

SINGING CONVENTION HERE SUNDAY WILL ATTRACT THOUSANDS

W. W. PORTER ANNOUNCES THAT GATHERING WILL OPEN AT TABERNACLE AT 10 O'CLOCK

Between 2,000 and 3,000 singers and song-lovers of Mitchell county and this section are expected to gather at the union tabernacle in Colorado Sunday for the annual all-day convention of the Mitchell County Singing association.

According to W. W. Porter of Colorado, president of the association, the convention will open at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Addresses of welcome are to be made by Mayor J. A. Sadler of Colorado and A. F. King, county judge. Porter is to preside. Several song features have been prepared in addition to numbers by the various singing classes of Mitchell and surrounding counties, Porter says.

All singing classes of the county are urged to be present at the convention, bringing with them their song books, according to Porter. Porter reported Wednesday that the tabernacle is being cleaned and fumigated for the convention, and that fresh gravel is being spread on the dirt floor under direction of Jack Smith, county commissioner. Mayor J. A. Sadler is supervising the repairing of benches and the choir platform.

ODESSA GOLFERS DRUB COLORADO IN SAND BELT MATCHES HERE SUNDAY

Odesa's Sand Belt golf team drubbed Colorado's team 22-12 in matches played on the Colorado country club golf course Sunday afternoon.

Percy Bond and Lee Dorn were the only Coloradans winning their matches. Others playing for Colorado were Jake Merritt, Jimmie Cook, L. H. McFarly, Q. D. Shepperd, Walter Henderson, and Joe Pritchett. Midland beat Crane 26-14, and Big Spring won over Stanton 30-10. Standings now show Midland leading with 90 points, Big Spring 82 points, Odesa 78 points, Crane 44 points, Colorado 40 points, Stanton 26 points.

Colorado will play Big Spring at Big Spring next Sunday.

COLORADO DISTRICT HAS 1,337 SCHOLASTICS, NEW CENSUS FIGURES REVEAL

There are 1,337 scholastics in the Colorado Independent school district, figures from the census completed on March 31st show.

This number is only seventeen less than that for last year, when the total was 1,354. The district lost around 100 scholastics the year before.

BARBER AND BLASIG REPRESENT COLORADO AT WTCC CONVENTION

Truett Barber, president of the Colorado chamber of commerce, and Carl Blasig, manager, represented Colorado at the WTCC convention in Wichita Falls this week.

Listing among the proceedings of the convention in Tuesday papers was the appointment of Dell Barber as a director from Colorado.

SAFeway EMPLOYEES TO DISTRICT GATHERING

Employees of the local Safeway store were in Abilene Sunday for a district meeting of Safeway employees. The Colorado group included T. M. Marsh, Safeway manager; Marion Rice, Thomas Henderson, Jr., and Elmer LeFevre.

Mrs. Marsh and children accompanied Mr. Marsh and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Hopkins, former Coloradans, during the day. Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Lefevre spent the day with Mrs. Merle Morgan, whose husband was recently transferred from the Colorado store to the downtown store in Abilene.

'SNOW WHITE' TO BE HERE THIS WEEK-END

'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' is to show at the Palace theater this week-end—Saturday, Sunday and Monday—rather than on May 7, 8, and 9.

Due to an error in the booking office of R. & R. at Dallas, the famous Walt Disney feature had been widely advertised for Colorado on May 7, 8, and 9. The error was not discovered until Wednesday, and A. E. McClain, local R. & R. manager, did not know the show would be here this week-end until informed by telephone late Wednesday afternoon. A schedule for the showings of the picture here will be found elsewhere in The Record.

CATHERINE SLAGLE WINS 1ST PLACE IN REGIONAL CONTEST

COLORADO ESSAYIST WILL COMPETE IN AUSTIN ON MAY 7

Winning for Colorado High school one of the highest, if not the highest, literary honors in its Interscholastic League history, Catherine Slagle was awarded first place in regional Ready Writers' contests of the league in Abilene Saturday.

The subject which she chose was "Gossip in a Beauty Parlor." In these ready-writer contests the subjects are submitted to the contestants in sealed envelopes as the contest period begins. Each contestant chooses a subject, and is given two hours in which to write about it.

Catherine won first place in district contests at Sweetwater last week with an essay on "Cigarette Advertising." She will compete in state contests at Austin on May 7. G. D. Foster, principal of Colorado High school, and Mrs. Foster took Catherine to Abilene for the contests. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Slagle of Colorado and is a sophomore in Colorado High school.

WESTBROOK WILL HAVE LARGEST GRADUATING CLASS IN ITS HISTORY

The largest graduating class in the history of Westbrook school in western Mitchell county is to hold its commencement exercises on Thursday, May 19, according to Ira D. Lauderdale, superintendent.

Nineteen seniors are in line for diplomas. The graduation program will be held in Westbrook's recently completed gymnasium and auditorium building, constructed at a cost of $23,500.

FOUNDATION GARMENT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Management of the J. C. Penney store announces that Foundation Garment week will be observed by the store starting Thursday, April 28, at 8 a.m.

During the week Penney's will have an unusually wide range of garment sizes and styles on hand for customers to choose from.

SHINING NEW GYM AT WESTBROOK IS 'ROUNDUP' SCENE AS ANNUAL BANQUET OF COUNTY TEACHERS IS HELD THERE

The shining new $23,500 gymnasium at Westbrook became a western corral and "chuck" room Monday night as more than 85 Mitchell county teachers gathered there for the annual banquet of the Mitchell County Teachers' association—a gathering designated this year as "Another Big Roundup."

Saddles and boots were placed along the balcony rail on the east side of the spacious room. Across the room in front of the stage stood a table on which was arranged a western scene, featuring a windmill, a covered wagon drawn by oxen, and Longhorn steers. The stage itself, the footlights bordered by cactus plants, represented a ranch living room, with a fireplace, colorful Mexican scarfs, and a grandfather clock.

HARRY RATLIFF PUT IN CHARGE OF PLANS FOR HISTORY MEET

CC COMMITTEE NAMED TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR CONVENTION HERE ON MAY 14

Local plans for entertainment of the annual convention of the West Texas Historical society in Colorado on Saturday, May 14, have been definitely launched by the Colorado chamber of commerce with the appointment of Harry Ratliff as convention chairman.

Those who are to serve on the committee with Ratliff are Roy Davis, Coles, R. P. Rose, Sherman Hart, and Jack Helton.

The committee has decided to give complimentary tickets to all members of the association for the luncheon which is to be a feature of the day. Luncheon tickets may be bought by non-members, Ratliff says. Morning and afternoon programs of the convention will be open to the public.

Judge R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, president of the society is to preside. Papers are to be read by a number of leading historians of West Texas. An attendance of about 50 members of the society is anticipated.

CHS JUNIOR BASEBALL TEAM PLACES SECOND IN LEAGUE DISTRICT

Newby Pratt's junior boys' baseball team of Colorado High school placed second in baseball matches of district five of the Interscholastic League at Sweetwater Saturday.

The Colorado team lost to the John H. Reagan team of Sweetwater by only one point. The score was tied until late in the last inning.

Members of the team are: Richard Thomas, Nat Mann, Sam Coker, A. G. Farlow, O. B. Trulock, Clayton Henderson, M. A. Webb, Clarence Walker, Ross Glover, and Clifton Caffrey. Substitutes are Paul Rogers and Lloyd Cox.

CC LUNCHEON MEMBERS DISCUSS FEASIBILITY OF MONTHLY MEETING

Feasibility of holding meetings monthly instead of semi-monthly was discussed at the chamber of commerce luncheon club meeting Tuesday noon.

On motion of J. Ralph Lee, however, it was decided to leave further discussion of the matter until after a new secretary-manager is hired to succeed Carl Blasig, who goes to Olney this week.

Sherman Hart, who has been made acting secretary-manager of the chamber until Blasig's successor can be chosen, presided at the luncheon.

PROGRAM WILL CLOSE PAYNE SINGING CLASS

A program of gospel singing at Payne school Friday night, April 29, is to close a two-weeks singing school which has been held there by J. Lawrence Deavers of Westbrook.

The program will begin at 7:45. Candidates will be recognized and given an opportunity to say a few words.

TWO MEN HELD HERE AS PASSERS OF $20 COUNTERFEIT BILLS

ARRESTS MADE IN LORAIN WEDNESDAY; FEDERAL MAN COMING

Two men identified as passers of counterfeit $20 bills in Colorado Wednesday afternoon were arrested in Loraine Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock and were being held in the Colorado jail Thursday morning pending the arrival of a Federal secret service agent to take charge of the case.

The arrests were made in Loraine by Dick Hickman, chief of police, and members of the sheriff's department, who trailed the men there after the bills had been established as counterfeit. The bills were passed in Colorado after banking hours. The men who received them carried them to the home of Charles Moeser, bank cashier, for examination. Moeser declared them counterfeit and called in Chief Hickman, who had descriptions of the bills on file, these descriptions having been sent out by the secret service of the treasury department.

Names and addresses of the two men were withheld Thursday morning pending the arrival of the Federal investigator. Chief Hickman did state, however, that neither of them is a Colorado man. Numerous counterfeit $20 bills are said to have been passed in this territory recently. One was passed here last week in addition to the two passed Wednesday afternoon, officers say.

LOCAL PRESBYTERIANS AT CHURCH MEETINGS IN LUBBOCK THIS WEEK

A group of local Presbyterians were in Lubbock this week to attend sessions of the El Paso presbytery, women's district organization, and the El Paso presbytery, men's district organization.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerold Rliordan, and Jas. Sherwin left Tuesday morning for Lubbock. Mrs. Clarence Gross and Mrs. Walter Lyles went over Wednesday. Dr. Elliott is secretary of stewardship in the presbytery, and Mr. Rliordan is on the home mission committee. Mr. Sherwin represented men of the local church.

Both Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Rliordan hold district chairmanships in the presbytery. Mrs. Gross is president of the local women's auxiliary, and Mrs. Lyles was official delegate from the auxiliary.

JUNIOR CC ANNOUNCES PRIZES TO BE GIVEN FOR AIR MAIL WEEK ESSAYS

In recognition of the nationwide Air Mail Week campaign Junior chamber of commerce directors have decided to offer a prize of $2.50 for the best essay written in high school and $2.50 for the best poster from both the high school and grammar school.

The essay title is "Wings Over America" and has been made a theme subject in high school. The poster theme centers about the air mail service of today and tomorrow. There will be three judges for each contest.

"In endorsing this contest," said Charles Root, president, "we have recognized the tremendous strides taken by the air mail service in the past few years. Knowing the co-operation and advertising this week will get in other cities, we should like to be among the first in Colorado to support the local postoffice in their endeavor to make a showing for Colorado."

The barbecue was held at Ruddick park, and the picture show was given afterward at the Legion hut. The show dealt mainly with the activities of the oil corporation and its agencies. A number of shots had been made of the Colorado refinery, and others of the plant at Cyril, Oklahoma. Dancing at the Legion hut followed the show.

The Col-Tex plant now has possession of the President's cup, a trophy first offered in 1936 to the Anderson-Prichard unit maintaining the highest safety record for three successive years. It was won in 1936 by the production department. The trophy is known as the President's cup because it was supplied by L. H. Prichard of Oklahoma City, president of the Anderson-Prichard corporation.

COL-TEX EMPLOYEES REWARDED FOR THEIR 1937 SAFETY RECORD WITH BARBECUE AND DANCE TUESDAY NIGHT; SHOW ALSO GIVEN

Rewarding the Col-Tex refinery at Colorado for its 1937 safety record of only one lost-time accident, officials of the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation, which owns the Col-Tex and other refineries in Texas and Oklahoma, treated employees of the plant and their families to a barbecue, picture show, and dance Tuesday night. Around 500 persons attended.

George Burrus of Oklahoma City, refinery manager for the Anderson-Prichard corporation, and W. R. Jarratt of Midland, who is connected with the production department of the corporation, represented the company at the affair. Three Col-Tex employees, N. H. White, Jr., W. E. Seward, and Jack Winnett, arranged the barbecue.

The annual concert of the Colorado High school band is slated for Friday night, May 30. Proceeds from this concert will be used to help pay expenses of the band when it goes on tour to Carlsbad caverns during the week after school is out. R. P. Rose is band director.

ELEVEN TEAMS ARE ALREADY ENTERED IN SOFTBALL PLAY

ONE MORE TEAM SOUGHT TO MAKE 6 TEAMS IN EACH OF TWO LEAGUES WHICH LIONS WILL SPONSOR

Eleven teams have already entered the softball leagues which the Colorado Lions club is to sponsor this summer, according to Jack Christian, league chairman. Representatives from these teams attended a softball committee meeting held Friday night in the chamber of commerce office.

"We need one more team to fill out our two leagues," Christian said Wednesday, "and we are hoping to get that one in the next few days."

It is planned to have one fast league and one slow league, each with six teams. Teams have already been entered by Loraine, Westbrook, Colorado, the Colorado junior chamber of commerce, the Col-Tex refinery, Ira, China Grove, Shell, Standard, Colorado High school, and Carr.

Christian says that each team is to play at least one practice game during the two weeks, May 16-28, before league play opens on Monday, May 30.

On the night of the opening game a trophy is to be presented to the Standard team which won the league last year.

THREE GOING FROM HERE TO HD RALLY SATURDAY

At least three Mitchell county women plan to attend a meeting of the Sixth district of the Texas Home Demonstration association in Big Spring Saturday.

These three are Mrs. J. C. Franklin, president of the Mitchell county home demonstration council; Miss Roselle McKenney, council delegate; and Miss Vera Crippen, county home demonstration agent.

The meeting will be the first district meeting of its kind ever held.

MRS. TINER'S SHOP NOW OPEN IN NEW LOCATION

The beauty shop of Mrs. R. D. Tiner was open for business Monday morning in its new location north of Jones & Russell on Walnut street.

The building which the shop occupies has been completely renovated, and the shop is one of the most attractive in Colorado, according to those who have visited it this week.

MANISS MADE DIRECTOR ON JUNIOR C OF C BOARD

Appointment of H. E. Maniss, manager of the Economy store, as a director of the Junior chamber of commerce has been announced.

Maniss fills the vacancy left when Marvin Majors moved to Sterling City recently.

REV. MR. JAMESON ADDRESSES GRADUATES

The Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor of First Methodist church, was at the Goodman Consolidated school Wednesday night to deliver the graduation address to Goodman seniors.

Goodman is located a few miles north of Trent in Jones county.

ANOTHER CLASS OF SENIORS BEGIN TO PLAN GRADUATION

HONOR STUDENTS NAMED; MISS MILLER TO HAVE CHARGE OF PROGRAM

Graduation plans for another class of seniors—the Class of 1938—are beginning to take definite shape as the close of the school term approaches.

