his Vincent place and plans three more of the surface water containers.

Leading in this general county-wide move to conserve water supply while at the same time protect soil against deteriorating effects of erosion, is the Spade ranch, large cattle domain south of Colorado. A total of 17 tanks are to be built on that ranch, several of which have been finished or are now under construction.

Frank McCabe, ranching on a part of the old F. E. McKenzie holdings southeast of Colorado, has completed two tanks. One has a dam containing 300 yards of earth and will hold water six feet in depth. The other dam required 675 yards of dirt to build and will hold water seven and one-half feet deep.

Victor McCabe, ranching in that same locality, has finished a dishpan tank from which 900 yards of earth were removed. This reservoir will hold water up to seven feet in depth.

Roy E. Warren and U. D. Wulfjen have completed a large reservoir on range lands controlled by them under lease. 1,000 yards of earth was moved in its making and water will stand eight feet deep when rising to the spillway.

There are many others who will soon be reporting completion of the storage facilities, Baskin outlined. All of the tanks were planned under personal supervision of Bruce Byrne, Jr., official range inspector for the county conservation committee.

MITCHELL COUNTY FAIR IS TENTATIVELY PLANNED FOR THIS FALL BY CC LEADERS

Exposition, If Held, Will Be Given In Connection With Home Coming Festivities; Committee Is Appointed

Reorganization of the Mitchell County Fair association on a permanent basis to sponsor exposition here annually in keeping with the progress this county and section is making in agriculture, ranching, oil, poultry and other industries is announced as a major objective of the chamber of commerce and cooperating agencies.

Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, and Doyle Williams, director of the vocational agriculture department in high school, met with directors of the CC Tuesday evening to discuss merits of such an undertaking and urge that the organization investigate possibilities of staging a successful fair at Colorado later during the year.

Manager Blasig of the chamber was another to lend strong endorsement to the proposal. He pointed out the fact that Colorado at the present time had no such permanent organization to which citizens of this territory would be attracted to Colorado.

The directors voted to proceed tentatively and requested that President Thompson name a committee to contact the public to determine whether or not reorganization of a fair association was to be undertaken. Baskin was named chairman of the group with Williams, H. F. Ward, John Baze, P. K. Mackey, J. W. Kandle and Frank Kelley members.

The committee was requested to make report of its findings within ten days. The proposed fair would be held in conjunction with the annual Home Coming with rodeo and probably other entertainment attractions included. Baskin and others giving expression on the plan Tuesday night were of the opinion the event would prove successful and represent the beginning of an annual event meaning much to every interest of the county.

"I attended the best poultry show in Colorado a few years ago that I have ever seen anywhere in this country, and the farm and livestock exhibits that featured fairs here in other years were outstanding," stated J. Ralph Lee, member of the CC board.

CC Continues With Appeal Its Budget Be Underwritten

Objectives Ahead Continued For Final Okeh Pending Finances Needed

The proposition that the chamber of commerce must have its annual budget of $5,000 underwritten by the public, if the organization is given opportunity to operate to the best interests of Colorado and Mitchell county continues to find strong support among directors of the organization.

At executive meeting convened Tuesday night report by the manager showed that the recent membership drive had fallen short of the $800 needed to hike annual income of the chamber to the figure accepted as minimum goal. There are now 175 members of the CC, a total considered from fifty to seventy-five under what the roster registrations should indicate, it is stated.

President Thompson and other executives outlined that the present financial income was only sufficient to meet actual operating expense—that of salaries, office rent and other overhead. With no funds left in the treasury to finance projects that by all means should now be well under way, the organization will be handicapped, they contended.

COUNTY ELECTORATE WILL CARRY PROPOSED HOSPITAL BONDS TO POLLS JULY 31

Four-Cent Tax Sufficient To Retire Issue Of $30,000; County Will Acquire Root Plant If Voters Approve

Proposal that Mitchell county acquire and operate a general hospital to be paid for out of proceeds of a $30,000 bond issue will be settled at the ballot box during a special election to be held on Saturday, July 31. Order calling for the election was issued here Monday by the county commissioners' court.

The bonds, if authorized, will be for the exclusive purpose of purchasing building and equipment of the C. L. Root hospital in Colorado, proponents of the objective have stated. The institution would be operated under management of a board of directors appointed by commissioners' court who, in turn, would be authorized to appoint the plant superintendent.

Drive looking to acquisition of a county hospital, at which all citizens of the county and all accredited physicians and surgeons of the county—or out of it—would have equal privileges, was launched several weeks ago at mass meeting of representative citizens of several communities. Petition requesting the election was circulated in practically every section of the county.

Dr. Root has agreed to the court and other interested citizens that his hospital plant, involving an investment of $55,000, would be sold to the county at $30,000, a reduction of $25,000. Physicians here and at Lorraine who have inspected the property have been free to declare that the purchase figure is a most reasonable one.

Owner of the hospital is fully in accord with plans of citizens to acquire an open institution. His full cooperation has been given leaders in the campaign so far and in event the bonds are voted Dr. Root will relinquish his holdings at a financial loss.

The bonds would require a tax rate of not more than four cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property, Judge C. C. Thompson, one of the sponsors, stated Wednesday morning. County Judge A. F. King told The Record that in his opinion the bond could be sold under an annual interest bearing rate of four per cent, due to most favorable condition of the bond market.

During mass meeting here a few weeks ago called for discussion of the open hospital needs, figures were quoted to show that tax payers of the county are paying out more cash every year than it would require to pay interest and maintain a sinking fund to retire the proposed bonds. Statistics from similarly owned and operated hospitals in West Texas, showing that the institutions were at least making their own way, too, were quoted.

