OVER 15,000 BALES OF GOVERNMENT LOAN COTTON NOW IN STORAGE LOCALLY

Over 15,000 bales of government loan cotton are now stored at Colorado, a survey made this week shows. Blue Goodwin's Mitchell County warehouse at the corner of First and Elm streets has already been filled to capacity, and Goodwin is now taking loan cotton for the compress. Goodwin has 3,950 bales on storage in his warehouse, and estimates that less than 550 bales are from this year's crop.

All other loan cotton is being stored at the compress, where three new warehouses have been built this season to afford ample storage space. The compress capacity is about 12,500 bales. Over 11,000 bales are now on storage there, about 4,500 of them being from last year's crop.

Government cotton loans have been and are being taken this season by Goodwin, Marion New (representing the West Texas Cooperative Cotton Growers' association), Paul Harkins, Charles Henry, and Bill Dorn.

SOIL CONSERVATION

In preparing individual farm plans and in determining the contribution of labor, equipment and materials which the farmer shall make to the construction of his facilities. In the field the Soil Conservation Service makes the contacts for the program with the general public and supervises arrangements with state and local agencies in the operations program.

"The Farm Security Administration is to have charge of the financing of farmers including the approval of loans for facilities work and the drafting of repayment schedules. It will help the Soil Conservation Service in making farm plans and will help the farmer put these plans into effect."

"The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is charged with the responsibility for overall planning of water facilities in specified agricultural areas."

"The plan for each farm approved for a water facilities loan will include, in addition to installation of water facilities, provisions for a complete and coordinated program of soil and water conservation and a farm and home program all designed to promote a profitable and stable agricultural enterprise.

"Funds are not to be expended for the provision of water facilities on a hit or miss plan, or for a great variety of purpose. They are to be expended to provide carefully planned water facilities to achieve wiser land use over a period of years, and through wiser use of land, to promote the welfare of the people who live on the land."

"Since isolated farms would be expensive to plan and administer, the program will be concentrated in areas where the most good can be achieved for general farm welfare. In the assistance provided this year, first consideration will be given to needy farmers who are not in a position to provide adequate water facilities to insure proper farm operation."

"Farmers requiring financial assistance for water facilities development on their lands may be granted a loan through the Farm Security Administration. Such loans can be repaid on liberal terms. They will be required to contribute as much as possible of the labor, materials and team power needed to install water facilities. Technical assistance in planning and supervision of installations will be furnished without cost to the farmer."

"Small facilities to be constructed under the program include ponds, reservoirs, garden irrigation systems, wells, detention, retention, and diversion dams, pump installation, spring development, water spreaders and facilities for recharging underground water supplies."

"Coupled with these developments will be the use of contour cultivation, strip cropping, terraces, crop rotations, pasture development and improvement, and other conservation measures of productive use. The farm and home phase of the program sponsored by the Farm Security Administration will emphasize the importance of subsistence farming to supply home needs of the farm family."

"Applications for work in Champlain creek and Lone Wolf draw project area may be made to the field office at Colorado, any county agent, or field representative of the Farm Security Administration."

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
C. E. Jameson, Pastor

Preaching at 11 a.m. Sunday by the pastor.

Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock Rev. S. H. Young, Presiding Elder, will bring his last message as Presiding Elder of our church. The reason for having our services at that hour is that Dr. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian church is preaching his farewell sermon to his congregation at 7:30 and we all want to hear him.

Brother Young has made us one of the best Presiding Elders the Sweetwater district has ever had and we regret to see him go. Let us fill the house at 6:30 p.m. Sunday and hear his message and then go in a body to hear Brother Elliott at 7:30 deliver his last message. We owe it to each of these fine men to be present.

Brother Young will come back next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock and hold our fourth quarterly conference.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

There you are welcome.

GUITAR ANNOUNCES

space for between 750 and 800 head of livestock.

Auctions will be held once a week. There will be opening buying in all classes of livestock. For a small fee livestock will be cared for at the plant until sold. All selling will, of course, be on a commission basis.

