Sudan Man Found Dead In Pickup

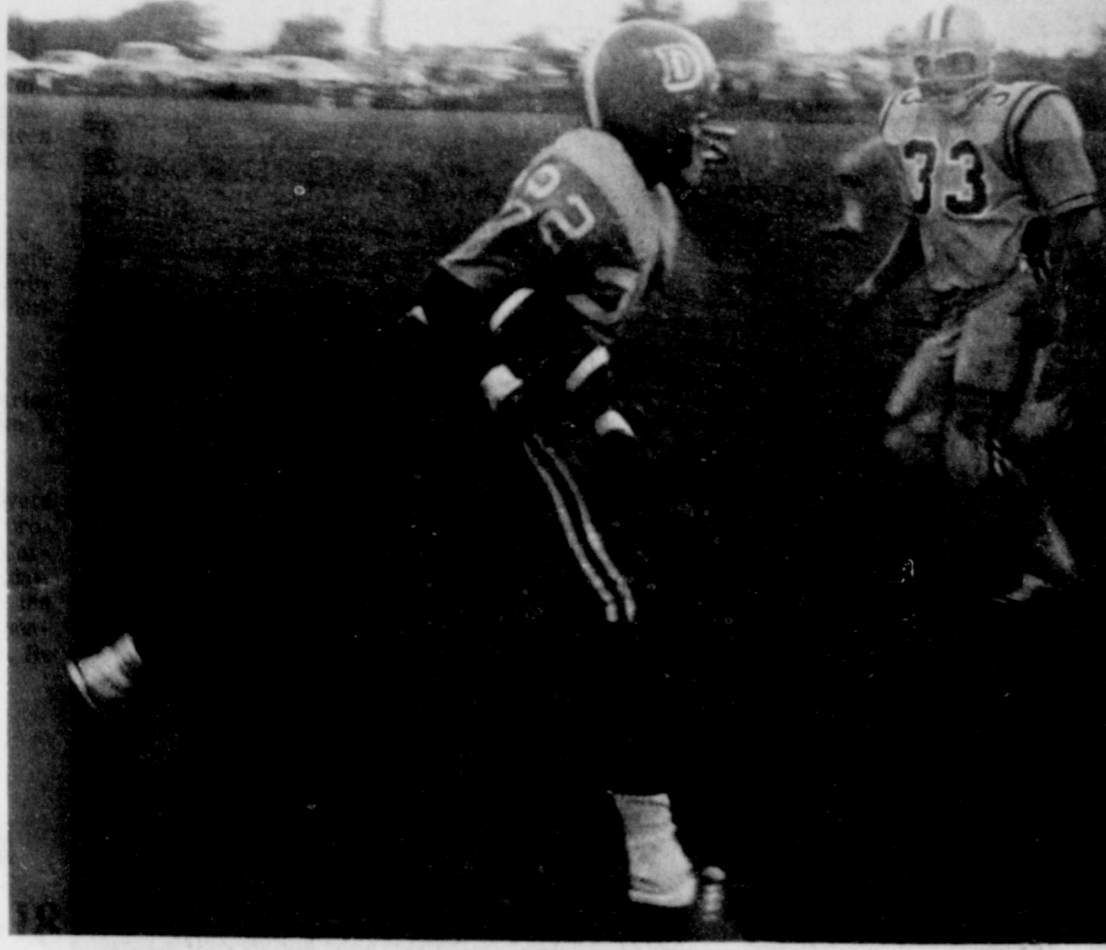

L.C. (Christy) Rudd, 54, of Sudan was found dead in his pickup at a vacant farm house nine and a half miles east of Muleshoe around 1 p.m. Thursday. Lamb County Precinct Five Justice of the Peace W.T. Vereen of Sudan ruled that he died of carbon monoxide poisoning. He had been dead for a week to 10 days the JP reported.

His pickup was found inside a deserted garage. A hose had been run from the tailpipe into the left window, indicating to the justice of the peace that the death was suicide.

He lived at 504 Wilson in Sudan and had lived in the area since 1926, moving from Altus, Okla.

Rudd was born December 25, 1918, in Altus. He was a farmer, a veteran of World War II, a member of the First Baptist Church.