WESTBROOK PASTOR TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. Clyde J. Childers, pastor of the Westbrook Baptist church, will fill the pulpit of First Baptist church here Sunday morning.

Mitchell Citizens Show Interest In Soil Conservation

Federal Chief Lauds Texans For Cooperative Effort In That Direction

Land owners of Mitchell county are making an enviable record for themselves in connection with the Federal soil conservation program, report heard before Area 4 FFA convention in Stephenville last week indicated. The report was given by Doyle Williams, director of the Colorado chapter.

That citizens of this county are to be complimented upon the showing made was attested by H. H. Bennett of Washington, chief conservationist of the U. S. department of agriculture. Bennett was one of the principal speakers addressing the convention.

Texas farmers are far ahead of those in other Southern States in soil conservation practices, the Washington official declared. "It is due to the cooperative effort these citizens are exerting," Dr. Bennett is quoted as having said.

REV. T. A. PATTERSON OF HOLLIS, OKLAHOMA, IS CALLED BY BAPTISTS

SCHOOL FINANCES WILL BE IN EXCELLENT SHAPE WITH HIGHER PER CAPITA QUOTA

'Brightest Outlook In Their History,' Coles Declares After Tabulating Figures On Apportionment

The public schools of Mitchell county face the best year in history, in so far as finances are to be reckoned, and that item accounts for much, Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, announced Friday afternoon as he scanned figures showing amount to be due these institutions another year under terms of the recent per capita apportionment of $22.

The schools were already facing an unusually bright future when an announcement came out of Austin last week that the per capita apportionment had been hiked from $19 to $22. The three dollar increase will bring $10,314 in State cash into treasuries of the several rural and independent school districts. Based upon a scholastic enrollment of 3,438 in the county, the total to be available under the State school aid law will reach $75,636, largest sum in history to be received through allocation by the State department of education.

All schools of the county are today clear of debt, in so far as teacher's salary and other operating expenses are to be considered. As a rule the schools closed their last term a few weeks ago with money in the bank. Teachers had been elected and other plans mapped for opening school in September on the basis of a $19 per capita apportionment. The ten thousand surplus will safeguard any adverse conditions that might arise.

Several schools are making improvements to their properties. At Fairview a new teaching, costing $2,000 is being built. Bonds to finance construction and furnishing of the building were voted overwhelpingly a few weeks ago. Buford is closing final details for starting erection on a modern $6,000 brick veneer school building, bonds for which were authorized the other day without a dissenting vote.

The Looney and Lone Star school buildings are being newly painted, inside and out, along with other improvements. A new heating plant is being installed in the Spade school building. Teacherage at the Bauman school is being modernized throughout. Conaway is planning erection of a new building to house cars, bus and fuel.

Coles is hoping that the additional cash promised by the State will serve to bring stronger favor to his efforts to see more boys and girls of the rural communities receive equal high school facilities with their neighbors residing in Colorado, Lorraine and Westbrook. Such a goal, he points out, may be realized through operation of adequate bus service to transport these students to and from their rural homes.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

The fame of Ruddick park's amphitheater has traveled, we learn, as far as the Pacific coast, which is just about as far west as it can travel, you will admit. . . . When Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Martin and children were in California this summer they met a Californian who stopped overnight in Colorado on an amateur night last summer and attended the program at the park. . . . "I can't think of anything to compare with it but Hollywood's Rose Bowl," the Californian told Mrs. Martin. "I was completely surprised to find a town Colorado's size with anything like that amphitheater, and I was just as surprised to find so many people turning out for anything which, I understand, happens every week in the summer time."

By a lucky chance the Martins were in Colorado Springs for the famous fireworks display which is staged on a mountain outside the city limits each Fourth of July and each Christmas—it being, of course, the former occasion when the Martins were there. Thousands of people from miles around sat on a hill on one side of the city and watched the fireworks on a hill on the other side. . . . Mrs. Martin says that the display was marvelous, almost unbelievable, especially the part where Niagara Falls was created in showering sparks of fire. . . .

"Like father like son" certainly applies to those two young cowboys-in-the-making, Sidney Terry of Colorado and his cousin, Bronson Smith of Midland. . . . Sidney's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Terry of Colorado. Bronson the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith (Lois Warren) of Midland. . . . Booted and smothered in the most authentic western style, the two youngsters spent last week on the Smith ranch and are spending this week in the Terry home, trailing Mr. Terry and his cattle-raising associates to their range lands at such unearthly hours as 4:30 a.m.

A couple of whom I've heard ought but good—Mr. and Mrs. V. Hopkins who are moving soon to Abilene. . . .

Their friends lament losing them, but are glad to see Mr. Hopkins get a promotion. . . .

For years a circle of the Baptist W.M.S. here has borne the name of Lucille Reagan, famous African missionary who died of yellow fever at her post of duty in Lagos, Nigeria, Africa, late last week. . . . Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan, are prominent residents of Big Spring and are well-known here, as elsewhere in West Texas. . . . Miss Reagan spoke here while home on a visit two years ago. . . . She was reared in Big Spring. . . .

What a shame that Jim and Mary Leslie Cantrill had to lose their baby! That was on the tongue of everybody you met Saturday. . . . I'm sure that Mary Leslie, impervious the she is to compliments and anything resembling flattery, would have been moved to hear the chorus of relieved sighs which greeted the news Tuesday morning that she was "holding her own" after being so seriously ill on Monday. . . .

"Prettier and younger than ever" is the way those who saw Mrs. J. D. Harvey during her week-end visit here described her. . . . To me she never did look old enough to be the mother of one grown daughter and two others nearing that stage. . . .

