FARM FACTS.

(By Peter Radford, president of Farmers' Union.)
 All things come to him who hustles while he farms.
 Good roads turneth away wrath.
 Entertain no desire that does not aspire to better farming.
 Keep faith with the farmer and he will keep faith with you.
 Patience and industry are two essentials in successful farming.
 Personal contact with God's soil is among the first steps toward attaining life sublime.
 The modern successful farmer reads, thinks and does his own bookkeeping.
 The hand that receives the benefit should stand the burden.
 The silo is the farm barometer of progress.
 A farmer may be broken in everything but spirit and poor in everything but faith and courage and then come out on top.
 Prosperity refuses to travel over poor roads. Improve your highways.
 Efforts will turn into results, if one only keeps on earnestly, honestly and sincerely trying.
 Practice makes perfect. The more expert a man finds the more expert he becomes at it.
 The man who wins is always popular. The man who loses has a bad row to hoe. Be a winner.
 The development of any community depends largely upon the productiveness of the soil and energy of the people.

"THE LAUNCHING OF OUR SHIPS"

In life's mighty gallery of pictures
There hangs upon the wall
A picture of the merry Senior class
That seemeth best of all.
There's the picture like a mirage ahead
That follows me ever and near,
With its smiling faces and merry
laughter
That always seems so dear.
All is finished! and tonight our vessels shall be launched, While the sky with clouds is blanched.
"And beyond the bay in all his splendor dight,
The great Sun of Time rises to behold the sight.
The ocean which lies beyond,
That we'll reach when we've crossed the sea,
Races restlessly to and fro,
Waiting for you and for me.
With all our aim in future years,
We've made each mast and sail
and rope,
And now our ships are ready to launch Together with our anchors—the anchors of hope.
Then fear not the tempests of this great sea,
And be not of life's treacherous shoal,
But sail ahead with a steady speed,
For these are but temptations on our way to the goal.
Then strive onward 'till you reach your aim,
Let not these trifles check your speed.
But be more firm in your hold than that
And try some others to lead.
We well know that the way is rugged,
But shun temptations and think of their harm.
For our way will not be strewn with roses,
And if it were—"Every rose has its thorn."
We've pondered over books for eleven long years
And at last our task here is done,
Yet classmates, let's not stand idle,
But work 'till the victory's won.
Ere we launch our ships upon the Ocean of Time,
We look back over the past
And linger, for it's never hard to say farewell
Until the very last.
Look out over the sea and choose your course,
Select a star from the heavens above
Let your compass to guide you
To obedience, honor and love.
Out of the harbor is the deep
And beyond it the currents are swift
Place strong hands upon the helm,
Be a pilot, do not drift.
Then "Build us straight, O worthy Master!
Staunch and strong, goodly vessels,
That shall laugh at all disaster
And with waves and whirl-winds wrestle."
(The above pretty poem was composed by Miss Lucille Frizzell and was read by her at the closing exercises of school. Some of her friends were so pleased with it that they requested its publication.)

The school board held a meeting
Tuesday afternoon and again that

Bessie Messer of Belton, high school opened on June 6 for the erection of the building, to be constructed of reinforced concrete and brick, stone with reinforced concrete floors or of brick