Need of such an enterprise in Mitchell county has been urged by livestock raisers for some time. They point out that an auction ring will attract buyers who will pay top market prices for all kinds of livestock, and at the same time the ring will give small stockfarmers a means of disposing of their animals on a convenient, open market.

The plant will be convenient to both railroad and highway transportation. It is adjacent to Highway One, and the railroad loading pens are nearby.

Guitar hopes to have the plant completed in about three weeks.

 Assistant—Virginia Whipkey
 Reporters—Sara Guitard, Hardison Almond, Bobbie Lou Cooper, Beulah Robinson Typists—Harvey Cook, Frances Watson, Doris Flo Doss, Ruth Hardison.

THE LONE WOLF

This year the Senior class under supervision of Miss Barrett, will sponsor a school annual to be published by the Steck Company at Austin. There will be a representative from this company to come at regular intervals to furnish ideas and materials.
 Ruth Elliott, former editor of The Howl, has been selected as editor of the Annual. Her assistant will be Willie Grace Doss. Thomas Chadwick offers competition to any other senior as head salesman of annuals. There will be committee directors selected from each class. Those selected in Senior class at present are Virginia Whipkey, Maurice Watson, O. B. Trulock, and Aleene Bodine. There will be a work for each Senior. Those expecting the great fun are those in the Camera Club which begins its work at once. Typists will also get their share of inside information.

The Seniors are expecting to set examples of enthusiasm backing The Howl of the Lone Wolf and Wolf Pack.

WHO'S WHO ON THE CAMPUS
 Miss Mable Smith
 Miss Mable Smith's birthplace is

Austin, Texas. She attended grammar school in Austin and then came to Colorado where she finished high school.
 She went to NTSTC one year and then continued her work at the University of Texas where she received both her B.A. and M.A. degrees.
 Miss Smith's teaching career has been for the most part in Colorado, though she also taught two years at Hardin-Simmons University and two years at Baylor College at Waco.
 She likes to travel and Mexico is a favorite stopping place both for vacationing and studying.

As a Spanish teacher all the students come in contact with Miss Smith sooner or later and her sense of humor and genial charm have made her a favorite with the student body.

Jack Smith

A toast:
 To Jack with wavy blond hair,
 It shines like a crown,
 But he isn't a king—
 Just an ordinary football star!
 Have you ever noticed what a charming smile Jack Smith has? If you haven't, you've missed one of the best things about Jack. He's a favorite on the campus because he is so witty. (He really is!)

Here's another of our football stars who makes the "A" honor roll, which proves the point that a fullback must have more than brawn. Those of you who have seen Jack play know what a good man he is and how valuable he is to the team. Those of you who haven't seen him play have missed a treat.

Jack likes all outdoor sports; consequently he is in good physical condition the year round. Since it will soon be Thanksgiving Jack thinks he ought to like pumpkin pie, but he really adores pineapple. (Going Hawaiian on us, eh?)

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WITNESS COLLEGE GAMES

Four bus-loads of high school students went to Abilene Saturday to see the A. C. C.-Trinity University football game. A good battle was put up by each team but the Wildcats of A. C. C. dropped a close decision as the score was 6-0 in favor of Trinity. A. C. C. came close range of pay dirt several times but was always stopped by the heavy Trinity line.

The buses returned home late Saturday afternoon but several of the students stayed over to see the game between the West Texas State Teachers College and the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. This was a thrill-packed game, full of razzle-dazzle plays. Hardin-Simmons scored at will over the visiting Buffaloes and at the end of the game, when the tallies were counted, the Ranchers had the big end of a 39-0 score.

Ross Glover, F.F.A. president, left Fort Worth at 7:45 o'clock Sunday morning, on a special train for the eleventh Future Farmer of America convention and American Royal Pat Stock show at Kansas City, Missouri. He will return to Fort Worth Oct. 20. The Chapter voted at one of the regular meetings last year to send the president to the convention. The purpose of sending a local member is to have one member of this Chapter informed about this national organization of Future Farmer boys. In return for this trip Ross will be expected to take up several periods next week telling his experiences.