FISH FRY

J. J. Land and Page Henderson returned Monday from a fishing trip on the Concho near San Angelo. They didn't "let all the big ones get away" this time as they brought back two big fish as proof. One weighed 10½ pounds and the other 11½. They and a number of friends took their supper out to Wayside Park Monday evening and fried the fish out there. Those to enjoy this outing were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallmark, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hallmark, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bennett and nephew, Templeton Thompson of Dublin, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Butler and son Truett, Miss Annie Jarratt and mother, Mrs. W. A. Jarratt, August Backfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Land and daughters and Mr. Page Henderson.

These fishermen are real proud of themselves despite the fact that they've had to answer a lot of questions as to whether they really did catch the fish or not.

"We have citizens in this county who are breeding horses and cattle to rank with the best in Texas and they would assuredly find strong interest in plans to rebuild a good fair at Colorado," Baskin declared. "We have not staged a fair in this county during the past four years. The time to take up where we left off is now, in my opinion."

Cooperation by the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs, Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent and her girls and women organizations, the several clubs in Colorado, Loraine and other community centers and the schools were listed as most important, "and every one of them will appreciate the merits of this undertaking," declared one of the executives with a deal of enthusiasm.

Sam J. Smith Is Claimed By Death At McAllen Home

Former Coloradoan Expires Unexpectedly; Funeral To Be Held Friday Morning

Word was received in Colorado Wednesday night of the death of Sam J. Smith, about 65, at his home in McAllen about 5:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Smith, who lived here eight or nine years, died unexpectedly. He had been suffering from a heart complaint for some time. He and Mrs. Smith moved from Colorado to McAllen two years ago because of his health.

A daughter, Mrs. Dan Blakemore of Menlo Park, California, had arrived at her home only Wednesday after a visit with her parents.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Mr. Smith is survived by two sons, Louaine Smith of Corpus Christi, a former Coloradoan, and Elmer Smith of Waco. A brother, Jim Smith, died in Gatesville about two weeks ago. Two other brothers, Henry and Ed, live in Waco. A sister, Mrs. Mary Costin, lives at Lamesa.

Mr. Smith had the agency for the Continental Oil company while living in Colorado. He was active in the First Methodist church. Singing was his hobby. The Smiths lived in Waco before coming here.

Chevrolet Engineer Offering Drivers That Possibly Overlooks

BY J. M. CRAWFORD
Chief Engineer
Chevrolet Division
General Motors Corporation

It is strange, but nevertheless true, that many persons who wouldn't think of plowing through a drawing room with cries of "Gangway! Here I come!" climb into their cars every day of the week and commit, on the streets and highways, the exact parallel of that social offense.

This fact lends point to the slogan of so many safety campaigns, to the effect that courtesy and safety go hand in hand. It's a long time since Alphonse and Gaston disappeared from the comic pages; but the spirit of "You first, my dear Alphonse!" would go a long way, today, to remedy traffic ills.

One of the most glaring instances of discourtesy is to be seen on almost any busy artery, during the rush hour. Traffic on the through street will pile up solidly, blocking intersecting streets, so that it is only by matching rudeness with rudeness, and forcing their way through, that drivers on the latter can cross busy thoroughfares.

A moment's reflection would convince any motorist that he would really lose no time at all by leaving a gap ahead, when approaching a cross street. As soon as cross-traffic has cleared, he will be on his way again, with no net loss whatever. And the fellow whom he let through will be merry on his way.

I know one driver who always makes it a point, when driving in heavy traffic, to pause for cross-traffic to go through. He does it even when there is a car-length or so which would permit him to clear the intersection himself. "The point is," he explains, "that only about one driver in a dozen will give these other fellows a break. If I don't stop the procession long enough to let them cross, the line may start and stop half a dozen times before someone takes pity on them and does it."

Cars today embody comfort approaching that of the drawing room. There doesn't seem to be any good reason why motorists should not take their drawing room manners when they climb in behind the wheel. If enough drivers will do it, they will not only serve the ends of safety but facilitate the movement of traffic as well.

WHITEMAN CONTEST OPEN TO ALL TEXAS GIRLS

FORT WORTH.—The quest for a Texas Cinderella, who has beauty, voice and personality, is not confined to the ranks of amateurs—girls who have had professional experience in the entertainment world are eligible, it was announced today by Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz.

The first few days of the search saw nearly 200 girls from all parts of the state apply. Preliminary auditions are held by staff members of Radio Station WBAP. The most capable candidates then are placed on the air and Whiteman listens in.

The winner will sing with Whiteman's band this summer at Casa Montana in Fort Worth and, if she has sufficient possibilities, Whiteman will give her further radio and motion picture opportunities.

One group of students at Texas Technological College at Lubbock, employed part-time with funds provided by the National Youth Administration, were engaged in plant and soil studies during the last school year. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, advised J. C. Kellam, Texas NYA Director, that the supervisors believed the work would be of permanent benefit to the residents of West Texas, as well as to the students and to the teaching staff of the college.

Chalk Test Sends Oil Over Derrick Sunday Afternoon

Well Definitely Describes Extension In That Pool; Others To Be Drilled

BIG SPRING.—An unexpected head which sent oil spraying 30 feet over the crown block Sunday afternoon centered oil interests of this area on Otis Chalk's oil test, 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 94-29, W&NW.

Bottomed at 2,981 feet in brown lime, the test had been prepared for a deepening operation. When tools were lowered to a depth of 400 feet, the well started flowing, sending a flow of oil over the derrick top for 12 minutes.

Force of the flow caused the bit to lodge, temporarily delaying operations. A large area around the test was drenched with oil.

