COMMERCIAL CLUB

An Important Meeting to Be Held and Officers to Be Elected.

The Commercial club is to hold its regular monthly meeting in the court house next Tuesday night and it is important that every member attend, for the club officers are to be elected for the ensuing year and other business of importance will likely engage the attention of the meeting.

It is important that the work for the year be mapped out early and every business man of the city should give the matter his attention and give his support to the club. Some of the most important enterprises the town has been secured by the club, several very creditable fairs were arranged, much good road work has been done and the town and county have been benefitted by the work of this organization, but much greater work is ahead and much more depends upon the efforts and united energies of this club. The time has come when diversification in farming is not a theory that is doubtful of results, but a stern necessity. The one crop idea has been forced out and in its stead the farmers must give attention to diversified interests--the growing of grain, vegetables, fruit, feed crops, stock and poultry. A market must be assured for every kind of product of the ranch, farm or garden and it is necessary that the club look after the business in every detail, and it must be looked after promptly.

The meeting next Tuesday night should be well attended.

There was a small uprising of natives in the Philippines on Christmas eve, but the disturbance was soon quieted, only one man being killed and a few put under arrest. The trouble originated by grafters selling commissions in a revolutionary army and when the ignorant natives had secured their commissions they thought it was time to "start something."

HAWKINS-WIGLEY

Mr. W. A. Hawkins and Miss Ethel Wigley were married at the home of Judge G. H. Dalton in this city Saturday night, Judge Dalton officiating.

Mr. Hawkins is a prominent and popular citizen of Star. He had been in the city for several hours awaiting the coming of the train from the west, but his friends did not suspect his intentions until the arrival of the train, when he met his bride-to-be, who came in from her home at Mullin. They went immediately to the Dalton home, where the ceremony was performed. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. B. F. Wigley and has many friends in her home community and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will likely make their home in Big Valley.

STRAIGHT TALK

The following is an obituary taken from the Fayette (Mo.) Democratic Leader. This editor said what he thought. "George Wolard is dead, and dying went as straight to hell as an arrow shot from a bow. For seventy-four years he has lived in this town. During that time he opposed every enterprise that would tax him a copper. He minded everybody else's business. He never gave a cent to charity. He opposed sewers and electric lights. He was a dog and his influence was always on the side of the devil. He left an estate worth $65,000 and a life that smells to heaven."

HAPPY HEARTS

Prof. Ben L. Graham and Miss Eddie Pass were married at the residence of Rev. J. C. Newman in this city Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Newman officiating.

The groom is teacher of the public school at Matador and the bride is one of Mills county's attractive and popular ladies. They both have many friends and well wishers who extend hearty congratulations.

REAGAN, OKLA.

Editor Eagle:

As my subscription to the Eagle has expired, I send you $1.00 for renewal.

I notice in the Eagle that prosperity is in Mills county to some extent, but I am afraid this prosperity does not extend to all the people of Mills county, especially the cotton raisers, as I don't think they will get as much out of this year's crop as they did out of last year's crop.

I almost wished I was back in Mills county until the war started. This is a much better country for diversification than that, altho there are a good many farmers here that are badly worsted on account of raising too much cotton. There will not be near so much cotton planted here next year. I am to plant 60 acres in corn, 50 in oats and 30 in cotton, besides other patches for home use and feed. We are going to make cotton a kind of side line in this part of the country.

This is a rolling country with small creeks and clear spring branches running the year round. There are wide strips of level land along the creek and branches that are as good as any river bottom land. This seems to be a very healthy country. We have plenty of good wood and the very best of cold water.

If any of you renters think of moving up here, you had better come and look before you move. Conditions and the ways of the people here are not altogether like they are there, especially so of the Indians, and the greater part of the land is owned by the Indians. The more I get acquainted here the better I like it. I am going to move away from Reagan and after the first of January my post office will be Millcreek, Okla. Please send my paper to that place after the first. And all our old friends take notice of our new address.

I will close wishing you all a happy Xmas and a prosperous new year.
E. ARMSTRONG.

Geo. Templin has been here this week from Runnels county, where he is teacher of one of the public schools.

Prof. T. E. Gay has been here from Beaumont spending the holidays with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Gay.

