Price Rollback Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP) - Legislation to set ceilings on most prices and interest rates at the March 16 level will go to the House for a vote next week, its Democratic leaders decided Thursday. The bill would roll rents back to the Jan. 10 level, but allow landlords to pass on, dollar for dollar, increases in taxes and other costs. Debate on the bill will start Monday. Republicans will fight it, trying to substitute a straight one-year extension of President Nixon's economic control powers, without additional conditions. Unless Congress passes some form of legislation, all authority for economic controls will lapse April 30 and the lawmakers start a 10-day Easter recess next Thursday. Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz described the proposed legislation as disappointing to the Nixon administration. An earlier version of an economic control bill with congressionally set standards was approved by the House Banking Committee. It would have set a rollback to Jan. 10 for all purposes. But this version ran into a storm of opposition from cattlemen, farmers, bankers and businessmen and was halted in the Rules Committee on Wednesday. Leaders then tentatively agreed on a 60-day extension of presidential powers to give time for more lasting legislation to be worked out. But a number of Democrats, led by Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., insisted on an opportunity to bring a substantive bill to a vote before the recess. Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., called an early morning meeting of key Democratic

Water Import Project Found To Be Economically Unjustifiable

Water, Inc. officials expressed optimism today for the future of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico import project even in the face of study findings showing that under present project-formulation standards, the project is economically unjustifiable. A.L. Black, Friona, president of Water, Inc., said the findings of the Bureau of Reclamation and the Mississippi River Commission revealed at meetings in Lubbock and Memphis, Tennessee, today were not expected. "We have known from the outset that under project-formulation standards now in use, the import project could not be justified. The key, of course, are the standards being used and even as the two federal agencies were making the findings public, proposals for re-amping project - formulation standards are in the final stages of being adopted," Black said. The reconnaissance investigation was initiated several years ago to formulate and evaluate plans for importing water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to replace the dwindling ground water supply. An interim report, by the Bureau of Reclamation in 1968, established that the lower Mississippi River is the most favorable located source of import water for the High Plains. Figures provided by the Mississippi River Commission indicate that flows near the mouth of the Mississippi, surplus to needs projected to the year 2020, might be available about one-third of the time. If it is determined that diminished flows would not adversely affect the estuarine resources of the Louisiana Gulf Coast, a portion of these flows could be available for diversion from the Atchafalaya River in the vicinity of Morgan City, Louisiana. Water diverted from the Mississippi River would be lifted by a series of pumping plants in a canal with a carrying capacity of 40,000 cubic feet per second, through a 715 - mile water conveyance system across Louisiana and East Texas to Twin Lakes, northwest of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. From Twin Lakes, the water would be transported through a 700-mile, North Texas canal system, to nine terminal reservoirs on the High Plains for distribution to lands in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. These facilities would provide the means to deliver an average of 5.8 million acre-feet annually. Of the total, 4.7 million acre-feet could be diverted to users in Texas, and 1.1 million acre-feet would be

Final Story In Series Deals With Law Enforcement Officers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth and final story in this series about organized crime in Texas. Organized Crime does exist as evidenced in the preceding stories. The Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council, the Attorney General's Office, the Department of Public Safety and many other agencies are working with law enforcement officials at the local level to help put an end to organized crime. This story deals with some of the progress which has been made. This series is part of a public education program developed by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council with Assistance from the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Office of the Attorney General of Texas and local law enforcement agencies.) A few months ago outside a Dallas night spot, a well-known police character with an intriguing nickname, "The Creeper", died in a hail of gunfire in a scene straight out of a Hollywood gangster film. Police had suspected he was the "enforcer" for a loosely-knit group of southern and southwestern thugs known as the "Dixie Mafia". But before this scene conjures up visions of an organized crime takeover in the Lone Star State, Texans should be aware of the unrelenting statewide efforts already underway to crack down on crime. Little publicized up to this point, the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council is conducting an all-out drive to corral all segments of the criminal world. The Council, co-chaired by

