"The Home of Economy"

"The House with a Conscience"

Mrs. R. M. Thompson and daughter, Miss Lawrence, visited in Brownwood the first of the week.

Mrs. G. W. Cunningham and 111e daughter returned to their home in San Angelo the first of the week, after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Clements, and family in this city.

Prof. Norton and family left Sunday morning for Brownwood, where he will be one of the teachers in the Daniel Baker summer school. They will likely return to this city about August 1.

Miss Gilmore of Brownwood came over a few days ago for a visit with her cousin, Miss Stella Fletcher, and other relatives. Together they went to Temple for a visit to relatives the first of the week.

S. M. Murphy, a leading citizen of the western part of the county, was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office one day this week. He informed us that his son, O. M. Murphy, had returned from Bellvue, Arizona, and was making his home at Ridge.

Mrs. Hugh Carlton of San Francisco Cal., has been here several days visiting her friend, Mrs. W. C. Dew. She will be joined here in a few days by her husband, and together they will visit friends and relatives in the Mullin section and elsewhere before returning to their California home.

Prof. C. H. Miller and his wife and baby came in from Water Valley the first of the week for a visit to relatives and friends. He has been re-elected superintendent of the school at Water Valley and is well pleased with the place and speaks in high terms of the school and people there. They are building a new and modern school building and have a lively school interest, which is very encouraging to Prof. Miller and makes a fine showing for the community. He is enthusiastic in his work and is a teacher of long experience and splendid ability, who has taught some of the best schools in this section and is held in high esteem by everybody.

DATE DEFINITELY FIXED.

Fair and Reunion to Be Held Last Week in July.

The Confederate veterans held their regular monthly meeting last Saturday, at which time they decided to hold their annual reunion at this place July 28, 29, 30. This was a slight change from the dates fixed by the committee from the camp acting with the committee from the Commercial club, but was made necessary because of the probability of conflicting with the Baptist meeting which is to begin here the first Sunday in August. While this meeting may not continue through the second week, it is not desired by the camp or the club to have the date for the fair and reunion so fixed as to make a possibility of a conflict, therefore, it was thought best to change to the last week in July, at which time the farm and garden products will be at their best and other exhibits can be made to good advantage. Only a few concessions had been sold and it is not thought the change will affect them.

This final date has been accepted by the club and all persons concerned in the county fair and reunion and the public can begin to arrange for the annual celebration at that time. There will be liberal premiums for all manner of exhibits and ample provision for the comfort and entertainment of all who attend.

The program committee has been at work for some days placing the entertainments and has formed a "sketch" program and among other things it has been determined to make the last day of the fair, which will be July 30, Fraternal Order Day. The various orders of the county have an invitation to be present and carry out such programs at that time as they may see fit, the only requirement being that such program be submitted to the club's program committee in order that it may be so arranged that conflicts will be avoided.

Miss Geneva Savage, who spent some time with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Jarrett, and family in Big Valley, left Sunday night for her home in Texico.

F. D. Wilson has built a neat and attractive addition to his already pretty residence in the southern portion of the city and has also bought a new Ford car for his family.

J. T. Burdett of Montague county, arrived the first of the week for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burdett. He has been away from here four years and finds many improvements here since he left and still thinks Mills county is one of the best places on the globe.

J. M. Steel and wife of California were here this week visiting relatives and friends and left Tuesday for points in the west to visit. They expect to return here for a longer stay before returning to their home. They have been in California eleven years and are well pleased with that country.

C. H. Teffertiller of the Pickens Springs community was a visitor to this city Tuesday and made the Eagle a pleasant call. This was his first visit to this city in eleven weeks, he having been confined to his home by sickness that long. He was looking much better than one would have expected to see him and said he was gaining strength rapidly. His illness commenced with congestion and was prolonged by injury sustained because of nausea.

Miss Mamie Kelley, who taught in the primary department of the Goldthwaite public school for a number of years, received notice this week that she had been elected to a similar position in Fort Worth public schools at a substantial increase of salary over the amount she received here. She has accepted the position and will go there in time for the beginning of the fall session. She has been again elected to each primary methods in the summer school in the Southwestern University at Georgetown and will be so engaged for a part of the summer.

MASONIC OFFICERS.

At the meeting of the Masonic lodge of this city Saturday night, the following elective and appointive officers were named for the ensuing term:

Most of the oats have been harvested and thrashers are in operation in several of the communities.

E. M. Meyer, one of Priddy's prosperous merchants, was here Wednesday morning to meet his mother, who had been away for a visit and arrived on the morning train.

Chas Pfluger of Priddy, accompanied by Mrs. August Braker and children, boarded the train here Wednesday en route for Taylor to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, A. H. Braker, Sr., whose death occurred Tuesday from heart disease.

JAS. E. FERGUSON'S FORT WORTH SPEECH

After Mr. Ferguson had extended his compliments to the people of Fort Worth for the hearty reception accorded him, he entered into a discussion of the issues of the campaign. He gave a short statement of his private life, showing that he was a native born Texan and raised amid humble surroundings. He gave an account of his early struggles as a laborer in vineyards of California, and teamster on the largest grain ranch in the world, and as a helper in the placer mines in the Rocky mountains, as a constable in a barb wire factory in San Francisco and as a laborer in the quartz mines of Nevada and Colorado.

He also told of his service as an humble railroad man and paid a high tribute to the dignity of labor. He told of his experience as a country lawyer and as a country banker. He stated that he had been a farmer and stock raiser for the past ten years and that he had an ambition to be the biggest turkey raiser in Central Texas. He spoke again of the lines of his Blum speech in reference to the question of education and called attention to the necessity of a more efficient system of rural education. He said that we can never attain the ideal of "back to the farm" until we make country education equal to town education.

He discussed the penitentiary system, advocating the placing of the convict farms in the hands of business farmers. He said too much attention was being given to the reformation of prisoners and not enough attention was being given to the law-abiding citizens. Quoting from Peter Radford, whom he styled the Farmer Philosopher of Texas, he said: "Let government assist those who plead for opportunity, rather than consume off our energies upon those who scorn the privileges of manhood. Let us turn our attention from the delinquents and incorrigibles to the worthy and ambitious citizen, struggling to feed and clothe his family and educate his children and own his home."