It has been announced that Shirley Kiker and Muriel Gunn are the senior girls who will graduate with honors, and that Van King will be the honor boy graduate.

Miss Gladys Miller is launching work on the commencement program, which will be a student activity affair dealing with the theme, "Patterns."

The Junior-Senior banquet, one of the highlights of commencement time, will be held Friday night, May 13. Senior-Week, May 23-27, will be opened with the senior play on Monday night, May 23. Miss Miller will direct. On Thursday night, May 26, will come the Junior High school commencement program, and on Friday night, May 27, the high school commencement will be held. There are around 80 candidates for graduation.

WESTBROOK SENIORS PRESENT THEIR PLAY IN NEW GYMNASIUM

Success attended the presentation of the senior play of Westbrook High school in the new Westbrook gymnasium-auditorium Friday night, according to reports.

The class made $56.65 from the play, which was witnessed by an audience of more than 350. It was the first public presentation in the new building.

John W. Hood coached the play and R. G. Crouch was sponsor. Entitled "Murdered Alive," the play had a cast including Cap McKinney, Phionella Davis, J. K. Bolin, Elizabeth Young, Dorothy Taylor, Modenia Elliott, Lena Lee Bird, M. L. Cope, Leecroy Clifton, Chester Anderson, Leona Moon, and Clarence Moore.

LESTER MANNERING HOME IS RANSACKED

Gaining entrance by cutting a hole in a screen and crawling in through a bedroom window, unidentified parties entered the Lester Mannering home on Locust street Sunday evening and ransacked the house. Nothing of value has been missed so far, however.

The house was entered while the Mannerings were visiting at the Willis Jones' home early Sunday evening. The would-be burglars evidently took their time, going through all the closets, tumbling contents of dresser and bureau drawers, turning purses inside out. They had left by the back door, taking the key with which it had been locked with them. A dress belonging to Jean Wallace Mannering had been taken from a line on the service porch, but was dropped in the yard.

Mrs. Mannering missed a small amount of change from her purse. No arrests in the case had been made Thursday morning, according to Dick Hickman, chief of police.

ALL-DAY TOUR OF FOUR NEIGHBORING SCHOOLS TO BE MADE BY CHS BAND THURSDAY, MAY 12

Schedule for a tour of four schools in this section by the Colorado High school band on Thursday, May 12, has been completed by those in charge.

The band will play at Dunn at 9:15, at Snyder at 10:45, at Sweetwater at 1 o'clock, and at Loraine at 2:45.

R. P. Rose, director, and John E. Watson, superintendent of schools, will accompany the band on the tour. About 50 members will be included.

WOW CIRCLE MEMBERS TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

Local Woodmen Circle members have been invited to take part in a district convention of the society at Sweetwater on Monday, May 9.

Assisting with various ceremonies will be the following local district officers: Mrs. Nellie DeLaney, vice-president; Mrs. Lottie Wilson, inner sentinel; and Mrs. Catherine Desentinel, and Miss Catherine DeLaney, junior supervisor.

Several other members of Colorado grove No. 236 will probably attend.

PLANS MADE FOR HIRING MANAGER BY CC DIRECTORS

SHERMAN HART IS NAMED AS ACTING MANAGER UNTIL A SUCCESSOR FOR BLASIG IS CHOSEN

Definite plans for the selection of a manager to succeed Carl A. Blasig who will leave for Olney on May 1, were made by the board of directors of the Colorado chamber of commerce in called session Monday afternoon.

Sherman Hart, who for the past several months has served as secretary in the chamber of commerce office, was appointed to serve as acting secretary-manager until a permanent manager will have been selected.

Directors voted to appoint a committee to interview applicants for the manager's position and to make a report to the board of directors on the qualifications of each applicant. The directors will then elect the man whom they deem best qualified to manage the affairs of the organization and to carry on the work of the chamber of commerce on its present efficient basis.

The following men were chosen on this committee: W. W. Whipkey, Earl Gunn, Joe Smoot, J. W. Randle, Lee Carter, and Roy Davis Coles.

COLORADOANS ATTENDED FHA MEETING HELD IN ABILENE FRIDAY NIGHT

Two Coloradans, R. O. Pearson and R. H. DeLaney, were among 35 persons from Monday, Merkel, Colorado, Winters, Fort Worth, and Abilene attending a conference on new assignments of the Federal Housing Administration in Abilene Friday night.

R. E. Sikes, FHA representative from Dallas, was present to answer questions at the conference.

It is rumored that a number of Coloradans are planning to apply for the new, liberalized FHA loans for construction of homes here in the near future.

TOUR OF FOUR SCHOOLS IS SCHEDULED FOR CHS BAND THURSDAY, MAY 12

Schedule for a tour of four schools in this section by the Colorado High school band on Thursday, May 12, has been completed by those in charge.

The band will play at Dunn at 9:15, at Snyder at 10:45, at Sweetwater at 1 o'clock, and at Loraine at 2:45.

R. P. Rose, director, and John E. Watson, superintendent of schools, will accompany the band on the tour. About 50 members will be included.

ALL-DAY TOUR OF FOUR NEIGHBORING SCHOOLS TO BE MADE BY CHS BAND THURSDAY, MAY 12

An all-day tour of four neighboring schools by the Colorado High school choral club is being arranged for Monday, according to G. D. Foster, Colorado High school principal.

Accompanied by its director, Mrs. Chas. Moeser, and by Foster and probably several of the parents, the club will leave Colorado in time to make its first appearance at Roby at 9:45. A program will be given at Sweetwater at 11:15, at Roscoe at 1:45, and at Loraine at 2:45.

Interest Centered On UDC-DAR Play Review To Be Given Saturday 3 p. m.

Interest of literary-minded Coloradans is centered this week on the complimentary play review in which the Colorado chapters of the U. D. C. and the D. A. R. are to present Mrs. Earl Powell of Stanton at the First Baptist church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Powell is to review the Pulitzer prize play, "You Can't Take It With You," by Connelly-Kaufmann. Interest will be added to the occasion by the fact that Mrs. Powell, the former Jane Bounds, was born in Colorado and, after attending T.C.U. in Fort Worth, taught in Colorado High school. She also taught in Austin, and is now teaching at Stanton. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lay Powell of Colorado, ranches near Stanton.

An experienced reviewer of both books and plays, Mrs. Powell was presented in a review at the recent convention of the eighth district, Texas Federated Women's clubs, at Pecos.

A program has been arranged by U. D. C. and D. A. R. members to precede the review. Mrs. Arlie Martin of Loraine, president of the D. A. R. will preside. Mrs. E. L. Latham will play an organ solo, and Mrs. W. R. Martin of Loraine will give a vocal solo. Mrs. Powell will be introduced by Mrs. Jack Smith, vice-president of the U. D. C., in the absence of the president, Mrs. Hubert Smith, who is visiting in San Antonio. Mrs. Jack Smith, incidentally is Mrs. Powell's sister.

The review is to be given without charge. All members of the D. A. R. and the U. D. C. are requested to assemble in the foyer of the church at 2:45, fifteen minutes before the time set for the opening of the program.

TOURNAMENT IN 42 AND BRIDGE OPENS AT COUNTRY CLUB

The spring tournament in bridge and 42 opened at the Colorado country club Monday night. The tournament was arranged by the entertainment committee of the club with Mrs. Chas. Moerer as chairman.

Mrs. Harry Ragan was high for women in bridge, and R. J. Wallace was high for men. Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr., was high for women in 42, while Charles Moerer was high for men.

Games will be played each Monday night until four Monday nights have passed, the final games being slated for May 16.

Ten Tables of 42 Entertained At Ed Majors Home

Ten tables of forty-two were entertained by Mrs. Ed Majors and Mrs. Oscar Majors at the Ed Majors home Tuesday afternoon.

Cornflowers, phlox, and poppies decorated the playing rooms. Two traveling prizes were given.

Playing guests were Mesdames C. E. Nesbit, W. R. Motley, A. C. Anderson, Joe Smoot, R. S. Brennand, Raymond Johnson of Pharr, George Plaster, P. C. Coleman, Harry Landers, H. P. Slagle, Walter Whipkey, R. P. Rose, Lee Carter, Ralph Mann, Chas. Farris, C. C. Thompson, Geo. Slaton, Sam Majors, Sam Wilkes, R. O. Pearson, H. E. Grantland, C. E. Jameson, H. H. Bennett, Henry Doss, Sr., Henry Doss, Jr., W. W. Rhode, Bob Price, B. F. Dulaney, Jack Smith, J. G. Merritt, M. C. Hendrickson, E. A. Barcroft, M. C. Ratliff, H. B. Broadbudd, Frank Lupton, R. H. Looney, T. J. Ratliff, Henry Pond, and Lee Jones, Sr.; Miss Nellie Rior-dan.

Guests at the tea hours, when ice cream and cake were served, were Miss Martha Earnest, Mrs. Harry Ratliff, and Mrs. G. J. McKinney.

Mrs. Thompson Elected, Federation Report Wins As District Meet Ends

From Colorado's standpoint, the election of Mrs. C. C. Thompson as district second vice-president and awarding of first prize to the Mitchell County Federation report featured closing sessions of the annual convention of the sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, in Eastland late last week.

Mrs. Thompson's candidacy was sponsored by the 1921 Study club of Colorado. Other officers elected with her were Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger as president, Mrs. Carl Hill of Ranger as secretary, and Mrs. C. D. Bruce of Santa Anna as first vice-president.

The report with which the Mitchell County Federation won first place in the district was read by Mrs. L. B. Elliott, vice-president of the county federation and official delegate from

County Federation In Next To Final Session At City Hall On Tuesday

The next-to-last meeting of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs for the current club year was held Tuesday afternoon at the city hall.

All clubs in the federation submitted good reports, the 1921 Study report being made by Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., the Hesperian by Mrs. J. D. Williams, Jr., the Self Culture by Mrs. Lee Phenix, the Zetaganthian by Mrs. W. V. Wheeler, the Art club and Daughters of the King by Mrs. Jeff Dobbs.

Mrs. Dobbs reported of having attended the state health meeting in El Paso. She told of having given 385 tuberculin tests in Mitchell county schools recently.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, federation president, told of three prizes to be given in yard beautification contests this summer. She explained that inspection of yards is to be made monthly.

The report which won for the federation first prize at the Sixth district convention in Eastland last week was read by Mrs. L. B. Elliott, vice-president, who read it at the convention. Convention highlights were given by Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Mrs. Dell Barber, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, and others.

The final meeting for the federation this year will be held in May.

DAR Wins State Prize For Giving Books, Magazines

Because its members gave more books and magazines to rural schools than any other D. A. R. chapter in Texas during the past year, the local chapter of the D. A. R. was awarded a $5 prize at the state D. A. R. meeting held recently in Temple. This was announced at the chapter's regular meeting with Mrs. W. M. Elliott on Saturday afternoon.

Plans were made to award a citizenship medal for the third time to the high school boy or girl voted the best citizen before the close of the present school term.

Members voted to hold over the same officers for another year. Mrs. Fred Ison and Mrs. Arlie Martin, both of Loraine, were named on the year book committee for next year.

Arrangements were made for the D. A. R. to act as co-hostess with the U. D. C. in presenting Mrs. Earl Powell of Stanton in a review of the play, "You Can't Take It With You," on Saturday afternoon.

County Federation In Next To Final Session At City Hall On Tuesday

The next-to-last meeting of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs for the current club year was held Tuesday afternoon at the city hall.

All clubs in the federation submitted good reports, the 1921 Study report being made by Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., the Hesperian by Mrs. J. D. Williams, Jr., the Self Culture by Mrs. Lee Phenix, the Zetaganthian by Mrs. W. V. Wheeler, the Art club and Daughters of the King by Mrs. Jeff Dobbs.

Mrs. Dobbs reported of having attended the state health meeting in El Paso. She told of having given 385 tuberculin tests in Mitchell county schools recently.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, federation president, told of three prizes to be given in yard beautification contests this summer. She explained that inspection of yards is to be made monthly.

The report which won for the federation first prize at the Sixth district convention in Eastland last week was read by Mrs. L. B. Elliott, vice-president, who read it at the convention. Convention highlights were given by Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Mrs. Dell Barber, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, and others.

The final meeting for the federation this year will be held in May.

MONEY TO LOAN ON FARM AND RANCH PROPERTIES

Money to loan on farm and ranch properties at 5 1/2 per cent, interest payable annually. Loans from one thousand dollars to no limit in amount; prompt inspection; no inspection fee. Mrs. Earl Morrison. tfc

By Nina Laura Smith

Spring has come to T.S.C.W. How do we know? Well, the Aggies spent the week-end in Denton; the Fish had their big dance... the first formal prom in class history; there are hundreds of dashing little minnows in the ponds left from the gentle April rains which made us wish we were Noah; the botanical gardens are one mass of green against the riot of color of the roses and the poppies; the steps plodding up the hill get a little slower, ravaged by spring fever; modern dry-laid merrymen spend their spare time getting a golden tan; and all are counting the days until summer. In the meantime, picnics and Lake Dallas and going places manage to occupy the time.

Frances Jones has had an attack of mild energy. She is now recovering satisfactorily, but before the disease ran its course she went to Farnersville to see an old school friend and then to Ft. Worth the next week-end. She also was one of the models in a style show given by a campus store. Houston Hall, where she lives, was one of the groups going to Lake Dallas on a picnic recently.

Also in Houston Hall is Melba Slaton. Miss Slaton sang with the college choir in the sunrise Easter service and travels with them on their concert tours. The music of the choir was very beautiful, but many eyes were fastened on the Easter outfits, since this was the first Easter that T. S. C. W. has been out of uniform. Getting back to Melba, she was one of the hostesses in a dinner that a home economics class gave to visitors from out of town.

Nita McKenney has also been traveling—this time to Gainesville. Her sister Laura went with the undignified seniors on their annual jaunt to Lake Dallas. The poor seniors had hard luck, because some of the food did not get to the lake. However, those who went hungry there were amply recompensed for their annoyance when they were treated to a chicken dinner.

Mable Majors also went on the senior picnic. Miss Majors got a double dose of picnic-itis. As president of the Intermediate-Grammar grade education club, she headed their trek to the lake.

Edna Earle Cox went on this picnic and on one other too. Sin Cuidado had a cabin party at Lake Dallas, spending the night there. Colorado's representatives in Sin Cuidado are Miss Cox, Erna Lou Merrill, Elizabeth Taylor, and Frances Elliott. The girls must have had an enjoyable time, for they looked as if they did the next morning.

