County court convened Monday. The criminal docket was taken up and twenty-three cases disposed of, twenty of which either had convictions or entered pleas of guilty.

The court of criminal appeals has granted a new hearing in the Sam Cole murder case and the case will be transferred from this district. The next trial will be held in Comanche county, the date not having yet been set.

Members of Stonewall Jackson Camp U. C. V. and the Old Settlers Association of Brown county met at the court house last Saturday and made arrangements to give an Old Settlers and Veteran's picnic, selecting August 10 and 11 next as the time for the event.

The suit of P. A. Harris of Wax against the Brownwood Carnegie Library to recover balance of $1,100 due on contract price of the building, consumed more than a week in the district court and was finally settled by a verdict in favor of Harris, the jury allowing him the amount asked for.

Judge Jno. W. Goodwin will leave about the 15th of this month for Portland, Oregon, or some other northern point for a vacation. Secret Is Discovered

In The Line of Dry Goods we Have Discovered the Secret of Buying.

We handle only the very best goods and offer you qualities that have in them an excellence that makes them popular at reduced prices. Our position as the largest Dry Goods house in Goldthwaite permits us the privilege of giving you the highest quality possible at the least cost to you.

You need not be a hero to win. Just use good judgment—buy with your eyes open and your ears shut. Judge by what you feel and see and measure and compare. Not by what you hear and are promised.

Our goods are sold on a basis of their own merit. Examine for your self.

If we are getting none of your business we want some. If some, we want more. If all, we are not saying a word.

We appreciate the large patronage given us by the people who attended the reunion. We hope that the Old Soldiers and their friends who met with them had a good time.

will commence on Friday, July 14, and will be conducted by Rev. Wm. Henry. Winfield Scott and others were here last week, and it is rumored they are thinking of building a cotton seed oil mill on the lot where the yellow gin stood. The penitentiary contractor took the following prisoners from here Sunday: Oscar Roberts, Jasper Green, Dock Crabb and Leonard Rogers. Prof. W. D. Jenkins has resigned as principal of the Gustine school and has become salesman in Martin Co's store, where he recently bought stock. The school board has elected Prof. Henry Simms of Dublin as superintendent of the public schools, to succeed Prof. Donaldson, resigned. Prof. Simms has taught in the Dublin high school for several terms, and is a very popular and talented young man. —Exponent.

HAMILTON.
Judge J. A. Eidson came in last Friday from Austin to spend the vacation. The picnic at Indian Gap last Saturday was a grand success, all who attended speaking in the highest terms of the way it was managed. Jenks Brooks made a flying trip to Durant, I. T., last week, where he arrested Fred Baker, and brought him back to Hamilton and lodged him in jail. The offence charged was seduction. There was quite a rush last week when the commissioners court met to finally pass on the property renditions for taxation. There were many present to protest against a raise in their values, but the court held a pretty stiff upper lip in most instances. During the rain here Monday evening lightning struck a large post-oak tree just inside Mrs. Brunk's yard and near Judge Cotton's residence, literally tearing it to splinters. Pieces of the tree were thrown a distance of 100 feet, and the tree cut square off about 12 feet from the ground. Mrs. Cotton was slightly stunned by the shock, and several of Mrs. Brunk's folks felt the effects of it.—Herald.

There has been an advance of $14 per bale on cotton during the last month.

The Russian and Japanese peace commissioners have started for Washington.

Some of the farmers in Navarro county report that wolves are preying upon their watermelon patches. More likely the predators are "coons."

The heat has been so intense in New York this week that several people have died and there have been sunstrokes in other cities.

In the sheriff's convention at Houston this week Sheriff Atkinson of this county was placed on the committee on memorials and was also appointed a member of the legislative committee. Sheriff Goodfellow of Coleman was elected president of the association.

Hon. O. B. Colquitt, one of the foremost candidates for governor of Texas, announces that he will not resign his position on the railroad commission, but will continue to attend to his duties and give his campaign attention at the same time.

There is a scandal in Washington official circles over the "leak" in the cotton statistics department and one man has lost his job because of suspicion attaching to him as being the one who gave the figures to the speculators before the department was ready to make a report. The investigation was the result of a demand made by the Southern Cotton Growers association.

W. T. Moore, who published the Lancet in this city a few years ago and later was the editor of a paper at Mullin, has traded his irrigated farm in McAnelly's bend for the San Saba Star and has again entered into newspaper work. Mr. Moore is a good printer and the Star will undoubtedly continue to be a good paper under his management. The Eagle has kind memories of him as a competitor and will always wish him well.

