GEORGE PRIDDY DEAD

Mr. George W. Priddy died at his home in the Priddy community last Saturday morning about 10 o'clock, after a long illness with bladder trouble. His death was not unexpected, as his condition had been known to be critical for two years and for the past several months his recovery was known to be next to impossible.

Mr. Priddy was the eldest son of Rev. T. J. Priddy and was a resident of the county for many years, having moved here from Bell county in 1887. He was an honorable, upright man and a valuable citizen. He was quiet and unassuming but all who knew him realized that he was an honest man of true worth. His influence was ever on the side of right and justice and for the betterment of mankind. The world needs such men as George Priddy and his loss is not confined alone to his family, but to the community and county.

He leaves a widow and a large family of sons and daughters. Besides other relatives and to all of them the Eagle extends sincere sympathy.

Miss Marjorie Taylor of Mullin spent Saturday and Sunday visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Martin, in this city.

Judge and Mrs. M. H. Hines, two of the Eagle's most appreciated friends, this week ordered the paper sent to their grand daughter, Mrs. Novie Forehand, at Mullin.

Mrs. W. P. Hutchingson came home Sunday night from Temple, where she had been for an operation for appendicitis. She is able to be up and will soon be fully recovered.

Wm. Biddle was here from Center City community the first of the week, looking after business matters. W. J. Hopper and Wm. Weltecke of the Priddy country had business in the big town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Priddy, who live five miles north of Brady, left in their car Wednesday for Priddy, Mills county, on business and a visit to kinfolks. Mrs. Pfluger, Mrs. Priddy's mother, will care for the farm in their absence.—Brady Standard.

Mrs. Clyde Kirby and little Miss Clyde returned home at San Angelo last Thursday. Mrs. Kirby was formerly of this place. She knows everybody and has as many friends as acquaintances here, all of whom enjoyed meeting her again.—San Saba News.

S. L. Cook of Goldthwaite, who has been visiting his son, J. R. Cook and family of Winters, passed through Ballinger Tuesday en route home. Mrs. J. R. Cook and two children accompanied him home to visit a few weeks.—Pallinger Banner-Leader.

John Schlee and Dr. Eargle of Priddy, returned the first of the week from Temple, where they went Saturday night to accompany Mr. Schlee's little daughter to the sanitarium for an operation for appendicitis. The operation was successful and the young lady was getting along nicely when they left her.

LIVING AT HOME

The problem of the South today is how to live upon the farm with the least possible expenditure of cash, the least use of things the farm will not produce. Living means food and livestock, which furnishes a large part of our food, raises the question of feed. The cheapest meat on the farm, because it reproduces itself in relatively largest numbers is poultry.

The next most profitable farm meat is the hog. The average family throws away enough table scraps and slops to take care of a pig until fattening time. One pig, with the products of the poultry yard, will supply enough pork to keep a small family a year.

A half acre garden can be made to produce vegetables the year round, and with a little expertness in canning will practically cut out the grocery bill. Of course there will be flour, sugar, coffee and a few articles that the farm and garden do not supply, but their cost is not great and may be paid out of the profits from eggs, butter and garden products.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS.

STREET FAIR

The Commercial club is working on a plan for a street fair to be held here some time this summer or fall and the idea appears to be pleasing to the business men and farmers. The idea is to have the exhibits and entertainments in the town instead of at some point away from town and in that way a better attendance can be had and the people who attend it can be made more comfortable. All of the plans are not perfected and no definite outline can be made at this time, but the people of the town and county can be sure that there will be a fair in Goldthwaite this year and that liberal premiums will be provided for the displays of farm, garden and orchard products, live stock, poultry, etc. It is the desire of the club to make the fair beneficial as well as interesting.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Interesting Meeting and Important Business Discussed.

The Goldthwaite Commercial club met in regular session in the court house Tuesday night. The meetings of the club have been changed from once a month to twice a month—each first and third Tuesday night and the attendance at this meeting was encouraging.

President Dew outlined a circular letter to be issued and published calling for a mass meeting of farmers and business men on Jan. 28 to discuss diversification and marketing.

A report was made that several applications had been received for homes on the plan outlined by the club last week.

