

FINIS WRITTEN TO PIONEER CAREER AS JOHN L. DOSS DIES

RESIDENT OF COLORADO FOR 57 YEARS HAD KNOWN WEST TEXAS SINCE 1876; LAST RITES SUNDAY

Finis was written for one of West Texas' outstanding pioneer lives when John L. Doss, 86, died at his home in Colorado Saturday morning at 8 o'clock after an illness which had been critical for more than a month.

Mr. Doss had lived in Colorado for nearly 57 years. Born near Tuscaloosa, Alabama, on May 2, 1852, he came to Texas in 1876 as an adventure-hungry boy. He found all the adventure he sought after joining a buffalo-hunting expedition which worked with Fort Griffin as headquarters.

The buffalo hide industry was at its peak while he was at Fort Griffin. The expedition owners for whom he worked were John Jacob and John Poe, both of whom later became financially prominent.

After his buffalo-hunting days, Mr. Doss lived in Weatherford for awhile, but soon came to the just-born town of Colorado, arriving here in 1882. In this town of a thousand tents and a few plank shacks he built a box house with a false front and launched the Doss drug business in May, 1882.

Two years after coming here Mr. Doss was joined by his brother, W. L. Doss, Sr., who died in October, 1937. They were partners for many years, then established separate stores.

For nine years, from 1906 until 1915, Mr. Doss was president of the City National bank. He assisted in the organization of the Colorado Masonic lodge, being its last surviving charter member.

Mr. Doss was married in 1884 to Amanda Krech, who was visiting here from Missouri. She died in 1901, and in 1904 he was married to Elizabeth Reese of Abilene, who survives him.

Funeral services were held from First Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. C. M. Epps, pastor of First Methodist church, and Archdeacon J. W. Heyes, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, officiating.

Active pallbearers, all Masons, were Joe H. Smoot, Ed Majors, T. W. Stonerod of Lubbock, Bennett Scott, Ford Merritt, Chester Jones, Sam Wulfjen, and L. A. Costin. Masons had charge of the graveside rites.

Honorary pallbearers were: Urda Wulfjen, Bert Wulfjen, Joe Merritt, Dr. E. J. Crowley, O. B. Price, Thos. R. Smith, Burt Smith, Henry Pond, Chas. Ezell, H. C. Landers, Sr., Lay Powell, A. J. Coe, C. M. Adams, W. A. Dulin, R. S. Brennan, Richard Pearson, Harry Snoddy, Wm. Simpson, Frank Smith, A. B. Blanks, A. E. Maddin, J. C. Ethridge, and all doctors and druggists of Colorado.

Kiker & Son directed funeral arrangements.

ROAD COMMISSION 'ENCOURAGING' ON HIGHWAY 101 SOUTH

UNDERPASS DESCRIBED AS 'ASSURED' TO COUNTY GROUP WHICH ATTENDED HEARING IN AUSTIN

Encouraging reports on prospects for a paved highway from Colorado to Sterling City were heard by a delegation of Mitchell countians who attended a hearing granted by the state highway commission in Austin early this week.

When contacted as to the possibilities of securing completion of highway 101, designated some time ago, members of the highway commission pointed out the local delegation that the route has already been surveyed and approved by the highway department and that approval has also been given an underpass designed to lead off of highway 1 in Colorado and connect with highway 101 southward.

The underpass construction was referred to as "assured." It was placed on the 1939 highway budget several months ago.

Included in the Mitchell county group attending the hearing were Judge A. F. King, Commissioners J. E. Skelton and Frank Crowner, and Mayor J. A. Sadler of Colorado. Mayor Sadler came home after the first hearing Monday.

The judge and commissioners remained in Austin for a called meeting of Texas judges and commissioners, and for another hearing with the highway commission. They had not returned home Thursday morning.

COLORADO-ROBERT LEE ROAD NEARER AS BONDS VOTED

COKE COUNTY WILL SECURE RIGHT-OF-WAY FOR 208 OVER APPROVED ROUTE TO MITCHELL LINE

News that Coke county had voted bonds to provide an approved right-of-way for Highway 208 from Robert Lee northward to the Coke county line was welcomed in Colorado this week because this removes another obstacle to the attainment of one of Colorado's major highway goals during recent years, namely, a paved connection with Robert Lee.

Nearly five miles of Highway 208, which branches off of Highway One a short distance east of Colorado, have already been paved, and ten more miles have been approved by the state highway commission for paving. This leaves a gap of some five miles to the Mitchell-Coke line.

Robert Lee provided a right-of-way for the Coke county portion of the road some time ago, but this route failed to coincide with the survey approved by the state highway commission. The bond issue voted at Robert Lee last week provides $25,000 for buying the right-of-way and building fences along the approved route.

T. BARBER ASSISTS IN PROSECUTION OF MEXICAN LABORER

FORMER MITCHELL COUNTY RESIDENT HEADS JURY CONVICTING HIM

The natural interest which Colorado and Mitchell county had in the Sweetwater trial of Frank Salazar, Mexican farm laborer, for the murder of Paul Kennedy, Miles farmer, this week was heightened by the fact that a Coloradan assisted in prosecuting the Mexican and that a former Mitchell countian was foreman of the jury which convicted him and gave him the death penalty in the record time of nine minutes Wednesday night.

Truett Barber, Colorado attorney who became district attorney of the 32nd judicial district on Jan. 1, assisted in the prosecution of the Mexican. T. H. Westbrook, former Mitchell countian now living at Roscoe, was jury foreman.

The case was tried in Sweetwater on a change of venue from San Angelo. O. C. Fisher, 51st district attorney, headed the prosecution. Assisting him in addition to Barber was George Outlaw of Sweetwater, who was 32nd district attorney at the time of the crime. Judge John F. Sutton, 51st district judge, presided. Salazar is also charged with the death of Mrs. Kennedy and the beating of two Kennedy daughters.

It was the first death penalty ever assessed in Nolan county. Heaviest previous sentence was a 50-year term for Luke Trammel in the slaying of a Blackwell constable several years ago. Trammel was killed last August after an escape from the state penitentiary.

WPA PROJECT FOR COUNTY IS URGENT, J. A. SADLER SAYS

COLLAPSE OF CITY PAVING ELIMINATES PLANS FOR EMPLOYMENT

Securing a major project for employment of men on Mitchell county WPA rolls in the near future was described as "urgent" by Mayor J. A. Sadler this week after plans to use the men on residential paving in the city had fallen through.

The residential paving was to have begun Monday, but a sufficient number of property owners failed to make payment, Sadler says. With collapse of the city paving project, this area of Mitchell county was left without a major WPA project in view. Seventy-five men are employed at present on farm-to-market road work in precinct one, but this work will be completed in about 30 days or less, it is pointed out.

It was in quest of an emergency WPA project that Mayor Sadler, Judge A. F. King, and Commissioner Frank Crowner and J. E. Skelton attended a hearing with the state highway commission in Austin early this week. Their special request was for a project or projects on either highway 101, Colorado-Sterling City, or highway 208, Colorado-Robert Lee. Members of the commission are reported to have assured them of the approval of some kind of project in the near future.

Over 100 men are now on the WPA rolls in Mitchell county, Sadler says, and their employment depends on speedy approval of some project.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD TUESDAY MORNING FOR MAN WHO WAS BORN AND REARED HERE

Breaking a circle of 10 children for the first time, death claimed John H. Arnett, 46, native Coloradan, Sunday night at 9:30 in a local hospital.

Although he had been suffering from a heart involvement for several months, Mr. Arnett was ill only a few hours before his death. They lived here for several years, then moved to a ranch near Lubbock for a time. From there they went to Littlefield, where Mr. Arnett was in the car business until returning to Colorado four years ago.

Nine brothers and sisters, all widely known in West Texas, survive in addition to the wife. They are Mrs. Merritt of Colorado, Sam C. Arnett of Lubbock, Mrs. Eugene Payne of Whiteface, Mrs. A. F. Curry of Tulsa, Dick Arnett of Kansas City, Dudley Arnett of Lamesa, Mrs. T. W. Stonerod of Lubbock, Mrs. Floyd Beall of Lubbock, and Mrs. G. G. Johnson of Lubbock, formerly of Abilene.

Memory held the spotlight when the 78th birthday of Mrs. O. D. Hall, one of Colorado's earliest residents, was observed Thursday afternoon with a surprise party arranged for several of Mrs. Hall's closer friends by her granddaughter, Mrs. Q. D. Shepperd.