Mr. Ferguson also discussed the railroad question, stating that the railroads were a public necessity which must be maintained for the public good in a high degree of efficiency. He also said that the interests of the roads and the interests of the public were identical and that if the railroads would pay attention to the small matters of convenience to the public, that the people would do the right thing about railroad rates. He stated that railroad rates should not be decreased, because they were entitled to a fair return upon their investment, and further stated that a decrease of railroad rates would cause a decrease in the wages of the railroad men.

Mr. Ferguson declared that he was in favor of what is known as a fair full crew bill, and he stated that the safety of the traveling public, as well as the just demands of the trainmen of the state, required legislation along this line. Mr. Ferguson also discussed the need of public warehouses and the establishment of a special department in the office of the commissioner of agriculture for the purpose of giving out reliable information as to cotton consumption, cotton supply and cotton demand. In this connection he said the government can perform no greater service for the people than to provide a system whereby the cotton raiser may be enabled to store and hold his crop until the right time comes for him to sell, and provide him with authentic information so that he can when the right time comes, with this with some degree of intelligence tell system he stated that the farmers will no longer be at the mercy of those who would buy their cotton at less than its market value.

Mr. Ferguson entered into an extended discussion of the landlord and tenant plank in his platform. He said that he wanted to see a fair law to provide a law to prevent a land owner from collecting a rent of more than the one-third of the grain or the one-fourth of the cotton, except where the landlord furnished all the teams and tools to make the crop, in which event a rent of one-half might be collected. He referred to history to show that the fall of empires was attended with the concentration of ownership of land, and the collection of unfair rents. He stated that the government had as much right to regulate rents as it had to regulate interest. He stated that the tenant citizenship of Texas had really contributed to the making of high land values in Texas and that they ought now not to be required to pay a rent which would impair their ability to feed and clothe their family and educate their children.

By way of explanation of his landlord and tenant plank, Mr. Ferguson explained to the people of Fort Worth that in substance his law for the protection of the tenant was one in which the people of the cities are interested as well as those who live in the country; that laws have been passed to prevent the man in the city from lending money at high rates of interest to the wage earners; that everybody in the city know just what is meant by the loan shark, and he stated that his landlord and tenant law was to relieve the tenant from the extortion of the land shark; that the land owner in the country who rented his land at a reasonable rent had no more to fear from this law than the business man in the city who loaned money at reasonable rates had to fear from the usury law.

Mr. Ferguson in accordance with his previous declaration said that he would veto any liquor legislation proposed by either pro or anti faction, and said that present laws for the regulation of the liquor traffic were sufficient. He discussed at length the necessity of giving Texas a business man's administration, and putting her institutions upon a sound financial basis. Mr. Ferguson then took up the opening speech and candidacy of his opponent, Thomas H. Ball, and among other things said:

"Thus, my friends, in simple words I lay before you the reasons why I want you to make me governor. And I am quite sure that the people of Texas are now ready to approve the principles for which I stand. But every man must have opposition. The true test of man and measures is their ability to stand the fire of criticism. When I announced for this great office, I knew that the ordeal of criticism and opposition must be undergone and endured.

An open discussion of the issues of any campaign is always good for the people. It gives them a chance to become informed as to the real issue in the campaign, and by the information brought out in public discussion the people can become better informed to pass upon the question of which candidate is the best fitted to serve them.

When Mr. Ball announced for governor of Texas, I challenged him through the press for a joint discussion of the issues of the campaign. He declined, which of course he had a right to do, and I am not blaming him for his action. Shortly after that I opened my campaign, and I never mentioned his name once in my entire speech, but I discussed the merits of my own candidacy. After that, on the 21st day of April, Mr. Ball opened his campaign at Greenville, and before a vast audience he discussed me, both in a personal way and in a political way. His speech began with a criticism of my platform, and ended with an adroit attempt to avoid a fair discussion of the issues which I had raised. This being true, I think I am fully justified in discussing him, his campaign and the principles for which he stands.

Tom Ball will go down in history as the biggest political straddler that ever lived. His opening speech, like that novel garment which the ladies wear, the "Modier Hubbard" covers everything but touches nothing. Tell me why the Lord made the man on the fence, and I will tell you "How old is Ann." Tom Ball, the railroad lawyer and the no-idea candidate, has had his say, and let me tell you about it.

In the first place, his speech must be the greatest disappointment to the Simon pure prohibitionists that they have ever met. His so-called anti-prohibitionists is an insult to their intelligence, and whatever respect they may have had for him as a man he has now lost by his offer to surrender his political views to get a few thousand anti votes.

If he is a Democrat, then W. P. Lane, the prohibitionist then Tom Ball is a traitor to the Democratic party. I must acknowledge my gratitude to the Fort Worth convention for giving me such easy opposition in nominating a candidate who stands for nothing, and is nothing, politically.

If Tom Ball is a Democrat then the Fort Worth convention that nominated him was not a meeting of Democrats. If the Fort Worth convention was a meeting of Democrats, then he has betrayed their trust and has turned his back upon the only declaration of principles which they made. If the Fort Worth convention was not a meeting of Democrats, then Tom Ball is running on the wrong ticket.

If the Fort Worth convention was right in unanimously declaring for national prohibition, and the deliberate judgment of the prohibitory leaders of Texas, then Tom Ball, running on a platform specifically declaring against national prohibition ought in all consistency to resign his nomination. Everybody knows that if he had made the same speech at Fort Worth convention that nominated him that he made at Greenville, he would have had no more chance to have gotten the prohibition nomination than he would have had to fly to the moon.

Ye'a, verily. Not "before the cock has crowed three times has the master been denied," but before the cock ever got a chance to crow at all this political Peter has jumped the fence and turned his back upon his friends. Mrs. Curtis, who has really fought the battles of prohibition, thinks and feels when this great corporation candidate now puts a new hymn book in her hand and tells her that hereafter she must sing a new tune.

What do you suppose Brother Rankin and Brother Gambrel thought when Tom Ball and Tom Lane and Tom Jones and Tom Campbell and all the other political tomcats in Texas told them they had to back up on the three-mile law, the five-mile law and statutory prohibition in order to keep a few cents in line in South Texas, who knew too much about Tom Ball's club record?