Attorney General John Hill and Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Department of Public Safety, is comprised of top law enforcement officials from throughout the state. "Some hoodlums are organized, but we are organized, too," Colonel Speir pointed out recently, "and we are moving ahead steadily on all criminal fronts including gambling, auto theft, prostitution, gang killings, narcotics, fencing of stolen goods, credit card thefts and many others." Attorney General Hill, since taking office in January, has expanded the organized crime division within his office. Head of the office Tim James, a former vice squad officer and attorney, has the sole responsibility to work in close cooperation with enforcement officials to help ferret out organized crime activities. "My office can give legal and auditing help, and in conjunction with the DPS and officers at the local level, assist in yanking the welcome mat from under the organized criminal element in our state," Hill said. Both Hill and Speir acknowledge organized crime does exist, but not of the classic Mafia or La Cosa Nostra vintage. "Some of our home-grown hoodlums have friends within out-of-state mob ranks, and they may be getting some tips and coaching, but we have no concrete information at this time the national syndicates as such are operating in this state," said Colonel Speir. That fact is indicated in statistics compiled by the Council. Leading the list of crime categories in profits by far is illegal gambling. Texans wagered more than $185 million in football bets alone during the 1971 season with some $98 million flowing directly into the mainstream of organized criminal activity. But during the calendar year from which the Council's gambling figures were taken more than 130 arrests were made as the bookies began to feel the heat. "I regard this as a sizeable accomplishment in such a period of time, when the problems and restrictions in making bookmaking cases are taken into consideration," says Colonel Speir. "Or records indicate that on the average, it takes 360 man-hours to make a single case on a bookie." Increased pressure is being applied daily on drug traffickers in Texas. The DPS Narcotics Service has been averaging over 200 cases per month, mostly for sale of narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Agents estimate they will file some 3,000 cases against 2,000 defendants this year, compared to some 960 cases against 680 defendants three years ago.

As law enforcement officials move ahead with arrests on all fronts there is accelerated activity behind the scenes as well.

A "Texas Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit Association" has been formed which will:

- Promote the exchange and sharing of confidential information on organized crime activity through establishment of an intelligence system involving law enforcement agencies throughout the state;
- Exchange information on organized crime with appropriate neighboring states and federal agencies;
- Establish a central file or clearing house for criminal intelligence information and provide it with data and authorized dissemination;
- Develop personal relationship and trust among members of the organization and all law enforcement agencies;
- Promote professionalization of law enforcement;
- Execute the planned law enforcement program through investigation and vigorous prosecution of organized crime.

One of the major areas of concern among law enforcement officials is the lack of public awareness of what constitutes organized crime.

Says Colonel Speir: "To understand organized crime, a definition is in order. Organized crime, in general, consists of unlawful activities of the members of a highly organized, disciplined and sophisticated association engaged in supplying illegal goods and services including, but not limited to, gambling, prostitutions, loan sharking, narcotics, labor racketeering and other unlawful activities.

"Organized criminals seek to infiltrate and control legitimate business. They also strive to corrupt public officials and others in an effort to minimize exposure and the possibility of legal intervention."

The Texas Criminal Justice Council, working through Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, is helping fund an approach to public education.

As one officer points out: "The public itself needs to understand that a seemingly innocent little football bet is a contribution to organized crime."

"The public needs to understand that 'cheap' bargains on some items of merchandise very well could be from a 'fence' who is peddling stolen goods."

"The public needs to understand they are the ones being victimized, and it won't stop until all citizens awaken to the fact that organized crime is everybody's business."

Members of the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council along with Attorney General Hill and Colonel Speir are District Attorney Ted Butler, Bexar County; Dallas Police Chief Frank Dyson; San Antonio Police Chief Emil Peters; Harris County District Attorney Carol Vance and Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade.

These men are charged with combining top talent from law enforcement agencies all over Texas to combat organized crime.

ic legislators and the wheels were set in motion to produce a compromise.