Miss Laudie Taylor visited her sister, Mrs. Harry Martin, in this city the first of the week and Mrs. Martin accompanied her home to Mullin for a visit Tuesday.

Dr. Anderson and family returned to their home in Brady the first of the week, after a visit to his brother, Judge E. B. Anderson, and family in this city.

J. M. Arnold and family returned Monday from Commerce, where they spent Christmas with relatives. His mother came home with them and expects to spend the summer here.

Begin the new year by resolving to buy your supplies from your home dealers and letting the mail order houses take care of themselves and you will help your home community greatly.

A report from Austin says that the people of Texas are taking advantage of the provisions of the General Irrigation Law according to figures just submitted to the governor by the State Board of Water Engineers. During the past year there were filed with the board 808 certified filings, showing the number of acres declared irrigable thereunder to be 2,950,488, while the actual number being irrigated is only 536,234 acres. Final action was taken by the board on 34 applications for permits to take water and use it for irrigation purposes on 20,673 acres. The board has granted a permit to one power company to store and use 2500 acre-feet of water per second for power purposes. Stream measurements, however, have not been made because, according to the report, no appropriation for paying hydrographers and purchasing necessary instruments have been made by the legislature.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

We Are Now Facing A New Year And We Must Prepare To Meet It

In the way that is the most beneficial and profitable to us, no matter what line of business we may be in. If you are a farmer, you can make a big mistake to begin with by failing to use good business methods in buying your Farm Tools. Just because you like us personally is no reason why you should buy your tools from us, unless we will meet competition both in Price and Quality. And the same way around. If the other fellow cannot offer you Price and Quality equal to ours, you are not using good business methods to buy from him. Now, where does this bring us? It brings us to the fact that we should look around us and see what the other fellow has to offer before we lay out our capital in something that we are going to have to use all the year. In this connection we can assure you that it will pay you to

We heartily thank all our friends for the liberal patronage they have accorded us in the year just past and, if you have not been to see us in the past, we wish to add you to our list of new friends and customers. Call and see us and let's get better acquainted and be in line to help one another out by our mutual suggestions.

Wednesday before Christmas about noon Judge J. T. Hartley received the sad news by phone that his son, Eddie, had been fatally hurt in a cotton gin at Baby Head, between Cherokee and Llano. He and Mrs. Hartley went immediately. All that is known here of the particulars is that he was caught in the gin saws and the left arm, neck and face horribly sawed and mangled. The loss of blood was such that it took the most heroic treatment to keep life intact when physicians reached the scene Thursday he was taken to Temple for surgical attention, but never rallied sufficient to stand an operation. Death claimed him Saturday about 4 o'clock. His father and Dr. Behrens accompanied him to Temple and were with him when death came. The body was brought home and buried in the Hanna cemetery at Cherokee Monday with the beautiful rites of Woodcraft.—San Saba News.

A BAD WRECK

Eleven Cars in the Ditch and Track Badly Damaged

There was a bad freight train wreck on the Santa Fe road near Antelope Gap Wednesday morning and the track was torn up for a long distance and a bridge was destroyed.

The train was east bound following the passenger train. When it struck the bridge or trestle near the Hurdle place, a short distance from Antelope Gap, eleven cars went off, but the engine and tender remained on the track, as did the caboose and a car of poultry at the rear. Eight of the cars were crowded into the ditch over which the trestle was built and three other cars rolled down the embankment. Of the three cars, one was an oil tank, one was loaded with hay and one was an emigrant car in which a negro was riding, having in charge several horses and a lot of household goods. This last car rolled over and landed at the bottom of the dump in such shape as to make it necessary to remove the roof in order to rescue the negro and the stock. One or two of the horses were bruised and the negro also suffered a skinned heel and some other minor injuries. It is reported that several other negroes or Mexicans were hidden in one of the cars and made their escape, but this is not known to be true. The cars that went into the ditch off the bridge were mostly loaded with cotton.

The bridge was destroyed and a considerable distance of the track was torn up. Passengers on the Wednesday night trains and those of Thursday morning were transferred at the wreck, but the track was cleared in time for through traffic to be resumed Thursday night.

It contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by all dealers. (adv.)

WILL NOT MOVE.