Among those attending were Mesdames J. D. Wulfjen, E. H. Winn, E. A. Barcroft, W. M. Merrell, A. D. Kiker, E. C. Tunnell, F. E. Crabtree, Webb, M. P. McCall, M. A. Berry, J. G. Merritt, Miller, Jeff Dobbs, L. A. Costin, W. H. Garrett, H. P. Almond, and Homer Key; Gladys Miller.

Each brought a gift, and the afternoon was spent in conversation and reminiscing. Miss Miller sang several hymn favorites of Mrs. Hall, accompanying herself on the organ.

Mrs. Shepperd and Mrs. Hall's companion, Mrs. Workman, served refreshments.

A greeting telegram from Mrs. Hall's two great-grandchildren, J. W. III and Marcella Shepperd of Alpine, arrived during the party.

Mrs. Hall was born Laura Adams in Weston, Collin county, Texas, on Jan. 19, 1860. Her family moved to Jacksboro when she was eight, and it was there that she met and married Mr. Hall, their wedding taking place on Feb. 21, 1878. He died a few months after they observed their 60th wedding anniversary last year.

On the occasion of their anniversary Mrs. Hall recalled that they spent their honeymoon driving 1,000 head of cattle from Jacksboro to the ranges of Crosby county, where they pitched camp for over a year at the foot of Double Mountain on the Double Mountain fork of the Brazos. During the trip the young bride and her husband saw three herds of buffalo. After a year they went back to Jacksboro, and from there came to Mitchell county in 1883.

Their first home was in Colorado's first hotel, known then as the Pacific house and now as the Alamo hotel. Mr. Hall's father, the late M. T. Hall, had the Pacific House under lease. After several years in the hotel business, the Q. D. Halls and the M. T. Halls established a ranch

NEWLY ORGANIZED TEXAS POULTRY FEDERATION

PORT WORTH.—Within the next two weeks a meeting of officers and directors of the newly organized Texas Poultry Federation will be held to discuss participation in the Seventh World's Poultry Congress which opens at Cleveland July 28, the first objective of the organization, it was announced recently. It will be at Fort Worth or Austin. Purposes of the Federation are to improve all phases of the poultry industry in this state. "The Federation is something that has been badly needed for years—it has been the dream of those who wanted to further the poultry interests of Texas," said a statement just released by A. H. Demke of Stephenville, executive secretary-treasurer of the new organization. "It should prove beneficial to the poultry and allied industries.

"The Federation expects to prove to the world that Texas can raise as fine poultry as are produced anywhere and we hope to educate the raisers to put only quality birds on the market, building up the out-of-state trade."

Officers of the recently organized Texas Poultry Federation. They are, above, John B. Collier, Jr. (left) of Ft. Worth, president and A. H. Demke of Stephenville, executive secretary-treasurer; below, left to right, D. H. Reid, head of the Texas A. & M. poultry department, first vice-president; Ross M. Sherwood, chief, poultry husbandry department, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, third vice-president, and W. W. Cardwell, Luling, second vice-president.

BONHAM FILLED WITH HISTORICAL LORE

BONHAM, Texas.—This old town, named for a hero of the Alamo, has more than average historical lore. In early days it had its quota of bad men, murders and killings, and right after the Civil War—perhaps during that period—Quantrell, the bushwhacker, as some called him had his rendezvous in and around Bonham. For some time he ranged around Old Warren, where the courthouse used to be, then is reputed to have camped seven miles southwest of Bonham.

Once, while court was in session, a warrant for Quantrell was issued and he was hailed before the judge. One of the sheriff's deputies told him to surrender his arms. He held his pistols by the barrels and pretended to hand them to the officer, but before the latter could reach for them, Quantrell whipped the weapons over and pointed both at the sheriff—and backed out of the courthouse. This man who was afraid of nothing gave a peculiar whistle and from nowhere, apparently, came his men. The band circled the courthouse, shooting into the air and shouting, then quietly rode away. Quantrell told one of his men that as he went around the courthouse he put a bullet through the arrow of the weather vane atop the building. When the courthouse was torn down and a new one erected in 1888, a bullet hole was found in the copper arrow as Quantrell had said. There are men living who knew members of the Quantrell gang but they will not talk about them, and the details of their depredations probably never will be known.

WESTBROOK M. E. CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are very much impressed with our congregations, but if you had been here I guess the house would have been full. So why not come and be with us on next Sunday for a good day. But of course if you are sick we will not expect you to be here for there are not many who are sick of body who go to church. It is those who are sick of soul who find their way to our churches and from the looks of congregations sometimes there are not many who are sick of soul from the way they go to church. We have too many today who are satisfied just to find swines and eat the husks with the swines. Oh, how I wish our people would wake up to the fact that they need God, and would just arise and go back to the Father's house where they could be sufficient for all. And then there would be plenty and to spare for the Father's supply never runs low. So if your soul is tired and hungry why not come set down to the Master's table, fill your soul with the good things, for your soul will only dry up trying to satisfy it with the things of the world for you know that that will never satisfy that part of you that belongs to God the Father.

PREACHING AT CUTHBERT

If it is the Lord's will we will preach at Cuthbert on next Sunday night. And I am making this appeal for the people of that community to each be in their places.

BANK EMBEZZLER CONNECTED WITH LOSS OF WALLET BY COLORADO BUSINESS MAN

"That's the fellow who was in my office when my wallet and over $400 disappeared," maintained John A. Thompson, Colorado feed dealer, when he saw newspaper pictures of Grover M. Yowell, who was arrested Tuesday in Memphis, Tenn., on a seven-year-old charge of embezzling $75,000 from a Paducah, Texas bank.

The incident to which Thompson referred happened, he says, over a year ago, although newspaper stories indicated that Yowell is not known to have been in Texas since 1932.

Thompson recalls that he had been to the bank one morning to draw out over $300 in cash to pay for some maize, and while in the bank he saw the man who later came to his office. The man said that he was selling coffee, Thompson says. He talked to Thompson about having lived in Paducah, and they discovered that the man had married the daughter of a family whom Thompson had known back in Limestone county during his boyhood.

When Thompson went to pay for the maize awhile later he discovered that his wallet was missing. The man to whom he'd been talking was also missing, and has been missing ever since. Thompson wrote his friend, Ex-Sheriff Bud Barron of Paducah, about the incident. Barron's reply was that the man was evidently the George M. Yowell, who had fled Paducah in 1931. Barron had a large interest in the embezzled bank.

Yowell was arrested by G-men while driving a milk delivery truck in Memphis. He was formerly vice-president and managing officer of the Security National bank at Paducah. The bank closed after his flight. He is 53 years old, and is said to have been employed by the Memphis milk firm since 1932.

After he and his family disappeared from Paducah in November, 1931, Yowell was reported in Houston, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, and Cleburne. The trail vanished after that. When arrested Yowell admitted having lost the bank funds on stock market deals. He is faced with a dozen counts of embezzlement and misapplication of funds in Wichita Falls and is being returned there.

INDIAN SINGER

Ho-Te-Ma-We, who will be presented in a joint concert with Cleo Allen Hibbs, composer-pianist, at the high school auditorium Friday night.

UNEMPLOYMENT MUST BE PAID BY MIDNIGHT OF MONDAY, JAN. 30

According to a statement made here this week by Mr. H. H. Rumph, district supervising examiner of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, unless contributions for 1938 are paid to the Commission before midnight of January 30, they will not be credited against the employer's Federal tax. Mr. Rumph was notified of this by Orville S. Carpenter, chairman director of the Commission.

"This is in accordance with the Federal law under Title IX of the Social Security Act and is not a ruling of the Commission," Mr. Rumph said.

"If the contributions are not received by the Commission by this date, the employers must not only pay the 2.7% contribution to us but they also must pay the Federal Excise tax in full."

Mr. Rumph stressed the importance of employers including all salaries up to and including December as well as bonuses applicable for the year 1938 in the employer's reports.

Under the law, the State collects payroll taxes monthly and the Federal government collects them yearly. If an employer pays his State taxes before the Federal taxes are due, then he is permitted to deduct the amount of tax paid the State of Texas from the Federal tax. This deduction or credit is allowed, however, only where the State tax has been paid before January 31.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. JIM PLASTER AFTER A LENGTHY ILLNESS

MITCHELL COUNTYMAN FOR 40 YEARS BURIED ON SATURDAY

Death claimed Mrs. Jim Plaster, 64, resident of Mitchell county for 40 years, at her home here Friday night after an illness of several months. Mrs. Plaster suffered from a heart condition.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the home with Rev. T. A. Patterson, pastor First Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in the Colorado cemetery.