BLOCKED OUT . . . Dimmitt's Robert Mayberry tries running with the football Friday night, but finds the going a little tough with David Wheat (33) of Muleshoe coming towards him. The Mules won their season opener against Dimmitt by a score of 20 to 6. The Mules traveled to Dimmitt for the game and scored touchdowns in all of the quarters except the last one. David Wheat was picked as the game's leading rusher as he rushed for a total of 147 yards. The Mules will tackle Olton next Friday night at Olton.

Triticale Products To Open Plant Here

C.E. Briggs, president of Triticale Foods, Inc., has announced that this organization will establish headquarters here in Muleshoe and will be producing Triticale Pacake and Waffle Mix here.

The plant will employ six to ten people at first, expanding to 15 to 20 in a year's time. The plant will be located at 101 West Avenue B, on the Corner of First Street and Avenue B, after the building is remodeled. Briggs stated that the plant will begin production within 90 days.

This is the first commercial project producing food under taken by Triticale Food, Inc. The flour will be milled at Hereford from grain in the Bailey County area. The Triticale will then be mixed, blended and packaged here in two and five pound packages at first for the restaurant trade in the western half of the United States.

Regular and buttermilk pancake mix and regular and buttermilk waffle mix will be shipped from Muleshoe to both coasts of the United States. The grain will come from contracted land here in Bailey County. The new food plant will be producing about 300,000 packages of mix per month within six to eight months.

The president reported that there were two main purposes for locating the plant here: for Triticale to be resold as seed and to be used as food.

One family is already in the process of moving to Muleshoe. They are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Briggs, who have been associated with Triticale for one and a half years. They will be moving the first of the week.

Briggs said that their goal is to "export commodities and import money". He also said that the company will purchase supplies locally and will hire local people.

Briggs also stated that he was "impressed with the friendliness of Muleshoe" and that everyone had been very helpful. "It is this reason that the plant will be located here instead of at another point".

The Southwest Triticale Producers group has also established here. It is owned by growers and farmers of the area and was organized to produce Triticale for seed and food purposes.

They located here because of the high quality of seed. It is said to be the highest quality grown in the United States.

Elma Pruitt has been elected president of the Southwest Triticale Producers.

Briggs reports that Triticale expects to place contracts on approximately 100,000 acres of Triticale this year for seed and food purposes.

Local Farmers Give Results Of Triticale

Triticale as a food grain has attracted the interest of one of the oldest and largest food firms in the United States. Research has been underway for many months on at least two manufactured food items using Triticale and it seems likely more will follow soon. Many farmers in Texas have been treated to a meal sponsored by local grower organizations made up of Triticale and Jimmy Dean sausage.

Growers and developers of this new species readily admit there is much work to be done yet but nothing is as convincing as results obtained at farmer grower level.

John Marsten G. Mars of Friona planted three varieties in a variety and yield test sponsored by Triticale Products, Inc. of Amarillo and Muleshoe. Planting rates were identical as was the fertilizer and irrigation practices. Prior to harvest the field was hit with some severe winds, two and a half inches of rain and hail. Despite this the top variety yielded 119.1 with two tons of joughage baled after the combine. A check plot of 10 acres representing a blend of other strains of Triticale showed a 62 per cent winterkill compared to just over seven per cent for the high yielder. Protein in all varieties averaged above 18 per cent according to of-

David Wheat Rushes 147 Yards In Game

The Mighty Muleshoe Mules upset the Dimmitt Bobcats, 20-6 Friday night with the Mules scoring touchdowns in the first three quarters.

This was the season opener for both Muleshoe and Dimmitt. The Mules consistently outplayed the Bobcats throughout the game and kept up a steady attack on the opposing team.

Fullback David Wheat crossed the goal line from the one yard line for the Mules' first touchdown during the first quarter.

The Mules had recived the ball after a fumble by Dimmitt on their own 10 yard line. The extra point was also kicked by Wheat to make the score 7-0.

During the second quarter, Wheat ran 75 yards for a touchdown, only to have it called back because of a clipping penalty.

With only 20 seconds remaining in the first half, quarterback Don Long threw a 20 yard pass to end David Faver for a TC. This gave the Mules a comfortable 13-0 lead over the host team.

In the third quarter, Dimmitt finally got on the scoreboard late in the quarter when quarterback Terry Powell and end Travis Hampton, Jr. connected on a 20 yard pass play.

Just two plays after Dimmitt kicked off to the Mules, End Ronnie Parker broke loose up the middle for a spectacular 65 yard touchdown. David Wheat then kicked the point after for the last score in the game ending 20-6 in favor of the Mules.

