On motion of J. Ralph Lee and second by Dell Barber, the club voted that the proposition shall be submitted to the chamber's board of directors.

WORK OF COLORADO OFFICERS AND AN UNNAMED COLORADO WOMAN PRAISED AS COUNTERFEIT CASE 'BREAKS' IN EL PASO

Work of Colorado officers—namely, Dick Hickman, chief of police, and Sheriff Dick Gregory—and an unnamed Colorado woman was praised by U. S. Secret Service agents late last week in El Paso as they "broke" a counterfeiting ring-up which was launched when two arrests were made by Colorado officers on Wednesday, April 27.

According to a headline story in the El Paso Times last week, rebirth of an international counterfeit ring was believed to have been crushed by these two arrests and three others made later by the secret service agents.

Charges against the five men arrested were filed in Abilene late last week before U. S. Commissioner Ida M. James, and in El Paso before U. S. Commissioner J. W. Schmidt. The two Mitchell county arrests were made in Loraine late April 27 by Chief Hickman and members of the sheriff's department after two bogus $20 bills had been passed in Colorado.

A Colorado woman, unnamed by officers and secret service agents, was credited with making the first arrests possible because she took the license number of the car in which the two men were riding when they gave her one of the bills.

Charles Mooser, local banker, and Chief Hickman identified the bills as counterfeit. Hickman had a circular which had been sent out by secret service agents, describing the notes. The men arrested in Loraine were Wiley C. Bullard of Loraine and Clem F. McDow of Van.

Others charged in the case are Ranulfo Deigadillo, Jr., 23, former El Paso taxi driver; Bill Wheeler and D. L. Lane of near Patricia, Texas. Deigadillo, 26, arrested in 1936 on a charge of importing and passing $20 counterfeit bills from Mexico, was identified as the man who sold the counterfeited money in this case.

The story in the El Paso Times told how the first international counterfeit ring was thought to have been effectually smashed last year by wholesale arrests made in Mexico City and on the border at El Paso.

At that time Mexican police arrested Enrique Samprietti, who was said to have admitted making the spurious money at the rate of fifty $20 bills a day. Secret service agents, headed by Forrest V. Sorrels of Dallas, said the bills involved in this case were the same as those turned out by Samprietti, and that they must have been included in lots disposed of by Samprietti before his arrest.

Wiley C. Bullard, one of the men arrested in Loraine, was said by agents to have revealed the hiding place of 24 bills. It was said that the alleged counterfeiters had developed a fondness for the money, which was described as "good enough to fool bankers."

Secret service agents said that the men told them that they passed seventeen $20 bills between El Paso and Colorado on April 26 and 27, the two days preceding the first arrests made here.

FIRST AIR MAIL PICK-UP IN HISTORY OF COLORADO NEXT THURSDAY WILL BE FEATURE OF NATIONAL AIR MAIL WEEK

The first air mail pick-up in the history of Colorado is to be made on May 19 as a feature of National Air Mail week, according to an announcement made this week by Joe Y. Fraser, Colorado postmaster who is chairman of National Air Mail Week observance in Mitchell county, and T. J. Goss, Jr., assistant chairman.

Since Colorado has no designated airport, the mail plane will land on the L. S. Allen farm on Highway One three miles east of town. The landing will be made at 3 o'clock by a plane flying toward Big Spring. This plane will connect in Big Spring with planes going both east and west.

Any air mail that is dropped in the Colorado postoffice by 2:30 on the designated date will go out on the Colorado plane. A special cachet for Colorado to use during Air Mail Week has been purchased by the Colorado postoffice, according to Fraser. He believes that envelopes stamped with this cachet will be of historic value because of the fact that this will be the first flight of air mail directly out of Colorado. A new air mail stamp to be issued on the 16th in keeping with Air Mail Week will give such envelopes a double value.

It has been explained that self-addressed envelopes may be sent to postmaster in other towns with instructions that they place their cachet upon it and return. Postmaster Fraser, like other postmasters over the nation, will autograph any first-day covers that Mitchell countyans wish to send through the local postoffice.

SLEEPING SICKNESS IS APPEARING EARLY IN MITCHELL COUNTY

ONE CASE HAS ALREADY BEEN REPORTED TO DR. WILLIAMS; SERUMS RECOMMENDED

One case of encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness) among horses of Mitchell county has already been reported to Dr. J. D. Williams, Colorado veterinarian.

"The disease is making an earlier appearance than usual this season," Dr. Williams said Tuesday, "but the losses from the disease should be much less this year because serum companies, in cooperation with the Federal government, have produced some very efficient vaccines and serums to control the disease."

Dr. Williams issued a warning, however, against the danger of using products recommended by quacks or unlicensed veterinarians, as such products endanger the lives of animals and are a waste of money. Only licensed and accredited veterinarians are allowed to administer vaccines and serums recommended by the Bureau of Animal Industry, Dr. Williams says. All such veterinarians will be glad to cooperate with farmers and ranchers by giving advice as to the control of sleeping sickness among horses, he adds.

The two who placed above Catherine were both seniors, the first place winner being from Plainview and the second from Lafia, according to reports reaching here.

The poem, reprinted by the News from "Avon," follows:

"No shield, nor spear, nor buckled glove
Can illustrate the lack of love
His family holds for beauty.
No rampant lion with ego tails.
No javelins, nor coat of mails,
No curling lengths of parchment scrolls,
No iron masks nor barber poles
Can point his family duty.
A truer, fairer family crest
Would show the steely on his vest."

CHURCH OF CHRIST

5th and Elm Good words were in attendance at the services of the church of Christ last Sunday and especially at the evening service. Indications are that many are vitally interested in the little subject "Why." Peter tells us to give a reason for the hope that is in us to those who ask. 1 Pet. 3:15, hence others have the right to ask and we are obligated to answer. Our stand religiously, therefore, must be on solid ground, that our answer might become sound doctrine. Come Sunday evening to hear the subject, "Why Be A Member Of The Church Of Christ," continued. The subject for the morning service will be, "Study Of God's Word." You are always invited to the church of Christ, and your welcome there will be sure. Attend.

STORY ON CATTLE TRAILS OF EARLY DAYS IS OF INTEREST TO OLD 'TRAIL DRIVERS'

Many old-time "trail drivers" of Colorado and vicinity will find special interest in the following Associated Press news story which appeared in Sunday daily papers:

The height of the Texas cattle shipping season has been reached with estimates of 650,000 head moving to Midwest fattening lands—not over the romantic cattle trails of old, but in fast freights which even sidetrack passenger expresses.

This season's movement has been slightly heavier than the 10-year 1925-1934 average of 645,000. Last year some 932,000 head of Texas cattle were shipped to pasture.

From the range around the Caesar shipping pens, near Kingsville, in South Texas to the northern grasslands is 1,000 miles. Fifty years ago the cattle drives took up six months. Today following herds in cattle cars go from range to fattening farms in 36 hours.

In the old days cattle from the King ranch area, as well as from other large ranches of the brush country, marched across the San Antonio river to Austin, west of Fort Worth and across the Red river northward to Abilene and Dodge, Kan. The Chisholm trail was the principal route.

Trail driving was an aftermath of the Civil war, when cattlemen were seeking a market for the thousands of longhorns. In the Midwest the pack-trails and in the West the mining centers beckoned as outlets for Texas cattle. Indian reservations and army posts needed provisions.

Between the cattlemen and the consumer, however, stood the transportation problem. Sustained and fattened on gama, buffalo and mesquite grass, the herds snaked northward where trail met rail and where the cattle movement intersected the westward tide of empire. Between range and rail head were such hazards as occasional outbreaks of cholera, stampedes, hostile Indians, cattle rustlers, swollen streams and shotgun-armed farmers.

How the trail driver, with six-shooter and mustang pony, battled these factors and how he celebrated in the hell-roaring trail-end towns, is part of the song and saga of the Southwest.

