Surprise Snowstorm Leaves Seven Inches

A surprise snowstorm blasted through the Muleshoe area this week leaving accumulations up to seven inches in the area. Surrounding towns reported as much as 10 inches, but most of the South Plains and the northern Panhandle were reporting six to eight inches of snow.

County Youths Show Animals

In San Antonio

Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension Agent, reports that several youths from Bailey County placed in the San Antonio Livestock Show held last week.

Marilyn Black had the Reserve Champion Poland Barrow of the 4-H Junior Show. The barrow placed second in the light weight class. She also showed the tenth place hog in the middle weight, Crossbred division.

David Head placed sixth in the heavy weight Crossbred division.

In the FFA Junior Show David Watson showed the third place heavy weight Chester White; Kelly Head showed the 17th place middle weight Crossbred; David Ellis showed the eighth place heavy weight Hampshire; and Glen Harrison showed the 17th place light weight Hampshire.

In the Open Show, David Saylor showed the seventh place light weight Chester White; Eugene Black showed the fourth place light weight Duroc, and the stopped late cotton harvesting on the south plains and stalled traffic in some areas.

The snow shut down area schools including the Muleshoe School System.

Driving conditions were hazardous as the snow began accumulating.

Snow showers fell in this area Wednesday afternoon, but never accumulated in excessive amounts until early Thursday morning.

Local citizens awoke Thursday morning to find about three inches of snow already on the ground and still falling.

Snow fell throughout most of the day Thursday, becoming lighter by late afternoon. Temperatures climbed above the freezing mark by afternoon, allowing for some of the snow to melt before evening. By night-fall, the temperature had dropped back below freezing, making streets and highways treacherous.

Bright sunshine Friday allowed most of the snow to melt by afternoon.

This winter season has been one with more snow accumulations than most previous years. Moisture in the ground should benefit wheat farmers in the area this year.

Jury Notice

The jury that was supposed to report for duty in County Court, Monday morning February 26, need not report, but should report for service Thursday morning March 1st at 9:30 A.M.

EIGHT FOOT SNOWMAN.... With an abundance of snow on the ground and no school Thursday, these children had quite a time making this snowman. The problem of height was quickly solved with a step ladder used to put the head of the snowman in place. Accumulations of seven to nine inches were recorded in this area of the South Plains and Panhandle Thursday. Snow began falling Wednesday but did not accumulate on the ground until Thursday morning. Snow fell throughout most of the day, ceasing in the late afternoon. Traffic problems were minimal this time as the snow melted almost over night. Pictured with the snowman are Ben Harmon, Ricky Kennemer, Lynette Shafer, and Dewayne Shafer.

Snow Stops Cotton Harvest Momentarily

The late cotton harvest was interrupted again this week by seven inches of snow on the ground in the Muleshoe area. However, the wet winter hasn't seemed to bother the cotton this year adversely as Bailey County has ginned over 70,000 bales of cotton this year.

A spot check with all the gins located in Bailey County shows that 70,247 bales of cotton have been ginned in the county with approximately 2500 bales still in the field or not ginned at this date.

An early fall estimate showed Bailey County should gin 50,000 bales this year. However, the bale count shows that this county has produced more cotton than expected.

The Muleshoe Co-op Gin reports that they have ginned 8800 bales of cotton to date and are expecting about 100 more bales this season.

Muleshoe Gin Company is finished with their portion of the harvest and report a total of 1417 bales ginned for the year.

The Needmore Co-op Gin reports that they are nearly finished with the 1972 crop and have ginned 6500 bales with only about 100 more bales to go.

The Shafer Gin Company likes about 1,000 bales being finished and have ginned 4720 bales this season.

The Stegall Gin is reported to be finished for the season with about 1863 bales ginned.

The Paymaster Gin has ginned 2600 bales this year and probably like about 20-30 more bales being finished.

The Beck Gin has ginned 4850 bales this season and reports indicate that they should not have more than 10 or 12 more bales left.

The Claunch Gin likes about 700-800 more bales being finished with the 1972 harvest. All total, they have ginned 6882 bales of cotton this year.