Edna Earle spent last week-end in Dallas, Frances Elliott the one before in Ft. Worth, and Elizabeth had to be content to spend it with Nina Laura Smith in Austin Hall. The girls in Sin Cuidado have been heard saying "knit one, pearl one"—they have taken to knitting. My, my!

Mary Alice Gunn spent a few days in Bryan, the home of A. & M. She says she went to visit her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson left immediately for Rule, where they and other relatives met Mrs. Powell's body and accompanied it to Crowell. Funeral services were held in Crowell Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson live at 612 Hickory St.

DUST STORMS GIVE VERNA CAMPBELL SUBJECT FOR PRIZE ESSAY IN DISTRICT WARD CONTEST

"Dust Storms" was the subject on which Verna Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell of Colorado, wrote the following essay which won first place in the ward division of the district Ready Writers' contest at Sweetwater recently:

DUST STORMS
It was the spring of the year, when the terrible dust storms rush down from the dust bowl to damage the farmer's crops. But this spring morn seemed to promise a beautiful day in a small town in the panhandle of Texas. And our family of five was driving to the nearest large city to do our spring shopping for the Easter parade, which was always a special event.

When we had finished our daily chores, we joyfully scrambled into the car for the long waited trip. The sky was clear and the sun shone brightly, but later, much to our surprise, we would witness the most terrible dust storm of the season. Not knowing this, we slowly passed the familiar farm houses on our way to the city.

When we were half way to our destination, we saw a dark cloud rising over the horizon, which seemed but few miles from our small cottage. We cautiously watched this funnel of dust until we were certain that it was coming our way. We knew there was nothing we could do, but turn around and head for home, much to the children's disappointment.

We turned around and started toward home at the highest speed our out-of-date automobile could stand. After we had gone fifteen miles we were horrified by the storm, which was slowly swooping down on us. We could see but a few feet in front of us, and it was growing more difficult as we slowly pushed our way homeward. Just then, as we

IN MEMORY OF E. M. McCRELESS

By the Rev. J. T. Griswold
Clyde, Texas
Elijah Milton McCreless was born February 12, 1849, in North Carolina, and died in McAllen, Texas, March 4, 1938.

October 23, 1873, he was married to Miss Hannah Moore at Mount Hilliard, Alabama.

To this marriage God gave six children: Eula, the oldest, returned home to God when she was about 10 years old; Mrs. J. W. Turner, Lela, of Sylvester, Texas; Mrs. B. B. McGuire, Mia, of McAllen, Texas; Mrs. R. Bedford, Jennie, of Colorado, Texas; James D. McCreless of Stanton, Texas, and O. R. McCreless of Odessa, Texas. These are all first class, upstanding, Christian men and women, who love God, the church and our nation. Their lives and characters reflect the rich heritage they had in their father and mother.

E. M. McCreless was born in North Carolina but in early life moved to Bullock county, Alabama, where he married into one of the first families of the State. Here his children were born, and here, so far as moral and religious intelligence and culture are concerned, they built a remarkable home.

In middle life Bro. McCreless removed from Mount Hilliard, Bullock county, Alabama, to Mitchell county, Texas, and in and about Colorado, he spent many years, completing his long, happy, and useful life.

This righteous Godly man was one of the purest, most spotless characters I have ever known. He literally put into practice the Golden Rule. No evil word of a neighbor ever escaped his lips. He loved the church and proved it in every possible way. No opportunity was lost by him to make the world a better place in which to live. He was one of my best friends. I was very fond of him.

Though older than myself, he sought to do me every favor in his power and to encourage me in my life work.

E. M. McCreless lived a true and tried life, finished his course, folded his arms and closed his eyes in sleep and God took him home to a rich reward.

RUTH SNIDER PRAISED FOR EXCELLENT RECORD

The "excellent record" which Ruth Snider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snider who live west of Colorado, has made at Texas State College for Women in Denton was highly praised in a letter which her parents recently received from Mrs. Mattie Lloyd Wooten, dean of women at the college.

Although she was partially reared in the Valley View section of Mitchell county, Ruth was graduated from North Dallas High school in Dallas last year, winning a $500 scholarship at the time of her graduation. Her parents lived in DeLeon at the time. They moved back to Mitchell county last Jan. 1. The letter written by the dean to Mr. and Mrs. Snider said, in part, "Ruth's name appears among the small number of girls whose grades were sufficiently high to allow them to become members of the Alpha Lambda Delta, which is a National Honorary Fraternity for Women. This organization rates among the best in the country."

ing was Rev. C. E. Jameson, pastor of First Methodist church at Colorado. He expressed the belief that teachers cannot be overpaid, and that they are, in reality, grossly underpaid. He glorified the teaching profession, assuring his hearers that the teacher who works conscientiously and patiently will be rewarded in some way.

Introduction of candidates and other guests followed. Those recognized for work done in arranging the banquet included Ira D. Lauderdale, superintendent of Westbrook schools; Winnie Pae Gressett, secretary of the teachers' association; Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, and his assistant, Mrs. Harold Bennett; members of the decoration and arrangements committee, including Mrs. Roy Davis Coles, Hilma Joyce, Mrs. Floyd Quinney, Mrs. Lynn Halbert, and Ed Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Boston of Westbrook were introduced as workers for all things connected with Westbrook schools. Mr. Boston is mayor of Westbrook and a member of the school board. Mrs. Boston is an active member of the Westbrook P.-T. A. which served the banquet. Mrs. Foy Castleman is P.-T. A. president.

Selection of new officers for the association closed the banquet. Ed Williams, superintendent of Loraine schools, was elected president. Robert Coffman of Colorado first vice-president, Lynn Halbert of Carr second vice-president, and Hilma Joyce of Spade secretary-treasurer.

J. B. PRITCHETT TO BE CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE OF SHERIFF

MITCHELL COUNTY FOR 40 YEARS TO SEEK ELECTION AS OFFICER

J. B. (Bud) Pritchett this week made formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of Mitchell county sheriff, subject to the Democratic primary in July.

A resident of Mitchell county for 40 years, Pritchett is well-known over the entire county. He is a World War veteran, having served with the Forty-second (Rainbow) division. He has been active in American Legion affairs ever since the local post was organized.

In announcing his candidacy, Pritchett made the following statement:

"If the people of the county see fit to elect me to this important office, I promise that I will do my utmost to fill it with fairness and efficiency. All my interests are in Mitchell county, and I shall always have the best interests of the county at heart."

Pritchett plans to try and see as many voters as possible between now and the primary in July.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S RAIN BROUGHT TOTAL FOR THE WEEK TO OVER ONE INCH

The .55 inches of rain which Colorado and vicinity received from a blustery, wind-driven cloud which came from the northwest Tuesday night brought to 1.03 the total precipitation in this area for the week.

Moisture gauged at .48 inches fell in Colorado in the early hours of Sunday morning. Tuesday night's rain was reported to have been much heavier to the north and northwest of Colorado than in Colorado.

Sunday morning's rain was the first that Colorado had received in measurable quantity during April, although considerable rain fell in other portions of the county on the preceding Sunday afternoon. The moisture was welcomed by farmers and stockmen.

QUINNEYS TO DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Quinney, former Coloradans who have been living in Lubbock for several years, left late last week for Dallas, where Mr. Quinney is to attend a special six-weeks school. At the end of the six weeks he will be stationed in Corpus Christi, San Angelo, or some other point. The Quinneys stopped over here for a brief visit with friends and relatives enroute to Dallas.

LONG-AGO FIGHT OF HER HUSBAND FOR FREE TEXTBOOKS IN TEXAS SCHOOLS REMEMBERED BY 86-YEAR-OLD COLORADOAN, MRS. MARTIN

Every time Mrs. A. D. (Anna Rose) Martin, 86-year-old Coloradoan, sees poor children going to school with the same free textbook advantages which rich children have, she remembers a dream her husband had, long ago.

Her husband was Abram Dallas Martin, state representative from Camp and Uphur counties during the latter part of the 80's under the administration of Gov. L. S. Ross. He has been dead for 43 years, but Mrs. Martin still remembers how strongly he advocated free textbooks for Texas schoolchildren, and how vainly he worked for the passage of a text-book law by the legislature.

The Martins were living in Camp county near Pittsburgh in those days. Indeed, their home was in Pittsburgh and vicinity for 35 years. When Mr. Martin ran for the legislature, Mrs. Martin recalls, one of the main points made by his opponents was that he was a "drummer," and therefore "in league with the interests of the railroads." His "drumming" job was as Texas representative for the St. Louis firm of Houston, West & Co.

Romance must have been present in an unusual quantity in the marriage of Rose Anna Hunt and A. D. Martin, judging not only from the pride with which Mrs. Martin remembers her husband but also from the facts of his life as recorded in a frayed book of legislative biographies and sketches published in the late eighties—and now one of Mrs. Martin's prized possessions.

At 14 he ran away from his birthplace in Troup county, Ga., and joined the Army of Northern Virginia in the Civil War. Serving under Stonewall Jackson, he was wounded four times. He came to Texas in 1863 and was teaching school at Millville in Rusk county when he fell in love with a diminutive, 18-year-old girl in one of his classes. That girl was Rose Anna Hunt, and she not only went to school to him but also lived at the same boarding house. They were married at her home near Henderson, Rusk county, on October 15, 1870.

Rose Anna Hunt had lived on that farm near Henderson since she was three years old. She was born in South Carolina, the seventh child in a family of nine children, and her family moved to Rusk county when she was three. Her mother died when her baby brother was two weeks old. Shortly afterward her father, seeing the shadow of slave emancipation approaching and being handicapped in caring for all his motherless children on the farm, sold his slaves and moved into Henderson, going into the grocery business. When the Civil War broke he went back to the farm, but he never lived to see the close of the war, dying when Rose Anna was only 12.

Rose Anna and some of the other children, meanwhile, had been placed in Henderson boarding houses for school advantages. Mrs. Martin has very clear memories of spending long days, she and the other girls, knitting socks for Confederate soldiers. One of her brothers died of pneumonia while in Confederate service at Richmond, Va.

After the war closed she and the other children went back to their father's farm, managing and working it by themselves with the help of a negro cook. Rose Anna was going to school in Millville when she met A. D. Martin.

For a time after their marriage Mr. Martin taught school in Rusk county. Then they moved to Paris, Texas, where Mr. Martin sold sewing machines for seven years. At the end of that time he became a "drummer" for the St. Louis firm and moved his family to Pittsburgh so that he could visit home more often. They really lived a few miles out of Pittsburgh on a farm which Mr. Martin's legislative biography described as "one of the most modern and best-improved farms in the state."

Five children, three daughters and two sons, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin. After Mr. Martin's death in 1895, Mrs. Martin stayed on the farm for seven years, then moved into Pittsburgh and opened a boarding house to finish rearing the children who remained at home.

It was at the urging of her two sons, who were the youngest of the children, that Mrs. Martin moved to Colorado in 1911. The sons wanted to go to "new country" to make their living.

Only two of the Martin children are still living. They are Mrs. Alvin Myhre of Colorado, with whom Mrs. Martin now lives, and A. D. Martin, Jr., of Austin. The only grandchild is Mrs. Bruce Campbell of Colorado.

Tiny and white-haired, Mrs. Martin is unusually quick and active for all her 86 years. She goes without glasses most of the time, her eyes needing help only when she reads, writes or sews. She uses a pair of gold-rimmed glasses which her husband gave her some 44 years ago. The lens have never been broken.

She is a staunch Baptist, having belonged to this church for 66 years.

SCURRY TEST IS NOW DRILLING PAST 200

The Scurry county test, Spears & Brownfield No. 1, being drilled by Coffield & Guthrie of Rockdale, Texas, was spudded this week and was drilling past 200 feet Thursday.

The test is located 330 feet from the west line and 2310 feet from the south line of section 130-97, H&TC. It is about 3 1/2 miles northwest of Ira, and about 2 1/2 miles from Robinson Bros. Martin No. 1. Surrounding leases are held by the Magnolia, Jim Cantrill of Colorado, and others.

Miss Evelyn O'Neal of Big Spring was a visitor in Colorado early this week.

DISTRICT SCOUTING RALLY TO BE HELD AT PARK SATURDAY

CONTESTS ARE PLANNED FOR BOY SCOUTS FROM FOUR COUNTIES

An all-day rally for Boy Scouts of the Colorado district is to be held Saturday at Ruddick park beginning at 9 a.m., according to M. L. Kirschbaum of Colorado, district chairman of camping and activities.

Troops are expected to attend from Westbrook, Loraine, and Spade. Contests are to be held in first aid, signaling, fire building, cooking, water boiling, Scout pace, and various races.

83 RECEIVE SEALS AND DIPLOMAS AS RESULT OF BTU TRAINING SCHOOL

Eighty-three children and adults who took part in the Baptist Training school recently held at First Baptist church received diplomas and seals at a general B.T.U. assembly at the church Sunday evening.

James Herrington, church B.T.U. director, presented the seals and diplomas to 38 juniors who had been taught by Miss Violet Mooser; three intermediates who had been taught by C. A. Burgess; eight intermediates who had been taught by Mrs. Chas. Farris; seven primaries; seven who had studied the intermediate manual under Mrs. G. C. Williams; ten adults who had been taught by the Rev. T. A. Patterson; and ten seniors who had been taught by O. C. McGaw, special worker from Howard Payne college.

COTTONSEED HULLS BEST FOR GRASSHOPPER POISON

Cottonseed hulls are an effective and inexpensive carrier for use in standard poison bran mash to control grasshoppers, according to extension service entomologists.

In many grasshopper-infested areas, hulls are more widely available and less expensive than other commonly used carriers for the poison.

A standard poison mash recommended by the Texas extension service contains: cottonseed hulls, 50 pounds; bran 50 pounds; sodium arsenite, 2 quarts; and water, 10 to 12 gallons. Molasses of a low quality is sometimes used also.

The government is furnishing all necessary poison and bran equal to the amount of roughage furnished by the farmers. That furnished by farmers may be either bran or cottonseed hulls.

MILK COWS SCARCE ON FARMS OF TEXAS

COLLEGE STATION. — Almost one-fourth, or 121,000 of Texas farm families, have no milk cows, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. & M. college extension service.

This means, the dairyman pointed out, that Texas needs an additional quarter million dairy cows if farm families are to have sufficient milk for home needs, and also that dairy production for home use can expand considerably in Texas and in the South in general without competing with commercial dairy areas.

Eudaly based his statement on census figures and estimates of the bureau of agricultural economics which show that 24.2 per cent of Texas farm families do not have a milk cow and that over the 12 southern states as a whole, only 71 per cent of the farm families keep cows for milk.