The Chalk test is half a mile east of production in the Chalk pool and is six miles south of the discovery TXL test in section 33-30-1s, T&P.

Sunday's showing was the second head the outpost test made. Its first head amounted to a very mild flow. The head Sunday was through the five inch string which was run Friday. While wells in the East Howard pool are frequently known to flow, particularly after shots, it is considered most unusual for tests in the Chalk area to head. The Chalk test has not been acidized or shot as yet.

Four offsets will be occasioned by the showing of the Chalk well. Humble will be called upon to offset on its Douthitt lease, 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 115-29, W&NW. Continental on its Chalk lease 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 95, and Jamison and Pollard 330 feet out of the northwest corner of their Chalk lease in 114.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith and sons, Ernest, Jr., and Cecil, are to leave Saturday for Oklahoma on a visit. They will return to Wichita Falls Thursday to attend the State Rural Letter Carriers convention.

G. D. Foster returned early Wednesday morning after a visit with relatives in Canyon.

Mrs. Baz Jones and son, Jerry, returned Sunday after a week's visit with Mr. Jones' parents in Rotan. Mr. Jones went to Rotan after them.

Ewing Lee suffered a deep cut in his hand while working in the Fielding Lee machine shop Tuesday.

SON OF MR. AND MRS. CANTRILL BURIED AT MCKINNEY SATURDAY

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cantrill was buried in McKinney Saturday afternoon. He died at birth about 8:40 Saturday morning in a Sweetwater hospital.

If he had lived he would have been called R. H. Cantrill, Jr. The little body was taken overland by Mr. Cantrill, A. L. McSpadden, and J. J. Billingsley from Sweetwater to McKinney.

Mrs. Cantrill's condition was regarded with gravity through Sunday and Monday but she began to show improvement Tuesday morning and at present is thought to be doing satisfactorily.

Her mother, Mrs. T. L. White of McKinney, has been with her since before the baby's birth. Her father came from McKinney early Sunday

'BEST KEPT' YARD CONTEST IS ON ALL THE YEAR AROUND

The "best kept" yard contest which is being sponsored by the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs is a year-around affair and not just a contest put on for three months or so in the summer time, it was pointed out by Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, president of the federation, this week.

"The prizes to be given will be awarded on a basis of the yard which has been kept in the best shape throughout the year," Mrs. Ferguson said.

Contest judges—their names are not revealed—have been watching Colorado yards all the while, Mrs. Ferguson points out. The winning yard will not necessarily be the most beautiful one in town, nor the one most improved. It will simply be the yard which has, apparently, received the best care all the year around. Yard improvement is a phase of the county federation's yearly county beautification work.

Plant Adequate For City Of
5,000 Listed At $20,000
Installed; Council Hears Factory Representative

Whether or not the city of Colorado enters into contract to purchase a water softening plant of adequate capacity for needs of a community of 5,000 population, is to be determined at the ballot box, Mayor J. A. Sadler stated Tuesday afternoon.

Monday evening members of the city council and the mayor went into details as to feasibility of installing the proposed water treating plant. J. E. Rasmussen of Fort Worth, engineer in charge of the water softening division, Fort Worth Structural Steel Co., was present and discussed operation of his plant with the body.

Rasmussen told this newspaper Tuesday that a plant of 400,000 gallons daily capacity, sufficient for a city the size of Colorado, would cost $20,000 to install. He advanced claims that operation of the plant would save materially in annual outlay to water patrons under the present plan.

Use of the softened water would save $3 per capita annually in soap bills, alone, he contended. He pointed out that the treated water would eliminate erosion in water mains and arrest present deteriorating effects on plumbing and water heating fixtures.

The plant could be financed through either a bond issue or an added levy to the water rate, the mayor explained. "But this is a matter that the council prefers for the people to determine and it is probable that a referendum vote on the question will be called for within

Texas Fetes Introduced
During Amateur Program

Misses Dorothy Morrison of Colorado and Delia Frank Jameson of McKenzie, sponsors representing Colorado at recent West Texas gatherings, were formally presented the public Friday evening during rendition of the amateur hour program at Ruddick Park.

The young ladies were called to the stage by Carl A. Blasig, manager of the chamber of commerce. Miss Jameson was sponsor at the Stamford cowboy reunion held during the Fourth of July holidays, and Miss Morrison represented Colorado at the bathing revue in Sweetwater Saturday night.

Both of the young ladies addressed the crowd briefly, expressing their appreciation for the honor in having been designated "Miss Colorado" for the events. They were liberally applauded.

Both of the sponsors appeared in costume—Miss Morrison wearing the bathing attire in which she later appeared at Sweetwater, and Miss Jameson the riding habit she wore while riding her pony in parade and other events at Stamford.

"The near future," Sadler stated that up to Tuesday noon he had discussed the plan with 23 business men who own property in the city. Twenty-one of them expressed themselves as being in favor of the softening plant installation, he said.

Greatest Thriller Of Season Is Offered Spectators In Eleven Inning Battle At Cantrill Field Tuesday

The Young Business Men, aggregation in the Lions Club softball league that during first half of league schedules did not write much on the scoreboard, are staging a phenomenal comeback to seriously threaten pennant as play in the second bracket is getting off into its second week.

The greatest thriller that customers at Cantrill Field have been offered since the opening game was on the card for Tuesday night as the YBM and Little Sulphur, another first half under dog, fought through nine innings to a tie. It was not until near close of the 11th inning that YBM got the better hand and affected a run to win the battle six to five.

An interesting feature of the contest came in the seventh. Little Sulphur was leading with a 5-3 score. YBM was at the bat and the ball was hit for a low fielder, striking the Little Sulphur pitcher on the knee and bounding back into the grandstand. The batter made a home run and brought in a man on second to tie the score.