Only about 100 bales are left to come in to the Enochs Gin this season with the gin already ginning around 1600 bales this season.

The Farmers Co-op Association of Enochs reports that they have ginned 7100 bales with about 300-400 more bales left to go. Young Brothers Gin has ginned 4400 bales of cotton and still like about 140 more.

The Progress Gin is just about to wrap up their season after ginning 2915 bales. Reports indicate they like four or five more bales being finished.

The West Camp Gin reports that they have ginned 4300 bales this year with another 40-50 expected to come in.

The Maple Co-op Gin reports that they have ginned approximately 12,300 bales of cotton this year and that there is still some cotton left in the field.

Cotton seemed to have been plentiful this year as most farmers made good crops. Prices were not what most farmers wanted, but the quality of the cotton seemed to be fair this year compared to some past seasons.

Dryland farmers in the south part of the county produced excellent crops this year compared to some of the past years.

The newly elected directors determined by ballot voting by the members are John Agee, District 2 and O.M. Lackey, District 4.

Better Weather Incorporated To Operate In Local Counties

For the past three years, Better Weather Incorporated (BWI) has been supporting a hail suppression program conducted over portions of Lamb, Hale, Bailey, Castro and Floyd Counties. In the past, BWI has teamed with the Plains Weather Improvement Association in Hale County to organize this weather modification program which involves the use of three cloud seeding aircraft and a radar set based at Plainview. During the 1970-72 program, Atmospherics Incorporated, a California based professional firm, has conducted the total program.

For the summer of 1973, the group in Hale County has purchased their own aircraft and intend to operate the program with their own personnel. At a recent meeting of BWI, the directors voted to establish a field operational headquarters at Littlefield and continue the program under a contract with Atmospherics. The purpose of this new design is to provide a more efficient and effective approach to those systems which develop along the western edge of Lamb County as well as portions of Bailey, Parmer and Castro Counties, finally moving eastward toward Hale County.

The cost of this BWI program is estimated to be approximately $97,000.00 for the period May 1st through October 31st. If enough money cannot be raised to organize the BWI program for Lamb County and adjacent areas, then it may continue as a joint effort with PWIA in Plainview.

Weather modification is not new to the local, national and international scenes. Dating back to the mid '50's, various attempts at stimulating rainfall and decreasing hail damage have been organized in many areas of Texas. Some successes have been indicated in some of these historic programs but few in the past have been designed in such a way that evaluations would satisfy the scientific community. Although the more recent hail suppression program does not have design features which satisfy all statistical requirements, the operations do include a data acquisition phase which accurately documents all storm periods and indicates some effects of airborne application of sil-

BC Electric Co-op Elects New Officers

The Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association held its annual meeting February 17 in the Muleshoe High School auditorium with 154 members present and six guests.

Harold Allison was elected Board President at the meeting and Herbert "Mickey" Sowder was elected vice-president, and W. B. Kittrell, secretary-treasurer.

The Nominating Committee consisting of C.G. Lewis, Marvin Mimms, Morris McKillip, George Wheeler and R.L. Scott, met prior to the meeting and nominated two persons for each district in which terms were expiring. Those nominated for District No. 1 were Jimmie White and Arvis Grogan. Nominated for District No. 2 were D.M. McGuire and Harold Allison.

Newly elected directors determined by ballot voting by the members were Arvis Grogan, District 1; and Harold Allison, District 2.

Election judges counting the ballots were Lester Howard, Thurlo Branscum, Joe Simmacher, Fremant Davis and Ernest Ramm.

Other directors who complete the seven member board are Irvin Ott, W.B. Kittrell, Herbert Sowder, Bill Sowder and Wendel Mason.

A nominating committee was selected to meet prior to the annual meeting in 1974 and make nominations for directors for Districts 4, 5 and 7. Those nominated for these districts are Woodie Dobbins and Charlie Tiller, District 4; Leon Dupler and T.D. Davis, District 5; Willard Henry and Buford Webb, District 7; and committeeman - at-large, Bill Garrett.