Dodge held sway for 10 years, from about 1875 to 1885, as the point where cattle changed from trail to rail movement. As rail lines were extended southward, Dodge surrendered in favor of other rail heads. Ellsworth, Denver, Cheyenne, Baxter Springs, Kit Carson, Julesburg and Ogallala all had their heydays.

The Chisholm trail came to be the route to Colorado, with herds deflected westward by quarantine regulations and barbed wire in the Middle-west. The Bozeman trail touched remote points in the Rocky Mountains. The Goodnight trail was used extensively from the Panhandle to Colorado.

By the early 1870's the Texas cattle movement up the trail exceeded a half million head a year. Everything went, including fine steers and scrubs to the Midwest while Colorado was the principal taker of she staff for breeding.

Eventually rail gaps were filled. Now crack passenger trains sometimes take to a siding to expedite a cattle train. The ranch roundup, from range to the nearest shipping pens, remains as a reminder of trail-driving days.

USE OF TRENCH SILOS IN TEXAS INCREASES

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas farmers have almost doubled the number of their trench silos in use each year since 1930. E. R. Eudaly, Texas A. & M. College Extension Service dairyman, has pointed out in his annual report.

A total of 9,483 trench silos was filled during 1937, an increase of 4,609 over the number in use during 1936. The silos were filled with an average of slightly more than 75 tons of feed which, fed at the rate of 20 pounds an animal a day, would be sufficient to feed 392,514 animals for a three month period.

If the feed crop is average this season, the number of trench silos in Texas should total 15,000 this year, Eudaly estimated.

Much of the increase in the popu-larity of the trench silo can be at-tributed to the droughts of 1934. He said. The dry period convinced ranchmen and farmers that reserve supplies of feed were necessary and they learned that silage can be stored in trenches for indefinite periods without spoilage.

The spread of the trench silo was traced by Eudaly from its origin in Denmark. The King ranch, he said, is generally credited with the first trench silos in Texas, built in 1918. The expense of machinery to cut the feed and the belief trench silos must be of a minimum depth and width out of proportion to needs of the average farmer retarded the spread of their use, however, and there were only 12 in use by 1930 in Texas.

In 1931 Eudaly demonstrated that expensive machinery was not neces-sary by showing a successful trench silo that had been filled with whole bundles, and a total of 209 trenches were filled that year. An Upshar County 4-H Club boy built a trench silo only three feet wide, three feet deep and 30 feet long in 1933 to show the trenches could be made any size desired and adapted to the farm with only a few head of cattle. County agents reported 989 trench silos filled that year in the state.

The largest trench silo in the state is believed to be the 16,000 ton one near Eagle Pass. There are num-bers of 1,000 ton capacity trenches.

Many crops have been stored suc-cessfully in the trenches in addition to the standard silage crops of corn and sweet and grain sorghums. Eudaly reported. These included sudan grass, Johnson grass, sweet potato vines, alfalfa, copeasas, prairie grass, broom corn, prickly pear, threshed grain, Russian chisties and similar growths. County Agent Frank C. Brunnehan reported that six trench silos in Cameron county have been filled with farm waste such as car-rots and beets too mature for market. English pea vines which had been run through a sheller, and grape fruit rinds.

Eudaly considered the use of grapefruit rinds for silage as es-pecially interesting in view of recent tests showing this material has the same food value as beet pulp, a fa-vorite feed for dairy cows. Farm waste and similar products should be stored in the trenches only when standard crops are not available, however, he said.

Only crops with sufficient sugar for fermentation, such as corn, sor-gohums and sudan grass, will result in high grade silage, Eudaly said. Legumes and feeds of similar com-position usually are supplemented with black strap molasses at the rate of 40 pounds a ton or with feed of a high sugar content. Dry fodder is added to watery plants, such as cactus, to absorb moisture.

NEW MAIZE DESCRIBED AS DROUGHT RESISTANT

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Texas milo maize producers can look forward to elimination of their annual loss of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels from blight as the result of a new blight-resistant milo strain developed by the Texas A. & M. Col-lege agricultural experiment station.

Vice-Director R. E. Karper of the experiment station, and E. A. Miller, extension service agronomist, be-lieve the new strain will replace old strains in Texas within four or five years. County agricultural agents and vocational agriculture teachers recently distributed 20,000 pounds of the new seed among 600 farmers in 52 counties. The seed will be used for demonstration purposes and to produce new supplies.

The blight didn't make its first ex-tensive appearance until 1935, but Karper, who is in charge of small-grain investigations for the experi-ment station, lost no time in seeking new disease-resistant milos. By us-ing greenhouses to speed up breeding and selection processes, he produced the new strain, and had small amounts of seed available by the spring of 1937.

Some seed was given commercial certified grain sorghum seed growers, and some was planted at the Chilli-cothe, Lubbock and Spur substations. The 20,000 pounds recently distrib-uted came from the substations, which found the new strain disease-resistant and capable of producing as much as the old variety.

More than two thirds of Texas' annual 40,000,000-bushel grain sor-gohum crop is made up of milo maize. Practically all of it comes from one strain, Dwarf Yellow Milo No. 670, developed twenty years ago by the station, and free from troublesome diseases until three years ago.

When the blight began to spread, in 1935, county-agricultural agents in leading milo producing centers estimated that as much as 50 per cent of milo acreage was affected in many cases. Infected milo fields now are found over the entire grain sor-gohum area, especially in the Red River section, from the Edwards Plateau to the River. The High Plains area also is affected, the blight extending as far as the Black-lands.

Although a soil-borne disease, milo blight cannot be combated by crop rotation. It exists for long periods, apparently, without a host.

The blight is most virulent during cold, wet weather, when plants af-fected by it turn red, virtually cease

'WINGS ACROSS AMERICA' ESSAY WHICH WON PRIZE FOR CATHERINE SLAGEL IS REPRINTED

The "Wings Across America" essay with which Catherine Slagel, Colorado High school sophomore, won the cash prize offered by the Colorado junior chamber of commerce last week is reprinted below.

This essay, together with other essays and posters, has been sent into the state contests being held in connection with National Air Mail week, May 15-21.

Catherine's essay, which won $2.50, follows:

"The steady throb of motors heralded the entrance of a giant airliner into the star-studded cobalt of the sky above. Flanked by gossamer clouds, the ship hung suspended for an instant in the vast blue, its outstretched wings moon-splashed in silver. A tiny red light gleamed from a wingtip.

"This brilliant light is to me symbolic of the millions of letters sent each day swiftly, surely, and safely to their destinations via air mail. In the first days of air mail service, courageous pilots faced unforeseen dangers with intrepidity; technicalities had to be perfected. Air mail succeeded, and now to the average American the zoom of a plane in clouds above means security: red, white, and blue stripes, the air mail insignia, spell speed. Thus has written communication reached its peak. The myriads of air mail routes crisscrossing America are used daily by citizens who twenty years ago looked askance at the miracle of air mail which they now accept as almost commonplace.

"This service has shackled Time; Fate has become a marionette dancing on strings held by Mercury, God of Speed. Sent by air are many things vital to human life and happiness, and these are sped through space with a haste that is but one inherent characteristic of the Postal Department's air mail service.

"The red light winked brightly as the great ship disappeared below the horizon, its nose pushing forward into shrouded darkness. The plane had caught and held the moonlight---silver-tipped wings speed onward across America!"

When the United States enlisted in the World War, Dr. Logsdon enlisted early and helped organize an ambulance company for the 90th division from Fort Worth. He went overseas as a captain in the ambulance service and served under fire in the St. Mihiel and Argonne fighting, being in charge of front line evacuation by ambulances of the 90th division.

After the Armistice, Dr. Logsdon served six months with the Army of Occupation. He was stationed at Mandersheid, Germany, 60 miles from Coblenz. He was mustered out in the United States in July, 1919, and in August of that year opened his practice at Ranger. That practice, covering both medicine and surgery, continued until he came to Colorado last week.

During his practice in Ranger Dr. Logsdon was connected with the City-County hospital. He has done special courses in surgery and medicine in New York, Mayo Brothers, Tulane University in New Orleans, and other centers of training in medicine and surgery.