BASKIN RECOMMENDS STORAGE OF MEATS IN COTTONSEED OIL

"Many farmers are being faced with the problem of storing their cured pork at this time of year. It is my suggestion that farmers use refined cottonseed oil to solve this problem," states B. J. Baskin, county agent.

"There is no secret in using refined cottonseed oil to store meat. Any container that will hold oil will do, although a large earthen jar is best. To reduce the amount of oil needed to cover the meat, pack all pieces tightly. If the meat is packed tightly 3 gallons of oil will cover 100 pounds of cured meat. The container should be covered for sanitary reasons.

"The oil can be refined at home each year, and used again. Some of the advantages of storing pork in oil are: (1) Retards mold 100%; (2) prevents meat drying out and getting hard; (3) eliminates fly and skipper contamination 100%; (4) meat will not become more salty; and (5) meat can be taken out and returned to oil as needed.

"The widespread use of the refined cottonseed oil creates a new demand for our cottonseed adding another advantage to its use," Baskin concluded.

LETTER FROM SCOTLAND TO COLORADO MAN TELLS OF SEPTEMBER 'WAR SCARE'

The "war scare" which shook Europe back in September, and which may shake it again at any time, was not exaggerated in newspaper stories reaching the United States, according to a letter received recently by Joe Y. Fraser, postmaster from a friend, Thos. MacDonald, with whom he corresponds regularly in Inverness, Scotland.

Although MacDonald wrote this letter on December 28, some three months after the scare, memories of those days were still vivid enough to cause him to devote two and a half pages of beautifully clear writing to the subject.

"As no doubt you know," MacDonald wrote on the second page of his letter, "we were on the verge of war with Germany only three months ago (September). Great preparations were being made here and in other towns against attacks by enemy aeroplanes, as they were expected over in this country at any moment.

"Gas masks were handed out to the citizens and trenches were dug in different parts of the towns. In Inverness trenches were dug in a long line, in public playing fields just a short distance along the road of war we live. Squads of men could be seen going to dig the trenches. Trenches were also dug in school playgrounds in the town and in other open parts.

"Of course I was given a gas mask like others. Men were going about with heavy loads of these masks for distribution. As you know, the trenches are dug so that people may go to them and take shelter against the enemy's bombs when dropped from their war planes. Sirens in the town would sound warning when they were approaching. The blast and splinters from the bombs are terrific and can do great damage. The gas is deadly.

"The trenches are made in zig-zag fashion, which gives one a better chance against being struck than if the trenches were made straight, for a trench could be swept from one end to the other if made in a straight line.

"There are sloping pathways leading down into the trenches at different parts so that one can run into the trenches without jumping down into them. The trenches are between 5 and 6 feet deep. "All the lights in the town were to be extinguished at night except one or two here and there, and of course the windows in buildings and houses were to be darkened. . . .

"Thousands of children were sent away into the country where they would be away from the danger zone. Food was going to be rationed, and people can tell from experience during the last Great War that it is not a pleasant thing. "At the eleventh hour somehow peace was made. . . . I have no doubt that the note which your president, Mr. Roosevelt, sent to Hitler helped toward peace a great deal. . . .

"Whether the peace will be of a lasting kind many people have their doubts, and many again think that Hitler should never have been allowed to go so far. But as one great statesman said before, we must wait and see."

Indian Singer And Composer-Pianist To Be Presented In Concert Friday

An Indian singer and a composer-pianist are to be presented in a concert at the Colorado High school auditorium Friday night under sponsorship of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's clubs. The program will begin at 7:30.

The Indian singer, Ho-Te-Ma-We, is described as follows in publicity releases:

"Ho-Te-Ma-We, beautiful Indian prodigy, was born in Texas, but has made her home in California so long that she is called a native daughter by the state. Tall and slender, with all the grace and dignity of her proud Indian ancestry, Ho-Te-Ma-We has a rich mezzo-soprano voice and brings a depth of interpretation and versatility to her audience. . . . She has a repertoire of French, Italian, Spanish and English songs, closing with her beautiful Indian group done in traditional Indian costume.

"Her interpretations are so perfect that the great composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman, has many times praised her work. . . . During her recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands, her concert and radio engagements won much acclaim. . . .

Cleo Allen Hibbs, composer, pianist, and tenor, has been in charge of music for the world-famous Laguna Art festival in Southern California for several years. He is said to have composed hundreds of songs, piano numbers, string trios, orchestral works, and unique ensembles.

He is a regular contributor to "Etude," and many of his teaching pieces are used in the public schools. His "Western Suite" for full orchestra recently won second prize in the National Institute of Music and Arts competition.

The program presented by these two will be varied, including solo, instrumental numbers, and novelties.

STAR-TELEGRAM CARRIES 'DEVELOPMENT' STORY ON COLORADO AND MITCHELL COUNTY

Played up on the front page of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram on Wednesday morning was a "development" story on Colorado and Mitchell county.

Frank Reeves, Sr., staff writer for the Star-Telegram, gathered data for the story while in Colorado last Friday morning. His story follows:

COLORADO.—With more rain to date than has fallen during the entire month of January for a 50-year period, with one exception, farmers and ranchmen in this section are enthusiastic about the prospects for 1939.

Farmers are eager to start their plowing because they are assured plenty of moisture in the ground at planting time to bring up their crops. With two of the three winter months past, ranchmen have spent only a minimum amount for winter maintenance and cattle are in strong condition.

According to the Government gauge maintained in Colorado by Jim White, more than 2.50 inches of moisture has been recorded since Jan. 1. Colorado has received more than 2 inches during January only once in the last 50 years. That was in January, 1931, when a record of 4.10 inches was established.

"The rain since Jan. 1, fell in such a manner that the farms and ranches got the entire benefit from it," said J. W. Holmes, assistant county agent. "There is an abundance of feed on most all of the farms in the county, and many have stored reserves in trench silos."

"I have never seen such a demand for cattle at this time of the year. There have been no winter losses to speak of. Tanks are filled with water. If we have to feed some in February and March, there is plenty of feed available," said Jack Smith, commissioner of Precinct 1, who has lived in Mitchell county 55 years. Last week Smith sold his mixed steer and heifer calves at 8 1/2-cents a pound after topping out some of the best heifer calves to keep in his breeding herd.

A. J. Myhre, hardware salesman, can not recall a year when farmers and ranchmen were so optimistic about the prospects for a good year. "No one with whom I have talked has a single word of complaint about farm and range conditions," he said. H. E. Maniss thinks all of the Colorado merchants are expecting more business in 1939 than they had in 1938, which was not classed as a bad year.

"Despite the fact that our cotton crop dropped to about 22,000 bales sinned in Mitchell county in 1938, I think the business men, ranchers and farmers are in good condition for 1939," said J. C. Pritchett, cashier of the City National Bank of Colorado. Deposits in this bank on Dec. 31, 1938, were $1,257,767.63 as compared to $989,401.70 on June 30, 1938, and $1,156,185.29 on Dec. 31, 1937. Not only were the deposits larger, but the amount of available cash was larger and loans due the bank were smaller. Available cash in the bank on Dec. 31, 1938, was $635,000 as compared to $459,000 a year earlier. Loans due the bank at the beginning of this year were $492,000, compared to $567,000 a year earlier.

In 1938 Mitchell county farmers produced one of the best feed crops on record. The decrease in the cotton yield was due to the Government's restriction in planting and the worms got all of the late cotton.

"We are developing a new type of farming in this section and I am sure it will be a big improvement over the all-cotton plan practiced a few years ago," Pritchett said. "The farmers are turning more to livestock feeding. This will provide them with a market for their surplus feed and by marketing their fat animals at different seasons of the year it will give them money for operating expenses instead of waiting until fall to sell their cotton crop."

Farmers, vocational agriculture students and 4-H Club members are paying considerable attention to the fattening of baby beefs, fine hogs and lambs. The Mitchell County Fat Stock Show, scheduled for Feb. 23 and 24, is expected to be the best this year in the history of the show. P. K. Mackey is chairman of the executive committee. He is being assisted by J. W. Randle, Joe H. Smoot, H. B. Spence, Dr. W. S. Rhoads, Otto F. Jones, Lay Powell, Dudley Snyder and Charles C. Thompson.

