

WEST TEXANS ARE ENDORSING PERMIAN BASIN MEET PLANS

CELEBRATION TO BE HELD HERE JULY 14-15 GETS RESPONSE FROM OVER TERRITORY

Endorsements of Colorado City's plan to sponsor an organization meeting and birthday celebration for the Permian basin territory on July 14 and 15 continued to be received this week as work of getting celebration arrangements into definite shape was started.

Letters concerning the celebration have been received from a number of Permian basin towns by officials of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, including Dr. W. S. Rhode, president, and H. B. Spence, manager, and by R. J. Wallace, chairman of the celebration committee.

Whole-hearted endorsements of the proposed organization have been received from Snyder, Odessa, Midland, Post, and other points. Oil leaders are reliably reported to be strongly in favor of an effective organization of Permian basin forces. Frank Kelley, a member of the celebration committee and head of the Magnolia company's land and lease office for the east half of the Permian basin, and other local oil men are contacting oil leaders of the territory on every possible occasion in regard to membership. Personal invitations are to go out in the near future, according to CC Manager Spence.

The gathering, which is being planned to include representatives of oil, agricultural, and industrial interests of the entire Permian basin, will be held in Colorado City on the 19th anniversary of the completion of the first successful well in the Permian basin. That first well was the Underwriters' T. & P. No. 1, drilled in the Westbrook field a few miles west of Colorado City. It was shot on July 16, 1920, and is still producing today.

Chambers of commerce and boards of city development in Permian basin towns have been requested to send at least three official representatives to the convention, one of the three an oil man, one an industrialist, and one an agriculturist. The organization will be designed to promote and coordinate oil, industrial, and agricultural interests throughout the basin territory. The celebration will be held in a different town in the basin each year.

COLORADO WILL BE COLORADO CITY THIS TIME NEXT THURSDAY

This time next week Colorado will have cleared the last piece of red tape involved in changing its name officially and completely to Colorado City.

By order of the postoffice department the first Colorado City postmark will go into effect on June 1—next Thursday morning. Postmaster Joe Y. Fraser stated this week that rubber stamps, printed forms, and other paraphernalia necessary to the change are being received at the office.

On and after Thursday, June 1, Coloradoans should give their return address as "Colorado City," Fraser says, and those directing mail to this place should use the new name.

Change of Colorado's name to Colorado City is unusual in that town's this size seldom change their names, Fraser points out, although name changes of small postoffices are frequent.

CENTURY PLANT IS ABOUT TO BLOOM IN THE PRITCHETT YARD

The century plant which is about to bloom in the yard of the W. J. Pritchett home on East Second street is attracting considerable attention.

Lottie Pritchett set the plant out some 10 years ago after digging it out of a mountain side between Alpine and Fort Davis. It has never given any sign of blooming before.

About six weeks ago a giant shoot covered with pinkish purple leaves began to grow out of the center of the plant. That shoot is now 13 feet high with a diameter of some six inches at the bottom. It feels as solid and sturdy as a tree. By actual measurement it has grown nearly 6 inches each 24 hours.

The plant is said to be at the top of the shoot. It is said that when such a plant has bloomed it will be exhausted and die. Although called a century plant because of the long period before its blooming, the plant is said to bloom in about 25 years in reality.

Standing in the southeast corner of the yard, the Pritchett plant is plainly visible from the highway.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD RANCH HOME; FAMILY SUFFERS GREAT LOSS

Fire thought to have originated from an exploding stove destroyed the large farm home known as the old "H. S. Little" ranch house, located about two miles north of Conaway school, late Sunday evening.

Practically all the belongings of the Herman Salley family, who occupied the home, were destroyed. Salley suffered burns on his arms and face while moving his tractor and car from their parking places near the burning house.

According to reports, the Salleys were on the front porch and did not know the house was afire until the flames were too wide-spread for them to re-enter and save their furnishings.

The house and the farm had been the property of R. S. Brennan, Jr., of Midland for several years. He bought it from J. W. Watson, who had in turn bought it from Mrs. M. S. Johnson of Howard county. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Mrs. H. S. Little. She is the mother of Mrs. Terrel McKenney of Iatan.

H. S. Little built the house more than 40 years ago for his ranch headquarters. He died there. The barn which still stands there is said to be one of the biggest in this country. It was built of lumber cut from Little's East Texas property years ago.

prise being carried on jointly by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Farm Security and the Soil Conservation service.

Kyle said the plan for each farm approved for participation in the program would include, in addition to the installation of water facilities, provisions for a complete and coordinated program of soil and water conservation and a farm and home management plan, all designed to promote profitable and stable agricultural enterprises.

"The water facilities program provides a comprehensive plan to aid farmers and ranchers in the arid and semi-arid sections of the state through small water developments," Kyle said. "The need for conservation and utilization of rainfall in the arid and semi-arid sections of the West has long been recognized but no effective means of helping the farmer and rancher with his problems was evolved until the passage of the Water Facilities Act of 1937."

Applications for work in the Champion Creeks and Lone Wolf Draw project area may be made to the project office in Colorado, the county agents or the Farm Security Administration offices.

COL-TEX FAMILIES FEAST AS REWARD FOR GOOD RECORD

OVER 450 ATTEND FISH FRY AND BARBECUE AT RUDDICK PARK

Employees of the Col-Tex refinery and their families feasted on fish and barbecue at Ruddick park Wednesday evening as a reward for the plant's 1938 safety record of only one lost-time accident. Over 450 were in attendance.

The fish, 700 pounds of them, were caught at Don Martin lake in Mexico by a group of Col-Tex employes, E. B. Willbanks, G. O. Hudson, and Wm. Brookover, with the help of Dewey Geer of Sweetwater. Hank Bryant was general chairman of arrangements, his main assistants including Wm. Greene, W. B. McGill, Lewis Cooper, Homer Winnett and others.

George Burrus of Oklahoma City, supervisor of refineries for the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation, of which the Col-Tex is a subsidiary, was among the guests. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. Tom Brighton of El Paso, research engineer, was also present.

A dance was held at the Colorado country club after the barbecue, music being furnished by Harrison's Texans from San Angelo.

The Col-Tex safety record also won for it the President's trophy offered each year by L. H. Pritchard of Oklahoma City, president of the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation, for the best safety record among Anderson-Prichard refineries. Col-Tex also won the 1937 trophy.

SATURDAY READING HERE HIGHER THAN NATION'S 'HOTTEST'

The dubious distinction of having a reading one degree above that of the "hottest point in the nation" could have been claimed by Colorado City last Saturday if anybody has been cool enough to remember to claim it.

