The trade territory of a town isn't all dependent upon the distance to the neighboring trading posts. The trade territory depends upon the enterprise of the merchants and the resident of the town. If a town does not reach after the trade it will come as fast as it has to, and will grow as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after business in the surrounding country, advertising in every possible way and making good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever-increasing radius. The town will gain a reputation for being awake and will forge to the front. It is the men in the town and not altogether the men living within a certain number of miles from it that makes the town good for nothing.—Ex.

Obituary.

R. N. Odell departed this life at Ratler, Mills county, Jan. 10, 1911.

Mr. Odell was born in the state of South Carolina March 7, 1865, and came to Texas some years ago and located in Mills county.

He was married to Miss Mary Fuks Jan. 3, 1899. To them were born five children, four of whom with their mother survive him. Mr. Odell and wife were converted and joined the M. E. church Dec 17, 1910. He was faithful until death and was a kind and loving husband and father, a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a true friend. To his family and loved ones the separation is hard to bear, they realize that by his death they have lost their best friend.

He was buried at Jones Vally cemetery at Ratler. May God's blessings rest upon the bereaved ones.

A FRIEND.

The Texas Newspapers

The dissemination of information has largely to do with the prosperity and development of a country. In no country on the globe does Nature possess such astounding possibilities and reveal them in such rapid and cumulative order as in Texas, making an imperative necessity for newspapers in the home of every farmer who desires to profit by the gifts of Nature and the experience of his neighbors.

There are 950 publications in Texas, of which 89 are dailies, 763 weeklies, and the remainder are issued at regular intervals. The total listed circulation of all papers in Texas is 3,170,515 copies, an average of four papers for each family in the State. In the number of papers published within the State we rank sixth in the Union; Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Missouri leading in the order named. The Federal Government census for 1905 reports capital invested in printing and publishing in Texas of $9,074,319, a pay roll of $2,063,935 per annum, and the annual output is valued at $7,782,247. Among the industries of the State it ranks sixth in capital invested, fifth in pay rolls and sixth in the value of products. One issue of all the papers in Texas approximates one copy per capita, and making the comparison from a population basis we lead all States in the Union in the number of periodicals issued and the number of copies printed.

Circulation 3,170,515.

Texas stands first in intelligence, first in progress and first in industrial opportunities of all the States in the Union, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

The newspaper is the channel of communication between the producer and consumer; brings the city to the farm and the farm to the city; gives information of the markets and of the development of the country; carries warnings of impending danger and gives the farmer the advantage of the experience of all his neighbors and informs him of the general condition of affairs so essential to his success. The improvement of our public highways and the establishment of rural free delivery routes have extended the zone of circulation of the press to the remotest sections of the State, and reading the papers is as much a part of the work of the Texas farmer as feeding his stock.

Four Papers Per Family.

The ability of a farmer can be as easily judged by the literature he reads as by the crops he harvests. The printing press is the industrial educator of the age.

Editor Eagle:

"Time and tide wait for no man." It has been our honest intention to send communications to the Eagle more often, but the days and weeks rolled by and we still neglected it, but not because of the fact that we failed to appreciate either the paper or communications from other correspondents.

We are glad to welcome Uncle John again in our midst and assure him we will be quite as agreeable as in former years. We would also be glad to welcome back Maid o' Washboard, Charity Longface, Angelina, Rustic, Billy Buck, Kid and others too numerous to mention. It is still dry in our community.

Charlie Smith has had to dig out a well on the creek for stock water.

Things here are rocking along as usual. There have been no weddings since that of Charlie Hayes and Miss Lucy Spencer of Duren on the first day of the new year, and that of Tip Carlisle and Miss Maggie Perkins Christmas day.

The Sunday school and prayer meeting have been discontinued since the holidays. The Sunday school had been in progress for about a year and a half and the prayer meeting almost a year.

Rev. L. J. Vann preached here Sunday.