MISS REDFORD DEAD.
Miss Beulah Redford, who taught in the Goldthwaite school a few years ago and is kindly remembered by many friends, died at her home in Liberty Hill last Sunday afternoon.
She had been in bad health almost all of the time since she left Goldthwaite and had not been able to teach school for several years. A special to the Austin Statesman from Liberty Hill said: "Miss Beulah Redford, aged 31, daughter of J. N.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.
Messdames J. H. Randolph and J.
A. Gillespie invited the members of the Self Culture and Embroidery clubs to meet at the Gillespie home Tuesday afternoon of this week to bid good-bye to Mrs. Madden, who will leave for Colorado City on June 1, to make her home.
The guests were met by the hostess and the honoree and invited to partake of delicious punch served by Mrs. Ebers, after which they were supplied with pencil and paper and entered into a spirited contest which ended by Miss Kate Fairman and Miss Mamie Kelly making a tie in the guessing contest. Miss Kate Fair-man gained the prize, which was a pretty pin.
A name contest ended in Mrs. Walter Fairman and Miss Mamie Kelley getting the same number of names.
After drawing Miss Mamie Kelley secured the prize.
The company was pleasantly entertained with instrumental music by Misses Martin and Perry and Mrs. J.
C. Hicks. Miss Kate Fairman rendered a sweet song, accompanied by Mrs. Gillespie, on the piano. Miss Ruby Keese and Miss Sophia Martin each gave a reading which all enjoyed.
Before leaving the guests were served with refreshments of various kinds, which added very much to the pleasure of the evening. A book of remembrance was left in the reception hall and each guest before leaving wrote her name with some kindly expression or wish for the honoree, Mrs. Madden.
The hostesses presented the honoree with a hand painted plate as souvenir.

COATED TONGUE MEANS LAZY LIVER

A Lazy Liver Needs a Dose of Dod- son's Liver Tone—Guaranteed to Take Place of Calomel.

When your doctor looks to see if your tongue is coated, he is trying to find out if your liver is working prop- erly. A few years ago doctors had to prescribe calomel—there was nothing else to give.

Recently in many sections of the country Dodson's Liver Tone has prac- tically taken the place of calomel as a liver remedy. Dodson's Liver Tone is mild, pleasant tasting and harmless—which makes it a fine medicine for use when your children become bil- ious and constipated. But the most remarkable feature of Dodson's Liver Tone is the fact that R. E. Clements who sells it, guarantees it absolutely. The druggist will return your money without argument if a bottle fails to give entire satisfaction.

Price 50 cents. We suggest that you get a bottle today and have it ready for the next member of your family whose liver goes wrong.

A former business man of Goldthwaite, who is now engaged in business in another town almost as good as this one, this week wrote the Eagle editor proposing that a branch office be established in his town, giving the information that there was a good opening there for such a paper. We feel proud indeed that our friend thought well enough of our ability to make the suggestion, but we could not accept the proposition because of the fact that the Eagle's business has grown to such proportions that it now requires the full time of several men and we could prefer to double our facilities here rather than divide our forces and energies.

Goldthwaite's Proposed New Public School Building

To Be Erected at a Cost of Approximately $12,000

The building is to contain five rooms and an auditorium, will be two stories and a basement, heated throughout by the hot-air system and will be located near the present school building. It is probable this new building will be used for the High School department and the Primary and Grammar School departments will continue to occupy the old building. The board hopes to have this new building completed in time for next term of school.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL CENSUS TRUSTEES

The late law extending the scholastic age in Texas to twenty-one years does not provide for the enrollment by census trustees of children above sixteen years of age. You will therefore enroll only those from 7 to 16 years inclusive, as heretofore. Those from 17 to 20 years inclusive will be admitted to the public schools without tuition charges, although they have no money apportioned to them. Respectfully,
S. H. ALLEN.

The elder brother of Postmaster General Burleson has been appointed postmaster at Lockhart.

There was some hail west of Goldthwaite Sunday afternoon, but not much damage was done to the growing crops.

Governor Johnson of California signed the anti-alien land bill Monday and the measure becomes effective nine days after his signature was affixed.

The Confederate reunion will be held at Chattanooga, Tenn., next week and many of the old soldiers will view again the scenes of the battlefields in that section.

The mail order houses do not want the credit trade and they will not ship the goods without payment in advance. The local dealer shows his goods, makes good every representation and extends credit to those who can conscientiously expect such accommodations. Then why not buy from the home dealer, as a matter of self protection.

Considerable time has already been required to determine the manner in which "pie" is to be distributed by the postmaster general's office and other departments of the government. Mr. Burleson has announced that congressmen-at-large will be given no voice in the distribution of the patronage, but they can only deliver applications to his office, without expressing a preference.