Refreshments were served during and after the meeting by the Bailey County Home Demonstration Club.

Texas Telephone Commission Bill Gaining State Support

AUSTIN—State Representative Joe Allen of Baytown believes that his bill to establish the Texas Telephone Commission is gaining support from local city governments across the state. House Bill #27 would create Texas' first such utility commission to act as a rate control board for all telephone franchises in the state.

"In recent weeks I have talked to several mayors across Texas to get their reaction to the bill's potential effects. They believe that the small and medium size cities are at the mercy of the local franchise when the telephone company wants a rate hike. The simply cannot afford a court fight to get a reduced rate, and even if they could, it would be physically impossible for them to gather the data and statistics to be as well prepared in court actions as the phone company's representatives. Even more unfortunate is that a court fight is virtually the only method of opposing price increases," Rep. Allen stated.

The bill sets up a 3 man commission, appointed by the Governor, to review a proposed rate increase... at the option of the community involved. The measure also creates the office of Telephone Consumer Counsel, which will investigate customer complaints of telephone service, and customer questions about phone regulations and charges. The Counsel will also be available to offer assistance and advice to local communities who are questioning the fairness of phone company practices concerning rates and increases.

Rep. Allen added, "The community officials I have spoken to believe that this bill is the answer to their inability to fight on the same level as phone company. Furthermore, I believe that the state has an obligation to come to the assistance of cities that cannot afford to fight inequitable utility practices on their own. Texas is the only state left which does not have a rate control board of some type for this franchise service."

No state appropriation will be needed to finance the Commission. It will be funded by a special .1% levy on intrastate long-distance telephone calls to be paid by the telephone company. The levy will pay the salaries of the Commission and Counsel, and their expenses. Tax dollars will not be spent on the Commission.

Rep. Allen concluded, "This measure cannot help but bring more justice to rate control. Naturally the phone franchisees will oppose the bill because they know it will be more difficult for them to ask for an imprudent rate change. But it will give Texas communities and telephone customers the chance for equitable treatment, the opportunity to realize utility control, and the right of recourse when faced with monopolistic business."

within an around the treated area, the 1970-1972 program appears to have produced a 40% - 60% reduction in hailfall, and a 5% - 10% increase in rainfall.

Atmospherics Incorporated is involved in many weather modification research and operational programs throughout other areas of the United States. These include hailstorm research studies with Colorado State University during the 1960-1965 period, further research on hail mechanisms as part of Project Hailswath at South Dakota School of Mines and Technology during the 1966-1968 period, a continuing precipitation enhancement program for the Kings River Conservation District in California beginning in 1955, several research efforts on rainfall and hail mechanisms under funding from the National Science Foundation, development work on new type cloud seeding devices with the Naval Weapons Center at China Lake, California, operational hail suppression and hail stimulation activities with the State Seeding Program under the Weather

Modification Commission in South Dakota, operational hail stimulation for the Colorado River Municipal Water District in Big Spring, Texas, and the provision of seeding capability for the National Hail Research Experiment under the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colorado. The analysis of many of these long - term operational programs have produced strong evidence that hailfall has been decreased and rainfall increased.

There is an international aspect to the programs conducted by Atmospherics, the group which has operated the local program. AI is currently conducting a hail suppression program in Kenya, East Africa, where hailfall occurs on more than 200 days per year! No month is excluded from hail damage over a large tea growing area northwest of Nairobi, and it now appears to be the highest hail incident area in the world. The program is operated over an area of about 1,000 square miles and involves 3 seeding aircraft, 2 radar systems, and a team of 4 pilots and one radar meteorologist. The results from analysis of seeding 4,600 thunderstorms during the past 5 years indicate a clear 60% reduction in hail damage and a 12% increase in rainfall.

Hail and rain modification programs are also conducted by AI in the Republic of South Africa where aircraft and radar systems are established under a large cloud seeding program southwest to Johannesburg. This program has only been operated the past two years but the results already appear significant. According to hail insurance records the average hail damage during the operational periods has been 70% less than any period in history.