During 1938 the Colorado Chamber of Commerce sponsored a plan for a livestock sale auction each week that is attracting buyers from a wide area and animals are selling at good prices.

The Colorado City Frontier Round-up was incorporated last year and experienced a successful three days of entertainment early in September. Otto F. Jones heads this year's roundup and plans are under way to make some improvements over last year's show.

Several new homes were built in Colorado last year. Road improvements in the Colorado trade territory included work on Highway 101 connecting Colorado and Snyder, and the paving of several miles of feeder roads southeast of Colorado.

Oil has contributed much to the industrial wealth of Colorado for a number of years and the discovery of new pools in the Colorado trade territory brighten business prospects for 1939.

The Chamber of Commerce is headed by Dr. W. S. Rhoads. H. B. Spence is manager.

Writing Home From Austin

By R. Temple Dickson

The bills are beginning to pile high in the house of representatives and the senate, as every member introduces his pet measure on this and that.

Most of these bills, however, will die on the hands of some committee, or will be disapproved by some committee. Function of the committee is to weed out the bills so that the house as a whole will have to study only a part of them in detail.

Committees in the house of representatives began meeting this week, after appointment had been announced by Speaker R. Emmett Morse. The work of the committees will be the main activity of the house for the next few weeks.

Although many subjects are being introduced in various bills proposed by members, the matter of revenue will hold the spotlight. Many members are yet undecided about the transactions tax, and are studying it at length before committing themselves.

Sentiment is fairly strong to increase taxes on natural resources. Leader of the group favoring this step is Rep. Albert Darden of Marlin, who introduced a resolution last week asking the governor to reconsider his message in which the transactions tax was suggested. Rep. Darden's resolution was referred to a committee, where it will likely be cubbyholed.

Legalization of pari-mutuel betting on horse races is being talked. The matter will be introduced, and will have the backing of many members. But opponents of legalized betting claim they are ready and able to defeat any such measure.

Austin is just now getting back to normal after the circus-like inauguration of Governor O'Daniel. For days the town had a holiday-like atmosphere.

Now the governor may be seen most any day walking between the mansion and the capitol with one of his sons. Thus far he is bearing up well under the load of the office!

Causing considerable comment in Austin, though of course not so much elsewhere, is a bill proposed by Rep. Albert Petch of Fredericksburg which would provide for an ROTC unit on the University of Texas campus.

Rep. Petch introduced a similar bill at the last session, but it was defeated. The student body of the school, it has been shown by polls, opposes the plan. Mouthpiece for opponents to the plan is the campus daily newspaper.

CONOCO WILL AGAIN USE NEWSPAPER ADS

CONOCO CITY, Okla.—Newspaper advertising will again be the backbone of Continental Oil company's 1939 advertising program, the largest in the company's history. It was announced recently by A. J. Rabe, advertising manager.

"While we feel that we have a well-rounded program for the year," said Rabe, "assigning a fair appropriation to every important advertising medium, by far the largest share of our 1939 budget will be spent for newspaper space."

Continental's current newspaper advertising presents the new form of "Zig-zag" reading. In this proposed reform for relieving eye-strain, the type of each second line of copy is arranged with the words in reverse order—so that the eye can read from left to right on the first line and from right to left on the second line—avoiding the strain of long eye sweeps between lines. This "Zig-zag" advertising is not intended as a reform, but is presented merely as an interesting game or contest for readers.

MILITARY SCHOOL ADOPTS NEW "BROTHER RAT" FILM

Among the introductory titles of most motion pictures is a line to the effect that the situations and characters portrayed are entirely fictional. It's meant, of course, to forestall possible lawsuits and slander complaints.

That title isn't needed for Warner Bros. "Brother Rat," the comedy which comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, Jan. 28, 29 and 30. On the contrary, there is a preface to the picture announcing that it was made with the consent and co-operation of Virginia Military Institute, famous school in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

And V.M.I. alone could object to "Brother Rat." The play joshes its discipline, pokes fun at its officers and on occasion lampoons sacred tradition.

Nevertheless V.M.I. loves "Brother Rat" and has adopted it for its very own. There's a good reason why the college, which is proudly known as the West Point of the South can "take it" so gracefully.

As a stage production, "Brother Rat" proved the best press agent V.M.I. ever had. Except for the fact that the enrollment is arbitrarily limited to 750 cadets, the Institute could have one of largest student bodies in the world today. Thousands of young fellows from all sections of the country are anxious to endure the rigors and have the fun depicted in "Brother Rat."

When Warner Bros. decided to film the play with Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane in leading roles, V.M.I. authorities offered every aid. They allowed a location crew to shoot as many scenes as they wished on the college campus at Lexington, Virginia. They staged reviews and parades for the express benefit of the cameras and provided uniforms and regulation equipment for the Hollywood cast to use in the picture.

Residents of Lexington are as enthusiastic about the play as the college authorities and cadets. The business men like it because it directs national attention to their beautiful little city.

Others swear by it because it was written by John Monks, Jr., and Fred F. Finklehoffe, who were graduated from V.M.I. with the class of 1932. And that proves historic Lexington can foster playwrights as well as soldiers and statesmen.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic booster of all is Slim, the Lexington taxi driver. Slim appears in the play under his true name. And just to prove that he liked it, he offered to drive his taxi all the way to Hollywood to play himself in the picture.

"KING OF ALCATRAZ"

Ritz—Sunday and Monday

Jan. 29 and 30

Escape from Alcatraz, piracy on the high seas, plus two wrangling radio operators and plenty of gun-play mark this as a feature which will account for its share of the turnstile take. Lloyd Nolan and Robert Preston take top acting honors, with Preston impressive in his first important role, and Gail Patrick turns in a sympathetic performance as the love-interest. Public Enemy No. 1 escapes from his island prison, boards a freighter with his henchmen, and captures it on the high seas. The two radio operators escape from their guards, release the crew, and overpower the gangsters. Dramatic highlight is an emergency operation performed on the wounded Nolan by Miss Patrick under direction of a doctor on another ship. Director Robert Florey wore the action-packed elements competently. Players are Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan, J. Carroll Nash, Harry Carey, Robert Preston, Anthony Quinn, Richard Stanley.

URGE MORE HOME FEED

COLLEGE STATION.—More home-grown feed for immediate use and storage on farms and ranches of Texas is contemplated in crop classifications of the AAA for 1939, according to new rulings clarified here by George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee of the AAA.

Slaughter called special attention to a 39 change which takes sweet sorghums and sudan grass out of the soil-depleting class.

This, he explained, will make more land available for grain sorghums, corn, non-commercial wheat and other general crops for which special allotments are not set up, and should add impetus to efforts of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service to encourage the use of trench silos in Texas.

Extension reports recently indicated that the number of trench silos filled in 1938 might reach 20,000 in Texas, a figure which would mark the eighth consecutive year in which the number of silos doubled the previous season's total.

Other alterations in AAA crop classifications spelling a greater abundance of feed on Texas farms include:

Provision that wheat on a farm having no wheat allotment is not soil-depleting if used as a nurse crop for legumes or perennial grasses, providing a good stand of legumes or grasses is obtained and the nurse crop is cut green for hay.

Provision that the fruit of interplanted summer legumes can be harvested or grazed off.

VICTIMS OF NAZI TERROR IN NEW MARCH OF TIME

What is to be the fate of the refugees from Nazi terror? This is the provocative question posed by "The Refugee—Today and Tomorrow," the new March of Time release which will be shown at the Palace Theatre on Saturday pre-views Sunday and Monday, Jan. 28, 29 and 30. The first motion picture to tell about the helpless victims of German terror, this March of Time lays the responsibility for new atrocities squarely at the door of the leaders of the Nazi state. It reveals the lives of people in Germany whose politics, race and religion differ from the State's doctrine, and shows how many have been forced to emigrate only after confinement in Nazi concentration camps.

In analyzing the refugee problem, March of Time considers what the future holds in store for these victims of German intolerance. Reporting on the possibility of solving the refugee problem, March of Time turns its cameras to Palestine, shows what has been accomplished there by Jewish immigrants by hard work and limited financial support. In bringing this pictorial indictment to the screen, March of Time shows how Hitler's outrages have affected the rest of the world and how, reacting to new atrocities, civilized nations have set about to help these refugee peoples build new lives.