The refusal of Postmaster General Burleson to recommend the re-appointment of Mrs. Helen Longstreet, widow of the illustrious Confederate general by that name, to be postmaster at Gainsville, Ga., has caused considerable comment and the lady appeared before the senate committee to give her idea of the cause of her application being rejected, which she says was her opposition to special interests in her state.

There was a disastrous head-on collision on the I & G N railroad near Austin Monday morning. Several people were hurt bad and one man was killed, cattle were killed and injured and much damage was done to the two trains. The collision was said to have been caused by the engineer on the passenger train failing to obey orders and wait at a siding for a freight train to pass.

In a lecture to the students in Yale ex-President Taft, now Prof. Taft, said that statewide primaries for the selection of presidential candidates are extreme measures and are not to be desired. He says the primary is a good means for selecting local candidates, but that the convention system gives more opportunity for deliberation. He failed to state that conventions also give more opportunity for trades and "jobbery."

Governor Carranza, leader of the revolution in Mexico, has issued a decree that President Huerta, or rather the greaser who calls himself president, is to be executed if captured. This decree is issued under a Mexican law which says that any one who shall kill or attempt to kill the ruler of the country or any of the cabinet officers shall pay the penalty with his life, and Carranza says Huerta killed President Madero and is, therefore, worthy of death.

The attorney general has ruled that the work of the special legislative committee appointed to investigate the penitentiary system can not be paid out of the state treasury for the reason that a member of the legislature can not draw pay for services performed in an office or position created by the legislature of which he is a member. Governor Colquitt announces that he will pay for the services out of the funds allowed the attorney general for the enforcement of the law.

BROWNWOOD

The community was shocked this morning by the news that Dr. B. H. Anderson, who has been ill in New York for the past several weeks, died in the Postgraduate hospital in that city.

After being confined in the Brown county jail just one week, following the killing of Frank Robinson at Bangs, on Tuesday, March 6, the bond of Bert Smith was signed Tuesday afternoon and he was released from jail.

About six o'clock Saturday afternoon a man who was later identified as H. C. Sliger of Hylton, Texas, was found near the second bridge on the Frisco north of town, where he had evidently wandered during a temporary derangement of his mind. The man had either beaten himself on top of the head with a rock, or had dived off the bridge onto the rocks below, as his head was considerably bruised and beaten. A knife wound was also found on his chest, and another small one on the back of his neck. Parties at the little store in North Brownwood saw the man and telephoned for Officers Chapman and Daniels, who carried him to the jail and summoned medical assistance. The wounds were carefully dressed and it is thought that he will suffer no great inconvenience from them.—Bulletin.

He had gone out into the field to work early in the morning. About ten o'clock his little girl went out to take some milk over to a neighbor. MAKE RELIGION ATTRACTIVE

In a sermon at Fort Worth, Dr. Frank Norris said:

Imagine the Apostle Peter being asked to preach to some of our churches after being asked out as a modern clergyman fit for a funeral or a wedding and given one of our printed stereotyped programs that are so well known to the world, the flesh and devil—so much so that the latter person never disturbs his congregation any more—and the amen corner deacon goes sound asleep as soon as the collection is over. I confess that I had rather go to a ball game than to such a religious funeral conducted in the name of religion. For this reason the First Baptist church has put on a great stringed orchestra every Sunday night. The devil hasn't any right to the fiddle, the flute and the clarinet. There will never be one note of music in hell, but the chief asset of heaven will be the song of the redeemed. Some people are forever and eternally denouncing everything outside of the church that inspires, entertains and uplifts the soul of man, and offer instead "hark, from the tune of the dolesome man." Make your church service attractive and your congregation will be numbered in four figures.