ASSEMBLY NOTES

Friday afternoon, October the 15, a number of ex-Wolves and business men were guests of the high school students. They gave pep talks and expressed their desire to have us beat the Loraine Bulldogs. We were very glad to have them with us and you have probably noticed the result of the game was 33 to 0.
 The following business men and ex-Wolves were present: Ralph Lee, W. W. Porter, Guyer, Dr. May, Jack Smith, Louis Taylor, P. J. Barroughs, Gene Smith, Virgil Mann, Ben Costin, Earnest Burdine, Dale Simpson, Joe Cox, Roy Miller, and Huron Gist. The latter was the oldest ex-Wolf present.

SUPT. HAYES HOLMAN OF POST VISITS

In assembly Monday afternoon we were all surprised and very much delighted to have a very old friend of ours, Mr. Hayes Holman, who is now superintendent of the Post schools. He expressed his enjoyment of being here with us at that time and also his anticipation of the oncoming Post-Colorado game on Oct. 23.

WOODIE HOLDEN IN ASSEMBLY

Wednesday the 13th, Minister Woodie Holden of the Church of Christ talked to the student body. The subject of his talk was "Honesty." This topic was very appropriate for this time of year. Thank you and come again Mr. Holden.

WOLVES DOWN OLD RIVALS

Outplaying the Loraine Bulldogs in every respect the Wolves turned back their old rivals with a score of 32-0. The Wolves started the game off with a bang by scoring a touchdown the first time they got the ball. From then until the last whistle of the game everything was Colorado's. Stars for Colorado were Chadwick, who made three touchdowns, Smith, who made two touchdowns, and Wood, who kicked three extra points. The stars for Loraine were James, Rhode, and Walker.

On Wednesday and Friday the second-string Wolves are going to have their hands full playing the Jackrabbits. The Rabbits have some mighty players in Royce Smith, Dudley Chesney, Tommy Batliff, and A. A. Porter. They intend to give the second-stringers all that they have and they think it will be more than enough.

FIELD RESTS

The Colorado Wolves, after a successful game against the Loraine Bulldogs, are retiring from the field until October 28th when they meet the eleven Antelopes from Post. Mr. Hayes Holman, superintendent of schools in Post, visited in assembly Monday and promised the Wolves a good workout in the Post-Colorado game. Plan now to see the game and support the Wolves.

WINFIELD SCOTT LOSER IN $16,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Damage claims of $16,000 against Winfield Scott, son of the Winfield Scott who was a pioneer rancher and settler in Colorado, were awarded in district court in Fort Worth Friday as the result of an automobile accident near Fort Worth in 1923.

In the suit George Gardner, former ranch foreman for Scott, and Mrs. Gardner alleged that Scott threw the car, which Gardner was driving, out of control by kicking the steering wheel, thereby causing the car to overturn. Mrs. Gardner was injured.

It was the second time the suit was tried. In the first trial in 1934 the Gardners were awarded $7,000, but the second court of civil appeals reversed that judgment.

Scott's mother died recently in Port Worth.

"SPAWN OF THE NORTH" DRAMA OF ALASKA LIFE

A panoramic view of the rugged life in America's last frontier is brought to the screen for the first time in Paramount's Alaskan drama, "Spawn of the North," which shows at the Palace theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, Oct. 22, 23 and 24. This story of the men who "go down to the sea in ships" in the icy waters of the Arctic is set against a background about which most Americans know very little but one which captures the imagination every time it is mentioned.

film. In addition, technical men copied a fishing village on the Alaskan peninsula down to the last detail and rebuilt it on the California coast, where much of "Spawn of the North" was filmed.

Beside Raft and Fonda, the cast is made up of some of the screen's most famous players. Dorothy Lamour, as the hotelkeeper of the Alaskan village, has the first big dramatic role of her career. Others playing important parts are John Barrymore, Lorna Overman, Akim Tamiroff, and Louise Platt. Director Hathaway will be remembered by moviegoers as the man who filmed "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" and "Souls at Sea."