Official government reading here was 104 degrees. Abilene, with a mere 103 degrees, was reported as the hottest place in the country. Big Spring had 102 degrees, Midland an even 100.

Saturday's reading was the highest for the year here, and the day was said by old-timers to be one of the hottest ever experienced here in mid-May.

WEDNESDAY RAIN BRINGS MAY TOTAL TO MORE THAN 2.5

RAIN FELL SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST OF TOWN LAST FRIDAY

Boosting the May total to more than 2.50 inches in Colorado City and vicinity, a drenching rain fell here between 6 and 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Measurements varied, even within the city limits, one gauge showing .35 inches, another .42 inches, and still another around half an inch.

A good rain was reported at Rogers, which had received little benefit from earlier rains this month. Although no report could be obtained directly from Fairview and Cutbert Thursday morning, it was believed that they also received rain. That section of the county has been consistently missed by recent rains.

Although there was only a light shower in Colorado City last Friday afternoon, it was reported that more than half an inch was received south and southwest of town. A dry strip between Conaway and Westbrook was reported soaked.

Several small tornado storms were reported over the county during Friday afternoon's blusterings. A barn was said to have been blown down at the George Plaster farm.

GALLERY OF CC'S PAST PRESIDENTS WILL BE ARRANGED

PICTURES OF FOUR MEN WILL HANG IN NEW CC OFFICE

A gallery of past presidents of the Colorado City chamber of commerce has been prepared by H. B. Spence, manager, to hang in the new office which the chamber will occupy in the Colorado hotel this week.

The pictures are 12 by 15 inches in size, all being of uniform finish. The work was done by Newsom studio of Colorado City.

Shown in the pictures are Dr. P. C. Coleman, president from the time of the chamber's organization in 1910 until his death in 1932; Judge C. H. Earnest, who filled out Dr. Coleman's unexpired term; Chas. C. Thompson, president from 1933 until 1937; Truett Barber, president 1937-1938.

Dr. W. S. Rhode succeeded Truett Barber in 1938 and is still serving.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Travis Pritchett was under an oxygen tent in the hospital Thursday morning, having been admitted early Wednesday morning for treatment of an attack of asthma.

N. R. Carroll of San Antonio, whose name was erroneously given as Terrell in last week's paper, will be moved home in a few days after having been in the hospital since last Thursday for treatment of a broken elbow and other injuries sustained some time the night before. He was picked up on the highway by a bus and brought to the hospital. He has not been able to say clearly what happened to him, but he is believed to have been the victim of a hit-and-run driver. He said he was hitch hiking toward Abilene the last he remembered.

Carey Edwards, medical patient in the hospital for several months, is showing some improvement.

Mrs. Curtis Erwin is recovering satisfactorily from an appendectomy on May 14.

Francis Winn, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Winn, is given an "o.k." report after having undergone an appendectomy on Sunday.

Critically ill is Mrs. O. R. Brown of Colorado City, admitted Wednesday as a medical patient.

Mr. Arlene Morris of Colorado City is recovering from an appendicitis operation on Monday.

Mrs. E. J. Teague of Venus, who suffered a fractured pelvis in a highway collision east of here May 17, was placed in a body cast and moved home Tuesday.

Unconscious for nearly an hour after being thrown from a horse which he was riding on the Colorado City Frontier Round-up grounds late last Thursday, Earl Cyfert was in the hospital for treatment and observation until Friday afternoon, when he was dismissed.

Mrs. Bradford Landers, major surgery patient, went home Sunday.

Sister Of Colorado Woman Wed In August

Announcement was made in Abilene Saturday of the marriage in Colorado City on August 22, 1939, of Dorris Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Turner of Abilene to Tommy Grant of Abilene, according to a story in Sunday's Abilene Reporter-News.

Mrs. Grant is a sister of Mrs. T. A. Patterson of Colorado City and the ceremony took place in the Patterson home here, the service being read by the bride's father, a retired Baptist minister, assisted by Rev. Mr. Patterson, who is pastor of First Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant are to live in Abilene. Both are graduates of the Abilene high school. Since receiving a degree from Hardin-Simmons, Mrs. Grant has been teaching school. She has just completed her second year's work in the public school at Iruan.

Mr. Grant, who has been employed in the composing room of the Abilene Reporter-News for the past nine years, is a leader in young people's activities of the First Baptist church, and scoutmaster for Abilene Troop 13. Teacher of the class of 14-year-old boys and president of the senior BYPU, Mr. Grant is also an usher at the First Baptist church.

VISION RETURNS TO MRS. Q. D. HALL AFTER OVER TWO DECADES OF LIVING IN A WORLD OF LIGHT AND SHADOW

The news ran around Colorado City like wildfire early this week:

"Grandmother Hall can see again!"
While friends and relatives exclaimed and waxed excited over the vision which has miraculously returned to her after nearly a quarter century of virtual blindness, Mrs. Q. D. Hall, now in her 80th year, stayed calm and quiet and cheerful, just as she has been all the years of her blindness.

"I don't want a fuss made about it," she told this writer Tuesday evening. "It may not last. I'm afraid to say or think too much about it for fear it won't."

She was sitting in the dusk beside her silent radio. That's been her place all these years, and one gathers that she wants to stay accustomed to the old ways so that if darkness returns to her eyes, she will not have to undergo again the pain of readjustment.

It happened Sunday morning at waking time.

"When I opened my eyes, I noticed right off that the room seemed unusually bright," Mrs. Hall says. "Something was happening to my right eye. It seemed to come and go. No, it wasn't like a curtain nor a mist, exactly. It was more like a spider web—you know how one can be in front of you and you can't see it, yet you know it's there."

"I kept rubbing my eye, and every time that web-effect went away I could see a little better. Finally it didn't come back at all."

Mrs. Hall's left eye has been entirely sightless for over 35 years, and still is. With her right eye, however, she has been able to tell daylight from dark and to tell where windows were in her room. Her vision has been so clouded that she hasn't been able to distinguish the features of her friends and her family for more than 20 years. She has not been out of her room in nearly 10 years.

In all the years of her blindness she has never before had any slight indication of strengthening vision, she says.

It wasn't until late Sunday afternoon that Mrs. Hall mentioned to anyone that she was seeing things. She just sat in her usual place, looking about at objects she hadn't seen in so many years.

"And I looked out the window and saw a tree—it was so pretty." The trees which she can see from her window are mostly small locust trees.

