Secret Is Discovered

In The Line of Dry Goods we Have Discovered the Secret of Buying.

We handle only the very best goods and offer you qualities that have in them an excellence that makes them popular at reduced prices. Our position as the largest Dry Goods house in Goldthwaite permits us the privilege of giving you the highest quality possible at the least cost to you.

You need not be a hero to win. Just use good judgment—buy with your eyes open and your ears shut. Judge by what you feel and see and measure and compare. Not by what you hear and are promised.

Our goods are sold on a basis of their own merit. Examine for your self.

If we are getting none of your business we want some. If some, we want more. If all, we are not saying a word.

We appreciate the large patronage given us by the people who attended the reunion. We hope that the Old Soldiers and their friends who met with them had a good time.

A hero of the cross in Hamilton has passed away. The death angel that has for weeks hovered about the couch of the Rev. D. T. Holmes gathered the spirit of this grand Christian man in his arms last Monday morning about 5 o'clock, and with plumed pinions, wafted it to the shining courts above.—Herald.

POWER OF INFLUENCE.
Everyone knows the power of influence over the growth of character. Many of us can look back to some one individual as having exercised the supreme influence over our life and determined whatever of worth there is in our character. Constantly through life are we influenced by others. Then if our lives can be so influenced after we are grown, how much more powerful is influence over children's lives, for they are imitative in a high degree, they are whatever is the character of the people about them. They are unconscious of natural laws or institutions. If we could determine the playmates of our children, how easy the problem of raising children would be. For children learn much from their playmates that it seems impossible to teach them any other way. We can, it is true, limit the comrades of our children, but in various ways they are thrown with the coarse, the impure, be we ever so careful. So the very best thing we can do is to teach them sincerity, honesty and truthfulness. If sincerity is important in our lives how much more important with our children. How many careless mothers along this line, who do and say things in the presence of their children, day by day educating them to be false and untrue. How much we need intellectual sincerity in rearing our children.—Mrs. Buchanan in Temple Mirror.

S. A. Davenport's 176 acre farm near Richland Springs for $5,765. The directors of the fair association have closed a deal with Mrs. A. G. Nason for the 94-acre tract along the river including the site of the old encampment grounds, at $4700. This gives the association one of the prettiest natural parks in the town and county, a pleasure ground for all time to come. Those who have not subscribed should do so at once.
Rev. J. T. Hamilton has requested the News to announce a camp meeting at Richland Springs beginning Saturday, July 22, to continue ten or twelve days. Rev. F. M. McConnell, one of the ablest evangelists in the state, and F. J. Harrell, a gospel singer, will conduct the meeting.—News.

Fully fifty lives were lost in Montague county Thursday in a storm that passed through the Nacona section. Many other people were injured in the storm.

John Hay, secretary of state in President Roosevelt's cabinet, died last Friday at his summer home in New Hampshire. It is said that Eli Root has been offered the position made vacant by the death of Mr. Hay.

United States Senator Mitchell of Oregon has been convicted of conspiring with others to defraud the government out of public land, in that he accepted money for his recommendations and influence in departments in Washington while looking after the interest of those who secured the land.

Call a girl a chick and she smiles; call a woman a hen and she howls. Call a young woman a witch and she is pleased; call an old woman a witch and she is indignant. Call a girl a kitten and she rather likes it; call a woman a cat and she hates you. Women are queer. If you call a man a gray dog it would flatter him, call him a pup, a hound, or a cur and he will try to alter the map of your face. He doesn't mind being called a bull or a bear yet he will object to being mentioned as a calf or a cub. Men are queer too.—Ex.

Entirely too little respect is shown for law in America. In every state we find laws a nullity for policy's sake. Such a thing is unknown in any other land. Disregard of one law breeds disrespect for all law. In allowing some laws to go unenforced, we reap a harvest in having all laws broken. The law may not be to one's liking, but the answer, "It is the law," should be sufficient for the law abiding. Good men will observe even the bad laws, but bad men will even break the good laws. It should be that all men, good and bad, be compelled to keep all law, good or bad, because it is the law. How careless people usually are as to whether laws are enforced or not. This lethargy gives rise to civic evils. Indeed nearly all public wrongs grow out of the indifference of the people.—Joseph W. Folk.