I desire the public to know that I will not move from Goldthwaite, but will continue my professional work at this place. There have been rumors that I expected to move away and, in fact, I did contemplate such a change at one time, but my plans have been altered and I expect to remain in Goldthwaite permanently. L. P. McCrary, M. D.

PRESIDENT'S PARTY A BEAUTIFUL AFFAIR

When the party group with Mrs. J. D. Brown formed last Wednesday a glimpse of society among the Maids and Matrons of Goldthwaite in its truly smart aspect was had. All the accessories of a brilliant function had been anticipated and when the announcement of the assembled company was added there was a picture complete. This was the courtesy of Mrs. Brown to her club (Art Embroidery) to acknowledge the preference shown in bestowing on her its highest honor and her compliment to her friends of the Merry Maids and Matrons club.

In preparing for the arrival of her guests, Mrs. Brown made ready her parlor for a game of 42. The piano and mantle were banked with real holly, palms, ferns and poinsettias. There was a pleasant genial assembling before the tables were sought, giving guests time to view and admire the rooms with their beautiful decorations. Immediately following the game Mrs. Carroll Lowrie sweetly sang "A Perfect Day," which was very appropriate for the bright, beautiful afternoon. Miss Mary Alice Lowrie and Reuben Brown played several pretty selections. The red and white re-appeared in the refreshment plate, which consisted of tongue sandwich, pickles, grape juice, gelatine with whipped cream, cherry capped, angel food cake, salted nuts in holders representing snow balls with holly decorations.

Guests other than members of the two clubs were: Mesdames Mollie Lowrie, Carroll Lowrie, Jno Sealy, Annie Sealy, L. O. Hicks, Misses Edna, Mary Alice Lowrie and Mrs. Waddie Ross of Fort Worth. REPORTER.

YEAR'S RAIN FALL.

Mills county has been denominated a "dry" county and is generally regarded as being in the "dry" belt, but the rainfall last year would not indicate a drouthy condition. The government gage at the Trent State Bank in this city makes the following showing, which is absolutely accurate and can be kept as a matter of record for future use. The figures for each month of the year 1914 are as follows:

January	0.10 inches
February	0.70 inches
March	2.15 inches
April	2.95 inches
May	6.35 inches
June	1.95 inches
July	1.90 inches
August	4.65 inches
September	2.00 inches
October	2.20 inches
November	3.20 inches
December	3.50 inches
Total	30.75 inches

A HOLIDAY DINNER

A charming hospitality of the Christmas season was the dinner of Monday, when Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bodkin entertained a few of their many friends. Covers were laid for thirteen and many were the tempting viands served. After dinner Mr. Bodkin entertained the guests for a pleasant hour with beautiful selections on the Victrola, after which the men made their excuses and left the ladies to their merry chatter for a time. As all were girlhood friends it is needless to say that the time was enjoyably spent.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Bodkin escorted the entire party to the Picture Theatre.

It is indeed a pleasure to be bidden to enjoy the hospitality of this charming couple. Those present were: Miss Lora Hudson, Mrs. W. T. Little of Hamilton, Mrs. Jno. A. Yarbrough, Masters William Glenn Yarbrough, Marion Laurence Hicks, Charles Hammond Little and Richard Walters Hester and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bodkin. A GUEST.

Forget the war if possible. You didn't start it and you can't stop it, so let the parties to the difficulty settle the question, unless they call on you to assist in effecting a settlement.

It was with genuine satisfaction that most newspaper readers learned this week that Leo Frank had been granted an appeal to the supreme court of the United States and that the court would pass on the right of the state of Georgia to inflict the penalty prescribed by a jury when he was not present to hear the verdict or to confront the jurors. Of course the point is technical, but many people—perhaps a great majority of them—believe that Frank is innocent of the murder of Mary Phagan in the pencil factory in Atlanta. The evidence against him and on which he was convicted was given by a negro ex-convict, who at first testified that he knew nothing of the crime and later charged Frank with it. A mighty effort is being made to save the convicted Jew.

President Wilson was 58 years old Monday and on that day the newspapers of the country were furnished with an article by Governor Colquitt severely criticizing the president for most of his policies and laying at his door the responsibilities to a considerable degree, for the low price of cotton and the stagnated business conditions that affected some sections of the country. The governor is very much opposed to President Wilson's tariff policies, the reserve bank plan, the manner in which the administration handled and is handling the Mexican situation and opposition newspapers are making much of the article, coming as it does from the Democratic governor of the greatest state in the Union. To say the least of it, the publication of the article at this time was decidedly unfortunate.

