THINGS IN GENERAL

Joe J. Brown arrived last week and after spending a day in San Saba, went on to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Brown at Cherokee. He is a graduate of the A. & M. College and has been employed at the experiment station since his graduation. The doctrine preached by the Eagle that it is unfair to use patronage as a means of collecting hard accounts and is also an unwise method receives the endorsement of many. The man who takes up goods with the idea of "standing off" the bill and thereby forcing patronage for his business, if his scheme works, has a decided advantage over an honorable competitor for the same patronage who pays his bills regardless of patronage. To give the "hard pay" man the patronage operates as a fine upon the man who pays his debts. It forces the man who is "fined" to withhold payment of his obligations in order to have an equal chance for the patronage.

The platform adopted by the Democratic party at San Antonio is the most encouraging sign of the times that has appeared on the industrial horizon of Texas in the past quarter of a century. It fairly bristles with affirmative suggestions of constructive legislation and, compared with previous platforms, it shows satisfactory progress. The declaration in favor of the warehouse system, railroad stocks and bonds and good roads bears the imprint of the work of the Texas Welfare Commission and taken in connection with the work of the business men in offering to lend money on cotton at six per cent, encouraging railroad investments and in promoting public highways will bring prosperity to Texas.—Commercial Secretaries.

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE

WE all make mistakes occasionally, but the man who goes on making the same mistake is not a very wise man.

One of the easiest mistakes in the world to make is when you don't buy Lumber to make the proper repairs about your place. We can point you to people who have already lost enough to pay for a good barn this year by not going ahead and making the needed repairs about the place or by backing out from doing what they ought to in the way of improvements.

Make up your mind what you have to have and come to us. We will make an estimate as to cost and furnish the proper materials. No matter how small the bill, we will appreciate it just the same. Respectfully---

THAT COURT HOUSE MATTER.

In every important matter coming before the people there is difference of opinion. On every debatable question honest men may differ. It is strange that in every undertaking some there are who cannot defend their side of the question without misrepresenting those holding opposite views. We now have before us a problem that concerns all Mills county citizens alike—the problem of building a court house. I care nothing for the misrepresentations about me and my attitude in this matter. These amount to little whether for or against a court house of a certain kind or cost. What I desire here is to bring the problem to every one of you, and ask you to solve it in the light of your own interests.

Ever since the night of May 5, we have all recognized the necessity of building a court house, for since that time we have had none. On May 6 I called a mass meeting of representative citizens from all parts of Mills county and they were truly among the best in the county, having been called here for the important and responsible post of jurors. The object of the call stated was to find out what kind of court house the people of Mills county wanted. They told me, and there was perfect agreement among that large crowd as to the kind of court house desired. When someone suggested that such a house as these citizens were describing could be built for $75,000 every body in that meeting said he was willing to have that sum paid for the house. A few weeks later I heard that there were some who were agitating the question of a cheaper house. I therefore called a second mass meeting of Mills county citizens to meet in Goldthwaite on the 13th of July. This crowd by an overwhelming majority re-asserted their belief that we should have a court house to cost not exceeding $75,000.

The foregoing is all the reason or excuse I, as a member of your county commissioners court, needed to favor the issuance of bonds for a $75,000 court house. Because the PEOPLE had spoken twice and the PEOPLE have a RIGHT to be heard. I have heard lately that these meetings were of town people and did not represent the county districts. The truth is that in the two meetings more than three times as many country people spoke as of town people. That man whose sole thought and aim is to array country folk against the people living in town is either very short sighted or is actuated by bad motives. He is a friend of nobody and is a malefactor in the country where he lives. Men make towns and develop country districts and are above both. Neither country nor town ever made a man. The man who thinks his fellowmen are bad simply because they live in town knows about as much as I knew, when a little child, once in a long while I was given a trip to town. There I met some people whose clothes were scented with perfume. In my childish ignorance I believed that all town people just naturally smelled like that.