Charles and Robert Jones, who have been on trial at Stephenville for the murder of their father, Rev. Lee W. Jones, at the family home near Dublin, were yesterday convicted of murder in the second degree by the jury in the district court, and the verdict provided for a term of fifty years for each in the penitentiary. The killing occurred on June 6, shortly before dawn. The case has occupied the attention of the court two days, during which time some 200 witnesses were examined. The case went to the jury about 8 o'clock Thursday night and the verdict was returned at 1 o'clock yesterday. The accused pleaded self defense, claiming that the deceased was reaching for a weapon when the shots were fired that killed him. Both stated that every member of the family lived in mortal terror of the deceased—Brownwood Bulletin.

The election on the constitutional amendments is to be held next Saturday and every citizen should go to the polls and vote, for the questions to be determined should interest every taxpayer.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD.

If any one doubts that the prospects for good crops and good business are encouraging to all the people and that the business men of this town are prospering they can have such doubts dispelled by looking over the advertising columns of this paper. It is a well known fact to newspaper people that business men who are not prospering will not advertise, and taking this as a guide, which is a never failing rule, the universal prosperity of Goldthwaite business men is shown clearly and forcibly. The business men can not prosper unless the farmers and stock raisers prosper, hence it follows that this country is in a most prosperous condition, for we challenge the exhibition of a county paper in this or any other state with a greater amount of advertising by local dealers. No body barred in this and no difference as to size. Be they big, little, old or young, they can not make as fine a showing as does the Eagle. Hunt for one that will in any way compare and you will learn that it can not be found.

As we have said before, Mills county is the best part of the great big world and Goldthwaite is the metropolis.

A suit has been entered by the state against the M. K. & T. railroad for $15,000,000 penalty for alleged violation of the anti-trust law.

The sympathy of many goes out to Mr. Peter Radford, state president of the Farmers Union, in the death of his wife, which occurred at their home near Weatherford Monday. Heart disease was said to be the cause of her death and she was ill less than ten hours.

A new and novel character of theft was developed in Dallas this week. A residence was stolen and moved from its location to another site a mile distant. When the owner of the house went to see about his property he found the house missing. He notified the police department and a search was made, resulting in locating the house, which had been repainted, repapered and an addition built to it. But there is a complication. The occupants of the house claim to have bought it on the present site and a lawsuit will result most likely. We have heard of stealing a redhot stove and other things equally as impossible, but to bodily steal an entire dwelling and dispose of it and make a get-away is a new one.

San Angelo is being over-run with tuberculosis patients, according to a dispatch to the daily papers. The announcement by a physician there that he had discovered a cure for the great white plague has attracted sufferers from every direction and many go there without means, hoping to be relieved and cured without cost.

The Japanese still insist that the California alien land law discriminates against their nation. They continue the wrangle with the federal government, but they could well use their time in a more profitable way, for the California people will not agree to a change of the law and that ends the matter.

Last Friday while the county officials of Runnels county were absent from their office on account of the holiday, some one attempted to burn the Ballinger court house. The fire was started among shavings piled in the district court room and the basement. Only the absence of a draft saved the building. The work is believed to have been that of an insane person.

The Mexicans have been fighting so long without materially changing the conditions or accomplishing any noticeable results that their doings have lost interest for the general public. There appears to be no men of military skill or generalship among them and it is simply a case of "dog eat dog" with them. One side wins a battle and butchers its prisoners and then the other side retaliates. The fight is among Mexicans and it is not the business of other governments to interfere as long as they confine their operations to their own people. There are too many Mexicans any way. In fact, as long as there is one of the savage varmints alive there will be too many of them, so let them "fight dog, fight bear," it is none of Uncle Sammie's concern.

The opposition to the constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of bonds by the legislature and the building of another Agricultural and Mechanical college at Austin has overshadowed all the other amendments and one of the other two to be voted on may be adopted for want of attention, when a close study of the propositions by the voters will result in the defeat of all the measures. The amendment which puts the county and precinct officers on salary and the one providing for the election of additional district judges both appear to be loaded for the tax payers. If there is merit in any of the amendments proposed the Eagle has not been able to see it and trusts they will all be defeated by the voters and they will be if sufficient interest is taken by the citizens to induce them to go to the polls and vote.