The matter of securing water for fire protection in the business part of town was discussed and the water works committee was given further time to secure estimates and report on plans and cost.

The committee appointed to secure subscriptions to pay the night watchman's salary for the coming year reported satisfactory progress and was continued.

President Dew was authorized to appoint a committee of four to act with him in making preparation for the mass meeting of farmers and business men on Jan. 28 to discuss diversification and marketing and hear addresses on the subject. The following committee was appointed: Will H. Trent, J. H. Randolph, L. E. Miller, H. G. Bodkin.

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON

On Monday afternoon from three to five the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church was royally entertained by circle No. 2 at the hospitable home of Mrs. L. O. Hicks. When the guests were all assembled, they were handed slips of paper and pencils and invited to enter a contest of naming some pictures found on the Sunday school chart of the year that has just passed. Many were reminded that they having eyes, often see not, and having ears often hear not, when they just could not think what the pictures represented, but on the whole, there was some pretty good guessing done.

There was a splendid program rendered, consisting of music, both sacred and instrumental, with several appropriate readings in between, after which the members responded to roll call with suggestions for the good of the Aid. Some told about how religious their hens had been since we decided to bring our Sunday's eggs together and sell them for the benefit of the church and its work and many proved what good hens they had by bringing a liberal donation of eggs. All were full of interest and enthusiasm showing themselves ready and willing to do anything for the good of the cause.

The guests were then conducted to the dining room where they were served with delicious marshmallow whip and wafers.

ly and everybody went away gratefully. The two hours passed all too quickly and the circle No. 2 for their happy afternoon. REPORTER.

The claim has been made that the highest type of character cannot develop in the country; that the stress and strain of city life are needed to purify, refine and spiritualize. Be this as it may, it is certainly true that the foundation upon which the highest types of human character can be developed requires the training and development incident to life in the country. No foundation for learning and character is safely builded if it does not include in its elements that first hand knowledge of Nature and things, that manysided training in practical affairs, and that all around physical development which country life emphasizes in such a positive and natural way. Most of the men and women who have enriched our national life and whose memories we revere have had just such early training and development as our country life afforded. On this basis of insight and initiative they were able to enter into the life of a city and utilize its special opportunities, and yet abstain from its degrading influences.—United States Bureau of Education.

Governor Ferguson has told us of the time when he became converted to scientific, or book farming. He said that he didn't have much respect for that kind of farming until he went out to the farm one day and found that his $300.00 bull was dead and that the rest of the cattle were sick; in fact all of the cattle in the neighborhood seemed to be sick. The old men of the community were unable to do anything to give relief to the sick cattle, although they had been considered authority on cattle and cattle disease for thirty years. The community was evidently destined to suffer the loss of all the cattle, until someone thought of telephoning to the scientific men at the A. & M. College. The scientific, or book farmers gave a formula for treatment of Texas fever—and all of the sick cattle were saved. Since then Governor Ferguson has been willing to admit that scientific methods may work very well along with horse sense.—Temple Telegram.

President Wilson is said to be very proud of the fact that he is now a grandfather. A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre in the white house Sunday afternoon.

Fourteen banks have been robbed in Oklahoma in the last three months and many other robberies have been reported. The authorities in that state believe there is an organized band of robbers touring the country.

Governor Ferguson is now in charge of the executive office at Austin and Mr. Colquitt is once more a private citizen with a good prospect for continuing to serve his country in that capacity for the remainder of his life.

A burglar entered a Baptist church in Dallas a few nights ago and stole the preacher's rubber breeches which were used in baptismal service. Nothing else in the church was disturbed and the mystery is to find what the robber wanted with the rubber breeches.

Gen. Stoessel, famous as the commander at Port Arthur at the time of its fall, died in Petrograd, Russia, Sunday of paralysis. After the surrender of Port Arthur to the Japanese he was sentenced to death by a military court martial, but his sentence was commuted by the czar to ten years imprisonment and he was later pardoned.

Mexico has a new president this week, the president who has occupied the seat of government for several weeks past having fled from the capital and Gen. Garza, one of Gen. Villa's supporters having been named to take the place. Gutierrez, the deposed ruler, is supposed to be preparing to take part in the war against Villa and Zapata.