But let's confront together this problem. We all demand about the same thing—a substantial, commodious, fire-proof court house. Traveling over the state inspecting court houses, old and new, and even some in construction, I found that he who estimated the court house our people demand would cost $75,000 had not over-estimated. Yet, a few people have said that it could be built for $50,000 or $60,000, but when I asked them if they had any information on the subject as a basis for their estimates they said nothing. They say they are unwilling to place a debt on children now small to be paid by them when grown. I heard that remark made by a grandfather two days ago. He is old, and can expect to use the proposed house only a few years at most, while his baby grandchild will use it a whole life time. Which of them must bear the greater burden for the good received? When our old court house was built 23 years ago the taxable property values in Mills county were less than one-third what they are now; so that to raise a given sum of money annually to pay the cost of court house the tax payer had to pay a rate more than three times as high 23 years ago, as did we for paying off the last bond, which was paid last February. The old man of today will, during his few remaining years pay his part for court house purposes on property values in the county that are less than one-half the county values his grandchild will see; hence the old man's court house tax rate must be more than twice his grandson's court house tax rate. Which of the two must bear the greater burden? Most people can see.

A man asked me today, "What are you going to do if the people fail to vote for the bonds?" I replied that the law leaves our court no option in the matter. It says the commissioners court SHALL build, etc., a court house. There would be no way left but to build with warrants, which is very undesirable, as the whole thing by that plan must be paid for within 10 or 12 years. That would be a real burden on the people. "But," said he, "maybe they would vote a smaller bond issue." "But" I replied, "I would have no assurance that they would. They made their demand twice. We made the way for them to get it. If now they reject their own demand, it would seem that they are trying to force the court to build a house by the abominable system of warrants, which would be a real and heavy burden. "But I do not believe the people will yield to a few cries of burden to the grandchild." All but a few people can see that the way to really burden the children now living, and ourselves as well, is to build a house to answer our needs for 25 or 30 years and pay for it in that time, out grow it, and leave these children the problem, at that time, of tearing away the house we built, utterly lose the $50,000 paid for it—for who ever heard of a court house being sold—and then build a $75,000 or $100,000 house as a new burden to themselves. Now, fellow-citizens, we have $20,500 insurance money already collected for the old burnt house. The election is ordered for the issuance of $55,000 of bonds. These bonds can be paid after the expiration of ten years; but need not be finally paid out for forty years. They, with the cash on hand, will build a house if properly expended, that will be as serviceable to our great-grandchildren as to us and our children. The problem is our problem. The interest is our common interest. I blame no man for his honest views, though they differ from mine, but I do appeal to every citizen in this matter to see the foundation for any view before accepting it. If you are approached by a man who says the house the citizens demand can be built for a less sum of money than that indicated please send him to the commissioners court; for we will gladly give him the contract. We are looking for a man who knows how to build a $75,000 court house for $50,000 or $60,000. Professional court house builders can't do it. I hope we have some Mills county citizens who can.

Very respectfully, S. H. ALLEN.

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE

WE all make mistakes occasionally, but the man who goes on making the same mistake is not a very wise man.

One of the easiest mistakes in the world to make is when you don't buy Lumber to make the proper repairs about your place. We can point you to people who have already lost enough to pay for a good barn this year by not going ahead and making the needed repairs about the place or by backing out from doing what they ought to in the way of improvements.

Make up your mind what you have to have and come to us. We will make an estimate as to cost and furnish the proper materials. No matter how small the bill, we will appreciate it just the same. Respectfully---

THAT COURT HOUSE MATTER.

In every important matter coming before the people there is difference of opinion. On every debatable question honest men may differ. It is strange that in every undertaking some there are who cannot defend their side of the question without misrepresenting those holding opposite views. We now have before us a problem that concerns all Mills county citizens alike—the problem of building a court house. I care nothing for the misrepresentations about me and my attitude in this matter. These amount to little whether for or against a court house of a certain kind or cost. What I desire here is to bring the problem to every one of you, and ask you to solve it in the light of your own interests.

Ever since the night of May 5, we have all recognized the necessity of building a court house, for since that time we have had none. On May 6 I called a mass meeting of representative citizens from all parts of Mills county and they were truly among the best in the county, having been called here for the important and responsible post of jurors. The object of the call stated was to find out what kind of court house the people of Mills county wanted. They told me, and there was perfect agreement among that large crowd as to the kind of court house desired. When someone suggested that such a house as these citizens were describing could be built for $75,000 every body in that meeting said he was willing to have that sum paid for the house.
A few weeks later I heard that there were some who were agitating the question of a cheaper house. I therefore called a second mass meeting of Mills county citizens to meet in Goldthwaite on the 13th of July. This crowd by an overwhelming majority re-asserted their belief that we should have a court house to cost not exceeding $75,000.