Be ever gentle to your children. Watch them constantly; reprove them earnestly, but not in anger. "Be not bitter against them." "Yes, they are good boys." I once heard a kind father say: "I talk to them pretty much, but I don't like to beat them." It was a beautiful thought, though not eloquently expressed. Yes, there is not one child around the table, healthy and happy as they look now, on whose head, if long spared, the storm will not beat. Adversity may wither, sickness fade, a cold world frown on them, but amid all, let memory carry them back to a home where a ray of kindness reigned, where the mother's eye was moistened with a tear and the father frowned "more in sorrow than in anger." When you give way to a fit of temper and begin to whip your children for some trivial and childish transgression, get some photographer to make a picture of the frightened and pleading little face upturned to you; then in after years go out to the cemetery, seat yourself by the neglected mound, take the picture from your pocket and see what consolation it will be to your bleeding and desolate heart. Treat them gently, lovingly and tenderly. It will save you many a headache. The world will beat them.—The Scrapbook.

AGENT'S GLEANINGS.

Editor Eagle:

The South Bennett's Sunday school secretary reports improvement in membership wherefore we are glad. Superintendents B. R. Cashier and Joe Benningfield would be pleased to have more teachers to tutor the many young folks and children. Train them up in the way they should go.

The singing, dinner and people were about right last Sunday I thought.

The U. C. V. camp was opened up right Sunday evening July 2, 1905. That dear old veteran Rev. D. I. Harralson delivered a good sermon on "Am I my brother's keeper?" Seems like the Confederates are each living as the other's keeper. I had the privilege and pleasure of being on the ground from Sunday until Thursday. Surely the Goldthwaite people did their utmost to entertain those old soldiers and their guests. And the local farmers came to their aid like valiant artillery, with joyfulness. For lack of time to write and limited space in the Eagle I'll not pen but a few of the many accommodations. The pavilion built stately of choice lumber and roofed with graded cypress shingles; the rustic landscape; the artificial pool and fountain of cool, clear water, so good to drink fresh that ice was unnecessary; spotted oaks and many domesticated trees set out the past season. We shall expect twice as many guests next year. While there were so many incidents to attract, amuse and entertain the veterans I'll just refer to a few and let the rest pass. Gen. G. I. Goodwin gave the key to American citizenship here and the road to heaven: To train our boys and girls to be and grow up as perfect law-abiding men and women.

Of all the speeches, essays and recitations I heard I feel sure that Rev. J. T. Faries, pastor of the Goldthwaite Methodist church, excelled them all in concise, condensed, plain facts in simple language, taken from recorded history. Such speeches do good.

Congressman James L. Slayden's limited talk was superfluous, as he is known for his words of wisdom. He is now preparing to aid the nations next month in framing peaceful statutes, Japan and Russia having agreed to such and are therefore in armistice as belligerents.

The music, songs, experience talks, etc., but the cake walk was one of the finest contrived by amateurs I have met with. Cake walk is a misnomer. As I knew it, away down on the old Brazos river, when I was younger than I now am, then it was Bloomer, Virginia Reel, Jig, Shuffle, Back-step, Pigeonwing, Heel and Toe, Peck peck peck. Well, I guess that cake walk made many veterans mind refresh—fighting for their rights, rallying to keep the coons from being free voters, and so that's good too, and all is well that ends well.

Somewhere it is written, wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get understanding. Am I my brother's and sister's keeper that we may be kept? THE BOOK AGENT.

WASHBOARD.