"STABLEMATES"
Palace—Friday and Saturday
October 21 and 22

The fundamental dramatic standbys that go to insure the financial success of a picture at the boxoffice are included in Metro's latest sentimental race-track saga. Nor could two better protagonists have been selected than Wallace Beery and Mickey Rooney to convey all the surefire hokum that comes out of the man. The production is done in a sepia tint in which Director Sam Wood captures the race-track atmosphere with a zippy finish. Beery and Rooney carry the film as the pair who team at the ebb of their fortunes. Beery is a boozey veterinarian who helps patch up Rooney's horse. They form a father and son partnership when Rooney learns that Beery is wanted on a criminal charge. He tries to keep Beery away from the track at the bid race by insulting him. Beery, however, risks all for his "partner."

Players are Wallace Beery, Mickey Rooney, Arthur Hill, Margaret Hamilton, Minor Watson, Marjorie Gateison.

"THE FEUD MAKER"
Ritz—Friday and Saturday
October 21 and 22

Bob Steele is plenty okay in this one. It's a good Western bolstered by a yarn that has more meat to it than the average sandwich vehicle. Bob Steele finds himself thrust into a battle between the cowmen and the homesteading neuters when his uncle is mysteriously slain. He discovers that the person who is stirring up all the trouble is the former leader of a band of outlaws with whom Steele once rode. At first the neuters refuse to believe Steele's accusations against the feud maker, Karl Hackett. Steele brings in the U. S. Marshall in time to avert bloodshed between the cowmen and the neuters. Romance peels its head shyly into the proceedings as Bob Steele claims Marion Weidon.

"THREE COMRADES"
Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday
October 25 and 26

Love and loyalty, vengeance and valor, pathos and comedy—all the human emotions are sharply and tenderly drawn in this overlong, depressing but indubitably excellent story of post-war Germany and the chaos which three ex-soldiers meet and defeat. Certain of a place among Hollywood's finest contributions to the film art, it's boxoffice potentialities are less assured, although the triumvirate of stars—Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young—and the cast's only woman, Margaret Sullivan—should prove a strong magnet. Taylor, in the most important role, is more at ease than ever before, but it is Franchot Tone who earns the acting laurels with his

Jack Holt, as a clever and fearless district attorney, goes after the gunmen in Columbia's "Crime Takes a Holiday," which comes to the Ritz theatre on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 23 and 24.

The human side of BANKING

BECAUSE we deal in such cold and inflexible commodities as cash, facts and credit, it is perhaps logical to think of banking as being also cold and unbending.

But banking has its human side. The problems of people—real people just like you and your neighbors—enter into almost every action we take and every decision we make.

We think you will like the aura of warmth and friendliness which you will find at this institution.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME OF THE YEAR TO BE PLAYED
The first game of basketball is to be played on the home court Friday night with Garner. The girls are practicing diligently in order to meet the opposition of the Garner team. This will be the first basketball game to have been played in our new gymnasium. We are hoping for a big crowd of spectators. The girls may find it difficult to act as hostess as they have played away from home so much but here's hoping the score favors the Westbrook girls.

WESTBROOK 27, STERLING 0
The Westbrook six-man football team went to Sterling City Friday afternoon for a game with the Sterling City Eagles. Our boys met with better opposition than their previous tilt with them, but played one of their best games of the year to again come out on top with a very comfortable margin.
Westbrook received the kickoff in the end zone and fumbled the ball on the 8-yard line when tackled. Sterling City recovered, but was held on downs. Most of the remainder of the first period was played in Westbrook's territory, but Sterling City was held scoreless.
Westbrook started the scoring in the second quarter with two touchdowns. After being forced deep into their own end of the field, the Eagles were forced to punt. Board, center, not only blocked but caught the kick and stepped the two remaining yards for the touchdown. The try for point was good with Oglesby skirting right end. Shortly afterward Redwine threw a 30 yard pass to Oglesby who ran 35 more yards for a touchdown. Oglesby again made the extra point. With no more scores for the half, it ended in favor of Westbrook, 14 to 0.
The third quarter was featured by a beautiful 60 yard run by Redwine for 6 points. The try for point was missed leaving the score 20 to 0.
The fourth period found the ball in Westbrook's possession on Sterling City's 7-yard line. Jones plucked the ball to the one foot line and from there carried it over. The try for point was good, making the final score Westbrook 27, Sterling City 0.
The defensive play of A. G. Board was outstanding throughout the game.
The starting line-up for Westbrook was: Moody and Jones, ends; Board, center; Oglesby, quarterback; Claxton, halfback; Redwine, fullback; Substitutions: Anderson, Hines, Keen, Strange, Holder and Wise.