The foregoing is all the reason or excuse I, as a member of your county commissioners court, needed to favor the issuance of bonds for a $75,000 court house. Because the PEOPLE had spoken twice and the PEOPLE have a RIGHT to be heard.
I have heard lately that these meetings were of town people and did not represent the county districts.
The truth is that in the two meetings more than three times as many country people spoke as of town people. That man whose sole thought and aim is to array country folk against the people living in town is either very short sighted or is actuated by bad motives. He is a friend of nobody and is a malefactor in the country where he lives. Men make towns and develop country districts and are above both. Neither country nor town ever made a man. The man who thinks his fellowmen are bad simply because they live in town knows about as much as I knew, when a little child, once in a long while I was given a trip to town.
There I met some people whose clothes were scented with perfume.
In my childish ignorance I believed that all town people just naturally smelled like that.

But let's confront together this problem. We all demand about the same thing—a substantial, commodious, fire-proof court house. Traveling over the state inspecting court houses, old and new, and even some in construction, I found that he who estimated the court house our people demand would cost $75,000 had not over-estimated. Yet a few people have said that it could be built for $50,000 or $60,000, but when I asked them if they had any information on the subject as a basis for their estimates they said nothing. They say they are unwilling to place a debt on children now small to be paid by them when grown. I heard that remark made by a grandfather two days ago. He is old, and can expect to use the proposed house only a few years at most, while his baby grandchild will use it a whole life time.
Which of them must bear the greater burden for the good received? When our old court house was built 23 years ago the taxable property values in Mills county were less than one-third what they are now; so that to raise a given sum of money annually to pay the cost of court house the tax payer had to pay a rate more than three times as high 23 years ago, as did we for paying off the last

"THE HOUSE WITH PRICES THAT COUNT" bond, which was paid last February.

The old man of today will, during his few remaining years pay his part for court house purposes on property values in the county that are less than one-half the county values his grandchild will see; hence the old man's court house tax rate must be more than twice his grandson's court house tax rate. Which of the two must bear the greater burden? Most people can see.

A man asked me today, "What are you going to do if the people fail to vote for the bonds?" I replied that the law leaves our court no option in the matter. It says the commissioners court SHALL build, etc., a court house. There would be no way left but to build with warrants, which is very undesirable, as the whole thing by that plan must be paid for within 10 or 12 years. That would be a real burden on the people. "But," said he, "maybe they would vote a smaller bond issue." "But" I replied, "I would have no assurance that they would. They made their demand twice. We made the way for them to get it. If now they reject their own demand, it would seem that they are trying to force the court to build a house by the abominable system of warrants, which would be a real and heavy burden."
"But I do not believe the people will yield to a few cries of burden to the grandchild." All but a few people can see that the way to really burden the children now living, and ourselves as well, is to build a house to answer our needs for 25 or 30 years and pay for it in that time, out grow it, and leave these children the problem, at that time, of tearing away the house we built, utterly lose the $50,000 paid for it—for who ever heard of a court house being sold—and then build a $75,000 or $100,000 house as a new burden to themselves. Now, fellow-citizens, we have $20,500 insurance money already collected for the old burnt house. The election is ordered for the issuance of $55,000 of bonds. These bonds can be paid after the expiration of ten years; but need not be finally paid out for forty years. They, with the cash on hand, will build a house if properly expended, that will be as serviceable to our great-great grandchildren as to us and our children. The problem is our problem.
The interest is our common interest.
I blame no man for his honest views, though they differ from mine, but I do appeal to every citizen in this matter to see the foundation for any view before accepting it. If you are approached by a man who says the house the citizens demand can be built for a less sum of money than that indicated please send him to the commissioners court; for we will gladly give him the contract. We are looking for a man who knows how to build a $75,000 court house for $50,000 or $60,000. Professional court house builders can't do it. I hope we have some Mills county citizens who can.

Very respectfully,
S. H. ALLEN.

FINE LECTURES

Sunday morning on the "Passion Play" to a large and appreciative audience. The Methodist congregaservice in order that all could hear Mr. Yantis and the church was filled to its capacity. Special music had been prepared for the occasion and the service was one of interest as well as benefit.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr.
Yantis lectured to the young folks on what he saw while traveling in Europe and this lecture was also very interesting and instructive.