He is to practice both medicine and surgery here, and has expressed himself as being very well pleased with the modern equipment of Root hospital, where he will share operating privileges with other physicians and surgeons of Colorado.

Dr. Logsdon was mayor of Ranger from 1933-37. He was a charter member of the Ranger Lions club and of the American Legion post at Ranger. He and Mrs. Logsdon were honored at a banquet attended by 150 Ranger citizens just before they came here. Judge Milburn McCarty of Eastland, retiring WTCC president, was the principal speaker at the banquet. Mayor Hall Walker was toastmaster.

The new doctor and his wife are temporarily at home in the Colorado hotel, but they plan to buy a home here as soon as possible. They have no children.

Approval of a WPA project making possible approximately $9,000 worth of road and bridge work in Mitchell county was announced from WPA headquarters in San Antonio this week.

NEW TIRES TESTED ON RECORD DRIVE

The latest cross country automobile record of 51 hours and 58 minutes over the 3192 mile route from Los Angeles to New York definitely proved the non-skid qualities of the new Goodrich safety tread, according to Henry Vaught.

"In making this remarkable run during which he averaged more than 60 miles an hour, Bob McKenzie, veteran driver, encountered many miles of wet treacherous highway.

"On finishing the dash McKenzie told Goodrich officials that the new tires had the greatest resistance to skidding of any he had ever used in more than 15 years of fast driving.

"Using a stock model car equipped with the new Goodrich tires, McKenzie lowered his own coast-to-coast record by almost two hours."

The new safety tread tires are being introduced to motorists of Colorado by the Henry Vaught One-Stop Service.

SHE'S YOUNGEST MOTHER

When Big Spring searched out its youngest and its oldest mothers as a Mother's Day feature, a former Mitchell county girl, pictured above with her infant son, was found to hold the former title.

She is Mrs. Fred Simpson, the former Lucille Oliver of Westbrook. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Oliver of Westbrook, are Mitchell county old-timers. Mrs. Simpson and her young son, John Fredrick, were pictured and written up in the Big Spring Daily Herald Sunday, along with Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Zinn, 92, Big Spring's oldest mother.

According to the Herald story, Mr.

and Mrs. Simpson were married on Jan. 30, 1937, in Loraine by the Rev. Hamilton Wright, who was then Methodist minister in Loraine. They have resided in Big Spring since their marriage. Mr. Simpson being employed as a driller. John Fredrick is two weeks old.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

This week-end brings, once more, the anniversary of Mitchell county's greatest catastrophe, that dark dawn of May 14, 1923. Perhaps it's best forgotten, but those of us who can remember always seem to do so. . . . A monstrous thing that sweeps through a county and, in the space of seconds, leaves 21 dead, 150 injured, and hundreds homeless is not soon forgotten.

Whatever else they may have been all this school year—students, hoydens, "kids," and what have you—and whatever else they will be before the aging school year ends, Colorado High school seniors, along with their junior hosts, will be the spirit of young sophistication and young beauty on parade Friday night. . . . That's the night, you know, of the junior-senior banquet—definitely an "Occasion." . . . You've probably found your dressmaker buried under heaps of fluffiness destined for lovely evening dresses all this week, and you'll probably take your Thursday or Friday beauty appointment just when you can get it, because Colorado very much belongs to the younger generation right now. . . . The banquet incidentally will be Friday the Thirteenth, but who cares?

Wonder what would happen if: "Rube" Morgan failed to meet the afternoon train. . . . M. O. Chapman missed a piece of excitement—and then couldn't find anybody to give him the details. . . . H. B. Spence sorta sauntered down the street, just once. . . . Benton Templeton appeared in court in that turned-up-behind-sombrero that he was sporting around town the other evening. . . . Charley Landau wore a hat. . . . John Holt or Lark Costin refused a game of dominoes. . . . Jack Mayes forgot to be polite. . . . Rev. A. L. Haley passed up a fishing trip.

A few months ago we published a story to the effect that G. D. Foster, principal of Colorado High school, had started teaching his second generation in Colorado High school. . . . That was when Clay Mann Smith enrolled as a freshman, and it was recalled that Clay Mann's mother, the former Nora Lydia Reese, was also taught by Mr. Foster during his earlier years here. . . . Well, ever since then we've been accused of handing out lemons on the age business, and Mr. Foster has been, figuratively speaking, looking around for a walking cane and an easy arm chair in which to spend his declining years. . . . At least, he pretended to be doing that, maybe to make us feel that we'd been unforgetfully unfaithful. . . . But now we hope to restate ourselves with Mr. Foster, for whom we still have some awe left over from the days when he did his best with the shooting of our young ideas. . . . We're depending on this paragraph from the Daily Texan (University of Texas, Austin) to do

FARM PRODUCE NOW IN LIMELIGHT OF LOCAL TRADE PICTURE; OVER $1,700 PAID FOR CREAM, EGGS ON SATURDAYS

Now that the last harvest is far behind and the next one little more than a beginning hope, it is again that season of the year when cream, eggs, and poultry claim the limelight in the trade picture of an agricultural center such as Colorado.

Those who doubt this might try determining the busiest places in Colorado as the Saturday crowds come to town from the four corners of Mitchell county. Chances are great that they will wind up at the town's three produce stations, where cream, eggs, and chickens are transformed into cash to buy farm food supplies for another week.

On a recent Saturday, described by Colorado produce dealers as "about average" for the season, Mitchell county farm families received more than $1,700 through these produce houses. This figure represents the money actually paid out by the houses, both to the farmers and to the grocerymen who had taken farmers' eggs "in trade." A figure based on the value actually received by the farmers would be even higher, because the price which stores offer for eggs in trade is usually about one cent more per dozen than the cash price.

Small in size and somewhat removed from the main business part of town, these produce stations might not be noticed by a person unversed in the ways of a West Texas farm town on Saturday. None of this can detract, however, from their basic importance to the town's trade life, especially during this season when cash outlay is closely watched on anybody's farm.

On the Saturday when the above-mentioned check-up was made, one station handled 136 crates (4,080 dozen) eggs and 260 gallons of cream, paying 14 cents per dozen for eggs and 18 cents per pound for cream. This house paid out $745 during the day.

Another house bought 125 crates (3,750 dozen) eggs and 73 cans of cream. The third handled 31 crates of eggs and 26 cans of cream.

No general estimate could be obtained on the chickens bought by the produce houses although one house reported having handled over $800 worth of chickens during the week.

S. K. Hardegree, manager of the Mitchell County Produce company, says that many farmers who sell to him are buying all their groceries and paying a large part of their other living expenses with their produce. A number of families bring in as many as three crates of eggs a week.

Jack Abbott of the Colorado Produce company has just checked up on his business for the past year, and finds that from February 27, 1937, to April 1, 1938, he paid out around $108,000 for chickens, cream, and eggs off of Mitchell county farms.

According to R. P. (Bob) Edgerton of the Western Produce house, this is really an off year in the produce business. This is due to the fact that there was a feed shortage back in 1936, and farmers raised fewer chickens and kept fewer milch cows during 1937. Next year ought to be a good one, however, Edgerton says, because there was a good feed crop last year and farmers have bought an unusual amount of chickens and milch cows this year, the produce from which will be forthcoming in 1939.

Nearly all the produce houses report that their Saturday business in all lines runs much better than 50% of the totals for the week.

BASKIN AND MOGFORD TAKE WORK SHEETS TO AAA OFFICE AT A. & M.

The two men were taken to College Station by Mrs. Baskin and George Mallard, who returned home via Iola to visit Mrs. Baskin's mother and other relatives.

STONEROAD OPENS LUBBOCK OFFICES

Stoneroad moved to Lubbock some time ago after resigning as president of the Colorado bank. He had been connected with the banking business in Colorado 37 years.

Mrs. Baxter Scoggin returned to her home in Oklahoma City Sunday after a ten-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lay Powell. Mr. Scoggin came Saturday after her.