Sincere prohibitionists must now agree that they had better have nominated W. P. Lane, who stood for everything, than Tom Ball, who now stands for nothing. I appeal to the Democrats of Texas whether you be pro or anti, and ask you the plain question: "Is it not better to elect me on my clear out declaration to stop the prohibition agitation than to elect a man who is willing to trim his political kite to every passing wind?" Tom Ball says that he stands on the Democratic platform which says that a man's views on prohibition shall not be a test of a man's Democracy. And he further says that the Democratic party is not committed to national prohibition or state prohibition. Yet he goes to Fort Worth and accepts the nomination of a party convention declaring specifically for national prohibition and providing that no one could sit in the convention but prohibitionists.

A peculiar kind of Democracy indeed, that this gentleman has set up in Texas. Tom Ball, my friends, is either mentally unbalanced or else is that kind of a political trickster that will stand for anything to get office.

President Wilson says that prohibition should never be made a part of a party program. And that prohibition is essentially non-political and non-partisan. And yet this white ribbon reformer runs on the ticket of a convention making national and state prohibition the paramount issue. Who is the best Democrat, Tom Ball or Woodrow Wilson?

Running as the nominee of a different party with a different principle and a different date of holding an election from the regular Democratic party election in Texas, and yet he has the nerve to call himself a Democrat. I tell you my friends, it is time for real Democrats to wake up and rally round the grand old Democratic flag and resent and repel the ruthless hands that are sought to be laid upon it. I call to arms the Democratic yeomanry of Texas to take vengeance upon the watch towers of an unprincipled Democracy, and if needs be lay your political fortunes upon the altar of your country's good.

Let us scourge from the Democratic ranks in Texas those who would destroy our grand old party by raising issues which have no place in a Democratic home. Let us meet the issue and let it be understood that the party of Jefferson and Jackson, of Coke Mills, Sul Ross and Jim Hogg still lives and will ever be the champion of the people's rights and liberties. He did say one thing, however, that was meritorious. And that was: "It is safer to judge a man by what he does than by what he proposes to do when making a platform to run for office on." By this statement, and his public utterances and political actions I shall try him before the bar of public opinion, and he can by these facts be condemned in the sight of all good citizenship.

He says the liquor dealers and brewers should forfeit their license if any agent, officer or employee should contribute to any candidate or campaign fund now, my friends, I find no fault with this statement. But the question with me is: When did Tom Ball reform? In the year 1900 that great commoner, Jim Hogg urged the Waco convention to pass the following amendment to the state constitution to wit: "That corporations should not directly or indirectly, contribute money or anything of value to any political party or to any campaign expense." The people of Texas well remember that it was none other than this same would-be white ribbon reformer, Tom Ball, now candidate for governor who opposed this amendment and led and inspired one of the bitterest political mobs that ever disgraced a Texas convention in their efforts to cry down one of the greatest governors Texas ever had.

Mr. Ball, in his Houston speech, published in the Dallas News of May 2, declared that there was no truth in my statement that he led and inspired one of the bitterest mobs that ever disgraced a political convention. He further stated that there was not a line in either the Galveston News or the Dallas News, which reported the proceedings of the Waco convention, that would bear out my statement that he led and inspired a political mob. Now my friends, I do not want to bother you with a question of veracity between Mr. Ball and myself, but I want to read you what Governor Hogg said about the crowd that Tom Ball was leading in the convention, and let you determine whether Tom Ball as the henchman of the corporations was not leading a mob in that convention. As Tom Ball seems so anxious now to acknowledge his devotion to the lamented Hogg, I do not suppose he would question Governor Hogg's veracity. I read from the Dallas News of August 10, 1900, and I want you to hear what Governor Hogg said: "Mr. Hogg again took the floor and spoke a lot of low earnest words here," he said, "who don't want to hear free speech. A man base enough," he shouted, amid wild confusion, "a man who is cowardly enough, who is base enough not to hear a speech, is not a Democrat, and is a fool besides." (Cheers and great confusion) "I will stay here until I can be heard." (Cheers) "I rise to speak for the people of Texas, whom you are misrepresenting. The issue ought to concern you who are hailing as the henchmen of corporations. (Cheers.) I speak for your posterity, you cowardly scoundrels. (Cheers.) I speak for those who are at home, while you are here trying to tear down their institutions, by your vile lany here tonight." (Cheers) "I have faced a mob when the mob had the nerve to face me, and I never shrunk from death, and no lot of white-livered curs can suppress my views in a Democratic convention."

That is what Governor Hogg said about the crowd that Tom Ball was leading in the convention, and he is not a hunchman and speaker in that convention. And now he comes to further insult the memory of that great man by shedding tears before a convention when he tries to hide his action in that disgraceful gathering. And he tries to say that he was with Hogg in that convention. If it is wrong now to contribute to candidates who were not wrong then for railroad corporations to do the same thing.

Well may we agree that "It is safer to judge a man by what he has done than by what he proposes to do when writing a platform to run for office on." At the same convention Hogg urged also this amendment: "That corporations should not pay any salary or lobbyist any money or anything of value as salary or otherwise, and should require every voucher, draft or payment of money to show on its face what it was given for." Tom Ball was against that. In his speech against it he said: "There is an amendment there and so help me God I would let this right hand be severed at the shoulder before I would ever vote to support it. Governor Hogg knows that Texas is the least ridden by corporations and fear of bossism than any other state in the union."

And listen, he said further—I quote from the Dallas News of August 10, 1900: "What is this proposition? That if any corporation should send its agent or its influence, or preventing legislation that it shall forfeit its charter. Talk about confiscation. That is a proposition that is an iniquitous as any ever presented to a Democratic convention." Now Tom Ball had a right to oppose Governor Hogg, but what the people of Texas would like to know is if Tom Ball, just about the time he announced for governor, thinks it such a great crime for breweries to contribute to a campaign fund, and that their licenses should be forfeited if they do, why was it he thought it so awful in 1900 for Governor Hogg to want to forfeit a railroad corporation's charter if they were guilty of the same thing which he now so violently condemns? Ah, my friends, he is strikingly peculiar that this same Tom Ball, soon after this tirade against the immortal Hogg in his fight for the people left a seat in Congress to serve the big railroad corporations of Texas.

Verily, I say unto you, in the language of Ball: "It is safer to judge a man by what he has done than by what he proposes to do when making a platform to run for office on."