Mr. Cater of the Duren community departed this life Thursday of last week. His remains were interred in the Duren cemetery Friday. Rev. Ab Koen, a Primitive Baptist minister who was passing thro the country, conducted the funeral services. The bereaved children have the sympathy of all who know them.

News reached here recently that Mrs. Patton, a former resident of Duren, had departed this life.

Jim Perkins arrived from the East a few days ago. He is in very bad health.

Some of the young people enjoyed a party at the home of Fred Green Saturday evening.

There was singing at the Curb home Sunday afternoon.

The pupils of the music school that was taught here last fall, continue to meet and practice.

Our school continues to grow. The present enrollment is between eighty and ninety, so we are informed.

Fred Green has repaired our church organ.

Freeman Piller and family were down from Zephyr Sunday.

Andrew Smith and family of Trigger Mountain were in this community Sunday.

The people of Duren have erected a new school building that is a credit to the community, and services were conducted there Sunday.

The new residence on John Brown's place, to be occupied by "Uncle Wiley" Smith, is about completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tip Carlisle were the guests of Miss Susie Smith Sunday.

Grandma Murphy of Turkey Peak was in our community Sunday.

The residence formerly occupied by "Uncle Bobbie" Smith, but now occupied by Mr. Breazeale, has had an addition built to it.

Mullin.

Editor Eagle:

We have a number of sick children in and around Mullin.

Rev. R. D. Moon came in from Angelo last Friday night quite sick and the fever had dethroned his reasoning faculties so that he did not know where he was. He has been confined to his bed ever since under the care of Dr. Jones. Last summer, while conducting the revival at this place, he had a similar attack and while the fever was up he was almost unmanageable, but, being in the home of J. D. Cobb, he was attended to with care and was soon able to go back to his home in San Angelo.

Mr. Smith, the new hotel man, is building and papering and inside painting the house, fences and barn, which will add very much to the looks of the hotel from the front gate to the alley. Mr. Smith is a traveling man and has an idea what the traveling public appreciates.

While taking in the sights at Mullin we stepped into Leinweber & Cobb's land office, which has lately been enlarged, repapered and painted, and found Mr. Cobb with coat off arranging pictures, farm products and maps on the wall. He was delighted with the change which had been made during his absence by Wigley & Son, owners of the building. M. C. Kirkpatrick, notary and abstractor, occupies the same office and was all smiles as he arranged his desk.

Allen Ingram is reported as being very low with pneumonia. Drs. Jones and Herrington are attending him.

The people of the Duren school district have recently completed a new school building, which is now being occupied by the school. Mrs. Charley Hays is teacher.

Some very interesting suits were tried here this week in the magistrate's court. We noticed lawyers here from Brownwood and Goldthwaite. As usual the decisions of judge and jury were not satisfactory to all parties.

We have noticed several prospectors out with Mr. Leinweber this week. The supposition is that something is going to "drap." We understand that all parties are men of means.

More anon. Success and a happy new year to all. PADDY.

Goldthwaite, Texas

From Mullin.

Well, Mr. Editor, after an absence of three weeks, in other states and among a different people, I again welcome the invigorating, health restorative, balmy breezes of the Lone Star State, more especially Mills county. While away the North King shook his frosty locks over the land and compelled the people to either stay indoors or hunt their furs and their wraps to battle with the breath of his power. We stopped off at Goldthwaite, but our time was limited and we did not get to look into your smiling face, yet we met with a goodly number who gave us good reasons to believe we had some friends in the city of the Eagle's home. The morning train was five hours late and just as we were starting to see you we got an opportunity to go to Mullin in an automobile and we hastened away. Many were the hand shakes and welcome speeches, which made us feel like our lives had not been lived in vain. Rushing into our little office we found everything turned topsy turvy, yet our room had been extended 9 feet in length and swung up 10 or 12 inches in width, all newly papered and painted with a first class job of cleaning up and straightening, ready for whoever would undertake it, and ye scribe went after it in earnest, and now the work is done and here he is at the desk trying to write, which he can hardly do for admiring the pictures, the nice new paper and the convenient distance the lengthening and swinking of the concern puts us from the out-side noise and gives us room to entertain our guests without them having to strain their eyes looking across a wide expanse from one wall to the other. There is nothing like being well fixed. Come in to see us.