There is an average of only 2 milk cows per farm over the cotton belt as a whole as compared to an average of nearly 4 for all farms in the United States.

HOSPITAL NEWS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Taylor of Westbrook at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Her name is Daisetta.

Albert Norris Taylor, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cline Taylor of Loraine underwent an appendectomy on April 21. He is doing well.

J. R. Oglesby of Westbrook was a medical patient in the hospital Monday and Tuesday.

Jean Arnold, 12, daughter of Mrs. Phelan of Silver, was given surgery for appendicitis on Monday and is doing satisfactorily.

Herman Hall of Route 3, Colorado, had a long cut in his arm sutured about 11:30 Tuesday night. The arm was cut in a car mishap west of town.

Mrs. A. C. Benson received minor surgery Thursday morning.

Mrs. W. P. Edwards of Dunn was admitted to the hospital Thursday morning as a medical patient.

Lee Lavender underwent surgery for appendicitis about 5 p.m. Wednesday, and was reported Thursday morning to be in a satisfactory condition.

RANGER DOCTOR WILL ARRIVE HERE MAY 5TH

It was announced this week that Dr. Harry A. Logsdon of Ranger will arrive in Colorado May 5 to occupy the offices of the late Dr. C. L. Root and enter practice here as a physician and surgeon.

Dr. Logsdon, who is 53, has practiced in Ranger since he was discharged from the army in 1919. He has been associated with Ranger's city-county hospital as a surgeon for years.

He was mayor of Ranger for four years and is a member of the Ranger Lions club. He is married, and his wife's sister is understood to make her home with him and his wife.

DALLAS TRADE TRIPPERS WELCOMED HERE TODAY

Coloradans turned out today (Thursday) to welcome the Dallas good will trippers, who arrived here on a special train at 12:25 from the west.

The Colorado High school band, directed by R. P. Rose, played as the train arrived. Truett Barber, president of the Colorado chamber of commerce, extended the official welcome.

A program by well-known WFAA radio stars was presented by the Dallas group in front of the Palace theater. The trippers declared the reception here was the best they had received Thursday.

TEN CHILDREN VISIT AT MOTHER'S BEDSIDE

All ten of the children of Mrs. Sarah Gallatin, 75, who has been critically ill for some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Warner, near Colorado, have been in attendance at her bedside recently.

Those who have been in the Warner home during the past two weeks include Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gallatin of Garbet, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gallatin of Austin, Mrs. H. P. Stanford of Littlefield, Mrs. E. P. Stanford of Yukum, Mrs. Harry Curtis of San Antonio, Mrs. S. E. Burney of Monahans, Mrs. J. F. Lacker of Austin, Mrs. H. P. Chance of Liberty Hill, and Mrs. Edward Callahan of Monahans. Mrs. Gallatin was improved at last reports.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Doubtless many Coloradans remember Don Blanding, the vaudeville poet who lectured here several years ago and who became a close friend of Rod Merrill, if my own memory serves me right. I read where he authored the picture, "Hawaii Calls," starring Bobby Breen, and acted as technical adviser on Hawaiian costumes and words while the picture was being filmed in Hollywood. The story was originally titled "Stowaways in Paradise."

They tell me that a Colorado girl who has done very well for herself in college is wearing a ring given to her by a Colorado boy who was her interest before she went to college some four years ago, and who has managed to remain her interest in spite of college competition. They also tell me that she's not bandying words about what the ring means. Speaking of such things, we understand that one of the romances which this column hinted at so very subtly (?) several weeks ago is slated to "break" as an announced engagement most any time now.

Simpson, well-known Buford farmer who died suddenly last Thursday morning, appeared in last week's Record as "Milton Ernest" rather than "Newton Ernest," as it should have been. There's something about making a mistake in a death story that hits us a little harder than all the other mistakes we make with such discouraging regularity.

A bouquet of cornflowers from the garden of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott graced The Record office the latter part of last week. It seems to be "Like mother like son" up at the Harry Ratliff house, with six-year-old Hubert Smith Ratliff selling a poem to the Denver Post, just like his talented mother, Isabel, sells them to other publications. Incidentally, Papa Harry can swing a rather expressive pen of his own.

Here and thereabouts: A yo-yo expert in action—Louis Taylor. Mrs. Orville Cage, who sells tickets at the Ritz, declares there must have been a veritable epidemic of births in this vicinity eleven years ago, judging from the number of youngsters who declare they're "just eleven" when buying tickets into the show. Adult prices begin at 12, you know. John Ellis, pioneer Coloradan, is rather proud of a Fort Worth niece, Helen Ellis, who was recently written up as "one of the outstanding students of Riverside High school." Helen is something of a typist, rating entrance in regional contests at Denton.

Last year we wrote a story about the inability of W. L. Doss, Sr., to take an active part in the county singing convention for the first time since its organization. It didn't seem like "singing convention day" could be quite the same without his enthusiastic presence. Cheers that shook the rafters of the old union tabernacle greeted his brief appearance at the convention during the day. Even then he was too feeble to stand without help. This year he won't make even a brief appearance for death took its toll in October. But to the old-timers of the singing convention business his spirit will hover close as the old songs are sung the way he liked to hear them.

Those who attended the Baptist Sunday school convention in San Angelo last week tell me that the Rev. M. C. Bishop, former pastor of the local Baptist church and now pastor at Big Lake, was in attendance with his wife, whom he married not long ago. The present Mrs. Bishop is said to have been the widow of his brother. The first Mrs. Bishop died after they moved to Big Lake.

It's the Fairview Home Demonstration club, with Will and Chester Berry thrown in for good measure—and for a lot of the real work involved—that's undertaking to fill the new cactus bed at Ruddle park with native cactus plants. Women of the Fairview club responded readily to the call which Mayor J. A. Sadler issued recently for some rural women's club to take charge of planting the circular bed, whose lowest terrace measures some 30 feet across.

The bed already contains a large number of beautiful plants. Both the bed and the rustic bridge which spans the ravine below it are being built with NYA labor.

Quite a bit of interest about town Friday in the brief visit of a diminutive page-boy person who was supposed to be the "Johnnie" who admonishes the nation to "Call For Philip Morris" on semi-weekly radio programs which feature Russ Morgan and his orchestra. "Johnnie," according to advertisements handed out from his specially built English car, is 43 inches high and weighs 52 pounds. But some of us skeptics wondered how Johnnie can go gallivanting about the country, and still give such a regular radio "Call for Philip Morris." Which probably reveals how little this particular skeptic knows about the ways and means of radio.

Even before she began to show such promise as a writer, I was interested in Catherine Slagle (and why didn't somebody tell me a long time ago to stop spelling that "Slagle"?). That's one of the things about her—she has that rare quality of exciting interest just by being herself. But now it looks more and more like she has plenty of talent to complement that quality. Since she's been writing these winning essays—she's worked up now to the state contests in Austin, you know—I've been inquiring into her "private life" (forgive me, Catherine, but if you're going to be famous you'll have to learn to take it sooner or later, anyway). Everything I've learned about her has been, to say the least, unusual.

The fact that she is poised, attractive and at the same time "smart" is in itself unusual enough for comment. But when you learn, as I have, that she is paid the high compliment of being a "regular fellow" among the student body, both masculine and feminine, then you begin to see that she is even more unusual than you thought in the beginning. She's active in sports, she's on her toes for whatever there is to do. Her great amount of natural poise may fool you into thinking that she's built a sort of intellectual wall around herself, but fellow students tell me she'll do anything the "gang" will do, even to riding stripped-down jitneys. According to her teachers, though, her avid mind would be tucking facts away for future use even while tearing along in such a conveyance. She's like that, they say—always learning. The thing seems to be that she masters the learning rather than allowing the learning to master her. Which is something too many of the world's intellectual people never learn to do—take it from Philosopher Barrett.

A man who figured prominently in one of the nation's most sensational kidnappings was a visitor in Colorado this week, and probably will be here every now and then in the future. He's W. R. Jarratt, former Oklahoma City oil man who is now connected with the production of the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation at Midland. Jarratt was the man who was kidnapped with Urschel, prominent Oklahoma City oil man, from the Urschel home over five years ago. Jarratt was released by the kidnapers a few hours later, but Urschel was held for ransom.

The softball bug has bitten a number of Colorado "working girls." They've organized a team or so and practice regularly after working hours.

Folks out at Westbrook are justly proud of their new auditorium-gymnasium building. Many of us had our first glimpse of the structure when the annual banquet of the Mitchell County Teachers' association was held there Monday night, and praises were forthcoming from every quarter. Speaking of the banquet, it was served by the Westbrook P.T.A. According to Mrs. Van Boston, all the food brought in ready-cooked by P-T-A members, and it was delicious—clear out of the class of usual banquet fare. To give you an idea, the hot rolls were not only hot but also buttered! And if you are an experienced banqueter, you know that's sumpin'!

BROTHER OF BOB FEE WINS FOURTH PLACE IN NATIONAL CONTEST ON REMODELING OF HOMES

According to a story carried by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram on Sunday, a brother and sister-in-law of Bob Fee of Colorado won fourth place in Class IV of a home remodeling contest recently conducted over the nation by the Better Homes and Gardens magazine. The winners were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Fee of Cisco.

The story, appearing under a Des Moines, Iowa, dateline, follows: Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fee of Cisco were recently awarded fourth prize of $25 cash in their section of the remodeling division of the 1937 National Better Homes Contest conducted by Better Homes and Gardens magazine. The prize-winning entry was in Class IV, including improvements costing more than $2,000.

"It seemed a hopeless task to achieve the home of our dreams by remodeling," said Mrs. Fee. "We wanted our house to cling to the land, and we had built it on a hillcrest, giving it an exposed look. Since the house is on a ranch we wanted it to ramble and had built it ever so compactly. Our favorite building material was white brick and our house was gray clapboard. We wanted larger rooms and this seemed impracticable. Above all, we needed two more bedrooms, and the only feasible place for them was at the northwest."

However, an architect was called in and his suggestions changed their plans. As a result of those suggestions, old rooms were changed to the needed bedrooms. A new living wing was built on the northeast, down two steps and paralleling the highway.

The old pillared open porch was glassed in to make a sun porch. A bay was added to the kitchen and a door was done away with. The front entrance was modernized by building it back in a porch.

To give the white brick finish, brick veneer was used and painted. Large shutters were put on the windows. Inside, the kitchen was fully modernized, with shelves and cabinets taking the place of the pantry. A fireplace was added in the living room, and Venetian blinds installed. All interior walls were finished. The living room reflected Colonial style, while the dining room was furnished in the modern trend.

GOSS REPORTS GREAT LOCAL INTEREST IN AIR MAIL CAMPAIGN

The campaign for National Air Mail Week is being received with great interest locally, according to Tom Jay Goss, assistant chairman of Air Mail Week for Colorado and Mitchell county.

"This interest is indicated by the promise of the Junior chamber of commerce to make an award of $2.50 for the winner of each of the contests sponsored by the Postal Department," said Goss. "This is a fine thing, for these local awards will tend to stir up interest among the school children of Colorado to whom the State and National awards seem too far away. However, I should think that our students here have just as good chance to win as those from any place in the United States. They are just as intelligent and will try just as hard, and that's all it takes."

These contests are part of the celebration of Air Mail week, May 15th to 22nd, and are open to students of grammar and high school. One, the essay contest, "Wings Over America," is open to high school pupils only; the other, the poster contest, on the present and future of air mail, is open to both the grammar school and the high school. Other awards have been posted for both contests. For the essay winner

Notice has been given in both Colorado schools of the contests and their awards. Anyone who is eligible, who wishes to compete and as yet has not been informed of these contests should see his local postmaster and County Chairman, J. Y. Fraser, at once. The entries must be in the mails by May 1st.

LIONS HEAR ARCHDEACON J. W. HEYES IN ADDRESS ON 'TOTALITARISM' AS IT FUNCTIONS IN ITALY AND GERMANY

"Totalitarianism" as it is now practiced in the German and Italian systems of government was the subject for an address which Archdeacon J. W. Heyes of All Saints' Episcopal church delivered at the Lions club luncheon Friday.

"In my judgment," Archdeacon Heyes said in beginning his talk, "the average individual makes the serious blunder of assuming that the system of government now prevalent in Italy and Germany is the work of one man. People . . . think of Mussolini and Hitler . . . as being sole dictators in their respective countries."

"If these two men were of the material from which great individuals are made, you would find them among the creative individualists in their respective countries. But they are not individuals, they are spokesmen. Each man is a mouth-piece for a ruthless group which silyfies functions behind the dictator."

"For example, in Germany is a strong and powerful, though quite small, group which believes in and practices the so-called philosophy of the idea of the Superman. It is a kind of religion that nurtures youth in the belief that the superman will care for the whole nation. And that this is true cannot be denied. Germany has taken much greater care of its people than any other modern nation; health, social service, social security are all quite a serious concern in that country. The few in the Junker Party have long ago realized that the working class should be cared for. They have done this because they know that there is great economy in the policy. Thus life is regimented and freedom is correspondingly put to sleep."

"The Junker is thoroughly grounded in this system and tells to the entire nation that there is no better system for the common man than this. Such a national belief enabled the seventy million Germans to hold at bay some fourteen other modern nations during the four years of the world war; that is what the average German soldier fought for—and almost won!

"This very system concerns us purely because so few people do really think. We have some eighty million people in our own country (just as they have a similar proportion in other democratic countries) who never do any basic thinking in matters of government. They are the people who determine the results of all elections. Granted a mouth-piece and the Junker, or Economic Royalist, can get anything he likes from this element which votes. Supply the Economic Royalist with such a leader as Il Duce and the mob will be swayed by him. Bear in mind that Mussolini quit his place in the Socialist Party and went over "bag and baggage" to the Economic Royalists of his own nation. He was quick to see that his own party could never give him the place in the sun which he craved for."

"Further bear in mind the fact that in our own nation we have some sixty million people who never darken the doors of some House of Prayer from one week to another. These are your will-less, thoughtless people who one day repudiate the Happy Warrior for another person, and then as quickly desert their first choice in a very short period of time. Watch your shifting, unthinking millions who never stay put. Think and think very hard concerning the omen of the times."

TEN YEARS OF SERVICE ROUNDED OUT BY McCALL MISSION LAST SUNDAY

With many of its former pupils in attendance and with its namesake, Mrs. M. P. McCall, as an honored guest, McCall mission in East Colorado observed the tenth anniversary of its service Sunday morning.

Members of the Daughters of the King class of the Methodist church were also special guests. This class established the mission. Other guests were Mrs. J. G. Merritt's class of girls.