There are also in that convention wanted or iniquitous intention to sell the people into the hands of the big corporations like sheep to the shambles. Tom Ball says I have changed my attitude toward the railroad corporations. I deny it. I said in my opening speech that I was willing to treat them right if they would treat the people right. I said so then I say so now. When they must stay out of the people's business I warn the big railroad officials of this state if they don't quit meddling with the right of the farmer, the business men and the laboring men to elect a governor from their ranks, and if they attempt to foist their candidate upon the people of this state, their troubles are just beginning, and the breach between them and the people will never be closed.

Everybody in Texas now knows and knows that when the people saw Tom Ball under July, as they are sure to do, he will land back with the railroads in twenty-four hours. When he is defeated he will land back in their office. If by accident he should be elected, they will land in his office.

Everybody in Texas knows that this thing of paying Tom Ball $20,000 a year by the railroad corporations for his services as a lawyer, is the biggest joke that was ever played on a trusting public. There is not a county seat in Texas but what has at least one lawyer, and some places have many more lawyers, that in every way excel him as a lawyer. The railroad corporations of Texas hired Congressman Ball, and not Lawyer Ball. He says I am appealing to prejudice. I tell you I am appealing to the truth, and everybody knows it. Tom Ball says my law to regulate rents is unscientific, unsound and illegal. He told Hogg in 1900 that his proposed law was also illegal and would not stand in the courts. And yet Hogg's amendments are on the statute books today and the courts say they are good.

Now, I would like to know how he ever found out that it was scientific for a landlord to charge more rent than a third of the grain and a fourth of the cotton. And how did he ever find out that it was unscientific to keep the landlord from "charging any more?" When and how did he learn that it was unscientific to keep the landlords of this country from collecting a pound of flesh?

Tom Ball and his friends are saying that if the government can restrict rents to a third and fourth then they can further restrict rents to a fifth and sixth. I deny it, because this is the political scheme of the four political Tom-cats which I have already mentioned, that he actually belonged to a club where they sold liquor. I opened my eyes and pinched myself and asked myself the question: "Is it possible that this is true?" I said to myself that great things have really come to pass in Texas when the Simon pure, conscientious, and God-fearing men and ministers of this state, who have for years been fighting against what they call the iniquity of the sale of liquor and had been preaching to the people from the house-tops that the destiny of the public depended upon whether or not the sale and traffic in liquor was prohibited in Texas, and yet those same people would go to a convention and unanimously agree to support a man for governor who flashed in their faces the fact that he was interested in a "club" which actually sold liquor, the very thing which they have been fighting for years to destroy.

So, I said to myself that I will go down to Houston, and I will see just what the Houston club is. I thought "what whilst I had never been very good nor very bad that it wouldn't hurt me to spend an hour in a place where Tom Ball had been for the past ten years. I said I would go there so that I could get at first hand information, and not depend upon hearsay for the basis upon which to discuss that question in this campaign. I went to Houston, and I found the Houston club, which Mr. Ball declared to his convention that he belonged to, situated on the tenth story of the Houston Chronicle building in the heart of the very city of Houston. Leaving the elevator and going into this big club room, I will tell you what I found. The first thing that greeted my eyes was about three billiard tables and two pool tables. A little further along, I found about eight or ten drinking tables. A little further along I found about six or seven card tables, and at these tables I saw men playing cards and drinking liquor and paying the regular saloon price of fifteen cents per drink. I saw this taking place before and after the hours when saloons were closed and on Sundays when you fellows can't get a smell. In the middle of this big club room was a big, fine finished saloon bar, presided over by two big yellow negroes as bar tenders. That, my friends, is the institution to which your prohibition candidate for governor belongs.

Mr. Ball is, therefore, by his own public declaration, interested in and a party to the profit on the sale of liquor. It probably had not occurred to some of you good prohibitionists that you were really running a high-toned saloon man for governor.

yet this great proponent of private rights says that the government can take the title to your land against your will and sell it to your neighbor. But listen to this great statesman. He is in favor of "the exemption of all lands from state taxation." In other words, he is willing to exempt the land owners from paying taxes to the state and hence them free to charge any amount they can collect. This is that square deal and not one inch more, that he talks about.

Again, he is in favor of permitting the incorporation of land companies with power to hold land for sale to home owners, and he proposes to limit the amount of profits such companies can make, and at the same time he criticizes me for wanting to limit the profit in individual cases, as rent of Texas is absolutely thick-headed ignorance to say that the government could limit profits to be made in a land transaction, and then say that the government cannot limit the rent on land. But listen! I want to show you how the big lumber corporations got $20,000 worth. Their candidate, Tom Ball, says there are millions of acres of land in East Texas, which the home owners cannot buy and all it needs is for the public school funds of Texas to be loaned to farmers, and they can all get a home in East Texas. He says the state could furnish a million a year for this purpose.

I do not object to these lumber companies wanting to sell their cut-over lands and load the state with a debt that the farmer could never work out if they put it on and the people of Texas are not going to elect a governor to stand in with any such scheme. This whole forty acres and a mile land idea of Tom Ball is so coarse that it would not fool a free nigger.

Yes, I say again that this big windy theory about the government loaning money to buy homes will not do anybody any good. It is the immediate relief which a restriction of rents will bring about that the farmer needs. This will not only prevent oppression but will destroy the incentive to own lands except for home occupation.

Now, Tom Ball says that the brewers will support me because I have promised to veto all liquor legislation. Yes, I promised every man in Texas in an open platform that we will stop this row in Texas and attend to business, and the people are going to elect me on this promise because it is the only way to stop this needless agitation by such agitators as Tom Ball, who does not care any more for prohibition than a hog cares for a hip pocket. Why, he openly stated at Fort Worth before the convention that nominated him, that "he belonged to the Houston Country club, where a member can buy a drink and pay for it. I do not indulge either there or elsewhere." "How distressing," he says, "is to liquor people that I should belong to a club whose members play golf, and which sells liquor and neither play the game nor drink the liquor?"

And he says also that if elected governor he would askem Texas dry as a bone, and put every club out of business. I am always glad to hear a man say he has quit drinking. But the question arises, if he don't play the game, and don't drink the liquor, which I learn is sold at the same price it is sold at in the saloons, why does he stay in the club? If he really is sincere about abolishing the clubs, why don't he set a good example by getting out of them?