The Associated Press stated Monday that Exeter hall in London was the scene of another world gathering of Christians when the congress of Baptist representatives from every country in the world, except Palestine and Java, was opened by Judge Willis, president of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Ireland. The great hall was crowded to overflowing, those present including 500 American delegates and nearly 1000 visiting Americans.

Poverty and failure are self-invited. The disaster people dread often comes to them. Worry and anxiety enfeeble their forces of mind and so blunt their creative and productive faculties that they are unable to exercise them properly. Fear of failure or lack of faith in one's ability, is one of the most potent causes of failure. Many people of splendid powers have attained only mediocre success, and some are total failures, because they set bounds to their achievement, beyond which they did not allow themselves to think that they could pass. They put limitations to their ability; they cast stumbling blocks in their way, by aiming only at mediocrity or predicting failure for themselves, talking their wares down instead of up, disparaging their business and belittling their powers. MULLIN.

Editor Eagle:

The rains of last week chased away the oppressive heat of the few days preceding, and left the air delightfully cool.

Mullin is full of visitors. They are constantly going and coming. E. J. Miller of Brownwood came in Monday night and left Wednesday morning. W. C. Dew and wife extended to him the hospitalities of their pleasant home. Mr. Miller is a favorite with many of the good people of Mullin.

Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick has had as her charming guests for several days Mrs. Jennie Good and niece, Miss Ollie Mansfield, of Dallas. They visited other relatives while here.

The country possessed a fascination for the ladies Monday afternoon. A party of young people chaperoned by Mesdames W. C. Dew and J. M. Kirkpatrick spent the evening at the bayou and had supper—a very unique feast, consisting of broiled bacon, corn dodger and onions. They prepared their meat, holding it over the fire on sharp sticks, a kodak picture was taken of the party as they broiled their bacon. Tuesday evening was spent at Williams Ranch, and for awhile they awakened into life that quiet spot, where once a gay business town existed. Wednesday morning they took their departure for home, carrying with them, both memory and kodak scenes of Mullin and surrounding country, and leaving with their friends and relatives pictures, bright and beautiful on the tablet of memory.

Rev. Casey of Paris, presiding elder of that district, preached two fine sermons Sunday and to large and appreciative congregations.

D. G. Childress has just returned home from a visit to his mother in Rannels county. On account of poor health Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard have given up the Hutcheson hotel, and Mrs. Hutcheson has resumed her position as proprietress.

Misses Erma Harrison and Elva Fletcher are visiting Mrs. R. D. Martin of Temple, and will go to Granger before they return home.

E. J. Miller and Miss Maude White visited Goldthwaite Tuesday and dined at the "Mountain Cottage"—that means a good dinner.

BETHEL.

Editor Eagle:

Please announce there will be a Farmer's Union picnic at Bethel July 21. We are looking for several speakers that day that will interest and entertain the audience. Everybody is invited to come with well filled baskets.

CARADAN.

Editor Eagle:

The farmers all over the county have been bothered with a small greenish worm or grub, and have been puzzled concerning what it might be. Mr. James Huckabee of this neighborhood has just developed one of said worms by placing it in a bottle and keeping it several days, and it proved to be a bull weevil.

Please publish this, so farmers will know what they have to contend with. Mr. Huckabee is perfectly reliable and what he says can be depended upon.

A FINE SPEECH.

At the reunion here last week Congressman Jas. L. Slayden made a very beautiful speech and one that was thoroughly appreciated by all who heard him. The rain prevented a great many people from being present and for this cause the Eagle would be glad to give the speech in full if space permitted. However, we can only give a short part of it here, but enough to show that those who failed to hear him missed a great deal.

THE SPEECH.

I have always liked to flatter myself with the thought that if I had only been born earlier I would have been a soldier of the Confederacy. If anything could reconcile me to a few more years I would be that I had enjoyed the privilege of a humble part under Lee and Jackson in their great campaigns in Virginia or that I had been given the glorious opportunity of riding to victory with Forrest. As I have read the story of the great war, or, better still, as I have heard it from the lips of these splendid old heroes or their fellows who survived its dangers and hardships, I have shivered with fear at the risks they incurred and sometimes been excited almost beyond control of my emotions over their superb daring and glorious successes.