Mrs. W. H. Garrett, superintendent of the mission since its establishment, presided. After a hymn led by Mrs. N. H. White, the Rev. C. E. Jameson of First Methodist church led in responsive readings from the 100th Psalm.

Special music included an accordion number by Mrs. James Payne and a quartet directed by Claud Womack. A birthday cake made by Mrs. U. D. Wulfjen was presented, and a birthday offering was taken.

Mrs. Garrett told of the first meeting held under a mesquite tree in East Colorado a year before the mission was built. She reviewed the mission's history, telling that 569 pupils had been enrolled during its ten years of service, and that over 70 Bibles and testaments had been distributed.

She recalled that Mrs. L. A. Costin, one of the mission teachers, has been associated with her in the work for nine years. Mrs. Costin and the following other workers in the mission were introduced: Mrs. Tom Glover, assistant superintendent; Miss Arabelle Forbes, secretary; Mrs. Claud Womack, and Mrs. Boyd Dozier.

The Rev. Mr. Jameson delivered a sermon on the texts, "Whom do men say that I am?" and "I will build my church."

Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, Mrs. Floyd Quinney, and Miss Grace Mann were in Abilene Saturday.

COLORADOANS RETURN FROM SON'S WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Jones returned home late last Thursday from Butler, Missouri, where they had attended the marriage of their son, Raymond, to Miss Alice Denton of Butler on Saturday afternoon, April 16, at 4 o'clock.

VISIT IN DIMMITT

Mrs. C. P. Conaway of Colorado, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Bertha Barber of Abilene and Mrs. D. W. Haralson of Lorraine, also Mr. Haralson and the Haralson sons, made a week-end trip to Dimmitt to visit another daughter of Mrs. Conaway's, Mrs. J. W. Ware, whose husband is pastor of the Dimmitt Baptist church. Mrs. Barber went from

FAIRVIEW CLUB TALKS ABOUT KITCHEN LINENS

Roll call was answered with "Linens That I Need," when the Fairview Home Demonstration club met Friday, April 22, with Mrs. Jack Bourland as hostess.

FORMER COLORADOAN INJURED IN CRASH

R. V. (Ray) Hyatt, former Colorado insurance man who has been living in Midland some time, was one of four Midland men injured in an automobile accident south of Ft. Worth early Sunday.

One of the four, Tom Holton, died Wednesday after developing pneumonia in a Ft. Worth hospital. The driver of the other car involved in the collision was killed.

Hyatt and one of the other crash victims were reported as being still under hospital treatment Thursday morning, although they are expected to recover. All four Midland men were deacons in the First Baptist church in Midland and were enroute to Corsicana to hear a preacher whom they were considering as a possible pastor for the Midland church.

Read the ads and grow wise in the ways of purchasing.

WOMEN IN THE STUDY CLUBS

Hesperian

Colonial possessions of Great Britain were studied at the meeting of the Hesperian club with Mrs. Jimmie Payne Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Watson was leader.

After roll call, which was answered with the name and industry of a British possession, Mrs. Bill Coffey read a paper on "Democratic Cooperation Between the States of the British Commonwealth." Mrs. Ed Majors discussed "The Four Classes of Colonial Possessions," and Mrs. J. D. Williams, Jr., told about "Fealty of Possessions to the Mother Country." Answers to the question, "Why Does England Need These Possessions?" were given in a paper by Mrs. Bennett Scott.

During the business session the club heard an invitation from the U.D.C. to attend the play review to be given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Earl Powell of Stanton. Mrs. Nat Thomas reported $106 deposited on the loan fund.

Mrs. J. W. Randle and Mrs. Bennett Scott were elected delegate and alternate to the state federation in Austin in November. Mrs. Nat Thomas and Mrs. S. H. Millwee were named delegates to the district convention next spring.

The club will observe Federation day Friday at the home of Mrs. John E. Watson.

Standard

The final study meeting of the Standard club for the current club year was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Buchanan. Mrs. C. E. Way read a paper on "The Glamour of Mexico, Old and New." Mrs. J. A. Buchanan had one on "Guatemala," and Mrs. P. C. Coleman read a magazine article on the Panama Canal. Miss Katie Buchanan, a guest, told more of her trip to Mexico.

Present were Mesdames C. M. Adams, Coleman, J. A. Buchanan, K. D. Buchanan, Way, Homer Hutchinson, and L. W. Sandusky. The final meeting this Friday will be a social affair at the home of Mrs. Coleman.

Shakespeare

Arrangements for a covered dish luncheon which will close their year's work at the home of Mrs. Joe Smoot at 12 p.m. Friday were completed by members of the Shakespeare club when they met Friday with Mrs. W. R. Motley.

It was announced that entertainment following the luncheon will be arranged by a program committee.

Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett led the closing discussion of "Twelfth Night."

Zelagathian

"Reunion in Vienna" was reviewed by Mrs. R. H. Cantrill for the Zelagathians when they met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Truett Barber.

Nine members heard the review. Mrs. Cantrill was the only guest.

Mrs. Bill Owens, vice-president of the club, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles Wyatt, who was attending the Sixth district convention in Eastland.

Mrs. Barber served ice cream and cookies. Mrs. Wylie Kinard will be the next hostess.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF DR. W. M. ELLIOTT'S FIRST SERMON HERE COMES SUNDAY; CHURCH TO OBSERVE OCCASION

The thirtieth anniversary of the first sermon which Dr. W. M. Elliott, Sr., preached as pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Colorado comes Sunday. Members of the church will take advantage of the occasion to celebrate "the years of friendship and service" which they and Dr. Elliott have shared since that first sermon was preached.

Known as the "dean of Colorado pastors," Dr. Elliott has served in Colorado longer than any other pastor in the town's history. This record holds good in spite of the fact that he was away from Colorado from 1912 until 1922.

When Dr. Elliott came to Colorado on May 1, 1908, he succeeded the Rev. R. M. Hammock, who was living in Arkansas when last heard of. In those days the Presbyterian church was a brown frame, steeped structure on the East Second street corner where the Gulf filling station is now located. The church organization was the oldest one in Colorado, having been formed under the guidance of the late Rev. O. F. Rogers, pioneer Coloradoan, in the early eighties, when only a dugout was available for church gatherings.

Dr. Elliott—he was the Rev. Mr. Elliott in those days, his doctor's degree coming to him only last year—remained in the service of the church only four years at that time. The health of his wife was very bad, and he was forced to take her out of this climate. In 1912 they moved to Neosho, Mo., and from there went to Saxeoxie, Mo. They moved back to Texas when Dr. Elliott became pastor at Weatherford. Mrs. Elliott died there in 1920.

From Weatherford Dr. Elliott went to Clovis, New Mexico. He was married there in April, 1922, to Mary Lou Merriwether. The following June they and the two Elliott sons, Marion and John, came back to Colorado. Dr. Elliott has been pastor here ever since.

About a year ago he resigned the pastorate, feeling that perhaps he had reached the limit of his usefulness to the church and wishing to give his congregation the opportunity of securing a new worker. The church voted unanimously to refuse his resignation, and he continued his service.

The doctor's degree was conferred on him last June by Austin college at Sherman. He and his younger son, John, now a ministerial student in Presbyterian Theological seminary at Louisville, Ky., were "graduates" together.

A far cry, this being "Dr." Elliott, from the William Marion Elliott who started out at 22 to get education enough to become a minister. Born in Johnson county near Cleburne, Dr. Elliott had the responsibility of supporting his mother and his brothers and sisters after the death of his father when he was 12. There was little time for school.

When he was 22, Dr. Elliott moved his family to Greenville, Tenn., and there entered the preparatory school at Tusculum college. Working at whatever jobs he could get, he went to preparatory school three years, then spent four years in the college proper, graduating in 1898.

He attended the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago two years, and at the end of that time entered the Presbyterian Theological seminary at Louisville, where his son John is now a student and where his older son, Dr. W. M. Elliott, Jr., pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church in Atlanta, Ga., was graduated. After finishing at the seminary, Dr. Elliott entered the ministry by doing home mission work in the mountains of North Carolina.

A teacher in one of the mountain mission schools was Charlotte Jeannette Crump, whose home was in Charlotte, North Carolina. She and the young minister met, loved, and were married just before Dr. Elliott went to his first regular pastorate at the first church in Seymour, Texas. After a time at Seymour they went to Charleston, Indiana, where Dr. Elliott was again pastor of the first church. Later he was pastor of the third church in Albany, Ind.

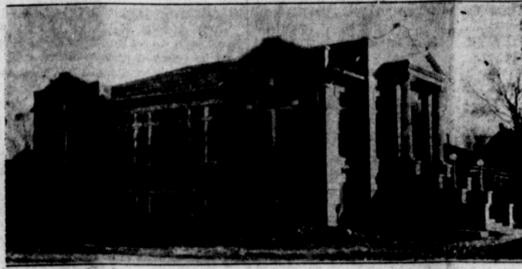

While pastoring the churches at Charleston and Albany, Dr. Elliott crossed the Ohio frequently to do post-graduate work at the seminary in Louisville. It was from Albany, Indiana, that he came to the Colorado church in 1908.

Dr. Elliott fills a number of important posts in the organizations of his church. He is a member of a special Presbyterian synod committee for Austin college at Sherman. He is secretary of stewardship in the El Paso presbytery, and is a member of the synod committee on stewardship. He is commissioner from the El Paso presbytery to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church which meets in Meridian, Miss., on May 19.

That assembly will be one of Dr. Elliott's major destinations when he and Mrs. Elliott leave here on May 4 for a four-months vacation trip. His son from Atlanta is also a commissioner to the assembly, and they will meet there. Later Dr. and Mrs. Elliott, accompanied by Mrs. Elliott's sister, Miss Hennie Merriwether, plan to visit in Atlanta, in Louisville, and other points until Sept. 1.

Mrs. Ella Hamer visited her sister in Big Spring Friday and Saturday.

Dr. W. M. Elliott, Sr., who first came to Colorado as pastor of First Presbyterian church 30 years ago Sunday.

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY FOR 'BUD' SIMPSON OF THE BUFORD COMMUNITY

Attended by hundreds of Mitchell countians and out-of-town friends, funeral services for Newton Ernest ("Bud") Simpson, 60, prominent Buford resident, were held from Elker chapel at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Simpson died at 4:30 Thursday morning after a brief illness of heart trouble.

The Rev. C. D. Damron of Dunn officiated and out-of-town friends, pallbearers were C. F. Woodard, C. M. Campbell, Basil Hudson, W. C. Key, Earl Hunter, and Arthur Weaver, all of Buford. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery.

Buford school was closed all day Friday out of respect to Mr. Simpson. He was a former member of the school board, and a number of the Simpson children attend school at Buford.

Born in Charleston, Texas, on May 2, 1878, Mr. Simpson came to Mitchell county from Delta county 29 years ago. In addition to his wife, the former Myrtle Berry of Delta county, he is survived by eight children. They are Edwin Simpson of near Colorado; Jeannette, Newman, Dorothy, Joe, and Charles, Edward, all of Buford; Gayland Simpson of Phoenix, Arizona; Mrs. Carey Edwards of Forsan, and Howard Simpson of Midland.

Two brothers, Jim Simpson of Antlers, Okla., and Rufus Simpson of Finley, Oklahoma, and two sisters, Mrs. Dow Wood of Salletto, Texas, and Mrs. Oscar Boyd of Charleston, Texas, also survive.

Kiker & Son had charge of arrangements.

MRS. LEWIS HOME

Mrs. D. H. Lewis returned to her home here Sunday night after an absence of several weeks because of illness. Friends report her fully recovered.

WESTBROOK LAUNCHES SIX-MAN FOOTBALL IN MITCHELL COUNTY BY PARTICIPATING IN EIGHT-TEAM SPRING PRACTICE LEAGUE

Six-man football is being launched in Mitchell county through participation of Westbrook High school in a practice league of eight teams recently formed with Westbrook, Coahoma, Stanton, Courtney, Garner, Ackerly, Forsan, and Garden City taking part.

Westbrook's team, coached by C. V. Cox and R. G. Crouch, won its first game 18-0 by defeating Riggs Shepperd's Courtney team at Courtney last Friday afternoon. Westbrook is to play Ackerly at Westbrook this Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Playing on Westbrook's first team are J. K. Bowlin, LeCroy Clifton, Leslie Bassinger, and Alfred Taylor, all seniors; A. G. Board and Sidney Jones, Juniors. The second team is composed of Carroll Mitchell, Red Davenport, Boyd Ray Anderson, M. L. Cope, Chester Anderson, and Junior Oglesby.

According to Ira D. Lauderdale, Westbrook superintendent who represented the Mitchell county school in forming the practice league, the league was organized with the feeling that six-man football, although having no official standing at present, will be recognized by the Interscholastic League before long, probably next fall.

HUBERT RATLIFF, 6, 'THINKS UP' POEM—AND GETS CHECK!

A fanciful poem which six-year-old Hubert Smith Ratliff dictated to his mother, Mrs. Harry Ratliff, some time ago brought him a dollar check from the Denver Post last week.

This sale not only made him Colorado's youngest poet, but also put him into a very rare class for poets of any age—namely, that class of poets who have really "sold something."

The poem, entitled "Rabbit-Clouds," appeared in the Denver Post Sunday. It goes like this:

Once I saw a rabbit hippy-hop across the sky.
He looked lost and he looked lonesome.
I wonder why
He doesn't play with those other little rabbits in the sky.

I wondered where he slept at night,
And if he had his covers right;
And who tucked him up in bed,
And listened to the prayers he said—
If he said any.

Hubert has "thought up" a number of poems, his mother says. It was his own idea that she should type off "Rabbit-Clouds" just as he said it and "send it to that Sunday paper that has things in it by little children."

CHS MILE RELAY TEAM IS FOURTH IN ABILENE MEET

FOUR YOUTHS NOW ELIGIBLE FOR STATE CONTESTS IN AUSTIN MAY 7

One of the fastest mile-relay teams which ever represented Colorado High school in Interscholastic League contests placed fourth in the regional league meet at Abilene Saturday, thereby winning the right to compete in state contests at Austin on May 7.

Handicapped by a slow track on which considerable rain had fallen, the team failed by a half-second to equal its running time in the district meet at Sweetwater the week before. The district meet was won by the Abilene team, which shattered records in the winning. Colorado's team, making the best time of any team in Colorado High's history, placed second in the district.

Abilene was also first in the regional meet, San Angelo coming second, Brady third, and Colorado fourth. The winning time was 3:25.6. In the district meet Abilene won by making the run in 3:25.1.