The principal difference from the original bill is the later ceiling date, resulting in a less drastic rollback of prices.

The new bill also provides that in cases where prices have dropped since Jan. 10, the last day of Phase 2, the higher Phase 2 level will be the ceiling. This was said to apply only to a few commodities, but at least one important one, aluminum.

The new bill also clarifies that the interest ceiling will not apply to commercial rates set by the market. It would apply to interest on residential mortgages, consumer, small business, farm and personal loans.

Other features of the original bill would be retained.

One of these is a provision that the president may make exceptions to prevent gross inequities.

He would be required, within 60 days, to bring about further rollbacks in prices or explain why there were not feasible.

Wages of less than $3.50 an hour would be exempt from wage controls.

states have a mandate from the citizens to stamp out organized crime, and it is essential that we all cooperate to live up to that mandate," Attorney General Hill said shortly after taking office.

While the major responsibilities within the state's organized crime prevention and control operation have been assigned to the Department of Public Safety, all law enforcement agencies in Texas are playing a role.

Enforcement, and especially prosecution, at local levels are fundamental to the operation's success, according to Hill, who added:

"Until we break the cycle and crack down in areas which supply so much of the illicit cash which bankrolls the mob's operations in illegal drugs, auto theft, murder and robbery we can't truly say we are breaking up organized crime."

An "omnibus crime bill" is being prepared at this time for presentation to the 63rd Legislature now underway.

It will contain a wide range of requests for new legislation and some Constitutional revisions.

Legislative needs which have been delineated for Texas include:

1. Admissibility of oral confessions of criminals;
2. Electronic surveillance under strong safeguards;
3. Concurrent jurisdiction for the State Attorney General and statewide grand jury capability;
4. A law making possession of gambling paraphernalia a felony;
5. Receiving and concealing stolen property law.

Also, there is a need for a general overhaul of criminal statutes to cope with specific offenses subject to organized crime, such as loan sharking, prostitution, bookmaking and others.

Electronic surveillance (popular name, wire tapping) is probably destined to become the most controversial new law being sought.

Law enforcement officials feel, however, such surveillance is grossly misunderstood.

With the news media telling daily of "bugging" in high places, the process has rapidly become a code word meaning "invasion of privacy" to many people.

"But without such investigative aids," Colonel Speir says, "it is almost impossible to get to the top of major illicit narcotics distribution systems and other organized crime activities simply because the most powerful mobsters never get involved beyond their telephones and penthouses."

The same situation holds true with organized gambling.

What will be proposed to the Legislature will be a tightly controlled electronic surveillance law--patterned after Federal law--which could be used only under formal orders by a District Judge, obtained only for a specific period of time and only after the Judge has become convinced that there is probable cause to believe that a person or persons are involved in organized crime.

"With these proper safeguards," says Colonel Speir, "the public can be guaranteed its right of privacy. The only people who need fear a wire tap are these with something to hide from the law."

The Organized Crime Prevention Council also is recommending a state statute to create and finance a statewide organized criminal investigation commission with independent, permanent status.

It would contain an adequate staff of investigators with subpoena power to keep a constant watch on danger areas. The commission would make periodic reports to the Governor and the Legislature and maintain close contact with law enforcement officials for possible prosecution purposes.

Both Hill and Speir are confident Texas is moving in the right direction--and rapidly--in efforts to control organized crime.

"We have identified the problem, begun to speed arrests and push prosecution and the word is increasingly spreading that organized crime can't do business in Texas," Hill says.

"If the public will join in to a greater extent, the day when Texas can become free of organized criminal activity will come much sooner," adds Speir.

FHA Girls Attend Planning Session At Texas Tech April 10

Tuesday, April 10, a planning session was held at the Texas Tech Home Economics Department in Lubbock to begin plans for the Texas Tech Leadership Workshop scheduled for this summer. Directing was Mrs. Gromatzky, professor of Home Economics Education at Texas Tech. The workshop is to be designed to improve leadership qualities in FHA's and to discuss the major problems many FHA chapters may have. Also, there will be further explanations of FHA programs such as Encounter.