FRESHMAN NEWS
Well, exams are over and we have started on a new six weeks.
It seems as though dormitories are very easy to get especially if you are eating candy in school and Mr. Crouch sees you. He just gives you three demerits, but maybe that is because he wants some candy too.
The "fish" are proud of Elizabeth Main, our candidate for football captain. She has 300 votes and is ahead. We hope that she will stay ahead.
The freshmen are to be entertained with a Halloween party. We hope that it will be a success.

SOPHOMORE NEWS
At last those six week exams are over. That awful feeling that they cause which seizes one and almost paralyzes the thinking faculties, have left us and we are beginning to look natural again. Why do exams cause this?
Several of the soph class attended the box supper at Carr Friday night. We all have a feeling someone told Chippy about a red box with white trimmings!
Sideline: The other afternoon in study hall Bobby Lynne Doekery remarked, "I have 26 demerits." Almost every one (including Coach) sat up and said, "26." Then, "How did you get so many Bobby?" Then Bobby comes back with "I don't know, I guess that the teachers just gave them to me for past time."
JUNIOR NEWS
Well, the juniors are still reeling for an entertainment and when we get one we have to put it off but we don't mind if we get to have a ball game.
Everybody bring your pennies and vote for Ruby Jo Fortune for football queen.
The contest the Junior class is sponsoring for the football queen will be over October 29, so you had better vote for your favorite queen before she is out of the race.
Mr. Crouch still can't understand why his geometry students can't work geometry. Mr. Crouch you aren't the only one who can't, it's a mystery to us, too.
Everybody is wondering who put

SENIOR NEWS
The seniors are still preparing for their carnival so don't anyone forget to come. We have ordered our materials and trinkets necessary for a successful carnival.
We are all proud of the senior boys who are on the football team; some women at Sterling City Friday were talking about our boys looking so big, long arms and big legs. Some one from Westbrook spoke up and told her that they are corn-fed and just naturally grew big. After Sterling was defeated they decided that they would have to start feeding their beef cows.
Mr. Lauderdale just won't tell the girls where our tournament is. We have a game Friday night with Garner. Hope they have decreased some in height and weight since last basketball season. Their girls must be corn-fed too!

AGRICULTURE NEWS OF ROSCOE DISTRICT
A meeting of all the F.F.A. chapters in the Roscoe district was held at Roscoe Monday night, Oct. 10. Members of the Roscoe, Highland, Lorraine, Westbrook, Divide, Blackwell, and Wingate chapters were present.
The meeting was opened by F.F.A. Parliamentary procedure. There was not any special business to be tended to, but a program was to be given, and each chapter was to have a part.
The first part of the program was given by E. K. Willis, Jr., a graduate of the Roscoe High school. Mr. Willis played several pieces of music on his accordion and after he had finished each boy was asked to stand and give his name and tell the chapter he belonged to. The next part was a talk on birds given by John Massey of the Highland chapter. After the talk on birds, a talk was given on "Sleeping Sickness," by Junior Richards of the Blackwell chapter.

A number of pieces of music were played by members of the Westbrook chapter. Following the music was a talk on "Vitamins," by Roy G. Edwards of Lorraine. Then Harold Marrow of Divide gave a talk on the "Profits of The Trench Silo." The last part of the program was several more pieces of music played by members of the Westbrook chapter.
The meeting was closed by the Parliamentary procedure. The next district meeting will be held November 21.