BROWNWOOD

Brownwood gave a good account of herself in the Woodmen Circle contests for exemplifying the secret work of the order. The members of the local camp scored the highest number of points in the contest. First honors go to Mrs. E. R. Gentry, Advisor, who took first place in the work of exemplifying the secret work. Mrs. J. R. Mollison, Chaplain, also took first place in her work, thus giving Brownwood two first places.

A phone message from Fort Worth informs friends here of the death of Will Hooper, which occurred at a sanitarium in that city last night at 10 o'clock. Mr. Hooper is the son of W. E. Hooper of Indian creek, and a prominent young business man of that community. He has been under treatment of local physicians for a year and it was feared that he had that dreaded disease, pellagra.

Senator W. N. Adams of Brownwood, who was defeated in the race for state treasurer, has been appointed superintendent of the Juvenile School of Correction at Gatesville and informs the Bulletin that he has accepted same and will leave tomorrow for that place to make arrangements for taking charge of the institution. It will mean that "Uncle Bill" will move his family there, which will cause much regret in Brownwood. However, he does not give up his citizenship here and will return at the end of his term.—Bulletin.

HAMILTON

G. W. Hoak, a prosperous young farmer who has lived in the Shive neighborhood since early childhood, will move with his family early next week to his new home near Markley in Young county.

Last Saturday, August 10, C. Koether of the Shive country brought in the season's first bale of cotton, raised on his farm and ginned at Shive. The bale weighed 673 pounds and was purchased by Horton & Catterton at $13.65 per hundred. A nice purse will be given Mr. Koether by the business men of Hamilton.

The Bank & Trust Company have let the contract for the construction of their new bank building on the southwest corner of the square to the Talley Construction Company of Waco. The new home of the Bank & Trust Company will occupy the lot where the "Grandma" Pierison home stood for so many years and will be erected at a cost of about $8,500.

In a letter received by T. M. White it is learned that Hamilton through the efforts of her churches has secured the district meeting of the Texas Sunday School Association. This association includes all denominations and has a broad significance and means a great step forward in taking the world for Christ. The association will hold the first service at 3 o'clock p. m. on Monday, September 18.—Record.

LAMPASAS

Dr. Early and family will leave within a day or two for Palacios, where they will make their home for the winter at least.

Mrs. W. C. Crane of Franklin, Texas, and Miss Esela Hearne of Goldthwaite, are guests of their brother, Dr. B. F. Hearne.

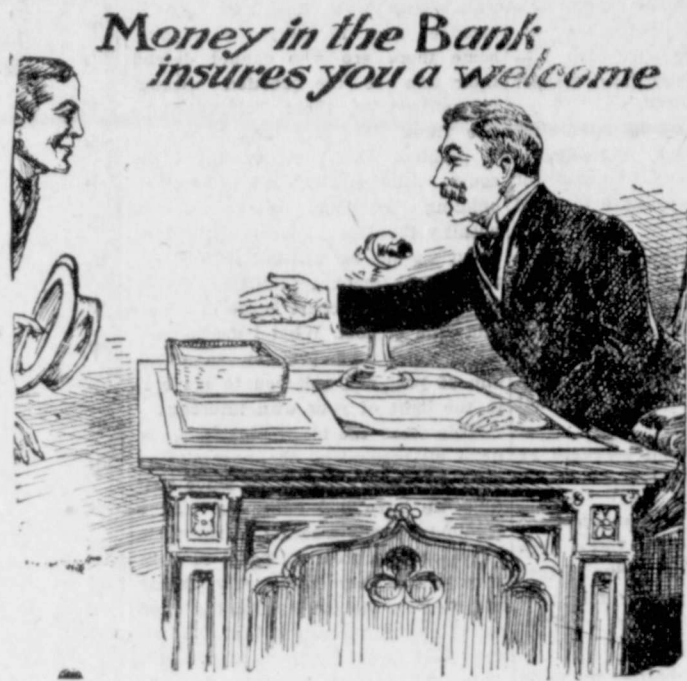

W. F. Hearne passed through Monday on his way to Waco, where he went as a delegate to the state socialist convention from Mills county.

C. M. Russell, now making his headquarters at Johnson City, Blanco county, is here to spend a few days with Mrs. Russell, one of the salesladies at the Higdon-Senterfitt store.

