

76TH CONGRESS TO CONSIDER AID TO WORKERS ON FARM

CHANGES IN STATE ENABLING LAWS EXPECTED DURING NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON.—The administration will place high on its list of "must" legislation in the 76th congress revisions in the social security act which will bring millions of agricultural workers under its protection and pay larger benefits to those already covered, it was learned recently.

Widespread changes in state enabling laws involved in the social program also are expected next year, when most legislatures are scheduled to meet. Joint federal-state studies on many phases of the project are in progress and reports are expected in midwinter.

President Roosevelt has impressed on congress the need of revising the federal law to meet defects found during the three years it has been in operation. He recommended certain changes to Chairman Arthur J. Aitmer of the security board and asked his group to prepare revisions for submission to congress before it reconvenes in January.

Aitmer is in Europe examining the old world method of dealing with the most vexing problem facing his group—how to keep track of the movement of the transient or nomad workers. These employes abroad are checked through a stamp system, and a plan of this kind probably will be included among recommendations placed before congress.

Proposed revisions in the act, it is understood, will not embrace the "pay-as-we-go" method of security tax collections and expenditures demanded by republicans and some economists. This group is fearful that the multibillion dollar reserve account which will be piled up by security taxes, will prove too great a temptation to administration spenders and will be diverted to other purposes.

The president's attitude toward the "pay-as-we-go" proposal was displayed at a press conference when he laughingly disposed of the plan with a query, "what is it?" The administration likewise has turned a deaf ear to employer demands that the security taxes be reduced.

A Lone Star GAS CUSTOMER WRITES IN PART... "I still possess our old budget book of early house-keeping days and when I look over the amounts set down for coal and wood purchases, I am glad I am living in the 'gas age' with its contributions of economy and convenience to the housewife's comfort. My gas bills for the past two months (May and June 1934) have been $3.40 and $3.50. That includes gas for all purposes... cooking, hot water and refrigeration."

"GAS AGE" comforts cost only the price of a daily package of cigarettes

The cost of gas service in the average home on Lone Star Gas lines is only about 15c a day—probably the cheapest item in the household budget. Other living costs, taxes, and the like are UP, but here's one thing that remains at the same low cost—LONE STAR GAS SERVICE a bargain in better living.

For this small cost per day it heats your home in winter with a cleaner, more healthful warmth; it provides you with instant hot water whenever you need it; it protects your food in the simplest and quietest of all refrigerators; it cooks your meals without attention when operating through a modern gas range. When one thinks of the convenience of this service, the comfort it provides and the work and energy it saves at so small a cost, it is little wonder that many gas customers write to say, "I am glad I am living in the gas age."

Community Natural Gas Co. TODAY'S BIGGEST BARGAIN FOR BETTER LIVING. GAS DOES THE 4 BIG JOBS for 15c a day. The greatly improved efficiency of 1937 appliances adds still more to the value of your Lone Star Gas Service.