We found it dry as far as we went but we never heard any hard times talk, saw but little land broke until we got back into Texas, where on every hand the plows were running and now and then we saw some green fields either of wheat or oats.

This is a great country of which every American citizen should be proud. Yet, in many instances, the index finger is pointing very straight toward something that has proven the downfall of the nations of the past, and from within and without comes the warning note. Beware! beware! We are not saying this by mere accident, as we really believe the signs of the times are demanding a halt, not only as individuals but as counties, states and the entire government. Younger people who read this will live to know the meaning of what I am saying. God is not mocked, whatsoever a man or a nation of men soweth that shall they also reap. The reaping time is upon us and if we have been busy sowing to the flesh, the storm is gathering and of the flesh we must reap what we have sown. When the summons comes it will be laid heavily at the feet of the voters of this commonwealth who have chosen from time to time to vote for men with jugs in their hands, while the eternal truth of Almighty God is thundering it in their ears "Cursed is the man that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips." When we vote right, and those for whom we vote will stand by their promise, as well as oath of office, some things that are happening in this old world will be looked after in a way that evil doers will have to pay the penalty or move out. Sometimes men draw on their imagination when reading an article like this and begin to heap upon themselves the accusations as though the writer or some one else had informed them that "Thou art the man." They say "The hit dog will howl." If any one butts in and puts on the shoes and they fit, let them wear them. The truth must stand and win if satan's kingdom falls,

Great loss has resulted from heavy snow storms in Oregon and California.

Governor Colquitt was inaugurated Tuesday and T. Campbell is now a private citizen.

Only a short time now remains in which quail may be killed. The season closes with the present month.

The bubonic plague is daily claiming hundreds of victims in China. It is reported that not more than 1 per cent of those who contract the disease recover.

All good citizens want the law enforced and they honor an officer who does his full duty at all times. Even those who believe a law to be wrong respect the officer who enforces it.

While the rebellion in Mexico has not amounted to much, there are still armed rebels in that country and every few days there is a clash between the government soldiers and the revolutionists.

A bill has been introduced in the Indiana legislature requiring all who desire to purchase strong drink to procure a drinker's license, which can only be issued upon presentation of a certificate that he does not drink to excess.

A loaded bomb was thrown from an airship at San Francisco by army officer as an experiment and they were well pleased with the result. With the perfecting of the airship war will be almost impossible, for armies and navies will be easily obliterated by the explosives from the air crafts.

The Bee county court house at Beeville burned Sunday night, but the loss was not great as the structure was built entirely of wood. The records were all saved as they were in a fire-proof safe. The contract for a new court house for the county, to cost $75,000, was made a few weeks ago.

Several members of the legislature expect to introduce bills at the present session restoring to railroads and newspapers the right to exchange transportation and advertising space. It is known that Governor Colquitt will favor such a law and there will be mighty few to oppose it, either in the legislative halls or outside, for all realize the great injustice that was done the newspapers and the railroads by the thirtieth legislature when the right of contract was taken from them.

A citizen who has behind his every public act a motive for self aggrandizement or personal profit will never accomplish much for the community in which he lives and will not likely reach a very high place in the estimation of the people. As the man who is trying to get rich seldom reaches the goal, because of his short-sightedness and his unwillingness to venture in speculation or business enterprise, so does the life of the man who is eternally looking to his own up-building fall far short of its possibilities and powers. After all, the man who takes the broadest view of life gets the most satisfaction out of living.

Boosts for Texas.

The Texas farmer is already farming more land than he can properly cultivate. The average Texas farm contains 357 acres, while the average farm in the United States contains 146 acres. One farmer cannot successfully cultivate more than 50 acres of land unless he employs help, which would, of course, mean another farmer. On this basis Texas needs 3,000,000 more farmers which would mean an increase in our population of 15,000,000.