Mr. and Mrs. James Payne and Mrs. E. L. Grubbs spent Mother's Day in Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Payne visiting her mother and Mrs. Grubbs staying with her mother, Mrs. Baushke.

it: "A young sponsor was attempting to console his protegee because she only won third in the essay writing contest." Since this appeared in a column of notes on visitors in Austin for the Interscholastic League meet, and since Catherine Slagel won third place in essay writing, and since she was Mr. Foster's protegee, doesn't it follow that he's the "young sponsor" referred to?

TWILIGHT RHYTHM BAND CONCERT THURSDAY NIGHT

FRESHMAN NEWS

English I classes have completed their essay study and have turned their attention to drama. Different students in the class have read plays, and some of the plays were quite humorous. The study on poetry has also begun. Some thought 12 pages was quite a lot for a week's assignment, but it wasn't bad after all.

Mrs. Shillingburg substituted for Mr. Christian in History I classes Thursday and Friday. The students missed the regular teacher, but were glad to have Mrs. Shillingburg as a substitute.

Some Fish found another picnic besides their Friday night. Those bikes really got tiresome, too.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Something took my breath away last Thursday afternoon between Brady and Austin, and I haven't gotten it back, so I can only say, "Thank you," for the gold cross, which was a swell present from a SWELL class! Thank you, thank you... and I do mean you! It seems that Dook Cox and Yatta Landers have patched up their difficulties, and happiness reigns supreme—Ah Spring!

Someone's greatest ambition is to split an atom, but why do that? There are plenty of them already split running around and pretending they are the ham in a ham sandwich. Beulah and Hatchie are wearing cork soled sandals in the brightest of colors. Beulah brought them back from her recent jaunt to Santone. Pome of the week (copied):

Love is like an onion
We taste it with delight,
But when its gone we wonder
What on earth made us bite.

Nina Katherine Quinney and Billy True Templeton also shopped while in the big, beautiful city. They were seen wearing dippy felt hats with a brim clear out to here! Cute anyway! Incidentally, one of them (which one we don't know) got home with fifty cents. Pretty good, we call it. Spanish themes and maps are bearing heavily at present on the one who puts off until tomorrow what should have been done yesterday. Have you seen Freddie Watson's artificial (oops! I let the cat out of the bag!) fingernails? And her slightly (I) oversized fountain pen? It is rumored that a sophomore is due for a big honor the night of commencement. We'd "love" to be there and make a big "raquet." About the laziest person I have heard about is the one with a cold, who, in freezing weather will sit out on the porch so that the wind can blow his nose.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior class met Monday morning and appointed the decoration committee. The program was completed Monday afternoon. The banquet is fast being completed in the last minute haste. As has been the custom, Beulah Robinson, soph class president and Nat Mann, freshman class president have been invited to attend the banquet. An invitation was extended to the Seniors of 38, also.

Louise Dockery won second place in the "Wings Across America" contest which was sponsored by the chamber of commerce. We are very proud of Louise and hope that she may go farther in this work.

This being the last issue of the weekly "Howl" the following students expressed their opinions of this year's paper:

Dorothy Morrison: I liked it until the gossip was stopped.

Jack Womack: The Howl was better this year than last. It was good. A Howl magazine, which will be dedicated to the Seniors, is to be published next Monday.

Six-weeks tests are fast coming on us and dead-week is certainly drawing close at hand.

Jimmie Harrison and Hart Allmond played a drum set in assembly Monday. That is, they drowned out the rest of the band—taking bows afterward.

Virginia Whipkey.

SENIOR NEWS

Well here's your Senior correspondent again bringing you flashes from the world of news. There hasn't been much excitement this last week, all the Seniors are run down. Well, if you can live through two full days like last Friday and Saturday and still be full of vim and vigor, you're a better man than I am. Gunga Din! We Seniors had one glorious time both Friday and Saturday. Our trip to Sweetwater Lake was one long to be remembered. It was an all day affair lasting from early in the morning till about 7 that evening. The countryside was alive with Seniors, here Seniors, there Seniors, everywhere Seniors. The boats on the lake were going back and forth continuously, and what with the hot sun reflecting on the water, you should see the bad cases of sunburn! They are all peeling off now, and what a scaly looking bunch there will be at the banquet. I have heard though that tans in evening wear are all the rage! These candid camera men really got the breaks that day. For instance you should have seen three shirt adorned girls, and three shirtless boys trudging up the dam road. Girls, shirts worn over slacks are very chic! One charming couple I noticed was a talk dark curly headed boy, and one of the Senior candidates for class beauty, guess who! One Senior girl seemed to have a monopoly on all the Senior boys, what with about six trailing at her heels. There were some of the most peculiar couples that day, people you would never suspect. One grand game of baseball took place in the morning, and if you think that these girls can't wield a wicked bat you don't know the half of it! They also tried their hand at golf without too disastrous results. The noonday meal was the most outstanding event of the day. There was barbecue, potato salad, punch and ice cream galore. There was enough for supper, too, and there would have been ice cream, had not several boys and girls got hungry in the middle of the afternoon. Maybe they weren't all boys and girls. Mr. Cline, do you know anything about that little incident? Seen on the lake were Miss Barrett in nautical (but nice) over-all-slacks and huge black straw; Meta Hudson in one of those new rubber bathing suits; Frances Merle Cooper and Shirley Kiker in a new type of sports wrap which slightly resembled a shirt! For information concerning these, kindly refer to Bob Stell who has some excellent photo's. Who was in such a dither that they left the potato salad? No one knows! But nevertheless a trip back to Colorado had to be made in order to have potato salad for lunch. Well, a grand day for all so I've heard. I was too tired to remember. But only a few wishes to stay for a moonlight boat ride.

Saturday, the 30, the poor be-dragged boys and girls went to Abilene to Hardin-Simmons Senior Day. A program was given for us out in the open, consisting of numbers from the Cowboy band, Glee club, quartet, the tumbling team, and the Peacock Review from their Varsity Show. After that came dinner, and incidentally, the principle items on the menu were barbecue and potato salad! After dinner, a tour of the campus was made. Each student was allowed to visit that building which most interested him. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed himself immensely even though they were all tired.

All in all, it was a hilarious weekend for the Seniors. Your Senior correspondent, after going on a Choral Club trip the following Monday, was unable to get her news in Tuesday because she had a bad case of fatigue, but I know you will forgive her when you consider the circumstances.

Lucille Goode.

LIBRARY NEWS

We are sorry to learn that Miss Barrett will not teach English next year but she will not leave us entirely. Miss Barrett has been transferred from the English department to the library. She is to be a permanent librarian next year. During the summer Mrs. Deeren will keep the library. Some of our old books will be sent to Fort Worth to be rebound and when they return, new cards must be made for them. Old issues of the magazines will be made into pamphlets which will be used next year for references.

Next year we are sure to have a bigger and better library.

Ruth Hardison.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

Even though Miss Cole was in San Antonio attending the State Homemaking Rally with the Colorado delegates, the H. E. classes progressed nicely the latter part of last week. Mrs. J. D. Williams taught in Miss Cole's place. The first year foods class studied efficient kitchens—floor plans, proper arrangements, and small cooking utensils. Clothing I classes learned about the care of clothing which proved to be a very helpful study. Second year clothing girls worked on a first aid and home nursing unit.

Nancy Price.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The Public Speaking class presented a radio play in the assembly last Thursday. The play was called "Little Red Skin." It was the story of a little Indian girl whose father had died and left her seven oil wells. No one knew her mother and many women came claiming to be her mother, but her real mother came only after she had given up all hope.

The announcer of this play was Quinton Hamrick. Kathryn Hodges played the part of the little Indian girl or Jeanie. Other characters were Mr. Riley and Jim, two men helping Jeanie find her mother. These parts were played by John Colson and Dilard Yarbrough. Pearl, a woman claiming to be her mother, was Mary Elizabeth Seth and her lawyer, Dick Jones. Suzanna, the old Indian woman who took care of Jeanie, Marie Phillips; and the judge, Van King. Then came her real mother, Marjorie Burgess.

Everyone enjoyed the play, and the class hopes to give more radio plays before school is out.