This club which Mr. Ball belongs to and the Houston club of which he is also a member, both dispense liquor at the regular saloon price, before and after the closing hours for saloons, and on Sundays, too, when you read good conscientious prohibition members are at church.

As soon as I read Mr. Ball's admission before that great convention of high collars and Prince Albert coats which met in your city in pursuance to the political schemes of the four political Tom-cats which I have already mentioned, that he actually belonged to a club where they sold liquor, I opened my eyes and pinched myself and asked myself the question: "Is it possible that this is true?" I said to myself that great things have really come to pass in Texas when the Simon pure, conscientious, and God-fearing men and ministers of this state, who have for years been fighting against what they call the iniquity of the sale of liquor and had been preaching to the people from the house-tops that the destiny of the public depended upon whether or not the sale and traffic in liquor was prohibited in Texas, and yet those same people would go to a convention and unanimously agree to support a man for governor who flashed in their faces the fact that he was interested in a "club" which actually sold liquor, the very thing which they have been fighting for years to destroy.

Bowman, but the principal address was made by Dr. F. E. Smith, dean of Howard Payne College, Brownwood. His subject was "Value of Trained Teachers for Sunday School Work." For more than an hour and a half he held the undivided attention of the large audience.

The meeting was held in the large, two-room new school house. The partition wall was lowered and both rooms were packed. It is, indeed, a very rare thing to hear so able an address as was there given by Dr. Smith, and we confidently expect great good to come to the county because of it.

No better nor more bountiful dinner was ever served than that given by the good people of Mount Olive community. The hospitality of the Mt. Olive people is unsurpassed.

The next meeting of the Association will be with the North Bennett church on the first Sunday in September. We hope that other Sunday schools will join us and help us.

TO THE VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY.

The reason why I have not been among you of late is I was called to Burnet county to bury my son, Elmer. Then I necessarily had to remain with his family a few days. I will try to meet as many of the voters as possible from now until the primary and hope to be remembered kindly in my race for Tax Assessor.

OUR IRRIGATION LAW.

Having been frequently interrogated about things pertaining to our irrigation law, I addressed the following letter to the Board of Water Engineers and received in reply thereto the following letter from Mr. W. T. Potter, the secretary of that board. The reply will be found to be clear and explicit and it is hoped will set at rest some questions in the minds of some of our people in regard to the matters involved:

A. R. WATSON.

Mullin, Texas, May 15, 1914. Board of Water Engineers Austin, Texas.

Gentlemen: Please advise me as to whether our Irrigation Law applies to the following cases: First, to a surface tank, the water of which is used for watering stock and irrigating a small tract of land for garden and truck purposes; second, to a small pumping plant used for lifting water from a stream into a small reservoir, the water to be used for watering stock and small garden for household purposes; third, to a well, windmill and tank constructed on one's own premises, the water to be used for general household purposes and for watering yard and garden.

As there seems to be considerable confusion among the people of this county with reference to such things, an early reply will be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,

A. R. WATSON.

Austin, Texas, May 21, 1914 A. R. Watson, Mullin, Texas.

Dear Sir: Replying to yours of the 15th. inst., I beg to advise that, in view of the statements made in your letter, relative to the three propositions therein mentioned, that it will not be necessary in either case, for the parties to make any filing with this Board. Yours very truly, W. T. POTTER, Secretary.

An appeal direct from a justice court in Hopkins county, Texas, was heard by the supreme court of the United States this week and the constitutionality of the Texas law allowing attorney's fee in damage suits was upheld. The suit was for $4 worth of broom corn and the attorney's fee claimed was $10. The appeal was made by the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas railroad company.

The great number of automobile accidents reported over the state during the last few days should cause automobile drivers to be very careful. One of the most distressing accidents reported was the killing of an aged woman in Houston by an automobile driven by Col. Tom Ball's daughter. No blame is attached to the young lady, however, as she did everything possible to prevent the accident. The old lady was deaf and carelessly stepped immediately in front of the oncoming car.

The state Democratic executive committee met in Waco this week and selected El Paso as the place for holding the state convention in August and also authorized the placing of submission on the primary ballot. This latter clause will only be to instruct the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment in 1915 for state-wide prohibition and the vote on this question in July primary will have no effect on the constitutional amendment. It only provides for the vote of the state having a right to the subject.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Events of Interest From the Seat of Government.

The National Capital has been enjoying the delights of early summer, and the breezes have whisked through the "Executive 'ent'" in the rear of the White House, where the president of 100,000,000 people transacts the affairs of government, just as though there was nothing unusual about this habit, which for the most part, has been heretofore indulged in by the military branch of our government. Washington politicians are beginning to think a good deal about the elections that are coming along in a few months and the proud gentlemen who whisk about in their automobiles and live in swell hotels where the high cost of living figures out about as much for a single dinner as a week's board in a local hotel in the interior of the country, are contemplating laying aside the silk hats and dress suits, preparatory to going into store clothes and fedora hats, which are more in favor among the "dear people" as election day approaches. There is something very pleasant about this job of being a congressman, and while it may not return as much revenue as the more wealthy man gets out of private life, yet being a Congressman is about as near Heaven as a great many politicians ever expect to be, and therefore, re-election is very much desired by the gentlemen now in the saddle.

The House of Representatives has of late years been able to keep the Senate hopper well filled, and now it is passing on to an unwilling Senate an Interstate Trade Commission bill along with the other two trust bills that have the approval of the Administration. The main Clayton trust bill prohibits interlocking directories, regulates holding companies, and restricts immense monopolistic commercial practices. The Interstate Trade Commission bill is in effect an enlargement of the already established Bureau of Corporations, which is a part of the Department of Commerce. With the enlargement of this bureau, it will become one of the greatest investigating branches of government that we have, and matters of tariff, including cause and effect, as well as business practices throughout the entire country, are to be comprehensively investigated.

Perhaps the public may know, after having digested all these debates concerning the Panama Canal tolls, whether or not it is a fact that the United States is truckling to England. They may also have discovered the condition of Uncle Sam's national honor, and learned whether it has been kept unsullied. While the Panama Canal matter may have stirred up lots of feeling throughout the country, and may have aroused all sorts of sentiment, yet those who allowed themselves to be carried far afield, threaten to balk at the ratification of the treaty with Colombia, carrying with it reimbursement to the tune of $25,000,000. A part of congress is very sure that we should make the "amende honorable" to Colombia and send along a draft on the United States Treasury, while the opposite viewpoint is that Uncle Sam's being blackmailed. It is plain that there is going to be a beautiful racket before this treaty comes out of the Senate of the United States.