WHAT IS HAPPINESS—WHERE SHALL WE FIND IT

The story of humanity across the many thousand years has been primarily in quest of happiness. Primitive man's life was simple and his luxuries few or none, yet he was forever seeking to make such adjustments and have such experiences that would bring to him a sense of satisfaction and happiness. Just how well he succeeded we shall never fully know, and many scientists and students of the human race question whether man is essentially any happier today with all his comforts, conveniences, and all the material, educational, and spiritual possibilities. Happiness is not something that grows in the soil or that can be gathered from the trees or bought in the market place. It is not to be found in money or even the lack of it necessarily. Paul and Silas with bleeding backs sang in jail. The Man of Galilee, with no place to lay his head, went about with a radiant life and sense of God and happiness that the ages have never known. He dared to say that "a man's life does not consist in the abundance of things he possesses." After all, happiness is not material but physical and spiritual. It is not so much in things and acts as in attitudes and responsiveness to the good and beautiful and true. It does not arise out of man's selfish wants but rather out of his forgetfulness of self and his interest in the good of others. Was it not Emerson who said "few men ever forget themselves into immortality?" Most of us are forever thinking of our own petty wants and whims so that we seldom forget these and render helpful service to others.

Happiness is not to be found in mere indulgence or the merry-go-round of social activities that are essentially selfish and do not minister to the highest interests of the moral and spiritual life and bless the needs and burdens of others. One of the ways not to find happiness is that of deliberately making that the one aim of life. Such a goal will bring tragic disappointment as many can truthfully testify. Jesus said, "He who would be the greatest among you, let him be the slave of all." He well knew it was far better to be a servant and serve others, than to be served by a thousand servants and lose one's soul. Yet most of us have never learned this simple but profound truth. Yet it is as true today as when the Son of Man took the towel and the basin of water and played the role of a slave in washing the feet of the contentious disciples. Life with Christ can and will bring happiness.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

What The Weekly Papers are Talking About:
GRAVEYARD TALK.

Conroe Courier: Summer is gone, the grass continues to grow—not so fast, but enough that we need a man armed with tools to fight it. He will not have to cut the grass so often but there is enough other work to keep him busy. We do not, ever again, want to be forced to wade through weeds alive with ticks and grasshoppers when we go to the cemetery. If everyone who has a lot or is in any way interested will do his or her part, we can with little trouble keep the entire place as clean as it is today.
FARM RELIEF.

San Antonio Express: Most Texas cotton growers evidently have been converted to the balanced farming idea. They are devoting more land to food crops, feed-stuffs and soil-building crops; they are turning more acres into pasture, and some are planting timber crops. Though he has been slow to accept the fact, perhaps the average Texas farmer is beginning to realize that the wisest course is to produce a living for himself and his family at home. That farmer also is learning that he must grow cotton more cheaply, so that he can sell it at a lower price and still earn a profit. He is becoming convinced that in order to compete with the cotton growers in other countries he must improve the staple's quality.
CORNERSTONES.

Del Rio News: People lay cornerstones for new buildings and little realize that this is a custom of the dark and dreary past. Once human beings were sealed up alive in new buildings to appease the wrath of the gods who might be mad because a new building was being erected. Later, sheep and cattle and other animals were used. Now we place pictures of politicians and front pages of newspapers in cornerstones. We are not sure which of the three customs is the worst.
FRIENDLY INTEREST.

Honey Grove Signal-Citizen: It's hay fever time in Texas and citizens of Honey Grove who are afflicted with that dread disease have been suffering untold agonies. It is not hard to distinguish those people who are in the throes, because it's a sneeze, sneeze, sneeze. Their eyes are red, their nose is red, and a handkerchief is always ready. An interested mother met this reporter on the street Tuesday and she had learned that we were at one time a sufferer from hay fever. "Please tell me what you did to rid yourself of the disease," she said. "My boy is just about to go crazy. He can't study and his time is kept busy with his nose." Gladly did we give her the recipe we used to kill the germ. We know just what these people are going through, because at one time we threatened to have a trough connected to our nose. Sympathy is extended to all hay fever victims.
CONJUGAL COMEDIANS.

Copperas Cove Crony: A league for the protection of henpecked husbands was formed in a small Kansas town, and at the first meeting a man named George was elected president. George had just taken the chair and banged the gavel for order when a tall, gaunt, stern-looking woman burst into the hall, rushed at George and seized him by the collar. "You come home!" she shouted, shaking him and leading him toward the door. "What business have you in a place like this? You're not henpecked?"
EXCESS EYES.

