Mullin and
Editor Eagle;
As I failed to contribute a single crumb to the Eagle last week, I will give you double rations this week by combining two communications into one, but hope not to forfeit the readers.

The Primitive Baptist association held at the Home Ranch struck the people of this country with wonder and amazement. Campers began to arrive Thursday and continued until there were four hundred in camp. They came from north, south east and west, some one to a hundred miles away. A vast multitude of people were there, the churches presented were blended in one and harmony; twenty-four preachers were present and everyone had an opportunity to make a word of gospel as they believe it, and many hungry people were filled to overflowing.

Miss Lora Anderson's visit to Mullin was like a meteoric flash, brief but brilliant, many regrets followed the appearance of this attractive young woman.

N. J. ... while washing his bug ... was attacked by a ... snake which disturbed in its repose ... Mr. Tyson with difficulty that he extricated ... a chicken snake. Miss ... Duren, en route from ... to Brownwood, and spent a few days ... sister, Mrs. H. F.

Mrs. J. D. Chesser came in last week from Temple, where she had been for treatment, I was glad to hear that she was much improved in health.

Dr. Herrington has been promoted to a dignified honor, and now wears gracefully the venerable name of "Grandpa."

Mrs. Meadows of Venus, Tex. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jackson, etc.

Mrs. Thos. Baird has a very sick child at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. R. McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Little and little daughter, Mattie and Jannie Mae, left by private conveyance for Lampasas Tuesday to try the waters for Mrs. Little, who is still suffering from rheumatism.

Miss Maria Wyatt of North Carolina, is visiting her cousins, Mesdames Ben Kettle and L. J. Vann.

Claud Jeffords is again at his post in the Santa Fe office, after a pleasant visit to Houston and Galveston.

Sunday afternoon Mullin was visited by a fine rain, which, however, did not interfere with the service at the tent. Rev. J. L. Morrell who has the meeting in charge, is attracting large crowds and is preaching some strong sermons on Holiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hancock are rejoicing over another gem of purest serenity added to their family diadem, a daughter.

That Mullin is to have a new school building is a settled fact. The contract has not yet been given out.

Carroll Rogers, son of our esteemed citizen, J. A. Roger has entered Howard Payne college and we bespeak for him a successful year.

Mrs. Cassie Williams has also entered Howard Payne college Mullin may well be proud of her two representatives at this school.

J. B. Renfro is looking after business in Mullin.

Mrs. Jeffords had as her guest Sunday and Monday, four bright happy maidens from the "Garden spot" of Texas.—Goldthwaite, G. V. M.

G. A. Henderson arrived from Missouri the first of the week for a visit to friends and to look after business matters.

J. H. Brown and wife of Pottsville have been here several days visiting relatives and attending the meeting at the Christian church. Mrs. Brown was Miss Lula Faulkner and has a great many friends here.

T. D. Perry and wife of Miller Grove returned the first of the week from Wood county, where they were called two weeks ago on account of the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. White, who was much improved when they left.

Miss Sterrett has arrived in the city to take charge of the millinery department in the Geeslin company's store. She is accompanied by her sister from West Virginia, who will spend some time here for her health.

Time for Careful Thought.

The citizen who doubts the shortage of the cotton crop this year has certainly not visited many of the cotton fields lately. Not that the shortage is more noticeable here than elsewhere, for it is not. In fact, citizens of this county who have visited other parts of the state say that our crops compare very favorably with other sections and in many counties the crop is almost a complete failure. Our farmers will make some cotton, but the crop is distressingly short and there is no mistake about it. To undertake to emigrate to a state or section where conditions are more inviting involves a sacrifice to most people too great to be considered and, again, what assurance have we that the same conditions will not exist in the other state next year? The only reasonable thing to do is to make the best of conditions as they are and every man bear his part of the burden occasioned by the shortage of crops. Don't expect the merchant, the doctor, the preacher or anybody else to bear all of the burden, but let every man make what sacrifice is necessary to meet his obligations and thereby bear his own burden. If 100 people owe a merchant $50 each there will be an aggregate of $5000 and a failure to collect this or any part of it may cause him to be put into bankruptcy and his property sacrificed, while each individual who owes him could have paid by a small effort or a slight sacrifice. The idea that the merchant or the doctor or some other creditor can be "stood off" and made to bear the entire burden is unjust unmanly and the man who will not exert himself and make the sacrifice to meet his obligations proves that he is not willing to bear his own burden, but wants to shirk his duty and thereby add to the burden of his neighbor and the Eagle hopes that there are none of that kind of men in Mills county.