The leading rusher for Muleshoe was David Wheat, who rushed for 147 yards.

In the first half, the Mules had five first downs and Dimmitt had six. In the last half, Muleshoe had seven first downs to Dimmitt's eight.

VETERANS' EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS

Our institutions of higher learning will very soon be opening their doors to begin the new school year. Among those returning to the college and university campuses, or beginning their college educations, will be up to 50,000 Texans who are Vietnam era veterans. Since World War II, the United States has offered its veterans an improved opportunity to obtain post-secondary schooling, either at colleges and universities, or at any of a wide variety of vocational institutions. These benefits serve as an expression of the nation's gratitude for the sacrifices made by its veterans. Further, these benefits encourage and often enable the veteran to pursue his education, thereby improving his opportunities for employment and in turn improving the constructiveness of that veteran to his society and to the economy in general during his lifetime.

Over the years, the Congress has attempted to increase the educational benefits offered to veterans in order to keep pace with rising educational benefits and living costs. The program was never envisioned to pay the entire costs of a veteran's education; but it was designed to encourage him to pursue his education. The benefits, together with the private resources of a part-time job, should be sufficient to enable the veteran, with hard work, to attain the education he seeks.

That is not the case today. The average cost of a college education per year in 1952 was $968. The monthly allowance offered to single veteran full-time student at that time was $110. Today, the average annual cost for college tuition, books and fees is about 1,940—more than twice the 1952 cost; yet, the monthly education allowance offered our veterans is only $175.

The Congress has been moving to rectify this situation, but not rapidly enough. More than a year ago, I co-sponsored in the Senate, the Veterans Education and Training Act Amendments. This legislation would bring the educational allowance for veterans more in line with rising educational costs. Last February, the House of Representatives passed a version of this legislation which would increase the monthly allowance for a single full-time veteran to $200. On August 30, about a month ago, the Senate passed another version of this legislation, which I supported, to raise that figure to $250 a month. Shortly after Senate passage, I had a discussion with Assistant Deputy Veterans Administrator Richard Roudesh to insure that the VA would be prepared to implement the new legislation in time for the opening of school this fall. He assured me that the VA was ready and could implement the increase soon after an agreement on the bill by a joint House-Senate Conference Committee.

Unfortunately, even though the Congressional leadership had 11 working days to call that Conference before the Congress recessed, the Conference was not called, and now we cannot expect an increase in veterans educational benefits to be implemented by the beginning of this school year. This is indeed regrettable. No doubt some of our Vietnam veterans have been forced to put off their educations because the current allowance does not come sufficiently close to educational costs for them to make the financial differences. It is exceedingly difficult for me to understand why the leadership of the two bodies could not convene a conference and pass final legislation in time to take effect this month; but the fact is that they did not. I am confident that a final Veterans Education and Training Act will come forth from Congress this year. It would take effect immediately upon enactment by the President and I know that the VA will act to implement the benefit increases rapidly. But the Congress should have already completed this important legislation.

The bill is also important because it contains, for the first time, an accelerated payment plan. Presently, VA is not authorized to begin processing an application for educational assistance until the veteran has actually enrolled and begins class. Both the House and the Senate versions of the bill, contain the accelerated payment plan.

which I co-sponsored in the Senate, and which would allow the VA to begin processing an application immediately upon acceptance of a veteran by a college for admission. This would mean that a veteran could begin to receive his monthly benefits the very first he is in school. It would avoid what is now a two-to-three-month delay in receiving his first check. It would mean that a veteran would no longer have to pay the large first-month costs of tuition, books and fees out of his own pocket and await his first VA assistance payment until mid-semester of mid-quarter.

to qualify for medicare and medicade.

Williams made the announcement that at this time state health requirements from hospitals are going into effect which will be basically the same requirements as medicare and medicade. Therefore, all hospitals are going into effect which will be basically the same requirements as medicare and medicade. Therefore, all hospitals in the state of Texas will have to meet state standards and requirements whether they come under medicare and medicade or not.

The Jaycees are interested in hearing anyone's views on what kind of facilities Muleshoe would need or even if Muleshoe needs a hospital at all, said Finney.

Williams reported that at a should be producing about 800,000 bushels on the 10,000 acres of Triticale this year for seed and food purposes.

The producers in this area 000 bushels on the 10,000 contracted acres. The average price is $2.50 per bushels for various classes of grain, Briggs said that this should make a $2 million a year capital.