The first remark she made, partly to show her vision, partly to test it for her own satisfaction, was to her companion and housekeeper, Mrs. Willie Workman. In the afternoon dusk of her room she said to Mrs. Workman, "Don't you have something white around your head? Mrs. Workman has snow-white hair."

After that she made other remarks to various friends and relatives. She asked her grandson, Q. D. Shepperd, why he was wearing dark glasses. She looked at a picture of her great-grandson, J. W. Shepperd III of Alpine, whom she has heard and touched but never seen, and remarked about the way his cap set on the side of his head.

When word of what had happened to her got about, it was practically "open house" at the Hall home. Mrs. Hall's friends came in a steady stream, and she welcomed them, asking to have this or that particular one come "so I can see what she looks like." She was a little disappointed in the way some of them have aged since she last saw their features.

"I don't like that little hat that you're wearing," she remarked to one caller.

As for her plans, she hasn't any yet. "If I keep on seeing this well," she said, "I think I'll have them move me out on the porch. And I may go riding later on. Riding isn't any fun when you can't see, you know, not only because you can't see but because the lurches and the stopping and starting bother you. Just try riding blindfolded some time and see how much you enjoy it."

She wants to see her only son, Harry Hall of Clovis, N. M., her great-grandchildren of Alpine, and her other two grandsons besides the one in Colorado City, Riggs of Stanton and J. W. Shepperd, Jr., of Alpine.

Her only daughter, Mrs. J. W. Shepperd, the former Maude Hall, died in October. One of the first things Mrs. Hall asked to see this week was a picture which was made of Mrs. Shepperd a short time before her

EUGENE HALEY TO BE TCU GRADUATE

FORT WORTH.—Eugene Haley, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Haley of Colorado City, will be graduated from Texas Christian University at the 67th annual commencement exercises Monday, June 5, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The commencement address for the class of 1939 will be delivered by Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, dean of the College of Religion of Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., and president of T. C. U. from 1911 to 1915.

There are 162 candidates for degrees in the class of '39.

Haley's major field of study is psychology. During his sophomore year he won male acting honors in the Freshman-Sophomore Play Contest, took first prize in the Bryson Poetry Contest, was elected as most representative student from the art department and was one of the ten most active on the campus. He has shown great skill at interior decorating, having done the Men's Club Room and the Literature of the Southwest Room in the school library. Eight clubs have listed Haley as a member, and he has held offices in three of these.

COLORADO GOLFERS CARRY OFF HONORS AT STERLING CITY

Winning everything but the championship, a group of Colorado City golfers played in the Sterling City Country club's invitational tournament Sunday.

E. C. Nix won the first flight, Charles Smith the second and Sam Bodzin the third with Abe Dolman as runner-up.

Others playing in the tournament from here were Malcolm Mayes, Joe Cox, John Shropshire, Q. D. Shepperd, Raymond Gary, Dr. Oscar Rhode, and Grover Williams.

Mrs. Q. D. Shepperd and Mrs. Chas. Smith also attended the tournament from Colorado City.

Mrs. Hall's husband, Q. D. Hall, died last year. The Halls came to Mitchell county in 1883. Mrs. Hall has been a member of First Methodist church here for around 55 years.

Mrs. Hall's blindness had its beginning when she had measles at the age of 15. Because the rest of her family was ill at the same time, she had to go to work before she had thoroughly recovered and her trouble began when she got too hot while cooking.

Neuralgia began in the left eye. The pain was intense, and at times, Mrs. Hall recalls, her eyeball would swell fit to burst. Doctors told her that the pain had to be stopped or it would burst, but opiates were the only help she could get.

As the eye grew blind, the pain lessened. Doctors told her this was because pain was ossifying the nerve, and that when the nerve was entirely ossified there would be no more pain, but there would also be no more sight. They predicted, however, that the neuralgia, after blinding one eye, would begin in the other, and their predictions came true to the letter.

Because her blindness came so gradually and because it meant, at least, relief from her excruciating pain, Mrs. Hall says that she never had any great difficulty in adjusting herself to darkened vision. Her friends will point out, however, that she has never failed to adjust herself courageously, cheerfully, and quietly to any situation which life has brought her.

AT LEAST NINE COLORADO CITIANS ARE FINISHING AT COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES

Although an accurate check-up on college graduates living outside Colorado City in Mitchell county is not possible, it is known that Wilma Jean Berry, daughter of Mrs. Hattie Berry of Westbrook, is among graduates at Howard Payne college, Brownwood.

Four will be receiving degrees at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, on Monday morning. One of the four, Lea Swope, is a member of the Colorado High school faculty. The others are John Tom Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Merritt; Robert Earl Wulfjen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen; and Bill Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hicks.

Two were among John Tarleton graduates at Stephenville on Sunday, these being Virgil Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker of near Colorado City, and Blanche McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McCarty, also of near Colorado City. Tarleton is a junior college.

George Kiker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kiker, will be among University of Texas graduates on June 5. He is an honor student in business administration.

Eugene Haley will receive his degree from Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, on June 5. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Haley of First Christian church. Lenn Bodine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenn Bodine, Sr., of Buford, is listed with the senior class of Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene.

SNYDER TO COOPERATE IN OIL CELEBRATION HERE ON JULY 14-15

SNYDER.—Paul C. Teas, Maurice Brownfield and G. M. Henzelman have been appointed by the chamber of commerce board of directors to cooperate with Colorado City officials in jointly celebrating the Permian basin's first discovery of oil in Mitchell county in July, 1920.

Wallace, chairman of the celebration committee at Colorado City, and others plan a permanent organization of the Permian basin to include a West Texas-wide celebration of the vast basin's first discovery of oil in Mitchell county. Finding of oil in Mitchell started development of the Permian basin, recognized as one of the nation's greatest oil reserves.

THOUSANDS TO TOUR STATE THIS YEAR

GOOD YEAR SEEN BY CONOCO TRAVEL BUREAU

Approximately 400,000 automobile vacationists served through the Conoco Travel Bureau are expected to spend about $40,200,000 in Texas this year, according to a report issued by Joe H. Thompson, national director of the bureau and well-known travel expert.

Based on a survey of the number of motorists who received hotel, route and other information in 1938 and a study of the number of inquiries reaching the Conoco Bureau since the first of the year, Thompson said:

"We can safely say that this will be a banner year for this state. Motorists representing practically every state in the Union, and Canada, have written us asking for route information about Texas."