One of the most drastic and far reaching prohibitory laws that was ever written against the sale of morphine, cocaine and similar drugs was adopted by congress and will become operative on March 1. Under its provisions a maximum penalty of $2,000 fine and five years imprisonment is imposed upon any person selling such drugs without a prescription and a physician wrongfully writing such prescription is equally guilty.

The Herald believes the year 1915 will witness the greatest revival of business conditions our country has experienced for a long time. The war in Europe is making great demands upon us and the gold of Europe is literally flowing into the United States in a steady stream. Confidence is being re-established everywhere and with a favorable season there is nothing to prevent a wave of prosperity from sweeping over the country this year.—Hamilton Herald.

The importance of organization among the farmers who expect to diversify their crops this year is stressed by the state board of warehouse supervisors in an announcement which states that it will not deal with individuals in its plan of co-operation with farmers of Texas in handling all classes of farm products, but that the system must be worked out through organizations. It would not be practical to deal with individuals, says the board, because the work soon would reach such proportions as to destroy the efficiency of the system. The board urges every secretary of farmers' unions in the state to send a list of farm and ranch products that members of his union wish to buy or sell. This information will be compiled in book form and sent to the various local organizations weekly thus placing each organization in direct touch with all the others.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING

Don't Merely Change to Some Other One Crop; Plant Several.

Diversification—We all believe in it now. We all preach it. It takes an exhorter (an exhauster) to "lift up the standard and show the people." The Sunday school teacher will tell the small scholars to avoid chance games. He may now tell them that there is more elements of chance in a one-crop cotton farmer's business than in the jackleg gambler's games of euchre, seven-up or poker. The poker player's luck may come out in the shuffle, but all the shuffling in the world won't bring luck to the forlorn cotton farmer's game on one of these off years, when he puts all his eggs in one basket by planting his entire crop in cotton. He uses cotton seed for brains. He makes cotton the legal tender for all debts. The cotton "to be planted" is soon passed from his control. He then plants the seed, knowing not whether it will come up to a stand. If it comes up a frost may nip it at both ends; weevil, drouth and live stock may get it. If, after all, he succeeds in raising a fair crop, the depredations of speculators, bulls and bears may be more disastrous than all the calamities past. The chances are that after keeping his children out of school and his wife helping to gather it that he will lose his good name and be blacklisted as "sorry pay." The chances are that he will have to move on in the winter time.

The only bow on the cotton farmer's dark cloud is diversification. It is the forlorn hope's last call. Union clubs, lodges and resolutions can't bring about a reform. It must come of individual efforts.

Each man in the South's body politic must raise his living at home.

This is the only sane way to reduce acreage. This plan is my patent, but comes gratis. I am very modest about it, I don't even say, "All papers please copy." Raise your living at home is a simple plan.

Every acre put to sorghum molasses, peanuts, beans, wheat, oats, barley, rye, sweet potatoes or onions is a displacement in the cotton patch.

One man gets disgusted with cotton and says, "I am done raising it." He sows his whole farm in oats. HE IS NOT DIVERSIFYING. He is raising oats. These oats may get killed late in February, and this farm may be planted in cotton. Boys, we don't want spasmodic efforts. We want diversification, that means a living at home.

How many of you fellows in this vast Forum had all the pork and beans that you wanted every day last year without bringing it home in cans or paper sacks? Some fellow in Georgia speaks of men 25 years old who never saw a mule colt! Georgia ignorance rampant!

I have a son 21 years old who never saw a pan of sorghum being cooked until this year. This is a shame on my neighbors! I am speaking reproachfully now. And what he saw this year was not much—fifteen gallons, clear, thick, sweet, seeded ribbon cane syrup. A neighbor offered to swap a gallon of strained honey. No, we keep a bee.

My father wore a saber and six-shooter and rode the best horse in the Confederate Army. He was a courier on Generals Johnston's and Hood's staffs. His good horse was killed and my father wounded.

I am going to fight the Yankees. I want to use some of their good business sense and stay shy of debt and quit buying their 18c and 22c meat. By fighting along this line I think I'll have 'em drifting South. I have fifty black bass in my pond and one old sow with five old-fashioned flop-eared Poland Chinas nearly old enough to wean.