LITERARY EVENTS

The Airmail Essay contest held in Colorado by the chamber of commerce was won by Catherine Slagel, Louise Dockery won second place, and Ernest Porter won third place. Catherine received two and one-half dollars. She seems to be our essay writer No. 1.

Friday, May 6th, Catherine won third place in the State Meet at Austin. We are very proud that she is carrying our school so far.

Louise Dockery.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP MEDAL TO BE AWARDED TO FRANCES MERLE COOPER

BRING GLORIOUS MUSICAL TREAT TO PALACE SCREEN

MacDONALD AND EDDY CO-STAR FOR 4TH TIME

COME TO PALACE SCREEN IN "THE GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, co-starred for the fourth time, introduce to 1938 audiences eight new and beautiful song numbers, composed and written by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn in "The Girl of the Golden West," coming to the Palace theatre, Saturday midnight, and Sunday and Monday, May 14, 15, and 16.

The numbers that the world is to first hear from the voices of the singing stars are "Shadows on the Moon," "The Wind in the Trees," "Soldiers of Fortune," "Senorita," "Sun-up to Sundown," "Who Are We to Say," "Mariachi" and "The West Ain't Wild Any More," all by Romberg and Kahn. Miss MacDonald also sings Gounod's "Ave Maria" and Liszt's "Dream of Love."

Based on David Belasco's play, "The Girl of the Golden West" is the story of Mary, owner of the Pelka saloon and dance hall in a California mining town in 1850. She is loved by the sheriff, Jack Rance, but she falls in love with Ramerz, a bandit, believing him to be an army officer.

Rance eventually captures Ramerz in Mary's cabin after wounding him. He consents to play cards with the girl for the bandit's life, but the sheriff catches her cheating. She promises to marry Rance if he frees Ramerz, but shortly before the marriage he realizes that Mary can love no one but Ramerz and permits them to be reunited.

William Anthony McGuire produced "The Girl of the Golden West." Robert Z. Leonard was the director and the supporting cast includes Walter Pidgeon, Leo Carrillo, Buddy Ebsen, Leonard Penn, Priscilla Lawson, Bob Murphy, Olin Howland, Cliff Edwards, Billy Bevan, Brandon Tynan, H. B. Warner and Monty Woolley.

"WALKING DOWN BROADWAY"

Palace—Thursday, May 12
A typical example of 20th Century-Fox's standardly good program product, this portrait of the fates and fortunes of six girls—widely differentiated as to character but all sworn friends—is interesting and novel entertainment, somewhat in the "Stage Door" classification. The sextet of Broadway chorines, played by Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Leah Ray, Dixie Dunbar, Lynn Bari and Jayne Regan, dominates the picture throughout, pushing the male supporting players completely into the background. Director Norman Foster successfully dovetails the plots and counterplots, built around the girls' promises to each other that in one year's time they will meet again, regardless of where they are or what they are doing. Miss Trevor stands out.

Players are Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Leah Ray, Dixie Dunbar, Lynn Bari, Jayne Regan, Michael Whalen, Jed Prouty.

"DOCTOR RHYTHM"

Palace—Friday and Saturday May 13 and 14
A musical medico with just what it takes to administer a rejuvenating hypo to ailing boxoffices. Not only does it rank high among all of Crosby's recent efforts, but, even without the singing and highly acceptable acting of the Caliph of Croon, the feature could hold its own as top-flight comedy entertainment. From the first foot to the fadeout it furnishes plenty of laughs, with Beatrice Lillie responsible for a major portion of them. Her performance should inspire a universal demand for more appearances in American films. There is plenty of music to satisfy the Crosby fans and never enough to displace those who prefer mirth to melody. The supporting cast, production, and direction by Frank Tuttle are on the same high plane.

Players are Bing Crosby, Mary Carlisle, Beatrice Lillie, Andy Devine, Rufe Davis, Laura Hope Crews, Fred Keating.

"WOMEN ARE LIKE THAT"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday May 17 and 18
Gets off to a slow start but picks up as the story develops into a man-against-wife fracas in which it is finally declared that a woman's place is at home and not in business, particularly as a competitor of her husband from whom she is separated because of a misunderstanding. Leaving Ralph Forbes at the altar to elope with Pat O'Brien, Kay Francis tries hard to be a loving wife until her husband learns her father has scampered off with most of the advertising company's assets. Forbes, also in concern, rubs the wrong way with Pat and the latter quits, leaving his wife, makes a trip around the world, gets drunk, sobers up, is made a partner in a competing company, buys out the old company to save its face and all ends well. Cast works hard, but story is weak. Albert H. Z. Carr directed.

Players are Kay Francis, Pat O'Brien, Grant Mitchell, Herbert Rawlinson, Ralph Forbes, Joyce Comp-ton.

"NO TIME TO MARRY"

Ritz—Thursday, May 12
This bit of trivia is played for laughs and should be fairly successful along these lines before receptive audiences. Otherwise, it might be construed as an attempt by Paul Gallico, its author, to bring his ironic sense of humor to the fore. This is demonstrated upon viewing Mary Astor and Richard Arlen in a set of scatter-brained roles that stop at virtually nothing to exact laughs at the expense of Gallico's chosen field, newspaper reporting. Here, Arlen and Miss Astor are making one of their frequent attempts to get married. Being reporters to the core, the nuptials are postponed while the plot detours to make way for a goat-chase and the pursuit of a runaway heiress. It's definitely without rhyme or reason and stands a good chance of being received in kind. Harry Lachman directed.

Players are Richard Arlen, Mary Astor, Lionel Standar, Virginia Dale, Marjorie Gatsoson.

"OVER THE WALL"

Ritz—Sunday and Monday May 15 and 16
A bread and butter picture that will get by as entertainment fare. Production is undecided whether to be a crisp melodrama or a prisoner's songfest. As a result, this is a wavering effort concerning the rehabilitation of Dick Foran, young, impetuous truck-driver, who is framed on a murder charge. In prison, the kindly attention of the prison chaplain, John Litel, plus the love of June Travis, enables him to keep his temper in check. Foran is persuaded to sing a solo in the prison choir and wins many friends. With the help of Miss Travis, he is able to get the real criminal of the piece, Dick Purcell, and clear his name. Performances are up to par with the competent cast doing the best it can with the material. Frank MacDonald directed.

Players are Dick Foran, June Travis, John Litel, Dick Purcell, George E. Stone, Raymond Hatton, John Hamilton.

"CALL OF THE YUKON"

Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday May 17 and 18
Impressive novelty action picture featuring the awe-inspiring scenic wonders of Alaska and two remarkable dog performers—Swift Lightning and Firefly—here is a program contribution which, through its very unusualness, will prove pleasing to most audiences. While the story is of secondary importance, it serves to knit together the feature's most outstanding elements and is adequately enacted by a cast headed by Richard Arlen and Beverly Roberts. An isolated Eskimo village is faced with a winter of starvation. The natives move out, but Beverly Roberts, an authoress seeking local color, stubbornly refuses to go. Arlen, rugged trapper, forces her to accompany him south and their adventures on the long trek furnish the action. B. Reeves Eason directed.

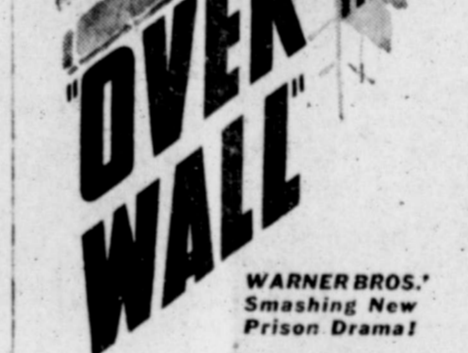

Players are Richard Arlen, Beverly Roberts, Lyle Talbot, Mala, Garry Owen, Ivan Miller, James Lono.

SOUVENIR TICKETS TO FINANCE FAIR

Souvenir tickets which are now being sold for three for $1.00, will be used to finance the rehabilitation of the grounds for presentation of the Golden Jubilee of the State Fair of Texas, and also to provide for the budget for various departments of the "World's Largest State Fair."