Yields of up to 113.1 bushels per acre were reported by growers of this new rye wheat cross in the Bailey and Farmer County areas this past harvest. Throwing off earlier doubts because of a lack of winter hardiness, grower tested select strains planted in accordance with cultural practices being documented by the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway indicated this high protein water efficient cereal grain may indeed have a great future in the Great Plains.

There will also be six foundation nursery plots planted in Bailey County representing $100,000 worth of Triticale from all over the world. From these will come the new varieties of seed. This seed produced from these plots will go all over the world. Scientists from around the world will also be visiting these foundation plots from time to time.

There will be a county-wide meeting at the Corral Restaurant on Monday evening, September 18, for all area farmers, ranchers, potential growers as well as anyone else interested in Triticale.

Triticale pancakes and Jimmy Dean sausage will be served to all present.

recent hospital inspection made by medicare and medicade officials, the non-profit board was informed that it was not known whether or not certification for West Plains Memorial Hospital would be renewed.

The Nursing Home, reported Williams, is in fine shape and has actually been turning away applicants.

Harmon Elliot, vice-president to the Frist National Bank, said that he hasn't met anyone who didn't want a hospital in Muleshoe, but they didn't want to pay $3 for every $2 spent on a hospital.

In further discussion, it was brought out that in any attempt to borrow money or finance a hospital, it has been required up to this point to meet qualifications along Hill-Burton lines.

ning and fertilizer practices all have a definite effect on any variety of this new crop. We are expanding our cultural research with a grant from Triticale Products, I. C., of Amarillo and Southwest Triticale Producers of Muleshoe. Much research needs to be done but yields of 4,000 to 5,000 pounds, consistently with protein above 16 per cent have been reported.

Significant markets appear to be taking shape in several areas for Triticale. Early research by colleges and some private grain firms indicate feed values for livestock equal or slightly superior to wheat. While no professional nutritionist wants to be responsible for setting a precedent on price at this time, reliable sources indicate a premium for the high quality and quantity of protein is probable.

Triticale appears to be a crop that can be adapted to the new concept of a Food Production System with contracts for the grain already negotiated before planting.

Eric Thor, administrator of the Farmer Cooperated Service of the USDA stated recently: "A great proportion of our foods in the future will be prepared with food processors trying to contract from farmers or starting their own farm operation."

Contract production of grower tested strains of Triticale, regardless of variety or origin, could point the way to a new era and level of profits for Great Plains farmer.

Three Way High School Newsletter

Compiled by TWHS Students

At our school, everyone is getting down to the age-old problem of studying and getting their homework done. It's kind of hard to get yourself going in school at first because everyone is still thinking of that wonderful summer they had, but will really get in the swing of things when the football season rolls around which, by the way, is next week. Why, we have a game with Loop Friday. We all have lots of school spirit and that will help boost the boys spirit too!

We have a real good pep club this year. There are about 20 girls in it this year. Our mascot this year is Ann Warren, a senior, Kay Fine and Becky Perez are drummers and last but not least, our sponsor is Mr. Owens. He is also our school agriculture teacher. He is really interested in us and he's just the greatest person in the world. We are all so happy to have a sponsor that is so interested in us. Our cheerleaders this year are Cindy Hanna, head cheerleader and a junior; Kandy Sowder, senior; and last, Debbie Ferguson, sophomore. This summer our cheerleaders went to cheerleading camp at Texas Tech and they are sensational. Oh, that reminds me, our cheerleaders have planned a big pep rally this Friday to get people really in a football spirit. It's going to be great.

The Three Way Seniors are really on the ball this year. We even elected class officers the first day of school. Class president is Kandy Sowder; Joey Kindle is vice-president; Pam Warren is secretary; Terry Pollard is treasurer; and James Partlow is parliamentarian. With these good leaders, I'm confident that we will have some good class meetings and perhaps they will even be orderly. Oh, I nearly forgot, there are 14 seniors in all. There are eight girls and six boys in this important class and believe you me, we're all proud to be seniors. Now, I have to make mention of the honored people that we have chosen for our class sponsors. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vaughn. Aren't they lucky! If they are real nice to us, we might even take them with us when we go on our senior trip. In fact, I'm sure we will!

