PONY EXPRESS RIDERS TRAILED THROUGH HERE SATURDAY IN RAGING SANDSTORM

Riders in the Nocona-San Francisco exposition pony express trailed through Colorado from shortly before 11 o'clock Saturday morning until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, traveling several miles behind schedule. The first rider was due to have arrived here about 8 o'clock Saturday morning and the last about 6 o'clock that evening.

One of the season's most terrific sandstorms lashed the riders who came through Saturday, although the leader, "Night-Rider" T. J. Sikes of Devoil, Oklahoma, passed through Colorado before the wind got fairly started.

A large crowd gathered at the local pony express mail station to greet the early riders. The station was located in front of the Elmer Pickens shoe shop on second street, and riders and their trailer crews made headquarters there and in the Best Yet cafe. Several cars waited east of Colorado and trailed Sikes and other riders into town. He was traveling, according to the speedometer of one car, approximately five miles an hour, holding his horse to a running walk.

Matador's Shannon Davidson, riding barbeback to "give his saddle a rest," was the second rider to reach here. He came alone, though he had previously been jogging along in company with Chris Usselson of the Montague county J-Y outfit. Davidson arrived about 11:25, riding about 4 1/2 miles an hour.

Sikes had spent Friday night on the western outskirts of Sweetwater. He got up early and had jogged on into Roscoe by 6:15 a.m. Saturday. Sikes has held the lead most of the time since the riders left Nocona on March 1, but Davidson has been dogging his heels constantly and taking the lead from him every now and then.

Lunch was prepared for Sikes at the Truman Henderson's cafe in Westbrook Saturday noon, and he was presented with a $2.50 purse from Westbrook citizens.

Davidson was some 30 minutes ahead when the riders reached Big Spring Saturday night. Sikes was back in the lead by three hours when the riders reached Midland Sunday, however, and last available reports from Culberson county were that

GEORGE O'BRIEN, STAR OF OUTDOOR MOVIES, PAID BRIEF VISIT TO COLORADO ON MONDAY

Greeted by a throng of autograph seekers, candid cameramen and "just lookers" in front of the Palace theater, George O'Brien, star of RKO's major outdoor movie dramas, paid a brief visit to Colorado Monday evening.

O'Brien arrived in a black Packard sedan driven by Ed Rowley of Dallas, one of the owners of the Robb & Rowley chain of theaters. The only other occupant of the car was Perry Lieber, O'Brien's publicity man. Dick Hickman, chief of police, and other members of the law force conducted the car into town with fanfare of sirens.

On hand to greet the party were H. B. Spence, manager of the chamber of commerce; A. E. McClain, manager of the Palace & Ritz theaters; and others. McClain had just returned home Sunday night after having accompanied a group to San Angelo with O'Brien via Big Spring on Friday morning. O'Brien was guest of honor at the San Angelo Fat Stock show during the week-end.

O'Brien came here after having made a personal appearance in Sweetwater that afternoon. The remainder of the group which had been with him in San Angelo remained in Sweetwater as O'Brien, Lieber, and Rowley came to Colorado and then went on to Big Spring where O'Brien and Lieber boarded a train for Hollywood.

The two-listed star was impressively large and tanned, wearing a white navajo jacket, boots, a ten-gallon hat and other garb in keeping with the type of screen role he plays. He was generous with autographs and was introduced to a number of local people. He made a personal appearance on the stage of the Palace theater at 6:30.

O'Brien was the second movie star to visit Colorado in less than a year, Charles Starrett having been here during the Frontier Round-up in September. A. E. McClain, manager of the local theaters, was instrumental in arranging both appearances.

POULTRY DISCUSSED BY IATAN-CARR CLUB

By Mrs. Witt Hines, Reporter

"Poultry" was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Iatan-Carr Home Demonstration club on March 2 at the home of Mrs. R. M. Jones. The roll call was answered with a new recipe for a poultry dish. The subjects of "Fattening and Finishing Poultry" and "Killing and Dressing of Poultry" were discussed in a round-table form.

Mrs. D. J. Barber told of the skit on "The Home Food Supply" that she and Mrs. C. C. Berry, county council chairman gave over the radio from Big Spring Feb. 20. Miss Crippen accompanied Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Berry. Those who listened in complimented these women on their program.

It was voted to pay $2.00 towards our apportionment due the county council at its next meeting.

Mrs. Lee Coleman will be leader at next meeting March 15 at the home of Mrs. Lasseter at Westbrook; the topic for discussion will be "Poultry Buymanship."

The hostess, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. John Latty and Mrs. Tom Jackson, served refreshments to the following members: Mmes. Van Boston, Lee Coleman, Frank Miller, T. L. McKenney, Witt Hines, D. J. Barber, Tom Grant, J. E. Skellon, and P. L. Eikenberg.

TWO BEAUTICIANS ARE HOME FROM MEETING

Mrs. R. D. Tiner of the Tiner Beauty shop and one of her operators, Mamie Jones, returned last week after having attended the convention of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists.

Among other things they saw demonstrations given by Marc Gartman of Chicago, one of the nation's foremost hair stylists. They also attended a special institute conducted by Walter Wilson of Dallas.

MCCLAINE'S DINNER GUESTS

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McClain last Thursday evening were Ed Rowley and H. B. Robb of Dallas, owners of the R & R chain of theaters; Sol Sachs of the Dallas district RKO offices; and Henry Rogers, R & R manager from Sweetwater. McClain, who is manager of the Palace and Ritz theaters, joined the group and went with them to Big Spring to greet George O'Brien, RKO movie star, and accompany him to San Angelo, where O'Brien was a special guest of the San Angelo Fat Stock show. McClain returned home Sunday night to prepare for O'Brien's visit here on Monday evening.

PLENTY OF WATER WILL INCREASE MILK PRODUCTION

COLLEGE STATION.—A cow can't say "hocus pocus—milk," E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, points out.

While plenty of good feed is necessary for profitable milk production, there are several other factors of equal importance, Eudaly says. One of these is water.

A cow uses from four to five and a half pounds of water for each pound of milk she produces. Thus a cow that gives four gallons of milk will need from 16 to 20 gallons of water a day.

"Experiments have shown that when cows have constant access to cool, clean water in summer and warm, clean water in winter they produce 11 per cent more than when watered once a day, and four per cent more than when watered twice a day," the dairyman stated.