Editor Eagle:

Another big picnic to report, which, of course, meant a great time for the "pleasure seekers." This took place last Saturday near Indian Gap. The crowd was large and amusements many. The great snake eater was there, which was very amusing to those who wished to see the numerous reptiles and their master's performances, but quite a number, the Maid being among them, did not wish to see them, as we all have our curiosities and some of us are naturally afraid of them too. Isn't this true, girls?

Prof. Oxford, president of the Daniel Baker school at Brownwood, has been in this community for several days in the interest of the school.

Grandma J. Boler of Temple visited in this part last week.

Messrs. Bob Willis, Vester Cunningham, Austin Boler, R. R. Morgan, Oscar Swindle, E. V. Bowles were the guests of Mr. Christie and family last Sunday.

Mrs. Hamilton has purchased a new surry.

The thresher is daily looked for but has not appeared yet.

Marcus Boler and wife are expected from Rannels county in a few days, to visit friends and relatives here for a time.

Glad to see so many nice letters in last week's issue.

MULLIN.

Editor Eagle:

The Confederate reunion at Goldthwaite has been the chief attraction this week to the citizens of Mullin and vicinity, a large number attended and especially Tuesday the Fourth. I learn that one hundred tickets were sold from this point. All, so far as I have heard, agree in their expressions of praise of the whole affair. I regret not being able to be present.

Mrs. J. T. Eaton is reported not so well; her fever being very high. G. V. M.

CONFEDERATE MEETING.

Jeff Davis camp was called into line on the evening of the fourth and the Commander notified the comrades that the election of officers for the ensuing year would now be held. The following officers were elected:

J. D. Sexton, Commander.
D. E. Hopkins, 1st Lieutenant.
P. G. Palmer, 2nd Lieutenant.
J. T. Prater, Adjutant.

W. H. Welch, Treasurer.

L. G. Blackburn, Flag Bearer.

Our camp was presented with a large battle flag sent us by Gen. Lane and wife by Adj. M. S. Wallace from the Louisville reunion, which the camp with unanimous vote accepted, and by words, by looks and by voice return their thanks to those noble, patriotic souls for their gift.

The camp took into consideration the help, the kindness and many courtesies shown by the girls and ladies of this town. The aid by men and boys, financially and otherwise, for which they expressed their high appreciation and thanks. Our building committee was remembered for its efforts in our behalf, and to Leon Harris, in his many deeds and untiring efforts, these old veterans will feel thankful as long as Jeff Davis camp meets on these grounds. The Eagle has helped so much and in so many ways from the organization of this camp up to the present time that our old comrades feel more grateful than an ordinary resolution could express.

A large crowd, a pleasant time and one more reunion is over and all are off for home, hoping to meet again. J. D. SEXTON, By J. T. PRATER, Commander, Adjutant.

The Lampassas county prohibition election last Friday was won by the anti, while the Milam county election Saturday was a victory for the pro.

BASE BALL.

Three games of base ball were played here during the reunion between Lampassas and Goldthwaite teams and the invincibles were, of course, victorious. The first game resulted in a score of 8 to 6 in favor of Goldthwaite, the second 19 to 15 in favor of Lampassas, and the third was a victory for Goldthwaite by a score of 12 to 7. The games were witnessed by large and appreciative crowds.

Rock Springs people attended the reunion and enjoyed themselves, everyone knows.

Miss Tommie Cohand of Bertram spent part of this week visiting at the home of W. J. Starks.

She left on the Thursday morning train for her home. Miss Tommie has made many friends during her short stay here and we hope she will visit us again soon.

Let each community in the county have one or more parties to attend this call meeting.

What one man says of another out but little figure. The man who is well balanced knows how to weigh the opinions of others. One may call another a liar and curse and abuse him, but that does not make what he says true. It is what a man is and not what people think he is that counts. Of course a majority of the people thinking one way puts the true light on affairs, as a rule.—Daily News-Herald.

Elder O. M. Thomason, who was pastor of the Christian church here for some time, left Thursday morning for Temple, near which place he will conduct a meeting. He will hold a meeting in Burnet county, one at San Fab and at other places in Texas before leaving the state finally.