UNCLE JIMMIE TAYLOR DEAD.

Mr. James Taylor, more familiarly known as "Uncle Jimmie" died suddenly Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock at Chadwick.

He met the afternoon train and seemed in his usual health, but upon returning to his little store he complained of being sick and died immediately. The sudden attack is thought to have been brought on by a little run he made from the store to the train.

Uncle Jimmie was about 72 years of age. He has been in this immediate section about 30 years, part of which time he made his home in Lometa. He was a jovial old man, liked by all who knew him.

For the past 12 or 15 months he has been postmaster at Chadwick, during which time he made friends of all the people in that section.

He was buried in Chadwick cemetery Sunday, and in the absence of a minister C. L. Reid made a very able and appropriate talk. Quite a number from Lometa attended the burial.—Lometa Reporter.

Mr. Taylor was quite well known in this city and in the southern part of the county. He was merchant and postmaster at Antelope Gap for a long while and was a most pleasant gentleman. The announcement of his death was received with sincere regret.

TEXAS FARM LIFE COMMISSION.

Scheveningen, Holland, June 15—I attended the so-called "Ninth International Cotton Congress" held at Scheveningen, Holland, June 9, 10 and 11. I say so-called, because under the words "Ninth International Cotton Congress" printed in large red letters, there followed in small black type the words "of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association" and because it was not an international cotton convention, but a European Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers meeting. This association is not a loosely organized one, but on the contrary it is a strong, well organized, well financed body of large manufacturers of cotton and hence large purchasers of American as well as other raw cottons who are determined upon obtaining two results, namely, cheaper cotton and that produced upon English and other European countries' possessions. There is no doubt about this. Gov. Dougherty, one of the biggest cotton planters of North Carolina, was there and so definitely was he impressed with this prominent determination that he told me he was going home and set about at once to change his plans of farming, for he clearly sees he said that in the near future English and Continental European spinners will cease to purchase American cotton at prices which our farmers can produce it.

There are in this powerful, brainy and resourceful organization the spinners of England, Ireland, Scotland, Switzerland, France, India, Japan, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Germany, Holland, Italy, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Spain and Sweden. This organization has succeeded in interesting the governments of England, Portugal, Russia, Italy, Japan and perhaps others in the production of cotton in various countries in the world. The Italian government has, through its agricultural department, encouraged the raising of cotton in Southern Italy until today that country is producing almost all the cotton the spinners of that country can consume.

At this "Cotton Congress" I heard the report of the man who had been studying the conditions as to cotton growing in India. He said that the country would increase its output of cotton six million bales in the next five years.

After considering these reports the convention passed a resolution which I wish to quote, showing the attitude of the spinners of Europe toward American cotton growing industry.

This is the resolution. Read it, you who think the South has a monopoly of cotton growing and no opposition to present prices of cotton.

"India," says this resolution, "being the only country in the world in which an immediate and large expansion of cotton cultivation can be expected, this congress desires to place on record its appreciation of the efforts that have been made by the small staff of agricultural officials in India to further the extension and cultivation of cotton, but regrets that these efforts must be seriously hampered for the want of money and of a proper staff.

Financial help of the magnitude that is about to be given to Sudan is not needed in India, but it is impossible that adequate progress can be made unless the Indian (British) government allots more money annually to agriculture and enlarges its staff."

Then follows resolutions pledging its support to all countries in the world which will undertake the cultivation of cotton, and closes with expressing satisfaction that the English government has guaranteed the interest on a loan of $15,000,000 to be used for the promotion of cotton cultivation in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and urges other governments to take similar steps for the extension of cotton cultivation in their respective colonies.