The man who owes may as well make up his mind first as last that his dignity isn't going to save him from duns. Dignity is all right in its place, but if you are not too dignified to make use of your credit you are not too dignified to be asked to pay. The only man who has a right to be peeved over the receipt of a request for payment is the man who doesn't owe what is demanded of him. If he owes it he's got no kick coming. If he doesn't owe it he is entitled to kick—but after he has registered his kick it behooves him to be satisfied without any Big Iking. Probably the time will come when he will want to use his credit right where he used his mouth too freely. Credit is a valuable asset, but fragile. See that you do not break yours down by overloading it nor impair its usefulness by making it quarrelsome.—State Press in Dallas News.

STAR

Hello there! Mr. Editor. It has been some time since I have written for the Eagle. But it has been such bad weather that a letter would mighty near have to swim to Goldthwaite to get there at all and consequently I have not been about very much. Of course we have telephones out here but they are wet too. The constant rain of late has been very trying on the nerves of some of the people. However the glad Christmas tide has wiped away the blues to a considerable extent and our little Star is as bright as the moon. By-the-way, have you noticed that the moon is shining again. Sure fine for the fellow that is fortunate enough to have a nice girl to go buggy riding isn't it? I am not sentimental at all Mr. Editor, I have just been enjoying Christmas—you see it only comes once a year.

O. N. Hamilton, who has been in the blacksmith business here for a long time with A. L. Smith, has bought Mr. Smith's interest in the business and will conduct the business in the same place and in the same good old way that has made him so many friends and customers. I have not heard what Mr. Smith intends to do.

The young folks enjoyed themselves to the limit at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Baker last Saturday night. Games were played and Will Gent and several other boys rendered music for the occasion. Mr. Baker passed a bag of pecans around and the young folks had a great time playing "hull gull." It being Christmas and everybody ready for a laugh, it was not hard to have a good time and there was never a bunch of young folks that had a better time than they did.

A. E. Garrett, one of our Star boys that is climbing the ladder of fortune steadily, is visiting relatives and friends in Star. He has been going to a business college in Fort Worth. He will leave in a few days to take up his studies again.

Our public school teachers are again in the collar and the children are turning eager faces toward the school house each morning just as of old. I don't think I have heard a single school pupil say anything that showed regret at having to go to school. This is certainly proof that either we have a very high class of children or that we have an unusually good set of teachers, though it is the universal thought here that it is both.

G. D. Burney, proprietor of Starview Farm, made a trip to Hamilton last week. He hauled cotton over there.

Dr. J. E. Brooking, one of Star's good physicians, made a trip to Goldthwaite one day last week. Dr. Brooking has lately set out several fruit trees. He blasted out good deep holes and thus loosened up the ground in order to give them plenty of room to get a start.

Word was received here that Miss Ethel Campbell of near Blackwell was to have been married last Friday at five in the afternoon. It was stated here that she intended to marry a Baptist minister, though I don't get the name. Miss Campbell's hometown is Star and she has many friends here that wish her a long and happy life.

Mr. R. C. Campbell and sister, Mrs. Fred Shaves, in company with Miss May Bowman visited in Blackwell last week.

The young people stormed Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Livingston last Friday night. It being Christmas and the weather too bad to have a Christmas tree and the young folks bound to have some outlet for their merriment they gave them a surprise party. Rolla was a young fellow once and not old yet so he knows how nice it is to have a good time and welcomed the young folks and you can guess they had a big time.

Our big jolly booster, T. E. Hamilton, is putting out some fruit trees. He blasted the holes out good and says he wants them to have a fair start. Ed is feeling pretty good this year, as compared to last year. He and his partner, T. L. Adams, kinned, up to last Saturday night, 1415 bales of cotton this year. The total for last year was 584 bales. A fifteen hundred bale crop is plenty big for this section and I know small enough. This is not a cotton country and the people are going to find it out after awhile. Of course our gin men want all the cotton they can get, but it will not pay to raise all cotton and no feed stuff. The cry is now more food stuff and less cotton IF they will only raise more food stuff. If a man is so situated that he can't raise the same amount of cotton and a GREAT DEAL more feed stuff, then he had better cut down his cotton crop. It is stated by the newspapers that European countries have already placed orders for war munitions that will take our manufactureres two and one half years to fill. They would not place the order if they did not intend to use the stuff ordered. The war will not likely close next year as some are inclined to think. Of course I don't know, but I believe the majority of the newspapers agree that it will last at least another year. Let us raise something to eat then, we will need it. STAR REPORTER.