From actual records of the spending habits in earlier years, Thompson gave the following analysis of the probable expenditures of Conoco visitors in 1939: "About $10,100,000 will be left in retail stores; about $8,300,000 will be spent on food and meals; $8,000,000 will go for gasoline, oil and car repairs; another $8,000,000 will be claimed by hotels and tourist houses; $3,200,000 will be spent for recreation and $2,400,000 for refreshments, souvenirs and miscellaneous items."

HOME CONSTRUCTION FINANCING IN TEXAS EXCEEDS RECORDS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—New home construction financing in Texas, during April, exceeded all previous records, according to the monthly report of the Federal Home Loan-Bank of Little Rock. Home loans totaling $2,108,000 were made to 1,014 Texans last month by the 119 insured savings and loan associations in the state affiliated with the Bank, the proceeds of over half of which were used to build new houses.

April was the third consecutive month in which the volume of lending done was well in excess of two million dollars for a thirty-day period. The compilation prepared by the Bank includes the figures of the Colorado Federal Savings and Loan Association, by which the local area is served.

Since January 1st, the insured associations in Texas have made 4,000 home loans totaling $8,153,000 which is a gain of $1,600,000 over the same four months period a year ago. The loans average about $2,000 each, being widely distributed, thus many owners of small homes were served. Collections by the associations on loans previously made were reported to be excellent.

Savings and investment funds in the insured Texas associations continue to increase the report stated. The cash receipts from investors since January 1st total $8,580,000 as compared with $5,075,000 in 1938. Officers of the Bank attributed the increase to better business conditions prevailing throughout the state, and to the fact that funds placed in the associations are insured against loss up to $5,000 for each account by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the Federal government.

At least one-third of the 48 states—including several in the South—have laws taxing heavily cottonseed oil products, according to a survey made by the National Cotton Council of America.

Mrs. H. Baxter, Mrs. Bill Fowler, and Mrs. Harlow. The club adjourned to meet June 2 with Mrs. Jim Crawford. It was also decided for everyone to meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Andrews at 7:30 then all go together to Mrs. Crawford's home.

IN MEMORIAM

We wish to pause here, in our rush, to remember our beloved sister, Mrs. Lydia Hood McIntosh, deceased. She is survived by five brothers, R. A. Hood, J. M. Hood, Bryan Hood, Walter Hood; one sister, Minnie Burkhead; one half sister, May Rosson, a husband, two sons and a daughter.

Sister Lydia was born Sept. 18, 1887, was baptized into the Spade Missionary Baptist Church in 1907. She taught in the public schools of Mitchell county several years, after which she moved to Dalhart, Texas, with her family where she lived until her death, April 12, 1939. She lived a consistent Christian life. She was afflicted and ill many months prior to her death, all of which she bore patiently, seeking the will of God. Her family, relatives, and host of friends regret the loss of her companionship and association, but are fully conscious that her going was the Father's will, that He knows best, that He doeth all things well, that she is, only asleep in Jesus, and is in peaceful rest. They are conscious, also, that she dwells in that home, eternal in the heavens, the home not made with hands, where all sickness, pain and disappointments are faded away.

We, the Spade Baptist church, commend the love of God and the guidance of the Holy Spirit to her husband and children, relatives and host of friends, assuring them that they have our deepest heart-felt sympathy awaiting that day when Jesus returns to gather us all in one great family, a happy reunion forevermore. Amen.

The Spade Missionary Baptist Church, Colorado, Texas.
J. O. THOMAS,
Pastor and Committee Chairman.

Cotton is the fibre of American prosperity. Consumption is the barometer that tells what price level a commodity will reach. Remember cotton during National Cotton Week, May 22-27.

One-half of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence were college-bred; 16 had "classical education; 2 were instructed entirely by tutors; and 16 had very little learning.

Angling is said to be the most popular sport in America. It is thought that 12,000,000 persons in the country engage in the pastime, although only 6,000,000 obtain fishing licenses each year.

NEW USES FOR COTTON ARE CITED; SURPLUS WOULD BE RELIEVED

COLLEGE STATION.—Use of cotton bags for 12 per cent of the 1937 fertilizer sales accounted for 10,000 bales of cotton.

A carload of sugar put up in cotton bags accounts for the production of 4 2-3 acres of average cotton land and gives work to 83 people. In 1938, America used 120,000 carloads of sugar. If it were all in cotton bags, it would have meant a half million acres of cotton.

If each of the 503,000 farm families in Texas could have a new, 50 pound home-made cotton mattress—and most families need several new mattresses—it would mean the consumption of 50,000 bales of cotton in this state alone.

Cotton bagging as a package for cotton bales, introduced last year when it was used on 17,000 bales in Texas, is superior to jute and sisal bagging from the standpoint of durability and is much preferred by spinners, who now have to comb jute and sisal fibers from the cotton.

Use of cotton bagging, cotton rope for ties and cotton patches would not only use up around 200,000 bales of cotton annually, but would reduce the gross weight of a bale of cotton by 20 pounds, and would thus offset a saving of several million dollars a year in freight and other handling charges.

These and similar examples were quoted in a letter sent to county agricultural and home demonstration agents and signed jointly by F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist, Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home improvement specialist, and Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist, all of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service. The agents were urged to give their support in every possible way to the movement to increase use of cotton.

EVEN if this is the camel that holds all records for going-without-more-drink, how long could he last if he had to start dry? Your car and your engine oil can't last either if you keep starting dry this Summer. But how can you help it?

You can't... not with any of these oils that are always in a rush to drain down to the crankcase completely.

You certainly can help it though, by getting your engine OIL-PLATED.

NEVER all down in the crankcase, no matter how long or how often you park your car, OIL-PLATING is lastingly close-knit to every inner engine surface by the action of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Patented Germ Processing creates the strong "power of attraction" that fastens non-detachable OIL-PLATING throughout your engine. Does chrome-plating drain down at a standstill? Neither does OIL-PLATING. Therefore actually in advance of starting, OIL-PLATING is ready to slide every working part into easy motion, without rasping dryness. And since OIL-PLATING doesn't fly off or fry up it helps your engine to shatter the record for going-without-more oil. That's why you want to OIL-PLATE today with Germ Processed oil, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

CLAUDETTE COLBERT, JAMES STEWART COME TO PALACE IN "IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD"

DIZZILY-PACED PICTURE IS DESCRIBED AS ANOTHER "IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT"

FORTY-SEVEN SETS FOR VIVID LOCALES

Heralding the arrival of one of the screen's most notable teamings, "It's a Wonderful World," starring Claudette Colbert with James Stewart, coming to the Palace theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, May 27, 28, and 29.