Following the enactment of the new tariff bill, considerable attention is attracted to the importations of beef and corn from Argentina. Statistics have figured out that the total imports of beef have been only three and one-half percent of that of the supply in our own country. The corn shipments were even less when figured in connection with the whole supply. Before it has been made clear that United States farmers are still their own, and that Argentina a real competitor.

POMPEY CREEK.

Editor Eagle: Farmers are busy harvesting their grain. The yield is abundant.

There was preaching at the school house Saturday evening. We have not learned the preacher's name, but he promised to preach for us again the second Sunday in June. We hope others will follow suit. There are no announcements for the third and fourth Sundays, and none for any Sunday afternoon, except the first. We would greatly appreciate a sermon after Sunday school.

Next Sunday is Rev. Watson's and Wilkin's day for preaching. We hope the weather will be favorable and the attendance good.

There was no Sunday school last Sunday on account of the stormy weather. Quite a crowd gathered, but as the superintendent failed to come, no one opened school. We hope next time the superintendent fails to come (because everyone fails to come some times) a suitable leader can be found and the work carried on without interruption. Our superintendent has been faithful, as has our teachers and officers. Mrs. W. S. Black takes one or two members into her class nearly every Sunday. Misses Josie Breazeale and Eva Carlisle are two faithful teachers, also Mr. Earl Keating, and with only a few as faithful as our secretary, Miss Nobia Carlisle, we can soon outrank almost any Sunday school.

Mr. Joe Fletcher of Fisher was sick the first of the week.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes was somewhat sick the first of the week.

Mrs. R. C. Johnson of near Democrat was guest of Mrs. Eliza Smith one day last week.

Mrs. Webb Perkins was guest of Mrs. Ed. Carlisle Sunday.

LAMPASAS

Rev. G. W. Templin and son, of Mullin, Mills county, passed through here Tuesday morning on their way to a point beyond Burnet, where they went to attend the funeral of a son and brother, Elmer Templin, who died Monday night at 9 o'clock from appendicitis. Rev. Templin was for several years pastor of the Methodist church in and near his home, and later was county treasurer of Mills county. He has many friends throughout the country who will sympathize with him in the loss of his son, who was a grown man and a citizen of Burnet county.

Matt Roach, formerly a citizen of this county, but for the past twenty years or more a resident of Goldthwaite, Mills county, died at his home there Wednesday night after an illness extending over several months. He was an Irishman by birth and an American by choice, and a splendid all round citizen, one never afraid to express himself on public or private issues, and always ready to lend a helping hand to the needy and distressed. This writer knew him well in former years and was indebted to him for many favors. He was one of the county commissioners of this county at the time the present courthouse was constructed, and held the same office in Mills county years ago. Citizens of Lampasas will remember him well, and the citizens of the western part of the county all loved and respected him. He leaves a widow, no children, but a number of nephews and nieces, some of whom live at or near Lome'a.—Leader.

LOMETA

Quite a number of people, both ladies and gentlemen, met at the Chadwick Cemetery last Saturday and put in the entire day improving the place.

Judge Matt Roach, an old and highly respected citizen of Goldthwaite, died at his home in that city Wednesday night. At the time of his death, he was 84 years of age, and had long been a citizen of that section. He lived near Chadwick in the early days, and has many friends throughout this section of the state. The many friends of John T. McCarrison regretted to learn yesterday morning that he had happened to the misfortune of breaking his arm Wednesday night while attempting to start his automobile. The accident happened immediately after the show at the airrome, the bones in his right arm being broken just above the wrist.

P. C. Jackson has received a diploma from the University of Alabama. Before the civil war, Uncle Pete was a student in this college, and when the war was declared he, like the other students, gave up his studies in order to enter the army and was unable to finish. Some time ago the officials of the institution, as well as the governor of the state, recommended that all those who participated in the war were entitled to a diploma. It is quite an honor to these old veterans and one worthily bestowed.—Reporter.

BROWNWOOD.

The Board of Trustees of Baylor University has conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. L. J. Mims of the First Baptist church.

Rev. W. R. Earp announced yesterday that he had accepted the position of missionary for his district, under the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and would therefore resign his position as pastor of the Coggin Ave. Baptist church here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brockenbrough of Mullin spent Sunday here with their daughter, Mrs. C. L. Sanders. Mrs. Brockenbrough was brought here for medical treatment and after an examination, the physicians advised that she be taken to a Temple sanitarium for surgical attention. She was accordingly taken to that place Monday morning.—Bulletin.

OBITUARY.

Horace Elmer Templin was born Dec. 4, 1874; and died June 1, 1914.

He was married to Danah E. Bible Jan. 8, 1896. This union was blessed with three children, two boys and a girl.

Brother Elmer was converted while a boy and joined the M. E. Church, south. The writer first met him over three and one half years ago. My own observation of him with the good report coming from others of him, leads to saying that the traits of character which he possessed were the most enviable indeed. As a citizen, he was industrious, economical, and honest, one who was always found on the right side of every moral question. As a Christian, he was loyal, faithful, and conscientious; always true to God and the church. In fact, he was considered one of the strongest pillars in the local church where he held his membership. As a father and husband, he was fondly devoted to those who had to depend on him for counsel and support; he literally poured out his life in laborious toil for his wife and children. The exemplary life of this man reflects honorably on the father and mother, under whose Godly counsel, training, and culture, his standard of character was developed. If Brother and Sister Templin had never done more than to rear and give to the world a boy like Elmer, their lives have proven an unusual blessing to mankind. Brother Elmer's body was laid to rest in the Pleasant Valley cemetery about four miles east of Marble Falls, Texas. His funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Cowar, his presiding elder.

He is survived by a wife and three children, father and mother, several brothers and sisters. These look with longing eyes, and a glorious hope to the day when they shall meet and greet him to part no more.

Well grain harvesting and cotton chopping is the order of the day and a shower of rain every now and then. Rain sure has been plentiful for the past two months. Most everybody seems to have enough rain for once in their lives.