"I don't know of anything that will return more profit to the owner of a dairy cow, or of a commercial herd, in Texas than a roof about eight feet over the water trough," Eudaly said. "I don't care if it's made of brush or of the finest roofing, just so it shades the water."

On construction and improvement of airports and other transportation facilities there was expended $86,252. - Andrews, $94; Brown, $861,141; Coke, $47,344; Coleman, $604,059; Concho, $113,443; Crane, $5,074; Crockett, $44,543; Ector, $49,625; Glasscock, $993; Howard, $339,321; Irion, $40,185; Kimble, $28,535; McCulloch, $266,789; Martin, $37,133; Mason, $77,725; Menard, $68,546; Midland, $157,922; Mitchell, $233,815; Nolan, $655,629; Pecos, $16,545; Reagan, $1,184; Runnels, $363,042; Schleicher, $35,301; Sterling, $20,407; Sutton, $16,678; Taylor, $1,041,770; Terrell, $11,697; Tom Green, $1,131,361; Upton, $20,324. On district-wide projects operated in practically all of these counties there was expended $564,803.

Burnside called attention to the fact that the amount of WPA activity in any county depends on the number of persons eligible for works program employment in that county and upon willingness or ability of the political subdivisions in each county to sponsor projects.

PONY EXPRESS

Sikes was still leading, with Davidson in second place and Ussellon in third. There are twelve riders in the race, which is to end when the first one reaches the Golden Gate exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco bay. The winner will get $750. Each man must finish the race with the same two horses with which he began. Horses are changed every 25 miles, and the horse not being ridden is transported in a trailer attached to the car which is part of each rider's required equipment. The horses are given special massages and watchful care. Goggles had been provided for most of the horses and men as they headed into Saturday's sandstorm.

In the race in addition to the three leaders are Shorty Hudson of Knox City, Elgie Reed of Electra, V. H. Henderson of San Antonio, Boy Moyer of Crowell, Slim Mathis of Dalhart, Allen Clifton of McLean, Hudie Helms of Dumas, King Karley of Quanah, and George Cates of Crowell.

L. A. Parton, manager of the race and its judge, cruises up and down the highways, checking to see that all riders observe the rules of the race, which is sponsored by the Nocona chamber of commerce.

Thirty-five pieces of pony express mail were picked up here, according to H. B. Spence, chamber of commerce manager. This mail will be carried on to the exposition by the riders, then mailed from there. Each piece of mail bears a special pony express stamp plus U. S. postage.

All-Washable House A New Design in Living

A NEW adventure in living, in the form of an all-washable house, is open to the American housewife who cherishes in her home a combination of beauty, economy and cleanliness.

Modern Furniture in Yellow and Grey is the Motif in the Living Room.

The house, which has been decorated by House Beautiful and tested by Procter and Gamble, will be open to the public without charge beginning February 17, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except Sundays.

Never before has so large a decorating scheme been guaranteed washable. The house, truly a "Fiesta" house, consists of five rooms—living room, two bedrooms, kitchen and convenience room or study—and is designed in three periods.

The living room and kitchen are modern, one bedroom is mahogany 18th century and the other colonial maple. The convenience room, planned as the housewife's workshop, has a telephone, typewriter, bookshelves, sewing machine, cabinets for records and an ironing board built into the wall.

The motive behind the whole decorating scheme is the building up of light colors. The living room furniture is yellow and grey, the rug green and the walls light blue. The bedroom draperies are yellow. In the maple bedroom the wallpaper is of a pattern in blue; flower paintings hang above the bed and flowered chairs face the window seat. The mahogany bedroom, with its canopy bed, has frilled curtains, striped yellow wallpaper and a yellow rug, laid on gun metal linoleum.

Before being pronounced washable, all the fabrics in these rooms were tested six times in the Procter and Gamble laboratories.

COLORADO AND OTHER WEST TEXAS TOWNS GOT NAMES FROM MANY VARIED SOURCES

It's easy to figure out that Colorado was named Colorado because this is where the Texas & Pacific railroad, which gave the town birth, crosses the Colorado river, but the origin of the names of many other West Texas towns is not so easy to figure out, according to a story which appeared in Tuesday morning's Abilene Reporter-News.

The story, in part, is as follows: Most of the names of towns in West Texas, have simple origins. They were named after their founders in many instances, or after some famous man who may have been instrumental in their founding.

Others were named, for sentimental reasons or not, after some other city, Abilene, for instance, is credited by many to have as its namesake the town of Abilene, Kansas.

Albany was named for a town by the same name in Georgia. And you can pick out Indian, Spanish, and German derivations.

At any rate, here are a few:

ABILENE, named by the founders for Abilene, Kas., which at that time was the terminus of many of the cattle trails from the Texas range. Word appears in the Bible as name of a town.

ALBANY, named for Albany, Ga., by founder who came from that town.

BAIRD, for Matthew Baird, director of the Texas & Pacific railroad, who drove the first stake there in 1876.

BALLINGER, for Judge W. P. Ballinger of Galveston, official of the Santa Fe when Ballinger was founded in 1886. Ballinger was known as "New Town" for a short period.

BANGS, for Samuel Bangs.

BARSTOW, for George E. Barstow of Providence, R. I., builder of the irrigation system there.

BIG SPRING, for large spring near the city when it was founded.

BRECKENRIDGE, for United States Senator John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky.

BROONTE, for Charlotte Bronte, English novelist.

BROWNFIELD, for A. M. Brownfield, pioneer ranchman who owned the town section upon which the business area was built.

BROWNWOOD, for Henry S. Brown, member of Austin's colony and father of John Henry Brown, Texas historian.

CISCO, for John J. Cisco, New York financier and stockholder of the Texas & Pacific railroad at time of founding of the town.

CLYDE, there are two stories. One is that a man named Clyde camped there at an early day and the settlement became known first as Camp Clyde, then Clyde. The other is that a Scotchman working for the Texas & Pacific railroad named the new station for the river Clyde.

COLEMAN, for Col. Robert M. Coleman, Texas pioneer, signer of the declaration of independence and member of Gen. Houston's staff.

LORAIN, uncertainty as to origin, possibly from Lorraine, France, because of beauty of surrounding territory.

MIDLAND, so named because half way between Fort Worth and El Paso on the Texas & Pacific railroad—307 miles distant from each place.