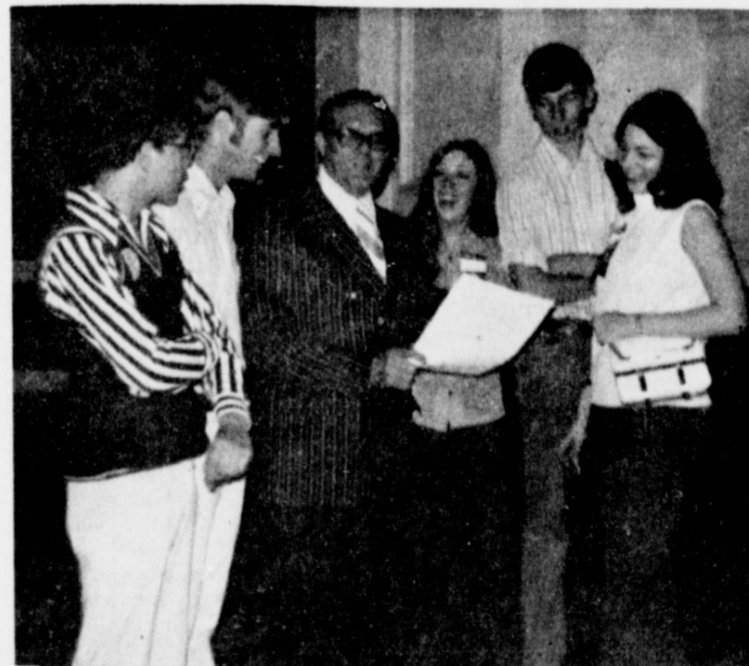

The session began with brainstorming on what leadership is or involves. The advisors went to the center of a circle to discuss problems they have faced during the year, while Tech students and FHA members listened in. The FHA members were asked to take the place of the advisors and to tell what they had heard. Afterwards, they were asked to state their own opinions. The Tech students were brought in to tell what both the advisors and the members had said and also stated their personal opinions.

Everyone was divided into small groups where they discussed ideas for a theme, small group sessions, large group sessions, and how to bring the objectives into the workshop. Topics discussed were how to bring Encounter into the group sessions, how to introduce parliamentary procedure to show its importance so it could be taught in the local chapters, ways in which a person's leadership abilities could be improved, and time for girls to discuss problems they have in their chapters so they may find adequate solutions, and how to increase a member's knowledge of the offices of FHA.

Those attending from Muleshoe were Advisors, Martha McCormick, and Dorine Harbin; Members Linda Balderas, Judy Dearing, Cindy Hall, Vicki Griffin, Cindy Chandler, outgoing Area FHA Parliamentarian, and Tani Murrach, State FHA Parliamentarian.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered something this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:
 I was in town stocking up on macaroni and cheese before the meat boycotters run the prices clear out of sight and while I was there picked up a 10-cent tractor bolt for a quarter and a city newspaper whose prices has jumped 100 per cent in the past two years and when I got home sat down and read an interesting article.

It was bragging on the American farmer and his ability to produce so efficiently and abundantly despite the fact there are fewer farmers than ever before, explaining that one reason for this is that "the inefficient farmers have all been driven off the land."

Of course that's not quite right, I'm still here on this Johnson grass farm and I might be able to think of a few more around here like, well, I'd better not mention them, they're probably subscribers to The Journal, but let's assume that most of the inefficient ones have been driven off.

The next thought that occurs to me is, where'd they go? What're they doing now? In fact, where does an inefficient farmer go when he's driven off the land?

This is a hard question to answer but it's worth speculating on. For example, I'm almost sure a few of them have turned up in the Texas Legislature, and it's possible one or two may have gotten into Congress. Other likely job opportunities for them would be handling luggage for the airlines, or bugging political headquarters so incompetently they're stumbled up on by a night watchman, and some of them may have gotten into management jobs for now bankrupt railroads or aircraft plants.