Health of the community is splendid at this writing. No one seems to care to be sick. They are all anxious to fight Master Green, even the merchants are getting to be very industrious. They are even hauling out freight. Think they do it because no one else will.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tieman are spending a month at Marlin for the benefit of Mr. Tieman's health.

Mrs. Carl Meyer is visiting her brother, Mr. Bruggeman, at Austin. She is expected home some time this month.

Misses Bettie and Anna Pflug have just come home from an extended visit to Houston, Austin, Prugerville and several other places and they report much rain everywhere they went.

Rev. Fr. Walther and F. Schueman have just returned from Cuero, where they attended the German Lutheran Conference. On their return home, they visited the German Lutheran College at Seguin. They say it is a pretty building. Ninety some odd pupils attended this last term.

Miss Elizabeth Walther is expected home this week. She attended the German college at Seguin.

Misses Mellen and Ida Rasmusson from Comanche, visited their aunt, Mrs. E. M. Meyer, last week.

Paul Shultz and Fritz Swartz attended the picnic at Hamilton. They say they enjoyed the rain that fell.

C. T. Jeske attended the Hamilton picnic and heard Ferguson speak. Mr. Jeske seems to think that Texas cannot exist if we fail to get Ferguson for governor.

Miss Alma Schuman was the guest of Miss Emma Schwartz last Sunday. Miss Freda Druckhammer was the guest of little Misses Emma and Clara Meyer last Sunday.

What has become of all our reporters. Guess they are all chopping grass. SALLIE.

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS.

The time is out for taking scholastic census. It may be that some children in the county have been overlooked by the census takers. If this is so, I hope the parents of such children will report their names to me at once in order that we may not fail to get the state apportionment for them. S.-H. ALLEN, Ex-Officio County School Supt.

Two hearts beat in unison last week when Will Stephan and Miss Bitha Dalton were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Miss Dalton is of Center City's girls and Mr Stephan is of this place. We wish them a long and contented life.

One of the pleasant occasions of last week, was a party at the hospitable home of J. F. Slaughter. Miss Arle Slaughter was the hostess and anyone who knows her will readily understand that no person can fail to have a good time when she entertains. A birthday party was given at the home of Dr J. E. Brooking last Saturday night in honor of Miss Florence Brooking and Miss Susie Tubb. Lots of good music was rendered and games were played and refreshments were served. Mr. Will Gent seemed at his best with his violin playing and Mr. Lee Woolsey also played some very interesting selections. Several enchanting piano solos were played by Misses Blanche Harper, Arle Slaughter and Catherine Burney.

BALL'S PASTOR SPEAKS.

Mr. C. P. Guess, Temple, Texas.

My Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of June 1, with reference to Hon. Thomas H. Ball, I wish to say that Colonel Ball is a member of St. Paul's Methodist church and also a member of my official board, and has been during my entire pastorate here of four years. Col. Ball is a Christian gentleman and a loyal official of his church. He is a very liberal man and responds to a good cause. As a citizen, he is broad minded, progressive, and stands for everything that is good in the city of Houston.

He has a delightful home, and his home life is all that could be expected of a high minded, honorable, Christian gentleman. He has two daughters and a son. His wife is an excellent Christian lady and is known in Houston for her works of charity. There is nothing I could say that I would consider extravagant as to Mr. Ball's worth and character.

The reports throughout the state attempting to reflect upon his moral and Christian character are base slanders. As the pastor of Col. Ball, I take great pleasure in making the above statements, and you are at liberty to use them in any way that you choose.

I am yours sincerely,

SAM H. HAY.

Tom Ball declared at Greenville that the support of the ladies of Texas in this campaign was a great satisfaction to him, and that they would do much for him in his attempt to set up a great moral standard in Texas. A great satisfaction, a great consolation to thousands of Texas womanhood, who realizing the evils of intemperance, have brought about a proper and efficient regulation of the saloon. Yet he, Tom Ball, the "Christian" governor, can go to his club on Sunday morning where they play games and sell liquor. The good ladies of Texas may do much for Tom Ball, but bless God, he can't do much for them.

My conduct in this campaign ought to satisfy any fair minded man that nobody owns or controls me. I have always been a sober man, and never reformed just about the time I thought I might get a big office.

Nobody is contributing to my campaign, and I am making my own campaign with no help except the great Democratic masses of Texas.

In the minds of the big politicians of Texas I committed a great crime when I signified my willingness to quit my business as a private citizen, and to give my service to the people of my state in bringing about a business administration of state affairs in Texas. These politicians are today resenting the right of a private citizen to hold a place of honor in the public service. They have feasted upon the bounty of the people so long that they now think that they own the offices of the people, by right of occupancy, and therefore when I, in obedience to my duty, announced for governor of Texas upon my own volition, resting my candidacy solely upon the merits of the issues which I have raised, these political tricksters immediately raised against me their voice of condemnation, and a great many of them not being satisfied with the honors which the people have already bestowed upon them in Texas again are conducting against me the most unfair campaign that ever took place. But I want to say in this presence that I am not asking them any favors and I defy and I denounce every one of these political grafters who are fighting me, and I tell them that the war is on. We are going to take this fight to the people, and we are going to have the question settled as to whether the government is owned by the people or whether it is to be owned by the politicians.

The average Texas politician is not as honest as the average horse-trading jockey in Texas. I would rather take the word of a professional horse-trader as to the age of a horse than to take the word of the average Texas politician as to what he was yesterday or what he will be tomorrow. They will turn their backs upon their best friends or will betray the trust of the people every time and everywhere it will suit their personal interests to do so.

Why, only this week I read in the paper the following, in big bold headlines: "Allison Mayfield, chairman of the railroad commission of Texas, stated Tuesday afternoon that he would support Thomas H. Ball for governor. Mr. Mayfield declared that while he was an anti he is a Roger Q. Mills anti and not a white apron anti. Mr. Mayfield is opposed to submission," so the paper states, "but he says that will not prevent his support of Mr. Ball's candidacy."