Colorado's team was composed of Burl Ballard, Jack Smith, John Henderson, and Rudolf Glover. They were accompanied to Abilene by Coach Jack Christian, and will be taken to Austin by him on May 7. Colorado had no other entries in regional athletic events.

YOUNG MINISTER WILL SUPPLY PRESBYTERIAN PULPIT THIS SUMMER

In the absence of Dr. W. M. Elliott, Sr., who has been granted a four-months leave, the pulpit of First Presbyterian church is to be filled during the summer months by Joe O'Rillon, senior ministerial student in the Presbyterian Theological seminary at Austin.

Accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, Miss Hennie Merriwether, Dr. Elliott plans to leave Colorado about May 4 for a four-months leisurely trip which will include stops at Meridian, Miss., for the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, South; at Atlanta, Ga., for a visit with Dr. W. M. Elliott, Jr., pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, and his family; in Louisville, Ky., for a visit with John Elliott, ministerial student in the Presbyterian Theological seminary there. John Elliott will be preaching in Louisville all summer.

The Elliotts will visit at various points in Alabama and Kentucky. Dr. Elliott and Dr. Elliott, Jr., plan a fishing trip along the Florida coast. The Elliotts plan to return home about the first of September.

FAIRVIEW P-T A MEETS WITH MRS. ED STRAIN

By Floy West, Reporter
The Fairview P-T A. met Thursday, April 21, with Mrs. Ed Strain, president, in charge. There were 12 present, and Mrs. W. M. Jenkins sponsored the program "Education for Home and Family Life."

It was agreed that the present president, Mrs. Ed Strain, and the president for the following year, Mrs. Claude Willis, be sent to the convention at Del Rio.

The next meeting of the P-T A. will be May 12 instead of the last Thursday due to school closing the twentieth. All members are urged to attend since the installation of officers will be at this time.

BRIDGFORD GUESTS

Sunday guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Bridgford were Mrs. Bridgford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Arledge, and children, Mary Virginia and Billy; of Roscoe; another brother, Roy Arledge, and his wife and two children from Stamford.

BOWENS LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bowen plan to leave Friday on a month's tour of various points in the east and north. Their first destinations are to be Washington, D. C., and Quebec, Canada.

FOOTBALL GAME
The first 6-man football game of the year will be here Friday evening about 2:30 as Westbrook plays Ackerley. Ackerley previously a 11-man football team, has changed to a 6-man. This is expected to be a good game as Ackerley has had experience and training. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

LOCALS
Mrs. H. C. Hooper of Lorena, Texas, visited her sister, Mrs. H. H. Gainey and family, last Friday.

Misses Mary Kent, Anna Speights, Winnie Fay Cressett, Mr. Johnny Hood and Mr. R. G. Fowler spent the week-end with Mr. Fowler's parents at Plainview.

Mrs. Fannie McDonald, Mr. Aubrey Oglesby and children of Chalk spent Sunday here visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Ab Oglesby and children of Chalk spent Sunday in the J. R. Oglesby home.

WESTBROOK WINS FIRST FOOTBALL GAME 19-0
Coming first, as it properly should, is the announcement of the first victory of the Westbrook six-man football squad. They defeated Courtney to the tune of 19-0 at Courtney's own field last Friday. The Westbrook fans will get a chance to see the team in their first workout at home next Friday as they meet the Ackerley team. The Ackerley team is previously a eleven-man football team, but has changed to a six-man team. They are expected to be very good, as they have had experience and training. All Westbrook High school is proud of this good start and wish them the same good work in the future.

Be sure and don't miss the amateur hour Friday night. Admission the same as before.

THE SEVENTH GRADE
Mr. Smith, an American Legion speaker, gave us a talk on honor Wednesday. We all enjoyed his speech.

Curtis McMillian told about some of his experiences in Arizona as a C. C. boy. Friday. He was in the sixth grade last year.

We're looking forward to our P.-T. A. exhibit. We have some nice posters for it.

We are right proud to have Dick practice in football. Maybe he will make a good football player next year.

Our volley ball team played the Westbrook women Thursday and beat them the best 2 out of 3 games.

FISHES FUN
Some of us have begun learning our hundred lines of poetry. Winnie Fo has already learned hers long ago. The rest as far as I know have not memorized over 70 lines.

Louise heard from her foreign pen pal. Also more addresses were given out. There may be more letters coming in.

C. E. is back after missing a week of school.

SOPHOMORE REPORT
With no report last week, I suppose an apology is due. We have only about four weeks of school left, so I'll try and see that a soph report reaches the paper each week.

Just at the present while I am writing this report, a cat is loose in the study hall, and everybody is in a turmoil. Arvin just carried the howling thing out, and things have quieted down. Now, on with the report.

Oh, those Algebra I note books! I note some of the students are sending for some "kolorbak" hair dye, so people won't notice the gray hair, caused from worry.

It seems that Rena had hard luck Friday afternoon when going to the bus. She was chasing a freshman boy and "no wonder" she fell. Chippy is sorry that she is not back in school.

JNO. A. THOMPSON

thinking he is the one and only. Nuts! Arvin flirts with 'em all, especially a junior girl.

A cat just happened in the study hall and broke up all the romancing. My! Whatta life!

We wonder why James Skelton got so industrious that he got his book report. You wanta get mine, James?

Pete and Thelma say Mr. Hood interferes with their fun in History class. All the V. A. boys are still talking about the pretty girls they saw on the trip.

Helen likes to receive packages but how do you like to get packages in chapel that have lost the way when the boys send them to the wrong place.

We notice that the Junior reporter has started giving scandal so will have to back each other up, eh, Weldon. We have both been threatened. Well, good bye until the fish bite better.

SENIOR NEWS
"Did you miss 'Murdered Alive' last Friday night, when the new gymnasium was opened to the public? We hope you didn't because it was a grand success. The class took in $56.60. We certainly do thank each and every one who came to our play and helped make it the success we had hoped for.

These people that sleep in class. Last week—Leona Moon, Billy Waters, Alfred Taylor, and Leslie Basinger were all caught doing this. My! Goodness! Can't you people sleep at home.

The F. F. A. boys have returned from their trip. We are glad to have them back in our classes again because we missed them a lot.

Work has begun on the sidewalk that the Seniors are going to give to the school. It will be from the new gym to the West sidewalk.

OUT OF OUR NEWS BOX
Just a tip to the Junior reporter: Weldon you are getting rather personal lately. A "hint to the wise is sufficient," you know.

We have been noticing two boys hanging around the gym. We wonder if they are interested in volley ball or Lucille and Elizabeth?

The poor fish are reminded that school isn't out yet, and they had better be nice to the upper classmen. They haven't been doing just that lately. Mr. Hood always gives from three to five demerits to some fish every time that he goes into a study hall.

A rather funny incident: Last week in printing the senior programs Mr. Lauderdale charged the seniors a nickel to use the carbon paper just once, so when they bought the paper for them which amounted to .14c they immediately demanded the 1c change. Well, we hardly blame them!

JUNIOR NEWS
The Juniors, or most of them attended the Senior play given last Friday night, and the class as a whole liked it very much.

Whimpy: Iris, did you hear Charlie McCarthy last night?

Iris: No, I was listening to another wooden head!!!

Winton Lee has a date for the banquet—next year.

The Juniors are certainly feeling the new rules of dear 'ole W. H. S. Most of them are accustomed to running out in the hall just any time they want to so I guess we will have less of that.

Some Junior members are complaining about the news being so personal, so here for better and more pleasing news!

P.-T. A. AMATEUR HOUR FRIDAY NIGHT
The P.-T. A. is going to present another amateur hour Friday night. There has been popular demand on the part of the public to that effect. It is to be organization night, and any organization may enter or get some one to represent them in the contest. Previous prize winners will not be allowed to enter, except as guest artists. The admission will be the same as it was the time before. Plan to attend. It will be in the gymnasium.

VOCATIONAL AG. NEWS
Some of the members of the Westbrook chapter of the Future Farmers of America have just gotten home from a tour. They went to A. & M. college and then on to Galveston. At 5:17 o'clock Saturday, April 16, 19 boys and their teacher, Mr. C. V. Cox, left for A. & M. college. They went in one of the Westbrook school buses, going down by the way of Stephenville and Waco to Bryan.

Just before reaching Baird two tires went flat and some of the boys had to catch a ride into town to get someone to come fix it. While waiting for them to get back Mr. Cox practiced upon using a belt, giving several boys one lick. Several pictures were taken of some of the boys and of some people who stopped to see what was wrong. The flat was fixed and they started on at 9:38. The group stopped at Stephenville at 12:10 and ate dinner, and then went on to Waco, which they reached at 3:45 p.m. They reached Bryan at 7:07 and ate supper, and then went on out to the college where they spent the night under the football stadium.

The next day after eating breakfast Mr. Cox took them to see the Brazos river. After they returned to Bryan the group went through the hog, dairy, and sheep experiment stations. From there they went to the poultry farm and after looking at the poultry went to see some hogs. They then went to the cavalry headquarters and looked at some horses. Some of the boys then went swimming in the college swimming pool then ate supper and went to bed.

The next morning the poultry judging team went to judge, but don't know whether they placed or not. While they were judging Mr. Cox took the rest of the boys through some of the college buildings. Then went out to the poultry farm to get the judging team. After eating dinner they left for Huntsville and went through the penitentiary. After going through the pen they started for Houston. While on the way some of the boys had a good chase after some wild pigs. Three pigs were caught but turned loose and the group went on to Houston where they spent the night. The next morning the boys went through the Farmer's Market, then went through a produce house. From there they went through a wholesale house and then down to the docks and watched some men load scrap iron on a ship.

Everyone got in the bus and they started on the way to Galveston. When they reached Galveston some of the boys went swimming in the Gulf. The boys went through a British freighter and then went to another dock where they hired a boat to take them riding. At 12 o'clock that night the group started home. The next morning they ate breakfast in San Antonio and then went through the Alamo. From there they went to the zoo and stopped several hours.

They then started on and reached home about 12 o'clock that night. Every boy enjoyed the trip, but were glad to get home.

A MOCKING BIRD
I saw a mocking bird up in a tree and he was singing to me. He seems to say, I would like to build my nest today. I sing with joy To every little girl and boy.

MY DOLL

I have a little dolly Her name is Polly She was twenty-five inches tall. Of all the rest I love her best

Because she could not bawl I was at the gold The night Santa brought that little soul.

She had brown eyes and curly hair And a trunk of clothes for her to wear She had little shoes on her feet. So with all this she looked quite neat.

I play with her from morn till late Away from boys where things are quiet

For around noises she cannot sleep So all around I have to creep So let's be quiet and let her rest. For of all dolls I love her best.

Three-Day Showing of "Snow White And The Seven Dwarfs"

McCLAIN BRINGS NOTED FILM TO THE PALACE THEATRE SATURDAY, SUNDAY, MONDAY, APRIL 30, MAY 1 AND 2

Beginning with a children's matinee Saturday morning at 10:15 the Palace Theatre, through the management of A. E. McClain, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a Walt Disney fantasy in technicolor, is to be shown for three days in Colorado.

This film, hailed throughout the nation as a definite milestone in moving picture history departs radically from the customary film formula and has been accorded a sensational public reception throughout the United States.

In an effort to give theatre goers in the Colorado area an opportunity to see this sensational film, Mr. McClain has booked it for a three-day run at the Palace.

"Snow White," as almost everyone knows, is the first full-length animated feature film to come from the Disney studios. The picture was three years in the making and its cost has been estimated at $1,500,000.

The film has broken attendance records in practically every theatre where it has been shown and in many instances has been rebooked for extra days to permit the public to see the picture.

The picture is a departure from previous technique employed by Walt Disney in the animated field. In it he has created living, creditable beings in the person of Snow White, the seven dwarfs, the queen, the prince, and other characters in the famous Grimms' fantasy. Another departure is the illusion of depth which has been added to the film through the use of the multiplane camera, an invention perfected by Disney technicians.

The plot is an adaptation of one of the most loved of the Grimm Brothers' tales. First published in the early part of the last century, this book has been translated into every civilized language.

"JUDGE HARDY'S CHILDREN"
Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday
May 3 and 4

Superlative entertainment, particularly for the family trade, this third of the Judge Hardy series is a fine blend of sparkling, wholesome fun presaging a long and prosperous life for this first family of the films. From every angle it has been given Metro's best treatment and cannot be denied as a boxoffice natural. Mickey Rooney again commits grand larceny with the thespic honors, stealing the show from such seasoned troupers as Lewis Stone, Fay Holden and Janet Beecher, who, incidentally, deliver in grand style. This time the story takes Judge Hardy and his family to Washington where he heads a Senate committee to investigate a public utilities monopoly. Again he protects his family from too serious entanglements, romantic, political and otherwise. George B. Seitz directed.

Players are Lewis Stone, Mickey

Rooney, Cecilia Parker, Fay Holden, Ann Rutherford, Betty Ross Clark, Janet Beecher.

"ARIZONA GUNFIGHTER"
Ritz—Friday and Saturday
April 29 and 30

Fast riding, sturdy action and novel plot combine to make this swell entertainment for those who like their westerns. Bob Steele, the hero, shares honors with Ted Adams. Forced to join Adams' outlaw gang after avenging the murder of his father, Steele and Adams become fast friends. Adams reforms and disbands the gang, making them swear never to ride again. He presents Steele with a ranch and disappears. When the outlaws become active again, Steele suspects Adams, but discovers he is in jail serving sentence for the crime Steele committed. Steele helps clear his and Adams' name and discovers that his sweetheart on the next ranch is Adams' daughter. Production is well paced and adheres consistently to type. Sam Newfield directed.

Players are Bob Steele, Jean Carmen, Ted Adams, Ernie Adams, Lew Meehan, Steve Clark.

"A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER"
Ritz—Sunday and Monday
May 1 and 2

A lightning speed comedy, crowding a laugh or a thrill—and sometimes both—into every foot, this should gram important money in all of its showings. While production, direction and acting are all of top flight calibre, possibly most of the feature's success can be attributed to a gag-infested screenplay which comes closer than anything heretofore attempted to catching the true essence of the inimitable style of Damon Runyan, from whose play the picture was adapted. Edward G. Robinson excels in a part which affords him an opportunity to portray his traditional gangster, but in this instance one who has gone legitimate and who is more funny than tough. Splendid support comes from Ruth Donnelly, Edward Brophy and Harold Huber. Directed by Lloyd Bacon.

Players are Edward G. Robinson, Jane Bryan, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly, Willard Parker, Edward Brophy, Harold Huber.