Little Sulphur made 11 hits in registering her five runs. YBM was credited with ten hits during the 11-inning melee. Coles, captain of the LS club, was in the pitchers box for his teammates and Aycock did the twirling for YBM.

In shunting opposition aside to maintain a perfect record during the second half YBM is tied with Col-Tex for first place. Standard Oil, winner of the first half, is in third place and the cellar is being shared by Gulf Oil, Shell and Little Sulphur.

Monday evening Col-Tex and Standard Oil played the best game of the year to date with the winner in doubt until the last man was out. Col-Tex won by a score of 8 to 5 but Standard had men on second and third in the last half of the ninth when Willbanks settled down and fanned Pete Smith, a pinch-hitter, for the final out of the game. Standard showed up well in the field with some new recruits in the persons of Eddie London and Jimmie Davis in the infield.

The Young Business Men had things their own way in the game with Gulf last Thursday evening, until the latter part of the game when Gulf showed a belated rally that fell some 13 runs short of a tying score.

The Carmack Ginners from Tahoka showed up for a game with Col-Tex just as everyone was preparing to go home to bed. Col-Tex won with the Ginners showing nothing much except a nice pitcher and a couple of hitters who slapped the ball far and hard.

LIONISM CLOSES ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR REPORT
BY RICHARDSON INDICATES

Retiring Secretary Outlines
Wide Scope Of Civic and Benevolent Activities In Paper Read Friday

Tradition of the Colorado Lions Club as having been one of the outstanding service organizations in this section of Texas was sustained during the fiscal year closing June 30, annual report given Friday by Jake Richardson, retiring secretary-treasurer, showed.

That the club had extended its active concern to include a number of meritorious projects in this county and section was recalled as the Lion read his report. Benevolences, civic work and other objectives that reflect impressively the spirit of Lionism were listed as having received liberal cash and moral support of the club.

Among the activities that have ever elicited favorable comment among teachers, ministers and other public leaders, was that of assisting boys and girls with defective vision and who, because of no fault of their own, were found unable to finance the needed requisite in their classroom work. A total of fourteen children received glasses during the year as a direct gift by the club. Fund to sustain this work is received through fines assessed members of the club.

The report recalled that during the year Colorado Lions contributed materially to the Boy Scouts of America, sponsoring troops in Colorado, including one composed of negro boys, and spent liberal finance in furthering the work of Scoutcraft. Included in the latter was transportation for the Scouts and their Scout Masters to various encampments during the year and supplying books for their library.

That the Lions Club supported the American Red Cross one hundred per cent, through every member contributing cash annual dues to the organization, was shown. In addition to this the club as a unit contributed $16 to the special flood relief fund.

The sum of $30 was contributed to a fund to carry Christmas cheer to families of the poor at Christmas and cash was donated to provide prize for champion calf at the annual Future Farmers of America livestock show here a few months ago.

Cooperation with the State Department of Public Safety in its recent safety lane here and several other items were listed in the report. The softball league, now playing in its second half, was organized and is being sponsored by the club as an entertainment for the public.

One of the worthwhile achievements to which the report gave reference was the election of Joe Pond to the office of district governor, Texas, T-T, at annual convention in Big Spring.

Finances of the club were shown in excellent condition, with all current obligations paid in full and a cash balance of $670 in the bank. The report showed a total of 75 members.

WHITAKER PRESENTED AS MEMBER LUNCHEON CLUB

Drivers At Fault Rather Than Car As Wreck Comes

Oldsmobile Official In Urge That Mechanism Ever Be Kept In Repair

With traffic hazards increased throughout the country during warm weather months due to a larger number of vehicles on American highways, D. E. Ralston, general sales manager of Oldsmobile, emphasizes the importance to the motorist of keeping his car in the best possible running condition.

"If the average motorist would do all in his power to maintain his car in the condition it was furnished him by the manufacturer, we would see a leveling of the accident curve which always rises at this time of the year," Mr. Ralston points out.

"Automobile manufacturers for a number of years have done all in their power to provide cars that are as safe as possible; that is why today we have safety glass, super-hydraulic brakes, better visibility and lighting facilities; Unisteel Turret Top bodies, and other features designed to promote safety.

"These features are largely wasted, however, unless they are properly looked after by the driver of the car. And the driver's mental condition, logically enough, is just as important a safety feature as the many mechanical developments introduced by car manufacturers."

Mr. Ralston explains that only a very small percentage of serious accidents have been traced by police officials to mechanical failure of vehicles, whereas a larger number have been directly traceable to driver negligence, either at the time of an accident or in not keeping his car in the best possible running order.

"The best brakes that automotive engineers have been able to design are of no use to a driver unless he applies those brakes in time," Mr. Ralston admonishes. "Likewise those brakes are of no use to the driver if he has allowed them to become unequal or otherwise out of adjustment or repair."