Now I do not deny his right to support Mr. Ball if he wants to, but I resent his insinuation that I am a white apron anti, and he is the last man in Texas that ought to call anybody by such a name. I never did that man a bit of harm in my life. I always voted for him for office, and his success in holding office for years in Texas has been his standing with such anti as myself who are not now and never have been in any way, through a club or otherwise, interested in the sale of liquor. He has always been glad to get our votes and his statement about white apron anti is an insult to his friends who have been supporting him in the past. I tell you, my friends, the time has come for you to wake up and take notice. When the chairman of the great railroad commission of Texas turns his back upon his friends and the principles which he has preached for twenty years, and takes up the support of one of the biggest railroad corporation lawyers in Texas for the high office of governor, it is time for you to think, and it is time for you to ask the question: What it means, and where do the people come in?

Now Tom Ball and his friends are exulting in high glee and are parading the fact that your fellow townsman, Clarence Ouseley and Rienz Johnson are fighting me, and have now become the bosom friend and political advisers of Tom Ball in this campaign. I do not envy Tom Ball his support by these two noted politicians, and I tell you that they want to put a string on every man they touch. They wanted to become the political tool and retire from the race for governor and run as a candidate for lieutenant governor upon a platform with Clarence Ouseley as the candidate for governor.

I tell you, my friends, that since I have come to know these gentlemen better I would be ashamed to run for dog pelter upon a platform with either of them. If Ouseley and Johnson really are sincere in their statement that I am a socialist, then let them explain to the people of Texas why they were willing to support me for lieutenant governor. Their proposition in Houston in the Rice Hotel was not only to thwart the will of the people and fix a combination that would control the office of governor in Texas for the next eight years, but that of United States senator for the next ten years. They could not make that trade with me, and soon thereafter we find Tom Ball in conference with Clarence Ouseley in the Westbrook Hotel in your city, and in a few days thereafter he announces his support of Ball, and in a few days Rienz Johnson follows suit. Now, my friends, the question ought to concern you and you ought to ask yourselves: What does all this mean? You will recall that in 1911 when the prohibition campaign was on it was none other than Tom Ball who placed such editors as Johnson and Ouseley in the category of those who were the bought-and-paid-for hirelings of the breweries. They were hired with being the publishers of a subsidized press. They were put up by Ball and his friends in the column of those that were criminal and dishonorable and unworthy of the respect of the citizenship of Texas. Now I do not know whether at that time they were the paid hirelings of the breweries or not. They may not have been a subsidized press. But I do say that if Tom Ball and his crowd were correct in 1911 in their charge against these men, Ball ought now to answer the question and take the people of Texas into his confidence and explain to them whether they have reformed or how much did it take to get them to become his paid hirelings in this campaign.

Tom Ball says he will get such men as Ramsey and Judge Gill to run the penitentiaries, and he would not put the penitentiary farms in the hands of farmers as I would do. Well, it will be the same old story. Just think of a supreme judge making a crop! It would be about as sensible as to elect Tom Ball governor.

Again, he says he will create five big new jobs. A law reform commission, composed of five men, every man, every one a politician gets in office, the first thing he wants to create is a new job for some political grafter at the expense of the people.

I want to tell you that I can appeal to the really big judges and big lawyers of Texas, and with their help and advice, which will be given freely without purchase and without price, we can bring about judicial reform in Texas without creating any big fat jobs at big salaries for anybody.

My friends, this is the people's fight. For thirty years in Texas we lived under the rule of one-man power. So frequently was the voice of the people put aside and their wishes trampled under foot that the people rose up in their might and said that we will banish from Texas the political boss and the political grafter, and we will maintain the supremacy of the people on the throne of power. So complete was the victory of the people in passing a law whereby the nomination of Tom Ball at Fort Worth and the actual figures show that not five per cent of the people of Texas had anything to do with the nomination. And not being satisfied with that flagrant usurpation of the people's will, they further insult the public by permitting four men to meet and determine whether Tom Ball is to be the governor of Texas. And not being satisfied with that they are further attempting to wrest from the people of Texas the right and are planning to determine who shall rule for all other offices in Texas. I ask you, my friends, whether you be prohibitionist or anti-prohibitionist is this right and are we drifting as a people in the right direction? You people who are raising boys, the pride and ambition of your lives, what can you expect for them? Either you must raise them to be professional politicians, or the door of public honor will be closed to them. I say, whether are we drifting and what will be the result if this continues?

Again I say, it is time for the people to wake up, and let us appreciate the responsibility resting upon us to perpetuate the control of the people of their Democratic institutions. The material interests of our great state demand that political strife be stopped in Texas and that we no longer be divided. Let us banish from Texas the agitator. Let us whip these political crooks into a submission of the people's will, and then let us turn our attention to the upbuilding of our great state. Our dear Texas can and should be made the grandest country over which the sun shines by day or the stars by night. From the golden strand of California to the orange groves and flowery fields of Florida, from the bracing breezes of the North to the bracing breezes of the Southern gulf, there is no soil dyed with the blood of nobler heroes than our dear state. It needs but the magic hand of a united people to smite the rock of her resources and behold will spring forth peace and plenty.

Let a united citizenship forgive and forget the bickerings of the past. From strife let us turn to business. From agitation let us turn to development. From internal dissension let us turn to outside advertisement. Let us welcome the foreign investor and let us assure him that Texas needs him and that he needs Texas. Let us educate the masses into a knowledge of the responsibilities of citizenship. Let us build more schools and better schools. Let us build more churches and colleges. Let us build factories and railroads. Let us protect the weak against the strong. Let us give every man an open field and a square deal.

Thus united and thus resolved, let us raise the flag of the Single Star high above this vast industrial army of Texas and with but one feeling, that of love, and with but one purpose, and that of success, and with but one ambition, and that of our glory, and with but one thought, and that of our state, let us march to victory and onward.

HORSE OWNERS.

The horse is the principal motive power of the farm and therefore requires the best attention. If he does not thrive or eat well, have his teeth attended to. Bad teeth and improper mastication causes more disturbance than any other trouble; causes acute indigestion, colic and diseases of the alimentaries and many other troubles. A stitch in time may save the worth of your horse. Spend a few dollars on your horse before he gets down or is disabled. Bring your horse to me and have him examined and treated. I will be in Goldthwaite the second Saturday in each month to do all classes of veterinary work. Examination free.—Dr. O. M. Walters Veterinary Surgeon and Dentist, San Saba, Texas.

We already have some offers from local people as well as from those living elsewhere to buy these rights, but all things being equal, we would prefer Mills county people having the rights.