The Three Way Juniors have elected the following people to be officers of their class: Danette Lane, president; Lynn Carpenter, vice-president; and Martha Durate, secretary-treasurer. There sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Corkery. The Sophomore class is really up and ready to go this year. The reason for this is that they have four boys as their leading officers. President is Chuck Dupler, Rickie Lee, vice-president, Robby Sowder, treasurer; and last but not least is the secretary, Dan Simpson. To make this class complete we have an outstanding sponsor, Mr. David Williams, the assistant coach.

Even though our officers are all boys we do have a few girls in our class. To be exact, there are eight girls and five boys. Our class has gotten a little smaller than it was last year. It has gone down from 20 to 13. We aren't going to let the fact that we have a smaller class stand in our way. We still plan to have a lot of fun!

The Three Way FHA will have an exciting year, this year. We had our first meeting Monday and elected Chapter Parents and discussed a pageant for electing Best Beau and Prince Charming.

FHA officers are Rena Neutzler, president; Linda Cunningham, first vice-president; Pam Partlow, second vice president; Nancy Blackstone, third vice president; Leora Burkett, fourth vice president; Danette Lane, fifth vice president; Petra Morin, historian; Cheryl Abbe, secretary-treasurer; Becky Perez, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Rosemary Corkery, FHA advisor.

The Three Way Annual Staff sold advertisement ads for their 1973 Eagle last Tuesday. We would like to thank all the merchants that bought an ad from us. We appreciate you giving us some of your time and we appreciate your support very much.

The eighth grade cheerleaders are Etta Warren, head cheerleader, Gloria Simpson, and Belinda Ray, twirler.

Eight of the eighth grade boys are playing football. We have one new boy in our class, Ricky Rogers.

The Junior High girls would like to thank Mr. Owens and the high school girls for letting us be in their pep club.

Senate panel told of Federal housing abuses.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm goes overboard this week over a new discovery.

Dear editor: Since it apparently is impossible to keep people from throwing cans and bottles out of their cars, science has just about come up with a solution, ac-ording to an item I read in a newspaper somebody threw out of his car near this place yesterday.

A scientist claims he has invented a plastic container which can be scheduled to self-destruct. Exposed to sunlight, it melts into nothingness, but the time of its melting can be regulated over days or months by changing the formula, so you won't suddenly find yourself on a picnic holding nothing but a handful of sodawater.

But beyond solving the litter problem, this idea has far more practical uses.

For example, all television and radio tapes of political speeches should be made of this self-destructing material. Say a man is running for Justice of the Peace on a platform of increased trade with China. It's embarrassing to have his opponent play a recording of his denunciation of all dealings with China when he ran the time before.

Or a judge comes out on the steps of the courthouse and in the glare of television lights says he's for a thousand dollars for everybody, and three months later says he's not. Some smart alec for the networks is always going back and digging out these tapes and playing them side by side, and if Congress is on its toes it'll pass a law immediately requiring all such tapes to be made of material that'll melt away. The right formula for the time schedule on this will have to be worked out. Some say a politician wouldn't be held responsible for what he said a year ago, some say three months would be a more realistic figure.

By the way, come to think of it, this new material, if it works, would certainly be ideal for notes you sign at the bank. And there may even be editors who wish some of their last-year's opinions would melt away when exposed to sunlight. Yours faithfully, J.A.

* Unlike certain other parts of the human body, the ear does not have a built-in defense mechanism that can protect it. This fact is a prime reason why hearing ability can be harmed by exposure to excessive sound levels. Exposure to excessive sound levels not only can result in hearing losses, but also can be dangerous to the heart and blood vessels.

Join A 4-H Club In September
by Spencer Tanksley

Learning by Doing is the central creed of 4-H work. 4-H members get involved in projects and activities that enable them to learn skills and attitudes that will help them in adult life.