AI has also conducted demonstration and instructional weather modification programs in India and the Republic of Sudan. These programs were designed to demonstrate the effectiveness of rain stimulation as well as instruct local meteorologists in the proper application technology. Both programs have been successful in providing additional rainfall.

For the past 8 years Israel has had a large national rain stimulation program in which the country has been divided into sections and alternate sections chosen at random for seeding application. After the first 6 years of operations, the rainfall in seeded areas has been compared with rainfall in non-seeded areas and an average of 22% increase is indicated. The Israeli program is now primarily operational in scope and only minimal effort toward pure research.

In France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany, a number of hail research and operational programs are being conducted over large agricultural areas. The French programs have been particularly well designed and have produced many positive results from programs designed to decrease hail damage over grape growing areas.

One of the most active hail suppression programs in the world is presently conducted in Russia. A team of 25 scientists have been at work for the past 10 years conducting a hail suppression program over two large areas where storms similar to those found in Texas. Rockets and artillery shells with silver iodide content are fired at specific areas within clouds suspected of producing hail. The results from the Russian work appears to be nothing less than spectacular with 100% reduction claimed in some areas.

Another long range program in weather modification has been conducted in Australia by the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Organization. Beginning in 1947 their group has been involved in research and operational weather modification programs designed to augment water supplies in mountain areas of eastern Australia. As in other areas of the world, this program indicates precipitation increases of 15% to 20%.

When results from all weather modification programs throughout the world are analyzed as a whole, the pattern which emerges is one of 40% to 10% additional rainfall provided the program is conducted by knowledgeable people with extensive experience in the design, implementation and operation of such projects.

Bula 4-H Club Meets

The Bula 4-H Club met on Wednesday, February 21, at the Bula School. Cathy Snitker presided over the business meeting. Cary Austin led the 4-H motto, pledge and prayer. Sherry Claunch acted as secretary in the place of the regular secretary, Helen Pollard. Thirty-three members attended the meeting. Jack Birdwell, vocational agriculture teacher, handed out checks to those who participated in the Bailey County Livestock Show. Mrs. Taylor then met with the photography group presenting a program on "Taking Care of Your Camera". Each member received a list of things to do before the project was completed.

Nacogdoches Vows Unite Miss Bamert, Hillin

Miss Greta Bamert and Terry Hillin exchanged wedding vows on Friday, February 16, in the Fredonia Hill Baptist Church Chapel in Nacogdoches. Rev. George Dodson, pastor of the Church, officiated at the reading of the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Bamert of Muleshoe and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Taylor and Mrs. F.S. Bamert, all of Las Cruces, N.M.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hylton Hillin and the grandson of Mrs. Ed Ramin, all of Nacogdoches.

The couple stood under an archway of yellow candles, yellow roses, yellow carnations and lemon leaf foliage. Smaller arrangements of the same flowers flanked the archway.

Mrs. Deborah Haas provided the wedding music.

Maid of honor, Debbie Tomlin of Whitehouse, roommate of the bride, was attired in a formal length gown of yellow taffeta and a large brim yellow hat. She carried a candle arrangement of the bride's chosen flowers.

Bob Hillin, brother of the groom, served as best man. Jack Sparks, cousin of the groom, and Nicky Bamert, brother of the bride, served as ushers and candlelighters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white imported lace, accented under the bodice by a yellow satin ribbon. The dress featured a V-neckline and long ruffled sleeves. She wore a yellow, wide brim hat adorned with yellow satin ribbon and scattered with baby yellow rose buds, baby carnations, violets and baby's breath.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses, violets, white roses and maiden hair fern, set on a white Bible.

For something old the bride wore a black onyx antique ring given to her by her mother. Something new was her wedding attire. Something borrowed was an antique brooch belonging to her great-grandmother Bamert and something blue was a blue brooch given to her by her grandmother Taylor and the traditional blue garter. The brooches were pinned to her bouquet. Pennies minted in the years of the bride and groom's birth were worn in the bride's shoes.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the Rusk Room of the Sheraton-Crest Hotel. The serving table was covered with a linen lace tablecloth and centered with an arrangement of the bride's chosen flowers. A three tiered white wedding cake was decorated with yellow roses. Silver appointments were used.