We have had some great warriors since Lee surrendered the remnant of his mighty army at Appomattox. The brave Dutch farmers in South Africa for more than two years sustained a most unequal combat with the great British Empire. In the disparity in numbers, in the unsurpassed fighting qualities of the soldiers and the genius of the leaders as in the theater of its operation that was suggested the fight of the South for her constitutional rights. The great war on the plains of Manchuria, in which the shock of battle has been sustained by larger bodies of men than have ever confronted each other in hostile array since the mighty hosts of Cyrus marched under the Persian banners, has been characterized by wonderful courage and unusual fortitude. Men on both the Russian and Japanese sides have thrown away their lives in a very ecstasy of patriotism, as if to die for their country were a pleasure. But neither on the plains of South Africa nor the plains of Manchuria have there been more exhibitions of high courage and devotion to duty and country than was abundantly shown by the ragged heroes of Lee, Jackson and Forrest.

COURAGE THE RULE.

Personal daring was so common a virtue among the soldiers of the Confederacy that it almost ceased to command attention. The philosopher Emerson has said that all the world loves a lover. Paraphrasing that I will venture to say that all the world admires courage. And all the world is interested, too, in brave men. Old and young, the feeble and strong, men and women all read of feats of daring with the most absorbing interest. We commend the wisdom of the philosopher and think he has done well to show mankind the reason of things; we admire the constructive work of the great statesman but we fairly fall over ourselves to do homage to the hero of strife. This is, at the same time, one of the most admirable and one of the most dangerous traits of human nature. It is admirable in that it is a proper recognition of the virtue of courage which induces men to put their lives and fortunes in peril for a cause, it is dangerous—especially in a free, elective government like ours—because the hero of battle is too often elevated to civil offices for the administration of which he has neither the talents nor the wisdom. But those great leaders and heroes of the South, who survived the Civil war, amply proved in that dark period that followed the surrender that rare combination of talents which could lead armies in war and wisely direct their fellow citizens through political strife. Lee, Joe Johnston, Gordon and Forrest all went cheerfully and hopefully about their duties as citizens and the mettle of the man was as clearly shown in the struggles with corruption and cronyism after the war as in the fights with McClellan, Grant and Sherman.

But, I was speaking about the courage of the Confederate soldier and contrasting it with that of other brave soldiers in other countries. As a Southern man, as an American, I rejoice in the knowledge that however brave and loyal to their consciences and duties other men may have been some have surpassed in that respect the soldiers of the Confederacy.

General Lee, writing from his headquarters, which were always in front of the enemy, unless he happened to be chasing him, paid a great tribute to the courage of his army. His fame as a commander had gone so broadly over the world that military men from all the martial countries of Europe were attracted to his camp. They came to meet the commander, whose skill on a score of battlefields had balked an enemy of great superiority in numbers and armaments, and to study his methods. The wonderful things which Lee did with a relatively small and poorly equipped army never ceased to amaze them. In writing to a member of his family General Lee, himself, said:—"I always feel ashamed when foreign visitors come to my headquarters to show them my poor ragged heroes, but oh, how proud I would be to show them to these strangers in battle!" The great objective was enthusiastic about his soldiers from Texas. Writing to Senator Wigfall he said, "My Texas cannot be improved upon. Can't you go back to Texas and send me a few more regiments of the same sort of material? I almost fear that I draw on them too heavily. There seems to be absolutely nothing they can't do."

PLENTY OF MONEY.

ROCK SPRINGS.

Editor Eagle:
The rain has ceased at last, and the farmers are progressing with their work some. Think they will have to enlarge their barns in order to hold the abundant yield of corn.
There wasn't any singing at this place last Sunday, as was announced, Prof. McCormick being unable to attend. He cannot be with us until the fourth Sunday. We hope everybody will come that day, as Rev. Luckey will begin his meeting here.
Arrangements will be made by the people of the community for the vocal school to begin here soon. It will probably begin on Monday after the fourth Sunday, if everything is agreeable. So come on all you young people and let's learn more about music.
Among some of the Rock Springs' people that attended the meeting at Miller Grove last Sunday were Mr. Davee and family, Misses May Brudshaw and Gertrude Huckab. They report a nice time.
The cow buyers made their appearance this week. J. C. Street bought of W. J. Stark 23 head.
We hope everybody will remember the fourth Sunday and come, as we all need to practice before our next convention, the second Saturday and Sunday in August at the Cryer school house.

BENTHER DOUBT.

"I knew no one for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at R. E. Clements' drug store; price 50c.

Rev. F. Naumann, a German-Lutheran minister who had charge of the Lutheran church at Wuehrich's Hill, died very suddenly on Sunday evening about 9 o'clock with symptoms that indicate poison. Rev. Naumann preached in the morning at Wuehrich's Hill and in the afternoon at Robbin's pasture. He returned home about 9 o'clock in the evening. While his wife prepared supper he went to the well, filled a glass with water then went to his room and laid down. Supper being ready, Mrs. Naumann called him and getting no response she went to the room and found him in a dying condition. Neighbors were called, but he expired in a short time.

