VOL. 14.

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, DECEMBER 8, 1906.

A FEW HAPPY DAYS.

The few days spent at the Baptist general convention at Waco were some of the happiest days of my life. On my return came back by Belton to see some of our possessions at Baylor. Was at the dedication of the cottage home, which is an honor to Belton, the state, the Baptist and to God. Over the main entrance is written these words: "Thy memorial O, God forever and ever." In the walls of Baylor are about 400 of our finest girls.

The next Sunday went to Payne Gap, where had sent an appointment but it being poorly scattered the northern scattered the congregation. God willing will be with them again the third Sunday in December. Went from there and joined Brother Wilford that evening at Cottonwood where we had some of the sweetest meetings I ever attended. There was one convention that evening. A strong man, who had resisted many an appeal melted down under the power of God and surrendered his life to Him. That night several manifested a deep interest in their souls, and on Tuesday evening despite the storm of wind and rain a number gathered at the school house where we had a sweet service indeed and in truth. Two young ladies completely surrendered their lives to God and expressed a desire and an impression from God to do mission work. Such is the spirit of things around Star. Your missionary J. H. SMITH.

LADIES BAZAAR.

The Bazaar by the ladies of the Home Mission Society next Friday and Saturday will be decidedly interesting and should be the means of raising a considerable amount of finance. The room in the rear of the post-office building has been secured for the enterprise and the ladies have appointed soliciting committees to secure donations from the people of the town who are friendly to the cause. All articles contributed will be placed on sale and the money realized will be used by the society. Everybody should help as much as possible in this good work.

Where Quality Counts We Win.

Did you ever wonder why it is that a Bank can win out on a basis of six per cent. profit, while so many dry goods merchants, with their twenty-five per cent. profit fail? The reason is very simple. The Bank carries a perfect system into every part of its business and knows exactly every night where it stands. If there is the least thing wrong, that thing must be made right before business proceeds. We do not claim to be a Banker nor in the Banking business, but we do claim to be in the Dry Goods business and doing business on business principles. At any time we find an article that is not proving satisfactory, we immediately discard it—put more money in the similar article and sell it at the same price.

Queen Quality Shoes Are Honest Values.

The name of Queen Quality is with honest values and today it means more to you than ever before. It means that in the face of higher prices of leather the high standard of the Q. Q. The secret of success in the S. M. & S. clothes is the satisfaction of the wearer—satisfaction which increases with each day's wear. In every garment there is fit, style, comfort quality and durability. There are many other reasons why you should wear satisfactory clothes.

Monday, cold and dreary as it proved to be, was the appointed day for the commencement of our public school. These thoughts carry us back to those golden days of yore. How our hearts delight to think of the pleasant remembrances of our childhood that are written just as indelibly upon our memories as if they had happened but yesterday. Thus we are made to exclaim, "Backward, turn backward, Oh, time in your flight; make me a child again just for one night." From the cotton field to the school room has proven to be a delightful change for the dear children, I am quite sure. No doubt the little birdies are singing just as merrily in their hearts as if it were May time. May their future be all their fancy pictures of hearts de

BAD ACCIDENTS.
 Wednesday morning at Indian Gap J. A. Harris and W. S. Lee were both injured in a runaway accident. Mr. Harris' right ankle was badly broken, the bone protruding and tearing the flesh. Mr. Lee's left leg was broken above the knee and the bone protruded.
 The two gentlemen were riding on a wagon drawn by a pair of mules and the animals ran away with the wagon. Mr. Harris jumped out and fell with his weight upon one foot, which caused the ankle to break. Mr. Lee tried to remain on the wagon, but was thrown off. Both gentlemen were getting along as well as could be expected at last reports.

ANOTHER.
 Mr. Thos. J. Hamilton was thrown from his wagon in this city Wednesday afternoon and his ribs were broken and he was painfully bruised by the wagon passing over his body. The accident happened near the Pearson grain house, where Mr. Hamilton had gone to load something upon his wagon. His mules became frightened and started to run when he fell out on the tongue and immediately under the heels of the mules. At first it was feared that the animals had kicked him, but later developments prove that he was not so badly injured, although he was painfully hurt.

BAD ACCIDENTS.
 Wednesday morning at Indian Gap J. A. Harris and W. S. Lee were both injured in a runaway accident. Mr. Harris' right ankle was badly broken, the bone protruding and tearing the flesh. Mr. Lee's left leg was broken above the knee and the bone protruded.
 The two gentlemen were riding on a wagon drawn by a pair of mules and the animals ran away with the wagon. Mr. Harris jumped out and fell with his right upon one foot, which caused the ankle to break. Mr. Lee tried to remain on the wagon, but was thrown off. Both gentlemen were getting along as well as could be expected at last reports.

ANOTHER.
 Mr. Thos. J. Hamilton was thrown from his wagon in this city Wednesday afternoon and his rib was broken and he was painfully bruised by the wagon passing over his body. The accident happened near the Ferguson grain house, where Mr. Hamilton had gone to load something upon his wagon. His mules became frightened and started to run when he fell out on the wagon and immediately under the heels of the mules. At first it was feared that the animals had kicked him, but later developments prove that he was not so badly injured, although he was painfully hurt.

GOOD STOCK.
 When you want to buy, sell or trade horses and mules will do well to see me at my stable on east side of the square. I have some good stock and can furnish good driving horses and work teams. I have purchased the interest of W. D. Holland in the business heretofore conducted by us jointly and will continue the business at the same stand. Come to see me if you want to buy, sell or trade stock. I will treat you right.