But on the whole, I'd say a lot of them must have signed up with the new U.S. Postal Service. You can't make me believe that the mail service today isn't run by men at the top who are experts in inefficiency.

Personally, I'd just as soon have those farmers back on the land. They weren't bothering anybody there, and I could get a letter from here to Lubbock in one day.

yours faithfully,
 J.A.

Bula Athletic Banquet Held

Eighty students, teachers and patrons of the community were present Tuesday evening for the Annual athletic banquet held in the high school auditorium. Underwoods of Lubbock catered the meal, with the sophomore class and their class sponsor, Homer Bruton, acting as hosts for the evening.

The invocation was given by school principal, G.O. Smith, and James Snitker gave the welcome. The room was decorated in the school colors, black and red, with the words "We Pledge our Loyalty to the Bulldogs" in glitter on the stage curtains. Tables were laid in white centered with decorated footballs. All the trophies the athletic program have won this year were displayed at the head table. Red and black streamers centered each table.

Following the meal the group was entertained, with two songs, "Swinging On A Star" and "Make The World Go Away", sung by Mrs. J. Austin, accompanied by Mrs. Sinclair at the piano.

Pat Risinger, boys basketball coach and football coach, presented several awards. Mr. Basketball went to Jimmy Risinger; Mr. Defense, Steve Newton; Mr. Offense, Jimmy Risinger; Fighting Bulldogs were Steve Newton and Cathy Snitker; Mr. Golf, James Snitker; All District, Jimmy Risinger; Steve Newton and Kenneth Turney. Jimmy Risinger was selected to play on the coaches all star six man team. Basketball All District were Jimmy Risinger and Steve Newton, Kenneth Turney and Jerry Sowder were selected to play in the basketball all star game.

Miss Connie Richardson gave girls basketball awards to Miss Foreward, Leisa Risinger; and Miss Guard, Susan Layton, making All District were Leisa Risinger and Susan Layton. Superintendent James Sinclair offered the benediction.

She needs an inner integrity. It is not enough to choose a pattern of living -- To make choices that are right for her, she must know who she is and what she believes".

Mrs. Lois Witherspoon's topic for discussion was "Ways of Working". Her comments were: "A woman's decision about working in and out of the home may not be the most crucial choices for the educated woman, but are apt to be the most controversial. They involve other people, her husband and children in the first instance, others more remotely".

Members of the Muleshoe Women's Golf Association attended church services and lunch as a group at the First Methodist Church Tuesday in observance of Holy Week.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, TEX.--The first of major reform bills before the 63rd Legislature -- strengthening of "open meetings" requirement -- has reached the desk of Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

The House quickly accepted Senate amendments, sending the measure (HB 3) on to the Governor.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed a version of the "shield bill" to protect newsmen's sources of information from forced disclosure -- except on State Supreme Court order. The Senate revision providing that citizens may bring mandamus action to reveal sources doomed the bill (HB 10) to conference committee delay.

A second reform bill (HB 8) backed by House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. -- also landed on the Governor's desk. The Senate passed it with only minor amendment, and the House concurred.

Sponsors of the new open meetings law term it a marked improvement over the present statute, although it would still permit closed executive sessions of governing agencies for these purposes:

Discussions of personnel matters including evaluation, consultation with attorneys on pending or contemplated litigation or settlement offers, talks about real estate purchase, exchange, lease or sale, negotiated contracts for gifts or donations, and school board strategy plans for consultation with employees. Social functions could be kept private as long as no official action is taken and no formal agenda items are deliberated.

Fines up to $500 and jail terms up to six months are provided for known violations.

The House approved Daniel's final reform bill (HB 4), voting 140-3 to set up a State Ethics Commission to supervise tough new campaign finance reporting.