For Miss Colbert this picture marks a return to the buoyant type of comedy vehicle in which she has achieved such notable success, characterized especially by that unforgettable film, "It Happened One of Joan Crawford in "The Ice Follies of 1939" to wed Carole Lombard in "Made for Each Other," and now shares honors with Miss Colbert in "It's a Wonderful World."

Stewart is cast as Guy Johnson, a private detective hired to keep an off-married playboy out of trouble. When this millionaire playboy is accused of the murder and is sought in a solution of the murder and is caught in the act by Miss Colbert who plays Edwina Corday, a poetess. He enlists her aid and together they track down the real murderer.

In the supporting cast are such sterling players as Guy Kibbee, Nat Pendleton, Frances Drake, Edgar Kennedy and Ernest Truex.

Forty-seven sets were built for the production, all of them supposedly in and around New York. These range from elaborate night-club sequences to an apple orchard. Also listed are interiors and exteriors of a train, a yacht, a theatre, a hot-dog stand, an auto camp, a railroad trestle, a motor boat and shots of Sing Sing.

W. S. Van Dyke II directed "It's a Wonderful World," his first production since "Stand Up and Fight" and "Marie Antoinette." Dennis O'Keefe Owes Film "Break" To Clark Gable

STAR OF "KID FROM TEXAS" MIGHT STILL BE PLAYING BITS IF GABLE HADN'T CALLED PRODUCER'S ATTENTION TO HIS WORK IN "SARATOGA"

Dennis O'Keefe was discovered as a leading man when Clark Gable noticed him in a small part and his rise to fame has been unusually rapid. O'Keefe's latest triumph is in "The Kid from Texas," fast-moving comedy drama of the polo field, in which he is to be seen at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, May 28 and 29. It is the second of the sports stories series in which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, where he was discovered and where he is under contract, is featuring the tall athletic young actor.

O'Keefe was born at Fort Madison, Iowa, March 20, while his parents, Edward and Charlotte Flanagan, were on a vaudeville tour. His father teamed with Neely Edwards in their famous "Off and On" act. He was raised in the vaudeville theatres in which his father played, and schooled all over the country. When Flanagan and Edwards came to Hollywood to star in "Hall Room Boys" comedies, the youngster attended Hollywood high school.

When his father died young O'Keefe quit the study of engineering at the University of Southern California and went on the road in his father's act. He returned to Hollywood, became a plumbing supply salesman, then decided he'd try his luck in pictures. He worked as gag man for the "Our Gang" comedies, wrote two scenarios for Warner Brothers, one of which, "Don't Pull Your Punches," was produced, then went into acting, playing small bits until Gable called attention of Director Jack Conway to him in "Saratoga." As a result Harry Rapf, discoverer of many a younger star, gave him his first big "break" as the lead opposite Virginia Bruce in "Bad Man of Brimstone."

He was placed under long-term contract and given the name of Dennis O'Keefe. His real name is Edward J. Flanagan, like his father's. He lives in the San Fernando Valley on a small ranch and raises Great Dane dogs. He is athletic and an expert hunter. His mother, who was a singing violinist in vaudeville, and his sister, Hortense, live in Hollywood. O'Keefe is six feet two inches in height with blonde hair and blue eyes and weighs 175 pounds.

After "The Bad Man of Brimstone" he appeared in "Hold That Kiss" with Maureen O'Sullivan, "The Chaser," "Vacation from Love" with Florence Rice, and "Burn 'Em Up O'Connor," first of the present series.

Rivals Seek Vengeance In "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man"

W. C. Fields now has a new weapon with which to carry on his feud insults Charlie had been hurling at him, Fields finally decided to "fight wood with wood." So he designed a dummy, Oliver, who makes his public debut in Universal's "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," coming to the Palace theatre on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27.

Oliver, a funny looking chap with a typical Fields nose, high cheek bones, black hair and bushy black eyebrows, was made in the Universal carpentry shop. Then Fields figured out a very funny sequence in which he could use Oliver in "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man." Of course, Fields isn't a ventriloquist, so he wore a big false mustache when operating his dummy.

Insults Fly The first time Charlie and Oliver met on the set it was quite apparent they weren't going to be friends. Upon being introduced, Oliver immediately cracked: "So you're the hunk of sassafras root who's been making all those remarks about Mr. Fields."

For once Charlie did not get mad. Instead, he very calmly asked: "Did you say something? As a matter of fact, I dare you to say anything when Fields isn't wearing that phoney mustache."

Notable Cast Supporting Fields, Bergen and McCarthy in "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," are Mortimer Snerd, Constance Moore, Mary Forbes, Thurston Hall, Princess Baba, John Arielege, Charles Coleman, Edward Brophy, Arthur Hohl, Blacaman the animal hypnotist and radio's "Rocheester," Eddie Anderson.

The picture was produced by Lester Cowan and directed by Hollywood's ace comedy maker, George Marshall.

Whither the Young Graduate? Maybe This Holds the Answer

How the average high school student will be occupied one year from this June has been determined by a recent survey of 1,000 of last June's graduates. Teachers colleges, business colleges and vocational schools will absorb 150 graduates from the school surveyed, all in towns of approximately 3,000.

Students numbering 171 will attend college or university the first year, with a large percentage failing to return the second year. Lack of industrial opportunity has increased college enrollment. A total of 162 will remain at home without finding work. This figure includes girl graduates not planning to work.

Clerical jobs in grocery stores, filling stations, shoe stores, etc., will be filled by 236 graduates. This total includes delivery boys and "handy men," most of whom serve part time in a clerical capacity. Thirty-one salesmen also received the sheepskins this year. The latter includes house-to-house canvassers.

Agriculture will claim 150 graduates, many of whom are returning home to work. Included also are youths who are going to work on a farm for the first time. Seventy-seven are listed under a miscellaneous heading, including truck drivers, CCC enrollees, mechanics, waitresses and odd-job workers.

POULTRY PRODUCTS ARE STUDIED AT IATAN-CARR

By Mrs. Witt Hines, Reporter

Demonstrations on baking chicken and making two different kinds of chicken salad were given by Vera Crippen, county home demonstration agent, for the Iatan-Carr Home Demonstration club when it met Wednesday afternoon, May 17, with Mrs. D. J. Barber.

Mrs. F. L. Eikenberg was elected as the club's candidate for delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration association.