North Pole Discovered.

The north pole has been discovered by Dr. F. A. Cook of Brooklyn and the stars and stripes were planted at a point where all meridians meet, time computation is impossible, and by one step it is possible to go from one side of the globe to the other. Dr. Cook reached the pole April 21, 1908, and has just now made his way back and published his achievement. It is known that 758 persons have lost their lives in trying to discover the north pole since 1553.

North Brown Defeated by Big Valley.

The North Brown and Big Valley teams crossed bats on the diamond at the picnic grounds at Bulls Springs, Friday, Aug. 27. The managers of these teams had made several attempts to bring their teams together, but had failed up to last Friday. Everybody anticipated a good hard game and wanted to see it, for both teams have a reputation as hard to beat. The large crowd that came to see the game was not disappointed, for it proved to be a neck to neck race for victory. The Big Valley boys felt somewhat quaky on account of the absence of two of their best players, but, after considerable effort and searching was made, Templin and Saylor, of Goldthwaite, were substituted. The game was quick, smooth and quiet, with the exception of a little insignificant Bull Springs noise. Both teams seemed confident of victory and were determined to the end. They were agreeable enemies and more friendly rivals never met on the athletic field.

The game started with Big Valley in the field, and nobody scored the first inning. The score stood 1 to 1 the second, and in the fourth it was 2 to 2. In the sixth inning the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of North Brown, but they did not score any more and Big Valley scored three times, leaving the score at the end of the game 5 to 7 in Big Valley's favor. North Brown's batting was a little above the average and they secured several hits.

Bledsoe, who was not in the form and he did not show his usual standards. McClain pitched the game for North Brown, and pitched his best curves. Only a few plays of real interest were made, and Big Valley's short stop pitched his best stiff liner with one strike, making a home run. The pitcher handled the stick, and the crowd was successful in following the fellow.

ONE WEAK SPOT.
Most Goldthwaite People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up day and night. Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache. A kidney cure is what you need. Doan's Kidney Pills cures sick kidneys. Cures backache and urinary ills. Goldthwaite people recommend the remedy.
Mrs. J. A. M. Johnson, seven and one-half miles of Goldthwaite, Texas, says: "I was troubled for several years by kidney and bladder complaint. There was a constant pain across the small of my back, sometimes extending as far as my neck and the kidney secretions were far too frequent in passage, annoying me greatly. I tried numerous remedies but found no relief until I started taking Doan's Kidney pills, procured at Clements' drug store. Soon after beginning their use, all my trouble disappeared and my condition was made better in every way. I think Doan's Kidney pills unequalled as a cure for kidney complaint. It gives me pleasure to recommend them."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The government report of the cotton crop shows it to be 63.7 per cent of normal, which is the lowest estimate for a number of years. If this estimate is correct and it very likely is, it's mighty close to right, the cotton crop of the United States is smaller than it has been in a good many years.
S. T. Weathers and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell request the Eagle to express their thanks to the people for their kindness and attention during the illness of Mrs. Weathers. They appreciate to fullest extent the many thoughtful friends who helped to minister to her.

Floods in Monterey, Mexico, last Friday night and Saturday destroyed $20,000,000 worth of property, thousands of people were rendered homeless and fully 1200 were drowned. The scenes in the streets after the water receded were horrible. Dead people and animals were in piles over the town.

A number of the heaviest taxpayers in this county are talking of petitioning the commissioners to order an election to authorize the issuance of $50,000 in bonds for road building. It is said that the issue can be so made that the tax rate will not be increased at all and the $50,000 can be distributed among the people of this county after the present crop is gathered and before the beginning of another crop. It is well worth considering. Good roads benefit the town and country alike. Property values are advanced by good roads.