Any young person between the ages of nine and 19 may join a 4-H Club in Bailey County. Boys and girls in the Muleshoe area who would like to join a 4-H Club may do so this month at either the Progress or YL 4-H Clubs. The Progress Community 4-H Club will hold its reorganizational meeting Tuesday, September 12, at the Lariat Lutheran Church at 8 p.m., while the YL Community 4-H Club's organizational meeting will be held on Monday, September 25, at the YL Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

All 4-H members are reminded that they must be enrolled in an organized club by December 1 to be able to actively participate in 4-H activities for the coming year. 4-H Club work helps boys and girls discover new ideas and skills through projects and become well developed individuals. There are approximately 140 different projects from which a member may choose his or her individual project. Each 4-H Club member is required to select at least one project and to keep records on the progress of that project. Records are an important part of 4-H Club work. Nearly all awards are based on the individual members record. There are two types of records: (1) the project record books, and (2) the overall records. The overall record books will be required this year in order to receive county awards. During the summer months record book workshops will be held with the purpose of helping each 4-H member develop their records. 4-H Clubs are open to all youth regardless of race, color or national origin. Any 4-H Club member, adult leader of County Extension Agent will be happy to tell you more about 4-H and how you can become a member. For additional information on 4-H, visit your County Extension Agent Offices in the Bailey County Courthouse or call 272-3913.

PLATELESS ENTREES. When you are serving meals out-of-doors, you can eliminate both the pans and the plates by wrapping the food in foil. Meals should still include a variety of nourishing foods. For instance, wrap slices of canned whole potatoes and carrots and wedges of pineapple--your family may enjoy these foods more without plates!

Improvement Made In MHS Library

The Muleshoe High School Library has a new look. During the summer many changes took place. The library received a new coat of paint and a set of new drapes. These improvements will help make the library more enjoyable.

The library also has some new reference books. These will help make research papers and other homework a lot easier. Besides reference books, biographies, and non-fiction books, the magazine section of the library is also popular with the students.

The library is for the use of the students. English classes come to the library every week, and the students are able to check out books at this time. The library has some new audio-visual material which can also be used. These materials help make the library more useful.

Mrs. Harlin is sponsor of the Dusty Pages. The members of this organization include all library assistants. Presently enrolled in this group are Donna Grimsley, Sherry Tyler, David Faver, Billy Wimberly, Andrea Hicks, Perry Stockard, Roger Williams, Nick Black, Jacques Turner, Brenda Weeks, and Debbie Glover.

One of the boys, after several days of dusting books and shelves, agreed that the Dusty Pages is appropriately named.

New Programs And Courses Offered At Muleshoe High

On August 31, M.H.S. had 540 students enrolled. There were 145 Freshmen, 153 Sophomores, 119 Juniors, and 123 Seniors.

There are two new programs offered at M.H.S. this year. They are the Language Development class, taught by Mr. Ben Ingham, and a Resource class taught by Mrs. Roberts. This class offers credit in English and Social Studies. Also M.H.S. is offering three new classes to anyone interested. These include a Crafts course taught by Mrs. Black, German I taught by Mr. Block, and P.E.I. taught by Mr. Gist. The school will offer as many programs as possible that will be beneficial to the students.

When asked to comment on school spirit and football for this year, Mr. Fred Mardis high school principal, said, "I think the actions of the student body toward teachers, administration, school policy, and each other have a lot to do with our school spirit. If the students will join clubs and get involved in their work, we can have the kind of support we need. Whether successful or not, I think if the boys and girls are active and support the team we will have a good season. There is no way to replace winning, but winning is not the guideline to a successful season."

"I am proud of the student body this year. The students have been cooperative and are off to a fine start as far as academic work and school spirit are concerned. And as I have said before, I believe the faculty is the finest and I wouldn't swap any of them for any other teachers in the state of Texas."

Mr. Ben Gramling, Counselor, reminds students that the college entrance examinations are given five times during the year. All colleges require either the SAT or the ACT test.

Information on colleges and trade and technical schools is available in the Counselor's office. Students are encouraged to counsel with Mr. Gramling if they have questions concerning their college or vacation. He can also help students who may have a "money problem" with regard to furthering their education.

Mr. Gramling commented that if students and teachers both do their jobs, there will be no reason for failures because a school fails with a student. He believes that the two new programs in high school should improve attendance and aid the students because a student can secure extra help. Seniors are reminded that they are allowed two excused absences for College Days. They must be taken by April 4, 1973. No more than ten Seniors may be gone on any one day.

Pre-Employment Lab Geared To Sophomores

The Muleshoe High School Department of Distributive Education is on the move toward providing a modern approach to the needs of the students of this community. The school year 1972-73 will provide a program of instruction that is student centered and hopefully important in helping a student to decide what his future vocation may or may not be.