Boys, help me pepper the Yankees.—W. H. Wood, Ridge, Mills County, Texas.

A report from San Antonio says a firm in that city has closed a contract to furnish the English and French governments with 50,000 horses within six months and the first shipment of not less than 5,000 to be made on or before February first. Of these animals 40,000 are to be used as saddle horses while the other 10,000 are to be used for artillery. Dealers estimated the available number of horses for the foreign countries at war in Texas and Oklahoma alone is more than 500,000. The first shipment of 500 horses of 3,000 to be bought in Texas for Greece is to be made by vessel from Galveston by February first. A commission from the Greek government is touring the southwest in quest of horses.

Pancho Villa has from the first accorded to the United States a consideration and respect that mark him as a man of sense and discretion. His steadfast refusal to play upon the ignorance and prejudices of his people by assuming a bombastic attitude toward this country has been a happy contrast to the peevish and pusillanimous outbursts of Carranza and other soi distant saviors of Mexico. This is one facet of Villa's character which convinces State Press of Villa's superior intelligence and integrity as regards the political and military matters of his harassed country. Mexico must have a despot during its reconstruction, and a benevolent despot is very good for a turbulent people during the period of their turbulence. Villa undoubtedly would be despotic enough, and probably he would be benevolent enough; therefore it is not difficult to imagine it a happy day in Mexican history when the alleged ex-bandit finally shall take upon himself the office of supreme arbiter. More than any other man he has the confidence and affection of the masses of Mexican people, and it is scarcely possible that any ruler who has not the confidence and affection of the masses will be able to build a permanent political structure in that land.—State Press in Dallas News.

WAGNER-KIRKPATRICK
Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the bride's home on Durham street, Rev. Geo. W. Fender performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Mr. F. Godard Wagner and Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick. She is a young woman of attractive personality and her presence will be greatly missed in both church and social circles. Mr. Wagner is at present employed by the Walker-Smith company at Goldthwaite, and is a young business man of unusual ability. He is a son of one of the oldest and most highly respected families of San Saba, where he has hosts of friends.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Shows Careful Study of the Needs and Conditions.

Governor Ferguson submitted his first message to the legislature Wednesday and it was the subject of much favorable comment. The document proves that he has made a careful study of the conditions existing in this state and is familiar with many of the needs of the people and the state at large. The following short synopsis of the message gives an idea of the subjects discussed in the message to the legislature and advice to its members:

Redeem every pledge in the El Paso platform.

Prohibit pools, combines and trusts which arbitrarily fix prices of farm products.

Protect all labor—organized and unorganized.

Enact such additional child labor laws as would prevent enforced employment of minors where their health or education might be impaired as the result of such employment.

Make Labor Commissioner's salary $3,000 a year.

Encourage the investment in Texas of outside capital.

Liberal appropriations for educational and eleemosynary institutions.

Make provisions for 100 rural high schools and give better support to rural education.

Free textbooks, when authorized by voters of school districts.

Put A. & M. College and University of Texas under one central body of control.

"Reasonable" compulsory education law.

Urges a law forbidding landlords requiring more than one-third of grain and one-fourth of cotton grown by their tenants.

Use convict labor on system of new highways.

All District Courts should serve as near the same number of people as practicable.

Keep courts open all year except for one month's vacation. Retire District Judges at 61 years or sooner unless they learn some law.

Increase number of Courts of Appeal, one additional for the present. Make their jurisdiction final in cases arising in County Courts.

Aid present Supreme Court in relieving crowded conditions of docket by a commission of appeals or by able attorneys to assist in the preparation of decisions.

Exempt cotton and woolen factories from taxation.

Abolish the fee system, protect the live stock industry and appoint a forestry commission.

Study the problem of mutual loan associations and cheap money.

Scrutinize every cent of the estimates for next year's appropriation—$15,903,000.

The Embroidery club was at home on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Campbell, and while bright needles flew the guests chatted and when the work was done dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. R. E. Clements will entertain the club at its next meeting, Feb. 3.

REPORTER.