"DAREDEVIL DRIVERS"
Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday
May 3 and 4

Acceptable program material is this action story of a bus line rivalry in which Dick Purcell, as a racing driver, plays a leading role. Most of the driving is confined to the highways with whatever racing atmosphere there is provided by newsreel clips. Purcell, who has been barred from the tracks for reckless driving, has his car smashed by a Neeley bus.

EDITORIAL

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

To the Columnist:

Several years ago this writer left Atlanta, Ga., by rail for California. A slow train loaded with regular soldiers required seven days to make the trip. While traveling across country with this fighting military unit, my thoughts were on the fight for existence. This short letter has reference to plant life and also to human existence.

I made many notes of the struggle among trees for supremacy. As the train rolled, I noticed pines clinging to bits of soil between rocks. These trees attest to the blighting effects of neglect and suffering. Seemingly, the frail limbs extended out and down to prevent the main stem from wagging like a dog's tail with every passing breeze. These impoverished bushes made about enough shelter for a rabbit.

Suddenly we passed from this fragile scene to a vast valley with ample moisture and plant food. Here we found great size coupled with beauty. These trees presented no evidence of being related to the runts of the poor soil except in the form of needles.

The valley giants probably expended less effort for existence than the runts of the ledge. The fine trees of the valley probably have no sympathy for the ugly runts.

The germ of mind exists in plants. But not to the extent that we find intelligent cooperation where crowding is inevitable.

All the way to San Francisco I found the same struggle persistent—life being perpetuated against hazard, and also under favorable conditions. In checking the scale from the lower to higher forms of life, (excluding bees, ants, beetles and spiders), we first notice cooperation among horse-shoe crabs.

We will now direct our attention to the human race. All observers know that children may be exposed to inequality and discrimination, manifest among animals and plants.

With all charitable organizations functioning well we find suffering acute in many places. Every child should enjoy a few years in school. Poverty stricken children develop a disposition to behave ugly, as they fully realize they are being cheated.

The mental set-up of boys and girls runs counter to any fixed rule of discipline. And becomes a complete problem for parent and teacher. Charity in the form of money devoid of sympathy and understanding is a mere shadow. Teaching, along with chemistry, surgery and other scientific achievements is making progress to the satisfaction of the public in general. The average schoolteacher is making a supreme effort to travel with the vanguard of progress. Many will stay abreast even though the intellectual road becomes bumpy. Unfortunately, others must step aside and watch the column go by.

With regret I state that my crowd is content to see the boundary between parent and teacher expanding.

We farmers use muscle to the exclusion of brain. That is why we are inclined to seek advice. Under government supervision I feel quite sure we will grow into big fat babies. It almost pains me to think that I must now study the twelve zodiacal signs for information about planting time for different crops. And, again, I am almost ashamed for other people to know that we follow these signs. Why should we do this?

The ignorant ancients of Europe set this superstition in motion, and we farmers are careful to perpetuate the thing. We accept this stuff with no disposition to investigate. If the intelligent reader will allow the writer to go off in a tangent the dog-days superstition robbed thousands of boys of the pleasure to splash out in Georgia rivers during the month of August every year till recently. I was a victim.

The brain of man is powerful when forced into action. But only a few pounds of tissue when allowed to idle.
Westbrook, Texas. W. M. TURNER

Dear Uncle Fred,

I have just read in the Abilene Reporter of your celebrating your 78th birthday, and I am reminded that I have just passed my own 70th birthday. I actually believe that in another twenty-five years, at the rate I am going, I will catch up with you. That would be some achievement for a country school teacher.

I read everything you write that I come in contact with. I always enjoy your point of view. You are really a great man, Uncle Fred, though you may not know it. By the way, I am asking our journalism man, Mr. Schooley, to write you and add his invitation to mine, that you come and spend a day with us, and speak to our journalism classes some day this spring. We have a fine department, and we would all enjoy having you with us.

For some time now I have been under the weather, but am definitely better, as I feel now. I want you to continue to remember the president and this western Christian institution in your daily devotions, and be assured evermore of the large place you and your family have had in its making.

Blessings on you always.

Your friend,
J. D. SANDEFER, President.

MORE ABOUT EASTER

Easter and Christmas hold more charm and are fraught with more significance than all other days of the year combined.

The most epochal day in world history was the bright and glorious morning when the Christ of Nazareth was cradled in a manger in Bethlehem of Judea.

But the glory of the Christmaside would be lost and forgotten and be but a tale that is told but for the succeeding chapters that reveal the immaculate life, suffering and ignominious death and glorious resurrection of the wonderful man of Galilee. Suffering and sacrifice constitute the price of true greatness.

If our poor selfish lives reflect any evidences of character and refinement it is traceable to our experiences in the valley of the shadows, where we trod the wine press alone and drank the last dregs of the cup of sorrow and disappointment "in the garden alone."

In the deepest poverty of words I pay tribute to this glorious, hallowed Easter morn. I am thinking of the fateful day when the stone was rolled away from the sepulcher and the grave was bereft of its victory and death robbed of its sting.

May we visualize the foolishness and despair of the doctrine of the infidel; that we must all at last lie down in one vast sepulcher, in a starless night and return to dreamless, meaningless dust.

Can we believe for a moment that the great God of the universe, who created us in His own image, who gives to the rosebush and lilac the promise of another springtime, would leave us in the silent tomb with no assurance of a happy resurrection?

From the sad and somber thought of annihilation, faith spans measureless space and mounts the starlit dome of heaven and glimpses the great white throne of God and listens in ecstasy to the oratorios of the great celestial choir.

Let us rejoice and be glad this blessed Easter morn. Every unfolding flower is but a reminder and a revelation of the doctrine of the resurrection. Every feathered knight of the forest, every murmuring mountain stream and every gentle whisper of the wind are but hymns of praise to our great Redeemer.

May we this holy day vision the sun-kissed valleys and vine-clad hills of the beautiful city of the New Jerusalem, with its gold-paved streets and jasper walls and watch for the "crowning day that is coming bye and bye."

ABOUT THE RECORD

We have been asked by an earnest reader to say something in this column about The Record.

We can truthfully say The Record is the best local (strictly local) paper published in the West. Last week more than 150 names of local people were used and one thing certain this many people were pleased for all like to see their names in the paper.

Blessed are the merchants who advertise, for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, for she shall see the details and names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything, but who tell him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy a warm space in the editor's heart. Blessed are they who co-operate with all efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known to all men, far and wide, as a good place in which to live and do business. Blessed are they who do not think they could run the paper better than the editor runs it—yea, thrice blessed are they because there are so few of them.

The poet said that only God can make a tree, and, that being so, we must realize that He loves trees because He made so many of them. That is what Abraham Lincoln said about the common people. There are so many of them.

A blessing for those who know a newspaper costs a lot of money to produce, therefore can't be sent free to subscribers, or sold to them at a price that doesn't pay for the paper it is printed on. Coming to think of it, there are lots of people upon whom the editor would wish blessings to fall. Good people are in the majority everywhere, notwithstanding the too-common impression that the world is going to the bow-wows by reason of the forwardness and the fugacious quality of the population. But it only seems so. It isn't so in fact. More people deserve the commendation of the Lord today than at any previous time in the history of Adam's offspring.

Now that long hatpins are returning, in addition to not being able to see anything in the movies on account of the women keeping their bats on, we men run the risk of being permanently blinded.

POOL TREATMENT OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN—
GETTING NOTICE HERE

An article on "The Value of Pool Treatment in Crippling Conditions" which recently appeared in the Texas Federation News over the name of Herbert E. Hipps, M.D., F.A.C.S., head of the crippled children's hospital at Marlin, Texas, has attracted considerable interest in Colorado because of the donations which various local women's clubs have made to the hospital in recent months, and because of the sharpened interest in crippled children because of certain campaigns in recent months.

Dr. J. M. Crymes, county health officer, has also publicly endorsed the article, portions of which read as follows:

"There is nothing so very technical in an explanation of why properly directed pool treatments are of tremendous value in the treatment of crippling conditions. The explanation is based upon a fundamental law of muscle development; that is, that a muscle needs exercise to grow strong; but this muscle must be given work to do that is not beyond its ability to perform. . . .

One of the greatest values of pool treatment is that it makes it possible by relieving the downward pull of gravity from paralyzed limbs, for weakened muscles to perform their function smoothly and without strain or damage to those muscles.

"Another extremely important factor in pool treatment is that muscle training can be begun earlier in a case of infantile paralysis than could possibly be done otherwise. . . .

We know that a child having infantile paralysis can be placed in the warm water of a therapeutic pool within four or five days after his fever has subsided, and the heat and early initiation of activity will remove the muscle soreness within ten days to two weeks so that more vigorous and active exercise can then be carried out at a much earlier date than would have otherwise been possible.

"Another advantage of pool treatment is the greater freedom of movement that a patient has in a pool that he cannot have by taking exercise in a gymnasium on an exercise table. . . .

"In an explanation of this nature it would probably be wise to mention a few of the dangers that are inherently associated with pool work that are not necessarily associated with exercise in a gymnasium on an exercise table. . . .

But common sense with a great deal of careful supervision and infinite patience is necessary for the expectation of continued improvement in paralyzed muscles."

Texas paid during the fiscal year ending in August, 1937, for over 500,000 meals for officials and state employes while traveling over the state. Texas is certainly kind to its employes. It paid for mileage, hotel accommodations, meals and extras, (perhaps to hotel boys and girls for extra services,) the sum of $1,344,315 during the last fiscal year. It looks like somebody is too liberal with the tax payers money.

WOMEN SAINTS

It is worthy to mention that there were no saints prior to those whom we inherit from the Bible. The restless and always disturbed Hebrews and Greeks had their great men, their superior moralists, but we never read of Saint Moses, Saint Abraham or Saint Sophocles. The saints came in with Christianity, and their number has been added to from time to time by way of official canonization. Of late years the material for saints has appeared somewhat scarce, if one may reckon by the looks of the world as it has looked in modern times. It used to be that pious men who remained poor and busied themselves with good works were the stuff of which saints were fashioned. Nowadays, millionaire philanthropists are looked upon as likely candidates for sainthood. And as there are only a few millionaires, and fewer philanthropists, the world may run out of masculine nominees. In such event, women may monopolize the office. There are innumerable women, nuns and others, who are more entitled to canonization than any man. It is hardly out of the way to remark that men do not make very good saints in times like the present.

OLD MEN DREAM

Speaking of dreams, the most apt distinction between an old man and a young man is that the former dreams dreams, and the latter has visions. An old man may be young and a young man old. But there are too many who do not have the initiative to even dream.

It hadn't occurred to us heretofore that it took any particular enterprise to dream a dream. We supposed that dreams were bizarre reflexes of wakeful thoughts, and even the most listless drone can think of something to think about. An old poet put it this way:

"And yet, as angels in some brighter dreams"

Call to the soul when man doth sleep.

So some strange thoughts transcend our wonted themes

And into glory peep."

TELEPHONES

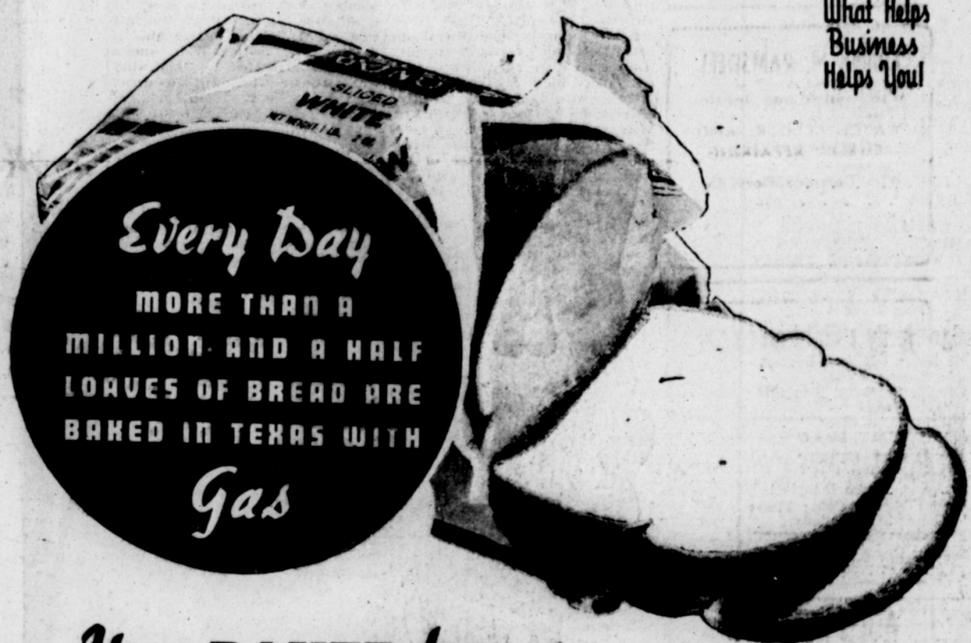

Telephone officials say there are 19,300,000 telephones in service in the United States, about 60 per cent of the instruments in use in the world. It staggers the mind of man to realize that one of these little instruments, with the proper hitch-ups, enables a listener to hear and recognize the voice of a fellow human being hundreds of miles away, and as quickly as if standing face to face.

Texas BREAD WEEK

We salute the Bakers of Texas! "Texas Bread Week," which they are sponsoring, deserves the support of everyone. This industry means an annual volume of business for the state of nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars, with an annual payroll estimated at $10,000,000.

It is the quality of breads and pastries offered to his customers that largely determines the popularity of a baker's products. That's why practically all bakeries in Texas, wherever gas service is available, use heat-controlled gas bake ovens. For every baker knows that the even heat distribution and perfect temperature control by automatic regulators which these ovens provide are essential to his success in baking quality breads, cakes, pies and pastries. And, too, his operating costs are less with gas because of its cheapness, the efficiency of modern appliances and because of thick insulation which cuts down heat losses. For baking, your baker knows gas is best.

SENIOR NEWS Well, your reporter is back with news from the Senior class. No, she hasn't died. The delay was due to the usual Senior rush which occurs about this time every year. You know, I don't believe I could stand being a Senior for more than one year. All the hustle and bustle; all the practicing which winds up the end of the school year is enough to get a good man down! It really makes us stop and think when we begin the last "go round" of our high school year. We have started practicing our commencement program so it won't be very long now! The honor students have been determined. The valedictorian is Shirley Kiker, the salutatorian is Muriel Gunn and Van King is the high point boy. The invitations and cards are here; the annuals have come and everything is in a general uproar. The cast for the Senior play has been selected and rehearsals are now under way. The cast is made up of six boys and six girls and promises to be excellent entertainment. More will be heard about it later. Miss Miller is directing the Senior play and also has charge of the commencement program with the exception of the music which is in charge of Mrs. Moeser. I suppose every one has read about the play, "Three's a Crowd" winning second in the play tournament at Sweetwater and that Shirley Kiker won second place for the best actress in the entire tournament, but here's something that will probably be of interest. The Senior class play includes the prompter and cast of the winning play, "Three's a Crowd," and six more students who are as good or even better than they. This is just to prepare you for the good performance which is to be given commencement week. And if I may give another word of warning, "The Senior's invitations are here so you'd better watch out. You never know who is going to send you an invitation! And there will be the problem of gifts. But you should be able to take it if we can."