MONAHANANS, for John Monahan, who dug the first water well between the Pecos river and Big Spring.

ODessa, named for Odessa, Russia.

RANGER, so called because it was headquarters for Texas Rangers in that part of the state.

ROBERT LEE, for the famous Confederate commander.

ROBY, for D. C. Roby.

ROTA, for Edward Rota.

RULE, for W. A. Rule, treasurer of the KCM&O railroad.

SNYDER, for Peter Snyder, who built the first store, operating a trading post for buffalo hunters as early as 1872.

STAMFORD, for Stamford, Conn., native city of H. K. McHarg, then president of the Texas Central railroad.

SWEETWATER, named for Sweetwater creek.

METHODIST CHURCH

J. E. Shewbert, Pastor

"For Christ's Sake—Motive of the Church" will be the subject the pastor will discuss Sunday morning in his message. We will look for another large crowd out for the morning message. Everyone who can possibly do so should be at church each Sunday. That's a day for worship and man is the poorer for not going to the house of the Lord on the Sabbath and worship.

Last Sunday was one of the best days we have had. One of our biggest crowds was out for all services. There was a good crowd out for S. S. and a larger one out for the morning message. The offering last Sunday was over $90.00 and that was fine. The Stewards and pastor appreciate this fine offering as we carry on the work of the building of His Kingdom. Everyone should pay in proportion to our material blessings but too often we do not do this. More often we pay on the basis of our spiritual interest and consecration and too often that is far below the material blessings we receive and what we can do for God's cause. It's true even in finances, one receives a greater blessing in his life when he goes "the second mile." Again let us say we appreciate what you did and may we do what we can each week.

Our Pre-Easter revival will open the first Sunday in April and will close Easter Sunday, the second Sunday. The pastor will do the preaching. Let each teacher and member begin now working definitely toward the success of the meeting. Talk, pray, and make your own individual prayer list.

The Stewards and their wives are urged to meet at the pastor's home this Friday night. Let's all come out.

Our Sunday night crowd continues to be large. We hope to make each Sunday night from here on until the meeting a special preparation for the meeting. So come out.

The ladies of the Missionary society have started a fine study of the Life of Christ. They meet each Monday and all you women should make a special effort to come out.

Remember that next Sunday we have designated as "Bring One Day." You are to come and bring someone else. Will you do that much? You can.

S. S. 9:45 a.m. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Leagues at 6:30 p.m.

Writing Home From Austin

By R. Temple Dickson

Due to excite considerable controversy in the legislature are two bills, one in the house and one in the senate, bearing the name of "fair-trade acts."

These bills would give manufacturers of trade-marked articles a right to fix their retail selling price. Both bills have been given committee approval, house and senate committees having met jointly.

But in committee meeting they ran a gauntlet of disapproval. The measure has been denounced as a price-fixing law which would boost the cost of living 25 per cent and defended as the salvation of the independent merchant. The bill going through the house committee was particularly criticized.

In fact, the house committee was critical enough to tack two important amendments on, and these may make the bill of very little consequence. One of the amendments states that merchants may have clearance sales of price-fixed articles at whatever price they wish, and the other expressly states that the new law would not repeal anti-trust laws. With anti-trust laws on the books, merchants and manufacturers might be afraid to take advantage of the fair-trade act because of danger of violating anti-trust laws.

One speaker against the bills said they were just like the wooden horse of Troy—just a subterfuge to permit big chain stores to get inside the Texas anti-trust laws.

Definitely fractured last week were the never-too-cordial relations between Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and the capitol press corps.

At the beginning of his administration the new governor announced he would follow the precedent of James V. Allred in holding daily press conferences. After following this plan a week with each conference turning into a sparring match between the chief executive and the press-men, the governor decided to hold conferences only once weekly.

Three weeks ago he was too busy to see the newsmen even for the one conference. Two weeks ago the same story went out. Reporters, tired of coming and being told they could not see the chief executive, told his secretary that thenceforth he could send for them if he had anything to say.

Last week the governor sent out a typewritten statement to the press-rooms informing the press that thenceforth there will be no regular conferences—only interviews when important events called for them.

The compromise tax amendment voted out this week by the house committee on constitutional amendments is due to be the center of many long debates.

The proposal, in case you don't remember, is to tax retail sales of most articles two and a half per cent, to increase the tax on natural resources 25 per cent, and to tax public utilities two and a half per cent.

The amendment was written by a joint sub-committee from the committees on constitutional amendments and revenue and taxation.

Framers say it will raise $33,000,000 per year, enough to pay pensions and care for dependent children and teacher retirement. If there is an excess of money, the legislature would be given the right to cut down the percentages of taxation.

The amendment would provide for paying of pensions large enough to make every person's income $30 per month. That is, his net income would be subtracted from $30 and he would be paid the difference.

This team is captained by Earnest Porter and includes Craig Porter, Bill Coffey, Jr., Curtis Erwin, and Frank London. Second highest rating was made by the team of Troop 21, which has M. L. Kirschbaum for scoutmaster and Larry Dorn for first-aid captain.

E. E. SMITH VOICES APPROVAL OF COUNTRY ROADS BILL; URGES VOTERS TO SUPPORT IT

Approval of the rural post roads bill No. 289 as introduced to the house of representatives at Austin by Rep. Ross Hardin of Limestone county has been voiced by E. E. Smith of Colorado, president of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers' association.

"Several bills pertaining to roads have been introduced," Smith says, "but this is the only one providing for a permanent set-up for the construction of county roads."

"Thirty of the forty-eight states give a part of their gasoline tax to the counties," Smith pointed out. "Texas is due and should have a part of the tax for road improvement."

HISTORY WAS CREEPING TOWARD COLORADO 58 YEARS AGO AS T&P REACHED ABILENE

History was creeping toward Colorado 58 years ago, moving on twin strands of shining steel from horizon to lonely horizon.

In other words, the Texas & Pacific railroad was coming. According to a story in the Abilene Reporter-News recently, the railroad "regularly opened" the town of Abilene for business on the last day of February, 1881.

Track-laying had reached Abilene between January 10 and January 15, 1881. The T&P company had announced the "sale" of Abilene for the 20th but did not hold it until March 15.

Meanwhile, the track continued westward. Colorado then was just a cowtrail stopping point, lonely and windswept on a vast expanse of rolling, mesquite-studded prairies and cedar-dotted hills.