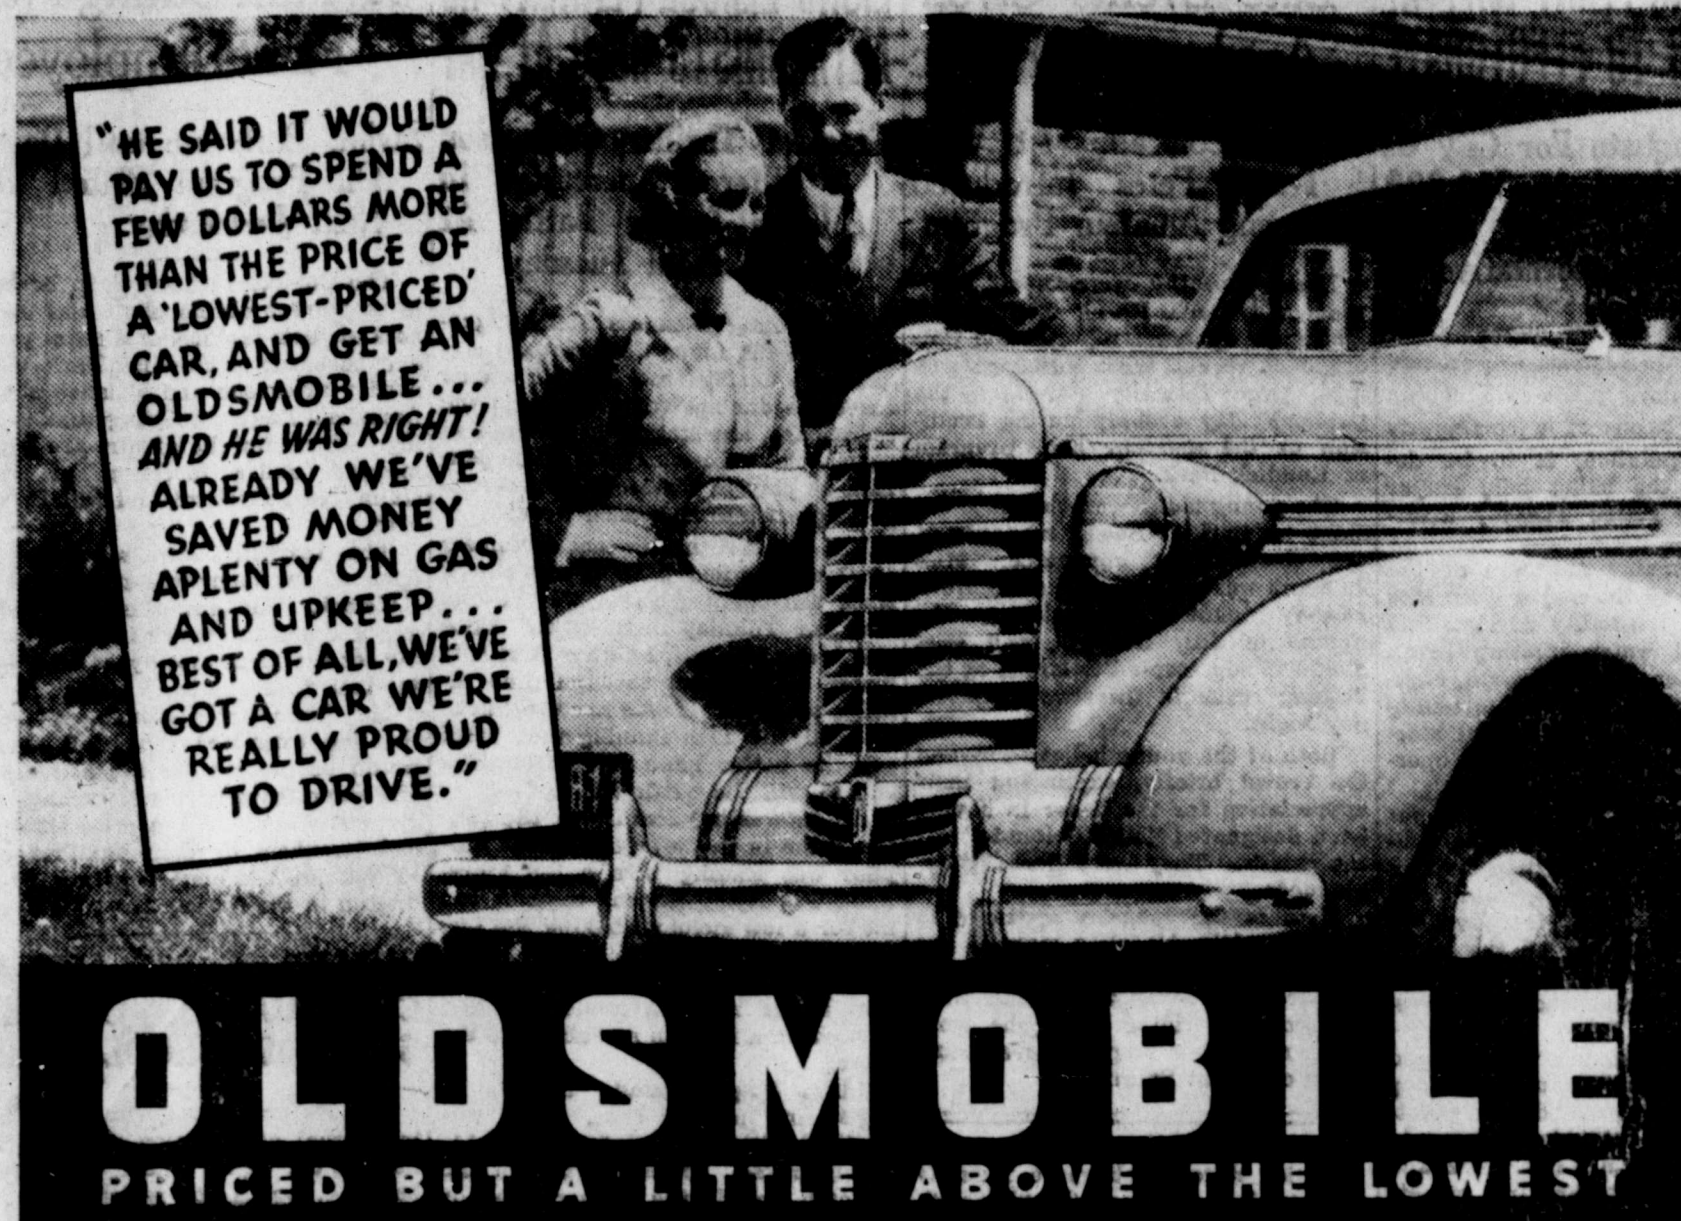

Good braking facilities often are impaired by worn tires or worn brake linings. Likewise a burned out headlamp often is the cause of a collision. A windshield wiper that worked when the car left the factory is no good if it is allowed to fall into disuse through negligence. Car windows designed for increased visibility are no good if cluttered with stickers or mud and grease spots. A safe steering mechanism improperly adjusted or not properly tightened becomes a safety hazard.