Facts and Figures.

Caradan, Aug. 24.

Editor Eagle:

I hoped some more able writer would take up the road question, but as there was no reference to it in the last issue of the Eagle and I am not willing to drop the question at this auspicious time, I will try to still further urge the necessity of immediate action, and try to introduce some figures showing the great importance of better roads.

In the first place, a road for any given distance is only equal to its worst hill or bad place, so far as drawing a heavy load is concerned. At the present time 3000 pounds is a good load and about as much as our best teams can pull; whereas, the roads could be put in such condition that it would be just as easy to pull 4500—a difference of 1500 pounds. Now, we will suppose that there are 1000 farmers in Mills county living on an average of ten miles from market and they make an average of 15 trips each per year. Freight rates being $1 per thousand pounds, which is customary, according my way of figuring $15 would be saved to each farmer, as he would only make ten trips, instead of fifteen. One thousand times $15 is $15,000, which would pay interest on bonds to the amount of $300,000 at 5 per cent. But $300,000 could not be advantageously used if made available all at one time, so let us get at the thing more practical.

Now let us see what the cost would be to tax payers if we should issue $50,000 in bonds. I believe the assessment of this county amounts to about six million dollars, so you can see that it would only require a little more than 4 cents on the $100 valuation, about 41 cents on the $1000 to pay the interest on $50,000; so a tax payer who pays on $5000 worth of property would have his taxes increased only a little over $4.50 on account of the bonds—a mere bagatelle.

Now, Mr. Editor, I probably have less personal interest in this matter than most any citizen of this county, as I do not expect any personal benefit, as I have about quit farming, but I think that whenever a person ceases to take an interest in matters that concern the public good he has outlived his usefulness.

Now, if there is going to be anything done in time to help the working people by giving them employment on the roads it is time to get the matter in tangible shape. Believing that the Eagle will gladly and cheerfully publish any communication on this important subject, I respectfully ask others to give their views, whether for or against this proposition.
D. T. BUSH.

The committee authorized to select a location for a new state normal school provided for by the last legislature selected Canyon City, the county seat of Randall county, as the location for the new school. The town gave $101,000 bonus for the school and 40 acres of ground on which to place the buildings. The committee after making the selection decided to recommend to the next legislature the establishment of two more of these colleges.

J. H. Allen, jr., and family have been on the river fishing for several days from Goldthwaite and came up the first of the week to spend a few days with Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Linn.—San Saba News.

Obituary.

How sad is death! By request, I am bearer of the news of an angel visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith of Ballinger, Texas, on August 12th, 1909.

Mr. Smith is a Baptist minister and esteemed by all who know him. Mrs. Smith was reared to womanhood in this community and is the daughter of Mr. Pink Taff, and is much beloved in this part.

Three years ago she was married to Mr. Smith, and they departed for his home in the far west, when God blessed their home with the sweetest jewel that can be given—a little babe—on June 20th, 1908. Their lives seemed completed. But alas! like Job, we all must suffer, and God's will, not ours, be done. Baby Clyde was taken sick in March while they were visiting his grandparents. Medical skill was baffled, the little one's suffering was great, he still lingered, and parents and friends watched by his bedside never tiring. God, in his mercy saw fit to kiss to sleep the eyelids of little Clyde, and his body now lies in the tomb awaiting the resurrection morn, when Christ has promised to return.

Death is the separation of soul and body—the throwing aside of our earthly mantle. It is a friend to sufferers. Death opens life's prison and releases us from miseries, trials and disappointments. We leave this world of gloom and our bodies rest in the grave, while our spirit returns to the God who gave it. "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." 1-Cor. 15: 22 Christ said on one occasion to his disciples, "Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would not tell you, I go to prepare a place for you. I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am, ye may be also. John, 14:13.

Parents, grieve not, your little darling will be given you again on that great day, then there will be no more parting or pain, all loved ones will be united.