The railroad came swiftly, considering the construction handicaps that undoubtedly had to be coped with. By Jan. 22, 1881, the tracks had been built seven miles west of Abilene, and by January 27 the company had accepted a 32-mile section of tracks lying between Baird and Tye. The track was accepted to Sweetwater by March 13.

Not long ago Mrs. W. J. Miller, mother of Mrs. Y. D. McMurry, recalled that the last spikes in the railroad through Colorado were driven down on April 1, 1881, the day after she and her family moved into Colorado. Mrs. Miller, who is now 94, divides her time between Colorado and El Paso, being in El Paso at present.

Guests introduced were Jimmie Tucker of Big Spring, O. W. Cline, and Dr. Emil Krnek of LaGrange, federal veterinarian connected with the bureau of animal husbandry. Dr. Krnek came with Dr. J. D. Williams.

FORTY ATTEND TEXAS EX-STUDENTS' RALLY HELD AT LOCAL HOTEL

Forty ex-students of the University of Texas from Nolan and Mitchell counties gathered around a banquet table at the Colorado hotel in Colorado Thursday night for their Texas Day banquet.

Joe Earnest of Colorado, president of the Nolan-Mitchell-Scurry unit of ex-students, was in charge. Emblems of the law and engineering schools of the university decorated the walls of the banquet room while arrangements of the six flags under which Texas has existed were featured on the stage. Large crossed flags of the nation and state fringed the stage background.

Calendulas were on the tables and places were marked with yellow cards bearing original verses. "Ferdinand the Bull" centered the speaker's table.

Truett Barber of Colorado, district attorney for the 32nd judicial district, welcomed the exes and annexes. Thos. R. Smith, Colorado attorney and councilman for district 15 of the ex-students' association, talked on "Our New Prexy."

Music was given by the Colorado Cowhand band with Dr. Harry A. Logsdon directing. Mabel Smith of Colorado conducted a quiz. The main speaker was Chas. W. Lewis of Sweetwater, judge of Nolan county.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Gerald Williams of Sweetwater; vice-president, Truett Barber of Colorado; secretary, Marshall Morgan of Sweetwater; Alcalde reporter, Mabel Smith of Colorado.

Mrs. W. R. Motley led the Shakespeare lesson on Timon of Athens. Officers for the coming year were elected during the business session as follows: President, Mrs. R. O. Pearson; vice-president, Mrs. Jerold Riordan; secretary, Mrs. Jack Smith. Mrs. David Russell and Mrs. B. R. Russell were guests at the refreshment hour. Mrs. Joe Smoot is hostess this week.

Self Culture

Resolutions of respect to the memory of Dr. T. J. Ratliff, who has cooperated in all the health programs ever staged by the Self Culture club, were voted by the club members during their meeting with Mrs. Lee Phenix on Friday.

Mrs. John T. Howell, president, appointed Mrs. Dell Barber as chairman of the committee to draft the resolutions and deliver them to Mrs. Ratliff.

The club voted $1 to the Frances B. Pisk art fund and $5 to the special fund for Headquarters Permanent.

Mrs. W. D. McClure was appointed vice-president for the remainder of the year.

Final plans for the club banquet on Thursday night at the Colorado hotel were made.

Mrs. C. P. Gary led the government day program. Mrs. J. V. Glover read the constitution and Mrs. McClure told of "The Man Who Wrote the Constitution," and the club sang the national anthem. Mrs. C. P. Gary gave the history of the flag, following which the club repeated the pledge to the flag.

A salad course was served. The anniversary party Thursday night will take the place of this week's meeting.

1921 Study

Members of the Standard club were guests when the 1921 Study club met Friday with Mrs. R. H. Ratliff. Mrs. Hubert M. Smith, mother of Mrs. Ratliff, was to have been hostess to the Standard club so the two meetings were held together.

Poetry was the topic for the 1921 program led by Mrs. U. G. Hardison. A duet number, "Brackett's 'Come Where the Blue Bells Ring,'" was sung by Mrs. Van Boston and Mrs. Johnny Rector.

Featured on the program was a review of "The Old House Remembers" by Gladys Miller.

"Waters of Venice" was a duet sung by Mrs. N. H. White and Mrs. W. R. Martin as the program closed. The club meets this week with Mrs. J. M. Doss.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Comes a letter from Allan J. Payne, early-day Coloradan who recently moved to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, after having been a guiding civic spirit at Slaton for many years.

It reads like this: "Having read in last week's Record of the death of Mrs. Dan S. Park, nee Minnie Wessels, brings back to my mind a little past history that might be of interest to some of The Record readers—that is, the old-timers who are there now. . . Three families of us, the J. W. Wessels, and daughter Minnie, the S. I. Pittons, and the Z. V. Paynes and sons, Allan and Vic, arrived in Colorado City on the morning of Nov. 20, 1881, at 4 o'clock in a sandstorm and norther. . . We all went to the Grand Central hotel, which was run at that time by a Mr. Shaunsey, and as the rooms were all taken we had to bunk on the floor with the cowboys. . . Among the latter was Mr. Winfield Scott, and I well remember that he and all the others wore their leather leggings. . . I well remember wifin Dan S. Park and Minnie Wessels were married and when C. M. Adams went to work for Dan S. Park. . . Those were great days in Colorado City. . . Later the Wessels family, all except Minnie, left for the state of Colorado, and S. I. Pitton and his wife returned to Michigan. . . Now all that is left of those three families are my brother Vic and I, and here we are over in Florida. . ."

Two real live, honest-to-goodness movie stars have visited Colorado within the past year—Charles Starrett during the Frontier Round-up in September and George O'Brien on Monday evening. . . A little more and you can't tell this place from Hollywood. . . There was quite a little crowd to greet O'Brien in front of the Palace theater Monday evening. . . Candid cameras and autograph books were much in evidence. . . O'Brien, wearing a white Navajo jacket along with sombrero and all the other approved items for the outdoor type of he-man roles which he plays on the screen, was bigger and a little older than we expected. . . But, as one negro bystander was heard to remark to another, "That's sho' him. . . He was hard at work on something that was probably supposed to be tobacco, but which was, we strongly suspect, chewing gum. Like Charles Starrett, O'Brien had that long-in-the-back haircut which most male movie actors seem to affect. . . It must photograph better, or something. . ."