Manufacturers have done and are doing all in their power to provide the public with safe transportation facilities, Mr. Ralston concludes. Unless safe and conscientious motorists make the proper use of these modern vehicles, however, the manufacturer's efforts will be largely wasted.

WHEN COLORADO WAS FOUNDED

There was a time in the history of this community when only three families lived in what is now Colorado. It will serve to illustrate our point if we say they were Mr. and Mrs. Brown and the Smith and Jones families. By trading among themselves these people managed to be happy and prosperous according to the times.

But while Mr. Brown was a community-minded chap with a kindly feeling for his neighbors, he was a little thoughtless. One time on a little vacation trip to another settlement two days removed from Colorado, he spent his very last dollar for seed corn that either the Smith or Jones families could have furnished at the same price and of the same quality when he got back home.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Jones also became a bit careless about conserving the community assets. On trips to other settlements from time to time they spent cash for this and that, more for the sheer novelty of the thing than for any other reason, for neither required a thing that couldn't have been purchased from each other or from Mr. Brown.

A drought came along the next summer and depression settled on Colorado. It then came to light that there was not so much as a thin dime among the three families! Without intention, without malice and without forethought, the citizens of Colorado had not only depleted but completely exhausted their liquid assets.

Times have changed. We now have good stores where the necessities and luxuries of our complicated modern existence can every one be purchased. But too many of us are still a little thoughtless. Too many of us, without malice, without forethought or intention but nevertheless with deplorable results, continue to deplete the liquid assets of our community by purchasing elsewhere the very things that could be had to better advantage from Colorado stores.

These institutions now have an annual payroll of tens of thousands of dollars. They provide a livelihood for twenty-five percent of our people. They pay huge sums for taxes, license to do business and overhead generally. They are the backbone of our existence. Quality and price being equal, let us patronize them loyally for the prosperity of every one of us hinges thereon.

ABOUT BAPTISM

The opus of this column is a Baptist. We received baptism for church membership and not for salvation.

In an argument this week with one of my Christian friends who believes that baptism is essential to salvation we submitted to him the following:

1. If baptism is for the remission of sins, what was Christ baptized for?
2. If baptism is for the remission of sins, what is the blood of Christ for?
3. We know that baptism does not wash away sins, for we have known some who were meaner after baptism.
4. Should a son obey his parents because he is their child, or in order to become their child?
5. Baptism is a work, and if baptism saves, then are we saved by works, or by grace?
6. It is true that to Him gave all the prophets witness, that through His name whosoever believeth in Him shall receive remission of sins? Acts 10:43.
7. If baptism is essential to salvation, then the preacher is as necessary as Christ.
8. If baptism is essential to the remission of sins, the dying thief was lost, Christ to the contrary notwithstanding.
9. If baptism is for the remission of sins, then is it true that Christ never saved anyone directly, as he never baptized anyone.
10. If baptism is necessary why would not Christ have said, He that is baptized shall be saved.
11. Is it not true that if baptism is for the remission of sins, then the blood of Christ does not cleanse us from all sin.
12. If baptism is essential to salvation, then did not Paul mislead the Philippian jailer when he told him to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and he would be saved?
13. If baptism is for the remission of sin, and all should be baptized who believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, would not the devils be saved if they were baptized?
14. Since the Roman Catholic Church originated the doctrine of baptismal remission, should not those who hold to the doctrine go to that church?
15. If only the blood of Christ cleanses us from sin, will not those be lost who trust in blood and water?
16. Would it not be better to baptize a man to cure his headache than to baptize him to insure his salvation? Would it not be very sinful to do either?
17. If only the blood of Christ cleanses us from sin, are any to be saved by trusting both in blood and water?
18. Is not the only difference between a baptized sinner and an unbaptized believer the difference between a dry unbeliever and a wet sinner?
19. Is it not a remarkable coincidence that no one who is baptized to be saved claims to have an experience of grace?
20. It is true that many who used to claim that baptism is essential to salvation are now ashamed of the doctrine, and now deny they ever believed it.
21. Do we reach Calvary by way of Jordan, or the Jordan by way of Calvary?
22. If only those who are immersed for the remission of sins are saved, will they come up from the North and East and South and West and sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the Kingdom of Heaven?

This column is open to any of our Christian friends to answer. Will turn the whole column over to anyone for a reply.

Remember baptism is only a church ordinance and has nothing to do with salvation.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

We often think and meditate on why a true Christian dreads death or translation from this life to a better one.