WORLD'S FIRST MOTOR FREIGHT LINE SAID TO HAVE BEEN OPERATED FROM COLORADO TO SNYDER BACK IN 1907

It's news to nearly all Coloradans that the first gasoline-propelled truck line in the nation, and probably in the world, was operated between Colorado and Snyder back in 1907. The news might have remained unknown indefinitely had not the Sunday Times of Chicago, Ill., devoted a page of its Jan. 15 issue to W. B. "Dad" Chenoweth, called the "dad" of motor trucking, and to the trucking industry as it stands today. "Dad" Chenoweth, who lived in Snyder at the time the first "truck" line was operated and who now lives in Chicago, enclosed the write-up in a letter to Mayor J. A. Sadler this week.

According to the Sunday Times story, "Dad" Chenoweth began toying with the possibilities of a gasoline-propelled truck line connecting Colorado and Snyder in 1899.

"His first intimation that the path of progress was a thorny one came when he wrote a Philadelphia engineering firm for expert opinion on the feasibility of his project," says the Sunday Times story by Irving Yergin. "He still has the answer in which it was suggested he must have been kicked on the head by a mule to think of driving a self-propelled vehicle over a public road at 25 miles an hour."

In spite of this discouraging opinion, "Dad" Chenoweth persisted and by 1907 had two lumbering, six-cylinder lorries operating between Colorado and Snyder. He kept running them in spite of public distrust until one broke down and a cowboy with a skittish horse and a Winchester rifle made him abandon the other.

This, "Dad" Chenoweth maintains, was the beginning of the motor freight industry. He has lived to see the day when four million trucks shuttle back and forth over 3,000,000 miles of U. S. highways, according to Yergin's story.

"The industry," Yergin sets forth in his final paragraphs, "has come a long way from Dad Chenoweth's two motorized lumber wagons."

Chenoweth stated in the letter which he sent to Mayor Sadler with the clipping that he is "now living on relief." He suffered a stroke of paralysis two years ago. His letter made inquiry as to whether John Ellis is still in Colorado. All his references to Colorado are as "Colorado City."

Ellis said Wednesday that he remembers when Chenoweth's two motorized "wagons" were unloaded at Colorado, having been shipped from Chicago, where Chenoweth had had them made to order.

"They had the awfullest time getting those vehicles from Colorado to Snyder," Ellis says. "The roads were bad, and at times they had to make new roads across pastures. One culvert fell through: As well as I can remember, the trucks never made but a few trips between Colorado and Snyder. They ran mostly from Snyder to Roscoe and back."

Ellis' one-time partner in business bought the vehicles from Chenoweth later on and kept the line in operation from Snyder to Roscoe for some time, Ellis recalls.

OLDSMOBILE WINS IN ECONOMY RUN

Averaging 21.393 miles per gallon of gasoline, Oldsmobile's new Series Sixty, introduced this year in the low-price field and driven by John Bodine, won first honors in its price class in the recent Gilmore-Yosemite Economy run. The event which has acquired national interest was participated in by 29 cars of various makes and under AAA supervision.

The 1939 Gilmore-Yosemite run, as in other years, was over a 315-mile course starting in Los Angeles and charted through Fresno and Wawona. However, weather conditions were so adverse that almost half of the cars entered failed to finish within the required time limit of eleven hours.

Results of the Gilmore-Yosemite run announced by the American Automobile Association show that Oldsmobile's new low-priced Series Sixty won first place in its price class with an actual mileage of 21.393 miles per gallon of Red Lion gasoline," said Earl B. Gilmore, president of the Gilmore Oil company, sponsors of the run. "Oldsmobile is to be particularly congratulated of this performance because this record was made under gruelling conditions that featured blizzards and ice covered highways," Gilmore added.

The Oldsmobile, like all cars competing, was driven over the 4230 foot Tejon pass to the floor of the San Joaquin Valley. From this point they proceeded to the 6000-foot summit near Wawona and on to Yosemite. On the ton mileage basis, which was used in determining the winner, Oldsmobile's low-priced Series Sixty showed 43.763 ton miles per gallon of gasoline and no oil or water consumed.

No Yosemite run was ever held under quite such adverse weather conditions, according to AAA reports. Light rain fell as the cars left Los Angeles at 5:00 a.m. Heavy fog was encountered in Weldon canyon followed by more rain. A cross wind of almost gale proportions greeted the contestants in Tejon pass; spotted sunshine in the vicinity of Fresno. In the foothills of the Sierras, a young cloudburst flooded the roads for several miles. Snow began to fall at about the 4000-foot level and all cars were halted by rangers and compelled to put on chains before completing the final forty miles into Yosemite Valley.

The delay in applying chains and the slow trek over the ice and snow-covered Wawona Summit caused 13 of the 29 cars entered to finish after the allotted time limit of eleven hours.

HEALTH PROGRAM IN TEXAS TO BE HELPED

LUBBOCK.—Furthering the industrial and public health program in Texas is the purpose of the Advisory Research committee of the Texas Building Sanitation Council, according to Dean O. V. Adams of the Texas Technological College Engineering division, chairman of the committee.

At a recent meeting in Austin the committee recommended that the Council should seek an appropriation in the coming session of the Legislature which would enable the State Board of Health to support research in Texas colleges and elsewhere along lines of public health.

One important feature of the program would be a study of public health phases of the proposed industrialization program in Texas. Texas Technological college, along with other Texas college would participate in these studies.

Tech faculty members are eager, Dean Adams says, to have funds made available so that work may be done on several problems. Included in these are: Removal of fluorides from drinking water, dust and static control in cotton gins, treatment of textile mill wastes, relationship of lighting and eye strain, materials for low cost housing, and air conditioning equipment.

In addition to Dean Adams as chairman, the committee is composed of the following: F. E. Geisecke, director of State Experiment Station at A. & M. V. M. Ehlers, representative of the Texas State Board of Health, R. L. Peurifoy, director of engineering at Texas A. & I. W. H. Wooldrich, dean of engineering at University of Texas, E. H. Plath, dean of engineering at S. M. U., J. E. Kidd, dean of engineering at Texas School of Mines, and L. V. Ryan of Rice Institute.

NEW GOVERNOR

FRANCHISE TAX NOT SALES TAX

You housewives will have to pay a little more for flour and bacon and you men a bit more for tobacco if Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel pays his pensions by the transactions tax urged on the legislature yesterday in his first message.

Of course, those are not the only things that would cost you more. A study of the O'Daniel bill indicates there would be a tax on almost every purchase of goods or services.

You would be assured in return that after you get to be 65 years old you will have an income of $30 a month, provided the state does not have to supply more than $15 of that amount.

The transactions tax surprise which O'Daniel sprung may never become law. Fifty-one of the 150 Texas house members or 11 of the 31 senators could block it. A majority of the qualified voters could kill it.

For you who own property other than small homes or farms, the tax would not be entirely an added burden. You would be relieved of the state ad valorem tax, now amounting to 49 cents on the $100 valuation. Homesteads up to $3,000 assessed valuation already are exempt from that levy.

If you manage to acquire property or pensions which will give you an income of $20 a month after you reach 65, you will get only $10 a month more under the O'Daniel plan. However, your wife, if she arranges for no old age security, will receive $30.

The proposal undoubtedly will be subjected to long study and may be amended.

The tax rate is only 1.6 per cent but that perhaps does not mean the cost of a product would be boosted only 1.6 per cent.

Suppose, for example, you bought a sack of Hillbilly flour.

There would be a 1.6 per cent levy on the manufacturer's sale to the O'Daniel Distributing company, another impost of like amount on the sale to the retailer and the third tax of 1.6 per cent when it passed into your hands.

Each of you would have to carry several tokens in your pockets in order to make small purchases. If you bought a soft drink or a package of chewing gum you would need one of the smallest denomination, 15 of one cent. If you bought a 15-cent bottle of beer you would need one of larger denomination. There would be an impost on every purchase, no matter how small.

O'Daniel's bill indicated he believed a considerable saving could be realized in distributing the money among the old folks. He proposed that only $100,000 a year be spent by the state old age pension organization. District pension offices would be abolished. County judges would examine the applicants and be paid $900 to $1,000 additional for that service. In each county, there would be a public record of all pension recipients.

Each person selling an article, whether he be manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer, would be forced to affix stamps showing the tax had been paid. However, he would be expected to charge the buyer the amount of the tax. The state comptroller would be allowed $350,000 a year to collect the levy.