Every child who is missed in the scholastic census now being enumerated in all school districts of Mitchell county means a loss of $22 to the district wherein he or she lives. . . If the census-taker should by some chance miss your home, it is greatly to your interest and that of your child and school to contact the enumerator before April 1. . .

In years gone by Colorado has had some "home talent" plays that were more fun than any ready-made entertainment could ever be. . . Remember the plays which used to be staged at the opera house (now the Terry place)? . . . We vividly recall that Joe Pond, Mary Broadus, Hallie Roddy, and many others were yesterday's stars in the home-talent line. . . Now the Zetagathian club is going to try and revive the old home talent custom with a play, "Mystery at Midnight," in the high school auditorium on next Thursday and Friday nights, March 16 and 17. . . The cast will be announced in the next few days. . .

Speaking of the Zetagathians—they had a "kid" party to mark their fifth anniversary Friday night with their husbands as guests. . . When they trailed into the local theater for the second show after a Mexican supper at the Sefton Pickens' home, they sought the front seats along with the other "kids. . . At lot of the real kids took them for "spooks" rather than kids, and were about ready to run home until reassured. . . Imagine Mrs. Mary Lee Brown wearing an old-fashioned nightgown and a baby cap to portray a "kid" of infantile age, and you'll get the spook connection, more than likely. . . Sharing the limelight with Mrs. Brown was John Shropshire, who wore shorts, a huge Buster Brown bow, and a tiny hat at the most rakish of angles. . .

Some of these days, if we ever get desperate enough, we might be guilty of running a fabricated matrimonial squib in this column just to scare up something. . . Every time we have one of our "predictions" we hear of one or two rumored weddings that we didn't even know about and probably wouldn't have known about if somebody hadn't thought we were referring to them. . . For instance, last week we had something to say about a certain long-rumored wedding being, at last, in the near future. . . Now we learn that at least three weddings of local interest are being talked as April possibilities. . . All the girls are Coloradans. . . One of the merri is a former Coloradan, another a present Coloradan, but the third is a "furriner" to these parts. . .

We have done wrong by Charles Root—poor fellow, we gave him a "Mrs. . . . Probably you noticed that the Zetagathian club met week before last with "Mrs. Charles Root. . . There just isn't any such a thing—not yet, at any rate. . . We meant to write, of course, Mrs. Jimmy Cook, who used to be Julia Mae Root. . . While we're on the subject of Charles Root we just can't resist cracking something to the effect that they're teasing him these days about "business trips" to San Angelo. . .

Somebody make a note and let's not forget to celebrate Colorado's sixtieth birthday in the spring of 1941. . . We were reminded of the approaching milestone while writing this week about the coming of the T. & P. railroad 58 years ago this spring, and the railroad gave Colorado birth, you know. . . After all, 1941 is only two years off and they started making definite plans for the Texas Centennial at least that far in advance, and what did the Texas Centennial have that Colorado's 60th anniversary won't have? . . . Forty years, that's all. . .

A hand-carved dress ornament of redwood was the gift brought back to Mrs. R. D. Bridgford by her mother, Mrs. T. E. Arledge of Roscoe, when the latter returned last week after having attended the opening of the San Francisco World's Fair. . .

If you want "doggy" talk you can get it from the J. T. Drapers, junior and senior, who have lived on a 280-acre farm south of Lone Wolf mountain for over 30 years. . . They raise Scotch collies with great success, making considerable pin money and having a lot of fun in the doing. . .

State-wide publicity which Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowder received on their 60th wedding anniversary recently brought an interesting letter from a Hugh M. Henderson, public accountant now living in Oakland, California. . . Henderson's letter is unique in that each page—and there are eight typewritten pages, some large, some small—is written on a sheet of paper from a hotel in some portion of the world where Henderson has touched in his evidently much-traveled life. . . One sheet is from an Oakland hotel, one from on board a Grace Liner, one from a hotel in Bogota, Colombia, South America, one from Washington, D. C., one from Detroit, one from Atlanta, one from a hotel in Call, Colombia. . . Henderson reminds Mr. Crowder that he worked for him one "stock rush" season as clerk at Colorado's stock yard office back in 1894. . . He recalls having lived at a small hotel here and having had to get up early enough to catch the first switch engine which went to the stock yards. . .

Since then Henderson says he has worked all over the nation and in Mexico and South America as an accountant, sometimes for railroads, sometimes for other concerns. . .

"It just occurs to me," Henderson wrote in the letter, "That the grouch I have carried around for a life-time might have been born of the grief I had as waybiller, telegrapher, routing man, etc., right there at Colorado City!"

One of the things which the Philip Starks of Chicago, Ill., hadn't seen when they arrived last week to visit the I. L. Ellwoods at their Rendebrook ranch home was a sandstorm. . . We'll venture that after last week's shining examples they'll return home with fundamental knowledge of at least one West Texas characteristic. . .

"Prince Charming" is the title of a poem by Juan P. Mason of the Colorado High school faculty appearing in the February issue of the Southwester, official organ of the American Poetry association. . .

The front page of the Sweetwater Reporter for Tuesday featured a picture of "Two O'Briens, Actor and Pastor." . . You're right—the gentleman in the ten-gallon hat was Rev. Dick O'Brien, now pastor of First Baptist church at Stamford, and former pastor of the Baptist church here. . . George O'Brien, the actor, was bareheaded, his hat having been confiscated by the former Coloradan. . . They were snapped in Sweetwater. . .

Gerson Berman of Sweetwater, whose picture appeared in daily papers last week as an appointee to Annapolis, is a cousin of Mrs. M. L. Kirschbaum of Colorado.

GRANT, McLAGLEN, FAIRBANKS, JR. HEAD SMASHING SCREEN VERSION OF "GUNGA DIN"

FILMED ON VAST SCALE, KIPLING'S GREAT POEM IS DRAMATIZED AS EPIC OF HEROISM, ADVENTURE, ROMANCE AND SACRIFICE WITH BRITISH TROOPS IN INDIA

A colorful chapter in the history of British rule in India, revolving around a native outbreak along the Northwest Frontier in the Nineties, is the picturesque setting against which are laid the stirring scenes in the screen epic based on Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "Gunga Din." The picture will show at the Palace theater Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, March 11, 12 and 13.

Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are starred in the film, which ranks as one of the most pretentious screen spectacles of recent years. Joan Fontaine has the principal feminine role, with Sam Jaffe, Eduardo Ciannelli, Robert Coote, Montagu Love and Abner Bernman heading the huge supporting cast.

GARY COOPER AND MERLE OBERON ARE TEAMED IN ROMANTIC COMEDY SHOW

Contrasting the glitter and glamour of smart society in Washington and Florida with the romance and adventure of Cowboy Land in the Golden West, Samuel Goldwyn has lavished his unusual showmanship talents on his first major production of the new film season—"The Cowboy and the Lady," a comedy romance of modern-day life, which is due for its showing at the Palace theater Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11.

To heighten the rich, emotional drama of this exciting story, Mr. Goldwyn has teamed (for the first time on the screen) Gary Cooper, filmland's No. 1 he-man, and Merle Oberon, reigning queen of the screen. Cooper is cast as a cowboy who rides the range alone—until he comes East for a rodeo show and meets Merle Oberon, spoiled and petted society darling. They immediately join forces in a high-powered, fast-paced romance which is spiked with riotous laughs and down-to-earth drama.

As the story opens, Merle Oberon is rushed out of Washington to Florida to avoid a scandal involving her in a night-club raid. Merle becomes bored with the quiet out-of-season Florida life, and impetuously decides to go out on a blind date with—all the people in the world—her maid and her butler. Misad-are seen as a happy-go-lucky trio of sergeants of the Royal Engineers, British Army, stationed at a cantonment near the Khyber Pass. When the telegraph line from the frontier mysteriously goes dead the three modern musketeers are sent out with a repair party, meet a murderous group of Thugs, the religious strangers of India, and barely escape with their lives after a thrilling hand-to-hand battle.

It is evident that the Thugs, supposedly wiped out many years before, are active again! Once more the trio go out, this time with an ample force of men, to restore the line, while regiments of Lancers and Scots troops fan out on either side to run down the stragglers. With the sergeants' party is Gunga Din, a native water carrier, who is well aware of Grant's long-standing hope of finding buried treasure, while Fairbanks, whose entrapment expires in a few days, wants to get back to the base and marry Miss Fontaine.

After a quarrel with McLaglen, Grant and Gunga Din leave and, hunting treasure, make their way to a hidden temple, which turns out to be the Thug headquarters. Grant is captured, Din escapes and brings the other sergeants with a rescue party, but the Thugs ambush them, and the party is besieged in the temple. How the trio withstand the attack of the frenzied natives and Gunga Din's sacrifice for his white friends, make for the gripping climax of this action-charged picture.

"DEVIL'S ISLAND" WITH KARLOFF SHOWS AT RITZ

Why convicts condemned to Devil's Island describe their punishment as the "dry guillotine" is vividly brought out in the Warner Bros. picture entitled "Devil's Island" which is scheduled to show Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theater with Boris Karloff in the leading role.

Timely and powerful, the Warner picture depicts with stark, unblinking realism the cruel and ruthless brutality that made this island penal colony seem an anachronism in the Twentieth Century and led finally to its being temporarily abolished less than a year ago.

The story, which, while it is a fictional invention, is said to be an authentic representation of incidents which have happened, is concerned mainly with the efforts of some of the prisoners to escape their open-air torture chamber.

Karloff, a highly respectable surgeon, is convicted of treason merely because he save professional treatment to a man who was shot and mortally wounded while trying to escape from a prison train. Sentenced to Devil's Island the surgeon incurs the displeasure of the brutal commandant, and his lot is no better after he performs an operation which saves the life of the commandant's little daughter. That does, however, win him the friendship of the commandant's wife, who aids him and several other prisoners in a plot to escape.

They escape by sea in a small power boat, but run out of gasoline and drift helplessly until picked up by a passing vessel, which proves to be a prison ship enroute to Devil's Island.

Back at the penal colony, the surgeon is sentenced to death by the guillotine. The commandant's wife speeds to the mainland to ask the governor of the colony to prevent the execution. As the surgeon is on the guillotine, a new Minister of Justice, the governor, and the commandant's wife arrive on the scene, and not only is the surgeon's life spared but he is given his freedom by the minister of justice, whose investigations also lead him to order the arrest of the commandant.

The commandant is played by James Stephenson, his wife by Nedda Harrigan and his child by Rolla Gotwitsch. Other important roles are filled by Adia Kuznetsoff, Will Stanton, Edward Keane, Robert Warwick and Pedro de Cordoba.

The screen play was based by Kenneth Gamet and Don Ryan on an original story by Anthony Coldey and Raymond L. Schrock, and the production was directed by William Clements.

EDITORIAL—ON BEING TARDY
 Just what does it mean to one to be tardy? Why is it necessary for one to be tardy so frequently? Is it a habit? Or is it an inherited trait? The fellow about the high school tardies that seems so terrible is the fact that many of the students have the sanction of their parents to be tardy. Admit slips say as much.
 The business man does not countenance tardies in his business. There is another person who can do the job as efficiently and not be late. The other person gets the job. There is the other idea—being present by proxy—some of these people may not get married because they ever depend on some one else to say "I do" for them. A very bad state of affairs, if you ask me. It would possibly be good for the avoiders to have a proxy to do the eating, but what about the food one would fail to eat!
 Too, there are those who will be late, even to their own funeral. Fancy the supposed dead, rushing down the street behind the hearse to get into his casket at his funeral. Quite a commotion would be created, don't you think?
 Must we be late so frequently?

WHO'S WHO
 Mr. J. W. Watson
 Mr. Watson was born in Arkansas. He attended grammar school and high school in Erath county, Texas, and came to Colorado in 1905 and finished high school here. At that time, there was only one school in Colorado, Coleman school, and all the children attended that. After graduation from high school, he attended John Tarleton College, Stephenville, two years and Sam Houston Normal School, Huntsville. He taught six years in rural schools here. He was on the Board of Trustees at Abilene Christian college and has been on the board here for sixteen years and was president ten years. In his spare time he is engaged in farming and stock-raising. He devotes quite a bit of his time to his church, the Church of Christ.
 Mr. Watson does not care much for picture shows. He likes to read and likes his work. He enjoys traveling and for recreation he likes to fish. His work and his family are his real interest and hobby.
 Mr. Watson has twinkling blue eyes, white wavy hair, and a nice, humorous smile. He is very interesting to talk with.
 Beulah Robinson
 Of course you know Beulah. Blonde hair and blue eyes and stuff—sounds good, doesn't it? Maybe you'd like to hear more about her, or even meet her sometime. She's just gobs and gobs of fun. A member of the Junior class (president twice formerly, by the way) and foxy she is, Beulah is one of our prize debaters. (Hm-mm-m-m, she likes to argue?) Oh, yes, she has many distinctions, but you must know about her already.
 "I don't have a heart throb in Hollywood. I don't care for Clark Gable's ears; I don't like Robert Taylor's widow's peak; I don't go for the way Ronald Coleman walks, etc. So I just stick to Colorado boys." Which is indeed a compliment for you, boys. Take it from me.