Plans were made for an ice cream supper and entertainment to be held at the symposium in Westbrook on Friday night, June 2. The program will be free. Proceeds from the ice cream sales will be used to carry on club work. Mrs. T. L. McKenney, chairman of finance in the club, has charge of arrangements for the entertainment.

The club also voted to represent McCall's magazine and the Crowell publications, placing Mrs. Witt Hines in charge of this matter.

Fresh strawberry ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames Van Boston, F. L. Eikenberg, Jake Rees, Witt Hines, and Herman Salley. The meeting June 1 will be with Mrs. Witt Hines.

Honor Guard Keeps Watch Over Shrine

TUESDAY, MAY 30, IS MEMORIAL DAY

ONCE a year—on Memorial Day—eyes of the nation focus on a tomb in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D. C., on which is inscribed: "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God." That those soldiers who died in service of their country shall be constantly remembered, the United States Army maintains a perpetual vigil over the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

1 On guard at all times is one soldier. The sentry detail includes three shifts of four men each. Each shift is on duty 12 hours, then is off duty 24. This sentry marches 30 paces a minute, keeps the post for two hours, then is relieved for four.

2 While waiting to go on duty, this private answers the questions of two sightseers. He and the 11 others of his detail will serve for 15 days, then be replaced by new sentries.

3 During bad weather guards use the sentry box instead of marching back and forth before the tomb. At all other times regulations provide that sentries shall stand guard outside.

4 Placing a final breath on the tomb is a time-honored custom of reverence and remembrance. Each year, in this way, many visiting dignitaries pay their respectful respects to America's Unknown Soldier.

The advertisements bring you news of better things to have and easier ways to live.

"WE, THE PEOPLE"

The older we get, and the more we watch the wheels go 'round, the more thoroughly we are sold on the assurance that there is no substitute for individual initiative and energy. The government may do great and mighty things for the people—but in the long run those things must be paid for by "we, the people." It's just as true today as it was in the beginning that "you can't make something out of nothing" or words to that effect—and when the government spends a dollar on some service to the public that dollar must come from some source other than thin air. Thus, only as the people of the nation prosper, and by that prosperity, create wealth and income which may be taxed, it is possible for this or any other government to operate efficiently—with a balanced budget. Truism perhaps—but truism from which the world appears seeking an escape in these days when we seem bent on the impossible task of lifting ourselves by our bootstraps.

GIVE PROSPERITY A CHANCE TO RETURN

When will we again have prosperity? How long will the wise ones hold us down with restrictive legislation? When will they again allow a farmer to raise crops and sell them? When will it again be lawful for a man to drill an oil well and sell the oil? When will our State Government decide to curb the swarm of highwaymen, the so-called highway patrol, and the agents of the Railroad Commission that run up and down the highways regulating everything the people try to do?

If some one will answer the last four questions, the first one would be easy to answer. Our farmers can raise plenty of crops if let alone. Our factories can turn out plenty of goods of every kind. Oil wells will spout their liquid gold if not shut in. We have broad highways to haul our commerce and plenty of trucks. Our bankers would loan the hoarded millions if they had a chance. Then, what is the matter?

All our economists of every school tell us that production has not broken down, but that distribution has failed. And no wonder. We have heaped up every kind of tax conceivable upon oil, the very life-blood of commerce. We have taxes on oil leases, on crude by the barrel, on production, on trucks, on tires and tubes, and finally have 5c a gallon tax on gasoline. This amounts to 100 per cent, for gasoline is worth only 5c a gallon wholesale. Think of taxing an article 100 per cent of its value!

We have put the brakes on our commerce and saddled an army of tax eaters that swarm about our commerce like a mess of ants.

And now it is proposed to tax transactions, which is another and severer form of taxing commerce. It is even proposed to take the ad valorem tax off altogether. As it stands, homesteads of $5,000 and less are exempt. This looks like relieving wealth entirely of its just burden and saddling it all on commerce.

A change will have to take place or we will be swamped. And there is no sign of a change in sight.

BAPTIST CHURCH

In referring to the merger of Methodist churches, Dr. George Butrick of New York makes this statement. "It is not my job to make the world Presbyterian or yours to make it Methodist, but it is our job together to make it Christian."

Dr. Butrick should have said "Make it Baptist." All the early churches established by Paul and the Apostles were Baptist churches and you were Baptized (by immersion) into the church for membership and not for salvation. Jesus himself was a Baptist. Baptized (immersed) by John.

This is a much needed rebuke. Why have names? They are condemned by the New Testament, the very book all the parties profess to follow. (1 Cor. 3:1-4.) Parties or names according to the inspired writer were an evidence of carnality in the first century of Baptist worship. Is it any less carnality now? Why not make it Baptist only?

HOME-BREW MIXES THINGS UP

Somebody sent the editor of Pickett Gazette a few bottles of home brew.

The same day he received for publication a Wedding Announcement and a Notice of an Auction Sale. Here are the results. William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm, one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention, in presence of about seventy guests, including two milch cows, six mules and one bobsled. The Rev. Mr. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope, and the bridal couple left on one good gang plow for an extended trip, with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends, with one good baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils, after ten months from date of sale, to responsible parties and some fifty chickens.

This could not happen at the Record office as nobody will send us homebrew and no one on the Record staff would drink it.

When a man is born into this natural life, the life of the flesh, in that birth he becomes a partaker of his father and mother's nature. When he is born into the spiritual world he becomes a partaker of his spiritual father's nature. Notice the contrast: Two fathers, two births, two natures, two flesh and spirit substances, two laws, and each personally subject to the law under which he was born. Nicodemus did not understand the two births, but Jesus said to him three times, "Ye must be born again." Read third chapter of John.

IN THE LOOKING GLASS

Most of the cotton belt at one time or another has looked about for some convenient goat on which to hang the blame for cotton's deplorable condition. Bitterly has blame been piled on the Civil War and the war in China, high tariffs and high taxes, the boll weevil and the dictators, Washington and the weather.

Yet during National Cotton Week it may be well for the cotton belt to look into a place it has neglected—its household mirror. There it will find a very unusual figure, one who is both partially responsible for the present condition of cotton, and the only one who has the power to bring about cotton's recovery.

The story of what others have done to cotton is tragic; but the story of what the cotton belt has done to it, and of what it has not done for it, is both tragic and inexcusable. Those to whom cotton means most have not bothered to be loyal in its use.

