Morris Michael, a pawnbroker of St. Louis, says that the pistol which John M. McGuffin had testified to having taken away from Col. Slayback in the shooting affray with Col. Cockerill, really belonged to Slayback, and that he (Michael) had sold it to him. Dr. Frank, the Coroner, recalled the jury that sat it, who swore that he identified it as the one he sold to Col. Slayback about four months ago, and that it still retained his private trade mark. This changes the aspect of the whole affair, and is regarded by Cockerill's friends as an additional and very strong point in his

Mabry, Sr., Joseph A. Mabry, Jr., and Maj. Thomas O'Connor were killed. The difficulty grew out of an old grudge, which Mabry renewed at a race the day before, but O'Connor declined to fight as the place was unsuited to settle such affairs. The morning of the tragedy Mabry sent O'Connor word that he woul kill him on sight. At 10 o'clock Gen. Mabry passed down Gay street, on the opposite side from the Merchants' National Bank, of which O'Connor was President. O'Connor stepped from the bank to the middle of the pavement and fired two shots across the street in rapid succession, both taking effect, Gen. Mabry falling dead. Republican Insubordination in Virginia. States as little less than anarchical and

The Virginia Republicans have succeeded in defeating the Democracy of that State through the aid of Repudi-merce and production and the increase ator Mahone, but they seem to have obtained in Mahone a tyrannical master rather than an assistant. Mahone has become not only the boss but the owner of the Republican party of Virginia and he rules it with a rod of iron. A Republican writing from Lynchburg says that to the office-holders of that congressional district no fact is better understood than that their tenure of office is measured by their support of Mahone and the candidates he names. His power to remove and appoint is supreme and unquestioned. Add to this being of the people of both sections and this offense against patriotism. It is not certain that the present assault on the material interests of those who desire the system of espionage prevalent, and you will readily understand why Fed-eral officials so "unanimously" support Mahone's men and measures. sentiments, and I have doubted whether, as a people, they had elements upon which to build Republican principles. Testimony such as this, coming from an intelligent and influential Republican is convincing proof of the abject condition of the Virginia Republicans and a shameful commentary upon the conduct of a Republican Administration which has bartered the Republican party of a great State, the Federal patronage and its own honor for the vote of this "little old man of the sea." bargains as that made by and between Mahone and the Federal Administration are demoralizing to the public generally, but they usually contain their own cure, for in the end disgust becomes so intense in the minds of the political slaves, who, like the Virginia Republicans, have been sold for a price, that they rise in rebeilion against their masters and inflict more damage upon them than they ever did to their political opponents. There are symptoms of a general uprising of the better classes of Virginia Republicans against Boss Mahone. It needs but little insubordination among them to bring about Mahone's downfall. All good citizens of every party will rejoice to see it.— New Haven Register.

He was picked up and carried to his house, and the only signs of life he has shown since is a light breathing.

J. M. Keybrill, formerly of Leavenworth, but now at Garrison, on the Kansas Central Railroad, had his right leg crushed while courding cars at that station lately, and will probably die. He was a young mon univer sally respected by all who knew him.

The man found dead in a deserted house in Shawnee County, last week, proves to have been named Cohen, who had resided on Indian Creek with his sister, whose name is R. W. Dodge, the same as found on the envelope in the dead man's pocket. A Kansas preacher from the pulpit denounced a well known Kansas editor as a reprobate, and then wrote a card for the editor to publish that he "did not mean that he (the editor) was a reprobate in the general meaning of the term." Simply a reprobate.

> DENNIS MADDEN FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

People of Chase County:-Sometimes in local politics "scratching" tickets becomes a necessity, and consequently a duty; such is the case, this fall, on the office of County Attorney, which, holding its place, as it does, among the other offices, is one of the most important to tax payers. Now, the question arises: Who are you going to vote for to ren. fill that position, a man who has pledge himself to the people to cut published for October 7th. down Court expenses, or men who have not made a solitary pledge to the people whom they look to for support? Now, let us be honest and den has pledge himself, through the press, to cut down Court expenses to at least one half; and, as we pay out, this year, over $7,000 for Court expenses, half of that is a big saving to the tax payers, and is that kind of economy that com mends itself to Republicans as well as to other parties. It should lead us to this, that in local affairs to look to the man who is interested in the welfare of the whole people, as is Mr. Madden. He is a lawyer of ability, and brilliant attainments, and is withal an honest man.