SOPHOMORE NEWS Extra! Extra! Randal Webb catches milk thief! Sometime ago milk began disappearing from the front porch of the Webb home, so Randall, whom you might call a mechanical genius, rigged up a camera to automatically snap a picture of the thief as the milk bottles were picked up. One morning he found the milk gone, and the criminal's mug recorded in his little black camera. Developing the film, he found the thief to be strangely familiar, for it was a photo of he himself on the porch in his night shirt! The mystery now is: Did Randall walk in his sleep and do this dastardly deed, or did the camera back fire when he picked it up? The solution is dark, but 'tis said that Randall has the picture to prove this story! ... Work this if you think you can: If it takes seven squirrels ten days to eat sixty-seven chestnuts, how many apples can you buy at the corner grocery for 73 cents? ... Mr. Foster says Earnest Porter is a man of business—mostly unfinished business. ... What soph girl was seen Sunday night riding a tombstone? The goblins will getcha if you don't watch out! ... "Tiff! Bang! Boom! Go way" That is FRESHMEN NEWS Saturday night several Fish played "Lost to the sea and bumpers!" Only three pairs of shoes were ruined Sunday! Besides that just some socks and hose! Mary Louise Cooper, a Freshman from Kermit, visited some Colorado Fish over the week-end. Aurelia Lobban spent the week-end in Dunn. Richard Elliott visited Colorado Sunday and Monday. He just recently moved to Brownwood. Only a few more weeks of school. Are the Fish glad? Yes sir! They love this school, but want the "freedom of school let out." (After all, do you blame them?) Mary Price.

BAND NEWS The C. H. S. band is planning a tour of five or six cities Friday. They plan to start early that morning and to come home late in the evening. The towns the band will play in are: Dunn, Snyder, Roby, Sweetwater, Roscoe, and Loraine. The members also plan to wear their uniforms. It was learned that the Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Moeser, is planning to make the same tour Thursday. Mr. Rose has charge of the band. Frances Watson.

CHORAL CLUB NEWS The Choral Club is going on a trip Thursday to neighboring towns around Colorado. The program to be given will be about thirty minutes long and the high school sextet will help entertain along with the choral club. Freddie Blackwell.

TO STATE MEET Last Saturday at the regional meet in Abilene our essayist, Miss Catherine Slagle, won first place and is now on her way to the State meet at Austin. The proud teachers of Colorado High school are arguing for the privilege of taking Miss Slagle to the meet. You can just try to guess how proud we are that Catherine is going places. Louise Dockery.

LIBRARY NEWS "Gone With the Wind" is still the most popular book in the library. An average of three persons a month have read this all year. "With Malice Toward None" is another popular one. "Green Light" and "Magnificent Obsession" by Lloyd C. Douglas are being read also. Ruth Hardison.

HOMEMAKING CLUB Extensive plans for the future are being made by the Homemaking club. Many of the club members have definitely decided to attend the home economics rally in San Antonio on May 4, 5, and 6. Reservations have been made at the Plaza hotel by Miss Cole for the ones who attend. Leaving Wednesday, May 4, the following girls have begun preparing for the meeting: Billie True Templeton, Nina Katherine Quinney, Ethel Sue Dawson, Esther Elliott, Armoria Whitmore, Joyce Campbell, Marjorie Redman, Marjorie Cluser, and Freddie Watson. The club representatives, who are also going, are Doris Doss, Lila Mannering, and Beulah Robinson. Mrs. J. E. Watson and Miss Cole are furnishing their cars as ways of transportation for the members, who will return Sunday, May 8. Freddie Watson.

HOME MAKING NEWS This week the students of home economics have had something different during their class periods. This "something" has been a question box. In it the student placed unsigned questions of which they wished to know the answers. The question pertained to nearly any subject—social life and etiquette, school, daily problems, et cetera. Unanimously the girls agreed that such an idea was both helpful and interesting. Just to give you an idea, I will quote some of the girls themselves. Helen Farris: I like the question box. It gives us an opportunity to get our questions answered and also learn what others are thinking on the same subject. Mackie Loving: The question box has proved helpful to me. Betty Cook: The question box helps us to find out things that we didn't know. Ruth Griffith: It's a keen idea. Roberta Hamrick: The question box gives variety to our regular home ec studies. Phyllis Berman: The question box is very interesting and helpful. Nancy Price.

PUBLIC SPEAKING The public speaking has taken up a new work which is proving very interesting. Radio study has begun. First the class learned the general rules of broadcasting and the definitions of various terms used by radio language only. Now, who would have ever thought about "on the nose" meaning that a program began on the exact second and "on the head" meaning that a program concluded on the exact second. Well, such is radio language. The class is now getting to use the microphone by telling fairy stories over it. This is a new experience for most of the class and sometimes the microphone gets in their way, while some of them want to talk to it altogether and forget about those who are listening. Then there are always that small group who does well. As soon as the class gets used to the microphone, it will begin the radio plays. In fact there is one under way now, "Little Red Skin." Marie Phillips. C. H. S. AIDS HIGHWAY DEPT. Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the state representative, Mr. Rice, of the Highway Department came to Colorado High to instruct each class how to furnish some information concerning cars and roads of this vicinity. The students were given a blank form to fill in and return to their English teacher Wednesday. Mr. Rice explained the method in which it was to be worked. Each student figured the trips, mileage, and what roads were used in the last year. By doing this the students of Colorado High will actually participate in "Planning Your Highway of Tomorrow." Marian Goodwin.

AG. BOYS AT WORK The Ag. boys have been studying for the last few days the production of quality milk. When the class study has been completed, the boys expect to visit the Rogers dairy. Recently, the boys have been landscaping the ground of the Conoco station, operated by Fred H. Cravy. They expect to set out grass and shrubbery. The officers of the chapter conducting team are now preparing for the area contest at McCamey. M. A. Webb.

RELAY TEAM PLACES FOURTH IN REGION The C. H. S. mile relay team placed fourth in the regional track meet held last Saturday at Abilene. First, second, and third places went to Abilene, San Angelo, and Brady, respectively. In this event, the time was only one-tenth of a second above the regional record. Winning a fourth place creates the team, which is composed of Jack Smith, Rudell Glover, Burl Ballard, and John Henderson, to participate in the State meet held May 7th at Austin. Mr. Christian will accompany the team. Catherine Slagle.

WINNERS AT DISTRICT AND REGIONAL MEET PRESENTED Monday afternoon, Mr. Foster introduced the winners of both regional and district. Catherine Slagle won first in essay writing and is going to state meet at Austin on May 7. The relay team, Rudell Glover, Jack Smith, Burl Ballard, and John Henderson, won fourth and they will also go to Austin on May 7. It is the first time in a long time that C. H. S. has won first place at regional meet. The junior boys' baseball team won second at Sweetwater in district. Sweetwater won over C. H. S. by one score. The captain, Ross Glover, presented a golden trophy to Mr. Watson for the second time this year. The team members are Richard Thomas, catcher; Nat Mann, pitcher; Sam Coker, first base; A. G. Furlow, second base; O. B. Trulock, third base; Clayton Henderson, first short; M. A. Webb, second short; Clarence Walker, left field; Ross Glover, center field, and Clifton Caffey, right field. The substitutes were Paul Rogers and Lloyd Cox. We, the student body, are proud of the contestants and their showing and are wishing Catherine Slagle, Rudell Glover, Jack Smith, Burl Ballard, and John Henderson the best of luck. Marian Goodwin.

C. H. S. RUNNER-UP IN DISTRICT BASEBALL Colorado High's junior baseball team, entering district play Saturday at Sweetwater, defeated Jayton in its first game, 12-2. In the second game played the team won over Sweetwater High, 13-5. In the final game, however, it was defeated by the Sweetwater Junior High team, 10-11. The team brought back a gold trophy from Sweetwater. It is the second that they have brought to the trophy case this spring. Catherine Slagle.

C. H. S. GOLF TEAM FORMED The elimination tourney is being held this week to determine the members of the C. H. S. golf team. Sponsored by Mr. Christian, the team was formed after requests had come from several boys that C. H. S. have such an organization. Boys landing in the first four positions will make up the Colorado High school golf team. Matches have already been scheduled with Abilene, but as yet no date has been set. Because of the few remaining weeks of school matches will probably not be played with San Angelo, Sweetwater, or Big Spring this year. Catherine Slagle.

C. H. S. TENNIS STARS FLICKER OUT IN DISTRICT COMPETITION Colorado High's junior tennis entries did not place in the district meet played Saturday at Sweetwater courts. Harry Etta Landers, girls singles, lost to Rotan, 8-6, 6-3, in her initial match. Clayton Henderson was defeated by the Hamlin entry, 6-3, 6-4. Ann Atwell and Bobbie Lou Cooper bowed to Roby, 6-3, 6-3. Clay Mann Smith, substituting for E. J. Tilley, and Louis Bodin went farther than any other C. H. S. entry, but lost in the semifinals to Sweetwater, 6-1, 8-6. Catherine Slagle.

COMMERCIAL DEPT. NOTES The following shorthand students took a test for the sixty-word grade certificate: Charlene Walker, Frances Merle Cooper, Mary Louise Farguhar, Marjorie Stubbiefield, Anna Don Sniveley, Joy Hinton, and Shirley Kiker. Also two vocational students, Verda and Catherine Bohannon. To pass this test the students must be able to write from dictation legible shorthand for five minutes and have an accuracy of one-hundred on transcription. Those who pass the test will receive a certificate from the Gregg Shorthand Company. The Colorado High School Com- See THE HOWL, Page 6

merical Department had about 115 visitors last Friday from 7A, 7B, and 7C of Junior High. They visited the typing room and observed how the person is started in typewriting. In the shorthand class they watched pupils write shorthand on the blackboard at 50 words per minute and read it back or transcribe, as it was written. The uses of the calculator and adding machines were next explained. Then in the mimeograph room, the mimeograph was demonstrated.

The high school commercial classes appreciated their visit very much and trust that a goodly number will see fit to enroll in some commercial subject before he finishes high school.

LOCAL CIRCLE

The April meeting of the Local circle was held in the home of Mrs. Roy Edwards with Mrs. Lily Bennett as joint hostess Monday afternoon, April 25.

Mrs. Harold Martin called the meeting to order promptly at 3 p.m.

At request of Mrs. Scoggins "Take My Life and Let It Be" was sung by the group, this being the theme song of the Women's Missionary Conference which convened at Snyder last week.

Mrs. T. A. Martin brought as devotional the April lesson from the World Outlook based upon scripture from Matt. 8, stressing Religious Education.

Mrs. C. W. Palmer led in prayer. The main feature of the meeting was a most inspirational review of high points of the Woman's Missionary Conference brought by Mrs. Scoggins in her sweet, unassuming manner, and was much appreciated by all present.

Routine business was transacted and many visits, trays to sick and flowers to ill and sorrowing ones, were reported by social service chairman. Plans were made for serving luncheon to the visitors at the zone meeting of W. M. S. on Thursday of this week. After this the hostesses took charge.

An automobile contest with Mrs. Scoggins representing a Plymouth and Mrs. Harold Martin the Ford lined up. The ladies took tests of "Assembling Parts," filling the radiator, testing lights, speed, etc., and by a narrow margin the Ford nosed out ahead. Both groups were good "rooters" and were now ready for "Tires & Gas." Mrs. Edwards, who conducted the contest now invited the ladies to the "Filling Station" where Mrs. Bennett served delicious fruit punch and cookies "Tires" to 18 members. Mrs. W. H. Finley, mother of Mrs. Bennett was a guest. Mesdames H. B. Wilson and Tennis Wilson will be hostesses to the May meeting.

POLLYANNA CLASS

Members of the Pollyanna Sunday School class met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. R. E. Bennett at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Following singing of the class song, "Serve The Lord With Gladness," the president, Margaret Jarraitt, took charge. Mrs. Bennett read the class scripture, an exhortation to praise God, Psalm one hundred. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Frances Riden. Old and new business was discussed. Opal Narrell was elected membership vice-president. Betty Johnson dismissed the business hour in prayer.

The Easter motif was carried out in games and contests. Ice cream and cake was served. Full membership was present except Helen Compton, ill of scarlet fever. Next meeting on May 10 will be with Iona Callahan with Wendola Mearse as joint hostess.

GLAD GIRLS CLASS MEETS

The Glad Girls Sunday school class met in the home of Mrs. Dan Butler with Mrs. Kenneth Butler hostess Thursday night, April 21st.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Garland Cary followed with prayer. The class studied the third and fourth chapters of Isaiah. Minutes were read and approved. Various games were played.

Delicious pink and white ice cream was served. Those present were: Mrs. Wright Hook, Velda McDearmon, Mrs. Tommie Horton, Effie Carwile, Mrs. John Horton, Mrs. Jack Richey, Mrs. Tony Snyder, Rev. Phillips, Mrs. Garland Cary, Mrs. Hubert Thomas, and Mrs. J. C. Hall, Jr.

The class enjoyed being in Mr. and Mrs. Butler's home on this occasion and having a new member as hostess. Also the presence of three new members.

The next class meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Garland Cary May 19th. Study lesson fifth, sixth, and seventh chapters of Isaiah. Everyone is urged to be present.

Control Board at COSDEN REFINERY
The picture at left shows panel of control room which contains all necessary instruments for controlling heat, pressure, etc. of the Dubbs Cracking Unit.

Most Modern Throughout
In keeping with the Cosden policy of maintaining the highest possible standard in the quality and uniformity of its products, no item has been overlooked by the Cosden engineers in installing the most modern equipment known in the oil refining industry.

For the past 6 years a constant and consistent program of improvement and enlargement has been followed. Only recently the refinery completed the installation of improved gas hot oil charging pumps, which are driven with improved gas engines. This improvement has proven very satisfactory in creating the capacity of the cracking unit, and improving the quality of the products.

Another new installation which has proven very satisfactory is the new continuous treating system, which has recently been installed.

And now, Cosden is spending another $480,000 in addition and improvements on its great refinery, at Big Spring, to still further increase the volume and quality of production of COSDEN HIGHER OCTANE GASOLINE.