The campaign for disposal of the tickets got underway when the nineteen directors of the State Fair, subscribed for one book of tickets for each employe in their firm. Since the meeting when the original subscription was made, various business firms, civic organizations, fraternities and others have subscribed for one book of tickets for each employe or member of their organization.

Goal set for the sale of tickets is 100,000 books, or 300,000 tickets.

President Otto Herold said here recently that he expected the issue to be oversubscribed.

The tickets come three in a book, and each book has a souvenir cover printed in five colors, with gold predominant note, significant of the Golden Jubilee celebration. The ticket cover was so designed that purchasers may keep the cover as a memento of the Golden Jubilee Celebration of the State Fair of Texas. The above facsimile of the ticket and the same design is executed on the ticket in five colors.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day is lonely
Since my mother's gone away
But I shall cherish memories
Of her along life's way.
And I shall say a prayer,
Shall put my grief away,
And rejoice with those whose mothers
Are living on this day.

REMEMBER MOTHER

Mothers, this is your day. We greet you as the redeemers of the human race. Would to God that I could radio a message of tender appreciation and love today to every mother—on this side and the other.

Mother, the sweetest name on mortal tongue—save one; mother, the first name heard by infant ears; mother, the first name lisped by baby tongue; mother, the last name heard from the lips of age before the gate of speech is closed by death; mother, God's best agent on earth, the first at the cradle and the last at the grave!

Mother holds the highest office on earth. She is the trustee of civilization. She is the greatest teacher in the world. She is the child's first teacher and first impressions are lasting. True foundations of reverence and worship are laid as the child learns to pray at his mother's knee.

Mother is the greatest artist of all time. "The greatest of all arts is that of taking plastic human nature and molding it into something that would not have been, had not your touch been added." She paints the picture of heaven upon the soul of her child. Heaven, with its pearly gates and golden streets and jasper walls, and heart-ease and happiness.

Mother's Day, the garden of meditation. Once a year I spend the whole day there. Tender memories thrill me then as they do not on any other day in life's experience. To me it is a "burning bush" on "holy ground," and a voice divine calls to human ears. "Take the sandals of selfishness and sinfulness from off your feet." So today, every man that honors and loves his mother, living or dead, should for the same reason stand with his soul uncovered in God's presence and hers.

Oh, brother man and sister woman, youth and maiden, boy and girl, who are blessed today with the presence at your side of your mother, let me admonish you, while her ears can hear them, let flow the soft words of endearment and esteem. Pour out your deepest affection while you may—in the tenderest words that ever blossomed in human speech.

The mother heart is ever hungering for further assurances of genuine affection. Her soul is athirst today—fill up her cup of joy to the brim now. One bloom in the hands of the living is worth two wreaths on the grave of the dead.

At evening in a distant land,
Cathedral chimés disturb the vagrant breeze;
And as the light wanes slowly in the west
A hallowed impulse brings me to my knees.
The tendrils of a mother's prayer
Reach out to me from over land and seas.
I feel the blessings that her prayer invokes,
And to me comes a wondrous, quiet ease.

The days slip by... The postman makes his daily rounds... Before he gets off the porch, a little old lady comes out and eagerly looks into the mail box... for the letter that did not come... My boy is too busy to write, she will tell you... He always wires me flowers on Mother's Day... John is a good boy, I know that he thinks of me often, but he is just too busy to write.

But is John a good boy... Is there ever a day that he is too busy to take five minutes time to write a few lines to that mother who will stick by him when all the rest of the world deserts him... Get that letter in the mail today... The letter that did not come.

But wait, you say. Do you write to your mother often? Who are you to set yourself up as a shining example to the world?
Do I write to my mother? Who am I? Well, you see, that is, I mean, perhaps I should have said before that I am John.

It is but fitting that the papers should write unceasingly about automobile driving and safety first. A man by name of Phil writes in the Publisher's Auxiliary.

THE STORY OF PHIL AND HIS LITTLE GIRL

"Dear Driver: Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel whose name is Scout sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved 'good-by' and started off to the halls of learning.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with the yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher who has eyes in the back of her head—and about the trees in the school yard—and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus.

"We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital unimportant things—and then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic—and then to bed. She's back there now—back in the nursery—sound asleep—with 'Princess Elizabeth' (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut—or her head gets bumped, I can fix that—but when she starts to school—when she walks across the street—then she's in your hands.

"She's a nice kid—she can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully—please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and please remember that children run from behind parked cars.

"Please don't run over my little girl.

"PHIL"

Ten years from now we imagine Phil may write, if his soulful appeal to drivers is heeded and his little girl keeps out of their way. If little girls do not change much in that decade we imagine he may write something like this:

"Dear Pedestrian:
"Today my daughter, who is seventeen years old, is out with my car. What she is wearing I do not know, but it is not much, and is designed to catch the attention of one or more boys slightly older than she and who may be in the car with her.

"Before she took the car out, we talked about several things, but not about where she was going, with whom, or what they would be doing. She is reticent about such matters, and also she seemed to pay scant attention to several suggestions of mine about the care of the car, or to her another's admonition to be careful.

"My daughter is a nice kid, and not addicted to worry. If I have taken precautions to have the car in good mechanical condition, properly lubricated, the tires safe, and the gas tank filled, she will have no trouble, barring accidents. She knows enough about the car to start it, steer it and stop it, and has heard that there are men who make a business of fixing automobiles when the things go wrong. She probably thinks that such persons inhabit filling stations, but she will be set right when she inquires.

"But she knows that when she steps on a certain knob with her right foot, the car will whizz along at 60 to 80 miles per hour, and she believes that the knob is placed there to make it do so. That is the only way she knows how to drive it, and that is as fast as it will go.

"So please Mr. Pedestrian, do not let my little girl run over you. You will know her by her happy look, her blonde hair and her red hat. She may be smoking a cigarette and the boy beside her may be hugging her, so that she may not give you her attention if you are in her line of driving. You had better wait until she gets by, or dodges.

"If you get in her way and she runs over you, you may cause her to lose control of the car, she may go through the windshield and scar her pretty face, or she may get tangled up in the steering wheel and need to go to the hospital. Even though she escapes and you don't, she will come home and cry.

"So please, Mr. Pedestrian, do not get run over by my little girl."
"PHIL"

SPRING

The only sign we hold with for a good crop is the size of the bluebonnet crop in this country. And according to our prediction based on this sign, this year will be the best crop year we have ever seen. We never before saw so many bluebonnets nor healthier ones. On all sides and over the prairies the bluebonnets are growing in solid mass formation.

How much reputation have we in the capacity of prophet? We want to believe and are indeed eager to believe when we foretell of the best crop year ever known.

There are so many prophets, you know, the conservative listener must discriminate. Admittedly the bluebonnet is plentiful this spring, and beautiful as ever. But do bluebonnets mean anything except that they are bluebonnets? "Daisies never tell," we have heard, and we wonder if bluebonnets are more close-mouthed than daisies.

We are only questioning the efficiency of bluebonnets in crop forecasting. A good deal will depend on rains, on dry spells, on insects as to whether the sprouting crops will yield bountiful harvests or bring forth disappointments. At any rate, we can enjoy the bluebonnets from the visual angle. They are lovely while they last, although not longlasters. Nor are they as fragrant as so lovely a flower should be. They neglect sweetness in favor of looks. That is not singular to bluebonnets, however. Some people are that way.

The Howl is the official paper at the Colorado High school and one of the staff asked this writer to contribute an article which we did but the Howl refused to use it so it goes into this column. Here is what we wrote:

THE GOSSIPS

One of the most popular indoor activities of a high school is gossiping. This little game is on the same scale with taking candy from babies and putting white sand in the ice cream instead of sugar. You may think it fun to pass on a lot of "meanness" into someone else's ear, and at someone else's expense, but you can't get away with it forever. Eventually it will boomerang back and you will find yourself in a nice sweet little mess of trouble.