Irrigated Ike, in Iowa Park Herald: Up in Maryland the doctors have put a rabbit's eye in the socket of a man's eye and enabled him to see a bit. Hot dog. Maybe after while a fellow can get a whole set of eyes, an' he can use owl eyes at night, an' fish eyes when he goes swimmin', an' the banker can discard his glass eyes an' put in snake eyes.
THE COACH.

Mesquite Mesquiter: From the way this year's Mesquites are downing other ball clubs, some people seem to think they are using some kind of hillbilly tactics. Since there has been a lack of peppy music at the games and there has been no evidence of blindness caused from the use of flour in their opponents' eyes, what other tactics could it be, other than just a good, well-coached ball club? Coaches, like players, are heroes while winning, but it is too bad for them when they start losing. That's why some coaches do not like to lose to even stronger clubs.
WAGE AND HOUR.

Pilot Point Post-Signal: Miss Helen Hollar has been employed as an additional operator at the local telephone office, and hours have been shortened and pay increased for the employees, in compliance with terms of the hour and wage law which has gone into effect. Miss Hollar, daughter of Mrs. Dallas Hollar, is a graduate of Pilot Point High school with the class of 1928, and has been substituting at the local office.

MEDIAEVAL MANNERS.

Tulia Herald: According to an etiquette manual of the Middle Ages, you should never lift a piece of meat out of the gravy dish with your whole hand, but should delicately fish it out with three fingers, and in so doing, never immerse your fingers in the gravy farther than the last joint.

Tom Goss and Tom Henderson, the two Toms, had luncheon at a local cafe. Cheese and coffee were being served. One of the Toms said, "This cheese is strong enough to walk across the table and drink up your coffee." "Yes," said the other Tom, "and the coffee is so weak it could not help itself."

A mid-west editor runs the following at the top of the front page of his paper: "We only print news, we do not make it. If you don't like the kind of news we print, don't make that kind."

A BIG LIE

A fellow on a small weekly paper in the long ago published this in his paper:

"You fellows who work in city newspaper plants with outfits that run up into the thousands of dollars don't know anything about the real joy of getting out a sheet under the handicaps we used to face. Let me tell you what I know about getting out a newspaper once when they were having a right smart of a war down in Tennessee. I was running a small town weekly and General Grant managed to keep anything from getting into our county. There wasn't a sheet of paper in town and our Washington hand press had broken down, and Grant's army was between us and the only city where we could get a new casting. But my paper came out just the same. Some one located some old paper flour sacks, and there was a stranded circus in town. I used the elephant for a press. I put the form on the ground and placed a flour bag over it. The elephant's keeper then caused the brute to sit down on it, and we got 25 first class impressions, two more than our circulation required."

REVIEW OF LIFE

Listen, people! Do you ever sit down, all by your lonesome, and thumb the pages, those more or less soiled pages, making up the book of your life? And, as you turn them, giving each page a just consideration, grading your life's examination papers, as it were, with fairness, and not giving yourself any but honest-to-gosh credits . . . how does the old book stack up?

If it were possible—and there is not a chance—for you to re-live and re-write these pages, would you try to fix the thing a bit different? Were it in your power—and there ain't a shot to do it—to erase many of the errors, mistakes, or call 'em what you may, on those pages . . . wouldn't you be glad to do it? You're darn tootin' you would; but you just can't out the mustard . . . Father Time gives a guy just one big shot in writing that funny old tome.

Oh, well, what's the use of taking up space kidding about the darn thing, anyway. Eat another doughnut, all but the hole, and then swallow a big gob of soda . . . and go out into the sunshine of life and thank God you are alive. Suck in a paunch full of ozone, count your blessings—I'm sure you have at least something to be thankful for—and start in today writing a few more pages in your book. And when the last roll is called, and you turn in your "papers," here is hoping you'll make a good grade. You can't re-write the darn thing . . . but let the last chapter be a climax, such as will make the angels in heaven sit up and take notice. That's what I'm trying to do. And, brother, I'll bet yer six-bits I clik.