He pledges himself to veto at ev ery session of the Board of County Commissioners all bills and items counties, we, therefore, demand commissioners all bills and items such legislation as will protect the of bills not strictly allowable by law, thereby stopping that flood gate of expense at least several hundred dollars a year. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. The most successful remedy ever discov-

COL. C. L. FOSTER. Youngstown, Ohio, May 10th, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co, Gents:—1
had a very valuable Hambletonian colt that I prized very highly; he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other, which made him very lame;
I had him under the charge of two veterimary surgeons, who failed to cure him. I was, one day, reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure, in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggist here to send for it; they ordered three bottles, I took them all and thought I would give its thereast and thought I would give it a thorough trial; I used it according to directions, and the forth day the coit ceased to be lams, and the lumps have disappeared. I used but one bottle, and the colt's limbs are as free from lumps, and as smooth as any horse in the State. He is entirely cured. The cure was so r markable that I let two of my neighbors have the semaining two bottles, who are now using it.

Very re-pectfully,

L. T. FOSTER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—tlaving got a horse book of you, by mail, a year ago, the contents of which persuaded me to try Kendall's Spavin Curre on the hind leg of one of my horses, which was badly swolen, and could not be reduced by any other remedy. I got two bottles of Keadall's Spavin Cure of Preston & Ludduth, druggists. of Waseca. which completely durgists, of Waseca, which completely cured my horse. About five years ago I had a three-year-old colt sweenled very badly; I used your remedy, as given in your book, without roweling and I must say, to your credit, that the colt is entire ly cured, which is a surprise, not only to myselt, but to my neighbors. You sent ne the book for the trifling sum of twee the title flow for the trining sum of twesty-five cents, and if I could not get another like it, I would not take twenty-five dollars for it. Yours, truly,

A PROFESSIONAL CONFESSION, The Unusual Experience of a Prominent

Man Made Public. The following article from the Democratand Chronicle, of Rochester, N. Y., is of so striking a nature, and emanates from so reliable a source, that it is herewith re-published entire,

In addition to the valuable matter it contains. it will be found exceedingly interesting.

To the Editor of the Democrat and Chronicle:

Sir:—My motives for the publication of the most unusual statements which follow are, first, gratitude for the fact that I have been saved from a most horrible death, and, secondsaved from a most horrible death, and, secondly, a desire to warn all who read this statement against some of the most deceptive influences by which they have ever been surrounded. It is a fact that to-day thousands of people are within a foot of the grave and they do not know it. To tell how I was caught away from just this position, and to warn others against nearing it, are my objects in this communication.

On the first day of June, 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends

On the first day of June, 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends and wsiting for my death. Heaven only knows the agony I then endured, for words can never describe it. And yet, if a few years previous, any one had told me that I was to be brought so low, and by so terrible a disease, I should have scoffed at the idea. I had always been uncommonly strong and healthy, had weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, fin my own experience what nain or sickness. weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, in my own, experience, what pain or sickness were. Very many reople who will read this statement realize at times that they are unusually tired and cannot account for it. They feel duil and indefinite pains in various parts of the body and do not understand it. Or they are exceedingly hungry one day and entirely without appetite the next. This was just the way I felt when the relentiess malady which had tastened itself upon me first began. —Several of the hardy Key West fishermen recently succeeded in striking and securing five large beachfish, weighing not less than 1,000 pounds each. The fish were driven in shore by stress of weather outside.

And, Oh! how hard I tried! I consulted the best medical skill in the land. I visited all the prominent mineral springs in America and traveled from Maine to California, Still I grew worse. No two physteians agreed as to my malady. One said I was troubled with spinal irritation; another, near-disease; another, general debility; another, congestion of the base of the brain; and so on through a long list of common diseases, the symptoms of all of which I really had. In this way several years passed, during all of which time I was steadily growing worse. My condition had really become pitiable. The slight symptoms I at first experienced were developed into terrible and constant disorders—the little twigs of pain had grown to oaks of agony. My weight had been reduced from 207 to 130 pounds. My life was a torture to myself and friends. I could retain no food upon my stomach, and lived the prominent mineral springs in America and traveled from Maine to California. The Precious Blood.

The blood is a most precious element of life. It is very susceptible to the influences of organic diseases. It is quickly poisoned by coming in contact with any thing of a poisonous nature. Den't let this stream of life ebb too low. When the blood becomes thin and watery, disease enters the citadel of life and becomes master. Dr. Guyott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla is a blood maker. It will infuse new strength and vigor into the whole circulatory system. It makes the blood rich, red and pure, and drives, out all disease, and poisonous humors, and gives strength to every part of the body.

Dear Sir—My case was an acute form of bronchitis, and was of one and a half year's duration. I employed the best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctors said I would die—that my case was incurable. Thrown upon my own resources, I got a bottle of Dr. Wm. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and in six hours felt a decided relief. In three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years, I carnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of lung or throat disease. C. G. Lathror.