RIGHT TO REPLY BILL HEARD IN SENATE--Houston Senator Walter Mengden's bill which would require newspapers to provide a "right to reply" to political stories and editorials was heard by the Senate Jurisprudence Committee last week.

Senator Mengden copied the bill after the Florida law--which has been ruled unconstitutional by a County Judge in Daytona Beach, Florida and a Circuit Court and Appeals Court in Dade County, Florida. The Dade County decision is now on appeal in the Florida State Supreme Court.

The Houston Senator quoted so-called "attacks" on him by newspapers in his district, and felt he was entitled to reply to those attacks in the news columns of the newspapers. He cited the "equal time" doctrine of the broadcasting media under existing Federal law.

His measure, SB 541, would require newspapers to publish free of cost any reply a candidate "may make thereto in as conspicuous a place and in the same kind of type as the matter that calls for such reply."

Mengden did not have enough votes to get the bill out of committee, but Senators present did vote 5-2 not to send it to sub-committee and 5-2 to approve the bill and send it to the full Senate for a vote. Senate rules required seven votes to report the bill out, and many of the Senators were not in the meeting at the time of the vote.

The bill was opposed by the Texas Press Association on the grounds that it was unconstitutional.

INSURANCE CUT BILL OFFERED--State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie has recommended legislation which he said may reduce auto insurance rates.

The bill would permit some competition in ratemaking, though not wide open competition.

Texas is the only state which retains the system of fixed rates set on a yearly basis by the state regulatory agency.

Two House members, Reps. Don Caveness of Austin and Ben Bynum of Amarillo, are pushing a straight-out competitive rating bill (HB 64).

Christie, a former senator informally has requested the Legislature to hold off on the rating proposals until the Board has a chance to offer its own recommendations.

SCHOOL PLANS AIRED--Alternative plans for overhauling the public school finance formulas and rechanneling nearly $2 billion in public spending received a five-hour House committee hearing.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, the Education Committee chairman, predicted best features of four bills will be incorporated into one and reported back to the House by April 19 or April 26.

A U.S. Supreme Court ruling last month that the Texas system of financing its schools is not unconstitutional virtually assured no final action on a reform plan this session. But a House test vote on one of the overhaul proposals is anticipated.

COURTS SPEAK--The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed an El Paso murder conviction of a housewife who shot her husband because the trial judge did not instruct the jury to consider self defense.

Texas Public Employees Association is testing in federal court the Internal Revenue Service's right to levy income taxes on the mandatory contributions made by active state employees to their retirement system. The suit seeks to recover about $15 million in taxes paid since 1968.

The State Supreme Court affirmed lower court rulings upholding a retired Dallas school teacher's $10,000 bequest to National Cancer Foundation, Inc. of New York.

Fourteenth Court of Civil Appeals reversed lower courts and ruled the Moody Foundation of Galveston should have just three trustees, and that Mrs. Mary Moody Northern has authority to fill two vacancies on the board as the only valid trustee at present.

AG OPINIONS--Two Bexar County legislators cannot continue their teaching jobs in public junior colleges, under a new attorney general's opinion.

In other recent opinions, Atty. Gen. John Hill held:

*Failure of bills specifically to prohibit discrimination in insurance rates based solely on sex does not render them unconstitutional.

*Bid documents for an armory at Fort Sam Houston are ambiguous, and bids submitted under them should not be accepted.

*Texas A&I University has authority to receive as a gift property located in Kingsville for use directors feel advisable, and directors can purchase or lease a 26-acre tract for the A&I Citrus and Vegetable Training Center at Westlaco.

*Domestic relations and juvenile judges whose courts are converted into district courts of general jurisdiction may purchase tenure in the state judicial retirement system.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Briscoe appointed Houston attorney David D. Allen to the State Securities Board. Allen has served on the State Board of Corrections since 1967.

Briscoe reappointed H.H. Coffield of Rockdale to the Board of Corrections.