Every good citizen should pay his poll tax and qualify for citizenship during 1911. There are important issues coming up for disposition during the year and among them will be bond issues for road improvements in a great many counties. Texas has just begun to realize the necessity of improving public highways and the importance of building for the future. Permanent improvements of public highways are money makers, time savers and they add to the happiness and prosperity of the country. Build roads.

Figures recently compiled by the Manufacturers' Record show that cotton is still King in the South, and that his reign will continue throughout the ages. To fully appreciate the vast realm over which his dominion extends, one has but to consider that the entire output of gold and silver in all the world would not purchase by over a billion dollars the products of the cotton field of the South alone. During the decade beginning with 1900 and ending with 1911, the total output of gold and silver in the world was $4,625,262,200, while the cotton products of the South brought $6,387,000,000.

The Report of the Commissioner of Agriculture which has been made to the Governor, shows that during 1910 one hundred and sixty-seven farmers' institutes have been organized throughout the state, with a membership of from 100 to 200 each. The Institutes have long been recognized as the best medium for arousing interest among farmers in scientific Agriculture, for acquainting them with the latest methods of agriculture and enabling them to keep in the vanguard of progress. In modern agriculture only seeds and plants which have attained perfection are used. The Farmers Institutes help to bring about the highest and best results in the farming world.

In his annual report to the Governor, Judge E. R. Kone, Commissioner of Agriculture, makes a strong argument for the strengthening of the Agricultural Department during the next four years. The department is a powerful factor in Texas development and the Commissioner's suggestions are timely. Situated as it is, Texas requires a strong Department of Agriculture with a single, responsible head to look after its vast agricultural interests and promote their healthy and uninterrupted development.

There were 175 car loads of strawberries shipped to Northern and Eastern markets from Texas during the season of 1910, according to late government reports, and brought $175,000. Texas can keep strawberries in the market the entire year.

Agricultural reports show that during the year of 1910 over 3,000,000,000 bushels of corn were raised in the United States, which sold for $195,000,000,000. Of this amount Texas produced 181,280,000, which sold for $11,420,840,000, or an average of 63 cents per bushel. This is a fairly good showing for Texas, which is an average 20 bushels per acre, but if scientific methods had been used, that is if every factor which men of science regard as necessary to the production of a large crop had been adopted, the United States would have produced 12,000,000,000 instead of 3,000,000,000 and Texas would have produced 4,000,000,000 instead of 181,280,000. These figures are arrived at from experiments made on soil in certain parts of the United States where the land was only of average fertility and on which scientific methods were used.

Texas is bidding for first place as the home of the watermelon, and Georgia will have to look well after her laurels. According to government reports, Texas shipped 2,000 car loads on melons in 1910, which, of course, does not include home consumption. The melon belt was originally in Central and East Texas, but gradually, as irrigation and improved agricultural methods have come into vogue in Texas the belt has extended westward until practically the entire state is in the melon growing district. The melon crop put $470,000 into the jeans of the Texas farmers this year and is now considered one of our staple crops.

The commissioners court will publicly open all bids at 10 o'clock a. m., on the first day of the regular term of said court in February, 1911, and reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

S. H. ALLEN,
County Judge of Mills County.

The legislature adjourned at 12 o'clock Saturday night until 12:01 o'clock Monday morning and there was a "hot time" in the capitol all the time as the pros and antis struggled for advantage.

The wife of a prominent attorney of Fort Worth, Mrs. T. M. Brooks, shot and killed Mrs. Binford, a seamstress in a department store, Monday afternoon. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause. While the woman was on her way to the store where the killing took place there was a ladies prayer meeting in progress at her home.

Exemption Certificates.

The comptroller has sent out a statement to some of the tax collectors regarding exemption certificates that will be of interest to some in this county. He says that men over 60 years of age are not required to have exemption certificates issued to them, unless they live in a city of more than 10,000 inhabitants. Therefore, voters in this county who are more than 60 years of age will not need exemption certificates.