Everyone knows how fast a little bad news can travel, and nowhere does it flit about faster than in a high school. When something happens, it is all over the building before the noon hour. Whether the news is the truth or not, everybody with a pair of ears has heard it; and the worse the news is, the more chance it has of being believed. Even if it is later proved to be false, the unlucky victim is an outcast for good.

Gossip carrying is a bad practice, and something should be done to put a stop to it. In the first place, don't start gossip yourself. Instead of running people down, talk about their good points and stick to friends instead of losing them.

Furthermore, when you hear a nasty rumor don't pass it on. Let it stop with you. If it's about one of your friends stick up for them. Stay with that old rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." You certainly couldn't want anyone talking about you yourself. Give the victim of the gossip the benefit of the doubt and refuse to believe the bad news. A good idea would be to refuse in public, so that other people can hear you. And in no time those rumors will disappear.

As to gossip about yourself, you can stop that by keeping your own secrets. If you have some personal activities you want kept unknown, say nothing about them. It's not anyone's business but yours, anyhow.

Uncle Bill down at Sterling says this writer is a literary thief all of which may be so but Uncle Bill need not be uneasy as he has not, to my knowledge ever written anything worth stealing. He does not understand that most all matter in the way of editorials are but a rehash of things said before.

SPRING FEVER

There's lots of fever going on in town now. About the only thing killed so far is time but work is suffering something awful. It starts in with a light case of spring fever—gets worse and finally when complications set in there is only one thing to do. That's to get out the old line, pole, and sinkers and go fishing for two or three days. That's the only relief I know of.

THEIR NAMES IN THE PAPERS

Being a Collection of Items From Other Papers About Present and Former Mitchell Countians.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith and A. B. Blanks were in Balmorhea Sunday attending the horse show and rodeo.—Pecos Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cagle of Colorado are spending Sunday here with her mother, Mrs. Inez Reynolds and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cagle.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Just as one chamber of commerce manager to another, Ben Smith of Pecos mailed to Bill Collyns of Midland a red tag, with the advice that it wasn't a Christmas card but was steering wheel after stopping for lunch at a Midland cafe, en route to Pecos from points east.

The tag-notified him that his front wheel was one foot over the diagonal parking line. Smith said the car was parked in the back west of Hotel Scharbauer, which he had not thought to be a restricted zone. He requested Collyns to go to the proper authorities, pay the fine for him if necessary and he would refund the cost to Collyns.

"Come over to Pecos to see us," he added; "and I'll get you a permit to park anywhere you like except in front of the fire station."—Midland Reporter-Telegram.

ALMOND COOKIES FOR THE TEA TABLE

What could be finer than almond cookies when it comes time for a cup of tea? Perhaps it's the Mandarin influence or perhaps it's just a desire for "match-making food." At any rate Almond Cookies are Preference Number One when tea is served.

The recipe for Oatmeal Almond Cookies is as follows:
OATMEAL ALMOND COOKIES
1/2 cup butter 1 cup Quaker Oats
1 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/3 cup almonds, blanched and chopped
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg 1/8 teaspoon salt
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
2 tablespoons milk 1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons baking powder
Cream butter and sugar together well. Add well beaten egg. Sift flour with spices and baking powder, then mix into this the oats, nuts, finely chopped almonds and lemon rind. Add this mixture and liquid to batter. Then drop by spoonfuls on buttered cookie sheet. Press half of an almond meat on each and bake in a quick oven—200 degrees.

CUTHBERT NEWS

Sunday was a very pleasant day at Cuthbert. Judge Mauley of Sweetwater spoke at the church on the Mother's Day program. Those of you who failed to hear him, missed much. Everyone should remember and heed the message he brought you. After lunch, Fairview S. S. presented their program followed by Cuthbert's program, helped out by various numbers from other communities.

The outstanding numbers were: Mary Margaret Womack of Fairview reading a poem "To Grandmother" composed by her mother, Mrs. Ada Womack; the Grubbs children of Colorado; violin solo by Viola Autry of County Line; music by Mr. and Mrs. James Herrington of Colorado and Viola Autry; special numbers led by Claud Womack; a song by the Hunt children and Jean Morrison of Rogers. LORAINÉ COUPLE IS MARRIED 50 YEARS

Pictured and written up in the Abilene Reporter-News on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scown of Loraine, residents of Mitchell county for 54 years, who were to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on May 10.

The write-up follows:
"Fifty years of married life will be finished Tuesday, May 10, by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scown, who have resided in Mitchell county since 1884-84 years.

"Mr. Scown was born in 1860 in South Potherwin, Cornwall, England. Mrs. Scown, who was Hattie Childress, was born in Paris, Tenn., in 1872. Scown came to America with his parents in 1871, at the age of 11. They first settled in Pennsylvania, where they resided six years before moving to Frankston, Texas, in Anderson county, in 1877. In 1884 young Thomas Scown came to Mitchell county and has resided here since, except for two and one-half years spent recently in Eastland county.

"Mrs. Scown's parents settled in San Antonio when she was a small girl. She came to Mitchell county in the same year that Mr. Scown arrived and they were wed May 10, 1888.

"Mr. and Mrs. Scown have six children surviving, four sons and two daughters. Two sons are deceased, but the six will gather today—Mother's Day—at the parents' home, with their children and other relatives, to celebrate the Golden Wedding anniversary. All of the children reside in Texas except one, who lives in Reno, Nev. There are 21 grandchildren and four great grandchildren."

Only Your Mileage Merchant OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE

Do you need any reminder of what oil you bought? Not if it delivers smooth long mileage that you can't forget! Then here's the real big value of the little drain tag you get from Your Mileage Merchant: he marks it with your mileage today as you change to his patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, and then you can keep tabs on how far you go before you ever need another quart in your OIL-PLATED engine.

OIL-PLATING is exclusive with Conoco Germ Processed oil. The patent-guarded Germ Process forces this oil to "magnetize" on to the working parts in the form of implanted slippy OIL-PLATING. The parts that used to wear worst and make your oil "rub out" fastest, now possess this all-over, deep-seated OIL-PLATING. It can neither drain down while your engine is stopped, nor let loose in all the whirl of 4,000 revolutions a minute. Therefore OIL-PLATING, done only by Your Mileage Merchant, distinctly tells you why your Germ Processed oil and your car money won't be doing a "disappearing act." Continental Oil Co.

try a soothing warm bath before retiring

Here's the newest in automatic gas water heaters. Built table-high, 36 inches, with porcelain top to fit in with kitchen cabinets and provide extra working space.

We know of jangled nerve cases where doctors have prescribed a warm, soothing bath to promote relaxation and sleep. And with good results, too. So the next time you find yourself unable to sleep try this simple nerve quieter. But don't dry-off with a vigorous rub-down... do it gently.

Instant hot water for baths, or for many other household needs, is provided best by one of the new automatic gas heaters. Simple, safe and economical it assures a plentiful hot water supply at all hours. If you do not now enjoy this great home convenience why not trade your present heater in on a gas automatic?

do you good. It might be that we could help you with your burdens. I know that they get so heavy to bear and when you try to bear them alone you may many times become discouraged and think that there is no use. So if you feel that way come tell us about your troubles. Let's talk them over. For there is always a way out if we will take all our troubles to Jesus, who is always willing and ready to carry or help us to carry our burdens. He has said for us to all come unto Him that are heavy laden and He will give us rest. Now my friend that may mean you and does mean you if you have more than you can bear alone. Maybe it is rest that you need and I can point you to no one else that has promised to do so much for you as Jesus has. Just to think that rest that He can give which brings such joy, peace, happiness, and rest for our tired and burdened souls. Friend, it is Jesus that you need to go to. All others may turn away from you but this friend who is Jesus will never turn away. He will speak peace to you and will always be near in time of trouble and disappointment.

Now you may say that you can live as well out of the church as you can in it but will you. I do not believe that you can.

So come join us in our work. Let's make the church a place where others would like to go, and where when they come will find food for the soul. So come on and give God a chance to do through you what He wants to do and will do if we will only let Him.