Occasionally a good woman or a good man dies, and the community spends the next week talking of how good a woman, or good man, the deceased was. Why wait until death has ended the activity of your friends before you say a good word for them? Words of encouragement and timely praise give renewed vigor to any one who is trying, against steady opposition, to accomplish something for the good of mankind. Flattery is disgusting to such men and women, but sensible, well-timed endorsement and commendation act as a tonic upon their weary hands and hearts.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The Mills county road law requires that every person liable for a poll tax who fails to pay before Feb. 1 shall be worked three days on the roads or streets, in addition to their regular road duty. This law appears in every road overseer's commission book and those who fail to pay poll tax are likely to get the benefit of it.

BURGLAR DISCOVERED

At an early hour yesterday morning a burglar was discovered in the Geeslin store, but made his get-away before being apprehended and it is not known what amount of goods he secured, if indeed he secured anything. The fighting of a match in the grocery department attracted the attention of some early risers and an effort was made to secure assistance to surround the house, but the burglar evidently suspected that he had been discovered and escaped through a rear window, which was perhaps the place through which he entered. The large amount of goods in the house and the disarranged condition of the stock made it impossible to ascertain just what was taken from the building and it is likely that little or nothing was secured by the intruder.

FOLL TAX PAYMENTS

A great many poll tax receipts had been issued by the tax collector up to yesterday noon and many more will be issued before the office closes next Saturday night. ## HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during his time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good, had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its aiding me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

In response to a request for a brief report of the educational meeting in Brownwood on the 11th day of this month I wrote this:

Several of the best school men of this section of Texas, recognizing the fact that few rural teachers attended the State Teachers Association; and that, therefore, the professional spirit is not properly fostered in them, resolved to organize a permanent district teachers association to meet annually in Brownwood. The moving spirits in this effort were the County Superintendents of Brown, McCullough, Comanche, San Saba, Coleman, Runnels and Menard counties and the city superintendents of the schools of Brownwood, Comanche, Coleman, and Santa Anna, and the presidents of Danjel Baker and Howard Payne colleges. The writer, though not now connected in any way with school work, was urged by the promoters of the plan to be present and assist in the work. A detailed report of the purposes of the organization, together with an appeal for universal co-operation throughout the district, will be later mailed by the secretary to every teacher in Mills county. Those in the meeting held, believe that a permanent organization can and ought to be maintained, that teachers in this district can attend its annual sessions at nominal cost, who might not be able to attend the state Teachers Association, that a list of leading educators, both state and national should be secured to deliver addresses at the meetings, thereby making it equal in value to the State Teachers Association for all who attend, that the association extend the limits of the field for teachers Institute work of the kind done by Mills, Brown, McCullough and San Saba counties last December. This character of Institute was unanimously pronounced "The most decided and beneficial advance in educational work hereto made." This district association does not propose to supplant the State Association with our teachers, but to serve as an additional help and a stimulus for more interest in the larger association.

Special thanks are due the Commercial club of Brownwood for courtesies and assistance rendered in this meeting. By its invitation the meeting was held in the club's hall. The president and secretary of the club were present to welcome the teachers and during the day they furnished valuable suggestions and offered very substantial financial and clerical aid in the name of the club for the future of the association.

The first session of this new organization will be held in Brownwood on the 26th and 27th days of March this year. Working committees were appointed and the program and detailed announcements for this first meeting will be printed and mailed to all teachers and trustees of the district a little later.

Very respectfully,
S. H. ALLEN.

Thousands of people keep on suffering with Neuralgia because they do not know what to do for it. Neuralgia is a pain in the nerves. What you want to do is soothe the nerve itself. Apply Sloan's Linctment to the surface over the painful part—do not rub in. Sloan's Linctment penetrates very quickly to the sore, irritated nerve and allays the inflammation. Get a bottle of Sloan's Linctment for 25c. of any druggist and have it in the house—against Colds, Sore and Swollen Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. (Advertisement)

World-Wide Distribution of Oil Products From Texas

Since the war began papers and magazines of all kinds have been talking about the opportunities in the foreign field for goods made in the United States.

Texas is already sending products manufactured in this State over the whole world, and of these, oils made at Port Arthur and Dallas by The Texas Company go further afield and into more corners of the world than other manufactured products made in the State.