Presiding at the serving table were Crystal Crisp of Port Neches and Kathy Tidwell of New Boston, La. Guests were registered by Lana Carol Fitts of Andrews.

MHS Student Council Elections Held

DECA Students Attend Area VI Annual Leadership Conference

The second annual Area VI DECA Conference was held last weekend, February 16-17, 1973, on the campus of Amarillo College.

Friday afternoon at 4:30 P.M., the bus left Muleshoe High School carrying Boyd McCamish entering in Public Speaking, Benny Cousatte entering in the Checker-Bagger contest, Rhonda Manasco entering in Display, Marcus Puente entering in Checker-Bagger and Sales Demonstration, Terry Phipps entering in Sales Demonstration, Kathie Howard entering in Job Interview, and Billy Burt entering Advertising. Those going along to observe were Beverly Mc Camish, Vicki Redwine, Robbi Sue Kelly, and Jim Ella Norman, Coordinator Mark Gist, and his wife Cheryl, and son Shawn accompanied the group.

Reservations were made at Motel 6 in Amarillo across the street from DECA headquarters at the Travel Lodge.

The group arrived at the motel at 7:00 p. m. and everyone took time to change clothes and freshen up. At 7:30 p.m. everyone boarded the bus for Amarillo College to attend the big mixer. Upon arrival, Mr. Gist took everyone to be registered. The mixer was planned to help the students get acquainted with one another. The college recreation room was available to anyone who wished to play pool, table tennis, pin ball, or foosball. A dance furnished by a band called OX furthered the entertainment from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.

At 7:00 a.m. Saturday morning, Boyd Lee came around knocking on doors "Time to get up." We all met at Sam-bos for breakfast and went again to the college.

The first General Assembly began at 8:30 a.m. in the college auditorium. The welcome was given by Jake Laeuffer and everyone was given instructions as to where to go for their particular contests.

Everyone went his separate ways praying to do his best and give his all. The next session was in the auditorium at 1:30 p.m.

Lunch was provided in the college cafeteria from 11:00 to 1:00. At 1:30 p.m. the awards presentation assembly began. There were mixed feelings of anticipation and doubts among the contestants.

First of all, speeches were heard from Area VI candidates for office. Muleshoe had 7 voting delegates. Elected as new President for Area VI was Gary Sweatt from Rider High School in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Trophies were presented to those who attended the area Leadership Conference. Boyd and Beverly McCamish were recognized as being attendants from Muleshoe.

Placing in Area Competition from Muleshoe was Rhonda Manasco who won a 3rd place trophy in display.

After all the awards were made, the group again boarded the bus and headed for home, tired but content.

This was the greatest opportunity for meeting people who make DECA what it is today, people who care immensely about the future of DECA and their fellow workers. The people were the friendliest and most observant ones anyone could ever meet. Those who received awards were deserving and those who didn't were recognized as doing their best and giving their all. Everyone can't be a winner, but that doesn't mean he's not recognized for trying. Respect goes along with trying, and everyone who attended from Muleshoe respected each other for doing his best.

Everyone had a great time and those who attend next year should be able to make this conference better and more fun than ever. It's a great opportunity you wouldn't want to miss!

This program was set up by the Texas Department of Corrections to better alert the public on the problems of drug abuse. "Operation Kick-It", a panel of three inmates, has been touring Texas since June telling the story of drug abuse before junior and senior high school assemblies.

The three panelists were between the ages of 17 and 21. Each had been convicted for possession of marijuana and other dangerous drugs.

Each inmate told his story, beginning with home life, how he began using drugs, and events leading to his arrest. The stories they told were very realistic in relaying a message to the students, "Stay away from drugs."

One inmate was quoted for saying, "Down at the pen, it's simple things that count. Don't ignore the simple life, cause that's where it's at."