It will be noticed that these spinners are smart enough to encourage the growing of cotton in countries where labor is cheapest. In Egypt labor ranges from five to ten cents for children and women, and for men from eight to fifteen cents per day. About the same scale of wage is paid in India and the Sudan, so I am informed. The lands are fertile and the climate is well suited to cotton production in these countries and European spinners are determined to use this cheap labor of these countries to cheapen the cost of cotton. European countries want not only cheap cotton, but they wish to stop the millions of European gold which American cotton brings to America every year.

Farmers, business men and statesmen of Texas, and of the South—if I could reach them—there is a great need of concerted action as respects cotton of all the producing states of America. There ought to be a Bureau of Cotton Industry with authority to employ a corps of able men whose duty it would be to work out the wisest and best solution of the cotton problem of the South before it is too late. Combinations must be met by co-operation. Directed by such a bureau the South could save in its plan of picking, baling, housing and marketing at least fifty million dollars a year; the use of cotton could be largely increased, the staple improved, the establishing of mills secured so that we would ship yarn instead of raw cotton, and the value of cotton seed increased—in all, I have no doubt that by the expenditure of a few thousand dollars a year for men of the highest scientific and expert attainment the cotton product of the South could easily be increased another fifty million dollars annually. If a few cotton men, as they told me at the cotton convention the other day they were sure to do, can come here from New York and get the tare on cotton reduced five pounds a bale, thus save to the South seven or eight million dollars annually, what might a bureau which gave constant attention to cotton not accomplish?

S. A. LINDSEY, Chairman.

STAR BANK OFFICERS.

The shareholders of the Star State bank met in their banking house Saturday and re-elected the officers of the bank for another year and added a second vice president to the list. The officers and directors are: W. H. Eddleman, president; R. W. Barr, first vice president; J. S. Livingston, second vice president; R. H. Patterson, cashier. These gentlemen together with T. E. Hamilton constitute the board of directors.

The board declared a dividend of 10 per cent to the shareholders and placed $150 in the surplus account, besides reducing the valuation on the banking house, furniture, etc. This is one of the best showings the bank has ever made and proves that the people of that section have confidence in the bank and its officers and directors. This is one of the best banks to be found in a town the size of Star and it has proved a great convenience for the people of that section and a paying investment for its stockholders.

LETTER FROM MEXICO.

Eyzabal, June 29, 1913.

Editor Eagle:

I thought I would drop my old friends in Mills county a few lines through your columns.

I am sitting under a shade tree looking across the rebel camp, or rather where the camp was located. There has been a great deal of fighting here. They certainly do slaughter each other and butcher their victims in the old Indian style—cut their feet off and turn them loose, or cut off their hands or punch out their eyes. I have seen several battles.

The Constitutionalists are taking the country wherever they go, and I am glad to see them win.

All of the Mormon colonists have left this country for the states.

Well, I am having an easy time here, but I am tired of it and want to get back to the states again, and I am going to stay there when I get there. I am going to pay a visit to my old home town—Goldthwaite—in the near future. It has been twelve years since I left there and time changes things wonderfully. I am coming back there to see if I can persuade some girl to go out to Arizona with me. I have not happened to the good luck to get married in all these long years, but I don't feel over 16 now and believe I have a chance yet.

This is going to be a great country when the trouble is settled. There will be a lot of opportunity for a man to make something. This is fine farming land and there are lots of farms here, but not on a large scale. I have my eyes on this country when it gets in a settled condition.

I hope to see some of my old friends in the near future. My address now is Eyzabal, Sonora, Mexico.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council held its regular monthly meeting Monday night, at which time accounts were audited, reports examined and an ordinance relative to lights on automobiles adopted.

The city's affairs are in fine condition, thanks to the careful management of Mayor Rahl and the council, aided by the other city officials. Much good work has been done on the streets, and more is contemplated, and it is a fact that Goldthwaite is one of the cleanest towns on the map, due largely to the care given the sanitary regulations by the officers.