National Cotton Week offers the opportunity of the year for active and effective support of the agricultural product on which twenty-five million Americans depend for all or part of their income. In sponsoring it the National Cotton Council and other agencies have not asked for sacrifices or inconveniences in behalf of a public cause. Rather have they asked the people of the cotton belt to invest their money in modern merchandise offering full returns in style, smartness and serviceability. They ask the logical maintenance of an American market for one of America's greatest crops—a crop whose products give to every purchaser a little more than his money's worth.

Sixty thousand letters containing money went to the dead letter office in 1930.

If every carload of sugar sold in America last year had been packed in cotton bags, the cotton consumed would have given a day's work to nearly ten million people, or one-third of a year's work to 100,000 people. National Cotton Week is a major event looking toward increased cotton consumption.

COTTON WEEK TO SET NEW RECORD AS SALES EVENT

Devoted to the story and sale of the agricultural product which gives employment to more Americans than any other crop. National Cotton Week has been proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt for the week beginning May 22.

The nationwide observance is the product of unopposed cooperation on the part of those who grow, handle and process cotton and cotton goods.

National Cotton Week is sponsored by the National Cotton Council of America and the Cotton Textile Institute, together representing virtually every phase of the cotton industry. Cooperation is further added this year by the Institute of Distribution, representing 109 chain store companies; and the National Cotton Consumption Council, representing several thousand cotton consuming establishments.

In the eight years since its inception, National Cotton Week has demonstrated its value, yet in none of these years has its significance been so great or its opportunities so outstanding as those of the current season.

Never before has cotton offered such smartness of style or quality of merchandise as that which it will present to the people of America from May 22 to May 29.

Besides the festive spirit of the week's program, National Cotton Week will constitute the greatest cotton sales event of the year, with more than 75,000 of America's retail merchants participating.

More than 400 miles of store windows will display cotton fabrics and cotton products, with customers expected to spend more than $3,000,000 for cotton materials during the week.

The nation's dependence upon cotton is clearly illustrated by the fact that almost 20 per cent of America's population is dependent upon its production, processing and distribution. More than 11,000,000 Americans, comprising 2½ million families, live upon cotton farms and are dependent upon consumption of American cotton for their livelihood. They live in 19 of the 48 states, ranging throughout the entire Cotton Belt.

An additional 14 million are engaged in transporting, marketing, processing, and distributing cotton and its products.

Many women and girls of the South and West are being asked—"Were you helped by CARDUI?" In twelve cities first visited by Reporters, 93 per cent of all the users queried said they were definitely benefited! CARDUI is a good stimulator of appetite and digestion; thus it assists women to build resistance and so helps them avoid pains of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Summertime BRINGS UP THE QUESTION OF Kitchen Comfort!

Cooler is the 1939 Gas Range because of heavy oven insulation which keeps heat in the oven out of your kitchen. Accurate oven heat control, too, eliminates the need of oven watching as well as overheating. It is Cooler because the oven need not be used for broiling, as many of the new models have separate, smokeless broilers using less heat. And the 1939 Gas Range is cooler because most top burner cooking can now be done on the new low-heat simmer burners, which keep foods boiling with minimum use of heat, thus eliminating most steam and vapors. Think what these features mean in Kitchen Comfort.

PLAN NOW FOR Kitchen Comfort

Don't go through another summer in an uncomfortable kitchen. Trade your old range for a cool-cooking 1939 gas range. Your meals then will be easier prepared in a cooler kitchen and at less cost!

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Although nearly everything which has ever appeared in this column about J. Ralph Lee has dealt with his prankishness and mischief-making, this column does recognize clearly that Colorado City hasn't a citizen who is more seriously concerned about the town's progress and welfare than Mr. Lee is at all times. . . . Lately he's been doing a lot of reading after Peter Molyneux's "Texas Weekly," and the other day he found in it a few paragraphs which he considered pithy enough to draw rings around and underscore. . . . They are included in an article titled, "Vacation Business is Big Business." . . . After pointing out that an average of 6,000,000 tourists go through Texas each summer and that this number could be doubled with concerted effort this year of World Fairs, the article quotes Lynn Landrum, "Thinking Out Loud" from page columnist of the Dallas Morning News, in the following thoughts which Mr. Lee drew rings around: "The sigh which goes up from the little towns that there is nothing to do but try up and die is self-pity, but it is not self-help. It is not even good sense. Vacation time is the time of all times for the little town to come into its own. Did you ever hear of a dude ranch that had a population of a hundred thousand and during any part of the year? Yet people go to dude ranches for vacations. Why? Because a planned effort is made for their entertainment. Pretty nearly every little town has a creek or a lake. How many little towns see it that the nearby waters are stocked with fish so that visitors will be glad to come there for fishing? Pretty nearly every little town has a restaurant. How many little towns take pains to see that that restaurant looks scrubbed and groomed and immaculate? Pretty nearly every little town has soil and sunshine and rain. How many little towns make use of such things to plant flowers—not here and there, but all over town? It comes down to this for little towns: The little town that gets ready for visitors has visitors; the little town that gets ready to die does die."

Now in his first year of becoming a sheep raiser on the side, Joe Johnson of the Longfellow community recently sheared upward of 300 pounds of wool from his flock of some 30 sheep. . . . His flock this year has increased a lamb for every ewe, one ewe having had twins to make up for another who didn't make any contribution to the "future of the race."

Two Coloradans can now "appreciate" the electric chair at Huntsville after sitting in it for a moment while touring the prison system there last week. . . . The two are Eddie Pylard and Harold Bennett. . . . The thing they "appreciate" most is not the fact that they sat in it—and they are positive in the statement that it wasn't built with any remote consideration for the comfort of the sitter-downer—but the fact that, after having sat in it, they could get up and walk away under their own power. . . .

Smatterings: Whether they were baby cyclones or giant whirlwinds, those black twisty things that swayed around among the storm clouds in at least two parts of the sky last Friday afternoon had a lot of people looking and talking. . . . The officer who was fatally shot by a hitch hiker in the Monahans jail last week was the one who succeeded R. D. Wigley, now of Colorado City, on the Monahans law force. . . . Zollie C. Steakley, Sweetwater attorney who is known hereabouts for his campaigning activities of recent years, is going to marry Leona Ruth Butler of Sweetwater on Sunday, June 4. . . . The earliest authentic mention of Colorado City's site that we've ever browsed across was in a recent newspaper article which said that a surveying crew for what later became the Texas & Pacific railroad camped on the river here in 1874. . . .