Capt. M. S. Wallace sent the Eagle copies of the Courier-Journal giving a full account of the national Confederate reunion recently held in Louisville, Ky., and attended by Capt. Wallace. The editor has been too busy this week to read the papers, but the big hearted gentleman who sent them can depend they are appreciated and will be read with pleasure.

J. L. King of Zephyr was among those who attended the reunion. Mr. King "is, blest and died" in a blue uniform, but he always meets with the old soldiers in their reunions and he is welcomed as cordially as any member of the camp. He is a good citizen and a good man and when the time comes that he can no longer be with his friends in their annual meetings the occasions will be less pleasant.

A Great Reunion.

THE UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS IN ANNUAL CAMP MEETING.

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS AND MANY VETERANS ATTENDED—ALL WERE PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

The 1905 reunion of the Second Regiment, Third Brigade, was held here with Jeff Davis Camp No. 117 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and the attendance was larger than was ever known at a reunion or any other meeting in this county. It would be merely a guess to attempt to say how many people attended this meeting, but a good many thousands were here undoubtedly. On each succeeding year the people of this county appear to more and more appreciate the heroism and the self-sacrificing deeds of the grand old men who spent four of their best years in defense of Southern rights, and each succeeding year they are venerated more and more by the whole people of the South.

SUNDAY. While the reunion did not begin until Monday, arrangements were made for the chapel of the Camp, Rev. D. L. Haralson, to dedicate the auditorium at the Camp grounds on Sunday night. A large congregation assembled there to hear the venerable gentleman's sermon and they were well paid for their trouble, for he delivered a most interesting discourse from the text, "Am I my brother's keeper?" He showed that every man was expected to be a "Good Samaritan" and proved by instances cited that the Southern soldiers had observed that law during the trying times of the Civil war. Men who had been comrades during the long and bloody war were drawn very close together and were always inclined to assist in bearing each other's burdens. His remarks put the audience in a good frame of mind to enjoy the forthcoming reunion. Brother Haralson is a good preacher at all times and his personal popularity enables him to get very close to the hearts of his hearers.

MONDAY. Monday morning the people commenced to arrive from a distance and by noon there was quite a number in camp at the grounds and the crowd was augmented by a great many of the town people. The announcement having been made that Col. Jas. L. Slayden would speak at 4:30 that afternoon, as he could not be here that night, caused the people to commence to congregate at the tabernacle early after dinner and before the hour for the speaking there was a great throng awaiting the appearance of the congressman upon the rostrum. About the time for the address a rain commenced to fall and for about an hour travel between town and the grounds was suspended. This down-pour caused a great many to forego the pleasure of hearing Mr. Slayden's speech and for that cause it was regrettable, but it certainly was otherwise opportune, for it prevented the road becoming very muddy. Mr. Slayden's speech was well received and he was well paid for his trouble, for he delivered a most interesting discourse from the text, "Am I my brother's keeper?" He showed that every man was expected to be a "Good Samaritan" and proved by instances cited that the Southern soldiers had observed that law during the trying times of the Civil war. Men who had been comrades during the long and bloody war were drawn very close together and were always inclined to assist in bearing each other's burdens. His remarks put the audience in a good frame of mind to enjoy the forthcoming reunion. Brother Haralson is a good preacher at all times and his personal popularity enables him to get very close to the hearts of his hearers.

dusty and cooled the atmosphere at the same time.

Mr. Slayden's speech was highly appreciated by those who heard him and it was greatly regretted that he could not remain and address the people on July 4, but the fact that the steamship on which he had secured passage was to leave Galveston on Thursday at noon made it impossible for him to remain after Monday, and he left on the evening train. Monday night an address of welcome to visitors on behalf of the Camp and the citizens of Goldthwaite was made by Mr. R. L. H. Williams of this city and Col. G. I. Goodwin of Brownwood made a hearty response, after which there were short talks by members. These speeches were all appreciated by those present.