I am your friend and brother,

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. CARDUI, prepared by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

THE SEVENTH GRADE

As it is nearing the end of school the seventh grade took their State exams Thursday and Friday. The class made an average 9 points above the seventh grade according to age. Faydeen Mitchell gave a tacky party Thursday. You should have seen those tacky costumes. Even Ruth Alma came in her night gown, so they say. They say she had a swell time holding the sack while the others rounded up the snipes. Ask Elizabeth Main if her prize potato was good. She won the prize for being the tackiest.

Two seventh grade boys, Perry and Lee went to Big Spring Friday and Saturday with the Boy Scouts. They were in the jamboree at Big Spring.

The seventh grade boys played volleyball Thursday with the freshman boys and were defeated the best two out of three games. They will play again later. The seventh grade girls will play their games Monday.

We are sorry that Joan did not get to see Bradford while he was here Sunday.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Monday evening quite a few of the public school music class went on a swimming party and picnic combined. Monday it was so cold we didn't think anyone would go swimming but a few of them did. I think they had about half enough sandwiches but plenty of other things.

The entire Freshman class is planning to go on a swimming party and picnic next Saturday afternoon. Each person is to bring a picnic lunch and meet at the park at 4 o'clock.

The way these Freshmen have been ginning around to get their notebooks slung together for the exhibit would make bystanders dizzy.

Last night a play "Civil Service" was put on in the Westbrook school auditorium given by the Conaway school and sponsored by the V. A. boys.

The Freshman girls team A has been eliminated from the volleyball tournament between different grades. Freshman girls B team and both the boy's teams are still in.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors enjoyed the banquet very much and hope their guests did the same.

Then Whipmy went to Colorado—alone! Clyde Beatty: The insurance companies say: "Not on your life!" He who laughs last must have the joke explained to him. June and Sidney finally got to the show (after the banquet) together.

Boy, did I get the works last week in our high school news. I think I had better take you up on that proposition, Earl, we need to work together (for protection).

How did Mr. Cox get three dishes of ice cream? Anyway he knows that arithmetic says divide! Because others benefitted by his good luck!

The news is short this week but its the last of school and time is short too!

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The annual Junior-Senior banquet of the Westbrook High school was held at Westbrook school gymnasium Saturday evening, May 7th, at 8:15 p.m. The central theme of the banquet was "sailing" and the color scheme which was carried out was blue and silver, the Senior class colors. The lights of the gymnasium were shaded with blue. The favors were miniature ships in the idea of the seniors leaving the shelter of high school. The combination menu and program and place cards were in the form of a ship-log. The tables were decorated with blue and silver candies, with a lighthouse gracing the center of the table. A silver ship on a blue mirror surrounded the lighthouse making the reflection and illusion very beautiful indeed.

The entrance of the gym was lighted by two candelabra bearing six candles, each. The Junior class of Westbrook furnished the program, with June Shelton, vice-president of the junior class, making an excellent toastmaster. The principal speech of the evening was given at the end of the program by Mr. Roy Davis, Coles, county school superintendent, of Mitchell county who spoke on "Ideals." Toasts by Mr. Crouch, Mr. Hood and Juniors were heard. The seniors that gave toasts were M. L. Cope, Elizabeth Young, Lecroy Clifton and Lena Lee Bird. A high spot of the evening was when M. L. Cope, senior president, presented Mr. Hood, junior sponsor, with a gift showing the senior's class appreciation for the lovely banquet and cooperation he had shown throughout the year.

- The menu was:
- Fruit Cocktail
  - Molded Vegetable Salad
  - Chicken Dressing
  - Buttered Carrots
  - Peas Potatoes
  - Buttered Buns
  - Ice Cream Cake
  - Ice Tea

Most of the group went to the midnight show "The Goldwyn Follies" after the banquet was over. This was the first Junior-Senior banquet ever given in the gymnasium and one of the prettiest given at Westbrook. The Westbrook Missionary Society fixed the banquet and the Sophomore girls, dressed in sailor costumes, served. The following Sophomore girls served: Mary Julia Bullock, Mattie Blanche Bird, Helen Moon, Jannie Lee White, and Ruth Smith.

FINAL EXAMS FOR SENIORS

The Seniors take their final exams this week and wind up their high school career. They will begin working on the Senior pageant for Commencement Tuesday night. The baccalaureate sermon will be Sunday the 15th and the commencement on Thursday evening the 19th.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors wish to thank the Juniors for that wonderful banquet last Saturday night. It was a grand success and we all had a swell time. We hope the Juniors next year give you one as pretty and one that you will enjoy as much as we enjoyed yours.

Melba Harris and Fionelle Davis visited the Boy Scout Jamboree at Big Spring Friday night. Those who attended the Jamboree from this class were Lecroy Clifton and Mr. R. G. Crouch who spent the night there Friday and all day Saturday.

The Seniors are busy as they can possibly be. We start practicing on our pageant "The Light of Truth" Tuesday night.

We have two parties this week. One at Cap McKinney's house Friday night, and one at M. L. Cope's Saturday night.

The caps and gowns and diplomas are here. We are having to get some more "dough" for all these things.

Jimmie Morris of Abilene and Dorothy Fae Gressett of Big Spring visited Fionelle Davis over the week-end.

Virginia Dorn spent the week-end with Modenia Elliott.

Some of the Seniors come in every day with a new present. More pretty things are being showered around. It's the thrill that comes once in a lifetime—graduation.

Plans are being made for our trip to Carlsbad Caverns. Our walk is almost completed.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the gym Sunday evening, May 15, at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Lancaster of the First Baptist church, Big Spring.

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEY BALL TOURNAMENT

Each class has been working for class honors this week. Each class entered a girl's and boy's team and a little class competition has been stirred up.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

After an absence of two weeks, ye old ancient model Soph reporter is again faithfully and untiringly writing away. About the most brightening thought that comes to my mind is the realization of the fact that only one more report remains to be written. I hope you feel the same joy of joys that I do in announcing this.

The sports highlights of the week: The girl's and boys "A" teams proudly stand victors of their first volleyball games with other classes in the class elimination tournament held at the end of each year. More games are yet to come and we have high hopes of coming out on top. Neither of the Soph "B" teams have played. Let's go, Sophs.

Several Sophomore boys attended the music class picnic Monday evening. Mum seems to be the word, for they won't talk. I wonder why? Take it easy fellows. Earl, I hear you deserted your cause. Woman hater. Huh, he thinks he is fooling us. Not me, though.

As usual we aren't exactly enjoying algebra I, but I can say work isn't so pressing these days. For one thing, I'm not so far behind with my notebook.

Last minute fire-prevention posters are being prepared by non-industrious Sophs. Hang it all, what makes a guy so lazy anyway.

Miss Speights seems to enjoy the frowns we show when she tells us how much behind we are on English II. I've found that up until now, I didn't really know what it is like to have the blues.

The woodwork class is reconducting the shop for next year. All that work for the Fish! I demand a strike. How about it fellow craftsmen? Are we Sophs or are we Fish? Each Soph seems to show definite signs of being thoroughly disgusted and tired of school. We are using our watches to calculate just how much longer we have to go. We even count the seconds. Ah, what joy it is. If we can all get our term themes in the two weeks left, I think we will all welcome the date of completion of this school year.

It's quite again for this time. I'll try and get the last report for you. It's a promise. Neal, I may need your help. We should make it a real celebration. What say?

WESTBROOK GIRL GIVEN PAGE IN H-SU YEARBOOK

Reigning as campus queen, Miss Florence Neal, of Westbrook, was given a full page of honor in the beauty section of the Bronco, Hardin-Simmons University yearbook.

Others in the ceremonies, at H-SU, in Abilene, included Miss Ann Rader, Dallas, Bronco beauty; Miss Jo Nellie Robbins, Knox City, senior favorite; Miss Hazel Day, Clovis, N. M., junior favorite; Miss Charlotte Collins, Abilene, sophomore favorite, and Miss Susie Routh, Abilene, freshman favorite.

Miss Neal is a member of the graduating class to receive degrees at the forty-seventh H-SU commencement exercises, on June 1.