The comptroller further says that young men who became 21 years of age after Jan. 1, 1910, will not be required to pay a poll tax for last year, but they must secure an exemption certificate before they can vote. This applies to all, no matter how small or how large the city or community in which they live. The certificates must be secured before Feb. 1 to enable the holders to vote in the elections during this year.

The president was authorized to appoint the necessary committees for the business of the club and announce the names at the next meeting, which will be held Monday night.

Comment upon Bryant's first four important poems.

What double interest have these poems for us?

What is to be said of Bryant as a public speaker?

What is Bryant's place in the history of American literature?

Rev. R. W. Bynum will preach in the Baptist church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the service.

Confederate Meeting.

Jeff Davis Camp, No. 117, met in F. M. Long's office at the Court House the first Saturday in this month.

Commander Blackburn being absent, J. A. McLeod was elected chairman pro tem. The meeting was opened with prayer by Chaplain Haralson. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

A motion by D. E. Hopkins that our next regular meeting be set for the first Saturday in March and May.

There was a motion by Commander Long Adj. Prater see after an application of a comrade of our camp sent in some time in the past which was never acted upon or returned and see if the same cannot be found and used now to secure a place for our comrades in the Confederate Home. This application was gotten up and witnessed by those who had served with our comrades, since then these witnesses have died and we know of no others living. The Confederate Home is located at Austin, Texas, erected and sustained by the State of Texas for a home for our poor old Confederate soldiers, where they can spend their last days in peace and plenty. Well fed, well clothed and well cared for in every particular and in charge of and supervised by that gallant old Confederate, Col. R. M. Wynne. The inmates of the home are often granted furloughs and all the railroads pass them free going and coming to see their friends and relatives. The inmates are treated by all not as criminals, but as the guests of a grateful state and people. We are creditably informed that everything necessary to their comfort, except money, and sometimes an old vet will become the possessor of a little change, and when in the city will be true to his old taste and take too much, but thanks to the patience and patriotism of our civil officials, they have him sent in to his quarters.

The Camp adjourned to meet the first Saturday in March.

J. A. McLEOD,
Chairman pro tem.

J. T. PRATER, Adjutant.

The Parcel Post.

The "parcel post" bill is again before congress and the probability is that it will be adopted at this session, although the exact form can not be known. This bill, if adopted, will be a severe blow to the dealers in the smaller towns, for it will give the mail order houses access to the trade at such a low rate of postage that they can easily meet the local dealer's prices, delivery included, and the smaller towns will then begin a struggle for existence as the mail order houses multiply in the commercial centers. True, there is no reason for mail order houses selling for less than local merchants and often they get even a better price than the home man asks, but they advertise extensively in newspapers and in catalogs, by circulars and in every other legitimate way that is afforded them and the people frequently are better posted on the goods carried by some dealer in Chicago and the price thereof than they are about their local dealer's merchandise. For the mail order people have been persistent in letting them know these things, while in many cases the local man has not interested himself in placing his business before them, either in newspaper advertising or otherwise and, therefore, the mail order houses have had all the best of it and this parcel post system will even increase this effort on the part of the foreign dealer to place his wares before the people and induce them to buy and they will make more serious and telling inroads into the trade of the local dealer when they can deliver their goods over the rural routes at a cost of a few cents per pound, at most.

The local newspaper will perhaps be benefited by the change of systems and the inauguration of the parcel post, for the mail order houses will then make large contracts for advertising, which they believe to be very necessary to their business, and the newspaper publisher can scarcely afford to deny them space when they will contract for large advertisements to be run the year round at rates fully as great as he could get from his local patrons for a much smaller amount.

The consumer will certainly not be benefited, for in the aggregate he will pay as much for his goods purchased from the mail order house as he pays his home merchant, notwithstanding he may make small savings at times on some articles, but by decreasing the number of home merchants and reducing the business of the town his real estate will be reduced in value, the market for his produce will be injured and the convenience of having home dealers will, in many cases, be removed.

The parcel post bill will be of no benefit to the general public, according to the Eagle's idea, and our representatives in congress should be urged to oppose it.