TUESDAY MORNING. After the rain of Monday afternoon everything was in good trim at the camp for the entertainment of those who would spend the "Glorious Fourth" at that place.

The trains brought in a great many visitors, fully a car load coming from Mullin. The people from the surrounding country commenced to arrive early and by 10 o'clock, when the members of the Camp and the Sons of Veterans assembled on the square for a march to the grounds, there were many thousands of people in town, at the grounds and on the road between the two places. The band from Brownwood had been secured for the occasion and the march to the grounds was made under the escort of the band.

When the people assembled at the tabernacle at 10 o'clock Hon. Jno. J. Cox of Temple was called to the stand and he delivered one of his characteristic addresses filled with wit, wisdom and interesting facts. He is an entertaining talker and he always holds the attention of his audience. His comparison of the program committee in inviting him to speak, with the lady who gave away the preserves because they were souring, put the audience in a pleasant mood and his reference to his "cut and dried speech" that he had forgotten elicited much applause. Mr. Cox has made a number of speeches here in times gone by, but never did he so heartily please his hearers and completely captivate the crowd as he did on this occasion.

WEDNESDAY. All during the reunion changes had to be made in the program because of the failure of some to respond to the assignments. This was the case Wednesday morning when a speaker who had been invited failed to arrive. The old soldiers were equal to the occasion every time and when they found that their invited speakers did not respond they filled the place and the audience was well pleased with every number that was substituted. Messrs. Bently, Allcorn and Regan, all of Brownwood, who paid his claim before his first premium was due. Ask Mr. Manning what he thinks of this company.

If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. Medicine of Vanhook, Tenn. "I had a cough for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, the coughs and colds, which gave instant relief and effected a permanent cure." It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all lung troubles. At R. E. Clements drug store; price 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

ment was made that Dick Perkins would speak the people were extremely attentive, for the sight of a negro is something queer to some Mills county people, and there are doubtless many children here who never saw a negro. This old man lives in Brownwood and came here at the earnest invitation of some of the veterans who knew him during the war. He was originally from Mississippi and his master having been killed at New Orleans he joined with Walker's division and remained true to the Confederate soldiers all through the war. Once he was captured, but he escaped and returned to the Confederate camp. He is an humble old negro, one of the old time Southern kind that always has the friendship and assistance of the Southern white people.

During the afternoon a meeting of the regiment was held and the following officers elected: H. D. Pierce of Ballinger, colonel; I. B. Smith, Brownwood, lieutenant colonel; D. S. Kelley, Goldthwaite, major. Jeff Davis Camp also elected officers and their names appear elsewhere in this paper.

The program for Tuesday night was under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy, and Dr. H. H. Taylor, as commander of the Camp, was the master of ceremonies and he proved his ability as an executive officer by the way in which the evening's entertainment was conducted.

Some of the best singers in the town, who had been practicing for the occasion, rendered some pretty songs, which enthused and enraptured the audience. Prof. S. J. Bross of Mullin was the only speaker on the program and he made only a short talk, his subject being the Southern Woman. He showed that he had given his subject thought and study and that the committee had made a wise selection when he was placed on the program.

Misses Zay Williams and May Robelle recited appropriate pieces for the occasion and Miss Maud Prater read an original paper. These young ladies were given close attention and were heartily cheered by their well pleased hearers. Little Miss Madie Thompson recited about the "hants" in the woods and she completely captivated the audience. She wore a bandana upon her head and her face was blackened and when she spoke with negro dialect it was indeed realistic and amusing.

The oak walk was the closing feature of the evening's entertainment and it was well that it was placed at the close, for when the performance was in progress the enthusiasm of the congregation was almost unbounded and the young folks can be sure that they took the place by storm and to say they pleased the multitude of onlookers puts the term mildly. Those who took part in the oak walk were Elliott Bourland and Miss Jennie McAlister, Wilbur Humphries and Miss Lida Thompson, Claude Dickerson and Miss Douglas Fox, John C. Hicks and Miss Beulah Rahl, Wellie Saylor and Miss Maude Lowe. The prizes were awarded Mr. Humphries and Miss Thompson.