From Port Arthur and Galveston, stowed in the vessels belonging to The Texas Company, in ships chartered by them, or other vessels which load there, these oils go to China, India, South, East and West Africa, Australia, South America and Europe. In darkest Africa, the interior of India and China, the trade-mark of The Texas Company is recognized as a mark of quality.

A large fleet of vessels is required to carry these oil products, and the fleet of The Texas Company, appropriately headed by the S. S. "TEXAS," flagship, illustrated above, represents an investment of of many millions of dollars.

Wherever the Texas citizen may go the products manufactured by The Texas Company are apt to greet him, reminding him of home, and indicate to the natives, by their known quality, the greatness of the State and its manufactures.

Right in your own town you can secure the same high quality oils which have made The Texas Company famous in foreign fields.

Try them, they are worth while.

The cotton market has been somewhat improved this week and as a consequence a considerable amount of cotton has been brought to this market. Goldthwaite buyers always pay the outside price for cotton and every other product of the farm and ranch.

—If you are buying land require the seller to furnish you an abstract of his title, so you may know you are getting a good title. If you contemplate selling your land, have an abstract thereto prepared first, so you will know what kind of title you can make to it, as the purchaser is almost sure to want to know. I have the only complete set of abstracts of the land titles of Mills county and will make your abstracts for a reasonable charge and will help you cure your titles if defective.—E. B. Anderson.

We have come to see that in the establishment of a better agriculture in this section and in the development of the men we cannot rely wholly upon the individual. We must rely upon groups of individuals. We must substitute the collective for the individual method. Hence this appeal for strong farmer's organizations, for co-operative rural credit, for co-operative marketing, and in general for community development. In this century the individual can not come to his own apart from other men, either industrially or morally. Thus the key to rural progress is the community idea, which means that the people of the rural neighborhood, people who live near together, who use the same roads, the same schools, the same churches, grow the same crops, live on the same sort of lands, meet in the granges and, in other words, have common resources, common interests, common needs, should develop a common program, a common desire to assist one another, a common ambition to build a better community.—Exchange.

First: The Ritson Morris 630.432 square vara survey in Mills County, Texas, formerly Brown County, Texas, known as survey No. 19, located by virtue of Certificate No. 35,125, and patented to him by Patent No. 135, Vol. 23, dated October 8, 1879.

Second: The Canutillo Colony Ditch Company 140 1.10 acre survey in Mills County, Texas, formerly in Brown County, Texas, known as survey No. 18, located by Scrip No. 22,208, and patented to Francis B. Foster, assignee, by Patent No. 25, Vol. 32, dated Nov. 24, 1879.

PAY ROAD TAX

Those who are liable for road duty in this county or city can secure a receipt exempting them from such duty for one year by the payment of $3 on or before Feb. 1, whereas, they will have to pay $5 or do five days work if they delay payment until after the first day of February.

Young men who become twenty-one years of age any time during the year can also avail themselves of this reduction if they pay before Feb. 1. The fact that they were not 21 on Jan. 1 will not exempt them from road duty after they become of age. As an example: A young man becoming 21 years of age on Dec. 1 of this year will be liable for five days road duty after he attains his majority and before the close of the year. Some have gotten the road law confused with the poll tax law and believe they are not liable for road duty if they were not 21 on Jan. 1. This is erroneous and road overseers are required by law to summon all persons of legal age to work on the streets or roads for five days during the year. Better secure the receipt before Feb. 1 and save $2 or two days work.

MULLIN

From the Mullin Enterprise
J. C. Street, a leading business man of Goldthwaite, was here Monday on business.

Saturday night Charley Little was the recipient of some bad bruises about the head and face as the result of a horse running away with his buggy. He says one of the reins broke, when the animal became unruly, and a runaway was the result. The buggy was badly damaged, but Charley appears to have received the greater damage of the two.

We learn that the small son of Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Hays of the Trigger mountain community, received a serious injury while attending school one day last week. The ligaments of one foot were so badly damaged that it was necessary to place the limb in plaster of Paris. His physician says it will be sometime before the child will be able, to attend, school again.