Sweet little Clyde was a sunbeam in their home. He had just begun to prattle the first sweet tiny words. It was so hard to give him up. There was never a brighter, prettier child given to parents than little Clyde. Weep not, parents, for he will never more know pain, he now sleeps in the grave. Let us look forward to that blessed day when we shall meet with loved ones again. The God we serve knows best when to call us to our rest. Death of loved ones binds us closer together and dear bereaved parents, let me commend you to our God who said; "I will never forsake thee." There is comfort only in obeying and trusting Him and remembering His promises. So be prepared to meet your darling when the Master calls.

"A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in their home
That never can be filled.

Who can shun death's sting severe?
It claims the young and old;
It brings sadness—the scalding tear—
Its mortal agony can not be told.

Clyde, your dear little boy
Was a precious gift, sweetly given,
He was a priceless, sinless pearl
From the treasure house of heaven,
By a true friend,
MRS. MATTIE ELLIOTT.

A more extended notice will be given next week.

No marriage license had been issued during the week by the county clerk up to the time the Eagle was put to press.

A communication from Mr. H. O. Cobb, who is spending the hot weather in Colorado Springs, Col., appears in another column. His friends here are glad to hear from him and to know he is having a good time, but he is warned that pickpockets are said to be operating in the west, and it behooves a man to be watchful.

G. A. Henderson left Thursday for Mineral Wells and a telegram from that place yesterday stated that he was very sick and unconscious. His many friends here hope he will soon recover.

Railroad To San Saba.

That San Saba is to have a railroad in the near future seems now certain. A number of the officials of the Santa Fe railroad company were in that town last week and contracted with thirty citizens of that county to run a line of railroad through San Saba, Harkeyville and Richland Springs for a bonus of $80,000, which amount is to be paid when the railroad is completed and trains in operation.

The officials returned to that place this week with engineers and commenced a survey from the west side of the county to San Saba and later another engineer arrived and started a survey toward Lometa. This looks like conclusive evidence that the railroad is to be built in less time than is allowed by the contract, which is two years.

The officials made a trip through the country to Brady and conferred with the citizens there about a road from that place to San Saba, but no definite determination has been announced and the plans of the railroad people are not known, although they undoubtedly have the entire route planned. It is possible they intend to continue the San Saba road to Brady, but it is just as likely they are planning for a good bonus from some other place.

The starting place for the road has not yet been announced, but the contract says it will be at some point from Lampasas to Brownwood and the general opinion is that it will be either from Antelope or Lometa, and most likely from the former place. It is possible the proposition will be made to Goldthwaite to build from this place and it is probable that if the branch is built from Antelope Gap that trains will be run to Goldthwaite, using the main line for the intervening distance.

Some think, however, that the road will be built from Lampasas, and since it is all guess work and supposition everybody has a guess coming to them.

New Exchange In Operation.

To the Eagle and Its Readers:

Having just made what is claimed to be the grandest one day trip in the world, and to the greatest gold camp on earth, I ask your kind indulgence while I make my speech. The ride of 45 miles from Colorado Springs to Cripple Creek over what is called the short line; is one panorama of gorgeous mountain canon scenery. It starts where the beauty begins, it chooses the most lovely spots as its pathway, and keeps the tourists in a state of wonder at every turn of the wheels as to what will come next. While Colorado Spring has an altitude of 6000 feet it is in reality a city of the plains.

At 5:30 Aug. 31th. a train of five coaches (with every seat taken and some standing) left the depot to begin this most wonderful climb. Gradually ascending from the start we wind along the crests of the foot-hills, getting splendid views of three gold reduction plants, the garden of the gods, Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou.

Colorado City was the first capitol of Colorado, and the old state house is still standing, built of logs perhaps 18X20 and is now occupied by Wa Sang, a Chinaman as a laundry.