MR LEAVELL DEAD. A telegram was received here Wednesday morning announcing the death of Mr. R. G. Leavell at his home in Leon county, and this message brought sadness to the relatives and friends of the old gentleman. Mr. Leavell lived with L. G. Blackburn and family in the South Bennett community for several years and his wife died during his stay in this county and her remains were interred in the cemetery here, hence when he died his body was brought to this place and laid away beside his wife's grave. He was the father of Mrs. L. G. Blackburn and was well known to the old settlers here and had a great many friends in this county.

Mr. Leavell was born in Newberry district, South Carolina, and was in the 87th year of his age at the time of his death. He was a member of the Missionary Baptist church and a good citizen. He has made his home at his farm in Leon county since his removal from this county in 1898 and it was there he suffered the dislocation of his hip about a year ago and he never recovered from the effects of the accident. He was expected to visit his relatives and friends here during this summer and his visit was looked forward to with much pleasure. His remains reached this city Thursday morning and were followed to their last resting place in the cemetery by a number of his friends and those who sympathized with the grief-stricken relatives. Mr. Leavell was a good man and a Christian and out of respect for his memory the reunion of Jeff Davis camp was adjourned Wednesday at noon.

Each joins in offering sympathy to Mrs. Blackburn and other relatives of the fine old gentleman.

MARRIED IN HAMILTON. Mr. W. W. Jones and Miss Lorene Crews were married Tuesday at Hamilton and will make their home in the Center City community in this county. Mr. Jones is a son of Commissioner J. F. Jones and is a good citizen. The bride is a daughter of Capt. F. J. Crews of McGillirk and has many admiring friends who wish happiness and prosperity for her and the fortunate groom.

The Eagle joins in offering congratulations.

A LIBERAL OFFER. Mr. J. W. Hill of the Elberta stock farm offers a kid buck worth $10 to the party bringing 25 of the best Elberta peaches to the Eagle office between this date and the first Saturday in August. The peaches are to be left at the Eagle office each Saturday and Mr. Hill requests Messrs. Phil H. Clements and Whit Smith to act as judges. The contest will close with Saturday August 5.

LET US FIGURE WITH YOU.

WHY JAPS WON.

Wherein are we to look for an explanation? Certainly not to any disparity in the materials of war, for the ships, engines, guns and armor of the Russian navy were the best that the leading ship yards and gun factories of Europe and America could turn out.

Nor was the distance of the seat of war from Russia's home ports so serious a handicap as might be supposed; for at no time did Japan make any serious effort to prevent the sending of re-inforcements and supplies. In the case of the Baltic fleet, she evidently encouraged its advance, feeling assured that every ship that entered the immediate zone of war was one ship lost to Russia.

Nor can the result be set down to cowardice. The Russian is no coward. He gives place to none in his ability to fight a losing battle to the bitter end. This was abundantly proved in the battle of the Sea of Japan; for the stories of the eye witnesses on both sides agree that the Russians fought with the grim energy of despair.

The explanation of the result is to be found first and last in the Japanese people themselves—in certain excellent traits of their character, many of which are due to a system of ethics that is older than our western civilization.

Among these may be mentioned: intense patriotism; self-denial; scrupulous honor in all matters affecting the welfare of the state; a keen sense of duty; strict discipline; unquestioning obedience to authority; absolute unity of purpose; a firm believer in the destiny of their race; patience and endurance; an absence of self-consciousness and posing, that may well put our "white" civilization to the blush; a close attention to detail; and lastly, a combination of great prudence and forethought with a marked ability to adapt themselves quickly to the circumstances of the hour.—Scientific American.