Mr. Clint Petty and Miss Willie May Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Reynolds of the Trigger Mountain community, were married Sunday afternoon at Mullin creek, Rev. L. J. Vann officiating. Mr. Petty has made his home in the Trigger Mountain community for about three years, where he has many friends and acquaintances, and is considered a worthy young man by all who know him, while his charming bride is a member of one of the best and most respected families of Mills county, and will make a competent and worthy helpmate to the one of her chosen companionship. The happy couple departed for their new home near Decatur, in Wise county, Monday morning, where they will reside in the future

LIVE OAK

Editor Eagle:

We are again having some fine weather. A nice little snow fell in our community on last Sunday night but melted so quickly one hardly had time to realize it had fallen.

Health out our way is excellent as far as we have learned.

The farmers are glad to see the sunshine as it is now time to make preparations for another crop which we very much hope the farmers will realize more from than the one just past.

Mrs. Lola Bohannon of near Rock Springs visited at her father's, Mr. Scott's not long since.

Mr. Walter Featherstone and family spent Saturday night with Mr. Jack Shaw and family.

Mr. Nat Keith moved some horses to Caradan Monday for Mr. Webb Hill.

Mr. J. W. Hill visited his daughter, Mrs. Anna Jones, Tuesday.

Next Saturday and Sunday Rev. R. W. Bynum will fill his regular appointment with the Live Oak church. Every one is cordially invited to come and bring some one with you.

Well, as news is scarce will ring off and give place for more gifted writers.

TO TRAIN YOUTH IN FARMING

Dr. A. Caswell Ellis, director of the Department of Extension of the University of Texas, has worked out a plan which he considers offers an adequate solution to the problem of properly educating the youth of Texas in agricultural principles and methods.

It is Doctor Ellis' idea that Texas must for many years to come be principally interested in agriculture as a means of wealth and prosperity, and for that reason the children in the schools should be given a thorough training in this field.

Doctor Ellis suggests that not less than two hundred high schools be aided by the state in establishing up-to-date departments of agriculture for the teaching of the simpler and more elementary facts. He suggests that for the carrying out of the work begun in these high schools, not less than twenty secondary agricultural colleges corresponding to our normal schools be established over the country for the training of practical scientific farmers and teachers of agriculture.

And to complete the system, he suggests that four highly developed agricultural colleges be established for investigation and research in the field of agriculture.

The cost of such a system would be necessarily great, but Doctor Ellis estimates that the returns from such an investment would shortly more than pay the initial expense because of increased yields, better management, and more economical employment of land, labor and capital.—Texas Journalist.

Mrs. H. A. Mitchell is one of the successful turkey growers of the Winters country, and what she has accomplished the last year others will no doubt accomplish the present year. Mrs. Mitchell started her turkey crop with six hens and a tom last spring. She has sold from the increase about $250 worth of turkeys and has about $50 worth to raise from another year.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in the Dodge settlement last Wednesday when a dog belonging to J. S. Garey suddenly developed a case of rabies, and before it could be killed, bit six children who were at play on the campus at the Dodge school house. The dog was killed and the head sent to Austin Thursday to the Pasteur institute for examination, and word was received Sunday morning to the effect that evidence of rabies was very pronounced, and advised that the children be sent at once for treatment.—Brady Standard.

Good paper is now being made from cornstalks. This ends the fear of some of the neighbors that when all the forests were turned into paper the production of Indiana novels would be seriously curtailed for want of cheap print paper. Others were alarmed lest with no materials for paper after the pulping of the forests education would get lost in a tangle of high costs of book production. But these fears vanish with the utilization of cornstalks and they'll probably vanish some more when still other materials are employed.—Detroit Free Press.

Determined to make a new long distance record and to go to the end of the trail in so doing Roy Farmer and E. Reynolds left Brownwood last night for Fort Worth, where they will begin a hike to San Francisco. The first lap of their journey was made in a Pullman berth, but there are many weary miles ahead for the young men to measure with their feet. Wallace Petty, a prominent merchant of Hico, and his wife were out hunting three miles from town. A rabbit jumped up and he attempted to shoot it with a shotgun. The load took effect in the top of his wife's head. The wound is not considered serious.—Brownwood Bulletin.