If you subscribe to a newspaper you will have to pay an additional 1.6 per cent for old age pensions. If you buy a want ad you will be required to fork over an additional 1.6 per cent.

A person seeking to put you on the old age pension rolls would be prohibited from charging a fee of more than $10. If you have an unmarried son making $300 a month, that won't keep you and your wife from drawing pensions because that is not your income.

You persons under 65 get a break in this—neither your county, city, or school district can levy a similar transactions tax.

Veteran governmental students say O'Daniel's taxing plan, if accepted, would be the first thing of its kind in the nation. There are general sales taxes, gross receipts taxes and gross income taxes, they say, but no transactions tax.

The plan can't apply to you unless a majority of you vote for it June 3. Even if you do, it won't go into effect until September 1.

LEVY EFFECTIVE ON NATURAL RESOURCES SEPT., 1939

Governor O'Daniel's proposed constitutional amendment provides in substance as follows:

Re-states present constitutional restrictions as to Texas citizenship, sobriety, morality and age; limits amount of state assistance to $15 a month; and limits assistance to persons in need.

Defines a needy person as one who does not have an income of $30 a month, and permits payment of state and federal assistance in an amount which added to the applicant's private income will equal $30 a month.

Stipulates that the proposed amendment shall not give the recipient a vested right.

Levies a 1.6 per cent tax on all business and industrial transactions, with certain exemptions, the tax being on the actual value passing from one person to another.

Exempts salaries, wages, and professional fees paid or received by an individual; the first sale transaction by the individual; the first sale transaction by the producer of horticultural, agricultural, livestock, poultry and dairy products; passenger fares up to 10 cents on street cars or busses; street sales of newspapers; sales, subscriptions and donation to bona fide unemployment relief associations, charity and religious institutions, labor organizations, business leagues, chambers of commerce and boards of trade, not organized for profit; the cashing of checks and depositing of funds in escrow; governmental transactions; interest and earnings on government bonds; government pensions and other emoluments; receipts for taxes, fines, and government fees and costs; transactions in interstate commerce, and collections of taxes and other fees for the state or any political subdivision.

Makes the transaction tax effective on the production of any natural resource beginning September 1, 1939.

Designates state comptroller as collector of all transaction taxes, and directs him to transmit all proceeds from the transaction tax to the state treasurer, to be credited to the old age assistance fund.

Directs the state treasurer to transfer $1,500,000 from the old age assistance fund to a destitute childrens assistance fund during first half of 1940, to meet obligations assumed by constitutional amendment adopted a few years ago, and to transfer a like amount during the first half of each succeeding year to the destitute childrens fund, or as much thereof as may be needed.

Directs the treasurer to transfer from the pension fund to a teachers retirement fund an amount adequate to match the teachers retirement contributions during the first half of each year beginning in 1940.

Directs the treasurer to transfer two million dollars from the old age assistance fund to the Confederate soldiers pension fund during the first half of each year beginning in 1941.

Limits the use of all funds realized from the transaction tax, except those to be credited to the destitute children, teachers retirement and Confederate pension funds, exclusively for payment of old age assistance and administration. Whenever a 25 per cent surplus develops in the fund, it shall be transferred to the general fund.

After January 1, 1940, old age assistance and the other aids mentioned except Confederate pensions, shall be paid exclusively from proceeds of the transaction tax; and no other taxes shall be levied for those purposes.

After January 1, 1941, Confederate pensions shall be paid exclusively from proceeds of the transaction taxes.

If funds remaining in old age assistance fund after transferring required amounts to the other funds are not sufficient to pay the full $15 old age pension, the money available shall be prorated among the pensioners.

Prohibits counties, cities and other political subdivisions from levying any transactions tax.

Abolishes state ad valorem taxes on property for all purposes beginning January 1, 1941, except in counties and other political subdivisions now receiving a remission of such taxes. In such places the taxes shall continue to be collected and remitted until the indebtedness incurred on the strength of such tax remission is fully paid.

O'DANIEL AND THE CONSTITUTION

Gov. O'Daniel has sworn to protect, defend and preserve the constitution and laws of the United States and of this State.

It was not always thus. The Abolitionists adopted the loose construction, refused to abide by the Constitution and the Supreme Court on slavery, and caused the Civil War. The same doctrine induced Seward and Stanton to issue orders for the incarceration of over twenty thousand law-abiding people of the North and denied them counsel and the writ of habeas corpus (See Marshall's American Bastille). When the Supreme Court, in the Milligan case, put the brand of infamy upon said illegal orders, a move was started to increase the court with radical judges. Next, the radicals unlawfully imposed a military despotism upon the South for ten years. The orders of Thad Stevens were their constitution and the bloody shirt was their flag. Corruption smelt so loud that Zeb Vance said the Man in the Moon held his nose when he passed over the United States.

A loose or liberal construction of the Constitution means an unlimited construction. Nothing but a strict construction will save us from dictators. Why fight about liberals and conservatives? Thomas Jefferson possessed the virtues of both. His idea was to abandon error and follow truth. He induced his compatriots to abandon the errors of the divine right of Kings and the religious superstitions that had retarded the progress of humanity for thousands of years, and to conserve, forever, the self-evident truths set forth in the Declaration of Independence. His doctrine dominated this republic from 1800 to 1860 and gave us the grandest government that ever existed in all the tide of time. It was good enough for our fathers, and it is good enough for me.

In his inaugural address James Stephen Hogg said: "In conclusion, I beg to tender to the Senators and Representatives the freedom of the department over which I am to preside, and to assure them that on no occasion will the doors be closed to their coming, for with them I join in a common work for the good of a proud and confiding constituency, whose pride centers in the glory, the honor and the advancement of a great state."

George Washington, the father of our country, perhaps had the most solid conception of representative government of any man of his time or of any time. He spent seven of the best years of his life in the battles of war to free his countrymen from the rigors of an oppressive government and then aided in the establishment of a constitutional form of government. He said:

"The habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those entrusted with its administration to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding in the exercise of the powers of one department to encroach on another."

Benjamin Franklin said: "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."

Edmund Burke said: "The people never give up their liberties but under some delusion."

Herbert Spencer said: "A man's liberties are none-the-less aggressed on because those who coerce him do so in the belief that he will be benefited. In thus imposing by force their wills on his will, they are breaking the law of equal freedom in his person; and what the motive may be matters not."

In his closing remarks O'Daniel said: "Today I take my seat in a little office on the second floor of the Capitol. On one corner of my desk is a book containing the Constitution of the state and of the United States, and another book containing the laws of the state. On the opposite corner is a Holy Bible given to me by my mother, containing the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, which constituted my platform, plus the brief pledge printed and distributed during the campaign reading as follows: 'If and when I am elected Governor I shall honestly and faithfully perform the duties of that office with fairness to all and special favors to none.' These are my chart and compass with which I intend to guide the ship of state over turbulent seas into the harbor of happiness and prosperity for all passengers who are aboard."

BE COURTEOUS

In First Epistle of Peter, third chapter, eighth verse we read: "Be courteous." Webster defines the word courteous as meaning: "Politeness connected with kindness. An act of civility, respect." By being courteous would it not help those that have heavy burdens, heartaches, and are carrying secret sorrows that the world knows nothing about? Why not practice this in our homes, among our business associates, among our employees? How little it takes to bring happiness in other lives if we were a little more courteous.

FROM WHENCE CAME THE MONROE DOCTRINE

There is a popular fallacy that Pres. Monroe wrote the famous doctrine bearing his name, but such was far from being the real facts of the matter.

In protest to the impression that Spain was about to reclaim some colonies she had lost in the New World, John Quincy Adams wrote a letter to his friend, the president of the United States, who was none other than Monroe.

Monroe liked the tone of the letter so well that he copied two paragraphs from it, word for word, presenting this in document form to Congress, which passed the measure without alteration.

In appreciation for his co-operation, Monroe, upon retiring from the Presidency, engineered Adams into office against the powerful Henry Clay, who fought Adams so hard during his entire tenure of office that the Adams administration is looked upon as one of the greatest failures in history.