Bad as living in this world may be, most of us prefer to remain here as long as we can do so in good health. Heaven is an ideal place, and it is only humanly natural to wonder if ideality in perpetuity is going to please all of us. Even here on earth an ideal condition has to be surrounded with restrictions that may become unbearable to those for whose benefit they are intended. It is for this reason that every ideal community planned by idealists has broken up. What is one man's ideal is another man's horror. In the city of God there must be a diversity of conditions, such diversity enabling every newcomer to choose and rechoose his surroundings and his company. Few of us would enjoy hourly or daily association with Noah and Methuselah, and Jacob, and Abraham, or the petty Kings of Holy Writ and their interminable reminiscences. Nor would we for long relish even the company of the more modern saints, whose conversation we may reckon would revert constantly to their glorious terrestrial experiences. The saints presumably have pride in their sainthood, just as Methuselah must continue to be proud of his longevity and Abraham of his great flocks and herds. We who will have little to tell about our inconsequential lives may seek in heaven those whose earthly lives ran parallel with our own. Heaven, being heaven, no doubt provides for this, and something tells us that several parties we know in Colorado will seek out Ananias and Sapphira for friends.

CONTENTMENT

We have a fine Christian lady friend at Snyder who reads this column and then passes the paper on to five of her lady friends who enjoy its reading.

We dedicate this contentment article to them. May they pass it on to those who may profit by it.

Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil, that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter.—Isaiah v, 20.

Contentment and happiness can not be the result of false living. Pouring rose water on a toad will not make him any less a toad. Purple and fine linen will not transform an imp of darkness into an angel of light.

The counterfeit of deceit or hate can not be passed where Love is the coin of the realm.

The clang of the "sounding brass" and the din of the "tinkling cymbal" will not be taken for the harps of gold.

The wolf, although in sheep's clothing, is still a wolf. The true sheep "of His pasture" are not muttonheads.

The Good Shepherd knows the sheep from the goats, although the goats crimp their hair to make it resemble the wool of a sheep. They can't make it a "permanent wave."

Sin and wickedness can not be camouflaged that it will go undetected by the recording angel.

Don't trust any smoke screen you may make to conceal your misdeeds from the All-Seeing Eye.

Satan himself is too wise to undertake that sort of thing, even in his dealings with men.

He doesn't use a smoke screen, but instead a golden glitter, a sparkling brightness, to hide the instrumentalities of death which await those who yield to his pleadings, or are deceived by the attractiveness of the outside things.

Even the devil does not always lie.

He couldn't and hold his job. He knows that an occasional truth uttered by him, and numerous half-truths have the effect of convincing the unwary that he is what he is not.

The rich chalice of bubbling wine which he offers are impregnated with most insidious poisons.

He who does not recognize the truth of this statement is destined sooner or later to find himself "in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity."

INNOCENT AMUSEMENT

To him who lacks spiritual ideas material pleasures create happiness. He looks to them for satisfaction. They do not contain it.

Material pleasures are clouds without rain. In order to be harmless pleasures and amusements must have in them at least the element of wholesomeness. If they do not have this element their effect is evil, necessarily. By the very nature of things it can not be anything else.

Pleasures, entertainment and diversions which have not the element of spirituality in them can not be helpful because they lack that element which creates happiness. The effect of pleasures and amusements which lack the element of spirit is inevitably baneful; for the reason that to the extent that they lack spiritual content they contain its opposite. They blast and blight. Wholesome amusements partake not only of innocence and innocent recreation, but have a tendency to build up nerve tissue and stimulate mental health and development.

Usually the moral and spiritual helpfulness of sports and amusements rests largely upon the attitude of mind of those engaged in them. The sports themselves are devoid of harm as a rule, but there are many cases where some who are not fair in mind take part in them, with the result that soon there are found those who condemn them because of the doings of some of those who engage in them.

Those who look to insane, insipid, not to say sinful, amusements for satisfaction are destined to find these, sooner or later, barren of all that satisfies. The reason is obvious: Happiness, contentment, peace and tranquility are derivable from and are dependent upon soul for existence, and so do not experience joy when it is not sought in spiritual things.

Sinful amusements contain only disappointment. Dead Sea fruit, ashes, apples of Sodom, waste and woe. Self-justification, which is always the resort of the guilty, will not avail. It has no place in the economy of spirit. All such will sooner or later realize that "Your iniquities have separated between you and your God!"

In the cases of individuals as well as of nations, "righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

The battle of Chickamauga is generally regarded as the bloodiest of the war between the states 1861 to 1865. After the war the State of Georgia erected a statue to her sons who fought in that battle. On the statue was placed this inscription: "To the lasting memory of all her sons who fought on this field—those who fought and lived, and those who fought and died; to those who gave much, and to those who gave all—Georgia erects this monument."

how much cooler cooking can be

Of course no woman wants to be tied down in a hot kitchen these days. That's just why so many are trading in their old worn-out ranges for a sparkling, cooler-cooking new gas automatic.

When you see these new ranges and discover that the oven is so thoroughly insulated that you can get more cooking out of the same amount of gas; that heat stays INSIDE, instead of escaping into your kitchen; that automatic heat control saves peeking into a hot oven you, too, will realize that a kitchen can be comfortably cool when the range is a modern gas automatic.

One is easy to own. Prices are still low and monthly payments most convenient. See them for yourself, find out about prices and trade-in allowance at your gas company display room—now!

are not the proper field for commercial banking operations.

CAPITAL loans are those which remain fixed in the borrower's business for long or indefinite periods. Such loans perform a useful, necessary, business function, but, obviously, are not the proper field for commercial banking operations.

The commercial bank makes loans of short-term, or seasonal duration, to carry on current business activities whose cash proceeds are sufficient within a specified period to repay the loan. The daily maturing of such loans—and new deposits—normally bring in sufficient cash to meet the daily requirements of depositors and to make fresh loans.

In addition to commercial loans, this bank holds conservative securities readily marketable for cash on established exchanges. Likewise, it requires that the collateral for secured loans be equally marketable.

The City National Bank