'TIS ONLY ONE OF MANY

In Gateville, Texas, some twenty years ago, we remember seeing a middle aged man stop a doctor on the street and, opening his mouth very wide, asked the doctor if he could see anything down his throat. After looking some time, he replied, "I can't see anything." The man then told him he certainly had not looked good, and to try it again.

The doctor, after examining his throat the second time, said, "I see nothing in your throat." To which the man replied, "That is strange indeed, for in the last five years a good farm, wagon, mules and a fine herd of cattle have gone down there, and you can't see any of them." After the man had passed on the doctor said: "This is not all that has been sacrificed to that thirst for drink. An honorable man has been brought to dishonor, and over you for in that; but now lives one of the most miserable women to be found in this whole world; she has three little children that have to wear the cast off clothes of others. This woman was once a noble, pure girl, honored and loved by all. It is strange to what depths of disgrace and shame the vile stuff will bring men."—Big Sandy News.

All a man he knows is that a hand he has never seen has traced the Golden rule upon his heart, hung a chart in his soul and placed a compass in his hand. He is also conscious of a pilot at the helm, never seen but always there; an angel commissioned at his birth to pilot his frail bark across the uncertain waters of life and that consciousness is his reserve power. We may try to stifle the voice of the mysterious angel within, but it always says "Yes" to right actions and "No" to wrong ones. No matter if we need it or not, no power can change its decision one iota. Through health, through prosperity and adversity, beyond the reach of bribery or influence, this faithful servant stands behind us in the shadow of ourselves, never intruding, but weighing every act we perform, every word we utter, pronouncing the verdict "right" or "wrong."—Ozona Kioker.

Horse - Shoeing

Almost in the shadow of the doors of the Corn Exchange National bank in Chicago last Saturday and only a short distance from the board of trade, John Bemy, employed by a firm of grain and stock brokers, was attacked by a lone robber who threw red pepper in Bemy's eyes and then robbed him of $1000.

The robber escaped, although the street was crowded. Bemy may lose his eyesight.

An indictment was voted against many persons, officials of four packing corporations, by the Federal grand jury in Chicago Saturday. This ended the investigation, which has lasted over three months and brought out testimony of over one hundred witnesses. One indictment of more than sixty typewritten pages was voted, carrying charges including combination in restraint of trade, conspiracy to monopolize trade and receiving and granting rebates.

The fact that Texas is raising tea is unknown to ninety-nine out of every hundred of her inhabitants at Pierce Station in Wharton county there is a government experimental tea plantation, and highly satisfactory results are being obtained. A last report states that tea shrubs on twenty-six acres are growing splendidly, and it is proposed to plant 100 additional acres as soon as practicable. The government is thoroughly convinced that tea will thrive throughout the coast region, hence the experimental station. All that is desired now is to ascertain just what favor the Texas product will have. If satisfactory it will open up another avenue of development for our farmers.—Hallettsville Herald.

Reaching the Spot.

IT CAN BE DONE, SO SURES OF TEXAS PEOPLE SAY.

To cure an aching back. The pains of rheumatism. The tired-out feelings. You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Wm. A. Barnes, carpenter and builder of Lampasas, Tex., says: "I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for rheumatism and kidney trouble from which I had suffered for over three years. There were backaches, dizzy headaches and blurring of the eyes and very distressing urinary trouble. The pains in my knees are gone and the kidneys are strong and healthy. We consider the money spent for Doan's Kidney Pills wisely expended."

Plenty more proof like this from Goldthwaite people. Call at R. E. Clements' drug store and ask what his customers report.

Fistula, Pollvii and the Teeth a Specialty

Derangements of the teeth of the horse very frequently lead to grave difficulties, both local and constitutional. The teeth often become decayed, holes form in them and toothache is a common occurrence. There is no such thing as a blind tooth, as is often termed, it is either a rotten or a long tooth. Ninety per cent of the horses that are fed condition powders to recuperate their health, need nothing but their teeth repaired.