HONOR ROLL ADDITIONS
 Again we find it necessary for us to make corrections. Yes, we will make mistakes, therefore we must be human.
 We congratulate the following for making the "B" Honor Roll:
 Freshman—Jackie Thorpe . . . 88
 Sophomore—
 Mary Blanche Hooks . . . 91
 Junior—M. A. Webb . . . 88

SPANISH BANQUET
 Tuesday night 29 Spanish students, members of the Pan American Student Forum, met at Mrs. A. L. Whip-

MY KITTY
 Kitty Midnight, come here
 And I will whisper in your ear;
 If you will be real nice
 I'll find you a nest of mice.

We looked half the day
 'Till we had no time to play;
 At last we found the mice
 For my kitty had been real nice.

When I turned on the light
 The mice scampered out of sight;
 That night while I was in bed
 I dreamed the mice were all dead.
 —Minnie Lee Strain.

STARS
 A swift falling star is a breathless wish
 Brightening the stellate heavens above.
 Ephemeral is its gleam in the cur-
 tained night
 As darkness makes way for its shimmering flight.

But lovelier to me is the constant star
 Which by its faithful light guides men.
 It shows the shepherd his roaming flocks
 And steers the seamen from perilous rocks.
 —Freddie Watson.

SCHOOL
 School is a grand place
 To study and play;
 Where little girls wear their lace
 And teachers grow gray.

The teachers may get mad
 But when it is all over
 The pupil will find the teacher sad
 And will say, "Thank gosh, that's over!"

When we get out of college
 And know the golden rule;
 We may think we have a lot of knowledge.

The Judging team was unsuccessful in placing among the high six teams in the judging contest at San Angelo Friday at 9 a.m.—maybe it was because they had to arise and prepare to leave Professor Shillingburg's house at 4:30 in the morning. Incidentally Lee Brown didn't accompany the other boys, he arrived at 6 o'clock.

CAMPUS CAMERA
 Commercial Law studies have trekked to and from the courthouse of late. Though misleading, they all contend they've been courtin'. . . . The O.F.P. (Off Feminines Forever 'n' Ever Club) has observed their pledge week. Most of the pledges have obeyed the rules with no ill effects. Hm-mm-m. . . . The members of Colorado City's efficient law enforcement committee were very busy Sunday night. The moral is: Don't drive without lights even if you are the Astorbills. . . . Marge Hamilton ambled to the show one afternoon plus escort. However, she liked the show so-o-o well she ambled, again that night—different squire though. . . . Some CHS Tarzans-to-be have expressed the fact that Tech's monopoly on their one-and-onlys is beginning to grow a lengthy beard. . . . Miss Yates' kid sister, Mary, has been pleasuring ve old school with her presence. 'Spose that's why the Chee-if-only-I-were-older lament is in circulation. . . . Soph Whipkey celebrated a birthday at Slim Lander's ranch over the week-end. No casualties reported. . . . The band has begun sincere work-toward the contest next month. Daily marching and practice are the chief accomplishments. . . . Beware, all you Seniors. The poem of the week is slung at you!

One who thinks he's pretty hot!
 One who thinks of others not—
 That's what I call a Senior.
 One who struts on through the hall
 One who towers, but is not tall—
 That's what I call a Senior.
 One who's nothing but a dope,
 Who doesn't care or even hope,
 Around whose neck should be a rope—
 That's what I call a Senior.

BROUGHT FROM ANGELO
 Willie Oberlechner, 50, was returned last week from San Angelo to face trial on a charge of removing mortgaged property. He was indicted by the grand jury during its final session last week. Oberlechner was arrested in San Angelo Thursday and held for Mitchell county officers.

HERE FROM DUMAS
 Mr. and Mrs. Morton J. Smith, Jr., of Dumas, Texas, visited Mrs. Smith's father, R. U. Bean, and her sister, Mrs. Truman Henderson, at Westbrook during the week-end. Mrs. Smith is the former Kate Bean.
 It's got to be good to be advertised.

SEE MANDO THE MAGICIAN
 With less than a month to go before the band contest, the C.H.S. band set to work in earnest on contest numbers. Only one thing stood dark in the view of the swingsters. Where are they going to get new uniforms? Why does the best band in the state of Texas have to wear uniforms that are ten years old? If you want to know it is because we get no support, don't get us wrong, we're not begging for anything but we would appreciate your cooperation. This band represents our city so why not give them your full support. Friday night "Mando the Magician" will appear at the Colorado High school auditorium, the band gets a per cent of all gate receipts, so if you want to see the band with new uniforms, buy a ticket for this show. All band members will have tickets to sell and they may be obtained by phoning the Colorado High school. Don't forget Friday night at the Colorado High school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