There are indications that more tree-planting will be done this year than ever before. That is gratifying for many reasons, the chief being, perhaps that there is an ethical significance in tree planting that makes every growth of the custom encouraging as a mark of social progress. But it would enhance the gratification that rightly comes of the belief that more trees will be planted this year than ever before, if we could also have assurance that they will be planted with a more resolute determination to care for them. Our record in tree-planting is no mean one. Every year trees are set out by the tens of thousands. But a large percentage of those set out are allowed to die for the want of a little care, as the statistics of planting, if they could be obtained, would show. It would probably be found, if the facts could be ascertained, that not more than half the trees set out every year ever survive to maturity.—Dallas News.

Disasters by flood, by earthquake, by fire, by war, convulsions of nature and ferocities of man, overturn suddenly the accustomed order, and each individual acts according to what is in him. It is hard to keep your head about you when the foundations are uprooted. Some men become cowards, some heroes, some momentarily insane. But whenever such a disaster is recorded in the newspapers there is always remains fixed: the same story is always told about one of the characters in it and is always a story of coolness in the midst of frenzy, devotion to duties when duties are forgotten with everything else, invariable courage where the courage of other human beings vary much. A humble figure, not incited by high pecuniary reward or the hope of fame, the figure of the telephone girl. There is nothing in the telephone girl's training to explain the way in which at every time of peril, this cool, dauntless figure appears on the scene, solid as a rock in the midst of chaos. Not paid for risking her life, none too well paid anyhow, she confounds those who measure everything by money; she expects and gets no fame and her courage and efficiency are instructive for her. We simply take off our hats to her.—New York Times.

Diversification AND Co-operation

Goldthwaite, Texas, January 19, 1915.

To the Farmers and Business Men of Mills County:

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Jan. 28, 1915, there will gather in Goldthwaite the largest and most representative body of farmers ever assembled together in Mills county. This meeting will be under the combined direction of the Goldthwaite Commercial Club and the Farm Demonstration work, and the purpose is for the organization of an association looking toward the diversification of and marketing the crops of the farmers of Mills county in general and the members of the association in particular. It will be organized with three specific ends in view. It aims first, to reduce the acreage planted in cotton; second, to increase the acreage planted to diversified crops, and third, to look after the systematic marketing of such diversified crops as may be grown by its members. There are no secrets and no initiation fees in this organization.

It is primarily a business concern, and is so constituted that it will serve the double purpose of helping the farmers to produce and sell these diversified crops to the best possible advantage.

The need of an organization of this kind is due primarily to the fact that the selling price of cotton our staple and money crop has this fall been below the cost of production, caused by the paralyzation of trade and commerce throughout a large portion of the civilized world, and the fact that the largest cotton crop in the history of the world has been grown and the trouble has struck home to the producer first of all. It has left us with an uncertain market, an unprofitable price and an unknown future to such an extent that the wisest and ablest business men and farmers everywhere regard the growing of a cotton crop this year as a game of chance, attended by many and hazardous risks. There is absolutely nothing certain about it. We do know that the world now has a heavy surplus of cotton, and if the present conditions continue the consumption of this product will fall far below normal requirements, so it behooves us as citizens of this county and the south to begin to prepare to meet this calamity, or avert another like we have had the season just closing, if we can do so.

What is the remedy? Our cropping system must be re-adjusted. All cotton at the present prices means bankruptcy for the man who grows it, and the man who supplies him while growing it. Half cotton and some other crops will mean prosperity in a way, for all Europe does not feed her own people in time of peace much less can she do so in time of war. The United States is the logical store house for that continent's food supply, and the gold of the countries who can not raise food sufficient for what they will need to consume will flow to this country for what we have to sell, especially in the way of meat and grain, for if they live they must eat. They can wear rags and old clothes, but they cannot do without something to eat long at a time. Texas must help to feed and supply this foreign market, and Mills county can do her share.

With a well organized marketing association to handle our diversified products, why should we be willing to take a chance on an all cotton crop? This letter is to urge you to meet with us on the date named, Thursday, Jan. 28, at 10 a. m., in the court house to make a start in the right direction, and we are sure results will follow. Every community in the county will be represented. It will be the ablest gathering of farmers ever assembled in this county.

The day will be spent in perfecting plans already under way. You cannot afford to miss it.