This unique program is entitled "Pre-Employment Laboratory" and is geared to the sophomores in Muleshoe High School. Its purpose is to instruct the student in individualized study of material directly related to the occupational goals of the student. The students will receive group instruction for approximately one-half of the time to orientate and adjust to employment conditions, to develop proper attitudes toward school, employment, social and civic responsibilities, and acquire knowledge and skills common to all occupations being learned by the class group. Extensive use will be made of field trips to distributive business establishments for demonstrations of accepted procedures and operations by employees of these establishments skilled in the types of employment for which students are being trained.

Briefly, it works something like this: the sophomore student enrolls in PEL, and after counseling and taking of aptitude tests is able to choose an occupational goal to pursue. The teacher coordinator (Mark Gist) at this time will then design a program of instruction for each student which will cover the manipulative processes, related and technical instruction, practical experiences and planned field trips directly related to the occupation the student has chosen. Several new types of equipment has been received which will help the student to become involved in practical application of common situations which are likely to occur on the job. DE's new merchandising and shadow display units are examples of this. Students can become proficient at various levels of displaying and advertising before ever working on the job. In this manner when they apply for an actual job, the student has valuable experience which can be applied to his new job. DE students are currently working on an advertising project in which the students create, produce, advertise and market their product to the consumer. Muleshoe DE students may not be a panacea for the economic ills, but these young people are striving to become better workers and increase the employers' return on this investment.

The Mules are in a period of rebuilding but feel that by their first game will have settled down to a solid unit. There have been several changes in the Mules Alignment, Junior George Mitchell has been moved from guard to fullback, and Junior Fullback Ronnie Parder has been placed in the Wing Back slot. The remaining Mule Starting unit will be composed of Junior Perry Stockard at split end, Senior Larry Vinson at left tackle, Senior Charlie Vela at left guard, Senior Demar Bleeker at center, Senior Billy Williams at right guard, Junior Jerry Hodge at right tackle, and Senior David Faver at tight end. Along with Parker and Mitchell in the back field, the Mules have Junior Don Long at Quarterback and Junior David Wheat at fullback.

The Mule's offense line is bolstered by tackles Kelly St. Clair and Ricky Smallwood, Guard Eddie Wilson, and ends Roger Williams and Lusky Green. The Mule's backfield has a second solid unit with Fred Locker at Quarterback, Terry Stewart at Fullback, and Billy Wimberly at Tailback.

The Mule's offense seemed to be a little ahead of their defense in their first two scrimmages. However, the Mules defense in their first two scrimmages. However, the Mules defense is more experienced with a secondary including David Faver, David Wheat, Roger Williams and Don Long. The Mules Linebacking jobs are being scrambled for by Perry Stockard, Billy Williams, Eddie Wilson, Delmar Bleeker, and Ronnie Parker. The Mule's defensive line will be anchored by Larry Vinson and Jerry Hodge while George Mitchell and Charlie Vela will be responsible for holding the line steady.

State Constitutional Amendments

AMENDMENTS
AMENDMENT NO. 5--H.J.R.
NO. 35

(Amending Article VIII, Section 2, relating to a tax exemption on certain property owned by a disabled veteran, to provide that exemptions, which would range from $1,500 to $3,000, be made on a graduated scale based on the percentage of the veteran's disability.)

The proposed amendment to permit the legislature to grant property tax exemptions to disabled veterans and to their surviving spouses and surviving minor children. This proposal is permissive in that it does not itself grant a tax exemption but gives this authority to the legislature should it choose to do so. The tax exemption proposed would be available to veterans classified as disabled by the Veteran's Administration or the branch of military service in which served on a scale corresponding to the degree of disability. Those with a disability rating of less than 10 percent, would not be entitled to an exemption. With a disability rating of 10 through 30 percent, veterans could be granted an exemption from taxation on property valued up to $1,500. From 30 through 50 percent, they could be granted an exemption to cover property valued up to $2,000; and for those with a disability rating of more than 50 percent but not more than 70 percent an exemption could be granted for property valued up to $2,500. A veteran whose disability rating is more than 70 percent or who has a disability rating of at least 10 percent and has attained the age of 65, or any veteran, regardless of his disability rating, whose disability consists of the loss of one or more limbs, total blindness in one or both eyes, or paraplegia, could be granted the maximum exemption on property valued up to $3,000. Further, the surviving spouse or minor children of a person who lost his life while on active duty with the military could be granted an exemption on property valued up to $2,500, while the surviving spouse or minor children of a disabled veteran could be granted an exemption from taxation equal to the exemption to which the veteran was entitled when he died.