WESTBROOK M. E. CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Here we are again for just a short chat. It seems that Spring is almost here again. Had you ever thought how good God had been to you and yours. How that He smiles upon us with so many good things to enjoy all along the way. Of course we all have our troubles and sorrows, but all and all the things that come to brighten our way outweigh the losses and He just keeps on smiling on us the things that go to make life happy.
 I sometimes wonder how He can continue the good things when we are so neglectful towards Him. We are so slow in our duties towards Him. We seem to think but little about our duties to Him, and how important it is for us to be workers together with Him, and how dependent God is upon us to get those who are about us that are lost saved. For He says for us to go and carry the good tidings to all men. Now of course He could have given this great and wonderful task to the angels, but He did not. He gave it to all those who will work for Him. So you see that you have a big job doing the things that would go towards building His kingdom, and getting things ready for His return. For just as sure as He went away He will come again. At the rate we are going how long will it take us to get things ready for Him, or if He should come now I wonder if we would be ready for Him. Of course we might as individuals be able to squeeze through, but what about the other fellow who may be lost because we failed to give him a brotherly hand, for after all heaven is the consequence of living the true Christian life.
 Now let's just talk for a few minutes about living a Christian life. What are some of the things that are expected of us as Christians? Is it to just go on as before? I will say no, for to be a Christian means that we have been made a new man in Christ Jesus. We will want to shun all evil. We will cut loose from the old crowd instead of going on picnics on the Sabbath day we will want to go to church and attend to the things that go to making our community better. There are so many things that both the world and the church does that you cannot draw a line between them. That, my friends is a bad sign. Christians should keep themselves unspotted from the world.
 Now don't you come be with us. Oh, I don't mean for you to leave your own community to be here, but go to your own church. But if you live close enough to come be with us we would be so glad to have you. Come be with us next Sunday for all services of the day and we will try to help you for I believe we may have the very message you should hear. Come one and all, let's sing His praises together and read the 23rd Psalm together.
 Your friend and pastor,
 R. B. WALDEN.

She fixed the Sophs page to look nice. The Seniors have been wishing for an entertainment and at last they have one. The Seniors and some of the Juniors are going on a weiner roast out in the hills close to the Hardcastle home. The entertainment is given in honor of A. G. Board's 19th birthday. We hope everyone has a good time.
JUNIOR NEWS
 The Junior play "A Million Dollar Joke" will be presented at the Westbrook High school Friday night, March the 10th.
 The cast includes:
 Mrs. Eustis Mattie Byrd
 Peggy Eustis Ruth Smith
 Percival Smith Gerald Anderson
 Bill Jones Pete Hines
 Harold Bentley Jackie Hamilton
 Bossier Arkwright Van Boston
 David Morgan James Skelton
 Alicia Morgan Helen Moon
 Honor Bright Mary Bullock
 Miss Gibbs Thelma Sweet
 Everybody be sure and come to the play. It will be a full evening of entertainment. There are all kinds of characters from a tongue-tied boy to a Senator.

The Juniors bought an extra page in the Annual and we are going to put a picture of the football queen on half of the page and snapshots of the Junior class on the other half. Mattie Blanch Byrd has been absent from school the last few days because of illness.
SOPHOMORE NEWS
 The Sophs are wearing a great big smile and making the best of this awful tasting dirt. But most of them I believe would rather give a frown but it would not help matters.
 The Junior girls playground ball seems to be able to progress a little. At any rate we sure like to try to play ball.
 The V. A. boys haven't finished their exams yet. But the rest of the others have taken the tests and forgotten about them. Or at least I hope they leave my mind pretty soon.
 The Home Making girls spent the Friday afternoon enjoying serving the chamber of commerce men. We hope we made a swell impression for our teacher at any rate. I'll bet lots of those men made big impressions or what! By throwing buns so hard.
 The Public School Music class tried to entertain the chamber of commerce men but how do we know we did. Mr. Hood why didn't you make us quit "singing"?

Ansel what on earth is the matter with you? (Could it be that his girl has gone and left him.) The question cannot be decided upon.
 Kenneth has been acting so silly or queer the last few days, but the solution has been solved. He has been estimating to see how much larger Jackie is than he. Kenneth you'd better be careful!
 Melba Ruth Adams.
SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The Seventh grade had their teeth examined today. And what's the matter with us. Everyone had something wrong. Why didn't Miss Mohon have her teeth examined when we did. When Dr. May finished examining Miss Mohon he told her to give her slip to her teacher. Was her face red when she came back to the room? Seems as though Charles Skelton's Plymouth is going places—he got his driver's license Tuesday.

Charles Candler has his movie projector at school and we may see a film soon. Nellie says she is in bad company the Seventh grade can't seem to get their lessons lately.

'THINGS YOU DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT COL-TEX' IS SUBJECT OF ARTICLE IN THE CHALLENGE

"Things You Didn't Know About Col-Tex" is the subject of an informational article appearing in last week's issue of The Challenge, published weekly by the Col-Tex bulk plant and service stations with N. H. White, Jr., as editor and Jake Richardson as manager.
 Since the Col-Tex refinery and its associated units are regarded as the backbone industry of Colorado proper, the facts contained in this article should be of general interest. The article follows:
 "You didn't know that the Col-Tex plant ran a total of over 112,000,000 gallons of crude oil through their system during the year 1938. . . .
 "That we produced over 31,000,000 gallons of gasoline, which would run a single car over 465,000,000 miles, or over 18,630 times around the world. The daily output of the plant would run 6,300 cars 200 miles a day. . . .
 "That over 12,000 car loads of products were shipped from our plant during the year, which number would make over 240 train loads of 50 cars each. . . .
 "That we produced from our wells over 200,000 gallons of water per day to carry on the work of the plant, and treated over 180,000 gallons of water per day to use in our boilers which made over 1,000,000 lbs. of steam per day which was used in plant operation. . . .
 "That we shipped over 1400 cars of road asphalt and emulsions which went into highway construction over the nation. . . .
 "That over 74 carloads of roofing asphalt were shipped during the year, which number would cover a roof of sizeable proportions. . . .
 "That these are only a few of the things you perhaps did not know about our plant.
 "That you should make it a point to get acquainted with our plant, our products and our personnel. . . ."

RIGGS SHEPPERD AGAIN HEADS COURTNEY SCHOOL

STANTON.—Riggs Shepperd, superintendent of the Courtney schools for the past three years, has been reelected for another term, the Courtney school board announced.
 For seven years since his graduation from Hardin-Simmons university, Shepperd has served as a school administrator in Martin county and is now president of the teachers association in that county.
 During his term as superintendent of the Courtney schools, the system had earned 17 affiliated credits, has built a $10,000 gymnasium-auditorium and has instituted a course of applied courses in vocational home-making, farm engineering, safe driving and accident prevention as well as a complete line of commercial courses.
 Last year the school introduced a safety course which won commendation of traffic officials of this section and earned Shepperd the appointment as chairman of the safety section of the West Texas Teachers association which meets next week-end in Lubbock.
 Shepperd was born and reared in Colorado, being the son of J. W. Shepperd, Sr., and the late Mrs. Shepperd.