He named Charles Borchers of Laredo as 49th district attorney for Webb County to succeed Carlos Castillon of Laredo who resigned.

Hill picked as his first assistant attorney general Larry York, formerly of Palestine, to succeed Judge John M. Barron of Bryan who resigned due to illness.

BUDGETS NEAR SHOWDOWN--Biennial state budgets totaling more than $9.7 billion are nearing action stages in the House and Senate.

Committees have wrapped up their showdown decisions.

Governor Briscoe has insisted on a two-year appropriations bill down the line, although budget-writers are undecided how to handle uncertainty over federal welfare requirements and availability of federal funds.

SHORT SNORTS--Texas bank deposits are at a new high, but the index of business activity declined four per cent in February according to a University of Texas bureau of business research analysis.

The governor endorsed the right of citizens to sue environmental polluters.

Briscoe, in his first big test of muscle with the Legislature, threatened to veto police-fire collective bargaining legislation unless a clear local option feature was attached.

A House sub-committee has endorsed a bill to allow minors to obtain contraceptives and treatment for pregnancy without parental consent.

Eighteen-year-olds can serve on juries under a bill cleared by the Legislature.

A federal task force attempted to brief state officials on a new presidential budget ceilings and revenue sharing proposals but didn't provide many specifics.

Parks and Wildlife officials will consider new hunting and fishing regulations for 1973-74 at a meeting here April 26.

Good Soil Incorporation Essential For Weed Control

LUBBOCK -- Soil that's too wet will prevent proper incorporation of preplant herbicides which later results in poor weed control. This warning is sounded by Dr. Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist-cotton with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock. Working wet soil produces clods that cannot be mixed properly with the herbicide, Metzger explains. As a result, weed seed germinate in these soil clods after a rain and cause weed problems after the cotton emerges. Proper application rate and side should be worked into the soil before spraying." The best incorporation is obtained when the soil is slightly on the dry side, the agronomist points out, but anytime the soil works well with tillage equipment is a good sign that the herbicide will mix properly with the soil. The Extension specialist added under certain conditions, a producer might obtain higher return for his herbicide dollar if he considers banding herbicides at planting, using a drag behind his planter for slight incorporation. "Banding herbicides at planting helps insure against weed growth if conditions such as cloddy soil, high crop residues, and excessively wet soil prevents good incorporation of preplant herbicides," he explains. "Producers should check the guarantee label concerning the use of Treflan and Planavin at planting. Applying herbicides at this time will result in substantial control of pigweed and other annual weeds, but will not effectively control Johnsongrass, volunteer grain sorghum and other deeper germinating weed seed." Other premerger herbicides applied at planting and approved for cotton, Metzger reports, are Caprol, Sancap, Dacthal, Karmex and Lasso. The specialist who has worked on the herbicide problem with producers for years says that cotton growers should attack weeds early. Weeds must be controlled before they are three weeks old or four inches tall to prevent losses in lint yield, he concludes. Czech leaders seek to overcome apathy. A. M. A. urges aid to "sick" doctors.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

IT'S BEEN A LONG YEAR

Just a little longer... and homework, and exams will be over and then VACATION TIME. It is so good to have something to look forward to... swimming, fishing, ball, all of those wonderful activities.

Yes, it is good to have something to look forward to. I look forward each week to an opportunity to worship with others in the House of the Lord. I look forward to the hymns of praise, to the time of Bible study, and to the message brought by God's servant. Why don't you join me this week at church and participate in these joyful moments.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Lasso® hates Carelessweed!

Lasso, the preemergence herbicide from Monsanto controls Carelessweed as well as other broadleaf weeds and almost a dozen annual grasses that compete with cotton. What's more, Lasso doesn't carryover to harm rotational crops. So even if your cotton gets hailed out, you can come right back in with soybeans or corn. You don't have to incorporate Lasso, either. Apply it preemergence at planting and you're through.

This year, use Lasso. And get the Carelessweed before it gets your cotton.