"EVANGELINE" DRAMATIZED

Longfellow's "Evangeline" has been dramatized by the high seventh grade pupils of the Beall school and their own dramatic version of the poem will be presented Friday afternoon in their school room, under the direction of their reading teacher, Miss Zella Prater. Miss Prater has been very successful this year in teaching dramatic reading to the school children. Dramatic teaching in all subjects is being strongly featured in the Beall school this year and is proving a great success in vitalizing the teaching, as the children are by nature actors, and it has been found to be a wise plan to keep this spirit alive. The characters of "Evangeline" will be acted by the pupils. Between the scenes readings will be given. At the close of the program, a Christmas song will be sung by the class. All the school rooms in Beall school will be decorated and in each grade informal exercises of Christmas songs and stories will be given.—El Paso Herald.

HUGH CARROLL DEAD

Mr. Hugh Carroll died at his home in this city yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, after a long illness. He was stricken with apoplexy several months ago and it was thought for some time that he could not live, but he revived and for a time was able to be up and about his room. He never fully recovered and a few weeks ago he commenced to fail rapidly and for several days prior to his death it was known that the end was near.

Mr. Carroll was one of the oldest citizens of Mills county, both in years and in time of residence. He was a good citizen and an upright man who had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He had not been active in business affairs for several years, because of his feebleness, caused by his advanced age, but he was a man of considerable means and wide acquaintance. He leaves a wife and several grown children and a number of grand children, to all of whom the Eagle extends sympathy.

The funeral services will be held in the family home this morning at 8:30 o'clock and interment will be made in the Center City cemetery at 2 o'clock this afternoon under auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

Chas. Arnold and family returned Sunday night from Coleman, where they spent Christmas with relatives.

CLASSES ENTERTAINED

One of the most delightful occasions in a social way, Goldthwaite had in the year 1914 was that at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harrison on Thursday evening, Dec. 31. The entertainment was provided for the Baraca and Philathea classes of the Goldthwaite Baptist Sunday School. Miss Myrtle Harrison was the hostess, and so well did she direct in the matter that, though the number present was large, there was a continuous round of pleasure for everybody present from his or her arrival till 11 o'clock, when the crowd began reluctantly to take leave for their homes. Everybody was made to feel welcome, and even the most timid soon forgot themselves as they were drawn irresistibly into the spirit of enjoyment.

The guests were welcomed at the door by the hostess, Miss Myrtle Harrison. Then Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, after adding their welcome, directed the guests to the tables for registering, presided over by Miss Joyce Harrison, then to the punch bowl, where Miss Nita Cockrum presided.

After a while spent in social conversation, all were seated by the several tables where contest games were had in the formation of words from letters supplied. Handsome prizes were given the winners in these contests and booby prizes to those making lowest record. The prize winners were Miss Bettie Lee Jackson and Charles Gardner; the boobies were Lee Yarborough and Miss Josie Gartman. The piano music furnished by Misses Velma Cockrum Lucile Frizzell, and Lizzie Stephens added no little to the pleasure of the evening. At 10 o'clock all were conducted to the dining room where most delicious refreshments were served. At its conclusion every one drew from the table a dainty little box sealed. These boxes contained the written fortunes of those drawing them. After returning to the parlor these boxes were opened and the fortunes read aloud, keeping the audience in uproarious laughter the while.

Besides the Sunday school classes above mentioned, the invited guests were: Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cockrum, Mrs. S. H. Allen, Misses Ruth Ford and Mary Lou Grundy. All declared it to be one of the happiest entertainments ever attended. A GUEST.

Prof. Newton McDonald, one of the former Mullin boys, now one of the most successful teachers in Milam county, made the Eagle a pleasant call yesterday. He spent the holidays with his parents at Mullin.