Admitting mistakes seems to be the thing we get best at as the years go by, perhaps because it's the thing we get the most practice at. . . . Last week, among other things, our story on Mrs. Bill Coffey's kindergarten recital somehow got into print without the name of one of the little pupils, Nancy Jane Dorn, daughter of the Huron Dorns. . . . The name was given to us and, unless we are really going off the deep end at last, we recall typing it into the story—but all that's neither here nor there, the big item being that Nancy Jane's duet with Ben Kirby Rector was all left out by the time the story got before the public eye. . . . We're sorry, Nancy Jane. . . .

And now Colorado City has mail order shoppers from as far away as North Carolina. . . . Last week Max Berman, owner of the department store bearing his name, received a letter from a man living in Saluda, North Carolina, sending sizes and specifications for a new pair of shoes. . . . The man, in case you haven't guessed it, was Rev. W. M. Elliott, Sr., long-time pastor of First Presbyterian church here and now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Saluda, N. C. . . .

While visiting here Tuesday after a vacation stay with the Hope Herringtons in Carizzo Springs, Mrs. Jim Ferguson, who now calls Sweetwater home, told of seeing the Herringtons gather a measly 30 crates of strawberries off of two acres in one day. . . . It would seem that making boots, mending shoes, and otherwise working with leather isn't all the Hope Herringtons know how to do, even though that was their livelihood here for many years before they yielded to the call of "the valley" . . .

If you go to a schoolhouse and spend the morning you're going to school, and if you go to school you've got to have a book. In the perfectly logical opinion of little Patricia Prichard, daughter of the Neal Prichards. . . . That's why Mrs. Prichard had to supply Pat with a school-like book this week, Pat being one of the youngsters on whom Colorado High school home ec students are trying their best nursery maneuvers in carrying out their summer project and it being Pat's idea that you can't authentically go to school without a book. . . .

If you read this column last week (and how nice and brave we think you are if you're reading it two weeks in succession!) you saw a squib we had about the name similarities of the Earl Bibb family of Big Springs and the Earl Bibby family of Colorado City, the former couple having a daughter named Dora Jean and the latter a daughter named Dora Jane. . . . At the time the Earl Bibbs were people we'd never seen or heard of—they were just the possessors of what was to us an eye-catching name when we browsed among the exchange newspapers on our desk. . . . Then this week we picked up the Big Spring Herald and read this item: "Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bibb and daughter, Dora Jean, spent Sunday in Colorado City visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson on their ranch south of town." . . . Well—it's a small world, or something like that. . . . Just between us folks, we're glad that we haven't been making any uncalculated puns about the matter—but it's a wonder Newest business enterprise in Colorado City is the Swanky Golf club which Alfred Rhode and Joe Henry Smoot will own and operate on a vacant lot south of the junior high school building. . . . They've been working from before sun-up until after sun-down to get it ready, doing all the work themselves. . . . This is their first business venture. . . .

Caution against the somewhat unexplainable tendency to write Colorado City, Colorado, rather than Colorado City, Texas, was issued this week by Joe Y. Fraser, postmaster, as he made arrangements for Colorado's name change to go into effect at the postoffice next Thursday morning, June 1. . . . Fraser explains that there used to be a Colorado City, Colorado. . . . This little postoffice was long ago attached to Colorado Springs as a station and it is no longer even called Colorado City, but the fact that there once was such a postoffice causes confusion when that address is written on a letter. . . . There's always the remote possibility that such a letter is meant for the used-to-be station. . . . Psychology or something is involved in the fact that some people who would never have written anything but Colorado, Texas, will write Colorado City, Colorado, when using the new name. . . . It's already happened to us. . . . The other day we received an invitation—and it was an eating invitation, too—long after the eating was over because the letter containing it had been addressed to Colorado City, Colorado, and had been all the way to the state of Colorado.

About the most unusual commencement we've heard about this spring was one which Mrs. J. H. Muns of 604 Locust street attended (we weren't able to find out where). . . . The entire program was given in the dark, speech-making, diploma-giving, and all. . . . Lights went off just as the program began, and there was only one flashlight in the house. . . .

SONG APPEAL TO CITIZENS OF MITCHELL COUNTY

Mitchell County Singing Convention will convene in the Westbrook Baptist tabernacle first Sunday in June. Every singer and lover of music is invited to attend. But I leave that part of the invitation to the West Side president. . . .

As president of Mitchell County Singing convention I wish to step forward for a movement to stress on the minds and hearts of every citizen of Mitchell county that there is a deep need for a revival in song. . . . I would like to urge you who are opposed to such gatherings, and who are not so strong in favor of, and who are careless and indifferent, to please attend a convention when possible. If you have been misled in some way, probably you are justified in your opinion. But because we didn't like the president the last time we went, or some leader who "popped" off some uncanny expression, or because the books we use are rotten, or some of the songs are "jazz" music, or we just don't think it's carrying on in the right spirit, is no reason why we should fall out with singing congregations and afternoon class singing and quit. In doing so, you are not only hindering the progress of Gospel singing, but the saddest of all, you are losing one of the greatest God-given privileges that is yours to enjoy. . . . A few years back when our singing interest was at its height it was probably not what it should have been. We seem to have left the Almighty out of it. But since, we have "hit bottom." Now by the help of the Almighty, through his leadership and with the cooperation of every true sane-thinking citizen of Mitchell county we hope to come back stronger than ever before and be recognized as one of the best singing counties in the state of Texas and feel that each of us as individuals have had a part in establishing something our county and state that is worthwhile for the cause of our master, and for the betterment of humanity. And by so doing, making a better place for our coming generation to live. . . .

Maybe your car doesn't squeak... NOW!

BUT IT WILL one of these days, if it's not properly lubricated. And the squeak, as the doctors say, is a symptom, not the disease. . . . which, in the case of an automobile, is the wear of friction. . . . which results in inefficient, frequently unsafe operation of your car and sometimes heavy repair bills. . . . An ounce of prevention, you'll agree, is well worth the pound of cure, so it's a good idea to have your car lubricated—properly lubricated, that is—at regular intervals. Your automobile manufacturer agrees with us in that statement, as a look at his instruction book shows. . . . You will find the prescription for your possible lubrication ailments in the experience of literally thousands of fellow motorists throughout the state: at the end of every 1,000 miles of driving, on an average, take your car to the nearest Humble Service Station and have it lubricated according to the Humble chart. . . . Every Humble Service Station is fully equipped with modern tools to do the work and completely stocked with the necessary lubricants, and station men have been carefully trained. . . .