Six miles out we began the steep climb. Threading our way along the side of Bear Creek canon, looking upon scenes that beggars description we came to Point Sublime 1200 feet higher than when we started. From this point we get a fine view of the plains, dotted with lakes glistening in the sunlight, with the mountains and hills, cities and towns. 40 miles away making the panorama one of incomparable magnificence. A turn to the right and we loose the limitless vision of the plains for a while and our eyes are riveted on the indescribable scenery of North Chaysins canon. The tourists are on their feet looking over the precipice more than 1000 feet below, where we can see a winding road on which we see people walking and in carriages on their way to the seven falls, about which we have already written. While passing these places you will please remember that the road over which we are traveling is in many places hung upon the mountain side, chiseled out of solid rock and barely room between the mountain and the awful abyss below for the road bed. Higher and higher we go through tunnels, nine of which will darken our vision, and as we make the curves sometimes we can see the railroad three times above us. We are over 8000 feet above the sea level and 1500 feet higher than when we started. We are now passing Silver Cascade Falls, where the water falls hundreds of feet above our head sparkling and shimmering in the sunlight and if there be a wind it waves like flowing silk. From here our winding trail along the top of North Choyenne canon gives us a finer and more comprehensive view of its magnificent beauty until Fairview is reached, which is the confluence of North and South Choyenne canons, whose scenic grandeur is famous the world over.

While looking down on so much grandeur there are majestic peaks that tower above us. St. Peters dome looks down from its towering heights a huge mass of granite that seems to stand alone to guard the secrets of the depths below. The ascent is a marvel of engineering skill and as we glide along glory succeeds to glory, vista to vista and canon to canon in every changing but constant charm, the dizzy heights are climbed with apparent ease. Passing points of interest that space forbids mentioning we reach Duffields, 18 miles from where we started and yet getting fine views of Colorado Springs our starting point, but we are informed as we make this curve we are getting our last view until we return to this point. At a point called Summit, 10,000 feet, the highest point until we reach the Cripple creek district. As we scale the heights and to our south 45 miles away Pueblo the Pittsburg of the West is plainly seen. Just beyond the Summit of the range is Rosemont, a natural park surrounded by towering mountain peaks, the ruggedness of which is awe inspiring and the trepidity of the thought which conceived and the daring which achieved a railroad through such mountains almost overwhelms even the most thoughtless. Passing Sanderland and Clyde; We are entering the gold district and on our left is Altman, the highest incorporated town on the American continent, it is 11,000 feet above the sea level.

We are entering Cameron, the greatest gold bearing district in the world, located on Bull Hill. Next is Bull Cliffs the scene of the great battle between deputy sheriffs and miners during the strike of 1893. Passing Bull Hill Station and Independence we come to Portland, where we see the greatest gold mine in the world producing 10,000 tons of ore monthly and has paid $8,000,000 in dividends. Just below Portland is the Stratton mine, which Mr. Stratton found and sold for $10,000,000. If you ever go to Colorado Springs you will hear of Mr. Stratton. The whole earth seems to be dotted with mines and the mounds of dirt and rock where prospectors have been digging until it resembles the mounds of a prairie dog town, only on a larger scale, but amid these are large, active mines, paying their owners handsome dividends. At Goldfield we took the electric car that we might climb higher heights that we could not reach on the regular train. From these heights we could see the continental divide 50 miles away and while we were looking across at that our train rounded a curve where we could see far below us Cripple Creek, a city of 15,000 people and our destination, when we get there. The descent is gradual and we are soon walking the streets of a town that only a little while ago was more than 1000 feet below us.

This entire Goldfield has a population of 50,000 people, with all the modern conveniences of an Eastern city. The gold production to date approximating over $200,000,000 in value. I went into one of the mines through a tunnel blasted through solid rock and when I reached my destination I was informed that I was 700 feet under ground, and more than three-fourths of a mile from where we started in.

It is useless to try to tell you all so I will desist. We had a safe interesting trip back, and while eating our supper the door bell rang and an answer to same revealed the smiling faces of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Fairman Miss Kate and Earl, and with seven Texans all under one roof a jolly good time began that at the close of this the third day is still going on and more to follow, as another trip is planned for tomorrow, the results of which we are not now able to tell. Consigning what we have written to the tender care of Uncle Sam and with a real hearty good wish for all and a good night to all, we are done.