KEEPING UP WITH COLORADO GIRLS AT TSCW

By Nina Laura Smith
With the last two weeks of school, including the real beginning of activities, along with the fun comes those things that have to be done. However, foreign language movies sprinkle some degree of enjoyment over the daily grind. What we're preparing you for is this: Frances Elliott had to go to a French movie one Wednesday night, but to her joy none other than Charles Boyer was the star among the clouds.

Wade Hodge to the Texas-OU game in Dallas. Wonder if Betty saw her mysterious visitor of the previous week-end from A&M? Betty and Moncure and Virginia Gurney must be very fond of football since they are loyal patrons of the Teachers' College games across town from TSCW. In spite of all this activity Betty and Moncure found time to move from a residence in town into Capps Hall on the campus—the home of Virginia Gurney and Doris Wynne too.

That some faithful Wednesday the Dallas fair boosters arrived on the campus equipped with the SMU band, free cinnamon rolls, and free Dr. Peppers. Mitchell county ate and drank her share.
Thursday two traditional events took place—one pleasant and one dull. The dull one was the Formal Convocation. Everyone paid enough attention to see how silly her favorite faculty member looked in solemn cap and gown, but during the greater part of the program countless letters were written and numerous naps taken, disturbed only by the voice of the speaker.

Melba Slaton has been chosen as one of the members of the Modern Choir of the college, an organization which is made up from the ranks of the regular choir. Melba was the sole representative of the Mitchell county delegation at TSCW in foreign parts last week-end—she went to Baylor University for the Baylor-Centenary game.

Monday night the Junior class had its annual hay ride to Lake Dallas. Mabel Earnest Cooper came back well covered with hay to remind her of the enjoyable evening.

Mitchell county citizens are very cosmopolitan, since they seem to enjoy testing their acquaintances' beds. First Edna Earle Cox and Frances Elliott spent the night with Erna Lou Merrill and Elizabeth Taylor. Then Nina Laura Smith spent the night with Frances Elliott, and Frances and Edna repaid the visit the next Saturday night. TSCW lassies are well versed in the art of sleeping three and four abreast, in two single beds pushed together, it being a Saturday night custom.

TSCW Quiz: What Colorado girl would be unhappy if she knew her former regular correspondent was now writing to someone else? What sophomore fell flat in the dust, so intent was she in waving to somebody? Did she preserve her dignity? (No.) What freshman is not being lonely on Saturday nights and Sunday? What sophomores stepped on their own feet in tap dancing class? Random notes: Brown and white saddle oxfords, traditional for eastern women's colleges, are slowly becoming popular at TSCW now that uniforms are a thing of the past. . . . Girls in the regular dormitory dining rooms have eaten more than 8,500 pounds of beef since school began—an epidemic of parsley has attacked the dining room, since it appears for breakfast in the scrambled eggs, for lunch in the salad, for dinner in the potatoes, every day.

Purposefully saved for the last is the attempt at describing a never-to-be-forgotten event which took place last Tuesday night—the Lily Pons concert. It must have been the knowledge that Miss Pons is leading coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, and also a star of the concert stage, radio, and the movies that caused the students to talk about her coming for days before. By Tuesday afternoon one could feel excitement in everything. Dinner was hurriedly eaten, or not at all that evening. By 6:30 p.m. the huge auditorium was half full. Normally about 2,500, the seating capacity of the auditorium was enlarged to 3,000 by placing seats in the aisles and on the stage. Even then many stood during the entire performance. At 8:15, when Miss Pons walked on the stage, she received an ovation before she sang a note. Her breath-taking charm, beauty, and poise completely captivated the audience, many of whom had traveled hundreds of miles to hear her, but to many of whom she was the first opera star they ever liked. So captured were her audience with her personality, that many took Miss Pons' voice for granted, and well they might for it never left a doubt of its perfection, especially on those very, very high notes for which she is noted. She gave five encores, most of them while facing her on-stage audience, with her back turned to 2,500 people, which ought to be a test for ability to hold the perfect attention of an audience.