Some doubt being entertained as to the cause of his death, Justice J. O. Frink and Assistant County Attorney T. J. Lawhon went to the Naumann home this morning and held an inquest over the body, returning a verdict to the effect that deceased came to death by poison administered by his own hand.

Subsequently a note was found addressed to Mrs. Naumann, in which he bade her goodbye and requested her to look after the children and other affairs after his death.

Rev. Naumann has had charge of the Wuehrich's Hill church for about fifteen months, coming from Mills county. He was a highly educated gentleman of a kind and loving disposition, not only highly respected by his own congregation, but by every one who had the pleasure to have intercourse with him. His sudden demise is regretted by all. The deceased was about 36 years old, and leaves a wife and three children. The funeral took place at the Wuehrich's Hill cemetery at 4 p. m. this afternoon and was one of the largest ever held in that community, which showed how highly the deceased was esteemed. — Taylor Democrat, July 3.

Rev. Naumann lived in this county for a number of years. He was pastor of a church at Priddy a part of the time and was employed in Mr. Gatlin's store here for several months. He was an educated and refined gentleman and is spoken of highly by those who knew him.

Comforting Words.

MANY A GOLDTHWAITE HOUSE HOLD WILL FIND THEM SO.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Goldthwaite readers.

Mrs. J. A. M. Johnson, living seven and a half miles north of Goldthwaite, Texas, says: "I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills. For several years I was troubled from pains in my back and other kidney and bladder troubles. The secretions were too frequent and there were constant pains and tenderness across the small of my back, extending up to my neck. Until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at R. E. Clement's drug store, I found nothing to help me. Since using that remedy all my kidney trouble disappeared, and I feel much improved in every way. I think Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy for kidney ailments, and I recommend them with pleasure to all requiring a remedy of this kind."

We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by All Druggists.

SCHOOL LAW CHANGED.

Hon. L. E. Patterson, Goldthwaite. Your attention is hereby called to the following provisions of the new school laws which become effective July 14, 1905:

TRANSFERS.

"Any child lawfully enrolled in any district may be transferred to the enrollment of any other district or independent district in the same county, upon the written application of the parent or guardian or person having the lawful control of such child, filed with the county superintendent, at any time before the apportionment of the school fund by the county superintendent or county judge of any scholastic year, but not afterwards; and no child shall be transferred more than once; provided, the party making application for transfer shall state in said application that it is the bona fide intention of applicant to send child to the school to which transfer is asked, upon the transfer of any child its portion of the school funds shall follow and be paid over to the district or independent district to which such child is transferred; provided, no transfers shall be made after August first, after the enrollment was made."

Note that "the party making application for transfer shall state in said application that it is the bona fide intention of the applicant to send the child to the school to which transfer is asked," and that no transfers shall be made after August first of each year.

EXAMINATIONS.

"The county board of examiners of each county shall, if necessary, hold an examination on the first Friday and the Saturday following of the months of May, July, August, September and December of each year. Said board of examiners shall use the questions prescribed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and shall conduct the examination in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the county superintendent and State Superintendent of Public Instruction."

No county examination will be held in July this year for the reason that the law does not become effective until July 14, 1905. The printers have promised to deliver to the state department of education a new edition of the school laws of Texas by August 1, 1905, a supply of which will be sent immediately to all county superintendents and ex-officio county superintendents without requisition. Teachers and trustees desiring copies of the school laws should apply to their county superintendent for them after August 1, 1905.

Please give publicity to this letter through your county papers.

Yours sincerely,
R. B. COUSINS,
State Superintendent.

CRYER.

Editor Eagle:

The recent rains have made everything muddy around Cryer. Elder Bradley brought the series of meetings, which he was conducting on Browns Creek, to a close on the 6th inst.

J. M. Walker and family of San Saba county were visiting friends and acquaintances in this part Saturday and Sunday.

We understand that Mrs. Grace Robertson of Big Valley is going to teach the free school at Cryer this fall. That is fortunate for the people around Cryer.

The singing convention meets at Cryer the second Saturday and Sunday in August. Everybody invited. Say, Lige White, of Big Valley, get that vocal of yours in tune and bring it and come up. Lee Benningfield, bring your girl when you come to Cryer, don't do like you did at Rook Springs.

I hear some farmers saying their cotton will make one-half bale per acre. That sounds like prosperity for Mills county people, but we don't think this prosperity should be branded Roosevelt.

If this makes food for the Eagle we will write again.