(For full text of the resolution proposing Amendment No. 5, see appendix.)

Background:

Because present provisions in Article VIII, Section 2, of the Texas Constitution require that taxes be "equal and uniform," a constitutional amendment such as that proposed by Amendment No. 5 would be necessary to give the legislature authority to grant exemptions in taxation for veterans and spouses or minor children of deceased veterans. The original Article VIII, Section 2, authorized the legislature, by general laws, to exempt from taxation "public property used for public purposes; actual places or (of) religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society. . . . Exemption of the endowment funds of public institutions was added in 1907, and in 1928 an amendment was adopted which included the provision that tax exemption could be extended to "property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character."

Arguments

FOR: 1. Persons disabled in the military of the United States deserve to be compensated for their service to be compensated for their sacrifice, and the tax exemptions proposed by Amendment No. 5 would be a token appreciation from the people of Texas.

2. The tax relief which may be granted under the proposed amendment is subject to strict limitations. Only property taxes are affected, and in no case may the value of property tax revenues collected by the taxing authority would be negligible.

3. The proposed amendment is permissive, leaving the necessary details of administration to be spelled out by the legislature, which could also revoke the exemptions granted should the need arise.

AGAINST:

1. The compensation of disabled veterans is a federal rather than a state responsibility. Generous benefits are already available to disabled veterans, and the state should not be deprived of income necessary to provide state services to all Texas citizens just to benefit a few.

2. School districts and local governments depend heavily on property taxes for revenue, and granting the tax exemptions proposed to disabled veterans would further dry up the source of income.

3. Granting tax exemptions to individuals as proposed by Amendment No. 5 would establish a bad precedent. Adoption of the proposed amendment could be but the beginning of continuing attempts to exempt certain persons or classes of persons from taxation in direct conflict with the intention.

AMENDMENT NO. 7-S.J.R. NO. 16 (Amending Article I of the Texas Constitution by adding a new Section 3a to provide that equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of a person's sex, race, color, creed, or national origin.) The proposed amendment adds a new section to the Bill of Rights in the Texas Constitution. The Texas Constitution does not expressly prohibit discrimination because of sex, race, color, creed, or national origin. On adoption, the amendment increases the constitutional guaranty of equal rights to all persons by prohibiting this discrimination.

Background

Equality of rights is a concept inherent to America which was first expressed in the Declaration of Independence. All of the constitutions of Texas have contained provisions broadly dealing with equality and providing that all free men have equal rights. Section 3 Article I of the Texas Constitution guarantees equal protection of the law and political equality to all persons, but makes no provision for discrimination because of sex, race, color, creed, or national origin.

Some furtherance in the accomplishment of equal rights has been made by statutory enactment and repeal. Examples of the progress are the adoption of new provisions pertaining to community property and the right of a wife to dower authority in dealing with her separate property, the repeal of statutes requiring separate acknowledgments, and the repeal of numerous racially discriminatory provisions in the Texas statutes.

The equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution denies to the states the power to legislate different treatment to persons placed by a statute into different classes on the basis of criteria wholly unrelated to the objective of the statute. It requires that a statutory classification not be arbitrary and that it rest upon a difference having a substantial relation to the object of the legislation so that all persons similarly circumstanced shall be treated alike. As recently as November, 1971, the Supreme Court of the United States extended the protection of the 14th Amendment to a case involving the 14th Amendment to a case involving discrimination based on sex by ruling that the equal protection clause bars a state's statutory preference of men over women for appointment as administrators of decedent's estates. Basically, the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the ground of race, color, religion, or national origin, and in sections dealing with equal employment opportunities. Congress added a prohibition covering discrimination on the basis of sex, in addition to discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin.

The proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution is consistent with the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution and The Civil Rights Act, but is designed expressly to provide protection which supplements the federal guarantees of equal treatment.

ARGUMENTS

FOR: 1. The protection afforded by constitutional guarantees is more effective than statutory prohibitions and the repeal or amendment of discriminatory statutes. Victims of discrimination need the right to use the judicial process to challenge the constitutionality of discriminatory legislation.

2. Discrimination exists in many fields and only a comprehensive equal rights amendment can change completely the status quo.

AGAINST: 1. The proposed amendment is not necessary because discriminatory laws now existing may be repealed by statute.

2. Adoption of the proposed amendment could result in confusion and litigation as to the meaning of "discrimination.,"