There is to be another election in precinct No. 2 on Saturday of this week, the contest being between Messrs. Holley and Richter for the office of county commissioner from that precinct. These gentlemen received the same number of votes at the general primary election, hence the necessity of the people voting again to determine the matter.—Leader.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Goldthwaite Citizens Show The Way.

There can be no reasons why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Goldthwaite citizen says:

J. C. Fulton, Goldthwaite, Texas, says: 'About three years ago I was taken down in bed with a severe pain in the small of my back. Often I was so bad that I had to have assistance in changing from one position to another. My kidneys were also disordered, as the kidney secretions were too frequent and painful in passage and highly colored. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills as had often heard that they were good for kidney trouble, and I procured a box at Clements' drug store. I noticed an improvement in my condition after a few doses, and when I had taken the contents of two boxes I was able to go back to work. I am never without a supply of this remedy in the house and am always glad to recommend it.'

Senate Joint Resolution to amend Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to authorize the grant of aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and to soldiers who served in the militia and in organizations for the protection of the frontier and their indigent widows, and to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for the indigent and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors, and such women as aided the Confederacy, and authorize a special ad valorem pension tax, and making appropriations for same.

COMMISSIONERS COURT.
Court adjourned for the term Saturday, after transacting considerable business. After the Eagle went to press last week the following business was transacted:
The court on its own motion made a change in the Goldthwaite and Goenhour road for a short distance at the McGowan survey.
Commissioners precincts Nos. 1 and 4 were reformed and outlined, as were election precincts of Goldthwaite, Nabors Creek, Antelope Gap, Big Valley, Jones Valley, Hanna Valley and Buffalo. All of this re-forming was made necessary by the creation of Rye Valley and Ridge voting precincts.
A levy of 20c on $100 taxable valuations was made in Indian Creek county line school district.
F. A. Lane and Wm. Bird were made officers of election for Rye Valley while R. J. Edmondson and C. F. Corneliou were named as officers of election for Ridge.
The Bennett Creek Telephone company was granted the right to construct a telephone line on the Goldthwaite and Center City road.
The matter of paying a bounty on rabbit scalps was deferred until next meeting of the court.
The court deferred the matter of opening the bids for moving the court house until today, in order to allow the bidders to amend their bids to provide for the preservation of all stones suitable for use in the new building. An inspector will be employed to pass on all the stone, and all that can be used will be piled at a convenient place for use in the new building. The inspector's salary will be paid jointly by the county and the contractor.

B. M. C. MEETING.
A delightful social occasion of last week was the meeting of the Bachelor Maids Club with Miss Nora Hooks.
Rook kept the company in high humor for two merry hours. Miss Clyde Lowrie scored highest and received a daintily hand embroidered collar.
Musical selections by Misses Nora Hooks, Ethel Stephens and Nina Burks were enjoyed.
Miss Geneva Moore of Paducah, Ky., was a very pleasant visitor at the club.
A delicious collation was served.
Time is ever fleeting and the Bachelor Maids reluctantly bade Miss Nora good night with many expressions of gratitude to their charming hostess.

ORGANIZATION FORMED.
Mr. Welton Winn of Santa Anna spoke here last Saturday in the Farmers Union Warehouse in the interest of the organization of a local branch of the Southern States Cotton Corporation. The plan is to arrange for the finances to enable the farmers to realize 15 cents for their cotton. Arrangements were made here for the organization of a local branch and it will be completed as soon as the necessary details can be arranged.
Mr. Winn and Mr. J. W. Hill went to San Saba the first of this week, where an organization was arranged for that county. Mr. Win is confident of success in forming the organizations in all of the counties of his district. McCullough and Menard being the only two which have not yet entered upon the work of organizing.

FATHER AND SON JAILED
Sheriff Denman on yesterday arrested John Burnett of Grosvenor on complaint, charging him with burning the school buildings at that place. John Burnett is the father of Hillery Burnett, who was arrested last week by State Ranger Capt. Smith on the same charge. It was known at that time that complaint would be filed against the father. Capt. Smith says he has evidences that will convict both men. John Burnett is a well known citizen of that community and a man in whom every one had confidence.

As it has been stated before, the Grosvenor school was re-districted about a year ago and the new building moved a short ways from the old site. It had not been completed long before it was set on fire and burned to the ground. A temporary structure was erected and in a short time this was burned down. School was then held in a building about a mile and a half distant and this was burned. —Brownwood Bulletin.