PERSONAL LIBERTY

The flood tide of the personal liberty is rapidly passing in this country, obviously. The law forbids this and forbids that, orders this and orders that, compels this and compels tother. No man who is honestly trying to make an honest living is allowed to go ahead with his undertaking without government inquiry, very likely government interference and government taxation. The government expresses itself through its multi-mouthed agents as favorable to enterprise and benefit of increased national income. Yet the government disorganizes enterprise by checking a succession of agents to examine, to threaten or to indict the man who was so optimistic as to start a business. The government is the greatest curiosity seeker or anybody knows of. It is a meddler, a peeper and an eavesdropper. Its burning desire is to find something to be taxed that hasn't been taxed, or to raise the taxes on something already taxed—all for the purpose of giving the political spenders more money to spend. The land of the inspector and the home of the collector.

1939 RANGE PROGRAM TO BE PRACTICALLY SAME AS LAST YEAR

The range conservation program for 1939 will be practically the same as that for 1938, according to J. Wiley Holmes, AAA administrator in Mitchell county.

Only a few minor changes have been made, Holmes says. He outlines the three changes which will affect Mitchell county ranchmen as follows:

1. No payment will be made for the drilling of wells under the 1939 program.
2. The rate of pay for construction of earthen tanks is 15c per cubic yard of dirt measured up to 5000 yards of dirt and 10c a yard for all yardage in excess of 5000 yards in each individual tank.
3. The payment for deferred grazing is 60% of the range building allowance providing it as much as one-fourth of the range building land deferred grazing and provided the rancher carries out all other range building practices recommended by the County Committee for the range land. If he does not carry out these practices his deferred grazing payment will be 40% of the total payment his ranch is eligible to receive.

The range building allowance for a ranch will be one dollar for each animal unit that the ranch will carry over a twelve month grazing period and 2c an acre for each acre of land in the ranch. This range building allowance may be received by carrying out range building practices such as: Deferred grazing, contour listing or furrowing, contour ridging by constructing spreader dams, and spreader terraces, building earthen tanks or reservoirs, building concrete or rubble masonry dams, development of seeps and springs for the purpose of watering livestock, construction of fireguards and eliminating prickly pear, mesquite or cedar on range land.

Although the County Agricultural Conservation Association office has not received forms to begin the 1939 range program assignments they are urging ranchmen to begin carrying out their 1939 range building practices. These practices are carried out in the spring and early summer the ranchmen will not only get a benefit from it earlier but he is also very likely to receive 1939 payment earlier than he would otherwise.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon J. L. Cox, if he be living, but if he be dead, then the heirs and legal representatives of J. L. Cox, deceased, all the unknown claimants of the herein described property, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mitchell County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in February A. D. 1939, the same being the 20th day of February A. D. 1939, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 10th day of January A. D. 1939, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 5788, wherein W. W. Davis is Plaintiff, and J. L. Cox and/or the unknown heirs and legal representatives of J. L. Cox are Defendants, and said petition alleging:

That on the 17th day of August, A. D. 1937 plaintiff was and still is the owner in fee simple of the following described property, situated in the county of Mitchell and the State of Texas, to-wit:

All that certain tract, lot or parcel of land, lying and being situated in the County of Mitchell, and State of Texas, known and described as all that One Hundred Fifteen (115) feet of the East part of lot No. twenty-four (24) corner of Block No. Eight (8), in the Amended Addition to the town of Westbrook, Texas, as designated upon the map or plat of said town, Block No. Eight (8) and 64c, Deed Records of Mitchell County, Texas, being more fully described by notes and bounds as follows, to-wit:

Block No. 8, in the S.E. corner of Block No. 8, in the southeast of Thos and Bryn an Street, thence West along the South line of Block No. 8, a distance of One Hundred Fifteen (115) feet, thence North and parallel with the East line of Block No. 8, a distance of Twenty-five (25) feet for the N. E. corner of this lot; thence East and parallel with the South line of Block No. 8, a distance of One Hundred Fifteen (115) feet, the N. E. corner of this lot; thence South along the East line of Block No. 8 to the place of beginning, the South East corner of the lot herein conveyed.

That on the aforesaid 17th day of August, A. D. 1937, defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from him the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of Eight Hundred & some odd annual rental, the said rental being in the sum of Eight Hundred & No/100 ($800.00) dollars; that the rental claim some right to the aforesaid described property, the legal nature of which claims and interests, if any, being unknown to the plaintiff, but that same is a cloud on plaintiff's title in and to said property, which he is entitled to have removed.

Plaintiff alleges that he and those under whom he holds, claim the said property under a deed duly recorded in the public records in Deed Records Mitchell County, Texas, having held the same in peaceable possession and adverse possession, using and enjoying the same and paying the taxes thereon for a period of more than five years prior to the filing of this suit, during which time plaintiff and those under whom he holds fee simple title have at great expense put permanent improvements on aforesaid lot, using the same for business purposes.

Plaintiff by alternative plea would show the court that he has expended, and that those under whom he holds had expended, a sum for materials and improvements on the aforesaid lot, the approximate amount of Eight Hundred & No/100 ($800.00) dollars; that said improvements have been made and maintained by this plaintiff in good faith; that on account of the aforesaid cloud on his title plaintiff is unable to sell said property to any advantage, and he would ask the court, if the court should find against the claims and title of plaintiff in and to the aforesaid lot and premises, then and in that event to give judgment in favor of plaintiff for the value of said improvements, and that said judgment be allowed against the aforesaid defendants for the said improvements placed and maintained by plaintiff on the aforesaid lot, in good faith.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited by publication for the time and in the manner provided by law, to appear and answer the claims of plaintiff, and that all claims of the defendants be cancelled and held for naught, and that plaintiff's title to said property be quieted, for damages for costs of suit, and that writ of restitution issue, and this motion be alternately prays that, in the event the court gives judgment against plaintiff as to title, that plaintiff be given a judgment over against defendants for the value of the improvements placed, in good faith on the said lot by plaintiff and those under whom he holds, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in law and in equity, to which he may be lawfully entitled, as in duty bound he will ever pray.

Herein Plaintiff, and have you before said Court, at your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same, to-wit: GIVEN UNDER MY HAND and Seal of said Court, at office in Colorado, Texas, this 16th day of January A. D. 1939.

We had just completed a field trip to Clay Smith's to see that milk-fed calf of his which has been on feed since last May first. We also judged a class of dry lot calves which he is feeding. Due to the interest taken in the judging, no one thought to look at his watch. We were already five minutes late when we "shoved off the ol' C.H.S. bus about six miles from town."

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

"Pioneer" is a word which has lost much of its deeper meaning because it has been overworked, yet is the only word to apply to John L. Doss, who died Saturday after 57 years in Colorado. . . . But when the word is used in connection with Mr. Doss it must be used in its broadest and deepest sense, for he was a true pioneer in every respect. . . . This alone is enough to justify the heaping of honor around his memory. . . . Add to this the remembered twinkle in his kind brown eyes, his gentle courtesy, his quiet humor, and the honor which Colorado pays to his memory becomes much warmer than such honors sometimes are. . . .

Back in journalism school, what little we attended, we were taught emphatically that taking any smallest detail for granted in the writing of a news story is inviting error. . . . We are about to decide that the professors were right on that score, even if some of the other things we were taught have had to be discarded as just "book learning." . . . For instance, the notes sent us on Mrs. W. H. Bodine's 80th birthday celebration last week stated that the Bodines came to Mitchell county in 1906, bringing "ten of their twelve children." . . . We somehow felt bound to account for those other two children, so we took a tall lot for granted and wrote that two children were born after they came here. . . . This turned out to be quite a piece of news to the Bodine friends and relatives. . . . Truth of the matter was that the two were already grown and married and were therefore left behind in their respective homes. . . . Well, we'll learn, maybe. . . . Beaming around over their first boy, the Allen Kuykendalls of near Loraine were rather chagrined to learn through birth notices in the paper last week that they had been credited with just "another girl." . . . Such is life in a newspaper office. . . . After all, though, The Record was half right because it could only be half wrong, since the babies which aren't girls are boys and vice versa. . . . If you're impressed with our reasoning, we'll be glad to reason you out of your next predicament on a commission basis. . . .