R. R. CARRIERS PICNIC.

Last Friday, July 4, 1913, the Rural Carriers of Mills, San Saba and Lampasas counties met in Mr. Lunsford's pasture, near the Colorado bridge, to have a picnic. They were to have met principally for a carrier's business meeting, but the chances for fun were very inviting, so that the business meeting was soon a secondary thought.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hallet Ballard and son, Mr. Roger Halden and daughters, Clara and Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, all of San Saba; J. O. Davis of Lometa; Mr. and Mrs. Collins and Mr. Carter of Richland Springs; Messrs. Stebbins and Casey of Mullin; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shortly after 12 o'clock M. the well filled baskets were divested of their contents, which were spread on a long table and each and every one ate to his own satisfaction. After dinner the carriers met for a short time in business session, but soon joined the crowd again for further fun. The day being well spent, good byes were passed and promises made for a better time next year.

Among the hospitalities of the summer season none have been more pleasant than the informal afternoon reception on Friday, July 11, with Mrs. James Franklin Geeslin as hostess, honoring her house guests, Misses Louise Osborne and Lucille Robinson of Hempstead and Mrs. John Abney of Lampasas.

Mrs. Geeslin received in her charming manner and presented the honor guests to assembling party. Tables were placed in the reception hall and on the vine screened veranda for the progressive game of "Jenkins."

Miss Lawrence Thompson assisted Mrs. Geeslin in passing the score cards for the game, and Mrs. L. A. Skaggs kept score. When the last game was called and score cards counted, Mrs. L. R. Conroy was fortunate in securing the first prize—a Japanese lemonade pitcher, and Miss Helen Woody secured the second prize—a carved ivory fan.

The refreshment plate was then passed, which consisted of delicious and cooling brick cream and wafers.

The entire party lingered until the shades of evening were falling, then thanking their hostess for the delightful afternoon, departed.

Messengers came in Tuesday for a coffin for the 6-months-old son of W. M. Sparkman of near McGirk, who died at an early hour that morning from whooping cough and complications. The bereaved family can be sure of the sincere sympathy of all who know of their bereavement.

Capt. S. M. Carothers informs the Eagle that he will not be able to attend the reunion next week on account of having to go to Waco to be with his brother, who was hurt some time ago and is under treatment there. His old comrades and friends will miss him.

THE COMING REUNION.

The old soldiers are to meet in annual reunion next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and I sincerely hope that all of the old soldiers and especially all members of Jeff Davis camp will attend this reunion. Come and bring your families and friends and come to stay the three days.

Our number is growing smaller with each succeeding year and soon we will all have answered the last roll call. How important it is then that we make special effort to meet in these annual reunions and give to each other the benefit and pleasure of our associations, reminiscences and experiences. Not only is it desirable that the members of the camp should attend, but that their wives and other members of their families be there as well. There are now so few of us that every absent one will be missed and every one who is accustomed to meet with us will be wanted.

Comrades and friends, let nothing deter you from attending the reunion at Goldthwaite next week. Surely your farm work or other duties can wait three days while you assist in making the reunion a pleasure to your old comrades and friends and we will all feel better and be better because of having attended. The Camp has made arrangements for the success of the reunion and the Commercial club is also helping in every way possible to add to our comfort and pleasure and I feel sure this will be one of our best reunions, so come and be prepared to remain the three days if possible.

If for any reason the old soldiers or members of their families can not come to remain the entire time, let them be sure to be present at the Memorial service Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 3 o'clock. We are to commemorate our departed comrades or their wives at this time and it is fitting that all of us take part in this service. I have asked and shall ask that all business be suspended in the town and at the camp ground while this service is being held and I hope to note a full attendance at that time. Especially do we want the members of the families of Comrades W. L. Martin, W. T. Bickham, Joe Benningfield, M. M. Hancock, and Sister Carothers, Sister Blackburn and Sister J. A. M. Johnson to be present at this service, as well as the members of the family of any other deceased comrade whose name does not appear in this list. Yours for a grand reunion.