While we're on the subject of babies, we have to voice some remarks on the clever birth announcements received from Mr. and Mrs. Vic Higdon of Hobbs, N. M., by several Colorado friends of Mrs. Higdon, who used to be the little blonde girl we knew as Winnie Frances Vaughan. . . . The announcement, an entirely new type to us, is made in the form of a play review. . . . The play title is "It's A Girl," and the first performance is "a howling success." . . . Cast of characters include the patient mother, Winnie Higdon; the distracted father, Vic Higdon; the anxious grandmothers, Mrs. W. Davis of Odessa and Mrs. F. P. Higdon; the proud great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reese of Colorado; Mrs. Belle Vaughan of Colorado, and Mrs. G. W. Higdon. . . . The "stork" is the doctor, and the "bundle from heaven" is the star performer, Vicki Vaughan. . . . In the "comment" column appear these sentences: "After months of preparation the joint production of the Higdon's new year's presentation, 'It's A Girl,' was presented before a small and exclusive audience on January 16, and it marked the first appearance of a promising new juvenile. . . . The winsome girl of 7 pounds and 13 ounces gave a lusty, boisterous, and vigorous performance. . . . Her costumes, while all the same style, were varied by frequent changes. . . .

We hope you didn't miss "The Great Waltz," for if you did you missed, in our opinion, the most delightful picture which has come to Colorado in a long, long time. . . . We've been raving ever since about the singing of Miliza Korjus (don't ask us to pronounce it or to spell it without looking). . . . She did all the things our untrained and untalented feet and voice have always ached to do when Strauss waltzes are played. . . . To be more explicit, she twirled and she trilled. . . .

To all the rumors which have been going around since Earl Cybert began work on that house of his he has threatened to make this simple answer, "No—I'm renting it."

Newspaper editorial columns and people who ought to know about such things are saying that Congressman George Mahon has taken a big step "up" by winning election to the powerful appropriations committee of the House. . . . The Scurry County Times has this to say: . . .

"It was no surprise to West Texas friends of Congressman George Mahon when the former Loraine farm boy was named as a member of one of the most influential government units in the nation—the appropriations committee of the House. This promotion bears out predictions of the congressman's friends that he will remain in the House as long as he wants to remain. But it is being generally hoped in this area where George was reared that he may shift his political ambitions into a higher gear after another term in the House."

After reading our story about the old tabernacle last week, Corley Bozeman dug into his collection of snapshots and found some pictures which were taken of the tabernacle on "singing convention" day. . . . They looked so much like the old building as we remember it best that we begged a negative to have a picture made for our own scrapbook. . . . Corley, incidentally, is said to be one of the most enthusiastic, as well as one of the best, amateur photographers in Colorado. . . . He has never told us this, but we have heard that he has a collection of Colorado and

Organization of a Junior Hesperian club was discussed by members of Mitchell county pictures running up into the thousands. . . .

Abie-bodied people who feel that they are "out of circulation" because home duties keep them from getting out once or twice a week ought to stop and ponder the case of Mrs. Q. D. Hall, who has been blind for over 25 years and who hasn't been out of her home, hardly out of her room, in some six years. . . . During the party which marked her 79th birthday last week Mrs. Hall heard someone speak of being "out of circulation." . . . Some of those present have passed on her spirited reply to me, and it went like this, "I haven't been out of this house in nearly six years, but I'm not out of circulation!" And those who know her best know that she spoke the truth. . . . You can't keep a mind and a spirit like hers out of circulation. . . .

The name of a former Colorado boy—he's a man now—is said to be romantically linked these days with that of a Lamesa girl who won considerable fame for her beauty during the Centennial. . . .

There was "atmosphere" a-plenty, the true old "wild west" atmosphere, when three Colorado men donned sombreros, loud shirts, boots, and spurs, along with other accepted cowboy regalia, to greet the arrival of a week-end guest one afternoon last week. . . . The guest was Maxie Lee Weaver of Fort Worth, who spent the week-end with Dorothy Carter of the Root hospital staff. . . . Miss Weaver, like so many paying their first visit to West Texas, came expecting to see "cowboys and things," and the three aforementioned fellows saw to it that she got what she was expecting. . . . The official "greeting" committee was composed of Charles Root, Eddy Pyland, and Porter Richardson. . . .

"Haircuts are fifty cents in Austin, so I came back home to get a thirty-five-center." . . . That was the way Denton Templeton, former Coloradoan who is now an examiner with the motor transport division of the Texas Highway commission, explained his visit in Colorado on Wednesday. . . .

According to Wednesday morning's Abilene paper, Mrs. J. A. Sadler holds the third ticket purchased for the Hesperian club when they met with Mrs. Bot Trotter Friday. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey and Mrs. J. G. Merritt were appointed to make plans for this new club. . . .

Mrs. Bennett Scott read the percentages of attendance for the current year. The Coleman school had written a note of thanks for a subscription to Jack & Jill magazine. A note was dispatched to Mrs. J. Ralph Lee, whose husband is in the hospital recovering from leg burns. . . .

"Psychology" was the lesson subject. Mrs. James Payne, who was leader, had the topic, "What is Psychology?" Mrs. F. C. Shillingsburg told of association in relation to psychology, and Mrs. S. H. Millwee talked about "Memory—Habit—Learning." . . . The club will meet this week with Mrs. Sam Wulfjen.

1921 Study

Modern drama was discussed when the 1921 Study club meeting was held with Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr. Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. P. Price was leader. . . .

Special topic for the afternoon was L. E. Watkin's play, "On Borrowed Time." Mrs. C. L. Root discussed characters in the play. Mrs. H. B. Broadbent outlined the theme and plot of the story. Selective readings were given by Mrs. A. C. Anderson. . . . The club endorsed the work being done by Mrs. C. C. Thompson as sixth district chairman for the national consumers tax commission. Mrs. Thompson gave a brief outline of the work this body is doing. . . . Mrs. H. B. Broadbent, state chairman of scholarships and loan funds, urged the establishment of more loan funds in local clubs. The educational committee reported having visited Buford school, delivering magazines. A report was submitted by the course of study committee. . . . The club meets this week with Mrs. R. P. Price.

Standard

"Life" was the discussion topic led by Mrs. L. W. Sandusky when the Standard club met with Mrs. C. M. Adams Friday afternoon. . . . Mrs. Hubert Smith was elected to membership in the club, taking the place left vacant by the recent resignation of Mrs. H. L. Hutchinson, Jr. . . . The next hostess is to be Mrs. J. A. Buchanan.

Self Culture

The state of Colorado was studied when the Self Culture club met Friday with Mrs. J. V. Glover as hostess and Mrs. Jim White as leader. . . . Mrs. Dell Barber told of "Colorado, A Barrier That Became A Goal." The topic "Scenic Spots," was given by Mrs. Jack Sanders. Mrs. White gave facts of interest. . . . The club elected Mrs. W. L. Hester of Loraine to membership. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Edison Wilson.

Shakespeare

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry A. Logsdon on Friday afternoon, Shakespeare club members heard a play reviewed by Mrs. Frank Lupton and a Shakespeare lesson led by Mrs. R. S. Brennand. . . . Mrs. Lupton reviewed Rachel Crothers' play, "Susan and God." . . . Guests at the refreshment hour were Mrs. C. H. Earnest and Martha Earnest. The club meets this week with Mrs. R. O. Pearson.

the lecture which Mrs. Roosevelt will give in Abilene on March 10. . . .

Some miraculous "blind driving" was done by the car belonging to Eunice Locker of the Junior High school faculty at noon Wednesday. . . . While Miss Locker was having lunch at the Frank Smith home, her car rolled down the hill and into the Jim Williams filling station, and the only casualties were two blown-out tires. . . . Three cars were parked on the hill and at least three others came up the hill meeting the weaving, driverless car, and there were no collisions. . . .

Just before closing this column Wednesday noon, we heard about the picture of the "Jenkins Twins" carried in a recent issue of the New York Sunday Mirror. . . . We understand that it's in the issue on sale this week. . . . It deals, of course, with their being stewardesses on the Braniff airlines and their separation by the recent marriage of Louise—or was it Louise?—to one of the Braniff pilots. . . . P. S.—It was Louise—we looked it up.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm. . . . The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. . . . Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Better Sight Lamps Make Seeing Easier

You can read longer without tiring your eyes if you use a Better Sight Lamp. Ample and glareless light makes seeing easier and protects your eyes from unnecessary fatigue.

Read in bed, if you like. If you have plenty of glareless light. The old idea that reading in bed was harmful came from the habit of reading under a poor light.

Soft, glareless lighting adds to the pleasure of family meals. The restful illumination brightens up the whole room and adds to the eye appeal of delicious foods.

You can save time and make work easier in the kitchen if you have plenty of light. A light over the range and one over the breakfast or work table will provide good illumination where you need it most.
